LABOR THREAT.

Not As Formidable As At First Appears.

The Vote Cannot be Concentrated.

Not Over One-Tenth of Vote Is in Trade Unions.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The discussion precipitated by the action of the Central Labor union of this city in the Miller case, as to whether the labor unions would better make a concerted movement to defeat President Roosevelt, raises an important question as to their actual strength in case they all "got together" and are able to "stay together." According to the best available information in this city the membership of the labor unions now reaches about 2,000,000, while the wage-working population is something more than 18,000,000. The larger figure necessarily includes farm laborers, who so far as known are almost never organized, and women wage-workers who have carried labor organizations by no means so far as the men.

But after making allowance for these varying factors, it seems reasonable to suppose of the 80,000,000 people in the United States, not more than one-tenth, or 8,000,000, are in trade union families, or owe their support to trades unionists. This does not make the labor threat in the Miller case quite so formidable as at first sight appears.

Certain trades are organized up to 90 percent of their members. The building trades, many of the textile workers, most railroad men, and now the miners are pretty well unionized, although there is a great difference in their unions. The railroad brotherhoods, for example, are exceedingly conservative, and are usually regarded by their employers as a valuable and helpful influence in maintaining discipline and preventing disagreements. They would not go out against the administration in such a case as the present one. Many labor organizations are not affiliated with the American Federation, and between that organization and the Knights of Labor hostility has long been pronounced. It is perhaps fair to estimate Knights of Labor membership at 100,000.

This order has many times embarked in political experiments. Some months before the presidential campaign of 1896, J. R. Sovereign, master-workman, issued an order requesting his followers not to take national bank notes. His boycott against that form of money was intended as a means of striking at the power of the banks. Even this attempt to override the powers of government might have amounted to more had not the times been so hard that the boycotting of any kind of money was not exactly a popular issue. The truth is that labor unionists are cut up in politics just like everybody else, and on a national contest it is practically impossible to get them to regard loyalty to labor organization as paramount. Their strength also varies greatly with the times. During periods of prosperity the membership of labor unions runs up rapidly; they seem to enjoy a speculative boom like everything else, only to go down in periods of depression.

In the opinion of many observers here the great combinations, commonly called the trusts, will act as such a steadying force in the future that we shall have fewer panics, and those of less severity. Already panics have been growing shorter with the progress of modern business methods. In former centuries it was not uncommon for a period of depression to last for 50 years, just as the old wars were almost interminable. But now panics last only long enough to serve as safety valves. The difference between a period of industrial depression and one of prosperity is much smaller than people generally suppose. The greater part of the operations of business goes on just the same and the percentage of reduction in the output is not large.

The great trusts have become a steadying influence because they in effect underwrite one another. There are perhaps 50 industries in the country today that could not afford to have Mr. Morgan make an assignment. This mutual interdependence of business concerns will do much in periods of apprehension to tide over emergencies, if not actually to avert a fall.

AT ST. JOHN'S.

A Braintree Gentleman Comes to Quincy for Bride.

Miss Mary E. Crowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Crowley of 102 North street, Quincy, was married at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening by Rev. Julian E. Johnstone at St. John's church, to Mr. John P. Shea of South Braintree.

The bride was charmingly attired in a three piece suit of sapphire blue cloth, lace and coral velvet trimmings, and white chenille hat. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond brooch.

The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude A. Crowley, sister of the bride, who was gowned in a sapphire blue cloth suit, white beaver hat.

The best man was Mr. Edward Shea, nephew of the groom.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a ring, pearl and ruby setting; to the best man a crescent of pearls, scarf pin.

The ushers were Mr. James T. Crowley, brother of bride, Messrs. John C. McGuane and John R. Graham, Jr.

Miss Helen M. Devlin of Woburn played Lohengrin's wedding march, and vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by Mr. John C. McGuane, Misses Gertrude Crowley and May Shea.

The presents were many and beautiful and showed the esteem in which the newly wedded couple were held.

The house was prettily decorated with palms, potted plants and cut flowers for the reception.

Covers were laid for fifty guests by Henry J. Seiler, caterer of Brookline.

Amid showers of rice, the happy pair left on their honeymoon which will include New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington and upon their return they will take up their residence in South Braintree, where they will be at home to their friends after October 15.

CAUCUS VOTE LAST YEAR.

The full vote for the seven candidates for Representatives at the Republican caucuses last year will be of interest at this time:

	Sandberg.	Freeman.	De Normandie.	McKnight.	Nicoll.	Badger.	Adams.
Ward One,	140	63	58	135	52	47	35
Ward Two,	26	18	73	41	9	19	93
Ward Three,	140	32	40	67	220	203	28
Ward Four,	171	42	76	65	85	31	19
Ward Five,	15	205	131	64	8	63	22
Ward Six,	9	62	28	32	3	111	15
	501	422	406	404	377	294	212

Republican caucuses were held throughout the State, except in Boston, Wednesday evening, for the choice of delegates to all the conventions which ante-date the State election. Where Representative districts are made up wholly within a city or town, like in Quincy direct nominations for candidates for Representatives were made. Quincy is a double district and nominates two, and the totals were:

Richard R. Freeman,	654
Edward J. Sandberg,	580
John O. Hall,	540

The complete vote by wards is given at the head of this column, and also the complete vote of last year when there were seven in the field.

Mr. Freeman the leading candidate led in two of the wards, Wollaston and Atlantic. Mr. Sandberg led in three, Wards One, Three and Four, while Mr. Hall led in Ward Two.

When taken in pairs the favorites were as follows, in the order given:

In Ward One,—Sandberg and Hall.
In Ward Two,—Hall and Freeman.
In Ward Three,—Sandberg and Freeman.
In Ward Four,—Sandberg and Freeman.
In Ward Five,—Freeman and Hall.
In Ward Six,—Freeman and Sandberg.

The caucuses are reported below:

WARD ONE.

The Ward One caucus was much smaller than last year, but 262 votes being cast. Messrs. Sandberg and Hall were the favorites for Representatives, the former having a big lead. Both received a majority of all the votes cast, while Mr. Freeman had 25 less than a majority. The totals were: Sandberg, 177; Hall, 135; and Freeman 107. Mr. Sandberg received all but 75 of the total votes, while there were 127 who did not vote for Mr. Hall and 155 who did not vote for Mr. Freeman.

Warren W. Adams was chairman of the caucus and George Westland secretary. They were assisted by A. G. Doliver, H. P. Kittredge, N. B. Furnald, Wilson Marsh, James Moorhead, Jr., Andrew Stewart and Edwin Pratt.

The vote for Representatives was announced directly after the polls closed, and the complete result a few minutes later.

Although 262 votes were cast, and there were no contests for delegates, no one received 200 votes. The biggest cuts were made on the names of Eben W. Sheppard and Edgar G. Cleaves, who received but 167 and 179 respectively.

These delegates were elected:

State,—Charles A. Howland, John Shaw and E. G. Cleaves.

Councillor,—A. G. Dolliver, John W. Hersey and James Moorhead, Jr.

Senatorial,—A. G. Dolliver, A. E. Macleod and E. W. Sheppard.

County,—Charles C. Hearn, W. M. Marden and D. E. Wadsworth.

WARD TWO.

The total vote of the Quincy Point ward was 94, which was considerable smaller than usual. Lack of interest was the reason. The vote for Representatives was: Hall, 67; Freeman, 61; Sandberg, 34; blanks, 26.

Rollin H. Newcomb called the caucus to order and was elected chairman. C. A. Sampson was elected clerk and Edwin W. Newcomb, E. R. Stone, A. L. Whitman and John S. Gay tellers.

The delegates elected were as follows:

State,—Arthur W. Newcomb and E. F. Hayden.

Councillor,—Rollin H. Newcomb and C. A. Sampson.

County,—John S. Gay and T. H. Newcomb.

Senatorial,—E. C. Hultman and Edwin W. Newcomb.

WARD THREE.

The South Quincy caucus was not largely attended. There was a general lack of interest among the voters and many who usually attend caucuses did not go near the polling places.

Mr. Sandberg was the only candidate who made any effort to get out the voters and as a result he carried the Ward, receiving 107 votes. Mr. Freeman was second man with 94 and Mr. Hall received 91.

John C. Murray was chairman of the caucus and Frank Tinney secretary. The tellers were John Kennedy, Daniel

Good Afternoon

The working of the Luce law at the joint caucuses in Boston is said to have been a pronounced success, and satisfactory to all parties. This is somewhat remarkable. It would be a good thing for Quincy.

Lieutenant Peary claims that the North pole can be discovered for a quarter of the expense incurred in defending the America's yacht cup. Secretary of the Navy Moody has granted Peary leave of absence in order that he may make the attempt once more. In view of the scientific methods pursued by Peary, it is safe to expect the the scientific world will profit from his attempt, even if he is not successful.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Some men are always trying to "get even." If you belong to this class drop out of it. It is a profitless business and hurts you more than it does the other man, because it dwarfs both your soul and your intelligence. Dr. Johnson says spite is "among the most expensive luxuries in life."—Baltimore World.

☞ The average man is neither a capitalist nor a member of a labor union. His business or profession is such that he and his fellows cannot form a trust to reduce expenses and increase incomes—neither a capitalistic trust nor a labor trust. But he is the man out of whom, in the long run, the trust takes its larger profits and the labor union its higher wages. The average man would prefer as a rule to live in a house with a piece of land under the exclusive control of himself and family. But along comes the coal trust, for instance, and makes it harder for him to keep warm, and along comes the labor union, for instance, and raises the price of every service for which he has to pay. Thus, ground between the upper and nether millstones, the average man has but one way of escape. That is to join with other average men in an apartment house, that by thus getting together they may divide the necessary expenses of maintaining homes—expenses which have become too heavy to be borne individually. The average man, as a rule, does not like this way of life. It constrains his personal freedom and it makes more difficult the rearing of his children. But he feels, as a rule, that his only choice is to live in that manner or not at all. The most curious part of this situation is that these average men are the majority of the American people.—Chicago Inter-ocean.

☞ Around the State now we are finding in many newspapers long columns of figures giving the list of the solid citizens who are paying the big bills of the city, the town and the village by settling for the largest taxes. These lists are of great importance to many people, who thereby have an opportunity to figure out just what the amount of their neighbors' properties may be—or rather what those neighbors are willing to admit they may be. The fellow who pays his $2 per annum is also interested in reading over these figures. They represent much industry, much business ability, and much luck—a vast deal of it in some cases. But they also represent—this cannot be gainsaid—to the average American mind the standard of success. They represent wealth. You may be a great artist, great poet, great clergyman, great anything in America, but if you haven't the money you needn't come round, as the songster has it. The successful daylight robber stands higher among the lovers of the people who are "smart." He has "made it pay," at all events, and that is, to the mass of busy, hustling Americans, the standard of success. This isn't the truth, you say? Oh, yes, it is; and that is why the prisons are full of the knaves who are caught trying to rob their fellows, while the records of the bankruptcy courts and the settlements-at-five-cents-on-the-dollar-cases show how far some will go who are not caught to get the wealth that is everything to them and to their families and their friends.—Brockton Enterprise.

MILTON.

An Italian employed on the sewer at East Milton had a narrow escape from being killed by a blast Wednesday noon. It appears that the workmen were blasting out a large rock in the trench. The blast was made ready and everybody ordered out of the trench. For some reason, however, this man did not come up, and supposing that everything was all right the blast was fired. The unfortunate man was thrown quite a distance and landed in the water. There he was found and hoisted to the surface. Dr. Gilchrist was called and dressed the man's wounds, after which he was removed to the Hospital. His face was badly cut and he was bruised about the body. His wounds are not dangerous and he will recover. It was a narrow escape for him however.

Rev. T. B. Johnson will give a lecture on "Old Maids" at the East Milton Baptist church, Oct. 7.

Meetings of the Sunday School of the Mission church will be resumed the first Sunday in October.

Frank Boyd of West Quincy gave a talk on "The Admistration of President Madison" before the Thursday Evening club, Tuesday evening.

No word has been received of the whereabouts of J. Walter Bradlee and his family fear the worse.

The annual meeting of the Thursday Evening club will be held next week.

The remodelling of the Congregational church at East Milton is progressing rapidly and it will soon be possible to resume services.

NONE WILL ESCAPE

Chief Wilkie Investigating the Counterfeiting In Pennsylvania Prison

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Chief Wilkie of the United States secret service is here to make a personal investigation of the counterfeiting recently brought to light in the state penitentiary here. When asked if any arrests were to be made he answered that the investigation had not yet been completed, but added: "It is not likely that any of those connected with the case will escape arrest and punishment."

The counterfeiting conspiracy was unearthed during an investigation into charges of loose management in the cigarmaking department of the penitentiary. It was learned that silver coins of the 25 and 50 cent and one dollar denomination had been manufactured in the institution. It is alleged that the matter was suppressed by the prison officials.

To Help Our Abyssinian Trade

Washington, Sept. 24.—In case the condition of affairs in Turkey will justify the withdrawal of the cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco from Beirut and the gunboat Machias from Port Said, where they have been for the last few weeks, it is probable that all three vessels, comprising the present European squadron, will be sent to Jibuti, a port on the east coast of Africa. The purpose of this cruise is to show the interest taken by the United States in the establishment of intimate commercial relations with the government of Abyssinia.

King's Send-Off to Ancients

Liverpool, Sept. 24.—"I wish you and the Honourable company a good passage out and a safe return home. I feel convinced that you will all meet with a most gratifying reception in the United States." Just before the Mayflower sailed last evening with the Honourable Artillery company of London, off to visit the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston, the above telegram was handed to Lieutenant Colonel Denbigh from King Edward. Thousands were gathered at the docks to give the artillerymen a send-off.

Beavers Under $10,000 Bail

New York, Sept. 24.—George W. Beavers again surrendered himself and was arraigned before Commissioner Ridgway on the two indictments recently returned against him in Washington. Commissioner Ridgway fixed the examination for next Wednesday, and Beavers was released on $10,000 bail on one of the indictments, being permitted to go on his own recognizance upon the second.

Killed Himself When Surrounded

North Vernon, Ind., Sept. 24.—William Wilkerson, while intoxicated, drove his family from home. Marshal Schwake was appealed to and upon entering the premises was shot and instantly killed by Wilkerson. Wilkerson immediately started for the country and a posse was organized to pursue him. A half mile from town Wilkerson was surrounded and killed himself.

A Mysterious Disappearance

Boston, Sept. 24.—Mrs. E. R. Smith, Jr., of Malden has been missing since last Thursday, and the police have been asked to find her She was formerly Clara Monteith of Pittsburg and is only 17 years old. She was married to Smith last June. She left her belongings and nothing has been discovered that would afford a clue to her present whereabouts.

Havoc on the Grand Banks

St. Johns, Sept. 24.—A number of fishing vessels have returned here damaged and report the loss of men, trawls and fishing outfits on the Grand Banks. It is feared that some vessels have sunk and others are badly damaged. Eighteen fishermen found adrift in dories and picked up by other vessels were landed here yesterday.

DELEGATES ALL FOR BATES

President of Bay State Senate Scores In Hot Caucus Fight

Boston, Sept. 24.—With less than a dozen contests in the senatorial districts and one or two fights in some of the counties, the Republican caucuses which were held last night throughout the state lacked much of the animation of previous years. In nearly every town in the state where delegates to the different party conventions were chosen the party voters merely gathered to ratify a list which the leaders had selected some time ago.

Delegates to the state convention were all unpledged and all who will attend the convention, which will be held next month in this city, will vote for John L. Bates for governor and Curtis Guild, Jr., for lieutenant governor.

One of the surprises of the caucus was the overwhelming victory of George R. Jones of Melrose, president of the senate, over Representative Aaron C. Dowse of Malden. President Jones not only carried his own city, but captured every delegate in Everett, and 10 out of 21 delegates in Malden, the home of his opponent. The fight between these two candidates was very spirited, and every effort was made throughout the district to bring out the votes.

Strike Would Cause Lockout

Providence, Sept. 24.—Three hundred members of the New England Manufacturing Jewelers and Silversmiths' association have signed an agreement which provides for the shutting out of all union men in the event that the labor officials should declare a strike in any one or all of the jewelry shops in this vicinity. This action is the result of the agitation made by the union for a nine-hour day and other concessions. It is understood that a strike is not likely to be declared for the present.

Governing Electric Car Speed

Boston, Sept. 24.—The state board of railroad commissioners has revised the order passed by the city board of aldermen on May 18, which raised the speed of the electric cars to 12 miles an hour in the congested district, 15 in the outlying sections, and four miles an hour in making turns. The state board requires that railroad trains must be given right of way, and that when near corners, turns and in congested districts, the car must not attain greater speed than will admit instant stopping.

To Preserve Lobsters

Boston, Sept. 24.—Fish and game commissioners representing Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, New Hampshire and Connecticut and the Canadian government organized in this city to draft uniform laws for the protection of lobsters. Commissioner Venning of Canada claimed that the system in vogue there of having a close season had preserved the Canadian lobster fisheries. The convention has not completed its business.

Three Were Drowned

North Kingstown, R. I., Sept. 24.—A body found floating in Narragansett bay has been identified as that of W. E. Martin, one of a party of three caught in the gale of Wednesday last and drowned. The body of Martin's son was found the day after the storm. Harry Goff, the third member of the party, is still missing.

Girl Killed; Brother Escaped

Caribou, Me., Sept. 24.—A carriage containing Rose Churchill, aged 17, and a younger brother was struck by an engine at a crossing here and thrown a distance of 40 feet. Miss Churchill was killed instantly, but the boy escaped with slight bruises. The wagon was completely demolished and the horse killed.

Frightened Newton Citizens

Newton, Mass., Sept. 24.—Vincent Sparda was arraigned in police court here and committed to an insane asylum. Sparda's strange actions have frightened many people and caused several disturbances on the streets. His commitment followed a medical examination as to the man's sanity.

Painters Return to Work

Bath, Me., Sept. 24.—The strike of union painters at the Bath Iron works has been settled and the men involved returned to work today. It is understood that three officers who were objected to by the men will be supplanted by others. The men have been out three weeks.

Assaulted at His Own Door

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 24.—John Riley, proprietor of a cigar store, was assaulted on the doorstep of his home last night, knocked insensible by a blow from a club and robbed of about $50. Riley did not see his assailant and he has not been apprehended.

Fatal Quarrel Over Whiskey

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 24.—Joseph Lainanis, who was assaulted on Monday night by Joseph White in a fight over a bottle of whisky, died last evening. Lainanis was found in an unconscious condition in a cellar. White is charged with manslaughter.

Five Houses Destroyed by Fire

Calais, Me., Sept. 24.—The entire north end of the city was threatened for several hours last night by a fire that destroyed five tenement houses, with a loss of $7000. The fire started in a bog where large quantities of mill waste are dumped.

Baby's Skull Broken

Providence, Sept. 24.—The 2-year-old child of Joseph Rose died of injuries sustained by falling from the arms of his caretaker. The child's head struck the sidewalk with such force that the skull was fractured.

Over-Sensitive Clubmen

Santiago de Cuba, Sept. 24.—The directors of the Republican club here, fancying themselves slighted in the invitations to the palace sent out by the governor in connection with the visit of President Palma, have removed the decorations of the club, which occupies a prominent position on the plaza. The local heads of the customs and police have retaliated by ordering their employes to withdraw from the club or resign their positions. Several of them have resigned.

$175,000 "Docked" From Bill

New York, Sept. 24.—Bridge Commissioner Lindenthal has been directed by Corporation Counsel Rives to deduct the sum of $175,000 from the bill of $231,621 rendered by John A. Roebling Sons & Co., on the contract for wire cables and suspenders for the new East river bridge. This sum is for liquidated damages for 175 working days alleged to have been consumed in the execution of the work beyond the stipulated time for its completion.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Concessions on Both Sides

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—The controversy between the engineers and firemen and the Great Northern road was amicably settled last evening. Neither the company officials nor the grand officers of the two brotherhoods would state just what the terms of agreement were, but it is known that each side made some concessions.

President May Make Southern Trip

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 24.—Internal Revenue Collector Thompson, who is just back from a conference with the president at Oyster Bay, says that Mr. Roosevelt is considering making a trip south this winter and speaking in two or three cities each in Georgia and Alabama.

Firebug Caused $300,000 Loss

Mellen, Wis., Sept. 24.—An incendiary started a fire which nearly wiped out the village of Morse and caused a loss of $300,000. From all that the authorities can learn it was the work of a former employe of a lumber mill who was recently discharged.

Proposed Reduction of Wages

Pittsburg, Sept. 24.—The United States Steel corporation may close all its sheet steel plants in the near future unless the Amalgamated association will consent to a reduction. The reason is an overstocked market and the dullness of trade.

KING AS CABINET MAKER

Will Exercise Veto Power If Selections Do Not Suit Him

SCANDALS IN THE ARMY

Must Be Handled by a Cabinet Which He Considers Adapted to Deal With the Question—Does Not Share Public Indignation Against Lansdowne

London, Sept. 24.—The political crisis has taken on a phase which lends to the present situation a historical and constitutional importance of almost unprecedented interest. The king has interfered to an extent never dreamed of in the Victorian era.

Premier Balfour's continued presence at Balmoral has given rise to much surmise and comment, but it can be stated definitely that it is due to the king's determination not to assent to the formation of a new cabinet until thoroughly satisfied that its personnel and combination is such as to ensure the efficient carrying on of the affairs of the empire pending the resumption of parliament. For years previous, cabinets were formed or ministerial vacancies filled with the mere formal presentation to the sovereign of the names of the new ministers. King Edward has done away with this tradition. He has spent the last few days in constant discussion with Mr. Balfour as to the advisability of the latter's suggested appointments. Ministers now holding office and those nominated for office have been summoned to Balmoral to join in these conferences and all have been subjected to a degree of interrogation such as has surprised even those who knew King Edward intimately as Prince of Wales.

To such an extent is King Edward holding his power of veto in reserve that now he is almost regarded by the inner circles as more the cabinet maker than Mr. Balfour himself. Though, with his usual tact, the king has refrained from expressing any political views or infringing the initiative belonging to the ministers, this has not prevented him from expressing his desire, amounting almost to a command, that steps be taken to remedy the scandals in the army administration revealed by the report of the South African war commission and insisting that the new cabinet shall be one adapted to deal with that question.

After the long conversations he has had during the last few days at Balmoral with military authorities the king is said to have expressed the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's record as war secretary was due more to the badness of the system then in vogue than to any defect in Lansdowne's own judgment. King Edward has not shared the keen public indignation against Lansdowne, aroused by the report of the South African war commission, and he is understood to have consented to Lansdowne continuing as foreign minister. This decision has not prevented the king from frankly telling the ministers that he wanted something done to improve the military muddle and that he hoped some man would be appointed who, with the commission's report as a basis, would be capable of changing the system which rendered inefficiency unavoidable.

The question of having some general, notably Lord Kitchener, as head of the war office has been keenly discussed at Balmoral between the king and the ministers, but it is understood that the consensus of opinion was that such an appointment would be interpreted as a modified form of military dictatorship which the public would never sanction.

Dealing with the surmise upon some of the foregoing points The Morning Advertiser says: "The king has in this national urgency resolved to play the part of a ruler instead of being content with that of a figurehead."

Meantime, every detail of the negotiations for filling up the vacancies in the cabinet are submitted to the king, who, for the time being, has transformed Balmoral into the political centre of the empire from which, owing to the unusual influences at work, several surprises may emanate. Whatever the results may be they can safely be attributed to a large extent to the king's interest in the crisis.

Disbelievers In Arbitration

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Settlement of labor difficulties by arbitration has been frowned upon by the teamsters' joint counsel and as a result the Chicago board of arbitration, which has ended many disputes between employers and employes, will in all probability be disbanded. The joint council of the teamsters has adopted a resolution removing its representatives from the board of arbitration.

No Death Fund For Rebekahs

Baltimore, Sept. 24.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows last evening refused to grant to the Rebekah branch of the order the right to establish a death and funeral fund. A dress parade, concert and ball were given last night by the Patriarchs Militant. Three thousand persons attended the function.

FOR OUT OF DOOR WEAR.

Norfolk Jackets—Blouses Match the Skirts In Color.

Sack coats are worn in town, but in the country, except for cycling, the short, tight fitting coat takes its place or the blouse caught in with a leather belt at the waist. Norfolk jackets also are being worn, so we may say that once again tailor made frocks are showing the figure. Even the neatly stitched bolero has a tendency to be tight fitting.

The new skirts are nearly all cut plain over the hips and all the fullness comes at the hem. Some are made with a separate kilted flounce put on invisibly under strappings of cloth or tweed. The old fashioned idea of a short skirt was a skimpy pattern most unbecoming to the average woman, giving her the appearance of being insufficiently clothed.

A blouse matching the skirt is much smarter than a difficult color. For instance, with a brown skirt what looks smarter than a brown taffeta or brown foulard waist? One can always add white muslin turnover collars and cuffs.

The picture shows an automobile suit in the new moleskin material, finished with bands of soft leather.

Bulgarians' Feeling Is Becoming More Excited

DECLARE IN FAVOR OF WAR

Revolutionary Circles Take No Stock In Propositions Which Have Failed of Consummation Heretofore—Relations With Turkey More Strained

Sofia, Sept. 24.—A less hopeful feeling prevails in government circles regarding the general situation, although no actual change is reported. The events of the next two days are awaited with great anxiety and popular feeling is becoming more excited. A largely attended meeting of Macedonian sympathizers was held at Rutschuk and adopted resolutions appealing to the Bulgarian government to declare war on Turkey immediately.

In revolutionary circles war is believed to be imminent unless Turkey stops massacreing the Christians, of which there are no signs at present. Dr. Tartartcheff, president of the Macedonian organizations, says that the insurgent committees attach no importance to the reported negotiations between Turkey and Bulgaria because similar propositions were discussed in 1897 and later in 1899 and 1900. The porte, added Dr. Tartartcheff, only entered into the conference in order to gain time to finish the extermination of what it regards as the dangerous elements in Macedonia, have the troops now at Monastir free to move against Bulgaria and bring more soldiers from Asia. While the sultan's government is discussing propositions for reforms in Macedonia, the troops continue to massacre the Christians and devastate the country.

Referring to the details of the proposed agreement, Dr. Tartartcheff said there was no guarantee, even if the commission was appointed, that it would ever be more than ornamental. The present village commissions in Macedonia have Bulgarian members, but they are always favorable to the Turks. Dr. Tartartcheff concluded by declaring that the insurgents would be satisfied with nothing short of intervention by the powers.

Special significance attaches to the Macedonian meeting at Rustchuk, because the resolutions adopted are the first open expression of such an emphatic character in favor of war coming from any popular meeting in Bulgaria. Rustchuk is the chief commercial town in the country. Resolutions were also passed thanking the pope, the English bishops, the trades union congress and the British and American press for their expressions of sympathy with the Macedonian cause.

Sultan Hesitates to Declare War

Constantinople, Sept. 24.—The relations between Turkey and Bulgaria are daily becoming more strained. Rumors are current of a crisis at Yildiz Kiosk and that the grand viziership has been offered to Said Pasha, who was unceremoniously dismissed last year, but that he declines to take over again the office unless he is authorized to declare war on Bulgaria, which the sultan hesitates to do. As one of the results of the numerous cabinet councils at Yildiz Kiosk the transfer of 32 battalions from Monastir to Adrianople has been ordered and some 200 young officers have gone to Salonica and Adrianople to complete the commissions in the army in Roumelia. These movements are regarded as war preparations against an expected attack. The military commission is practically in permanent session.

BODY RACKING RHEUMATISM!

The Romoc Man says:

There is no need of suffering from rheumatic pains. There is no need of living a life of misery and fear. I admit that rheumatism is a dangerous foe; not only does it cause the most excruciating pains but as you well know the acid,—minute the dreadful pains that is the cause of rheumatism—strikes the heart the victim dies. Just brace up mentally and physically, follow my advice,—take Romoc, it is Nature's own remedy; it counteracts the poisons that cause this dread disease, and expels them from the system. Romoc tones up every organ of the body. Romoc will make you well.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by

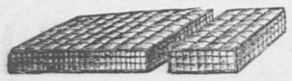
A Good Mattress.



Some wise Philosopher will some day start a comfort reform. His followers will quickly acquire the habit of owning the very best mattress and bed spring that money can buy. The third of their life they then sleep in bed will bring more comfort and rest than ever dreamed of, and the remaining two thirds of their life will be more enjoyable than ever before.

If you wish to get the greatest possible comfort out of this life—own a good mattress—even if other things do go to the wall.

Our South American Hair Mattresses at $15.00 to $22.00.

County,—Walter E. Piper, James W. Pierce and John Kennedy.

Senatorial, — Frederick L. Jones, Alexander Falconer and Julius Johnson.

WARD FOUR.

The West Quincy caucus was largely attended, but somewhat smaller than last year.

At 9 o'clock the hour for the polls to close there were a number in line who desired to vote, and it was voted to extend the time for closing the polls fifteen minutes. Mr. Sandberg carried this ward by a large margin. The total number of votes cast was 163 and of this number he received 137. Mr. Freeman was second with 68 and Mr. Hall third with 60.

Thomas F. Burke was chairman, and Eugene M. McCormick secretary. The tellers were Thomas J. Lamb, Hiram W. Campbell, Arthur W. Loud and Tobias H. Burke.

The delegates elected were.

Councillor,—A. G. Farnham and Andrew Anderson.

County,—W. E. Badger and J. F. Allan.

Senatorial,—W. H. Teasdale and Thomas F. Burke.

WARD FIVE.

Wollaston, Mr. Freeman's own ward, turned out a large vote. In this ward the polls opened at five o'clock, and at that hour there were about twenty-five present.

The ward gave Mr. Freeman a very handsome vote which indicates that the ward will stand by him. His vote was 265. Mr. Hall was second in the list with 160, and Mr. Sandberg last with 90. Mr. Sandberg's vote is considered a good one for this ward. The total vote was 294. The blanks were 73.

Charles R. Sherman was chairman and Horace Taylor secretary. The tellers were Parker Sheldon, A. G. Olney and Henry O. Fairbanks.

The delegates elected are:

State,—R. R. Freeman, H. T. Whitman and N. G. Nickerson.

Councillor,—H. J. Gurney, W. O. Parker and William M. Chase.

County,—George L. York, William M. Chase and Charles A. Macfarland.

Senatorial,—Charles M. Bryant, W. J. Wellington and S. F. Copeland.

WARD SIX.

There was not a large attendance at the caucus in the Atlantic ward and the result of the vote was announced as soon as the polls were closed. Mr. Freeman carried the ward as was anticipated receiving 60 votes. Mr. Sandberg was second with 35 and Mr. Hall had 27.

Daniel McGrath was chairman of the caucus and Elwyn R. Thorpe, clerk. The tellers were Herbert D. Gearwar, L. F. R. Langelier, Allen T. Williams, and William G. Gassett. The delegates elected were as follows:

State,—H. S. Barker and B. F. Thomas.

Councillor,—R. W. Hobbs and R. H. Wilde.

County,—Daniel F. McGrath and L. F. R. Langelier.

Senatorial,—W. G. Gassett and H. D. Gearwar.

Braintree Delegates.

State,—James T. Stevens, Lewis F. Small, Charles O. Miller, Lawrence H. H. Johnson.

Senatorial, — B. Herbert Woodsum, George A. Arnold, Willie H. Shaw, Brainard T. Dyer.

County,—Foster F. Tupper, Charles C. Mellen, Charles M. Lothrop, Hartley L. White.

By Trolley to Plymouth.

Mrs. Rankin of Hallowell, Me., who is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. P. Eaton, accompanied Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. C. C. Mueller went by trolley to Plymouth on Wednesday. Mrs. Rankin, who is 78 years old, enjoyed the trip very much. When a child she remembers seeing the statute for the Pilgrim monument which was cut in Hallowell, and says she has always wanted to see it in position. She also visited Plymouth rock and other points of historical interest.

The Taffy Pull

is far superior to any other syrup for making taffy or candy of any kind. Try the following recipe. It is convincing.

Pour a small tin of Karo Corn Syrup into a kettle holding four times the amount of syrup used and boil over a slow fire for half hour, stirring all the time to prevent boiling over and burning. When a little dropped in cold water becomes hard, snappy, add ½ of teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, stir quickly and thoroughly, then pour on greased platters. When cool enough to handle without burning the hands, pull. A little butter rubbed on the hands will keep it from sticking. The more it is pulled the whiter it becomes. Flavor to suit.

Karo Corn Syrup is good for all home uses from griddle cakes to candy. Sold in airtight, friction-top tins, 10c, 25c, 50c. All grocers.

NO SUPPORT

Can Be Expected from the Powers.

Say Agents of Russia and Austria.

Bulgaria Says Turkey Should Withdraw Troops.

Sofia, Sept. 25.—The diplomatic agents of Russia and Austria-Hungary have informed the Bulgarian government that they have been instructed to communicate that their governments, in agreement with the other great powers, are resolved never to depart from the published program of reforms in Macedonia and that Bulgaria must not count on any support for any other purpose. The agents further announced that the same declaration would be made at Constantinople.

The Russian official note reiterates that the attitute of the powers in regard to the Austro-Russian reform scheme for Macedonia is unchanged, and that, consequently, neither Turkey nor Bulgaria can expect support from any quarter in the event of open or secret resistance to that scheme.

The imperial Ottoman commissioner has informed the Bulgarian government that the sultan has promulgated an irade sanctioning the program of reform which is to be carried out by a mixed commission and that he deputed Hilmi Pasha to superintend the execution of the platform with orders to suspend the persecution of the Bulgarians. As no indication is given concerning the constitution of the proposed mixed commission or as to an amnesty of political offenders demanded by Bulgaria there is no disposition here to believe that the negotiations will be effective.

When the Turkish diplomatic agent communicated the sultan's irade to Premier Petroff, the latter is reported to have answered that so long as Turkey does not withdraw her troops from the frontier and does not fulfill all her promises, Bulgaria is justified in believing that Turkey is talking merely for talking's sake. The Sofia press refers to the irade in similar terms and declines to consider it seriously.

It is a fact that all hope of good results from the Turkish promises of reform has long disappeared and the feeling is steadily growing that war is the sole solution to the Macedonian problem, the only question being whether it will come this autumn or be postponed until spring.

The preparations for the mobilization of the Bulgarian army have been carried out with singular completeness as to detail and a declaration of war will find the Bulgarians sufficiently prepared. The equipment for the soldiers is ready, large quantities of ammunition are on hand and the stocks of general supplies are remarkably comprehensive.

The details of the atrocities by the Turkish troops in Monastir daily reaching the Bulgarian government equal and even exceed those already published.

The insurgent general staff in the Monastir vilayet has compiled an elaborate report of events in the district of Kastoria between Aug. 2 and Sept. 12. It comprises a list of 24 villages which were plundered. A great number of houses were burned and 572 villagers killed. The report gives the names, ages and manner of death of the victims. According to information received from other competent sources the report is not exaggerated and fairly represents the situation.

Appeal of Peace Congress

Rouen, Sept. 25.—The international peace congress adopted a resolution appealing to the civilized nations, particularly the powers which signed the treaty of Berlin, to intervene and stop the work of extermination in Macedonia without delay.

UNDER THE CANAL.

Quincy Point Sewer Will Soon be Connected with Main System.

The contractors on the new main sewer line to Quincy Point are pushing operations. Work at present is being carried on, on Washington street between South street and the Quincy Point bridge and along the canal north of Washington street.

The Quincy Point section joins the main line sewer on Canal street near Newcomb street. The sewer will be laid just below the bed of the canal and work preparatory to laying the pipe across the canal has already been commenced.

The main will not be laid deep enough to warrant tunneling beneath the canal and the work will be accomplished by building a dam half way across and diverting the course of the water around the end.

The preliminary work of this dam has already been commenced and a large pump has been set up to keep the water from the trench while the pipe is being laid. Some of the excavation necessary has already been done, and it will not take long to lay the pipe across as it is not as difficult a job as might be supposed.

The most of Washington street and several other streets at Quincy Point can use the sewer before Nov. 1.

CAUCUSES

Of Democrats Very Slimly Attended.

Less Than One Hundred Voters.

Ties, However, in Wards One and Three for Delegates.

Democratic caucuses were held throughout the city Thursday evening. There were only two candidates in nomination for Representatives, Peter T. Fallon and William Kelley and both were nominated, receiving practically the entire vote.

Ward Three was the only ward with a double list of delegates, but there was a small vote there as in other wards. The result by wards follows.

WARD ONE.

A quartette of the faithful did all the business at the Ward One caucus. Walter M. Packard was chairman and Luke J. Cole secretary. The only others to visit the polls to vote were Walter B. Wilson and Philip D. Cook, the total vote being four.

By law the polls were kept open half an hour, when the result was announced.

The ward is entitled to four delegates to the county and councillor conventions, but only elected two. For the Senatorial convention there was a tie for fourth place between Thomas J. Dunphy whose name was printed on the ballot, and Walter M. Packard whose name was written in, leaving a vacancy.

These delegates were elected:

State—George H. Wilson, Frederick W. Tirrell.

County and Councillor—William G. A. Pattee, Walter M. Packard.

Senatorial—Philip D. Cook, Luke J. Coyle, Walter B. Wilson.

WARD TWO.

Twelve was the total vote at the caucus in the Quincy Point ward. There was no contest on any delegation. James M. Cleverly was chairman and W. H. Sullivan clerk. The delegates elected were:

State—Edward H. Perry, Jr., Timothy J. Carey, Thomas J. Flaherty.

County and Councillor—Charles Mullane, William F. Callahan, Andrew J. Fahey, Perry Green.

Senatorial—Dennis J. Ford, William F. Cain, Timothy J. Carey, Edward P. Connors.

WARD THREE.

Although there was a contest in the South Quincy ward, the caucus was but slimly attended, but 19 votes being cast. The vote for delegates to the councillor convention resulted in a tie for the fourth delegate between Michael P. Coffey and Thomas Higgins, causing a vacancy. The caucus voted to empower the Ward Committee to fill any vacancies, but this is not according to the caucus act.

William A. Kelley was chairman and Cornelius Austin, clerk. The tellers were William Donahoe, Antonio Mottla, J. P. Duffy, and Dennis Donahoe.

These delegates were elected:

State,—Patrick D. Driscoll, John P. Duffey, Edward J. Parker.

County and Councillor,—George D. Cahill, Henry Clare, Michael P. Coffey, James P. Dougherty.

Senatorial,—Cornelius D. Austin, William A. Kelley, Andrew W. Howley, Michael Hartrey.

WARD FOUR.

The West Quincy caucus was the largest attended of any in the city, fifty votes being cast. There were no contests, the printed list of delegates being elected without opposition.

William P. Hughes was chairman, and Martin King clerk. The tellers were James Egan, John W. Burke, James Dillon and Cornelius Crowley.

The delegates elected are as follows:

State,—William T. Shea, James F. Burke, Peter T. Fallon, William P. Hughes.

County,—John H. Ash, James A. White, Philip Garrity, James E. McDonald, Jeremiah Curtin, James H. Elcock.

Councillor,—John B. McGilvery, John C. Ballou, Frederick Trenta, Aloys Burkhard, Edward Farrell, John S. Dolan.

Senatorial,—John J. Reardon, Richard H. Walsh, James Dillon, James S. Fennessey, John J. Dugan, William T. Shea.

WARD FIVE.

The Wollaston ward caucus was slimly attended as usual, for this is a strong Republican ward. Seven votes, however, were cast. W. P. Chase was chairman, M. E. Cook clerk, and the tellers were Daniel O'Meara and Edward Twitchell. The delegates elected are:

State,—David J. Roche, Clinton Jones.

County and councillor, — Edward Twitchell, Patrick Ferguson, William J. Colligan.

Senatorial,—Francis R. McCormick, Jeremiah Denneen, Michael E. Cook

WARD SIX.

Only seven voters appeared at the Atlantic caucus, and all voted "straight" every name on the ballot receiving seven votes. Martin W. Cunniff called the meeting to order and the caucus organized with Bartlett McLane as chairman, and Bernard Cullen as clerk. They counted the votes. The delegates elected follow:

State,—Stephen H. Edwards, William T. Moran.

County,—William Denneen, Thomas Hayes, Patrick Canty, Cornelius Leary.

Councillor,—John Cullen, Lawrence Curtin, Robert J. Clifford, Edmund A. Shea.

Senatorial,—Peter Colligan, Martin A. Cunniff, John H. Canty, Bernard Cullen.

NOT GUILTY

Prompt Verdict in Case of Mrs. Whitman.

Heard in the Superior Court.

Lawyer John W. McAnarney for the Defence.

The case of Mrs. Clara H. Whitman of this city for assault with intent to murder her infant son, was sent to the jury this morning in the superior court at Dedham and a verdict of not guilty was soon reached.

The proceedings says the Herald were made dramatic on Thursday by the frequency with which Mrs. Clara H. Whitman, the defendant, was moved to tears during her cross-examination by Dist.-Atty. French.

Mrs. Henrietta Marr testified that on July 18 she saw the child, and his lips and tongue were swollen.

John Bouton, a police officer, testified the child's cheek was burned, "a kind of black mark." Noticed an odor in the house and about the child. "I should judge it was carbolic acid.

Alexander W. Russell, a stone cutter, testified he was with Officer Bouton when he visited the Whitman house. Noticed an odor about the child that he thought was carbolic acid.

The contention of the defense was the child was burned by brandy and hot water, and not by an acid substance. William G. Whitman of South Quincy, a stone cutter, husband of the defendant, testified his infant son was ill July 18 last, and had been so for a week. July 18 he found several women and Dr. McLennan at his house. He refused his wife's plea to send the baby to the hospital. He said he had no carbolic acid in the house at the time. Never noticed that his child's lower limbs appeared to be raw or his face scalded.

Mrs. Clara H. Whitman, the defendant, testified her child had been sick a week prior to July 18. He had the colic. She sent for the doctor. The doctor gave her some tablets. She put them on a shelf in the closet where she had all sorts of medicine. Had some tablets on the same shelf that she used as a wash for her hand. She had blood poisoning. July 18 last, her baby was fussy and crying. "I thought I had best give it brandy and hot water, and noticed his mouth was white inside." Then she gave him one of the tablets left by the doctor. Could not swear that she gave the baby the wrong tablet. "I was so excited I could not tell." The tablets she used for herself were "kind of whitish and grayish mixed." They had a very peculiar odor, "between tar and turpentine."

Cross-examination—After giving the baby "the doctor's medicine" she noticed his mouth and lips were swollen. "I was not drunk or under the influence of liquor on the afternoon of that day (July 18).

James R. Qualey, of Braintree, a granite manufacturer, testified to seeing Mrs. Whitman and child at his place July 18, at about 11 A. M.

F. A. Harrington testified he was at Whitman's house between 4 and 6 in the afternoon, and baby was in cradle and apparently all right.

Mrs. Cowe, recalled, said, in her opinion, Mrs. Whitman, on the afternoon of July 18 last, was under the influence of liquor.

The argument for the defence was made by John W. McAnarney. He had not finished at time of last night's adjournment.

Lawyer McAnarney finished this morning, and District Attorney French summed up the case for the government. The judge then charged the jury, which was not long in acquitting the defendant.

PRETTY WEDDING.

Autumnal Foliage Extensively Used at Church.

The Groom a Boston Doctor.

The Bride, Miss Eva D. Phillips of Quincy Point.

The Washington Street Congregational church was the scene of a very pretty autumn wedding Thursday afternoon, when in the presence of a large gathering of friends, Miss Eva Doraine, daughter of Mr. Hiram W. Phillips, became the bride of Dr. Herbert Drummond Boyd of Boston.

The church was profusely decorated with autumn foliage. In the main vestibule was a large canna, and on the stair railings leading to the upper floor were oak branches. The interior of the church was one mass of oak branches, asters and Japanese lilies.

Clusters of little white wild flowers were at the entrance of each pew on both sides of the main aisle, and large bunches of the same flowers were clustered around the centre chandeliers. Along the side lights and windows were bunches of wild boughs.

The pulpit and vicinity was one high bank of oak leaves, ferns, white asters and Japanese lilies. The decorations were under the direction of Miss Margaret Thomas and Mrs. Dexter Emerson Wadsworth.

Miss Sara Kelley of Braintree presided at the organ, and for half an hour previous to the ceremony sweet musical tones filled the church.

Promptly on the hour of 3 o'clock the inspiring tones of Lohengrin's wedding march informed the gathering that the wedding party were approaching.

First came the four ushers, Miss Mary Piper of Somerville, Miss Maude Simes, Miss Helen Claflin and Miss Elsie Phillips, a sister of the bride. Then came the bride leaning upon the arm of her father.

They were met at the altar by the groom and the clergyman. The ceremony was performed by Dean Huntington of Boston assisted by Rev. Leon H. Austin, the pastor, the bride being given away by her father.

As the bridal party left the church Mendelssohn march was played.

Dr. and Mrs. Boyd left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at The Illsley, corner of Cumberland street and Huntington avenue, Boston.

The bride wore a plain lace over chiffon and white taffeta. Her veil was caught up with a brooch of pearls, a gift of the K. K. G. fraternity of Boston University. In her hand she carried a large shower bouquet of white sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaids were gowned in immaculate white, and wore sweet peas and maidenhair fern in the hair. They also carried Duchess lace handkerchiefs, gifts of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of the Woodward Institute and of the Boston University, class of '03, receiving the degree of Q. B. K.

The groom is a successful Boston practitioner and a professor at Boston University.

The days have decreased over three hours.

Hospital Aid Association.

At the meeting of this organization held Thursday, Sept. 24th, the following business was transacted. On motion of Mrs. Joseph C. Morse voted to instruct treasurer to send check for two hundred dollars to pay balance due Oct. 1st for new sterilizer and fittings for same at the hospital.

On motion of Mrs. Thomas Fenno voted to accept the offer of Mr. A. F. Hayward of the Star grocery store. This offer places the store practically in the hands of the Hospital Aid Association for two afternoons and two evenings, and one-fifth of the receipts are for the benefit of the City Hospital. The association is to furnish young ladies to assist in waiting on customers and Mr. Hayward and his sons will also wait on customers and deliver all purchases free. The days selected were Wednesday, October 28, and Wednesday, Nov. 18. The names of the young ladies who are to serve as attendants and various other details will be published later.

The following is a list of the officers for 1903 of the association, which is unavoidably late in appearing in print:

Early Morning Fire Destroys Well Filled Hotel at Rochester, N H

Rochester, N. H., Sept. 25.—Hotel Brunswick, situated near the Boston and Maine depot on Hansom street, was destroyed by fire this morning, the flames originating from the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the kitchen. The fire broke out about 12:40 and within an hour the building, which was of three stories, was gutted by the flames.

The house was well filled with guests at the time and it is feared that loss of life has resulted, as not all the guests have been accounted for. There were many narrow escapes.

The bodies of four guests have been taken from the third floor of the hotel. The house was filled to overflowing with guests and cots had been placed in the corridors. It was stated that there were 45 guests in all in the house.

When the firemen arrived people were hanging from the second and third-story windows and clinging to the wainscotting over the windows. A number of guests jumped from the second-story windows and received more or less severe injuries.

It has been noticed by several that it is somewhat difficult to get a ticket in a hurry at the Atlantic station. Whether the duties of the agent keep him busy during train time, or whether he means to teach the late arrivals a lesson is a question. Absence may make the heart grow fonder, but when it comes to wanting a ticket one doesn't get any fonder of the agent when he is seen half way up the track sauntering along as if the world and time were at his disposal, and the ticket office well filled.

To Give Electricity a Trial

Boston, Sept. 25.—The Newton Lower Falls branch of the Boston and Albany railroad will be at once electrically equipped and the experiment will be closely watched as a test of electricity as steam auxiliary in suburban sections of steam railroads. The company has extensive changes in contemplation, contingent upon the success of the new plan. The operating expense will be greatly reduced, it is expected, and thereby the service will be increased.

Deadlock Over Milk Prices

Boston, Sept. 25.—No winter price for milk could be agreed upon at an all-day conference between the delegates from the Milk Producers' union and the Boston milk contractors. The final offer of the farmers' producers was 40 cents a can flat, and 3 cents for carrying. The contractors offer was 36½ cents, or 38½ cents, Boston price. Neither party would yield. The conference is unfinished.

Grand Jury Indicts Bankers

Chardon, O., Sept. 25.—The grand jury returned two indictments against G. H. and R. N. Burton, bankers, who failed with liabilities aggregating $1,125,000. The Fords are charged with obtaining property under false pretenses in accepting deposits after the officials of the institution are said to have known the bank was insolvent.

Stepped In Front of Train

Valley Falls, R. I., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Henry T. Harding, aged 54, was instantly killed by an express train at a crossing last night. She was returning from a trip to Pawtucket. She left the train, waited for it to pull out, and stepped directly in front of the express.

Jury Says Says Edson Was Insane

New York, Sept. 25.—A coroner's jury found that Henry T. Edson was temporarily insane when he shot and killed Mrs. Fannie W. Pullen, wife of his friend, and then killed himself. Edson was the son of former Mayor Edson.

COURT MARTIAL ARRAIGNED

For Inadequate Punishment of Officer Who Attacked German Consul

Washington, Sept. 25.—At the navy department the fact is learned that the "aged civilian" whom Assistant Paymaster Richworth Nicholson recently attacked at a public ball at Chefoo, China, was the German consul at that place. Nicholson, who was said to be drunk at the time, was convicted by court martial and sentenced to a reduction of five numbers in grade.

Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic station, in his review of the findings severely arraigned the court for the inadequate sentenced imposed. It appears that the German consul did not formally report the matter to his government, supposing Nicholson would be properly punished by the American court.

It is reported that the officers who composed the court will protest to the navy department against Admiral Evans' arraignment of their conduct. No such protest has reached the department, but it can be stated on high authority that the conduct of Nicholson is a source of mortification to the navy department officials and that the action of Admiral Evans in arraigning the court for what is considered the inadequate sentence is heartily approved.

European Diplomatic Deal

Berlin, Sept. 25.—An international arrangement is likely to be reached whereby France will support the Sultan of Morocco in suppressing the troubles within his dominions and will assume a protectorate over the country; Italy will give up any claims she may have in Morocco in return for a free hand in Tripoli; Great Britain's possession of Egypt will be recognized; Germany will receive satisfaction in the shape of the open door in these territories, while Spain will be compensated for exclusion from future expansion in Morocco by France.

Newark Cars Tied Up

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25.—The biggest strike Newark has had in almost 20 years began last night and has extended until not a trolley wheel is turning except under such cars as are run by inspectors and under heavy police guard. The Newark trolleymen declare the strike will be general all through Essex, Hudson, Passaic and Union counties before tonight. The men have demanded 22 cents an hour, the abolition of the "split runs" system and recognition of the union.

Bunch of Suits Withdrawn

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 25.—State Attorney Fessenden has entered a nolle in the case of C. G. Quintard, charged with the wilful abandonment of his wife. Mrs. Quintard would not appear to testify, and it is believed that the various suits which she has brought against him, with the exception of her divorce petition, have been withdrawn. Quintard was alleged to have deserted his wife for a wealthy young woman, with whom he is now travelling in a small circus.

Parks Has Full Swing

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—Samuel J. Parks and his followers are now practically in control of the convention of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. It is claimed by the Parks element that R. E. Neidig, president of the union of which they are members in New York, and Frank Buchanan, president of the international association, have been repudiated.

St Joseph Citizens Robbed

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 25.—The report of the expert accountants who have been working on the books of the city under the direction of Mayor Starr has astonished the citizens of this city. The period under investigation is from Jan. 1, 1901, to March 31, last. The report alleges that hundreds of receipts for vouchers for warrants issued by the city are missing, the total amounting to $22,856.

Record Sales of Grain

Milwaukee, Sept. 25.—The heaviest trading ever recorded in the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce took place yesterday when the sales of grain amounted to 35,000,000 bushels, 11,000,000 bushels more than the largest previous sales, on Aug. 18 of this year.

Clubmen Regret Their Action

San Luis, Cuba, Sept. 25.—President Palma arrived here last evening from Santiago. Before leaving the latter town 50 members of the Republican club called on him and apologized for any appearance of unfriendliness during the president's stay.

Died While Working Over Patient

Emporia, Kas., Sept. 25.—Dr. Charles Gardiner, one of the most prominent surgeons in the state, died of heart failure while performing an operation. The patient suffered a severe hemorrhage before another physician could be summoned.

Village Improvement.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Village Improvement and kindred societies to be represented by delegates at the First Conference of Village Improvement Societies on Thursday and Friday, October first and second, at the Twentieth Century club rooms, 2 Ashburton Place, Boston, Massachusetts. All friends of the movement will be welcomed at the sessions. The purpose of the conference is to bring together in an informal social meeting the friends of every kind of Village and Civic Improvement, and to form an organization, if advisable, for the purpose of stimulating and forwarding the work throughout the Commonwealth.

Faxon Hall Improvements.

W. R. Lofgren begins work this week on an important improvement to Faxon hall. The building will be enlarged about twelve feet on the Revere road front, which will enclose the stairway and provide a gallery across the front end of the hall. There will also be a smoking room, and other improvements which the hall has very much needed.

Squandered Employers' Money

Boston, Sept. 25.—Edward S. Gerry, who stole $3531 from his employers, was sentenced to 5½ years in the reformatory. The lad got into fast company and his position as assistant cashier enabled him to take the money, which he spent in fast living. He was captured at New York six weeks ago, having but $64 of the stolen money remaining.

All Past Three Score and Ten

South Weymouth, Mass., Sept. 25.—Two hundred members, each of whom could boast of more than 70 years, and whose aggregate age was something like 15,000 years, were present at the 10th annual reunion here of the Old Folks' association. William G. Nash, 93, was the senior member of the party.

Acquitted of Manslaughter

Hartford, Sept. 25.—After being out an hour the jury brought in a verdict declaring Fred Radochi not guilty of the killing of Seraphin Perreault. He was being tried for manslaughter. The killing occurred Aug. 1, late at night. Radochi was set free after the verdict of acquittal was rendered.

Missing Child Found Drowned

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 25.—The disappearance of Margaret Riley, aged 9, from the home of her grandmother was explained when the child's body was found in a water hole in the yard of the American linen mills. It is supposed that the child fell into the water while playing near its edge.

Melvine Gets Life Sentence

Houlton, Me., Sept. 25.—Charles F. Melvin, indicted for the murder of his wife at Mars Hill, retracted his plea of insanity, pleaded guilty to the murder in the second degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

HOWE---ARNOLD.

Braintree Young Lady Becomes Bride of Wollaston Gentleman.

There was a pretty wedding at Braintree Thursday evening when Miss Jessie Russell Arnold of that town and Mr. Charles Frederick Howe of Wollaston were united in marriage at 7.30 by Rev. William E. Gardner of Christ church, Quincy.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Watson Arnold, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Howe.

The bride was beautiful in a gown in a white crepe de chine trimmed with duchesse lace.

The bridesmaids, Miss Julia Isabel Arnold and Miss Florence Gilman wore gowns of pink mull.

The best man was Mr. John Randolph Bainbridge of Wollaston, and the ushers, Mr. Edgar Barker of Boston, Mr. Steven Perry of New Bedford, Mr. Nathan Keith of Boston, and Mr. Oliver Loud of Boston.

The decorations at the house were of pink and white asters.

A reception largely attended by friends followed the ceremony from 8 to 10, Mr. and Mrs. Howe being assisted in receiving by the Misses Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Howe.

The music for the occasion was by Mullaly.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe will reside at Braintree.

Old Folks' Reception.

The tenth annual convention of the Old Folks' association of South Weymouth was held Thursday, upon which occasion people in Weymouth and vicinity over 70 years of age were guests of the day.

A reception was held at the Union Congregational church from 10 to 12.30 and was followed by a dinner at which each guest was presented with a box of old-fashioned peppermints by Rev. D. W. Waldron of Boston.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Bates Torrey; Vice President, C. W. Fearing; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. L. W. Atwood.

Mrs. P. Mowry was the eldest of the two hundred present, her age being 94 years. William G. Nash came next with 93 years, and Mrs. J. Packard and Mrs. L. F. Parker 90 years each.

Social Reception.

About one hundred and twenty-five persons gathered at the Park and Downs church on Wednesday evening for the season. Mrs. Gram and Mrs. Milbury had the evening in charge, and were assisted by Mrs. Daggett and Mrs. Shay. The reception committee were Rev. and Mrs. Megathlin, Mr. and Mrs. Milbury and Mr. and Mrs. Dingwell.

Miss Lulu Cochran, Misses Ethel and Annabell Marr, Miss Henrietta Gram ushered the guests. The church was made homelike and attractive by the addition of rugs and decorations of palms, ferns and autumn flowers. Miss Ethel Andrews gave several pleasing piano selection. It was a most successful and enjoyable occasion.

Gibbons Welcomed Home

Baltimore, Sept. 25.—Cardinal Gibbons arrived in Baltimore last evening and was met by a delegation of citizens. Mayor McLane welcomed the cardinal home in a few appropriate words. The cardinal replied briefly. He was escorted to the cathedral by 6000 people. At the cathedral special services were held.

Soufriere Becoming Lively Again

Kingstown, B. W. I., Sept. 25.—The volcano Soufriere has remained moderately active during the past two months, steam rising continuously from the crater, but this week puffs of dark smoke have been emitted, the heaviest of which, accompanied by a fall of exceedingly hot ashes, occurred yesterday.

Legislation Desired by Farmers

Niagara Falls, Sept. 25.—The Farmers' National congress closed its annual meeting here last night. Resolutions favoring the extension of rural free delivery and the parcels post system, a postal telegraph system and postal savings banks, were adopted.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COLLIERIES TO CLOSE

Operators Have More Anthracite Coal Than They Can Dispose Of

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 25.—The orders for a restriction of the anthracite coal output has affected nearly all the collieries in this region. Orders have been issued by the Lehigh Valley Coal company to close down its 20 collieries on Saturday and Monday. The Susquehanna Coal company will place its 16 collieries idle tomorrow. The Delaware and Hudson company has posted notices at its eight collieries in this vicinity that the mines will be worked but seven hours a day until further orders. It is said that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company will place its collieries on three-quarter time. The Reading Coal company will also restrict the output by shutting down some of its collieries for repairs.

Over 43,000,000 tons of coal have been mined since Jan. 1, which is several million tons more than was ever produced for a like period in the history of the mining industry. The present glut in the market and the efforts to prevent a break in prices is the cause of the restriction.

America Profits by British Loss

London, Sept. 25.—America is reaping great benefit from the storms which made the past summer one of the worst on record in Great Britain and the continent. Californian fruit is being imported in larger quantities than ever before. There is practically no English fruit obtainable, while France, which usually exports large quantities of pears to England, is sending none. The American section of Convent Garden market is now almost the sole source of supply and there are no signs of the demand decreasing. American apples, which hitherto could not be profitably shipped hither till later in the year, now have a brisk trade.

Civil Court Has Jurisdiction

Cripple Creek, Col., Sept. 25.—Judge Seeds decided against the military authorities in the habeas corpus case of Sherman Parker and three others who have been held as prisoners by the military for about two weeks without warrants and with no formal charges against them. General Chase declined to recognize the authority of the court until ordered by the governor to do so. Governor Peabody has instructed Adjutant General Bell to issue an order to General Chase to turn over all prisoners to the civil authorities hereafter.

Persistent Search Rewarded

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 25.—Rumors of the finding of a treasure ship off Miami were confirmed when Captain Jennings and three of the crew of the wrecking schooner Osceo filed a libel against the cargo of a sunken ship in the United States court here. Captain Jennings has been searching for this vessel for many years. It is supposed to have gone ashore in 1835. Its cargo has been found to consist of silver ore from Mexican mines.

Mrs Jeff Davis Sick

Buffalo, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, wife of the president of the southern Confederacy, is seriously ill at Castle Inn, in this city. Mrs. Davis came to Castle Inn on Monday from Port Colborne, Ont., where she has been spending the summer. Quite a party of friends accompanied her. It has been Mrs. Davis' custom to spend her summers in Canada or at a northern resort, living in New York city during the winter months.

Something On All The Time.

The big Brockton Fair opens its gates to the waiting multitude Tuesday, Sept. 29, and its countless attractions will continue to delight its patrons for four big days. The attractions as usual are so varied it is almost impossible to enumerate them all, and it is sufficient to say that there is something doing all the time. If there is anything new under the sun in the amusement line suitable for an out door show it will be at this fair. The Horse Show, the races, the stage show, the firemen's muster, the balloon, cattle, pigs and poultry, mechanical and art exhibits, music everywhere, the merry, merry midway with its unimitable fakirs, and last, but not least, thousands upon thousands of happy, prosperous people enjoying every moment of the greatest show on earth.

Politics have not engrossed the attention of all the people this week. They say the caucuses were not largely attended. There have been, however, more than the average number of weddings: one at St. John's church on Wednesday evening, one at the Quincy Point church Thursday afternoon, while a Wollaston gentleman went to Braintree for a bride, and a Quincy shipbuilder to Roxbury. A Pennsylvanian also came to Quincy for a wife.

Alexander Falconer of 46 Independence avenue, of the firm of Swingle & Falconer, made us a pleasant call on Friday morning, accompanied by his brother, Mr. John Falconer of Dover, England. This is the first visit of his brother to America, and he says he is enjoying it immensely. The city of Dover is about to build a public library and he has examined the Thomas Crane Memorial hall in this city to note anything that might be of interest or advantage to his city. He hopes to remain in Quincy a week, to enjoy the beautiful scenery and delightful weather.

Willing hands with artistic taste beautifully decorated the Washington Street church on Thursday for the Boyd-Phillips nuptials, and the bride, Miss Eva Doraine Phillips was charming in lace over white taffeta. College mates of the happy couple united with relatives in extending congratulations.

Tax Rates and Valuations of Greater Boston.

CITY OF QUINCY.

Stands Well in the "Selected List."

One of Seven to Reduce Tax Rate.

Ranks Nine in Increase in Real Estate Valuation.

In many respects Quincy makes a good showing in the Herald's list of tax rates and valuations in Greater Boston. Quincy is one of seven to reduce her tax rate.

There are 32 cities and towns in the list and 19 have larger tax rates than last year.

At the same time 20 of the 32 have smaller tax rates than Quincy. The lowest is $8 and the highest $21, while Quincy is $17.30.

Here are the tax rates for three years:

REAL ESTATE.

In real estate valuation Quincy stands nine in the list, being a little ahead of Salem and Everett, and not far behind Chelsea.

In increase of real estate valuation, Quincy also ranks nine, Brookline and Beverly being the only smaller cities to make larger gains, while Chelsea, Malden, Salem and Waltham, which are larger, made smaller gains:

The following summary shows the real estate valuation of each city and the gain in each.

There are several towns near Boston—much nearer than Cohasset and Gloucester, which are included. Had Weymouth, Braintree, Holbrook, Randolph, Avon, Brockton, Canton and others, with their big tax rates, been included, Quincy would have made a much more favorable showing.

MANY FRIENDS.

Farewell Reception to Alfred T. Ingham of Hull Department.

It was a jolly party of gentlemen, comprising the assistant superintendents and foremen of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co., that gathered at Faxon hall last evening in a farewell reception to Alfred T. Ingham, assistant superintendent of the Hull department. Mr. Ingham has accepted a position with the William Beaton Sons Co. at Toronto, Can., and will sever his connections with the Fore River Co. next Tuesday.

Mr. Ingham has been with the Fore River Co. for four years, and during that time has made many warm and firm friends among the employees. While they regret that he is to leave them they cannot but congratulate him upon his new position.

There were over fifty in the party, and the hearty reception they gave him could have left no doubt in his mind that it was genuine.

At a little after 8 o'clock James A. Nelson, an assistant superintendent in the hull department rapped for order. He spoke briefly of Mr. Ingham's work and of the regret at his going. He said that this gathering was to express to him the high regard in which he was held and to present to him a slight souvenir, and wish him all success in his new position. He then handed him a handsome gold watch with chain and charm.

In replying, Mr. Ingham said it was very gratifying to him to know that he had so many friends at the Fore River Co. He had been with the company four years and the kindness shown him, and the help given him in carrying on the work allotted to him, made it seem more like pleasure than work. He hoped that he should never do anything to forfeit their esteem and friendship. Their kindness had touched a tender spot, and he hoped to meet with the same success in his new field as at the Fore River Co.

The watch which was very handsome, had [illegible] on the outer case. On the inner case was the following: "Presented to Alfred T. Ingham by friends of the Fore River Ship & Engine Co., Quincy, Mass., Sept. 25, 1903.

The chain was a very heavy gold one. On one side of the charm was a small diamond, and on the reverse side Mr. Ingham's monogram.

This pleasant duty over the party proceeded to enjoy themselves. They sang, they danced, they told stories, they smoked and made merry until midnight. William Wilson presided at the piano and played all the popular airs. During the evening Remick served ice cream and cake.

Dahlias on Exhibition.

The dahlia display in the window of the Star Grocery is remarkable for its variety and beauty. When illuminated at night it is a brilliant spectacle to behold. We hear they have been very successful in taking orders for bulbs for next spring's delivery. The last display, 150 varieties, will be placed in the window this afternoon.

A NEW IDEA

And the Interesting Story of Its Development

PROBABLY there are not a hundred persons in the United States who are familiar with the interesting history of the development of the system which has come to be designated as the "Battle Creek Idea," though no longer represented in Battle Creek alone, branches having sprung up in many places, while a knowledge of the principles of this remarkable system has become quite widely diffused throughout the civilized world.

The "Battle Creek Idea" is not a fad nor a mushroom growth. It is a scientific system which traces the main roots of its origin far back into the centuries. It is not the product of a single brain, but of hundreds and thousands of tireless workers and thinkers who have garnered the choicest fruits of generations of experience and have collated the results of centuries of scientific research.

A volume might be filled with the interesting story of the development of this wonderful work which has recently been made conspicuous by the burning of the main buildings of the Battle Creek Sanitarium last year and the recent dedication of the magnificent new building which has been erected to take the place of the burned structures, but we have room only for a few choice bits of this interesting history.

The "Battle Creek Idea" In Ancient Greece.

Twenty-four centuries ago there lived in Greece a man whose master mind recognized great truths and formulated mighty principles, the influence of which has grown with the lapse of time until today their importance is universally recognized. This man, Pythagoras, numbered among his disciples such men of genius as Socrates and Plato. It was he who first conceived the idea of the rotundity of the earth and of its revolution about the sun.

The First Health Community.

Pythagoras, this greatest of Grecian philosophers, established a health colony which he called Crotona. There he gathered about him hundreds of disciples to whom he taught the simple rules of life which he himself followed. These comprised abstinence from all unwholesome foods, especially meats, for Pythagoras considered the slaughter of animals as sacrilege. There were no slaughter houses or butcher shops in Crotona. No roasts, spareribs, beefsteaks or corpses of any kind ever appeared upon the table of a Pythagorian. Temperance in all things, an active, out of door life, simple dress, purity and uprightness in conduct were strictly enjoined by this prophet of a new truth, for the decadence of Greece had already begun. Unfortunately the doctrines of Pythagoras were little appreciated. The members of his health colony were massacred by their ignorant and degenerate countrymen, but his noble philosophy survived.

Plutarch, the famous biographer; Seneca, the noble old Roman; the Latin poet Ovid and many of the early church fathers accepted and actively promulgated the teachings of Pythagoras, as many moderns have done. Byron, during the better portions of his life and when doing the literary work which made him famous, strictly followed "the simple life" in diet and other respects. In writing to his publisher he once remarked, "I stick to Pythagoras." Shelley, Goldsmith and other famous English poets also accepted the teachings of Pythagoras, which are at the present time taught and practiced in the strictest manner by the famous Russian writer and reformer, Count Leo Tolstoi.

"The Brook Farm Experiment."

Half a century ago there gathered on a little farm not far from New Haven, Conn., the most remarkable coterie of men and women who have ever been associated in any community in modern times. George Ripley, the most famous Unitarian minister of New England at that period, was the founder of the community. The practical realization of the Pythagorian philosophy was the central idea of the Brook Farm experiment. Among the 140 members of the community, most of whom afterward became eminent in various professions and callings, were Emerson, the philosopher; Bronson Alcott, the transcendentalist; Thoreau, the interpreter of nature; Margaret Fuller, the educational reformer; Charles Dana, the founder of the New York Sun, and Hawthorne, one of the greatest literary lights of the century. The Brook Farm experiment failed for lack of financial management, but the ideals survived.

The Wonderful Discovery of a Silesian Peasant.

A little less than 100 years ago a fourteen-year-old peasant boy, who was barely able to read and had not been taught to write, while engaged in cutting wood on a mountain near his home, observed a wounded deer bathing its injured leg in one of the numerous springs which abound in that particular region. Day after day the deer came and bathed the damaged parts until entirely healed of its injury. Priessnitz soon after suffered a severe accident from which the physicians who were consulted declared he could not recover. He tried the deer's remedy, applying water by means of wet cloths placed over the injured parts, and in a few weeks was quite restored to health. He induced others to try his remedy and invented many different way of applying water by means of baths, douches, packs, compresses and various other methods. Before he was twenty he had become famous. During the first half of the last century the little village of Graefenberg, where he lived, was thronged with invalids from all over the world, including many physicians and notable people of high station, government officials, princes, lords, barons, marquises, who sought relief by the employment of water skillfully applied by attendants acting under the supervision of this prophet of a new method in therapeutics.

Institutions known as "water cures" rapidly sprang up in France, Germany, England and America, and for twenty-five or thirty years prospered greatly. Failure came at last because of a lack of knowledge of scientific principles and the employment of crude and empirical methods.

The Natural Method of Cure.

The "water cure" was the forerunner of something better. It embodied the great principle that "nature heals." Something more than thirty years ago a small group of men organized in Battle Creek a work which later grew into what is now known as the Battle Creek Sanitarium. The principles recognized by Pythagoras and those who have followed his teachings during the last 2,000 years or more were embodied in this movement, together with others wrought out by scientific investigators and observers. The work prospered from the start, and soon after its incorporation was placed upon a purely philanthropic basis as a self supporting charitable institution and has since remained as such.

The "Battle Creek Idea."

In 1876 the enterprise came to be known as the Battle Creek Sanitarium. The scope was enlarged so as to include not only hydrotherapy or water treatment, but all sorts of electrical applications, the Swedish system of gymnastics for both the sick and well and various means for the application of light and for the employment of all known natural curative agents.

Later, research laboratories were added for studying cases of disease and conducting original researches for the purpose of perfecting methods and developing improvements in dietetics and all that pertains to the preservation of health and the cure of disease.

A Mecca For the Sick.

Gradually, as a result of these observations and researches, an elaborate and carefully perfected system, based upon sound scientific principles, was developed and became widely known as the "Battle Creek Method" or the "Battle Creek Idea." Battle Creek thus became a Mecca for health seekers, who thronged the place in increasing numbers summer and winter until the number of visitors reached an aggregate of more than 50,000, with an annual total of 6,000 or 7,000.

A Disastrous Fire.

Then came the fire of Feb. 18, 1902, which destroyed the two main buildings of the institution and started a wave of sympathy which spread throughout the whole civilized world. The work was not extinguished by the fire, however, and the completion of a better building at an expense of about $500,000 marked a new era in medical progress, presenting to the world what may be justly regarded as a model sanitarium structure. Here for the first time were gathered together in one place and under one management appliances for the application of all known rational and natural curative agencies, the final perfection of which is now embodied in the great new structure which was dedicated with imposing ceremonies on the 31st day of May of the present year in the presence of many thousands of persons. A formal invitation was sent by the governor of the state acting with other prominent state officials to all leading state and national officials in the United States. Letters and telegrams expressing congratulation and regret at inability to attend were received from the president of the United States, two members of his cabinet, many governors of states, senators and members of congress and other officials in all parts of the country.

A Magnificent Temple of Health.

Some idea of the splendid institution which was thus publicly set apart to the service of God and humanity may be gained from the following brief description: The building is over 550 feet, or more than a tenth of a mile, in length and seven stories in height, including the basement. There are three large four story buildings connected with the main building by a circular corridor. The length of these added to that of the main part makes the aggregate length of the building nearly a quarter of a mile. The building is thoroughly fireproof, the construction being of brick, stone, iron and cement. The floors are of artificial stone covered with [illegible] mosaic. The total floor space is over seven acres. There are five elevators. The arrangements for baths are most elaborate, as also applications of electricity, light, heat and all physiological or natural methods in addition to ordinary medical and surgical means.

The Battle Creek Sanitarium is well known and recognized by the medical profession everywhere throughout the civilized world. "The Battle Creek Idea" and the Battle Creek institution have always been kept free from fads and quackish or empirical methods. The work of the institution is thoroughly scientific. It is strictly unsectarian and undenominational, being simply a liberal Christian enterprise. All the doctors, nurses and managers connected with the institution are persons who have devoted their lives to missionary and philanthropic work and who are full of enthusiasm for the promotion of the principles of simple, natural living and the employment of natural methods in the cure of disease as well as in the maintenance of health.

City Medical Missions.

The great training school for missionary nurses sends out each year a little army of trained men and women filled with zeal and enthusiasm to preach the doctrine of simple natural living and to act the part of Good Samaritans wherever there is found any one in need of the skilled service which they are prepared to render to rich and poor.

Medical Missions have been established in Chicago and in various other cities in different parts of the world.

Branch establishments, conducted by physicians and nurses trained at the central institution, are located in many parts of the United States and in foreign countries. Numerous unauthorized and unreliable concerns professing to represent the same methods and ideas have sprung up in the vicinity of Battle Creek and elsewhere, as happens to every successful and meritorious enterprise. The authorized branches are located at the following places in the United States:

St. Helena, Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco, Cal.; Boulder and Colorado Springs, Colo.; College View, Lincoln, Neb.; Melrose, Boston, Mass.; Portland, Ore.; Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma, Wash.; Des Moines, Ia.; Chicago and Moline, Ill.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Madison, Wis.; Graysville and Nashville, Tenn.; Atlanta, Ga.; Detroit, Jackson and Grand Rapids, Mich.; Keene, Tex.

Institutions in which the "Battle Creek Idea" is represented are located as follows in foreign countries:

Caterham, England; Basle, Switzerland; Skodsborg and Frederikshavn, Denmark; Christiania and Orebro, Sweden; Friedensau, Germany; Guadalajara, Mexico; Bergen, Norway; Calcutta, India; Sydney and Cooranbong, N. S. W., Australia; Christchurch, N. Z.; Kimberley, S. Af.; Cairo, Egypt; Jaffa and Jerusalem, Palestine.

PRINCIPALLY IMPORTS

Some Statistics Regarding Our Trade With Turkey

TOTAL OF $22,000,000 A YEAR

With a Heavy Balance Against the United States—Cotton Manufactures and Provisions Constitute Greater Part of Products Sent to Ottomans

Washington, Sept. 25.—Commerce between the United States and Turkey amounts to 54,000,000 piasters annually. This seems like a very considerable sum, but its apparent magnitude is somewhat reduced by the matter-of-fact announcement of the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, that a piaster is only 4½ cents in value (or to be more accurate, 4.4 cents). These are the figures of the Turkish government. Reduced to United States currency, they give a total value of a little more than $2,000,000. The figures of the board of statistics, however, state our total commerce with Turkey last year at about $6,000,000 with Turkey in Europe and about $5,000,00 with Turkey in Asia. If that of Turkey's dependency in Africa—Egypt—were included, the total would be about $23,000,000, but the figures of the Turkish government, regarding its foreign commerce, do not include that of Egypt.

It is not surprising, however, that the figures of Turkey and those of the United States do not agree regarding the commerce between the two countries, since the routes of transportation between the two countries are in most cases across other countries, and thus render difficult any accurate presentation of the real value of the commerce passing between them.

Turkey is one of the countries with which our commerce consists principally of imports. While the total commerce with Turkey in Europe last year was over $6,000,000, only $496,785 of that sum was exports, and $5,672,578 was imports. With Turkey in Asia the commerce of last year was over $5,000,000, but of this sum only $276,247 was exports and $4,897,428 was imports. If we consider Egypt as a part of Turkey, the total would be considerably enlarged, though still with a heavy balance of trade against the United States, as the figures of our commerce show our total exports to Egypt last year to be $470,375, and the total imports from Egypt $10,661,978. The bureau of statistics, it is proper to say, classifies Egypt as a part of Turkey, under the title of "Turkey in Africa."

Including all of the possessions of Turkey, our total commerce with it last year was, in round terms, $23,000,000, of which $1,313,407 was exports and $21,233,453 imports. Of the total exports to Turkish territory, $496,785 was to Turkey in Europe, $276,247 to Turkey in Asia, and $740,375 was to Turkey in Africa, or Egypt. Of the total imports from Turkish territory, $5,672,578 was from Turkey in Europe, $4,897,428 from Turkey in Asia, and $10,661,978 from Turkey in Africa, or Egypt.

Of the exports to Turkey in Europe in 1902 (the detailed figures of 1903 are not yet available), $165,000 was cotton manufactures, $111,735 provisions, $67,257 agricultural implements, and $88,298 manufactures of iron and steel. Of the exports to Turkey in Asia in 1902, manufactures of iron and steel amounted to $64,189; cotton manufactures, $45,145, and agricultural implements, $13,440. To Turkey in Africa, breadstuffs exported amounted to $971,557; iron and steel manufactures, $69,868; mineral oil, $35,345, and cotton manufactures, $24,237. Of the imports from Turkish territory, the principal from Turkey in Europe were rugs and carpets, $2,253,288; tobacco, $840,874; hides and skins (chiefly goatskins), $812,218; oils, $206,292, and wool, $187,798. From Turkey in Asia, licorice root was the largest item, $987,287; wool, $575,273; opium, $401,113; figs, $363,678, dates, $213,608; and raisins, $136,227. From Turkey in Africa—Egypt—cotton amounted to $9,525,533; sugar, $1,351,038; and gum arabic, $206,196.

The following table shows the commerce between the United States and Turkish territory in the year ending June 30, 1903:

	Total from	Exports to
Turkey, Europe	$5,672,578	$496,785
Turkey, Asia	4,897,428	276,247
Turkey, Africa	10,795,502	740,375

ROMOC

THE DREADED CLANG

of the ambulance bell that is so frequently heard could be frequently obviated, remarked the Romoc man.

You see it is just this way, nine out of ten people who are overcome by fainting spells, vertigo, weakness, palpitation of the heart and many other ills that cause unconsciousness are the victims of Indigestion.

Indigestion is not always indicated by severe pains in the stomach. It is such symptoms as I have described above that indicates its presence and are often the first warning that the stomach does not work right.

If more people would only take that greatest of Nature's remedies, Romoc, there would be less stomach disorders. Like all of Nature's remedies, Romoc acts directly on the seat of the trouble. No harm ever follows its use as is the case when remedies containing injurious drugs and alcohol are resorted to.

Romoc tones up this great life centre of the body, and, what is more, it purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves and creates a healthy, normal appetite.

Won't you please buy a bottle of Romoc, on my assurance that it will do you good and you will become one of the many in this city who advocate the use of this harmless yet potent medicine.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by

A WIDE-OPEN THROTTLE

Sent a Train Whizzing Past Danger Signals

LANTERN SWUNG BY NOVICE

Aroused Suspicions of Engineer, Who Soon Learned That Would-Be Robbers Were Lying In Wait to Hold Up Providence Passenger Train

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 26.—Because the trained eye of Engineer George W. Boss recognized in the awkward swing of a lantern the work of a novice, he pulled the throttle wide open and drove his train thundering by a danger signal set dead against him and frustrated what is believed to have been an attempt to hold up the boat train at Plummer's Ledge, a lonely spot a mile north of Whiten's station on the New York, New Haven and Hartford road.

Four cars full of passengers, unconscious of peril met and avoided, were landed safely in Providence and the engineer who had assumed an awful responsibility repaired to the office of Superintendent Whaley to report that he had matched his judgment against the ironclad orders of the road and won.

That there was a deliberate attempt by 10 men to hold up the train there is little doubt, but little was known of the matter until last night, when the presence of Deputy Sheriff Bacon was noted in the negineer cab of the same train. Bacon was called into the case by Superintendent Whaley and last night, fully armed, took his place by the side of the engineer and accompanied the train from Worcester to Providence. He will ride on the engine again tonight and meantime the police officials are scouring this section of the state in an effort to round up the gang described by the engineer.

The boat train drew out of Worcester at 6:10 Thursday night and was due in Providence at 7:25. It had reached a point within an eighth of a mile of Plummer's Ledge, where Engineer Boss saw a white signal light, indicating a clear track. Suddenly the light changed to red and the engineer closed the throttle and set the air brakes. As he did so a lantern was swung across the track, but not in the easy manner acquired by experienced trainmen, and it flashed across Boss' mind that the man who gave the signal was not a man who would stop the train for any good purpose. For a second he hesitated, balancing in his mind the chances of wrecking his train if he went on and the probability of its passengers being robbed and perhaps killed if he brought it to a standstill. As far as he could see an unobstructed track lay before him.

Another second and his mind was made up, the throttle pulled wide open and the train rushed by the danger signal. Leaning out of his cab Boss saw the man with the lantern jump from the track, two other men standing on the ladder leading to the stationary light and tampering with the signal, while at distances of a few feet from each other seven other men lined the roadbed.

Immediately on reaching Providence he reported the matter to Superintendent Whaley, who took the affair very seriously, at once starting an investigation of all the circumstances and later giving Deputy Sheriff Bacon charge of the case.

The boat train is followed a few minutes later by an express and mail train, and it is thought that the attempt was perhaps directed at the latter train. The recent lawlessness in this section, including the recent and successful holdup of the paymaster of the Saranac mills, is believed to have encouraged more desperate measures on the part of dangerous characters.

Democracy Remained Aloof

New York, Sept. 26.—At a meeting of the sub-committees of the conference committees of the various elements of the fusion cause it was decided to nominate Cyrus L. Sulzberger for borough president of Manhattan and Ralph Trautman for sheriff. The representatives of the greater New York Democracy declined to take any part in the proceedings.

$5000 a Month For Eight Years

La Libertad, Sept. 26.—Congress, at an extraordinary session to deal with the claim, has approved the agreement made by Senor Lopez, the Salvadorian minister to the United States, to pay Alfred H. Burrell $5000 gold monthly during eight years as compensation for the Salvadorian government's treatment of the Triunfo company.

DISCRIMINATING DUTIES

Considered Best Method For Booming American Merchant Marine

Boston, Sept. 26.—The Home Market club, which publishes The Protectionist, in the October issue, to be issued next week, will present the result of its canvass recently made to ascertain the opinions of professional and business men as to what, if anything, ought to be done to restore to the American merchant marine what is considered to be its share in the foreign-carrying trade.

Included in the canvass were bankers, heads of educational institutions, merchants and manufacturers. There were 703 responses and of them 456 declared in favor of the revival of the policy of discriminating duties and other regulations of commerce under which the marine commerce of the country was so prosperous in the earlier days of the republic. Those who favored subsidies numbered 132 and 86 favored both plans, while 29 opposed both. All sections of the country seemed to indicate a preference for the first method, New England states voting 256. For subsidies New England reported 62 in favor. Most of the college presidents inclined to duties and regulations. The opinions will be collected and furnished to congress as helpful toward indicating the spirit of the country in matters appertaining to the merchant marine.

Dynamite to Settle Feud

Dalton, N. H., Sept. 26.—A feud of several years' standing between the families of Robert Courser and Duncan McKenzie is the clue upon which the police are working in an effort to determine the author of a dynamite outrage perpetrated at the home of the latter. A stick of dynamite was exploded under the window of the bedroom where Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were sleeping, but the man who fired the explosive bungled the job. All the windows on one side of the house were shattered, and the woodwork scorched, but the inmates were unharmed. A warrant charging Courser, who is 65 years old, with the deed, is in the hands of the police. Courser has disappeared.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE INVESTIGATION BEE

May Buzz Rather Loudly In Coming Session of Congress

THE POSTOFFICE SCANDALS

May Lead Democrats to Probe Other Departments For Campaign Material—Wood's Promotion and the Printing Office May Be Brought Up

Washington, Sept. 26.—It would not be surprising if the coming session of congress should be characterized by an unusual number of "investigations." It is believed by many well informed observers to be Democratic policy to institute a campaign of this sort just before the presidential election. Resolutions calling for an inquiry could be so drafted that Republicans could not well refuse to vote for them.

Democratic organs are suggesting that other bureaus and departments need investigation as well as the postoffice. They point to the personal friction between the new assistant postmaster general and his bureau chiefs as accounting for much of the publicity which has been given to crookedness in the postal service, and say that had not the personal element entered there might have been no disclosures for 10 years.

Perry Heath is quoted as thinking it a great mistake that the public should know anything about these postoffice developments; he believes that the investigation should, "for the good of the party," have been made privately and quietly. The Democrats, when they hear these things, want to know if there are other cases needing investigation which, for the good of the party, are being quietly kept from view. If so, the Democrats want to get the benefit of it by having some inquiries of their own.

It is too early to tell exactly the subjects which will be chosen for investigation. That decision will have to await the action of the Democratic caucus, or at least a conference of Democratic leaders. Either house can investigate, and so Senator Gorman's well known conservatism, while it may restrain such efforts in the senate, of which he is the minority leader, would not necessarily control the enthusiasts of the house.

There may be a congressional examination of the postoffice charges, and of the Indian land scandals which Mr. Bonaparte has just been appointed to look into. Congress may also investigate the Littauer glove contracts and the still larger question which it raises of the relation of a public officer to government supplies, sold by a company of which he is a stockholder. If Mr. Littauer had been incorporated there would have been no glove scandal, because the law does not seemingly touch such cases.

No one protests because the marble company of which Senator Proctor is a large stockholder sells the war department its headstones, even though Mr. Proctor is an influential member of the senate committee having war department affairs in charge and was at one time secretary of war. There are many ramifications through stock companies of this relation. In fact, a rigid application of the principle which has been invoked in the Littauer case to all corporations would make the average senator or representative extremely cautious about his investments. Most senators, for example, own railroad stocks and yet the government is a large purchaser of transportation, notably that of the mails.

The investigation bee may buzz around the government printing office, not only by reason of the Miller case, involving trade unionism, but also because of the contracts for paper and other supplies which that great institution makes. Another subject which may be investigated is the promotion of General Wood. This would be likely to have the quiet support of the beet sugar people as well as those who are disturbed on military grounds.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Birds on Early Autumn Millinery. Corselet Belts.

Birds are the most decorative form of early autumn head gear. They are used as trimmings in the most meaningless fashion, but they are a novelty and immensely smart.

There is certainly a craze for beflowered and befrilled skirts. A useful dress of brown canvas seen recently was worn with a hat of brown tulle trimmed with pinkish yellow roses.

The deep corselet belt made of flowered ribbon may be recommended for

Charged With Larceny of $3200

Medford, Mass., Sept. 26.—William C. Davenport was arrested as he was about to board an electric car in front of his residence here last night by an inspector of the Boston police department. The charge against Davenport is the larceny of $3200. Davenport was formerly connected with the firm of A H. Davenport & Co., furniture dealers in Boston, of which house his brother is a partner.

Editor Has Armed Guard

Boston, Sept. 26.—A. A. Zraik, the Syrian editor of the Jurahul-Kurdy, will ask Governor Bates' protection from Turks and Armenians, who, he declares, have conspired to take his life He has tried to obtain police protection but has failed, he says. Two men armed, accompany him about his work as he has been attacked on two occasions and narrowly escaped violence.

—The movement to restore the funds stolen from the aged, sick and infirm ministers, and needy and distressed ministers' widows of the New England Conference of the Methodist church by the Allen embezzlement has met with an unusually hearty and generous support. Already over $18,000 of the $75,000 needed has been pledged or raised, many of the donors being persons having no connection with the Methodist church, but whose sympathies have been deeply stirred by the great wrong done these worthy people. On Sunday, the 27th inst, a concerted effort is to be made in every Methodist church in the Conference to give this movement a great lift forward.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

THE Fish That Was Unselfish

"What a wonderful piece of good fortune it was that that fisherman dropped his bait box overboard!" said Mr. Sunfish to Mr. Minnow.

"Yes, indeed," replied Mr. Minnow. "I always did relish nice fresh bread crumbs and crusts, and I understand that this box was filed with both."

"And so it was," said Mr. Sunfish. "I have made all arrangements to have it carried over to my house."

"But it doesn't belong to you!" exclaimed Mr. Minnow, half angrily. "It is mine."

Mr. Sunfish bit his lips thoughtfully.

MR. SUNFISH AND MR. MINNOW.

"Very well," he said finally; "you may have it. I shall not be selfish."

"I guess you are jealous of me now, aren't you?" inquired the minnow, with a broad smile.

"No, indeed," answered the sunfish cheerily.

"Well, why aren't you?" asked the minnow.

"Simply because I have already got out of the box all the best that it contained."

Mr. Minnow's countenance fell, and he hurried off to inspect the box. Sure enough, the very best that had been in it was gone, and the sunfish had taken it.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Mrs Barnes Sticks to Her Story

East Sullivan, N. H., Sept. 26.—Mrs. Malachi Barnes, wife of the man who is charged with the death of Ashael Dunton, was one of the witnesses examined at a hearing here on the case. Mrs. Barnes adhered to her original version of the assault, when she said that because of darkness she was unable to identify the assailant. Nothing of importance was developed.

French Ascendancy In Morocco

London, Sept. 26.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail asserts on unimpeachable authority that Great Britain and Spain have agreed to the establishment of a French protectorate over Morocco. A strip of land along the coast will be declared neutral in order to avoid international complications over fortified ports.

Serious Charges Against Mayor

Mattoon, Ills., Sept. 26.—Mayor Francis H. Menke of Mattoon was indicted by the grand jury upon 29 counts, charging him with entering into contracts with gaming houses, immoral places and Sunday saloons. Bail was fixed at $2500, which was furnished.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The Lowell Citizen and the New Bedford Standard are coming forward with objections to the people who are seeking in a large percentage of instances to ask elections to the legislature. Other people could join the chorus of objections and add a few for good measure, we imagine; but the problem is an old one, and the answer is simply this—the stream can rise no higher than its source. The legislators cannot well be much better than the mass of the voters. If the voters of a district are satisfied to send a bad man or a fool to represent them in the halls of legislation, the chances are that the district is well filled with bad voters and fools, too.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞It has long been the axiom, in cases of men who default, forge, abscond, and embezzle large sums, "Cherchez la femme." The expert takes for granted that a woman is always behind such dishonesties. Yet it would seem that man excuses himself, in these cases, at the expense of woman, as Father Adam did in the Garden; for it is a conspicuous fact that woman, when employed in business affairs herself, is strikingly honest. Women bookkeepers do not embezzle; women as merchants pay their debts promptly; women as treasury clerks are well known for their integrity. The boarding house keepers, themselves generally women, testify that their losses almost invariably come from male boarders, while those of their own sex are to be depended upon for regular payments.—Harper's Bazar.

☞"The treatment of the labor question offers the strongest evidences of the growth of the religious spirit. The employer recognizes this in large degree—not everywhere, not in every establishment, but in increasing numbers and in an increasing degree. The best men are willing to grant to the other men what they claim for themselves; and this is one of the highest conceptions of religious action. The moment one man recognizes the rights of another he is far on the way to the solution of the difficulties which perplex him. The labor unions are, in in a sense, new. Their principles, which may be light enough, do no always determine their actions; but their actions will sooner or later conform to their principles, which are based upon the recognition of the right of agreement, so that the details relating to the conditions of employment can be fixed by a positive contract; the readiness to arbitrate when all other means have been exhausted the recognition of the fact that the working man is seeking something beyond his arbitrary living wage—all these influences are the result of a living spirit in men, which must come from religious precepts, if at all. We may call them the ethics of industry, but ethics without religion is always feeble in the power to affect results. There must be a conscience which is above the outside of ethical considerations to lead men to right action. The labor question involves many difficulties, but the outlook is most hopeful, because, as I have said, men are everywhere recognizing, in larger degree than ever before, the mutual rights which belong to it.—Carroll D. Wright.

Flower Show.

Surely the magnitude of the fruit, vegetable and flower exhibit in Horticultural hall this week has never before been equaled in Boston. All our common fruits and vegetables are there, very large, very clean and very tempting. Our newer vegetables are there also, among them the egg-plant, cauliflower celery, endive and even an immense puff ball mushroom is noticed marked edible.

But the grapes! How can we describe them! It is almost safe to assert that greater purple clusters have not been seen since the children of Israel espied and gathered that great cluster that grew by the brook of Eschol so many years ago. A pineapple growing in a pot is seen and raspberries of enormous size are displayed in platters. This is a terrible temptation to lovers of fruit. Prolific strawberry plants show clusters of great berries and blossoms as well.

In the vestibule are seen dahlias in all the glory of dahliadom. The cactus, fancy pompons, resembling chrysanthemums, and many other kinds are there in every color with its shades. Some of these dahlias are reminders of the flat velvet flowers of two shades seen in our grandmother's bonnets forty years ago. At that time these flowers, which we did not know were dahlias, were the creations of deft milliners and the crowning glory of every bonnet that was not a "hackney."

From the top of the stairs leading down into the main exhibition hall one is surprised at the great display of fancy decorative plants. Here are fancy Caladiums, their wonderfnl leaves made beautiful with mottlings and prominent red veins. The Alocasia is here also, its lobed leaves bearing raised pale green veins. The display of orchids is exceedingly fine, all colors and many kinds being represented.

$5.00 Round Trip to New York.

On October 1st the Boston & Maine Railroad will run the annual New York City Excursion. This trip costs but $5.00 and carries the excursionist through one of the most delightful sections in the East. After leaving Boston there is a ride through one of the most magnificent regions imaginable. It is two hundred miles to Albany, N. Y., and in all that long stretch the scenery never grows tiresome; always changing, something new at ever turn. After following along the Charles River, the route enters into a beautiful farming country which gives way to the Deerfield Valley. The Connecticut River is crossed at Greenfield, Mass., and next are the famous Hoosac Mountains.

Passing through the Hoosac Tunnel the journey leads into Williamstown in the midst of the Berkshire Hills, and so on, scenery and scenery being presented to the view of the observer. Arriving at Albany an opportunity is given to stop over and see the sights and then comes the famous sail down the Hudson River to New York City. A stop over is allowed in New York, and the return trip is via the Fall River Line to Boston.

This very reasonable excursion is on October 1st. This date has been chosen because of the condition of the foliage and the weather at this time of the year. It is just the time; no sooner, no later to see the gala exhibition of nature in her most favored realms.

Send to the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, for the illustrated booklet telling all about the trip. It will be mailed free to any address.

At a joint convention of the school board and city council of Quincy, held Monday evening of last week, ex-postmaster James F. Burke of Quincy was unanimously elected to fill a vacancy in the former body. Gentle James is well qualified to fill the position, having safely run the gauntlet of about every office in the gift of his obliging constituency, and it is safe to predict that he will not allow any politics to jar the harmony of his board.—Hyde Park Gazette.

—Gravel for the four tracks from Harrison Square station to Boston, on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., will be taken from the banks at Green Harbor station, Marshfield, where a huge shovel has been set up.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius White of Braintree celebrated their golden wedding at their home yesterday. Mr. White was born in County Rosscarberry, Ireland, March 17, 1814 and Mrs. White in County Cork, Ireland, January 1, 1816. They were married at East Boston by the Rev. Father Wiley, September 25, 1853. Among the guests present at yesterday's celebration was Mrs. John Mahoney of East Boston who acted as bridesmaid at the wedding fifty years ago. The best man, Cornelius White, is living in San Francisco, Cal.

Mrs. White's maiden name was Green and at four o'clock there was a green and white collation served, which included white cake with green frosting. The parlors were also decorated with these two colors. Mr. and Mrs. White had five children. The three following whom are now living are John, Cornelious and Timothy. They make it their home with the latter.

Many friends attended yesterday's celebration from Boston, Quincy, Cambridge, Braintree, Abington and other places.

At their new home, "The Lindens," Green Harbor, last week, the wedding of Miss Clara Justina Gleason of Dorchester, and Joseph Nickerson Thomas of Marshfield took place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Burton A. Lucas of the Congregational church. Miss Gleason has been a summer resident at Green Harbor Beach several seasons, and is a sister of Mrs. Harriet Sears, who bought the Col. Fletcher Webster estate a few years ago. Mr. Thomas is a brother of Selectman Hartley L. Thomas, and has recently returned from California, where he was interested in mining.

BRAINTREE.

Rev. C. F. H. Crathern preached a very cheerful sermon Sunday before a large and appreciative congregation. Rev. Mr. Crathern is looking well and shows hardly a limp despite his recent fearful accident.

The lawn party held upon the grounds of Mr. Elisha Thayer of Crescent avenue, Tuesday evening was an enjoyable affair. Many availed themselves of the privilege to be present, and dancing was enjoyed in the barn. The piazza was a blaze of light which, rugs and chairs helped heighten the pleasing effect. Besides electric lights seventy-five Chinese lanterns shed their soft glow upon the scene. Music from the organ and graphophone led the terpsichorian pleasure of the evening and everybody felt happy. The affair was a financial success.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Frampton, who recently returned from a visit to California, announce their purchase of a ranch and vineyard in San Pedro, Cal. They will sell their property here and move with their family in October.

The tenth semi annual convention, of the Norfolk County Association of Kings' Daughters will be held at the South Congregational church, Thursday, October first, at 10 o'clock. All members of the Parish are cordially invited to attend.

Rev. Fr. McDonnell of St. Francis church had for guests this week, Rev. Edward E. McKenna of Beverly and Rev. Fr. Flanaghan of Lewiston, Maine.

All the children in the Primary and Junior departments of the M. E. Sunday School, with their mothers, are invited to be at Town hall, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to practice for the Nursery Parade which is to be a feature of the entertainment Oct. 6. Look for ad. next week.

The Pond Cemetery association will meet with Miss Annie K. Dyer, September 29. A full attendance at the fortnightly meetings will hasten the preparations for the fair

Rev. S. G. Davis was one of the visiting clergymen at the Universalist State convention held this week in Somerville. Mr. Davis had just returned from Porto Rico and was looking well, he hopes to call on some of his Braintree friends before returning to Maine.

Mr. G. H. Arnold and Mrs. Eben Prescott, as delegates from All Souls' church, attended the Massachusetts Universalist convention held in Somerville this week. The business meeting Wednesday afternoon was particularly enthusiastic and encouraging as the $1000 pledged at Franklin for the Twentieth Century fund was raised at that meeting, in fact $1026.

The Democratic caucus at Weymouth, held Thursday evening, elected eleven uninstructed delegates to the representative convention. They favor the renomination of representative Horace R. Drinkwater and he will undoubtedly be the nominee.

The mission for men, now being conducted by Rev. Fr. Carr of the Redemptorists order at St. Francis catholic church is truly edifying in as much as that the church is filled at morning and evening services with young and old men of the town.

Antietam Camp 32 entertained as special guests at their open meeting, Division Commander Orra L. Stone and Captain Chubbuck of the Milton Camp.

A PAIR OF TRAYS

By HOWARD FIELDING

Copyright, 1902, by C. W. Hooke

HE was a very big young man, but he had a timid air, as if he were afraid that some one would tell him to go away. He wore a cutaway coat of black diagonal worsted, with waistcoat and trousers of the same material, and his heavy overcoat was considerably shorter than it should have been. In his hand he carried a traveling bag which looked as if it might have been his mother's.

The fact that the great office was almost deserted did not reassure him. A few clerks were visible behind the windows that stretched away upon either hand, and he had a feeling that one of them might thrust out his head suddenly and ask why Thomas N. Haskell of Collingwood, O., had come to New York.

He had passed within three feet of a uniformed attendant without seeing him, and when this individual said "Well, sir?" in a tone of polite interrogation Haskell jumped as though he had been hit in the small of the back.

"I was looking for Mr. Benton," said he, blushing.

"Mr. Benton won't be here till 9 o'clock," said the attendant. "You can wait in this room."

The reception room was impressively elegant, and it made Haskell feel poor.

He took off his overcoat and hat, dropped the traveling bag upon the floor and lay back in a big chair, with his eyes turned up to the ornate ceiling. It was his intention to "think it all over" for the five thousandth time, but instead he fell asleep and dreamed of a tall, slender, dark eyed girl full of life and willfulness. Her voice was clear, high and imperious, but in this dream it suddenly became harsh and deep, and she said:

"Tom Haskell! Well, blast my buttons!"

The young man awoke to find Curtis Benton shaking his hand.

"You!" cried Benton. "You in New York!"

"Yes," responded Haskell. "Reuben Jay has come to town, and he has come to stay."

"You've come to stay!" echoed Benton. "Is your business sold?"

"It will be inside of a week," replied Haskell. "The terms are all settled, and Lawyer Warner will take the money and ship it on to me. I couldn't wait."

Benton sat down on the arm of a chair and stared at his friend.

"Is this Stella Maynard's doing?" he demanded.

"Stella thinks I'm a toadstool, if that's what you mean," said Haskell. "She thinks I'm vegetating in Collingwood, and that's not her idea of existence. She's in New York studying music."

"Stella is as good a girl as ever lived," said Benton, "but she is raising the Old Harry with you. What are you going to do in New York?"

"Haven't fully decided," responded Haskell in a tone of cheerful desperation. "Thought I'd look around a bit. I'll have about $20,000, and"—

"Twenty thousand dollars in New York," said Benton solemnly, "will buy

"WELL, BLAST MY BUTTONS!"

two theater parties and four dozen American Beauty roses; or you can take it down to Wall street and get nervous prostration. In either case you'll be driving a car at the end of the month. On the other hand, a business worth $20,000 in Collingwood will make you independent, happy, a man of substance and consideration. You can look forward with confidence; but in this city there isn't a man, however shrewd, however rich, who has any rational idea what the future of business enterprises is going to be. For a man with small capital it is the finest possible place to stay away from."

"Stella doesn't think so," said Haskell. "She says that it's the ideal place for a young man of spirit; that the very air throbs with inspiration."

"It throbs with the impatience of fat rascals to get other people's money," said Benton. "Tom, go home."

"Why, I thought you were doing first rate," exclaimed the simple rustic. "I understood that you were getting $100 a week from this company."

"But you didn't understand who was getting the hundred a week from me. I'm paying it to some fellow whose ancestors came over here in 1699 and had the rare foresight to grab some land situated just beyond the land that had been grabbed in 1698. You pay those fellows in this town every time you buy a cigar. However, this is no lecture in political economy. It's good, plain business for you to go back to Collingwood."

"Can't do it," said Haskell. "Stella doesn't want me to. She says people merely vegetate in Collingwood, and she cannot love a vegetable."

"Have you seen her yet?" asked Benton. "But of course not. You've just got in."

"I shan't see her," said Haskell; "at least not until I've accomplished something—a year or two perhaps. Heaven knows! She didn't write to me very kindly, Curt, old fellow. I suppose she wanted to spur my ambition. And then for a week or two she hasn't written at all. So that's all over for a season. Don't let's speak of it. Tell me where I ought to live."

"In Collingwood," said Benton, pacing the floor, his lips puckered and his brow in a snarl. "But," he added after a pause, "if you must live in this confounded town here's the address of a decent boarding house."

He scribbled it upon a slip of paper and gave it to his friend, who returned thanks for the obligation and inquired how he should get to the place.

"Take a Broadway car," said Benton, "and tell the conductor to put you off at Forty-fifth street."

In the boarding house to which he had been recommended it appeared that there was but one vacant room suitable to Haskell's means, and it was not quite ready for occupancy.

"I've had a party here," said the landlady, "and they're just going away. You can have the room below for tonight at the same price, though I usually get $25 a week for it."

Haskell agreed to be a guest of the house. He went down town and arranged to have his trunk sent up, lunched with Benton and was back again to the boarding house about 4 o'clock of the afternoon. His trunk had arrived and had been put into the top floor front and not into his temporary quarters on the floor below. The sad faced landlady, who by the irony of fate was named Mrs. Jolly, informed him that he couldn't unpack his trunk at that moment.

"The party who has had the room is in there now," said she, "but you can have the trunk brought downstairs by and by. They'll be out of there this afternoon, but I want time to fix it all up nice for you."

Haskell replied that the tray alone would answer his purpose, and he gave his key to the colored man who served Mrs. Jolly. This individual, made glad by the gift of a dime, agreed to bring the tray down presently; but Haskell waited, and it did not arrive. He was too diffident to insist in such matters, and so he eventually went out to keep an appointment with Benton. They dined together, went to a theater afterward, and it was midnight when Haskell returned to his quarters. The trunk tray was not in sight. He had nothing to sleep in, no change of garments for the morning, no soap, no comb and brush. It was very annoying.

"There's nobody in that room," said Haskell to himself. "I don't see why I can't go up and get the tray. It's lucky that I've got another key."

It was a very simple matter, yet he felt like an amateur burglar engaged in his first offense as he climbed the stairs. There was no light in the upper hall and very little anywhere. His only match went out when he tried to light it, and by faith rather than by sight he found his way to the door of the room. It opened with a raucous creaking that seemed loud enough to alarm the police, yet no result followed.

The room was as dark as the inside of a coffin, but Haskell kept the points of the compass in mind and held his course toward the trunk with no more serious mishap than a collision between his ankle bone and the rocker of a chair.

The trunk's lid, to his surprise, was raised. Obviously the servant had started to perform his task, had been interrupted and had then forgotten it. Haskell lifted the tray, carried it softly out and closed the door behind him. He felt like a thief, and indeed he was one, for when he laid that tray upon the bed in his room he discovered that the thing belonged to somebody else. It exhaled a delicate perfume. One horrified glance within showed him a mass of ribbons and laces and delicate fabrics never designed for his use or inspection. He snapped down the flexible lid and fastened it with the clasps, while the perspiration started from his forehead.

"Jerusalem crickets!" he gasped. "What shall I do with this thing?"

Even in this moment of anguish he had the eye to note that the tray was precisely like his own. It seemed to be of the same size and it had the same handles and fastenings.

"How could I tell the difference in the dark?" he demanded, as if facing an accuser.

There was no reply. He stood acquitted. And yet, to use a phrase now quite familiar, "he had the goods on him." Of course there was nothing to do except take the tray back. Easy enough. But suppose he should be caught with it? Suppose some late, prowling tenant or the landlady herself should meet him in the hall?

To think upon such things was merely to undermine his own courage. He seized the tray and made out into the hall with it. There was a dimly flickering gas jet, making darkness visible, and the moving shadows seemed full of people. The creaking boards of the floors echoed footsteps of imaginary pursuers, yet Haskell reached the dark room in safety and found the open trunk after a bewildering search. He put the tray into it, closed the lid and in his nervous excitement turned a key against which his hand happened to strike. Then it flashed upon him that the owner of the trunk would remember that it hadn't been fastened, and he started to repair his error, but the key slipped out of the lock and bounded upon the floor.

Haskell took a step in the direction indicated by the sound and his foot encountered a chair, which seemed to turn somersaults half way across the room. Instantly a loud and shrill cry went up from the midst of the darkness. Haskell did not wait to hear another. He sprang through the door, guided in the gloom by Providence alone, and cleared the stairs in two leaps. As he closed the door of his room behind him it seemed that the whole house resounded with the tumult.

People were pouring out into the halls, and if Haskell had been an expert criminal he would have counterfeited innocence by doing as they did. Instead he remained in that room, wringing his hands, drenched with nervous sweat and the prey of a thousand fanciful terrors.

After an interval that seemed to him to extend well into the next day the general babble of voices ceased and he became aware of two that were just outside his door. One was Mrs. Jolly's, and the other was strange, gruff and fearsome. Haskell was unable to stand the strain. He flung open the door and confronted a gigantic policeman, who strode into the room, followed by Mrs. Jolly.

"What seems to be the matter?" inquired Haskell in a faint voice.

Mrs. Jolly sank weakly into a chair.

"It's the strangest thing!" said she. "I never had anything of the kind happen in a house of mine before. A young lady in the top floor front has lost the tray of her trunk, and she says that all her money and her ticket on the railroad were in it. She was going home tomorrow."

At this moment the policeman interrupted her by stooping forward and tapping on the floor with his club.

"What's this?" he demanded. And the next instant he had dragged the tray of a trunk from under the bed. "You've got a nerve, you have!" he continued, waving his club toward Haskell. "Come along with me till we get this thing identified, and then"—

He did not finish the sentence, but strode out into the hall with the tray.

"Oh, my!" cried a voice from above. "Where did you find it?"

A pretty dark eyed girl came flying down the stairs. Haskell at sight of her fell back against the casing of the door.

"Stella!" he gasped.

The girl turned toward him with a cry. She had just thrust her hand into the tray to the spot where her money should have been, and her fingers had clutched a large assortment of collars and neckties, obviously a gentleman's.

"Tom Haskell!" she exclaimed. "You here? Have you sold—oh, I hope you haven't sold"—

"Stella," said he, with a strange calm, "you were going home tomorrow. Why?"

"I—I didn't want you to do it," she gasped. "I heard you were going to because I'd said so much, and"—

"Will you go home with me tomorrow?"

"I can't," said she faintly. "My ticket and money are gone."

"Look in the other trunk."

"The other trunk? Why, it's a man's!"

"It's mine," said Haskell. "The servant brought down my tray this afternoon. I didn't know it. I went up in the dark and got yours by mistake. Then I took it back again and locked it up in my trunk because I got lost in the dark. The two are just alike. Old Sam Harris in Collingwood only carries one line, and we got the same size. Wait. Let me get this explanation off. Curtis Benton sent me here. It was a trick of his. He wanted to bring us together, and his success has been sensational. Stella, will you go home with me tomorrow?"

"I don't like New York as well as I thought I should," said she, with feminine indirection.

"So far as I can figger it out," said the policeman, "there ain't been no crime here at all; only a mistake."

"Only a mistake," said Stella.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 27—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—An evening with Japanese missions.—Mal. iv, 2, 3.

The prominence of Japan among the nations of the world, its rapid progress in modern civilization and the successful propagation of Christianity in the empire all go to make this subject an unusually interesting one. Every missionary committee should arrange a programme of special attractiveness and thereby interest all in the meeting and, what is still more important, in the winning of the empire of Japan to Jesus Christ.

Japan is composed of a number of islands which stretch in a crescent shape along the northeastern coast of Asia from Kamchatka to Korea. Their area is about 160,000 square miles. In location and climate the islands of Japan resemble Great Britain. The climate is temperate, the soil fertile, the air healthful and food abundant. Flowers and fruits abound, and the skies are beautiful and clear.

The Japanese people are kindly impressible, quick to observe and imitate, ready to adopt whatever may seem to promote their present good, imaginative, fond of changes, yet withal loyal to their government and traditions. The people are divided into two general classes—the samurai, including the military and literary classes, and the hei-min, or agriculturists, merchants and artisans. The Japanese are intellectually of a high order, but of a low moral standard. Truth, purity, temperance, unselfish devotion, self denial, are all sadly wanting, which demonstrates their need of the gospel of Christ. Shintoism, Buddhism and Confucianism are the principal religions of Japan.

Catholic missionaries under Francis Xavier went to Japan in 1549. By making the transition to papal Christianity very easy, merely the substitution of one superstition for another, many converts were soon won. But the political intrigues of the Jesuits soon aroused opposition, the Catholics were exterminated, Christianity and foreigners forbidden an entrance into Japan and the island empire became shut off from the world until won over to a different policy by our own Commodore Perry in 1854.

The Christian church soon took advantage of the opening of the Japanese ports. Missionaries were at once sent in, and after years of faithful labor results were produced. The church of Japan was born in prayer. In January, 1872, the English speaking residents of all denominations united in observing the week of prayer. The results were tremendous. Past suspicion and prejudice passed away and for the first time the Japanese were on their knees in a Christian prayer meeting, pleading to God for His spirit. From that time on the work has been successful. In 1877 a number of missionary agencies combined their efforts. There are now seven denominations in this union, which is called "the church of Christ in Japan." They include the Reformed and Presbyterian denominations of the United States, and this union is one of the strongest bodies of Christians in the empire.

Recent events have made Christianity more powerful than ever in Japan. The empire has come closer to the great Christian nations of England and the United States. Many Japanese students are being educated in these countries. Unlike China and India, in Japan the educated and cultured classes have been favorably disposed to the gospel. A great revival has within recent years been in progress in the island and thousands have been won for Christ. Let us earnestly pray for a continuance of this revival spirit until the entire land shall have become Immanuel's land. May the Sun of Righteousness come indeed to the empire of the Rising Sun and with healing in His wings.

Colorado State Badge.

Colorado can boast one of the neatest of the many state badges. The Christian Endeavor monogram is given unusual prominence in it. State badges play an important part in every international convention, serving to introduce Endeavorers from "far sundered climes," and in many other ways proving valuable to their wearers.

Telling the Church's Future.

Rev. Dr. G. Parsons Nichols, commenting on the Christian Endeavor meeting in his own church, said, "The radiant eastern sky and the voices of singing birds do not foretell more truly the glorious sunrise than that light and those voices tell the future of this church."

Bad Dreams

Too often seemingly trifling complaints of children are put off as things of no consequence. Every unnatural action is a symptom of disorder and deserving of careful investigation. Worms more than anything else are the cause of childhood sickness. Attacking, as they do, the stomach and bowels, the effect of their presence is felt throughout the whole system and made known by nervousness, peevishness, disturbed sleep, erratic appetite, weak stomach and general lassitude.

Dr. True's Elixir

is the surest and safest worm remedy ever compounded—but it is more than that. As a tonic and general corrective it is unexcelled. It tones stomach and bowels, cleanses and enriches the blood and sends renewed health tingling through the veins. For over 50 years the most popular home remedy. Sold at all druggists, 35c. MACEDONIAN CONFLICT

Can Best Be Dealt With by Russia and Austria

POSSESS GREAT INFLUENCE

Over Antagonistic Forces In Disturbed Portion of Near East—Balfour Says Revolutionists Have Deliberately Driven Turks to Excesses

London, Sept. 26.—Premier Balfour, in a lengthy letter to the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Davidson, discusses the Macedonian situation. The letter is a reply to the archbishop's action in drawing attention to the growing uneasiness among churchmen at the apparent apathy of the powers "while unspeakable atrocities are perpetuated in Macedonia."

Mr. Balfour says he is in entire sympathy with the feelings of horror and indignation and fully understands the desire to give expression in public meetings to the sentiments of reprobation which revent events have justified. Mr. Balfour then proceeds to analyze the situation. He says:

"We have not now to deal with a simple case of misgovernment or oppression by Turkish officials, but with a problem complicated by the fact that the Christian population of Macedonia is rent in fragments by differences of race, aggravated by differences of religion, and, in addition to the ills inflicted by a corrupt and incapable administration and by an ill-paid and undisciplined soldiery and by a detestable system of taxation, we have to reckon with all the ills which, in a population not imbued with western ideas of humanity, rival nationalities and sects do not scruple to inflict on one another."

"It was a matter of congratulation when Russia and Austria, acting with the authority of Europe, proposed to press the scheme of reforms which would, if more earnestly pressed by the porte and more frankly accepted by the Macedonian population, have spared the world the horrors it has since witnessed. Neither of these conditions were fulfilled. The porte, as usual, was dilatory and failed to see that a policy of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The revolutionists have deliberately done their best to drive the Turk to excesses and furnish him with an excuse for deferring the execution of reforms, meeting horrors with horrors and brutality with brutality for the deliberate purpose of driving the Turk to crimes against the innocent and thus play upon the sympathy of the world. Such methods as these are no more morally tolerable than the misgovernment which is their excuse."

Coming to the question of the attitude of Great Britain, Mr. Balfour points out that Russia, Austria and Turkey cannot be indifferent to a territorial redistribution in the peninsula, while Greece, Bulgaria, Servia and Roumania are all interested in the fate of the province whose Christian population is made up from all the nationalities. These external complications are doubled by internal ones, because of religious differences.

"It is with a problem such as this that one has to deal," says Balfour, "and I cannot but believe that the best hope of dealing with it lies in the continued co-operation of Russia and Austria, strengthened with the support and aided by the advice of the other signatories of the treaty of Berlin."

These countries possess, Balfour asserts, incomparable influence over the antagonistic forces in the peninsula. In fact no other nation or group of nations could do it at all if Russia and Austria were hostile. Great Britain was not precluded by the policy outlined from offering suggestions, which had already been done and she will continue to do so. But it would be folly to forget that there are occasions when two powers are stronger than three, and that an addition to he numbers carries a diminution of efficiency.

These principles, concludes Balfour, direct the policy of the British government in the near east, and he has no doubt that they are in accordance with British interests, and in obedience to them lies the best hope of improving the condition of the Macedonians and the security of European peace.

Little Stock In Irade

Sofia, Sept. 26.—Simultaneously with the issue of the irade appointing the mixed Macedonian commission the report comes from Constantinople that the porte has ordered the mobilization of two additional divisions of Asiatic troops. The irade has created little impression here. The belief prevails that the sultan is acting solely in view of the approaching meeting between Russian and Austrial emperors and with the hope of convincing them that he is anxious to maintain peace.

Bad For Bulgaria

Vienna, Sept. 26.—It is reported that a Russian note which was handed to the Bulgarian government last night has caused excitement in Sofia. The note recognizes Turkey as the premier power in the Balkans and admits her right to suppress a rebellion in her own territory as she thinks best.

The Gliddens In London

London, Sept. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Glidden of Lowell, Mass., have returned to London after completing an automobile tour of 6670 miles. They sailed from Boston in June for England, whence they began this tour through Europe, in the course of which they crossed the Arctic circle.

THE TROUBLESOME PARKS

Causes a Split at Kansas City and Organizes a Rump Convention

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Samuel J. Parks, walking delegate from New York city, caused a split in the annual convention of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers here in a fight to unseat Daniel Brophy, a delegate from union No. 2 of that city, but who held a proxy from Scranton, Pa. The charge was made by the Parks delegation that Brophy's credentials had been forged, and to prevent a free-for-all fight that seemed imminent President Buchanan adjourned the convention without hour and without waiting to put the question.

Later, when President Buchanan, remaining away from the hall, refused to reconvene the convention, the Parks crowd organized a session, placing Second Vice President Warden of New Haven in the chair, and unseated Brophy.

President Buchanan declared that the acts of the rump convention are unconstitutional and Brophy says that he will ignore the Parks crowd and take his seat whenever President Buchanan again assumes the chair.

Will Try to Block Foreclosure

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—The directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior company have adopted a resolution favoring a plan of reorganization devised by the stockholders. The details of the plan will be announced within a few days. It is said plans have been laid for bringing injunction proceedings to prevent Speyer & Co. from selling on Oct. 1 the collateral they hold for the $5,050,000 the bankers loaned the company.

Erwin Hearing Begun

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—The indicted postal inspector, James R. Irwin, was heard by Commissioner Heacock last night. Erwin denied the charges specifically and then told of his knowledge and connection with the postal device affair, which covers a period of four years, but which has but recently come to public notice through the Washington investigation. The hearing is unfinished.

A Mile In Two Minutes Flat

New York, Sept. 26.—At the Empire city track at Yonkers Major Delmar went against his own record of 2:01 1-4 and went to the quarter in 30½; to the half in 59; to the three-quarters in 1:29, and to the wire in 2:00, equalling the world's record held by Lou Dillon. It was a splendid performance by the animal which only this week changed owners at the highest price—$40,000—ever paid for a gelding.

Liquor Dealers Still Barred

Baltimore, Sept. 26.—A proposition to admit to membership persons of mixed blood to join the order of Odd Fellows was defeated by the Sovereign grand lodge, as was also a resolution to grant to the Patriarchs Militant a direct representation in the sovereign grand lodge. After a spirited debate the resolution to permit liquor dealers to join the order was defeated.

"Nothing Revolutionary" Coming

Washington, Sept. 26.—The executive council of the Federation of Labor adjourned, subject to call, without taking any further action on the case of William A. Miller. The matter has been left in the hands of a sub-committee of the executive council. President Gompers remarked last night that nothing revolutionary about the Miller case might be anticipated.

An Unknown Suicide

Hanson, Mass., Sept. 26.—A stranger, the only clue to whose identity is a bankbook carried in his pocket in which was the name Christian Iager and issued by a Boston bank, committed suicide by slashing his throat near the railroad track just outside of here. The man was dressed as a laborer and had $27 in his pocket.

Killed by Overtraining

Denver, Sept. 26.—Richard S. Howse, formerly trainer of thoroughbreds in King Edward's stables, died here at the age of 32 of consumption, contracted in his efforts to reduce his weight to meet the requirements of his profession. The famous horses, Ormonde and Isomony, were trained by Howse.

Plenty of Flour In Storage

Minneapolis, Sept. 26.—One more flour mill is running, the Washburn A, making four that are making a show of operating. The mills have piled up enough flour in storage to fill all orders for some time to come. They are endeavoring to secure a night shift from among the university students.

No Sunday Sports In Alabama

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 26.—The senate has passed the anti-Sunday baseball bill. This measure had previously been adopted by the house and now goes to the governor for approval. The bill prohibits the playing on Sunday of baseball, tennis, golf and football.

Night Force Laid Off

Millbury, Mass., Sept. 26.—The Bowdoin Felting company, which has been running its plant day and night for the past four months, has laid off the night force of 50 hands. The season, however, has been a prosperous one.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, Sept. 27.
Sun rises—5:36; sets—5:35.
Moon sets—10:07 p. m.
High water—3:45 a. m.; 4 p. m.

To the eastward and southward of the Allegheny mountains the cool weather has been followed by a decided increase in the temperature except in the Atlantic states. There was no precipitation of consequence. It will be fair and warmer in New England, followed by falling temperature.

FOREIGN LACE MAKERS

Imported to Take Places of Strikers at Pawtucket

A PRECEDENT ESTABLISHED

According to Manager of American Textile Company, Who Was Allowed to Import Workmen When Industry First Started In This Country

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 25.—Charles W. Sheperd, manager of the American Textile company, when shown a dispatch from Washington stating that the commissioner of immigration proposed to take action against him on charges involving the alien contract labor law, refused to make any comment.

It is understood, however, that regarding the charge of having brought laborers to this country in violation of the alien contract labor law Sheperd will contend that whereas laborers formerly imported by him were at first detained by the immigration authorities and later released and allowed to enter his employ a precedent was established which applies to the cases now under investigation by the authorities.

As a matter of fact 38 lace makers from France and England have been employed in the works of the American Textile company for some time without interference. The first trouble arose 30 weeks ago when these employes went out on strike and an attempt was made to fill their places with other foreigners. It is alleged that the strikers furnished immigration authorities with the information that led to the arrest of the three men among the few still in the employ of the company.

The specific charges upon which the prosecution against Sheperd will be based are: First—Bringing laborers to the United States to take the place of striking textile workers, in violation of the alien contract labor law; second, of resisting government officers in the discharge of their duties; third, bringing accusation against immigration officers to the effect that they are bribe takers.

On Sept. 9 the representatives of the New York commission of labor visited the works of the American Textile company and made an inspection of the plant. A week later Adolph Duquoncy, who came from France, landing in New York Aug. 14, was arrested at the instigation of the immigration officials and taken to Ellis Island, New York. Last Tuesday Samuel H. Roberts and James Dunlow, lace makers from Derbyshire, Eng., who reached New York July 7, were arrested. They were also taken to New York. The three are held pending deportation proceedings.

The American Textile company was incorporated in 1899 for the manufacture of fine silk and cotton lace. Previous to that time Sheperd was for several years United States consul at Calais, France. During his service there he conceived the idea of establishing here a lace industry, then unknown in this country. At that time, it being impossible to secure lace makers outside the great centres of this industry, he imported from Calais, France, and Derbyshire, Eng., 16 experts. His idea then was that once the manufacture of fine laces was under way the foreigners would teach the trade to Americans. In furtherance of his plan a second mill was built in July, 1900, and more foreigners imported until 38 experts had been brought over by him.

At this time several lace makers brought over by him were detained at Ellis Island. Mr. Sheperd immediately raised the point that as he had established an entirely new industry in this country it was impossible to secure native labor competent to do the work required. After some delay the men were released and allowed to enter his employ. The introduction of American help has not been altogether satisfactory, as the work requires a peculiar temperament and is of such a delicate nature.

Several months' friction between the management and employes crippled the works. Later five of the strikers returned and other help not being so successful the plant was being badly hampered. Mr. Sheperd's contention appears to be that the action against him is instigated by the strikers and is retaliatory and that the grounds upon which the strikers were originally permitted to enter the country applies with equal force to foreigners since brought over to fill the places of the men who quit.

Marble Dealers Short Handed

Chicago, Sept. 25.—None of the four firms, members of the National Marble Dealers' association, who have maintained a lockout of their employes since Monday, are able to open full handed, although all have undertaken to resume work. The places are picketed by the Marble Workers' union.

Smathers Buys Major Delmar

New York, Sept. 25.—Major Delmar failed in his attempt on the Empire City track at Yonkers to lower his own record of 2:00 1-4, breaking on the last quarter and finishing in 2:05. Before making the trial the horse was sold to E. E. Smathers for $40,000.

Guard Justified In Killing

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 25.—William Ronemus, a mine guard, who confessed to killing Patrick Sharp, a striking miner, during the recent coal strike, was last evening acquitted by a jury.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Conditions Generally Favorable I Comparison With Other Years

New York, Sept. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Notwithstanding several unsatisfactory features, the volume of trade continues large and the distribution of merchandise taxes shipping facilities. Enforced idleness in the iron and steel industry is more than offset by resumption of spindles at cotton mills and there is great activity at footwear factories, although the margin of profit is narrow. Lower prices for the leading agricultural staples indicate a general belief in improved crop prospects. Jobbing trade is still making good comparisons with previous years and, while the zenith has been passed in fall drygoods, it is still a satisfactory season.

Aside from special religious holiday interruptions, the drygoods market has remained unchanged. Quotations are without change in any standard line of textiles, but the tone is slightly easier in the division embracing heavyweight brown cottons for export. As to woolens, the best business is noted in dress goods, while men's wear fabrics are still very quiet. There is no improvement in worsteds, prices ruling very irregular.

Footwear manufacturers are busy on fall contracts, plants running full time as a rule.

Conflicting reports continue to militate against stability in the markets for the great farm products, and on the whole the events of the past week have resulted in a lower level of quotations. The most important effect of lower prices was a better export movement.

Victims of Hotel Fire

Rochester, N. H., Sept. 26.—Medical Examiner Neil, who spent a whole day in an effort to determine the identity of the man and woman who lost their lives in the fire that destroyed the Brunswick hotel, says that evidence establishes the identity of the man as Harry Atwood of Whiteface, N. H., supposed to have registered at the Brunswick as George Harwood. The identity of the woman is not known. There is nothing whatever to connect the dead man and woman beyond the fact that both bodies were found in the same room, where they had evidently gone in search of an exit.

Robbers Used Dynamite

Washington, Pa., Sept. 26.—Dynamite was exploded under the buggy of Contractor Ferguson of the Wabash railroad near West Middleton last evening. Ferguson was killed and his bookkeeper, Mr. Martin, was badly hurt, his left arm being nearly torn from its socket. Ferguson had with him the weekly pay for his men, amounting to $3600, in a satchel. The satchel is missing. Two suspects are under arrest and another is surrounded in an abandoned mine.

Ames' Fight For Liberty

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—Ex-Mayor Ames of Minneapolis has taken his appeal to the supreme court. Its contentions are based chiefly on the claim that a serious error was made in that the indictment charges Ames with bribery, but that under this general indictment a number of specific instances were cited in the trial which were not specifically covered by the indictment.

Beatrice Wreckage Washed Ashore

Norfolk, Sept. 26.—The stern of a steamer bearing the name "Beatrice, New York," is pounding bottom up in the breakers 2½ miles south of Caffey's inlet life saving station. The wreckage is thought to be from the fishing steamer Beatrice, which was caught in the recent hurricane. She carried a crew of 35 men and was loaded with 400,000 fish.

Prodding San Domingo

Santo Domingo City, Sept. 26.—United States Minister Powell has informed the Dominican minister of foreign affairs that the agreement made by the late Dominican government respecting the claims of the Santo Domingo Improvement company of New York must be respected and its provisions carried out without further delay.

Newark Strike Peters Out

Newark, N. J., Sept. 26.—The employes of the North Jersey street railway, who went out on strike, have returned to work. The company signed no agreement, but promised to consider changing present objectionable "split run" system. All the lines are in full working order and traffic is being handled as usual.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Commander-in-Chief Dyrenforth of the Union Veterans' union announces that the national encampment of the order and the national convention of the Womans' Veteran Relief union will be held at Louisville Oct. 13 to 15 inclusive.

The photograph gallery of Miss Amie Dupont at Newport, R. I., was damaged $15,000 by fire and a large number of negatives of New York society people, as well as many of the leading artists of the Metropolitan Opera company, were destroyed.

Plans for the construction of the electric railway which is to connect Millbury, Mass., with Sutton and Douglass have been perfected.

The body of Max E. Severance, newspaper correspondent and member of the Twenty-Seventh infantry, U. S. A., who died of typhoid fever in the Philippines, was buried at Montpelier, Vt.

Although registration of students at Yale university for the coming year is by no means completed, it has progressed rapidly enough to indicate that the total attendance will be increased to about 3000.

TODAY'S COURT.

Patrick J. Whalen was fined $10 for drunkenness at Randolph.

The continued cases of James J. McDonough, Mrs. James J. McDonough and William Warden of Braintree, for violation of the liquor law, were heard. James J. McDonough was fined $50 and sentenced to three months in the house of correction; appealed. Mrs. McDonough was fined $100. Appealed. William Warden was found not guilty.

The continued case of John P. Mundy for breaking and entering was heard and he was held in $300 for the grand jury.

Reports on Inquests.

Three inquest reports have been filed at Dedham by Albert E. Avery, justice of the district court of East Norfolk. Justice Avery in his report on the death of Fred A. Peterson at Quincy, March 15, 1903, says deceased came to his death in consequence of a wound in the neck inflicted by a knife held in the hand of one Constant Crobeck of Quincy, while both were under the influence of liquor and he finds Peterson "came to his death by the unlawful act of said Constant Crobeck."

In the case of Wilbrod Tellier, he finds deceased came to his death at Quincy, April 29, 1903, by reason of being struck by an electric car of the Old Colony Street Railway Company, and that his death was not the result of the unlawful act of any person, but was simply accidental.

In the case of Martha J. Larkin, he finds she came to her death as the result of being struck by the engine of a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co., near North Cohasset station, April 29, 1903. No blame attaches to any one.

October Maqazines.

Conspicuous among the October Fashion magazines is The Delineator. It presents charming and up-to-date Autumn styles, valuable illustrated articles on topics of fashion, as well as literary contents of a high standard. The Evolution of a Clubwoman, a serial story, by Agnes Surbridge, which begins in this number, treats a fundamental question of the feminine world—the woman's club—and promises to be extremely interesting. It is an autobiography—a story of fact, but more fascinating than fiction.

Everybody's Magazine begins to be something more than an entertaining ten cents' worth of fiction and articles. An identity has been developed—a sturdy and aggressive identity all its own and full of interest and promise. The key-note of this individuality is the article by Alfred Henry Lewis, in the October number, "The Madness of Much Money." This is a scathing attack on the vulgar displays of great wealth to which the new generation of millionaires has treated the country.

McClure's October number, in its gorgeous crimson cover can be seen twice across the street, and it's worth crossing the street to buy. First and foremost, there is Lincoln Steffen's long looked for Chicago article, "Chicago: Half Free and Fighting On," a fine inspiring story of what the author regards as the most signal and significant achievement in real municipal reform that any of our great cities have to show.

—It will no longer do to laugh at British footwear. Of the $7,000,000 worth of footwear this country exports annually, Great Britain takes one third. —Athol Chronicle.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The interesting announcement is made by the Castle Square Theatre management that next week's attraction at this play-house will be the English version of Franz von Schoenthan's "Das Letzte Worth" which, as "The Last Word," made a popular success of Daly's Theatre company some ten or more years ago. The story of the play is constantly interesting throughout and concerns the actions of a hard-hearted widower who has turned his daughter from home because of her betrothal against his will. The good angel of the play is a fascinating Russian widow, a character that has been one of the great successes of Ada Rehan's repertoire. Some clever characters have been introduced in the play and Mr. Daly's skill in the adaptation of its scenes and situations was much praised when it was first produced in New York.

The usual free distribution of boxes of choice chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

COLUMBIA THEATRE.

The Columbia Theatre, Boston, will open its season on Monday evening, September 28, under the management of Messrs. Sam S. and Lee Shubert. These energetic managers have accomplished some wonderfully clever things in the amusement world during the past five years, and they have steadily advanced into the bright lime-light of prominence and prosperity until they now control ten first class theatres throughout the country, of which four, the new Lyric, Casino, Princess and Madison Square, are in New York. Inasmuch as no liquor will be sold on the premises, the cafes have been replaced by handsomely furnished drawing rooms or promenades. Smoking will not be permitted except in the handsome new gentlemen's smoking room.

It is in the selection of their opening attraction, however, that Messrs. Shubert appear to have made a ten-strike, in securing Nixon & Zimmerman's comic opera company, with Francis Wilson and a star cast of players in that most melodious of light musical works, "Erminie," of which an especially elaborate production has been made.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The coming of the big New England play, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," to the Boston Theatre for the limited engagement commencing Monday, September 28, is already in evidence from the numerous theatre parties that are being arranged all over New England for seeing this rural drama which in three seasons has taken the position among stage productions that many critics predicted it would when it first came out. It now ranks the most important and most successful of all country plays. While patrons will be pleased to find that with two or three exceptions the company is the same as in former seasons, and in fact will find most of the artists in the roles which they originally so popularly created, will be much interested, it is expected, in the new Hulda Mason. This part will be played by Miss Virginia Beech, a southern girl who has made her home in Cambridge the past three years, studying music, art and the drama. Most excellent reports are heard of her interpretation of this role. Mr. Severin DeDeyn, an actor who is said to be an ideal.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Coming to Keith's the week of Sept. 28 are the following well known entertainers, many of them new to the vaudeville stage of Boston, while the balance have not appeared locally for some time: Edwin Stevens, the noted comedian, who is whileing away a few weeks in the varieties prior to launching on a starring tour, who will be heard in an attractive monologue, with songs; Thomas J. Ryan and Mary Richfield, in the screamingly funny farce, "Mag Maggerty's Father;" Banks and Winona Winter, in a comedy and singing sketch, "The Disappointed Romeo," introducing tenor solos by Mr. Winter and clever imitations of other stage celebrities by his talented daughter; Earl and Wilson, comedy instrumentalists; the the DeMuths, eccentric and whirlwind dancers; Lew Simmons and Frank White in a funny blackface sketch; Cara Kiliani, a talanted vocalist and Charles Mildare, just over from Europe, who is said to be a wonderful whistler. The marvelous series of motion photographs, depicting scenes in "Fairyland," will be continued a second week.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"For Her Children's Sake," from the pen of Theodore Kremer and under the management of Sullivan, Harris & Wood, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next week. This strong play, which is a companion piece to the celebrated "The Fatal Wedding," met with instant favor here last season, and the announcement that it is to return will be a welcome one to the patrons of this theatre. The story is spirited and the interest is very human and absorbing, never flagging from the start, and the spectator goes away from the theatre pleased with his surroundings. The usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees will be given during the engagement of this attraction.

MILK FAMINE.

Threatens the People of Boston.

The Best Offer of the Contractors

Is Thirty-Seven and One-Half Cents Per Can.

Boston, Sept. 28.—The milk situation of Boston is awaiting settlement by the farmers as individuals, to whom word has been sent by the directors of the Milk Producers' union asking for instruction as to whether or not they shall remain firm in the original demand of 40 cents a can in Boston. The farmers have been advised to sign no contracts until the matter of price is settled, and to withhold milk unless an agreement is reached by Wednesday night, when present contracts expire.

The Producers' union claims to be in absolute control of every drop of milk which comes into Boston by rail, and through their directors assert that 40 cents is the lowest possible price which they can accept, pointing to grain and general crop conditions in support of their contentions. The contractors are equally firm in their assertion that 37½ cents a can is the best offer that they can make. This offer is identical with that of last winter.

Unlooked For Shaking Up

Hull, Mass., Sept. 28.—It will cost over $2000 to repair the damage caused by the discharge of five shots from the new 12-inch guns at Fort Revere. Plaster, glass, bric-a-brac and dishes were shattered in nearly every house within a quarter of a mile. The first shot, fired at 7000 yards' range, was true, the force of the missile, projected by the explosion of 300 pounds of smokeless powder, causing a geyser 100 feet high. The other four shots went high over the targets.

Dangerous Spot For Mariners

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 28.—Schooner William L. Walker of Provincetown, while making this port at midnight, ran ashore on the unfinished Dog Bar breakwater. The crew of the Gloucester life saving station succeeded in getting the vessel off the rocks and she was beached at Smith's cove. The damage will amount to $700. This is the 37th vessel which has piled up on the rocks while the work was going on.

Selectmen Back Chief of Police

West Newbury, Mass., Sept. 28.—After an all-day session the selectmen of this town exonerated Chief of Colice Bradley, charged with intoxication and the use of profane language in the complaint recently filed by a special policeman. The board states that Bradley's language had resulted from "strong provocation," and that on account of the chief's record the complaint should not be recorded against him.

Grieved and Frightened

Boston, Sept. 28.—Fred A. Wilson, aged 16, of Worcester, who fled from that city after having unintentionally, he says, shot and killed his companion, Carl Fingal, aged 17, was discovered in a freight car in this city by Inspector Roach of Worcester. The condition of the boy was pitiable, grief and fright having evidently seriously affected his mind. He was taken to Worcester.

$5.00 New York Trip.

Attention! "I have never driven through such romantic scenery when there were such variety and boldness of mountain shapes as this; and though it was a sunny day, the mountains diversified the view with sunshine and shadow, glory and gloom." This is Hawthorne's opinion of the Hoosac Country through which you pass on the Boston & Maine $5.00 trip to New York October 1st: through the Hoosac Mountains to Albany, down the Hudson river to New York, back Fall River line to Boston.

Send to the Passenger Department, Boston & Maine R. R., for their descriptive booklet, which is sent free to any address.

THEODORA WON.

Special Race of a Quartette of W. Y. C. Flyers.

Capt. Burgess of the Theodora got satisfaction on Saturday in the special race of the Wollaston Yacht club in which four rival boats were entered,—the Sheila, Pocahontas, Neptune and Theodora. The course was eight miles and was sailed in a light southwest wind.

The Neptune was first to cross the line, but was soon overhauled by the Theodora, which was well handled and maintained the lead to the finish. The Pocahontas was second, Sheila third and Neptune fourth. The finish was so close that if handicaps had been given the order on corrected time might have been different.

It was then proposed that the yachts should go over the course again, and the Theodora, Sheila and Pocahontas entered. The Theodora led over the greater part of the course but the Pocahontas finished a few seconds ahead with the Sheila last.

Capt. E. A. Snow and Chester Jones were the judges.

Failure of Villainous Plot

Stubenville, O., Sept. 28.—Two efforts were made at Long Run mines to wreck property and kill employes and it is thought to be the work of a discharged Italian who professed to be an anarchist. The electric motor standing at the mouth of the mine was started into the mine and before it stopped great damage to the mine interior was done and many miners had narrow escapes. A string of coal cars were started down the incline at the same time to wreck the tipple, but they jumped the track and went over the trestle.

Two Men Attacked One

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 28.—Jareno and Joseph Jigliotte, brothers, and Antonio Fazzo are locked up, Joseph Jigliotte suffering from a stab wound in the right leg and the other two men charged with having attacked the wounded man with intent to kill. The three men were arrested on Wingate street, where they were found fighting. The wounded man lay upon the sidewalk, while the others stood over him, one with a stiletto and the other a revolver. The timely arrival of a policeman probably prevented a deliberate murder. As it is, the condition of the injured man is serious.

Admits Blackstone Deed

New York, Sept. 28.—Giuseppe Mannino, an Italian silk weaver, aged 25, has been arrested by the Brooklyn police as he was about to sail for Italy and charged with having taken part in the highway robbery last Saturday, of Edward F. Sherman, paymaster of the Saranac mills of the American Woolen company of Blackstone, R. I. The police say that Mannino confessed his part in the robbery and admitted that he got $320 of the stolen money, $200 of which he had sent to his mother in Italy. Paymaster Sherman was held up and robbed of $300.

V. E. MILLER,

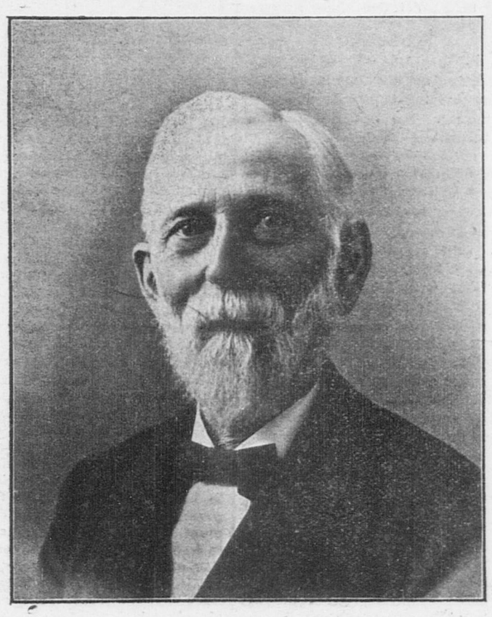
Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

NOW AN OCTOGENARIAN.

But Henry H. Faxon Says He Proposes to Make It Hot at City Election.



Henry H. Faxon is passing another mile stone in his active life today,—his eightieth.

When seen this morning, Mr. Faxon said that the years were beginning to tell upon him and that he did not feel so smart as a year ago.

He was sick all day Sunday and today is not feeling bang up. He is about, however, looking after things. Otherwise than from his attack of illness on Sunday he feels well. He has always been an active man, and expects to live for some years yet.

He still takes an active interest in local affairs and takes delight in "stirring things up." He says that he only regrets that his eyesight is poor. If it were only as good as a few years ago he would make things hum, and warm the jackets of some people he might mention.

Although his eyesight is poor he does not propose to relinquish his interest in local affairs, and declares his intention of taking an active part in the approaching campaign, when he will make it hot for some of the present city officials.

Quincy Telephones Also Put Out of Commission.

It was an unusually heavy shower that passed over Quincy Sunday night. It was accompanied by the heavy roll of thunder and sharp flashes of lightning. The heaviest of the shower came about 8.30. At that time the rain came down in a deluge. The wind blew almost a gale. The thunder was heavy and the lightning snapped like the crack of a whip. It seemed as though it was very near and must have struck somewhere near at hand. The heavy shower was over in a few minutes, although it continued to rain until late in the night.

The heaviest of the storm came about 8.30. At that time there was a particularly sharp flash. It seemed to follow the trolley wires and it probably did for all of the block signals on the line of the street railway were burned out. The signals on the line of the steam railroad were also burned out.

During the heaviest of the shower people in the street cars received quite a scare. In several cases the cars were stopped and the trolley pulled off until the heaviest was over.

The telephone system at West Quincy suffered considerable. Nearly every instrument in that section was burned out, and the people in whose houses telephones were located got a good scare.

The morning papers report much damage done by the storm. Quincy,

Good Afternoon

The farmers of the South will soon have some cotton to sell. That is why Wall street is busy hammering down the price.

As the kaiser led every cavalry charge in the recent German manoeuvres, and the umpire didn't dare declare the imperial forces defeated, the Emperor naturally won.

The public will be relieved to know that George Fred Williams is going to do some studying before he does any more talking. Too bad George Fred never thought of that before.

Two Colombian politicians, who have just arrived in New York, ascribe the defeat of the Panama canal treaty to local partisan, or rather factional strife. They say that even men who favored the treaty voted against it because they wished to repudiate the Marroquin administration.

All who intend to support the Republican State ticket this fall are invited to the reception of the Republican State Committee to Gov. Bates and the other State officers at the American House, Boston, Thursday evening. These annual gatherings on the eve of the State convention are usually largely attended and enthusiastic.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The treasury department decides that the Filipinos are not foreigners. Some other department—that of law, we believe—decides that they are not citizens. Poor things—suspended between the upper and the nether heavens and with a prospect of reaching neither.—New Bedford Standard.

☞There is a vastly increased amount of chaff in the world, political, social, literary, and religious. But we do well to remember that chaff is the husk of grain. Where there is a great heap of chaff, there must somewhere be wheat or other grain in proportion.—Christian Register.

☞The shrewd people down in the state of Maine will doubtless be found perfectly correct in their assumption that the license fee of fifteen dollars which they are this year requiring of hunters from other commonwealths will not reduce the number of sportsman visitors and will substantially increase public revenue. Fifteen dollars is a small price to pay for an opportunity to shoot one's best friend by mistake for a deer.—Providence Journal.

IF PARKS IS BOSS

Delegates Representing Ten Thousand Men Threaten to Bolt Convention

Kansas City, Sept. 28.—Pittsburg, Cleveland, Buffalo and Wheeling delegates, representing 10,000 men, decided at a meeting here last night to withdraw from the International Association of Structural Iron and Bridge Workers in the event of the continued dominance of Samuel J. Parks, the New York walking delegate, in the annual convention now being held here. Michael Flaherty, chairman of the Pittsburg delegation, will direct the anti-Parks fight on the floor of the convention.

The injection of Parks and his influence has so shaped affairs that the New York walking delegate is an issue as directly opposed to the Buchanan regime and it has been decided to fight it out on that line by again attempting the re-election of Buchanan.

Evangelist Smith's Hot Shot

Detroit, Sept. 28.—The national convention of the Disciples of the Lord has opened here. Evangelist John Smith of Cleveland, who claims he is called to preach the gospel of Christ by God himself, made a bitter attack on all forms of worldly amusements, which he characterized as being the works of the devil. In his opinion, it is for worldly amusement only that the majority of people attend church. The church of today is nothing more than a circuit of the theatre, he declared, while the choirs in many cases are going straight to perdition. They are paid large salaries to stand up and prostitute the music of God. Preaching with most of the high-priced ministers, he continued, is only a business proposition.

BACK TO WASHINGTON

President Leaves His Summer Home at Oyster Bay

MITCHELL TO VISIT HIM

Labor Leader Will Have a Talk About the Miller Case, but President Will Stand by Principle Already Enunciated Regarding It

Oyster Bay, Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt passed the last day of his summer vacation quietly at Sagamore Hill. President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their children now at home, Ethel, Archie and Quentin, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and the members of the executive staff left this morning at 8:30 o'clock for Washington. A meeting of the cabinet will be held tomorrow forenoon, but nothing of special importance is likely to be developed at the meeting.

In the afternoon the president will have as a guest at luncheon John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America. Several months ago the president invited Mitchell to take luncheon or dine with him when he next came to Washington. The mine workers' president is in Washington now and will be there until tomorrow evening.

It is announced that the arrangement for the luncheon was made prior to the latest developments in the case of W. A. Miller, the foreman bookbinder in the government printing office, and that no special significance is to be attached to the fact that the president and Mitchell meet at this ime. It is quite probable, however, that the Miller case, among other matters, will be discussed.

In view of statements recently published that the president, on his return to Washington, would hold a conference on the Miller case with prominent officials representing organized labor, it is announced that the president has no intention of conferring with any body regarding that case. His position, it is pointed out, was defined clearly in his published letters to Secretary Cortelyou. The principle enunciated in those letters was framed in accordance with the statutes of the United States and on it the president expects to sand. If a hearing on the merits of the Miller case is desired by those who are endeavoring to have the man dismissed from the government service the president may grant it precisely as he might a hearing to any other body of citizens on a question of public interest or importance, but it is not the president's purpose to enter upon a discussion of the principle already laid down.

Harvest Festival.

The Winthrop Church Sunday School will hold their annual harvest festival in the town hall at Holbrook Wednesday evening, Sept. 30. Fruit, vegetables, fancy work, etc., will be on exhibition. Ice cream, lemonade and cake will be served. The executive committee are: Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Dornan, Supt. Leonard Belcher, Mrs. Arthur Holbrook, Mrs. Walter Jones, Misses Elizabeth G. Diman, Sarah T. Holbrook, Messrs. George T. Wilde, Alfred L. Paine, and John T. Holbrook.

Sixty Years a Teacher.

Charles James Capen of Dedham, the last of this month will have completed 60 years service as a teacher. For the past 52 years he has taught in the Boys' Latin School in Boston, and prior to that time he instructed the youth of Dedham for a period of eight years. At 81 years he is still a hale, hearty man, and the peer of younger men in activity and acute intelligence.—Dedham Transcript.

STONING TO DEATH

Bade Fair to Became Fate of Two Men but For Arrival of Police

Boston, Sept. 28.—Two atheistic Jews narrowly escaped being stoned to death by orthodox brethren here and were saved only by the timely arrival of the police. There are a number of Jewish anarchists in the city who term themselves friedanker or freethinkers, and who annually, on Yom Kippur, the most solemn and religious day in the Hebrew calendar, celebrate the event with an entertainment and ball.

This year's event consists of a lecture, entertainment and ball, and when two young men passing the announcement cards entered Brighton street, in the heart of the orthodox Jewish section, trouble was precipitated. In the height of the argument an aged patriarch shouted that atheism was a crime punishable by stoning to death, according to the Mosaic law. This was a signal for a shower of stones, which had evidently been prepared. The young men were knocked down several times, and, bruised and bleeding, escaped only when a squad of policemen were observed coming up the street.

Laredo's Yellow Fever Scare

Laredo, Tex., Sept. 28.—Two deaths and 12 new cases of yellow fever are reported here. This city now presents a dead appearance, all those who could get away having departed. It is estimated that nearly 4000 people have fled from here since the beginning of the yellow fever scare and the later development of the disease. The city is now quarantined in all directions of the state and no person can get beyond the limits of Webb county, other Texas counties having established a shotgun quarantine and turning back all those who are endeavoring to get away.

Made Dangerous Counterfeits

Marinette, Wis., Sept. 28.—Officers near Koss, Mich., confiscated one of the largest and most complete counterfeiting money making outfits ever taken in the country. They also captured the leader. The den of the counterfeiters was a small shanty on an isolated road. Their outfit consisted of dies for the manufacture of silver from 10 cents up to a dollar and gold from $5 to $20. The gang posed as trappers. The coin was well made and hard to detect, both silver and gold being used in the composition.

Bishop Turner on Race Problem

Atlanta, Sept. 28.—In an address before a mass meeting of negroes in this city, Bishop Turner of the African-Methodist Episcopal church declared that the separation of the races was the only solution to the race problem. He urged that opportunities should be offered to negroes to settle in Africa, stating that "this nation or its aggregated people will either have to open a highway to Africa for the discontented black man or the negro question will flounder this government."

Sheriff Disagrees With Engineer

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 28.—Deputy Sheriff Bacon of Uxbridge, who was employed by the Worcester division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad to investigate the alleged attept to hold up the Worcester-Providence boat train near Whitin's station Thursday night, says that his discoveries do not justify the conclusion that robbers sought to stop the train. Engineer Boss, however, still maintains that a deliberate attempt to hold up his train was made.

The Helen Brewer Probably Lost

Boston, Sept. 28.—Hope has been abandoned for the safety of the Boston steel ship, Helen Brewer, seven months out from Sourabaya, Java, for Delaware breakwater, and overdue by two months. The last heard from her was March 8, two days after leaving port, when she ran ashore, but was floated after 24 hours. The supposition is that the strain weakened her and that she foundered very soon afterward. She carried a crew of 18 men.

A Sensational Tragedy

Lacrosse, Wis., Sept. 28.—An attempted murder and suicide occurred at the German Lutheran church at the beginning of religious services when Herman Rossow shot his wife and himself in the presence of hundreds of worshippers. Mrs. Rossow will probably die, while Rossow may recover. Rossow had been separated from his wife for some time.

A Train's Terrible Plunge

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 28.—While running at a high rate of speed a Southern railway fast mail train jumped from a trestle 75 feet high, half a mile north of Danville, Va., and was almost demolished. Of the crew of 16 men, including mail carriers, on the train, nine were killed and seven injured.

Perhaps Fatally Stabbed

Rockport, Mass., Sept. 28.—The police are looking for Gus Sternberg, who, it is alleged, set upon and stabbed Emile Knutten as the latter was returning from a dance in company with two women. Knutten's condition is critical.

Marquis Got Worst of It

Paris, Sept. 28.—A duel with swords was fought in the grounds of a country club near Biarritz between Count Arcos of Clavijo and the Marquis of Argudia. The latter was thrice wounded, in the wrist and the forearm.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, Sept. 29.
Sun rises—5:38; sets—5:31.
Moon sets—11:50 p. m.
High water—5:30 a. m.; 5:45 p. m.

The storm centre over the north has moved to the St. Lawrence valley and there have been showers in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, the middle Atlantic states and New England. It will be fair and cooler in New England.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

A beautiful day and clear air after the storm.

Mrs. Lucius Bassett and Miss Ruth Bassett of Walker street have gone to New Hampshire for a short trip.

Efforts to get the West Quincys and Quincys together for a friendly contest on the diamond, will probably, be unsuccessful.

Botolph street has been resurfaced and improved to such a degree that it is by far the most excellent thoroughfare in Ward Six. The steam roller could find plenty to do on some of the other streets.

Sold Tips to Criminals

Berlin, Sept. 28.—Corruption in the public service was shown up at the trial of Herman Baganz, secretary of the prosecuting attorney of one of Berlin's two criminal courts, who was accused of selling information to indicted persons. There are specifications, including one involving the empress' former banker, Eduard Sanden, who was sentenced in July, 1902, to six years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $3759 for falsifying balance sheets.

A Lion's Unexpected Outing

New York, Sept. 28.—Thousands of visitors to Coney Island were thrown into a panic by the escape from an amusement park of a lion, which ran throught the crowded streets pursued by police and animal trainers until he was driven into a corner and secured. When recaptured the lion appeared to be weary and was probably more frightened than any of his pursuers.

Cotton Crop Estimate Reduced

Houston, Tex., Sept. 28.—The Post publishes a report showing that great damage has been done to cotton over the state by the boll weevil, the boll worm, the sharpshooter and dry weather. The estimate of the probable crop is placed at 2,500,000, provided that there is a late frost. The popular estimate six weeks ago was 6,000,000 bales.

France to England In Balloon

London, Sept. 28.—Count de la Vaulx and Count D'Outremont descended in a balloon near Hull, Yorkshire, having journeyed from Paris in 17 3-4 hours. This is the first time that a balloon has successfully travelled from France to England.

Posses After Sheriff's Slayer

Knoxville, Sept. 28.—Posses are scouring Loudon county for Mack Rose, who, in resisting arrest, shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Griffiths and fatally wounded John Poole, a citizen deputized by the officer. Rose was wanted for a small offense.

AN ANSWER FOR HANNA

To Clarke's Request For Joint Debate With Him

SENATOR A "STAND PATTER"

Number of Questions Propounded to Aspirant For Senatorial Honors as to His Attitude Toward Subjects on Which His Party Is Divided

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—The reply of Chairman Dick of the Republican state committee to Chairman Salem of the Democratic state committee declining the challenge of John H. Clarke, Democratic nominee for United States senator, to a joint debate with Senator Hanna, was given out last night. Chairman Dick says in part:

"I regret that candor compels me to say that I find some rather serious objections to the conditions of your proposal. There ought to be some such quality as mutuality in a joint discussion. I fear you have overlooked that phase of the case. Let me particularize. Mr. Hanna's party has a vast assortment of principles, sounding the entire gamut from doctrine to dogma—Democratic, Populistic, agrarian and Socialistic.

"There is a tariff. How does Mr. Clarke stand on that issue. His party stands all over it. In New England it is for free raw material and for protected finished products; in Texas it is for protected raw material and for free finished products.

"Does Mr. Clarke favor a tariff for revenue only? Is he a Gorman tariff Democrat, or a Johnson no-tariff Democat? If he favors any kind of a tariff let him debate with Mr. Johnson, who is an absolute free trader and would repeal every tariff and internal revenue law and sell all the custom houses.

"Mr. Clarke has all these strings to his bow and more too. What chance does Mr. Hanna, who has only one string to his bow, have in disputation with such a man? Mr. Hanna stands pat. When Mr. Clarke joins a party that stands pat on anything, Mr. Hanna will talk with him.

"Then there is the coinage question. How does Mr. Clarke stand on that? The absolution of Mr. Bryan gave him would argue that he is not a stand patter. Indeed, Mr. Bryan says he is not. Then, if Mr. Clarke is really on the Kansas City platform and is bound to have debate with somebody, let him hunt up the Palmer and Buckner platform and debate with that. If, on the other hand, he is still a gold bug, he ha no quarrel with Mr. Hanna on that score—ex-Senator Charles A. Towne is the man he is looking for, or John J. Lentz might do in a pinch. If Mr. Clarke were elected to the senate would he vote on the currency question with the gold Democrats or with free silver Democrats?

"The Republican state platform declares that every one of the war amendments is binding in honor upon every American citizen. Why did Mr. Clarke say in his Akron speech that that platform 'winds up with the declaration that amounts to a nullification of the 15th amendment.'

"Where does Mr. Clarke stand on the 'war amendments?' Does he believe in them or will he favor their repeal? Does he favor the white supremacy plank lately adopted by the Maryland Democratic state convention with its poorly concealed threat to entirely suppress the colored vote? Is he in harmony with Senator Tillman, who has boasted that whenever colored voters attempt to air the elective franchise in South Carolina he will meet the attempt with a shotgun? If elected to the senate will Mr. Clarke join his colleagues from Tennessee, Mr. Carmack, and vote for his resolution to repeal the 15th amendment? Is Mr. Clarke willing to explain his position on these vital questions?

"Where does Mr. Clarke stand on the Philippine question? Does he stand with Mr. Bryan when he was lobbying at the Capitol at Washington for the ratification of the treaty that ceded the islands to us? Or when later, in the campaign of 1900, he advoted an 'American protectorate?' Or, when still later, he declared for their 'absolute independence?' Does Mr. Clarke stand for any one or all three of these propositions?

"Does Mr. Clarke side with the eastern Democrats, the 'reorganizers?' Democracy today wears so many colors, appears under so many different shapes and forms, assumes so many disguises that I feel that it would be unfair to Senator Hanna to ask him to meet Mr. Clarke in a joint discussion until he is advised more fully as to Mr. Clarke's position on the subjects above alluded to; until he learns what particular brand of Democracy Mr. Clarke claims is his; until he knows whether he is expected to debate with Mr. Clarke, the corporation lawyer, or Mr. Clarke, the candidate for United States senator."

No Cars Running at Waco

Waco, Tex., Sept. 28.—A strike on the local street car system has gone into effect and not a car is moving. The men demand recognition of the union and an increase of wages, both of which were refused by the management.

Electrocuted In His Cellar

Niagara Falls, Sept. 28.—Lorain T. Wilmer, while searching in his cellar for the cause of trouble with the electric light wires of his house, received a shock of 2000 volts. He was instantly killed.

Against Spitting In Church

Norfolk, Sept. 28.—Rev. J. J. Doherty, pastor of the largest Catholic church in Norfolk, created consternation at mass when he denounced male members of the parish for spitting on the floor of the church. He declared such men desecrated the house of God by their action and were not wanted in the church. "I will employ a detective to attend services and report expectorators to me," he said. "I will cause the arrest of the guilty parties as violators of the city ordinance prohibiting spitting in public buildings."

Coupe Wrecked and Occupants Hurt

Boston, Sept. 28.—Four men were seriously injured by being thrown from a coupe which was struck by an electric car on Columbia road. It is said that the coupe, which was completely demolished by the collision, was swerved toward the car so suddenly that the motorman could not avert the accident.

Mrs Davis Shows Improvement

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—It is stated at Castle Inn that Mrs. Jefferson Davis has rallied and that her condition shows a decided improvement.

NEWS IN BRIEF

By the explosion of a shotgun Frank Dow of Augusta, Me., had his right hand so badly shattered that it was necessary to amputate the fingers, and the lower part of his face was filled with shot.

George C. Cannon broke two world's records for steam automobiles at Narragansett park, succeeding in cutting the mile record of 1:02 4-5, making a mile in 1:01 flat, and made a new mark of 5:56 3-5 for five miles.

After asking his wife and daughter to call for him later in the evening Ara S. Tuttle of Haverhill, Mass., went to his room and committed suicide by shooting. No cause is assigned for the act.

Between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of paintings and frames were destroyed by a fire in the studio of J. A. Prichard at Boston.

George F. Nelson of Sabattus, Me., was drowned in the pond at that place. He was in a sailboat when the boom swung around and knocked him into the water.

Mrs. Addie D. Newton, wife of Professor Newton of Maine Wesleyan Seminary and Womans' college, who was camping with several other members of the faculty in the vicinity of Readfield, was drowned by the capsizing of a boat.

The celebration of the 100th anniversary of the First Roman Catholic church in Boston was observed at Holy Cross cathedral, while minor observances were manifested in the smaller parishes.

ENGLAND GIVES NOTICE

That She Will Insist Upon Reforms In Macedonia

A DEMONSTRATION AT SOFIA

By Fifteen Thousand Macedonians and Sympathizers Carried Out With Pathetic Dignity and Peacefulness—Extermination Stories Confirmed

Sofia, Sept. 28.—The communication made by the British diplomatic agent to the Bulgarian government states that neither Turkey nor Bulgaria can count on Great Britain's support in the event of their openly or secretly opposing the realization of the Austro-Russian project of reforms in Macedonia and adds that Great Britain is pressing Turkey for a more effective application of the reforms. The communication further states that Great Britain is consulting with the other powers as to the possibility of introducing more suitable remedial measures.

Pathetic dignity and the utmost peacefulness characterized the Macedonian demonstration here Sunday. After the celebration of a requiem in the cathedral, which was crowded, 15,000 Macedonians and their sympathizers joined in a procession which marched through the principal streets of the city. Bands played funeral marches and carried aloft were black flags and black-framed pictures, representing the dead leaders of the movement, burning villages, etc. Outside the cathedral the president of the Macedonian organizations addressed the demonstration. Other speakers also urged the maintenance of peaceful conduct. A committee of three was appointed as a delegation to call on the premier and ask him whether the government would help the Macedonians.

Prince Ferdinand, after going to church, did not return to the palace, but departed unexpectedly for his hunting box at Kostenotz. His departure is much commented on and is thought not to be unconnected with rumors of an intention on the part of the processionists to demonstrate in the garden of the palace.

It is reported that the Turks are building forts along the entire frontier line commanding large areas of Bulgarian territory. Fortifications have been constructed for artillery. Three thousand Turkish troops have arrived on the frontier at Maikoternovo.

The personnel of the sultan's new Macedonian commission 1 alleged here to be an indication of the insincerity of the porte's intentions. The Bulgarian representative, Nikola Robeff, a member of the court of justice at Monastir, is 80 years old and has been for many years an official of the Turkish government. With the exception of Hilmi Pasha, the inspector general, who is president of the commission, none of the others has any prominence or influence. The fact that the Bulgarian population of Macedonia is given only one representative is held here to show that the porte has not accepted the demands made by the Sofia government.

Negotiations between the porte and Sofia are reported to be still proceeding, but the situation appears to remain unchanged. In view of the fact that the powers decided to answer the Bulgarian note it is doubtful if next week's meeting between the czar and Emperor Francis Joseph will cause any material change of policy.

Turks' Extermination Policy

London, Sept. 28.—A dispatch from Sofia to The Times says that a document, purloined from Hilmi Pasha's archives and which has fallen into the hands of one of the consuls, gives confirmation of the wholesale extermination carried out in Macedonia. It records that 93 villages have been destroyed in the vilayet of Monastir alone and that the total number destroyed reaches 111. Reports from other reliable quarters represent that a much larger number of villages have been destroyed. The correspondent continues that the attention of the humane and charitable should be directed to the starving population.

Turkish Troops to Mobilize

Salonica, Sept. 28.—The immediate mobilization of the Adana, Angera, Mastamuni and Kaisaries divisions of the army, totalling 64 battalions, has been ordered. Half of these battalions are expected to arrive here within a week and the rest will go to Adrianople.

Thinks Evans Too Severe

Washington, Sept. 28.—Paymaster Biscoe, who was a member of the court rebuked by Rear Admiral Evans for its inadequate sentence in the case of Assistant Paymaster Nicholson, has protested to Secretary Moody at the severity of Admiral Evans' language. Secretary Moody will investigate the matter.

Brakeman Loses a Leg

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 28.—William Nadeau, a brakeman, while coupling cars in this city, slipped on a rail and the wheels of a freight car passed over his right leg, severing it near the body. Physicians say his injuries are undoubtedly fatal.

Plague and Cholera Raging

Tien Tsin, Sept. 28.—Both the plague and cholera are raging at Peitang, a seaport 50 miles east of Tien Tsin, where 2000 deaths have occurred during the past two months.

CHARM AND CHAIN.

Presented to Stephen A. Pierce at Houghs Neck.

There was a pleasant gathering at the Steamer Club cottage at Houghs Neck on Sunday afternoon, during which Stephen A. Pierce was presented with a handsome Knights of Columbus charm and chain.

When Steve made his appearance at the cottage he was surprised to see so many of his friends gathered in the rooms, but was more surprised when W. H. Flynn, after briefly referring to the many good qualities Steve possessed and to his kindness and hospitality, presented him with the charm and chain.

Steve was speechless for a moment, but soon recovered himself, but could hardly find words to express his thanks at their pleasing gift.

The party sat down to an appetizing dinner.

Later, the party marched to the Bennett cottage, where there were selections by McInnis orchestra; songs by J. Edwin Glover, Joseph P. Ford and W. H. Flynn; impersonations by Charles Siders, John J. Sullivan, Gus Gose and Capt. H. J. Stickney; piano solos by John Cusick and Fred J. McInnis; buck and wing dancing by Charles Siders and Billy Wards; and songs by H. J. Dyer and Joe McInnis.

Anti Tobacco League.

The entertainment provided Saturday afternoon by the W. C. T. U. to the boys of the Anti-Tobacco League was a round of pleasure for all who attended. It was a lawn party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus King on Adams street. There were games in great variety, and souvenirs for the winners. There was also a generous supply of peanuts and ice cream. The boys who attended have recently signed pledges to abstain from the use of tobacco in all forms.

$10,000 CLUBHOUSE.

Wollaston Yacht Club Not to be Outdone by Squantum Club.

Following the announcement that the Squantum Yacht club will build an $8,000 clubhouse, comes the report that the Wollaston Yacht club will erect a $10,000 one near by.

The Metropolitan Park Commissioners have granted the Wollaston club permission to erect a clubhouse on the easterly side of proposed Quincy Bay parkway, and it will be located on piles about 150feet from the shore. The boulevard will run a few feet front of the present clubhouse.

The new channel, which will be dredged by the State, the money having already appointed, will allow yachts to enter at all tides, and will be greatly appreciated by the yachtsmen.

It is said that the Wollaston Yacht club have under consideration plans for a $10,000 clubhouse.

BALL CARTRIDGES.

Placed on Houghs Neck Line of Electric Cars.

There was quite a little excitement in City Square Sunday afternoon, caused by the explosion of a ball cartridge on the street railway track. The place where the cartridge was placed was on the Houghs Neck line opposite the residence of Henry H. Faxon. When the car passed over the cartridge it exploded with a loud report, which startled the passengers. The ball flew in the direction of Mr. Faxon's residence and ploughed up the lawn in front of his house.

Another cartridge a little further along was also exploded but did no damage. The cartridges were probably placed on the track by boys.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WANT THEIR PAY.

Promise of Consolidated Lake Superior Co. Broken.

Mob Attacks the Company's Office.

The Police, Firemen and the Militia Called Out.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 29.—The situation in the Canadian Soo, which has been the scene of serious rioting by the discharged employes of the Consolidated Lake Superior company, is very grave.

A meeting of the employers of the company was held and its proceedings were of the most heated character. The particular grievance which seemed to have inflamed the men to acts of disorder was the promises of pay yesterday, when the men who made the promises, the employes believe, knew they could not be fulfilled. Immediately after this meeting adjourned the men went in a body to the office of the company determined to get their money or "get satisfaction," as they put it.

The doors of the office were locked and guarded by the police and all the men got was a bulletin posted upon the door announcing that the president and directors in New York were unable to raise the money to pay the wages and salaries now due, but that it was expected that the necessary money would be produced inside of 30 days.

This notice, instead of allaying the excitement of the crowd, which by this time was estimated to number 1500, made them furious, and despite the efforts of the combined strength of the local police force and the company's private police force, rocks and other missiles were directed at the windows of the office buildings.

The assault was successful and a mass of frenzied rioters secured possession of the ground floor of the building, destroying everything moveable that came in their path. A crowd of the office staff with drawn revolvers prevented their gaining access to the upper floors of the building. Every window and door in the building is smashed.

Some one then turned in an alarm of fire, with a view of using the fire hose upon the mob. The firemen turned several streams on the crowd and drove them quite a distance from the building.

The arrival of the troops on the grounds armed with ball cartridges about 2 o'clock served to restore some semblance of order. The rioters then contented themselves with throwing stones at the building and hurling invectives at the soldiers, who established a "dead line" and prevented any approach toward the building by any of the rioters.

The greatest number of the mob are ignorant Italians, Finns, Norwegians and Frenchmen, the latter perhaps the hardest of all to handle. All have been drinking more or less, although the bars obeyed an order to close up. The mob is one that cannot be reasoned with and the man they seem most anxious to get at is Assistant Manager Coyne, who, in the absence of Mr. Shields, is in charge of the works. Coyne has discreetly kept out of sight.

Late yesterday afternoon the leaders of the mob held a conference and demanded that the company house the men in their hotel and boarding house and feed them until the money for their wages is forthcoming. In order to appease the crowd the demand was granted and the men have taken possession of the "White House," a large boarding house operated by the company. Provisions are being sent there to feed them.

The local police force is being strengthened by the addition of all the deputies who can be found, each man being given a badge and a revolver and ordered to use the latter whenever necessary. Considerable feeling has been aroused over the shooting of two Frenchmen by the police during the trouble. The rioters claim that the officers used their revolvers when it was unnecessary. Neither of the men is fatally hurt, however.

The mob threatens an attack upon police headquarters with a view of effecting the release of all the men who have been arrested. Both that building and that occupied by the fire department is guarded against attack.

The problem which these developments have created is beyond the solution of any of the company officials on the ground. Apparently their only hope is that the anger of the mob will spend itself and that the men will get out of town by degrees.

An effort was made last evening to get the body of the rioters to cross the river to the American side and put the power house and street railway out of commission, but it was not successful. On account of this rumor, the local company of state troops was mobilized at the armory and some extra policemen were put on duty. A battalion of regulars from Toronto, the King's grenadiers, are expected to arrive soon, and their coming is awaited with feverish impatience. Another company of militia from Sudbury is expected.

Adding Fuel to Flames

Detroit, Sept. 29.—A special to The Tribune from Sault Ste Marie, Mich., says: Information just received develops that the officials of the Alboma Central have refused to send a train for the more than 400 men who are in the lumber camps of the company. The men in the camps have been made aware of this decision by their friends in town and the whole body of men is now marching into town. The gravest fears are expressed for the outcome when this body of men reaches the Soo. Naturally they are very angry that the company, which refuses to pay them wages, should refuse to even furnish them transportation back to civilization. This inflammable material, added to that already on hand, promises serious consequences to the town unless the disorders are speedily checked.

Regulars Ordered Out

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The regulars from the fort here received orders shortly after midnight to proceed to Sault Ste Marie. They entrained at 3 o'clock this morning and will reach Sault Ste Marie some time today.

SENATOR ALBERT A. BRACKETT.

RATHER COOL TODAY

But Six Degrees Warmer Than the Lowest September Record.

For the first time this month the mercury was below 60 at noon. On Aug. 30 we had a day as cool as today, but with that exception it would be necessary to go back to June 24 to find as cool a day.

It is usual, however, to have a little cooler weather in September. Last year the lowest noon temperature in September was 62, but in 1896 it was 52; in 1897, 55; in 1898, 52; in 1899, 60; in 1900, 58; and in 1901, 56.

In October, Quincy usually gets a few days in the 40s, the lowest for seven years ranging between 41 and 48. Only once in seven years have we had noon temperature above 80 in October.

CHURCH AND HOME

Discussed at Morning Session of Norfolk Conference.

The seventy-seventh fall meeting of the Norfolk Conference is being held today at the Washington Street Congregational church.

The morning session opened at 9.45 and was very largely attended. Every available seat in the edifice was occupied, and the audience manifested much interest in the exercises.

Rev. C. A. Hilton was moderator, and at the opening a letter was read from Rev. A. H. Fuller tendering his resignation as scribe, as he is to shortly move from this conference.

Rev. W. W. Dornan of Holbrook was elected assistant scribe, and the following committees were appointed:

On business,—Rev. Leon H. Austin of Quincy, Dr. Dearing of Braintree, and Rev. Alan Hudson of Brockton.

On Nominations,—Rev. Henry C. Alvord of South Weymouth, Rev. Edwin N. Hardy of Quincy and Rev. W. L. Tower.

Time and Place,—Rev. Andrew W. Archibald of Brockton; Rev. Emery L. Bradford of East Weymouth and Deacon Richmond.

At 10 o'clock there was a devotional service led by Rev. A. H. Fuller of Easton.

This was followed by four fifteen-minute addresses on "The Church and the Home. The four subjects each of which was followed by a discussion, were as follows:

"Family Worship," by Rev. A. W. Archibald, D. D., of Brockton.

"Religious Reading," by Rev. Henry C. Alford of South Weymouth.

"Child Training," by Rev. Edward Norton of Quincy.

"Important books on Child Nature for parents and teachers," by Mrs. H. E. Bray of Stoughton.

The morning session closed with the singing of the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation."

At 12 o'clock, the visiting clergymen and delegates adjourned to the vestry, where a basket lunch was served with hot coffee and rolls provided by the ladies of the church.

This afternoon's session opened at 1.30 o'clock and an evening session will be held at 7.30

Memorial for Old 23d.

Frederick L. Jones was elected one of the vice presidents at the 33d annual reunion on Monday at Ipswich of the 23d Massachusetts regiment. Over 100 veterans were in attendance. There was a dinner, followed by speeches. A committee on memorial to the regiment was appointed to report at the next annual meeting. Maj. George M. Whipple of Salem is the new president.

CONVENTION

Of First Norfolk District Held in Boston.

The Nomination Was Unanimous

After Speech by Mayor Bryant of Quincy.

One of the first conventions of the fall for nomination of candidates for the State election was that of the First Norfolk Senatorial district held on Monday evening at Wesleyan hall, Boston.

Hon. B. Herbert Woodsum of Braintree, who represented the district in the Senate in 1898 and 1899, was elected chairman. At the outset he read a letter from the Republican State Committee urging activity along the line.

Hon. Albert A. Brackett of Milton was placed in nomination for the Senate by Mayor Bryant of Quincy, and he was unanimously renominated as the Republican candidate.

H. Clifford Gallagher also of Milton, was reelected as a member of the Republican State Committee.

Candidate Brackett was introduced to the convention, and in a brief speech thanked the delegates for the renewed expression of confidence, and promised to give strict attention to the needs of the district and the honor of the commonwealth. Senator Brackett in closing invited the delegates to dine with him at the United States hotel.

After making the usual provisions for filling vacancies the convention adjourned, and all the delegates accepted the invitation of Candidate Brackett.

The unofficial figures of the vote of the district last year are given below:

	Brackett. Rep.	Jenney. Dem.	Packard. Soc.
Quincy,	2,091	949	734
Braintree,	495	272	227
Canton,	301	368	19
Holbrook,	211	86	97
Hyde Park,	876	563	311
Milton,	690	219	45
Randolph,	294	351	—
Weymouth,	923	568	362
Totals,	5,890	3,376	1,795

It will be seen by the figures below that Senator Brackett's plurality last year was nearly as large as was ever given in the district, and that with such a popular candidate the Republicans need not be alarmed:

Flint's plurality in 1897,	2,873
Woodsum's plurality in 1898,	2,847
Woodsum's plurality in 1899,	1,241
Sprague's plurality in 1900,	2,904
Sprague's plurality in 1901,	2,621
Brackett's plurality in 1902,	2,514

Hit by an Electric.

A team owned by Miller's express of Brockton was smashed Monday afternoon by being run into by an electric car on Hancock street opposite the High school.

The driver of the team was clearly at fault. Had he exercised due care it would not have taken place.

The car and team were going in the same direction. The car had slowed up to pass the team which was near the track. It was nearly past the team when the driver swung his horse directly onto the track in front of the car. The motorman did not have time to stop the car which struck the hub of the wheel. No one was injured but the team was smashed.

House Struck at West Quincy.

A bolt of lightning entered the house of Dr. T. J. Dion on Crescent street, during the heavy shower Sunday night, wrecking his telephone and knocking some of the plastering off. Fortunately the bolt followed the telephone wire out again and did not set fire to the house.

CHASE FOR GOVERNOR

Socialists of Bay State Meet and Put a Ticket In the Field

Boston, Sept. 29.—The Socialist party of America held its state convention in Paine memorial hall, while in adjoining room the Socialist Labor party met and nominated its state ticket.

Representative Carey of Haverhill called the former convention to order. Later he was elected permanent chairman, and accepted the office in an eloquent address. The other speakers were J. Q. Adams and J. C. Chase.

At the afternoon session the following state ticket was nominated: For governor, John C. Chase, Haverhill; lieutenant governor, J. Q. Adams, Rockland; secretary of state, Olaf Bokelund, Worcester; state treasurer, J. A. Billings, Rockland; auditor, Joseph Orr, Chicopee; attorney general, W. J. Carroll, Lowell.

The platform adopted is substantially the same as that of last year, with the exception of some "immediate demands" along the same lines.

Nobody Wants Poor John

Boston, Sept. 29.—Rejected by all to whom it was thought the relic would be an acceptable gift, the bronze statue of Governor John Winthrop, founder of the city of Boston, which for 23 years has stood in Scollay square, has been taken to the yard of the Boston transit commission, where, surrounded by debris, it will remain until some other resting place can be found for it. The statue was removed from its site because it was in the way of the subway construction work now going on in Scollay square.

"Lull Before the Storm"

Kansas City, Sept. 29.—Monday's session of the International Structural and Bridge Workers' association was taken up entirely with routine affairs. President Buchanan's appeal for harmony had the effect, at least temporarily, of quieting the troublesome New Yorkers. "It's the lull before the storm," said one delegate after the convention had adjourned for the day.

Russia's Big Army In China

Tien Tsin, Sept. 29.—The military strength of Russia in China is 250,000 men of all arms. Thirty forts have been erected at Port Arthur and 50 others are under construction. All the peaks in this district are being fortified. In addition to the land forces there are always 40 Russian vessels at Port Arthur and 40 others constantly under steam at Talienman.

Train Disaster Caused by Cow

Chattanooga, Sept. 29.—A Southern passenger train ran into a cow at Glenmary and the engine, two mail cars, baggage car and express car left the track and rolled down a steep embankment. Engineer Parker was killed and seven men were badly injured, two fatally.

Artist Dolph's Sudden Death

New York, Sept. 29.—John H. Dolph, the artist, noted for his work as an animal painter, died suddenly here. He had been troubled for a long time with heart disease. He was born at Fort Ann, N. Y., 68 years ago. He began his work as a portrait painter in 1857.

The President at Washington

Washington, Sept. 29.—After an absence of 13 weeks at Oyster Bay, President Roosevelt returned to Washington at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was accompanied by his family and Secretary Loeb. The trip from Oyster Bay was uneventful.

Evidence of Terrible Crime

New York, Sept. 29.—The headless body of a man was washed up on Point Lookout beach, near Freeport, L. I. The body bore three wounds in the stomach, one in the leg and one under the left arm. The head had been severed close to the shoulders.

The next regular meeting of Adams Chapter, D. R., will be held at the John Adams birthplace on Saturday, Oct. 3, at 3 o'clock. Mr. F. Hurulis, Jr., will read a paper on Gov. Wm. Shirley. Each member may invite one guest.

A party who lives not far from Newcomb Square seems to have a mania for poisoning cats and hens. Last week three cats from one household were poisoned besides some hens. The party is suspected and is being closely watched, and if this work continues he will be brought into court and dealt with severely.

All Humors
Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills
Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." MRS. IRA O. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

ABSURD METHODS
said the Romoc man, expatiating on the means many people take to purify their blood. Don't you realize, he continues, that most so-called blood medicines are loaded with deadly poisons? By their use you simply force one poison out and take another just as bad or worse into your system. This is like the Indian whose blanket was too short to cover his feet, so he cut off six inches from the top and sewed it onto the bottom. You accomplish just as much good by the use of deadly mineral poisons as he did. It is different with Romoc. Romoc is Nature's remedy. There is no poison in it. Not a drop of alcohol is in this solution.

October Magazines.

A contribution of especial timeliness in the Engineering Magazine for October is Mr. Egbert P. Watson's "Issues Between Labor and Capital," showing how much of the existing trouble comes from false positions taken by the trades union and false tactics on the part of employers. He writes as a man of practical experience in both positions—as employer and workman—with no panacea, but only some sound suggestions to offer.

In the October National Senator Tillman predicts the repeal of the amendment granting suffrage to the negro; Major Porter reports vividly a bit of savage fighting in the Philippines; and Poultney Bigelow writes a rollicking story of a canoe trip in an Alpine stream.

The editor of the Review of Reviews comments in his October number on Canada's part in the Chamberlain zolluerein programme, with especial reference to commercial union as a practical policy for the United States and Canada. His comments are supplemented and reinforced in an article contributed to the same magazine by Mr. Eugene G. Hay.

Elizabeth Fiske's Bequests

Boston, Sept. 29.—By the will of the late Elizabeth Fiske a bequest of $25,000 is made to the Boston Young Womans' Christian association for a new building. The Domestic and Foreign Missionary society of the Protestant Episcopal church receives $10,000 and $5000 is bequeathed to each of the following institutions: Atlanta university and Tuskegee, Ala., normal schools, Wellesley college for scholarships and Penitent Female refuge.

Wireless Apparatus For Tug

Boston, Sept. 29.—So numerous have been the instances during the past year or two of the breaking away of barges from tows in the coastwise shipping that one of the large towing companies has decided to equip one of their tugs with a wireless telegraph system. Wireless stations are now so frequent alongshore that tugs will be within range of some one of the stations all the way from the capes of the Chesapeake to Boston.

Quarreled Over a Woman

Boston, Sept. 29.—The government has completed its evidence at the trial of Hartwell Stafford, charged with attempting to kill S. M. Bishop. The two men were rivals for the affections of Miss Etta McLean, who since has become the wife of Stafford. There had been several quarrels between the men and on April 27 Stafford went to Bishop's office and fired two shots at him. After a period in the hospital Bishop recovered.

Laffin Going to Philippines

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 29.—General Manager Laffin of the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway company has resigned, to take effect Jan. 1. He is to go to the Philippines to be general manager of the Manila Electric Railway, Light and Power company, organized by American capitalists.

Ten-Cent Milk Unlikely

Boston, Sept. 29.—Local contractors state that an advance in the price of milk is unlikely at present. The contractors admit that even if the producers' highest demand was conceded the family price would not reach the 10-cent figure.

Chance to Begin Life Anew

San Quentin, Cal., Sept. 29.—Charles Becker, considered the cleverest forger in America, has left San Quentin prison after having served seven years for raising a $12 draft to $22,000 on a San Francisco bank.

Strictly Temperance Hospital

Chicago, Sept. 29.—The cornerstone of the new Frances E. Willard national temperance hospital on Lincoln street was laid on the birthday of Miss Willard in the presence of a distinguished company. When completed the building will have cost $70,000. In the treatment of cases the use of alcohol will be prohibited.

Death of Commander Hughes

Washington, Sept. 29.—The navy department has been advised of the death at the Yokohama hospital of Commander E. M. Hughes. He was assigned to duty last November on the Asiatic station, in command of the gunboat Annapolis. He entered the service in 1863.

Forced to Break Jail

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 29.—William Haynor, John LaBarron, Sylvester Williams, Harry Kepp and Joseph Jackson escaped from the Hudson jail, Jackson, after going a short distance with the others, returning to jail and giving the alarm. He says he was forced to go.

—There are seven men still in active missionary service in China who went there in the fifties.

HANNA'S PUBLIC RECORD

Declared to Be the Paramount Issue In Ohio

SALEN'S REPLY TO DICK

Accuses Senator of Fattening Steamship Companies, Denying Home Rule to Cities and Securing Franchise Privileges Wrongfully

Cleveland, Sept. 29.—Charles P. Salen, chairman of the Ohio Democratic state executive committee, has made the following reply to Chairman Dick's letter, sent from Columbus:

Your two-column letter discussing every phase of politics, from the Penobscot to the Rio Grande, and concluding with the assertion that there is nothing to discuss, is noted in the public prints. Unless you have exhausted the subject yourself in your article your candidate might find something to discuss of a political nature at the present time. But for your assertion of your own candor I would be inclined to doubt your sincerity.

The paramount issue of the senatorial contest in this campaign is the public record of Senator M. A. Hanna and his unfitness, by reason thereof, to be returned to the United States senate. If you are not aware that John H. Clarke has attacked his public record and joined issue with the present senator upon his record—first, in fathering the ship subsidy bill, which seeks to take from the people's treasury $10,000,000 annually and put it into the treasury of the steamship companies; second, in forcing through the legislature the reactionary and expensive municipal code, which denies home rule of the cities of the state; and third, using his official position to secure for himself and associates franchise privileges to the injury of the people—you can get this information by inquiring of Senator Hanna himself.

He is on record as saying that his public record has been outrageously attacked and that when he goes upon the platform he will have something to say about it. I have asked you to arrange that Mr. Clarke may be present when he says it. You decline for reasons that would be readily guessed, if you did not assert that candor compels you to give the real reason for declining a joint discussion.

Senator Hanna understands that the above issues as to the merits of these measures which he has championed are closely joined, perhaps too closely joined for joint discussion. I trust, after advising with him, you will become informed as to the situation and accept our challenge.

I close, reminding you that it is not Senator Bailey's "free wool" in Texas which interests the people of Ohio, but the wool which I fear you are trying to pull over the eyes of the people.

Again, on behalf of John H. Clarke, I ask you to arrange for a joint discussion between him and Senator Hanna on the political issues of the campaign.

Soldiers Playing at War

West Point, Ky., Sept. 29.—The first real work of the troops assembled here for the army maneuvers centered on the solution of the various problems which confront the advance and rear guards of an army in the neighborhood of an army in time of war. The different phases of the problem were all allowed to develop in natural fashion, without premeditation, after the opposing forces had been set in motion.

Canal Treaty Speculation

Washington, Sept. 29.—Much interest is taken in Washington in what the Colombian senate will do with the canal proposition now that the Hay-Herran treaty has failed. It is known that Colombia is anxious to keep alive the canal negotiations. The bill now before the senate of Colombia, as understood here, contains treaty provisions that would be entirely unacceptable to this government.

Heavy Indian Mortality

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 29.—The report of Warden McClaughey of the United States penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth to the attorney general of the United States shows that most of the 30 deaths in the prison during the year were of Indians. Two hundred prisoners are suffering from tuberculosis, the entire Indian population being infected.

Tried to Start Rebellion

Manila, Sept. 29.—Domingo Gomez was sentenced to four years and two months' imprisonment and fined $300. Bail was refused, pending an appeal. Gomez, who was a former Spanish officer, was charged with founding the Union Obrera, an organization which was inciting the natives to rebellion.

Low Ticket's Notification

New York, Sept. 29.—Mayor Low, Comptroller Grout and President Fornes of the board of aldermen have been officially notified of their renomination for the offices mentioned by the Citizens' union and Republican city conventions. The nominees responded briefly, accepting the nominations.

Lacks Moody's Endorsement

Washington, Sept. 29.—Colonel George C. Reid, adjutant and inspector of the marine corps, has applied for retirement, with the rank of brigadier general. Secretary Moody has sent the application to the president without any recommendation.

TILLMAN'S TRIAL BEGUN

Former Lieutenant Governor Pleads Not Guilty to Murder Charge

Lexington, S. C., Sept. 29.—James H. Tillman, former lieutenant governor of South Carolina, was placed on trial here under an indictment charging him with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia State.

Judge Gary presided. It was 11 o'clock when Prosecutor Thurmond announced that the state was ready to proceed with the trial of the case, and by the time midday recess was taken at 1:30 p. m. the defendant had been arraigned, a jury drawn and charged and all was in readiness for the introduction of testimony. The solicitor is assisted by five attorneys, while the defendant has 11 lawyers, W. G. W. Croft, as chief counsel, conducting the defense.

Tillman, when asked to plead, replied in a clear and firm voice: "Not guilty."

A vigorously contested legal battle is in prospect. It was manifested at the very outset of the trial that every inch of the ground is to be contested. Nevertheless the case proceeded rapidly.

Immediately upon reconvening at 3 o'clock, the examination of witnesses was begun and when court adjourned six witnesses had testified. Court will sit early and late in order to push the trial to a conclusion as soon as practicable.

TURKEY'S PROMISE

Causes an Easier Feeling to Prevail In Bulgarian Government Circles

Sofia, Sept. 29.—The situation here is much brighter and the war clouds appear to have lifted. The porte's assurance that the 32 battalions recently ordered to proceed from Monastir to Adrianople will not be moved has lessened the apprehensions of the Bulgarian government.

The committee appointed for the purpose at the time of the demonstration of 15,000 Macedonians in this city waited on Premier Petroff and asked him if the government intended to do anything to help the Macedonians. Petroff replied that the ministry was acting in what it conceived to be the best interests of Bulgaria and would continue the same policy.

The spokesman of the committee told the premier that his reply would not be satisfactory to the people and the committee thereupon withdrew.

Protest Will Not Count For Much

Washington, Sept. 29.—Secretary Moody has the papers on the protest of Paymaster Biscoe against the arraignment of the court of which Biscoe was a member, for the inadequate sentence imposed on Assistant Paymaster Nicholson for insulting and attacking the German consul at Chefoo. The secretary's answer to Biscoe will be supplemented by an official endorsement of Admiral Evans review.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CITY BREVITIES.

Warmer tomorrow.

William Coughlin at Timberlake & Small's is taking a ten days' vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Knight, who have been spending the past three weeks at Mr. William Givens on Hamilton street, have returned to their home in Stamford, Conn.

Miss Adelaide Thomas has returned from "The Balsams," Dixville Notch, where she has been spending the summer. She will be ready to resume her teaching at an early date.

A number of the friends of Wilson E. Webb gathered at his home on Faxon avenue, Monday evening, and presented him with a watch chain and charm. Refreshments were served.

Dr. Horace M. Willard with about thirty of his pupils started Monday morning on an excursion to the White Mountains. In the party were included Mrs. Russell Seeds, Miss Marjorie Seeds, Mrs. Marceau and Mr. Henry Estabrook.

A few of the members of the class of 1902 were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Herbert Arnold. The greater part of the time was spent in enjoying literary games after which was served refreshments. The guests were received by Mrs. Arnold and Miss Edith Randall.

Miss Rose E. Drake of Quincy, and Miss Ella G. Mahoney of West Quincy have just returned from a two weeks' trip through the White Mountains. They ascended Mt. Washington by rail and also climbed to the top of Mt. Agassiz, where a fine view of the mountain range and villages below was obtained.

In Storm Near Minots.

A party of thirteen young fellows from East Dedham and vicinity left South Boston at 3 A. M. on Sunday on a fishing excursion. They were caught in the storm of Sunday night near Minots light, and were unable to make a landing until about 9 A. M. Monday, when they beached their craft at Peddock's. All were kept busy during the night bailing out the boat, and all were thoroughly drenched and tired out when they landed, having a narrow escape. Leaving their yacht at Peddock's they took the boat at Hingham for home.

In the party were: Gustave Ritcher, George Streng, Charles Smith, George Schmidt, Henry A. Pipping, Theodore G. Erler, Otto A. and Henry C. Winshman, brothers, Max Lemmer, John Geist, Arthur L. Morgner, Henry Derau and Paul Tauber.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. S. I. Wood, the milliner in the Adams building, is having her annual fall opening this week. She is displaying all the latest creations in ladies' head adornments, as well as a full line of the new fall shapes and trimmings for hats and bonnets. Some of the hats shown are very fetching.

—The first "blacklist of habitual drunkards" published in London, under the new licensing act, shows three times as many women as men.

A GOOD START.

The West Quincy Improvement Society Hears Favorable Report.

A well attended meeting of the new Improvement Society of West Quincy was held Monday evening. W. E. Badger of the committee on Sunday trains, reported that the committee with Mayor Bryant, had waited upon the officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and as a result West Quincy will, probably, in the very near future, be given an outward Sunday evening traip, and possibly an inward Sunday evening train.

This shows that the society is getting down to business, and that it will soon become a power for good, and West Quincy will derive much benefit which has hitherto been denied them, simply for lack of someone to push matters.

Before the meeting adjourned committees were appointed on Streets, Street Railway, Boulevard and Public Highways.

The personnel of the committees is as follows:

Streets—John Reardon, Robert Teasdale and Walter H. Ripley.

Parkway,—Rev. A. F. Roche, S. B. Little and T. F. Mannex.

Street Railway,—Peter T. Fallon, Robert Teasdale, F. J. Fuller, S. B. Little, Hiram W. Campbell and Rev. A. F. Roche.

Bullet In Boy's Abdomen

MAN HUNT IN VERMONT

Two Hundred Armed Men Looking For Martin

SEEN IN SEVERAL PLACES

But Never Where There Are Officers or Sufficient Numbers of Men to Effect Capture—Probably Depending Upon His Wits to Escape

Northfield, Vt., Sept. 29.—Adelbert Martin, who is under indictment for murderous assault upon Mrs. Stephen Tromblee at South Northfield last Tuesday night, has sent word to the officers who are searching for him by farmer John Vergel, at whose home he stopped for food and to whom he said that the three deputy sheriffs on his track would never catch him alive.

Martin appeared at the farm in the town of Warren, 17 miles north of this place, early yesterday and asked for something to eat. He was promptly recognized and an effort made to detain him. He declined an invitation to sit down with the family at breakfast, but took some food in his hand and hurried away. While one member of the household hurried to the nearest telephone station to notify the police at Northfield, others followed Martin down the road and attempted to engage him in conversation. He had little to say and in a few moments abruptly entered the woods near the roadway and disappeared. Officers who took up the trail later spent the day in fruitless search of the neighborhood.

The way in which Martin has evaded his pursuers, occasionally stopping at a farmhouse and begging food, but always disappearing at the approach of any considerable number of men, and yet remaining always within a radius of 20 miles from the scene of his crime, is puzzling to the police and has resulted in terrorizing farmers' families throughout this section. The man is regarded practically as an outlaw, and that he is a dangerous character no one doubts. Daily he appears at some point where he is recognized, but never where there are officers or sufficient numbers of men to effect his capture. A large revolver protrudes from his hip pocket and it is believed that he would not hesitate to use the same if necessary.

Two hundred men armed with all sorts of firearms and other weapons have continued the organized search for him. The men are divided into three posses, working under the direction of Deputy Sheriffs Fitzgerald, Gates and Moseley. They have operated in different directions, being guided by reports from sections where the man has been seen. Every foot of ground within 10 miles of this place has been gone over. Even after nightfall the search is continued, and last night sentinels were posted at numerous points on all the roads leading out of this place and a system of signals has been arranged by which the sentinels can communicate with one another promptly.

Martin is in poor health, and for this reason it is believed that he cannot travel more than eight or ten miles a day, and that he is depending less upon his ability to cover long distances than upon his wits to elude his pursuers when they are close upon him.

Martin is supposed to be a native of Calais, where his father now lives. His first appearance in Northfield was last winter, when he hired a hall here and caused advertising matter to be distributed that he would speak on his travels. His only audience at the time announced for the lecture consisted of two small boys, who were admitted as payment for having distributed his advertising matter.

In disgust he deserted the lecture platform and later, it is said, announced himself as an agent for the Anti-Saloon league. Following this he appeared in the role of a private detective and also as an agent for farm machinery. He became acquainted with Mrs. Tromblee, whom he assaulted, through having her do his washing.

The town officials are considering the advisability of offering a reward for the capture of Martin. A suspicion that the man is being secretly aided by friends has been confirmed and the investigation is likely to take a sensational turn if the fact can be established.

Seen Near Berlin

Berlin, Vt., Sept. 29.—Adelbert Martin, the man wanted for a criminal assault upon Mrs. Stephen Tromblee, approached the outskirts of this town last evening, but when recognized made a hasty departure. Just before dark he was met on the road leading to the north of the town by Albert La Forest, employed on a nearby farm. La Forest recognized Martin, as he says both he and Martin were confined together in a house of correction. He spoke to Martin, when the latter quickly drew a revolver and, pointing it at La Forest, said: "You get out of here, and in a hurry too, or I'll fill you as full of holes as a skimmer." La Forest lost no time in heeding the warning, but was so frightened that it was late last night before he reported the matter to the police.

Baseball Gladiators to Meet

Pittsburg, Sept. 29.—The Pittsburg baseball team, champions of the National league, left last night for Boston, where they will begin a series of nine games for the championship of the world with the Boston team, pennant winners of the American league.

Not a "Prisoner of the Vatican"

Rome, Sept. 29.—According to The Tribuna Pius X, on receiving the abbot of the celebrated monastery of Monte Cassini, said: "We shall soon meet at Monte Cassini." Then, remarking the effect that his words produced—an impression that his holiness would some day leave the Vatican precincts—he added: "Pray, for all things are obtained by prayer." The pope is also said to have told the abbot of a Benedictine monastery near Salerno that he himself would inaugurate the jubilee of the immaculate conception.

Gotham's Latest Mystery

New York, Sept. 29.—With the discovery of the body of a boy 14 years old on the bulkheads at Katherine street and East river the police are confronted with evidence of a crime that recalls the deeds of "Jack the Ripper." Marks on the boy's head showed that he had been cruelly maltreated and the police are satisfied that he was murdered. There are evidences that a woman was connected with the crime. Scores of persons have seen the body, but no one can identify it positively.

Postal Indictments Stand

New York, Sept. 29.—The validity of the indictments against ex-Congressman Driggs and George F. Miller, agent of the Brandt-Dent Automatic Cashier company, charging them with participation in the postal frauds, was upheld in a decision handed down by Judge Thomas. Driggs was charged with receiving money while a congressman for furthering the interests of the Automatic Cashier company and Miller was accused of paying money to corrupt a congressman.

Four-Story Leaps For Life

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—Five persons were injured by jumping from windows to escape death from fire in a building on East Ninth street. The building was occupied in the rear by a carriage company and the front was used as an apartment house. Four of the injured were imprisoned by the flames in the fourth story, and jumped from the windows.

Cabinet Meeting Is Off

Washington, Sept. 29.—The meeting of the cabinet scheduled for today has been postponed. Secretary Shaw and Secretary Wilson left town yesterday, Secretary Hay and Secretary Hitchcock are in New Hampshire, Secretary Cortelyou in Canada and Secretary Root in London, attending the sessions of the Alaskan boundary commission.

Heavy Increase In Immigration

Washington, Sept. 29.—The bureau of immigration reports that immigration to the United States during the month of August, 1903, was 64,977, against 45,549 in August, 1902. There were 810 immigrants debarred. The increase in immigration for the first two months of the present fiscal year is 38 percent.

Zigler Not a Candidate

New York, Sept. 29.—The mention of William Zigler as a possible independent candidate for mayor of New York by John C. Sheehan has elicited a communication from Zigler, who says that his name for public office in any capacity is unauthorized. Under no circumstances could he consider a nomination.

To Confer With Balfour

London, Sept. 29.—Lord Milner has arrived here from Carlsbad and Premier Balfour is expected to reach London today to confer with him. Lord Milner declined to make any statement as to whether he had accepted the secretaryship of the colonies.

Countess Can't Pay Debts

London, Sept. 29.—The failure is announced of Blanche Adeliza, dowager countess of Rosslyn, mother of the present Earl of Rosslyn, the actor, whose stage name is James Erskine. Her liabilities are said to be considerably over $250,000.

GOOD WORK

Of The United States Agricultural Department

Lifts the Battle Embargo.

Secretary Wilson Tells of Difficulties Encountered.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Secretary Wilson says that the receipt through the state department of an official notice that Great Britain has removed its embargo on cattle and sheep from the New England ports is the conclusion of the great work in which the department has been engaged since Dec. 1 for the eradication of foot and mouth disease from the New England states and the restoration of the traffic to the condition it was before this outbreak occurred. The secretary regards this as one of the most important and valuable pieces of work the department has done for American agriculture.

"No country before," he said, "has succeeded in stamping out such an extensive outbreak of this disease. The work was accomplished under great difficulties. The weather in New England last December was very inclement and the inspectors and their assistants were obliged to work in the open country with the thermometer far below zero. Some of the men had their extremities frozen and were disabled.

"Notwithstanding these obstacles the work went forward constantly and rapidly. It is difficult even at this time to understand how the pits were dug in the frozen ground for burying the carcasses and how the disinfectants were applied when almost everything of a liquid nature became frozen in a short time after it was exposed to the atmosphere. But the work was so thorough that not in a single case where the disinfection was conducted by the department's representatives did the disease reoccur when fresh cattle were introduced.

"During this work 3900 cattle and 390 hogs and sheep were slaughtered and paid for and over 200 premises were disinfected. The total cost of the work was less than $300,000. Since the last diseased herd was slaughtered all animals in the infected district have been carefully examined three times without finding any traces of the disease.

"Arrangements are now being made for forwarding cattle and sheep for export through the ports of Boston and Portland, and shipments will commence in a few days. The department has been working in connection with the state department since the first of July to secure favorable action from the British government, and is much gratified that the trade can now be resumed."

Secretary Wilson gives much credit to Dr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, and his assistants for the effectiveness of the work done.

Grout's Flirtation With Tammany

New York, Sept. 30.—All doubt surrounding Comptroller Grout's intentions in regard to his acceptance of a possible nomination by Tammany has been removed by his declaration that he will certainly accept it. In a long statement he justifies his course by declaring that the issues of the campaign are purely local and that the campaign will be made on the record of the administration of Mayor Low, whose reelection he will continue to favor.

"Down With the Czar"

Vienna, Sept. 30.—A meeting of 2000 Socialists was held last night to protest against the visit of the Czar of Russia. Addresses of the most violent character were made. One speaker remarked: "The czar, whose only instruments of cultivation are the gallows, the prison and Siberia, comes like a thief, affected by the stigma of his crimes, between a cordon of troops." The meeting broke up with shouts of "Down with the czar."

Fisherman Hooked Dead Body

Jamestown, N. Y., Sept. 30.—F. W. Hinckle, while fishing in Chatauqua lake, felt a tug on his line and upon pulling the hook to the surface was horrified to find the body of a man. It was identified as Aaron Spencer, 50 years old. Spencer left Lakewood Sunday in company with Fred Metcalfe. Metcalfe has not since been seen.

A Soldier's Sad Fate

Pittsburg, Sept. 30.—Major Samuel W. Hay met instant death last evening by falling from the fourth floor of the Arrott building through the elevator shaft to the basement, making a drop of six stories. Major Hay was a veteran of the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

Father and Son Killed

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 30.—John and William Schieffert, father and son, each the head of a family, were working in a stone quarry and had prepared a blast which failed to explode. The blast discharged as the men were tapping a load and both were instantly killed.

The Military Maneuvers

West Point, Ky., Sept. 30.—The preparation of an outpost, a proceeding not involving any contact between opposing forces, composed the second day's work done by the regular troops now in camp, pending the arrival of the state guards for the combined maneuvers.

Day Nursery to Open.

A meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Tuesday afternoon in the Council Chamber at City Hall. It was reported that the Elizabeth Adams house on Elm street had been leased for the day nursery which will be opened Tuesday, Oct. 6. It was also announced that Mrs. Harry Talbot had been engaged as matron.

NEW MEMBER OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

JAMES F. BURKE OF WARD FOUR.

EVENING SCHOOLS

To Be Open Four Nights per Week This Winter.

The regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening, Miss Adams, and Messrs Burke, Churchill, Hallowell, Hunting, Porter and Smith were present.

The chairman assigned James F. Burke, the new member, to the following sub committees: On Willard, Adams, Cranch and Gridley Bryant schools, and on evening schools.

It was voted to expend the interest of the Rock Island fund in the purchase of reference books for the High school.

EVENING SCHOOLS.

The sub-committee on evening schools recommended that the evening schools open Monday, Oct. 19.

At the Adams and Willard buildings for common branches, and at the Old High building for the drawing school.

That the sessions of the common schools be held four evenings a week instead of three as last year, and on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

That the evening drawing schools be held four evenings a week instead of six.

These recommendations were adopted and the following teachers appointed.

Adams,—James M. Nowland, principal, Thomas B. Pollard, Minnie E. Donovan, ,Ida J. Cameron, Jennie F. Griffin, Josephine L. Kelley and Sarah J. Collagan.

Willard, Austin W. Greene, principal, Winthrop N. Crocker, Frances C. Sullivan, Catherine C. McGovern, Charles W. Taylor, Annie E. Burns and Ellen G. Haley.

Drawing,—Flora M. Shackley.

It is understood that the assistants will be called into service as they are needed.

Toy Balloon Fatal.

Mary E. Daly, the 13-year-old daughter of John Daly of Haverhill, was strangled Tuesday as a result of swallowing a toy balloon. The child struggled for about 15 minutes, and died in terrible agony.

An attendance of 10,000 was reported at the Brockton Fair yesterday. Today there will be 30,000.

SUDDEN DEATH.

George W. Barry Found Dead at Home on Reardon Street.

Geo. W. Barry a well known resident of West Quincy was found dead at his home on Reardon street this morning. Mr. Barry had not been feeling well of late although his illness was not considered serious.

He lived alone and this morning when a friend called he found him dead in bed. His death was due to natural causes.

Mr. Barry was about 50 years of age and a stone cutter by trade. His father was Garret Barry, the sculptor of the ether monument in Boston.

Runaway.

A horse attached to a milk wagon became frightened on Hancock street this morning and ran away. A number of people tried to catch the animal but were unable to. The horse ran across City Square and down Washington street where a man succeeded in climbing in the back of the wagon and obtaining control of the horse.

PLEAD GUILTY.

To Charge of Riotous Assembly at Quincy Woods.

Manslaughter Charges Nol Prossed.

This Was on Date Simon Bennett Was Fatally Injured.

Seven of the Cambridge men who figured in the Sunday row at Quincy Woods, July 26, were before the Superior court at Dedham on Tuesday and plead guilty to "riotous assembly."

The original charge was assault and manslaughter, Simon Bennett one of the picnickers having received injuries from which he died several days later.

The defendants present in court were: James P. Riley, William H. Quinn, Herbert Quinn, Harry Mitchell, James H. Johnson, William P. Briney and William B. Lindsay. Having signified their willingness to plead guilty, as above reported, that plea was accepted, and the charges of manslaughter and assault were nol prossed.

The case against Obder L. Rice was previously nol prossed, and Joseph A. O'Neill, another defendant, is expected to plead guilty today.

Valentine Balcom, another defendant, who is thought to have struck the fatal blow, is reported sick.

Representative Candidates.

All party nominations for Representatives have been made but it yet remains to be seen whether any nomination papers for other gentlemen will be filed. To date the order of names as they will appear on the ballot is:

Peter T. Fallon,	Democratic.
Richard R. Freeman,	Republican.
William Kelley,	Democratic.
William T. Richards,	Socialist.
Edward J. Sandberg,	Republican.
Levi H. Turner,	Socialist.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition covers two square miles; 1240 acres. It is larger than the Chicago, Omaha, Buffalo and Paris expositions combined.

The sewer tax placed upon the city tax bills this year seems to surprise many people, but all public improvements must be paid for by the taxpayers, even those for which bonds are issued.

The Boston Americans and Pittsburg Nationals finished the season about as near equal in percentage and in games won and lost as it was possible. The former head the American league with less than 66 per cent and the latter lead the National league with just 65 per cent. Both teams won 65 games, but the Pittsburgs played two more and lost two more.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The teachers must not permit the pace of educational advance to be set by any other person in the community.—Journal of Education.

☞September always brings tales of promising football players who are induced to go to this or that college. The college that they do not choose is ever to be congratulated. A youth whose selection of his college depends upon such motives cannot add anything to an institution's character or reputation.—Providence Journal.

☞Some amiable, well-meaning persons seem to think that much can be done by providing workmen with more or less luxurious retiring and lunch rooms, where they can meet at noon hour and talk together, under the refining surroundings of flowers and music if they wish to avail themselves of it; but these innovations are not general throughout the country, and, more than this, they are not popular with workingmen and women at large. I have heard a good many of them express themselves forcibly upon the subject of "fancy bath rooms," as they call them, and point to them as evidence that employers could pay higher wages if they chose to by carrying to the salary lists the money they cost to introduce and maintain. They look upon superior surroundings as charities, and, in some sense, as a reflection upon their social status, and will have none of them. Assuredly these provisions, intended to alleviate the irksomeness of labor, have done nothing toward establishing better feeling between capital and labor, or toward settling the issues between them, for one of the most obstinate strikes occured in an establishment which was a model of the kind alluded to.—Egbert P. Watson, in The Engineering Magazine for October.

☞Rather than declare his party affiliations, Judge Richardson of the superior court retired from the caucus without voting. The incident is peculiar. Apparently the judge was not familiar with the new law, or he would have known that he must state his political leanings and be classified in one party or another before he could participate in a caucus. That he did not know this is evident by his surprise when the precinct officer asked him "What party ballot do you desire?" He later stated that he preferred to wait until election day, when he could select the candidates he wished to favor from the nominees of all parties. He ought to know that the new caucus was framed and enacted to prevent the making of party nominations by persons who have no intention of voting them, and as a judge of the law it would seem to be his duty to aid in its enforcement by taking part in the primary election. If his example is followed the so-called independent voters will avoid the caucuses, and withhold their support of candidates until the regular election. No great harm will come from this, and there is a chance for good resulting, for if men do not go to caucus they cannot help make bad nominations, but the principle on which the law is based is a good one, and so long as the voters divide into parties it should be applied. It is regretable that Judge Richardson would not give his support to a law that promises so great a reform as is sure to result from the caucus act.—Lynn Item.

NEW TEACHERS.

Elected at Meeting of the Directors of Woodward Institute.

A meeting of the directors of the Woodward Institute was held Tuesday afternoon. Seven members were present.

Miss Helen Claflin was elected teacher of modern languages.

The resignation of Miss Mary C. Fish, director of physical culture was received and accepted with regret. Miss Fish resigns to accept the position as assistant professor of physical culture in the University of Kansas.

Miss Martha E. Maccarty was elected as director of physical culture to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Fish.

Miss Maccarty was chosen from a list of eight or ten applicants, as she is a teacher of unusually good preparation and large experience.

The superintendent was instructed to ascertain the cost of a course of cooking.

Danger From Lightning.

There is a new danger from the storehouses for powder and dynamite, and Quincy might not escape as did Acton. Lightning struck one of the powder mills in Acton, Sunday night, and 3,500 pounds of powder was blown up. The loss amounts to about $7,500. Such things are expected in Acton, and they are provided for, just as anything is that relates to ordinary business. An explosion once in about so often is taken into the calculations of the business, and if none of the help are injured it is counted as fortunate. There are no residences near the mills to be injured as was the case near the cartridge works in Tewksbury, so the blowing up of a mill or two creates no excitement.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

No Evident Improvement of the Situation In the Balkans

Sofia, Sept. 30.—A telegram received here from the camp of General Zontcheff, the commander-in-chief of the Macedonian insurgents, at Razlog (55 miles from Sofia), announces that a general rising was proclaimed Sept. 27 in five districts and that all the insurgent bands in eastern Macedonia have received direct orders to begin operations.

The chief hope of the revolutionary organization now centers in the outbreak in eastern Macedonia, which is expected to assume considerable proportions, as the leaders there are all officers of the Bulgarian reserve. This, the sympathizers with the Macedonian cause hope, will arouse a war feeling in the Bulgarian army and force the government to espouse the Macedonian cause.

Dispatches received here from various sources say General Zontcheff has been greeted everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm and that all the peasants are flocking to his banner.

A dispatch from Rilo monastery says the town of Razlog has been in flames since Sunday night.

The insurgents are attacking Butchevo and severe fighting is reported to be going on between the insurgent bands and the Turkish troops. The sound of artillery is plainly heard at Rilo.

Another fight is reported to have taken place 28 miles from Monastir, in which 50 Turks were killed and many were wounded.

It is reported that all the intelligent Bulgarians of the town of Okhrida were recently arrested on suspicion of communicating with the insurgent bands and were sent in chains to Monastir.

A letter from Philippopolis, dated yesterday, says the authorities there have distributed rifles and ammunition in all the frontier villages, for use in case of an attack being made by the Turks.

Will Protect Non-Unionists

Chicago, Sept. 30.—A federation of manufacturers and employers' associations, employing tens of thousands of skilled workmen, with a combined capital of about $1,000,000,000, was formed here. Plans were made for a general meeting of representatives of employers' associations and citizens' alliances the first week in November, when a National Employers' association will be formed. The object of this federation will be to protect and promote interests of the employers and the independent workmen of the country by all legitimate means.

QUIETING DOWN

Situation on the "Soo" Appears to Be Much Brighter—A Receivership

Sault Ste Marie, Sept. 30.—The arrest of nine men charged with being implicated in the riot at the Canadian Soo of a mob of discharged employes of the Consolidated Lake Superior company and an attempt of a number of the men forcibly to resist detention by the concern at Wilde Station on the Algoma Central are among the developments in the situation at the Soo. Numerous requests by employment agencies for the services of many of the large number of employes thrown out of work by the closing of the concern and its various affiliated companies, to which they are responding, and the absence of destitution have given the men hope, and with the exception of the incidents mentioned everything is again quiet.

Mayor Plummer has, with the sanction of the municipality, readily aided the needy, but he announced in a statement last night that with the arrival of the militia all unemployed men of the company who have refused to accept the offers of work elsewhere will be forced to leave.

Frankenthal Appointed Receiver

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 30.—Upon application of the Central Trust company of New York, holding a mortgage on the property of the Michigan Lake Superior Power company of Sault Ste Marie, one of the Clergue properties, for $2,400,000, Judge Wanty appointed a receiver for the corporation in the person of B. F. Frankenthal of Easton, Pa. The mortgage of $2,400,000 held by the Central Trust company is subject to a first mortgage for $3,000,000. In all probability as soon as the default in the interest of the larger mortgage matures, its holders will ask that a receiver be also appointed and Frankenthal probably named.

Delay Will Not Be Tolerated

Washington, Sept. 30.—The navy department has submitted to the Crescent Shipbuilding company of Elizabethport, N. J., the conditions on which the orders cancelling the contracts for the cruiser Chattanooga and the torpedo boats O'Brien and Nicholson will be revoked. These conditions are of a confidential character, but involve the resumption of work on these vessels almost immediately and its progress without interruption. The company has asked 10 days to consider the conditions, which has been granted by Chief Constructor Bowles.

Arbitration In Milk Deadlock

Boston, Sept. 30.—A feeling of decided optimism pervades the headquarters of both the directors of the Milk Producers' union and the Boston milk contractors and it is believed that a price of 38 cents a can at Boston will be agreed upon. Late last night the directors were asked by the contractors if they would submit the entire matter to arbitration. The immediate reply was favorable, and at a conference to be held today plans for arbitration will be drawn up.

Labrador Expedition a Failure

St. Johns, Sept. 30.—Steamer Virginia Lake, from Labrador, brings the members of the Labrador exploring expedition organized by Colonel Glazier of New York, whose staying in Labrador was much briefer than was expected. The expedition was previously reported as having partly failed in its endeavor to reach the farthest point north in Labrador. Its return after so short a period indicates that a comparatively small amount of exploration has been done.

Public Official Received Bribes

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Dr. Baganz, secretary to the public prosecutor, who was charged with accepting bribes to betray official secrets in actions taken by the public prosecutor, and his wife, who was accused of being her husband's accomplice, were found guilty and the former was sentenced to four years' imprisonment, while his wife was sent to prison for six months. Baganz confessed his guilt. He received a total of $25,000 in bribes.

British Statesmen Not Plentiful

London, Sept. 30.—It has been taken for granted that Premier Balfour would complete the reconstruction of the cabinet before going to Sheffield to deliver his long expected speech explaining his fiscal policy. It is now seen that that is impossible and the apparent waiting for Lord Milner's decision is commented on by the papers as emphasizing the dearth of first-class statesmen in the conservative ranks.

Heavy Expense In Hatter's Suit

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 30.—Deputy Sheriff Doolin, who served the writs in the suit brought by D. E. Loewe & Co., the Danbury hatters, against the officers of the National Federation of Labor and the United Hatters of North America and 250 members of the latter organization as individuals, has returned reports to the superior court, and his fee for mileage, searching records, etc., amounted to $2860.40.

Seizure of $9000 Worth of Liquor

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 30.—Internal revenue agents at Milton seized 6000 gallons of liquor, valued at $9000, just as the barrels were being loaded on a train for shipment. The 115 barrels were seized for violation of the revenue law. Officers decline to divulge the particulars. The distillery belonged to T. M. Angle and was the most extensive government distillery in this district.

Forgery Is Charged

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 30.—William Kane, aged 22, of Waterbury was arrested at that place on the charge of forgery. He was brought here and his case was continued until Friday. In default of bail he was locked up. Joseph Minor alleges that Kane forged his name to two orders for goods. Kane admits signing the orders, and says he did so with the consent of Minor.

Thought He Had No Friends

Keene, N. H., Sept. 30.—B. M. Pollard, a retired merchant, 60 years of age, had been out driving and late yesterday afternoon his horse returned to the barn with an empty carriage. Search resulted in the discovery near a stream of Pollard's hat and a note from him in which he said: "No one will miss me." Several hours later the body was recovered from the water.

Liquor Dealers Lose Licenses

Brattleboro, Vt., Sept. 30.—Something of a stir was created here when the liquor license commissioners revoked four licenses because of alleged sales to minors, leaving in town only two second-class licenses. These are in drug stores, where the liquor cannot be drunk on the premises. The license commissioners are all avowed high license men.

No Verdict In Manson Case

Putnam, Conn., Sept. 30.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Manson, charged with the murder of Mrs. Wilson, the mother of her lover, after having been out 3½ hours reported that they could not agree. Judge Thayer sent the jury back for a reconsideration of the case. At 9 o'clock last night he dismissed the jury until today.

Has Shipwrecked Crew Aboard

Bucksport, Me., Sept. 30.—The Italian barkentine Eros, from London, for Bangor, signalled that she had on board 18 shipwrecked sailors out of crew of 21. The name of the shipwrecked craft was not signalled and will not be known until the Eros proceeds up the river.

Railway Treasurer's Sudden Death

Boston, Sept. 30.—Charles E. Dresser, treasurer of the Waltham Street Railway company, died suddenly at his apartments in the Hotel Westminster from fatty degeneration of the heart. He was born at Lee, Mass., 38 years ago and was unmarried.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CHASE ABANDONED

Posse Scoured Wide Territory In a Vain Search For Martin

Northfield, Vt., Sept. 30.—Persistently outwitted by the fugitive, the three posses of citizens organized to aid the police in their search for Adelbert Martin, who is under indictment for assault upon Mrs. Stephen Tromble e, last night gave up in disgust and will leave the further pursuit of the man to the officers. Nearly 150 men engaged in the search, but not even so much as a sight of Martin was obtained by any of them. Until yesterday Martin has appeared at some farmhouse daily, but he has not yet been seen by an officer. Though his pursuers have been ready to take drastic measures if necessary to effect his capture, they have not had an opportunity to burn any powder.

Sheriffs Fitzgerald, Gates and Moseley, assisted by three constables, will continue the search, though the officers believe that Martin has left this locality.

Demands of Silver Workers

Meriden, Conn., Sept. 30.—A demand for a nine-hour day with 10 hours' pay was presented at all the factories of the International Silver company and it is understood that a similar demand has been made or will be made on every silver shop in the United States and Canada. In addition to the 9-hour demand, an allowance of "time and a half" for over-time work is asked for. It is proposed that the new schedule shall go into effect on Jan. 1, 1904, and an answer to the demands before Oct. 5 is asked for. In this city the International Silver company has between 4000 and 5000 employes and large numbers are employed in other towns of the state.

Four Held For Grand Jury

Boston, Sept. 30.—Detective Thompson was the principal witness in the municipal court against C. C. Mitchell, F. E. Collins, former employes of the Boston and Northern street railway, and G. E. H. Morse and F. A. Morse, owners of a printing office in this city, who are charged with printing and circulating bogus street car tickets. Maxwell's case was separate. After a protracted hearing F. A. Morse was discharged for lack of evidence, and the other four were held for the grand jury.

Lynn-Nahant Railway Favored

Nahant, Mass., Sept. 30.—At a special town meeting last night, it was voted to favor the proposed franchise for an electric railway between Lynn and this place. This decision ends a contest of several years' standing between two street railway corporations and the opposing summer residents. Each of the rival companies has been given a hearing by the selectmen, and the special meeting has left the matter in their hands, to decide which company shall be given the franchise.

Not Done With Jennings Case

Rockland, Me., Sept. 30.—County officers are continuing the investigation of the supposed murder of Edward Jennings, the Isle Au Haut fisherman who disappeared Aug. 20, and whose body was found three weeks later and interred after an incomplete autopsy. The body has been disinterred. A bullet that evidently entered the breast was not found, but external evidences showed that the supposed murderer of Jennings weighted the body and sank it.

Brought Back From Canada

Portland, Me., Sept. 30.—Detective Hartnett and Deputy Marshal Hanks of Augusta arrived here last night from Montreal with Joseph Lefabre, who is wanted for robbing Michael Burns of Augusta of $760 last March. Lefabre was brought here on requisition papers.

Street Tragedy at 'Frisco

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Marie Jordan, a cloak saleswoman, was shot dead on the street here by Edward de la Brousse, who then fired a shot into his head, inflicting a wound which probably will prove fatal. The tragedy was the result of jealousy.

THE SHERMAN HOLDUP

Described by Participant Who Was Captured

SAYS HE PREVENTED DEATH

By Refusing to Agree to Program For Killing Paymaster to Secure Booty —Got but $320 Out of Nearly $3000 —Would Get Full Share In Italy

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 30.—Previous to his arraignment at Brooklyn Guiseppi Mannino, who was arrested in that city as he was about to board a steamer for Sicily on the charge of complicity in the robbery of Paymaster Sherman of the Saranac mills, who was held up in this city Sept. 19 by three men and compelled to hand over a bag containing nearly $3000, made a clean breast of the robbery and implicated Antonio Agrusa and Ferdinando Badalaneuti, both Sicilians. Agrusa, the prisoner said, was the ringleader in the plot, and it was first planned to murder Sherman, but this part of the program was finally abandoned, because of Mannino's objections.

The Monday following the hold-up the men separated in Boston, agreeing to meet eventually in Palermo, Sicily, where an equal division of the spoils was to be made. Mannino went to Brooklyn, where he was apprehended. At that time he had received only $320 of the booty. Mannino was remanded to jail for 30 days as a fugitive from justice.

Woonsocket officers will go to Albany and appear before Governor Odell with their requisition papers received from Governor Garvin. Paymaster Sherman and Chief of Police Dodge of this city were present at the hearing of Mannino and Dodge sent word to this city last night that he expected to be able to bring the prisoner here on Thursday. He also notified the local headquarters of Mannino's detailed confession. He says that Mannino believes his two companions are hiding in the Sicilian district of some eastern city, probably Boston.

Mannino was employed as a watchman at the cottage where strikebreakers employed at the Saranac mills of the American Woolen company during the recent strike were housed. Badalanenti was employed in the plush mill at Manville, at which place Mannino was also employed after leaving the Saranac mills. At that place they fell in with Agrusa, who interested them in the plot to hold up Paymaster Sherman as he was going from the bank to the mills on payday, when they knew he would have with him a large sum of money.

When Sherman's carriage came in sight, Mannino said he grasped the horse by the head, Badalenenti seized a rein with one hand, holding aloft a knife in the other, while Agrusa pointed a revolver at Sherman's head and took the bag of money from him. After securing the booty, the men made for the woods, and gradually made their way to Worcester, where they arrived at nightfall. They spent the evening in the outskirts of the city and late at night boarded a passenger train for Boston, which they reached about 12:30 Sunday morning. Later they succeeded in finding a clothing store that was willing to do business on the Sabbath, and each bought a suit of clothes. While in the woods the money bag had been cut open with a razor, and Mannino then received $320. While in Boston Sunday they reached a decision to separate on the following day, with the understanding that they were to make their way as soon as possible to Palermo, at which time the booty was to be divided and Mannino receive the balance of his share.

Roosevelt's Candidacy Endorsed

Denver, Sept. 30.—The Republican state convention adopted a resolution tendering Theodore Roosevelt a unanimous nomination for president in 1904 and also pledging the electoral vote of Colorado for the Republican ticket. Only one office, that of justice of the supreme court, is to be filled this year, and for this Chief Justice Campbell was renominated by acclamation.

Aged Sinner a Murderer

Pittsburg, Sept. 30.—George W. Garwood, a wealthy coal broker, aged 65, shot and killed Hilda Vogel, aged 22, and then killed himself in the apartments occupied by the couple. Jealousy was the cause of the deed. Garwood had a wife and nine children living, but about two years ago he became infatuated with Hilda Vogel, who was a waitress in a restaurant.

City Buys Dickens' Birthplace

London, Sept. 30.—The birthplace of Charles Dickens, at Landport, near the Portsmouth dockyard, was sold at auction last night and bought in for $5625 by the mayor, representing the city of Portsmouth. A Dickens museum will probably be established in the house.

No Action Against Lynchers

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 30.—The grand jury announces that it has decided to ignore the bill against those charged with being concerned with the burning at the stake of George White, the negro who assaulted and murdered Miss Helen Bishop.

Porto Rico's First University

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 30.—The University of Porto Rico opened with the enrollment of 150 normal students. It is the first university established on the island.

Warmer.

We regret to learn that Miss Marden of Grade VII Washington school is nursing a broken thumb.

Mrs. Emery of Thompson street will leave Monday next for Pictou, N. S., where she will visit her mother for a season.

Auctioneer Johnson will have a large sale of nearly new furniture at the residence of Mrs. Jones at Quincy Point on Friday.

The Volkmann school foot ball team is scheduled to play Quincy High at Quincy, Oct. 9, and the Hyde Park High will be here Oct. 17.

Mrs. Barbour and daughter Thurza of Portland, Maine, and Miss Huldah Grant of New York have been guests of Mrs. Hiram Ellis of Charles street for a week.

It is reported that Mr. George Anderson of Charles street has resigned his position as civil engineer at Fore River to accept a more lucrative post in South Africa.

Inquests were held before Judge Avery today on the deaths of G. Simon Bennett, Victor Luomi, Earl R. Beale and the child of Salma Akerson, of Quincy; Margaret Young, of Randolph; and Daniel Driscoll, of Weymouth.

Pickpocket Case.

In the Superior court at Dedham on Tuesday Joseph Sullivan, James Devine and James Feeney, all of Boston, charged with larceny from the person of James T. Townsend in a car of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. at Holbrook June 29, were tried and the jury returned a verdict of guilty against all three defendants. Judge Lawton sentenced Sullivan to 18 months at the house of correction, Devine to from three to four years at the house of correction, and Feeney to two and one half years at the house of correction.

Coal Barges to be Built.

Assistant Naval Constructor Guy A. Bisset, acting head of the department of construction and repair at the Charlestown Navy Yard, has been notified that the navy department has decided to have two coal barges built at this yard immediately. They will each have a carrying capacity of at least 250 tons of coal. The barges are for use in connection with the naval depot at Narragansett.

Well and Active.

The Post says Henry H. Faxon, the well-known temperance advocate, has reached his 80th year and is remarkably well and active. Mr. Faxon can say with Old Adam:

"For in my youth I never did apply
Hot and rebellious liquors to my blood,
Therefore my age is like a lusty winter,
Frosty, but kindly."

TODAY'S COURT.

QUESTION OF UNIONISM

Does Not Enter Into President's Administration

REFUSES TO DISMISS MILLER

Because of Being a Non-Union Man—Tells Labor Leaders That His Decision Is Final and Gives the Reasons Governing His Conclusion

Washington, Sept. 30.—An important conference took place at the White House last night between President Roosevelt and five members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, including President Gompers and Mr. Mitchell, head of the Miners' union, during which the case of Foreman Miller of the government printing office, who was dismissed because he had been expelled from the local Bookbinders' union and afterwards was reinstated by direction of the president, was the principal topic of discussion.

The conference was granted at the request of the labor leaders. The Miller case was fully presented by the members of the executive council, at the close of which the president made a statement in which he announced that his decision not to dismiss Miller was final and that the question of his personal fitness must be settled in the regular routine of administration.

A statement given to the press at the White House says:

"As regards the Miller case, I have little to add to what I have already said. In dealing with it I ask you to remember that I am dealing purely with the relation of the government to its employes. I must govern my action by the laws of the land, which I am sworn to administer, and which differentiate any case to which the government of the United States is a party from all other cases whatsoever. These laws are enacted for the benefit of the whole people, and can and must not be construed as permitting discrimination against some of the people. I am president of all the people of the United States without regard to creed, color, birthplace, occupation or social condition. My aim is to do equal and exact justice as among them all. In the employment and dismissal of men in the government service I can no more recognize the fact that a man does or does not belong to a union as being for or against him than I can recognize the fact that he is a Protestant or a Catholic, a Jew or a Gentile, as being for or against him.

"In the communications sent me by various labor organizations protesting against the retention of Miller in the government printing office, the grounds alleged are two-fold:

"1—That he is a non-union man; 2—That he is not personally fit. The question of his personal fitness is one to be settled in the routine of administrative etail and cannot be allowed to conflict with or to complicate the larger question of governmental discrimination for or against him or any other man because he is or is not a member of a union. This is the only question now before me for decision, and as to this my decision is final."

From the manner of the labor leaders as they came from the White House it was evident that they were not entirely satisfied with the result of their interview. They declined to be interviewed.

The council also brought to the attention of the president several matters of legislation in which it is interested. Among these were the enforcement of the eight-hour and anti-injunction bill which passed the house of representatives at the last session of congress. The president, Mr. Gompers said, expressed himself as favorable to the principles of the short-hour workday and his deep concern for the interest of the wage-earners of the country.

The president also was asked by his visitors to take up the case of Ephriam W. Clark, who is confined in the Thomaston, Me., jail, under a sentence of life imprisonment for mutiny. The president was asked to extend executive clemency in Clark's case.

Criticised by Iron Workers

Kansas City, Sept. 30.—The iron workers' convention adopted this resolution criticising President Roosevelt's "open shop" policy: "We are unalterably opposed to the open shop, and we will, so far as it is in our power, give our aid to any union to sustain their position. We do not concur with the action of the president in regard to the reinstatement of one Miller of the bookbinders, and we denounce his action as being unfriendly and unjust to trade unionism."

Chicago's Centennial Parade

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The great parade of the centennial celebration, which last night filed for three hours through the streets, was a wonderful success. A crowd estimated at 1,000,000 people lined the streets through which the procession passed and cheered its features. The parade was practically destitute of music because of the ban placed by the Musicians' union. A few amateur bands were scattered throughout the parade and all of them were lustily cheered by the crowd.

Quincy Woman President.

Mrs. Ida S. Brown of Wollaston was reelected president at the annual convention of the Norfolk County Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Needham on Tuesday. The secretary is Mrs. Agnes A. Haskell of Sharon, and the treasurer Mrs. Augusta Crehore of Canton.

Mrs. James B. Bowmar was appointed county superintendent of railroad work, and Mrs. Clara S. Morrill, county superintendent of evangelistic work and mothers' meetings, at the meeting of the executive committee.

Numerous reports were made, and interesting papers presented. Lunch was provided at noon by the women of the Highlandville M. E. church.

Crop Report for Massachusetts.

In its crop report for September, which will appear on or about Oct. 1, the Mass. State Board or Agriculture will include the following summary of crop conditions in Massachusetts, compiled from a study of the reports of about 150 correspondents:

The warm weather of the month brought Indian corn forward rapidly, but it is nevertheless one of the poorest crops ever secured, poorer even than that of 1902. There has been damage from frost in some localities, and even where the crop has escaped thus far it is not eared well and there are many imperfect ears. The stover is also poorly developed and many dairy farmers will not have enough to fill their silos. There it has escaped damage from the frost it should be of good nutritive value, both for stover and ensilage. Much of the crop remained to be cut at the time of making returns.

Where the first crop of hay was cut early the rowen crop is phenomenally heavy, but many fields were cut so late that it is doubtful if more than an average crop is secured on the whole. The weather of the month has been very favorable for securing the crop and it is of excellent quality. Fall feed is in excellent condition in all sections, with the exception of Cape Cod and a few localities in Bristol and Plymouth counties.

All farm work was delayed by the lateness of haying and at the time of making returns much less fall seeding than usual has been done. The work was progressing well with fair weather and probably as much as usual will finally be put in. That sown early made a good catch and was growing luxuriantly, but there were many reports that the later sown seed was lieing dormant in the ground awaiting rain to promote germination.

Onions are a very poor crop in most localities. Giving the reports from the regions of principal production their proper weight it is probable that not over half a crop will be secured. There was much complaint of blight, which shortened the crop in many localities, and also that those remaining green were dieing down very slowly, with small bottoms and an undue proportion of thick necks. The quality of the crop is therefore not expected to be up to the standard.

Potatoes promised to be an unusually good crop and the yield would undoubtedly have been larger but for the presence of rot, which was general throughout the State, though perhaps most severe in the western countries. Not more than a three-fourths crop has been secured on the whole and many fields have given total failures. The qualities of the tubers is generally excellent where unaffected by rot.

Root crops are generally reported as promising well, though somewhat late in most sections. Celery is also a good crop as far as reported. Other late market-garden crops generally give good promise, but are not especially forward and need further warm weather for best results.

Apples were blown from the trees to a considerable extent by the high winds of the 16th and 17th, but still give a better crop than i common on an off year, although the fruit is not large or especially free from blemishes. Pears are a fair crop, though perhaps not as good as previously indicated. Very few peaches were secured. Grapes did not develope according to the promise of the earlier season and the crop proved nearly a failure. Cranberries are a light crop in the sections of commercial production, probably even lighter than that of last year.

This bulletin will contain also an article by Dr. E. T. Fernald on "Some Common Scale Insects," which treats at length on the San Jose and other scales, and can be obtained by application to J. Lewis Ellsworth, secretary State Board of Agriculture, Boston, Mass., and those desiring to receive these bulletins regularly may have their names placed on the mailing lists for that purpose.

The Conference.

The afternoon and evening sessions of the fall meeting of the Norfolk Conference of Congregational churches at Quincy Point Thursday wer every largely attended, the church being none too large to accommodate those who attended. The program as published was carried out with the exception that the topic assigned to Rev. O. E. Van Slyke was taken by Rev. De Mont Goodyear of Abington.

Short Lobsters.

Antonio Veader, who claims Weymouth as his residence, plead guilty in the Hingham court Tuesday to having 84 short lobsters in his possession. He was fined $50 and costs.

CONVENTION

Held Today at Tremont Temple, Boston.

The Attendance Larger Than of Late.

All Parts of State Well Represented on Ticket.

Boston, Oct. 1.—Democrats from all parts of the state are in attendance at today's convention at Tremont temple. This ticket was nominated:

For governor, William A. Gaston, Boston; lieutenant governor, Richard Olney, 2d, Leicester; secretary of state, E. M. Ezekiel, Springfield; attorney general, J. J. Flaherty, Gloucester; treasurer, T. C. Thatcher, Yarmouth; auditor, F. X. Tetrault, Southbridge.

The platform calls for a revision of the new corporation law, bringing about equalization of taxation on foreign and domestic corporations, which in effect would strike at trusts doing business in Boston. Other planks are: Canadian reciprocity; condemnation of trusts; revision of the tariff; the removal of all duties on trust made articles; no tariff on raw materials and necessaries of life; protest against any attempt to repeal the 14th and 15th amendments to the United States constitution, which southern Democrats propose; condemnation of lynching "in north and south;" "home rule" for Boston and all cities and towns of the commonwealth; economy in state expenditures. Municipal police commission for Boston; revision of the powers of the courts to act on so-called "government by injunction" cases; calling for an equitable scale of railroad and freight rates as a means of reaching the trusts.

Rhode Island Democrats' Ticket

Providence, Oct. 1.—The Democrats of Rhode Island met in annual convention here today and selected the state ticket and adopted a platform. L. F. C. Garvin of Cumberland was unanimously renominated for governor and the following ticket selected: Lieutenant governor, Adelard Archambault; secretary of state, J. J. Gilmartin; attorney general, C. A. Aldrich; general treasurer, Clark Potter. There was very little interest in the convention, and the usual contests for general offices were lacking. The platform was confined almost exclusively to state issues and the existing methods of government were severely arraigned.

No Intent to Kill

Boston, Oct. 1.—Hartwell Stafford was found guilty of assault with a loaded revolver upon Stillman Bishop. The indictment charged assault with intent to kill, but the jury reduced the offense by eliminating the intent to kill clause.

Carpet Plant Changes Hands

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 1.—The Hogg Carpet company, located in Stoneville, has been sold to three New York capitalists for $75,000 spot cash. The new company will quadruple the size of the plant before the end of 1904.

Sixteen Fishermen Rescued

Fort Point, Me., Oct. 1.—Sixteen sailors, the entire crew of the French fisherman Vengeur which was lost on the Grand Banks during the recent gale, were brought in by the Italian barkentine Eros.

Woods Full of Game

Bangor, Me., Oct. 1.—Close time on deer in Maine expired at sunrise today when it was lawful to shoot this big game. Open time on moose, however, does not begin until Oct. 15.

UP TO STANDARD.

The Brockton Fair as Grand as Ever--Big Crowds.

Quincy is largely represented at the Brockton Fair today, many of the stores closing for the day. Several hundred left for Brockton on the morning trains, others going by electric cars and carriages.

Yesterday there was an attendance of 28,000, and the weather was ideal.

The horse show is one of the biggest cards this year. An enclosure has been partitioned off in full view of the grand stand. The jumping classes are particularly interesting.

The trotting is almost continuous, their being five classes on Wednesday. The best time was in the free-for-all class when the Bishop from Thomas W. Lawson's farm went in 2.11.

Two apparently successful balloon ascensions were made, but Prof. Laroux, one of the aeronauts, in making his parachute drop landed on a house and fell to the ground. His injuries were not serious.

The loop the loop attraction has been withdrawn because of the accident on Tuesday, but there was a continuous performance on the vaudeville stage, including W. H. Hill in a high wire act, and a troupe of well-trained horses.

The midway is without the shocking features of the past, but the fakirs are more numerous than ever.

The exhibits of fruit and flowers, handiwork paintings, etc., in the hall is up to the usual standard.

There are also a large number of entries of cattle, fowl, pigeons, ducks, etc.

The nursery where little children may be left in the care of experienced attendants, while not an exhibit, attracts a great deal of attention. On Tuesday 69 children were admitted and Wednesday there were more.

Fitz a Victor in First Round

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—In the fight last night between Bob Fitzsimmons and Con Coughlin, the latter was knocked down three times in the first round and before the round closed Coughlin's seconds threw up the sponge and the bout ended.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, Oct. 2.
Sun rises—5:41; sets—5:26.
Moon sets—1:41 a. m.
High water—8:15 a. m.; 8:30 p. m.

An area of high pressure still covers the Atlantic coast states. Little rain has fallen in any part of the country. Fair weather is indicated for New England, except that scattered showers are probable in the northern portion. Generally higher temperatures will prevail.

—Sleepy grass is found in New Mexico, Texas and Siberia. It has a most injurious effect on horses and sheep, being a strong narcotic or sedative, and causing profound sleep or stupor lasting 24 hours to 48 hours.

GOULD--SHAW.

Wedding Followed by Large Reception at Braintree.

In the presence of only the immediate family relatives and friends, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at half after seven o'clock at the home of the bride, Miss Sarah Shaw and Dr. Chester Harlow Gould, both of Braintree. Rev. Frederick W. Burrows, of the First Congregational church officiated.

The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Elinor May Shaw, who was gowned in a dainty white Swiss muslin. The best man was Dr. C. E. Montague of Wakefield.

The ushers were Oscar Gallagher and James H. Bayley, Jr., of Braintree, Charles E. Tirrell, of SouthWeymouth, James N. Pringle, of Sharon, and Ralph Vinal of Boston.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Willie H. Shaw. Mr. Arthur Raymond organist at First church presided at the piano being assisted by an orchestra.

A large reception followed the ceremony from eight until ten. Dr. and Mrs. Gould being assisted in receiving by the bride's sister, who looked charming in a light blue crepe de chine. The bride's gown was white crepe de chine, trimmed with point lace and chiffon, her only ornament being of pearl, a gift from the groom. She never looked prettier than in her bridal white, receiving the congratulations of her host of friends.

Asparagus fern, palms, pinks, and white roses, made the interior of the house a bower of beauty and fragrance, and the wedding bell hung over the happy couple.

Guests were present from the Weymouths, Quincy, Boston, Brockton, Dedham and Braintree, and although the house is spacious it was hardly large enough to accommodate all the friends of the popular couple.

A wedding supper was served and there was a beautiful display of wedding gifts.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Shaw, and since the death of her parents has with her sister resided at the family homestead on Washington street, Braintree. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Gould, of Brockton. He located in Braintree in 1900, since which time he has built up a successful practice, being popular among his colleagues, patients and townspeople.

After the reception, Dr. and Mrs. Gould left in an automobile, which seems to be superseding the carriage and pair, perhaps because it bears the couple more quickly away from mischievous friends. The honeymoon is to be spent in the White Mountains and on their return they are to reside on Washington street, Braintree.

WHORE--SMITH.

A Quiet Family Wedding at Provincetown on Cape.

At Provincetown on the end of Cape Cod at 12 M. today there was a quiet family wedding of two young people well known in Quincy. The bride, Miss Priscilla Myrick Smith, is a sister of Mrs. Herman F. McIntire of this city, and the groom, Mr. Stephen Cook Whorf, is a draughtsman of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co., and plays the violin in the Braintree Orchestral club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Smith of Provincetown, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. Lynn of the Universalist church of Hyannis.

Mr. and Mrs. Whorf will reside in Quincy.

Reception to Mothers.

The Mothers' Meeting will be held at Bethany Chapel, Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 3 P. M., it being the annual reception to mothers and children.

Mrs. Louise O. Tead, president of Maternal Association of Somerville, will read a paper on "A Mother's Responsibility." Miss Grace Isaac will sing.

The little folks will be photographed on the church lawn. This will be done promptly at three o'clock. All mothers and children cordially invited.

Drift of Opinion.

There is a controversy on over "false and genuine wines." Can there be anything genuine about the dishonest fiend who robs your brains?—New York Mail and Express.

The president has sent his congratulations to the Iowa couple to whom a seventeenth child has lately been born. If they are bringing up the other sixteen well as honorable and useful American citizens, very good; if they are not, however much they may be congratulated, no congratulations are due to the country.—New Bedford Standard.

The friends of the beneficiaries of the Allen fund, who were so heartlessly robbed by the absconding Treasurer, have commenced in earnest to make good the deficit. About one-half of the $75,000 has already been raised, and the generosity shown indicates a purpose to make good the entire amount. It was a heavy burden to impose upon the churches of the New England conference, but they have bravely taken it up, and will not cease their labors until the fund is restored, and the poor and aged who have drawn from its income are assured that their help will be given when required.—Lynn Item.

COURSER LED ASTRAY

Says Others Induced Him to Attempt to Commit Murder

Lancaster, N. H., Oct. 1.—Robert Courser, the man who was arrested at Hardwick, Vt., charged with the attempt to dynamite the home of Duncan McKenzie at Dalton, was brought to the jail here, where he confessed to being one of a party of three men who had deliberately planned to murder Orin Crouch, a boarder at the McKenzie home. Just before daylight last Friday a cartridge of dynamite was placed under the window of the room where Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were sleeping and exploded. All the windows on that side of the house were shattered, and the woodwork was burned, but the inmates were uninjured.

Courser disappeared on the same morning, and as a feud had existed between him and the McKenzie family he was suspected of having perpetrated the outrage, which, it was supposed, was directed against McKenzie. The police immediately began to search for Courser, but nothing was seen of him until he was located at Hardwick.

Courser says no harm to the McKenzies was intended, but the three men had determined to settle an old score with Crouch, and to do so decided to blow up the house where he lived. The other men, he said, purchased the dynamite and left the actual commission of the crime to him. He bolstered up his courage with a liberal quantity of whiskey. He expressed deep regret at having been led into the affair.

Coal Men Strike a Snag

Boston, Oct. 1.—The directors of the Philadelphia and New England Coal company were in session an entire day in an effort to adjust the difficulties they have encountered in an attempt to operate an independent cut-price distributing system in various New England cities and towns. By nightfall the task was only partially completed. Their troubles, they say, were caused by inexperience and the mismanagement of one of their general agents, who has since been discharged.

Martin Again Slips Away

Northfield, Vt., Oct. 1.—One fleeting glimpse of Adelbert Martin, who is wanted here for assault upon Mrs. Thomas Tromblee, rewarded Officers Hutchinson and Tracey while scouring Paine mountain. Martin was sitting on the ground when first seen, but afterwards rose and disappeared in the direction of what is known as Paine Bluff. The officers hurried after him, but when they reached the place he was nowhere to be seen. They say he walked very slowly and limped.

Mrs Manson a Poisoner

Putnam, Conn., Oct. 1.—After 10 hours' deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against Mrs. Mary Manson, charged with killing Mrs. Julia A. Wilson by poisoning. An indeterminate sentence of not less than eight years and not more than ten years in state prison was imposed, with a nominal fine of $1. The prisoner received the verdict calmly.

ON THE LOOKOUT.

The Mayflower Is Expected This Evening.

With the London Honourables.

Fort Warren Gun Will Announce Entrance in Harbor.

The appoach of the Dominion Line steamship Mayflower with 160 members of the Honourable Artillery Company of London on board among her 700 passengers, will be announced to Boston from the extremity of Cape Cod where Sargeant E. E. Snow of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston, as whose guests the Londoners come, will be on the watch at Highland Light.

To meet the public anxiety for the earliest possible news of the steamer, the International Mercantile Marine officials instructed Captain Muir of the vessel to report to the Highland station —which requires a deviation of 30 miles from the regular sailing course— by showing the Dominion Line's night signal, a Roman candle burning six red balls, until due notice has been taken from shore.

The Mayflower left Liverpool for Boston, September 23, on what will be one of her last voyages under her old flag since she is shortly to become the Cretic when the White Star Line takes over the Dominion Line service from Boston.

She departed by special arrangement a day earlier than her regular sailing time in order to allow of her passing some of the port formalities the night before docking, thus avoiding any delay in the program of entertainment provided for the Honourables.

After making Cape Cod she will come across the bay, stopping at the entrance to the harbor to take on the revenue officers, the port physician and a delegation from the Boston Ancients. The baggage of the visiting military will be examined on the steamship, while she lies below, in order that the line of march may be taken up immediately on reaching the pier on Friday.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce has issued a recommendation that all vessels in the harbor, whether at the wharves or at anchor, display their flags in honor of the coming of the Dominion liner Mayflower, bringing on board the representatives of the Honourable Artillery Company of London.

It is expected that the vessel's passage up to her dock at Charlestown, where she will dock about 9 o'clock Friday morning, will be like a triumphal progress, for besides the various steamers, yachts and other private vessels in the harbor the incoming Mayflower, will be reviewed by the United States cruiser Chicago, the British cruiser Retribution, the French cruiser Troude, and the American training ships Alliance and Enterprise.

The code of International courtesy dees not allow of a merchantman being saluted by the guns of the warships, but the craft in port will express their greeting by dipping ensigns and blowing whistles. By a special order from Washington, Fort Warren at the entrance of the harbor has been instructed to fire a national salute of 21 guns on the arrival of the Mayflower.

Milkmen Still at Odds

Boston, Oct. 1.—After a meeting which lasted through the afternoon and evening, ending in a joint session late last night, the milk contractors, who supply the city trade, and the producers, who supply the contractors, again failed to agree on the price of milk for the Boston market. They will meet again today.

Daughter Dead and Husband In Jail

Meriden, Conn., Oct. 1.—Myrtle Curtis, 7 years old, was burned while playing near a bonfire. The child died last night and the mother, frantic with grief, has disappeared. The police are searching for her. James Whalen, the woman's husband, is in jail, serving a sentence for assault upon his wife and two police officers.

THE BALKAN SITUATION

Turkish Authorities Invite Insurgents to Return to Their Homes

Sofia, Oct. 1.—The improvement in the Balkan situation seems to be reflected by the Sofia press, which no longer discusses the Macedonian situation. Prince Ferdinand has returned here from his country seat.

Letters from Monastir say the Turkish authorities are posting a final invitation to the insurgents to return to their homes. The proclamation, after referring to the remarkable clemency thus far shown, concludes:

"Therefore, for the last time, the Bulgarians who have been deceived and who have left their firesides and trades are invited to return to their homes and villages. Those who do not return and refuse to trust to the mercy of the imperial government will be pursued and their homes destroyed in the most severe fashion."

A report issued by the revolutionary committee at Monastir gives details of a long list of atrocities committed by the Turkish troops in September, including the ruthless slaughter of a number of children, who were hurled from high rocks. It is stated that the Turks killed over 200 peasants in a number of villages and while taking 130 villagers as prisoners to Nevesko they massacred 75 of them. At another place 18 women were outraged and then shut in a barn, which was set on fire.

More Troops For Macedonia

Constantinople, Oct. 1.—An imperial irade has been issued calling 50,000 recruits in the districts of the second and third army corps, in order to complete the effectiveness of the Nizam (regular) battalions in Macedonia.

Strong Guard Over Czar

Vienna, Oct. 1.—The arrival of the czar here was not marked by the same popular enthusiasm as was shown during the visits of King Edward and Emperor William. This was probably due to the military and police precautions, as both sides of the streets were lined with infantry, cavalry and artillery and behind the hedge of soldiers was a thick line of police facing the population. The czar seemed tired and gave little evidence of interest in the arrangements for his reception. After the state luncheon Emperor Francis Joseph and the czar, accompanied by a number of guests, started for Muersteg on a hunting expedition.

Union and Non-Union Labor

Washington, Oct. 1.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor last night issued an address to organized labor of America, saying in part: "The so-called 'open shop' makes agreement with the employers impracticable, if not impossible, for the union cannot be responsible for the non-unionists, whose conduct often renders the terms of the agreement ineffective and nugatory. The right of the non-unionist to work when, where and for what he pleases carries with it the logical right of the unionist to work or to refuse to work when, where and for what he pleases and with whom he pleases."

Pleasure Party Struck by Train

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Five persons were killed and three others were injured by being struck by an express train at Sharon Hill last night. There was about a dozen persons in the party and they were returning to this city from a family reunion. The train for which the party was waiting usually passes the station on the fourth track. Nearly every one passed over to the third or freight track. Before any one could give a warning the train came rapidly down the third track and ploughed into the group.

"Soo" Trouble About Ended

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Oct. 1.—Mounted infantry and detachments of the Canadian militia are patrolling the Canadian "Soo," but absolute quiet has prevailed throughout the region. About 300 men who had been detained in the woods at Wilde for several days arrived last night in charge of the soldiers sent there. The men received their pay checks, were given tickets for several meals and departed without causing trouble. The seriousness of the situation is thought to be practically over.

Gotham Politics In a Tangle

New York, Oct. 1.—There is no rift in the impenetrable fog into which local politics were plunged by the determination of Charles F. Murphy to place Grout and Fornes on the Tammany ticket and the implied intention of the two fusion candidates to accept the nominations. What the solution of the difficulty will be no one can at present predict.

Failed to Beat the Record

Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—Major Delmar was driven against the world's trotting record of 2:00 at Oakley park and completed the mile in 2:00 1-4, which is his fourth mile this season better than 2:01 and the fastest mile ever trotted in Ohio.

On the College Gridiron

Brown defeated Colby at Providence in her first game of the season, winning by a score of 23 to 0.

University of Pennsylvania defeated Franklin and Marshall at Philadelphia by the score of 17 to 0.

Dartmouth opened the football season at Hanover by defeating the Massachusetts Agricultural college by the score of 12 to 0.

Cornell defeated Alfred college at Ithaca by a score of 26 to 0.

In a game at New Haven Yale defeated Tufts by the score of 19 to 0.

Columbia defeated a team composed of alumni at New York by a score of 16 to 0.

Princeton defeated Swarthmore at Princeton, 34 to 0.

DECREASE IN DEPOSITS

Packard National Bank Had to Close Its Doors

RUMORS OF INSTABILITY

Culminated In the Protest of a Draft by Its Boston Correspondent—Other Greenfield Institutions Did Not Feel Justified In Aiding the Institution

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 1.—The Packard National bank, one of the best known institutions of the kind in western Massachusetts, did not open its doors today. One of the national bank commissioners, F. L. Fish of Vergennes, Vt., it is expected, will assume charge of the bank's affairs.

There have been persistent rumors attacking the stability of the bank for several weeks, but these, it is said, have been made light of by bank officials, and the probability of suspension being necessary stoutly denied. The first public knowledge of serious trouble came when representatives of the other banking houses in the city were hurriedly summoned and gathered in a prolonged conference. At the conference it was announced that a draft of the Packard National bank, drawn on the National Bank of Redemption, its Boston correspondent, had been protested by the Boston bank.

The representatives at the conference then made a careful examination of the loans of the Packard bank to determine whether the assets held for the loan would justify them in making advances to save the embarrassed institution. Their decision was against offering any help and upon being made known to the officers of the Packard bank the latter communicated with the comptroller of the currency, who decided to temporarily suspend.

The Packard National bank has a capital stock of $100,000 and its liabilities are estimated at $500,000. Its embarrassment is said by the officials to be due to the inability to realize promptly on loans and so satisfy the demands of depositors. They declare that depositors will not lose anything, the loss, if any, falling upon the stockholders.

The last statement the bank issued on Sept. 19 showed resources and liabilities of $555,477. Considerable uneasiness among depositors developed at the time the last statement was made and in the last 10 days it is said that deposits aggregating $60,000 have been permanently withdrawn. The officials of the bank, alarmed at this shrinkage, at once began to realize on their gilt-edged securities, but were unable to meet the increasing demands of depositors. The climax apparently came when the Boston correspondent refused to permit them to overdraw their account there.

Local merchants and other business men who have funds in the bank, it is said, will be taken care of by other institutions, but just what this means is not explained, as following the conference no definite statement of any such agreement made was given out.

The recent ill-health of William D. Packard, president of the bank, and the fear at the time that his mind was somewhat affected, is connected with the troubles of the bank, in the opinion of many. Mr. Packard is not only president of the National bank, but is treasurer of the Greenfield Savings institution and trustee of many estates. A few months ago he was made secretary of the general committee which had charge of the celebration of the town's 150th anniversary and had worked very hard in making the affair a success.

These many duties seemed to weigh heavily upon him and culminated in peculiar actions on his part. Three weeks ago Monday he left home suddenly, taking an express train for Boston, but, as he said, with no definite purpose in view. The first that he realized that he was doing something out of the ordinary was when he reached Pawtucket, R. I. From that place he communicated with his family, but did not return home. After sending them a telegram he went on to New York, and was in that city several days before his people got any communication with him and persuaded him to come home.

During his absence all sorts of rumors were afloat and affected the bank unfavorably. Shortly after the bank statement was issued, showing a very small reserve. Depositors began to withdraw their deposits or to check them out and within the next two days deposits showed a shrinkage of between $60,000 and $70,000.

To Beat Apple Export Record

Halifax, Oct. 1.—Forty thousand barrels of apples will be shipped from Halifax to London and Liverpool this week. The Breidablik, which sailed for the latter port last night, carried 7000 barrels. The Damara is loading 8000 for Liverpool, and the Gulf of Venice will sail on Friday with 25,000. The apple exports from this port will beat all previous records this year.

FULLER--WALKER.

Newspaper Man from Brockton Takes a Quincy Bride.

Mr. Charles L. Fuller of Brockton and Miss Gertrude Walker of Quincy were married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 14 Town hill. Rev. E. C. Butler, pastor of the First Unitarian church performed the ceremony, the double ring service being used.

Only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present. The house was handsomely decorated with large clusters of asters carnations and cut flowers, and the bridal couple stood beneath a bower of hydrangeas.

The bride looked very charming in a dress of Marquise lace over white taffeta, and carried lilies of the valley. They were unattended.

Mr. Fuller is a son of Mr. Albert H. Fuller of the Brockton Enterprise, and himself holds the office of secretary and assistant business manager.

He is a member of the Algonquin club of that city. Mrs. Fuller is very well known in Quincy and has a large number of friends who will wish her happiness. Until the present term she has been a teacher at the Whitman school in Brockton.

Immediately after the ceremony a short reception was held, and the newly married couple were the recipients of all kinds of best wishes and good luck.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller upon their wedding tour was marked with events extraordinary; pounds of rice and confetti, to say nothing of a large stock of "borrowed" shoes will remain for another occasion. They escaped in a carriage which had Rev. Mr. Butler as the other occupant and were met by an automobile of record breaking speed, leaving their friends the pleasure of guessing their whereabouts.

MILTON.

Henry Gallagher of Pierce street is quite sick.

Morning services will be resumed at the Mission of Our Saviour church on Sunday at 10.30, and the evening services at 7. The morning services will be in charge of Edward Fitzgerald, lay reader.

The stores at East Milton were closed today that the clerks might go to the Brockton fair.

The semi-annual meeting of the Thursday Evening club was held this week.

Work on the new church of the Mission of Our Savior is progressing rapidly. The church is being plastered this week, and should be ready for dedication early in November.

FAMED AS A DIPLOMAT

Herbert's Whole Active Life Passed In the Service

HIS DEATH UNEXPECTED

Had Been at a Health Resort In Switzerland Endeavoring to Conquer Consumption—Came of a Family Conspicuous In British Politics

London, Oct. 1.—Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador to the United States, died at Davos-Platz, Switzerland, after a long and plucky fight against consumption, which terminated with tragic suddenness.

Sir Michael had been at Davos-Platz about five weeks. When he returned to London from America he confessed he felt far from well, but his physicians still held out hopes of his conquering the consumption. He expected to leave Davos-Platz a week or so ago, in order to greet the Alaskan commissioners here, but he contracted bronchitis. Of this he wrote, only a few days ago, quite slightingly, saying it was only annoying because, on account of it, the doctor insisted on his not going to London to see his American friends.

Lady Herbert intended to leave Switzerland a short time ago with her children, but she apparently changed her plans and remained at Davos-Platz.

The over-strain of Sir Michael's duties at Washington, especially in connection with the negotiations of the Venezuelan dispute, reacted seriously on his lung weakness and was largely responsible for his end. The climate in Switzerland appeared to cause a distinct improvement in his condition, but 10 days ago he was attacked with pulmonary hemorrhages which resulted in a general weakening of the system and he afterwards declined rapidly.

Michael Henry Herbert, who was elevated from the position of secretary to the British embassy at Paris to the rank of ambassador at Washington, was the fourth son of the late Sidney Herbert, a distinguished politician and statesman who served as secretary of state for war in England during the rebellion in this country, and was created Lord Herbert of Lea in January, 1861. His mother, Lady Herbert of Lea, has a European reputation as an authoress, her best known books being of a religious character. Much of her time has been devoted to furthering missionary work among the colored people.

Mr. Herbert was a brother of the 14th Earl of Pembroke, the head of one of the most distinguished of the noble families of England. The Herberts are the direct descendants of Henry Fitz Herbert, who was chamberlain to Henry I.

Mr. Herbert was born on June 23, 1857, and passed his whole active life in the diplomatic service. In 1888 he was appointed second secretary of the British legation at Washington, a position which he held until the following year. In October, 1888, by the dismissal by President Cleveland of Lord Sackville, the British minister, for his interference in the domestic affairs of the country, Mr. Herbert became charge d'affairs at Washington, the first secretary of the legation being absent at that time. In 1892 he returned to Washington as first secretary of legation under the late Lord Pauncefote, but in the following year was transferred to The Hague, going thence to Constantinople, in 1894, and ultimately to Rome, in 1897. In 1898 Mr. Herbert was made first secretary to the British embassy at Paris, and for four years frequently acted as charge d'affaires in that city in the absence of Sir Edward Monson, the ambassador. Mr. Herbert acted as the British agent before the court of arbitration which settled the Anglo-Venezuelan boundary dispute, and in that capacity was charged with the preparation of the British case.

During his first residence in Washington Mr. Herbert married Miss Leila Wilson, daughter of Richard T. Wilson of New York, and sister of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. By this marriage Mr. Herbert also became closely allied to the Astors and Goelets. He was an accomplished diplomat and a man of charming manners.

Washington Feels Sorry

Washington, Oct. 1.—Official Washington learned with profound regret of the death of Ambassador Herbert. The state department cabled Ambassador Choate to convey to the British foreign office an appropriate expression of the Washington government's sympathy. In addition to this official message a telegram of sympathy was sent to Lady Herbert, signed both by Mr. Hay and Mr. Adee.

The following statement by authority of the president was issued at the White House: "The president is deeply shocked and grieved at the death of Sir Michael Herbert, both because of his personal affection for Sir Michael and because of his high appreciation of him as an official."

Lockjaw and Death From Splinter

New York, Oct. 1.—A splinter not more than half an inch long, which penetrated the palm of John Zimmer's hand caused his death from lockjaw in its worst form. The fatal splinter was from a hemlock board. Zimmer's hand swelled to twice its normal size in a few minutes and the doctors were unable to check the poison.

READY TO FLY.

I see that is the way you feel, says the Romoc man to the nerve-racked woman, hardly able to contain herself. Anyone certainly has my sympathy who suffers from nervousness. You are not only doing yourself harm by letting your nerves remain in this terrible depraved state, but if you ever expect to be a mother, you are doing an injury to a future human being. No woman with such shattered nerves can bring into this world, sound, healthy children. What can you do? You have tried everything—that's just it—stop trying everything. It is not drugs you want—it is not medicines, the greater part of which are alcohol,—that only excites your nerves more.

Just try Nature's own remedy, its name is Romoc, it does not contain any harmful drug or a drop of alcohol.

Buy a bottle and follow directions. In a few days you will see the good that it will do you. Not only will it revive your worn out and shattered nerves, but it will build up your entire body and give strength and vigor to every organ.

Romoc will make you a new woman I could quote you many hundreds of cases where Romoc has made the most marvelous cures.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by Day Nursery Furnishings.

The committee in charge of the Day Nursery to be opened at 79 Elm street, Monday, Oct. 12, inform the Ledger that the following list of things are needed to complete the furnishings:

An Ingrain rug or rugs.
Denim for covering floor.
One rocking chair.
Two common chairs.
Children's chairs.
Screen.
Three bracket lamps.
Small ice box.
Table oil cloth.

Any of the above list will be most useful and whether entirely new or second hand will be gratefully received by the committee in charge.

The rooms will be open Monday, Oct. 5; and the matron on hand to receive and arrange all contributions, which can be sent direct to 79 Elm street.

The will be a general meeting of the Association in the Council Room, City Hall, at 3 o'clock, Tuesday, Oct. 6, when the constitution will be amended and plans for the winter's work perfected. Everyone in the least interested is invited and urged to attend.

Counterfeits of Years Gone By

Rumford Falls, Me., Oct. 1.—Sixty half dollars bearing date of 1833, found beneath a rock by school children 10 miles from here, are believed to be counterfeit money hidden by a gang of counterfeiters who operated in the Ellis and Swift river region about 40 years ago. They were good imitations on the surface, but were made mostly of alloy.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Warren Suggests Two Good Ones for the City of Quincy.

Editor of Quincy Ledger:

I suppose perhaps, you as well as thousands of other boys and girls in the past, have spent many happy hours in skating on Butler Pond. Anyone looking back on such happy hours must feel sad if they now go past the pond and see it as it is now, with the prospect of being sooner or later, sold and filled in and in fact, during the past two years the pond has been used for an ice pond and so deprived hundreds of the privilege.

Now, Mr. Editor, is it not the duty which the people of Quincy owe to the future to at once secure the pond and keep it forever, as a pleasure resort? The land adjoining it, including the pond, could be made an ornamental spot for the city, at small expense. It could be used in summer for boating and in winter for skating. Upon inquiry, I learn that the owners would not feel able to give it to the city, but would sell it for about five thousand dollars.

It ought to be secured at once, as the time may come when the boys may be telling their children of the good times they had there, and the children will say, "Why was it not secured for us?"

And right here, let me bring to your notice a fact which I once wrote for your paper namely, that when the boulevard is built the city should take land enough running from the boulevard, following the sewer through Mr. Wilson's land along side Butler pond to Greenleaf street, hence continuing by streets already built to Washington street.

It would make close connection with Merrymount Park, via boulevard for people living on Washington street and that part of Quincy toward Weymouth, making a nice drive free from electric car tracks. I know that Mr. Faxon and others will cry, "Don't spend money," but yet, I think the plan would increase the value of Mr. Faxon's property as well as others.

I wish others in favor of this movement will let it be known through your paper. Warren.

THE RETRIBUTION.

Of the Same Class as Cruiser Des Moines Built in Quincy.

The British Empire will be officially represented during the visit of the Honourable Artillery Company to Boston by H. M. S. Retribution, a vessel of the same general type as the U. S. Cruiser Des Moines built by the Fore River Ship & Engine Co., and the Cleveland which was recently in Boston harbor.

The Retribution is a little larger than either of these, being a steel, copper-sheathed second-class cruiser of 3,600 tons; 300 feet long; 43 feet, 8 inches beam; and drawing 17 feet, 6 inches: her indicated horse-power is 9,000 and her rated speed is 19.75 knots.

The armament consists of two 6-inch, six 4-inch, eight 6-pounders, and one 3-pound rapid fire guns. The cruiser was built at Jarrow in 1891, is a two masted vessel with two smoke stacks a high forcastle and poop. Her crew numbers 275 officers and men.

She is expected from Halifax today in ample time to witness the demonstrations of welcome with which the gigantic Dominion Liner Mayflower of the International Mercantile Marine Company will be greeted when she appears with Honourables on board.

Trial May Last Two Weeks

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 1.—During the seven hours devoted yesterday to the trial of James H. Tillman, seven of the state's witnesses were heard. The state still has a number of witnesses to be called and it is now indicated that at least two weeks will be consumed in the trial of the case. Dr. Taylor, in answer to a question by counsel for the state, said the operation on Gonzales was necessary to prolong life. After an examination of the wounds he entertained no hopes for the recovery of Gonzales. Much of his testimony was of a technical nature.

Five Killed In Chicago Crash

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Five persons were killed and a score of others were injured in a collision between a passenger train and a street car here last night. The street car was crowded with passengers returning from the Harlem race track and every man in the car was injured. The motorman had received the signal to cross and had just reached the centre of the tracks when the passenger train crashed into his car. None of the passengers had time to escape.

Cabinet Crisis In Acute Stage

London, Oct. 1.—The air is full of mysterious rumors that Mr. Balfour and the Duke of Devonshire will resign; that the king objects to the appointment of Arnold Forster as war minister and that Lord Milner has been summoned to Balmoral. The king will come to London early next week to hold a council.

THE VAN WORMERS' END

Simultaneous Electrocution of Three Brothers

BRUTAL MURDER OF UNCLE

Was the Climax to a Career of General Wickedness—Community In Which They Lived Has No Regret at the Manner of Their Taking Off

Dannemora, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The three Van Wormer brothers, condemned to die for the murder of their uncle, Peter A. Hallenbeck, were executed at noon today. They awaited the end with a calmness they have displayed ever since they arrived at the prison. The keepers say that the vindication of the law was, except for the fact that three died in quick succession, in no respect different from the nearly four score electrocutions which have preceded these.

Keeper Healey reports a statement made twice to him by Burton, the second brother, in which he said: "I wish it were possible for Governor Odell to save the lives of my brothers, for it was I who killed my uncle. They shot about the room. My bullets were those which killed him."

The condemned men spent much time in discussing the manner of their walk to the death chair. Willis, the oldest, gave advice which assured an uneventful execution.

"Not a word of comment, protest, or remark," said he. "We will go quickly and calmly to our death with our eyes fixed upon the crucifix which each will carry. That will be the last earthly sight before our eyes. Not a glance at the witnesses or anything else. We will go quietly to the chair, each in his turn, to meet our death." The others agreed.

At 8:30 this morning two priests administered to them their first and last communion in the full membership of the Roman Catholic church, and this, with the prescribed prayers for those in extreme peril of death, invested the hours of the morning with the utmost solemnity. The priests did not leave them then until the physicians in the death chamber pronounced them dead.

In almost all respects, the tragedy which closed today at Clinton prison with the death in the electric chair of the three brothers Van Wormer, was unique in modern criminal history. Their death, with that of their victim, probably wipes out the blood of their line and fulfills the avowed desire of the entire community in which they spent their lives from infancy.

On Christmas eve, 1901, with their cousin, Harvey Bruce, the three brothers drove from their home in Kinderhook to the hamlet of Greendale, in the town of Greenport, where lived Peter A. Hallenbeck, the uncle of the Van Wormers. When some distance from Greendale they turned their coats inside out, put on masks and proceeded to the scene of their crime. Hallenbeck, his wife, and his aged mother were sitting in the lamplight in their living room. Both of the women saw them drive past. A few moments later there was a knock at the door, and Hallenbeck answered it, to find the masked men in force before him, armed with revolvers, and plainly bent upon mischief. Burton Van Wormer led the way, and with him the old man grappled. At once all four began a fusillade of pistol shots, which fairly riddled the body of Hallenbeck. Mrs. Hallenbeck, the wife, ran into the kitchen, where the affray was in progress, and the brothers shot at her, but failed to hit her. Her husband ordered her to flee, and she did so, running upstairs, whither the older woman had preceded her, and the two trembling women barricaded themselves in the attic until long after the dead silence below assured them that the desperate deed had been finished.

Mr. Hallenbeck, a man of notable physical vigor, although mortally wounded, broke away from his assailants, and went to the landing of the stairs leading up into the second floor, where he kept a loaded shotgun. Through the smoke which filled the room the assailants saw him get the gun and they then fled. The old man fell to the floor and died.

The four young men were soon after arrested, betrayed by their footprints in the snow around the house and because they were known to have harbored bitter feelings, and to have made threats against their uncle. Moreover, their reputation in the community was of the worst. They had terrorized the entire neighborhood by their depredations upon poultry yards and by other lawless acts, of which they boasted, with threats to do mischief to any one who might interfere with them.

Harvey Bruce, their fellow in the crime for which they died today, was tried alone, and was sentenced to imprisonment for 18 years.

COV. BATES

Endorsed by Republican State Convention.

His Record Speaks for Itself.

Platform Written by W. Murray Crane, ex-Governor.

The Republican State convention was held this morning at Tremont Temple, Boston, and there was no lack of interest, although it was a foregone conclusion that the entire State ticket would be renominated.

Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Newton was permanent chairman, and a brief platform was read by Hon. W. Murray Crane, former governor.

HON. JOHN L. BATES.
Governor of Massachusetts.

Hon. John L. Bates was placed in nomination for Governor by United States Senator George F. Hoar.

Gen. Curtis Guild, Jr., was nominated for Lieutenant Governor by Hon. W. H. Moody, Secretary of the Navy.

Attorney General Parker was renominated by Gen. Edgar R. Champlin of Cambridge.

Auditor Turner was again placed in nomination by Representative G. W. Ham of Dorchester.

Col. William M. Olin of Boston was renominated for Secretary of State.

Edward S. Bradford of Springfield

Gen. CURTIS GUILD, Jr.
Lieutenant Governor.

was again placed in nomination for State Treasurer.

There was no opposition to any of the above.

Mayor Bryant of this city represented this senatorial district in the list of forty vice presidents.

Senator Albert A. Brackett of Milton represented the Tenth Congressional district on the Committee on Permanent Organization, and Frank E. Park of Boston on the Committee on Credentials.

Norfolk County was represented on the Committee on Ballots by Hon. John Shaw of Quincy, Fred M. French of Randolph, P. M. French of Weymouth and Hon. F. W. Darling of Hyde Park.

Thursday afternoon the Republican State Committee entertained at the American House the chairmen of the HON. WILLIAM N. OLIN.

Secretary of State.

City Committees, and also the chairmen of the Ward Committees of Boston. A. G. Dolliver of Quincy was in attendance.

Thursday evening the usual ante-convention gathering took place at the American House. At the reception Gov. Bates, Lieut. Gov. Guild, and other State officers, Secretary of the Navy Moody, and Congressmen Greene, Lovering, Tirrell, Powers and Gillett

HON. E. S. BRADFORD.
State Treasurer.

were in line. The attendance from Quincy was not as large as usual. Representative R. R. Freeman was noticed, and Frank F. Prescott served on the reception committee.

Good Catches.

A party of Quincy Neck fishermen accompanied Capt. Perry Green of "Mutineer" fame on a smelting trip Thursday. Perry knows just where the fish linger and had not been anchored long before the smelts began to drop into the boat like magic, also a large number of sculpins and other kind of fish.

"Doc." Pease of the Fore River works, it is said, caught thirty-seven pounds, and Capt. Green says his basket was so heavy that the scales would not register them, although he says on a rough estimate he should judge he had between fifty and sixty pounds.

These are pretty good catches, but it is claimed that the 'doctor' accidentally got a large number of sculpins in the bottom of his basket before weighing them.

TWO MAY WITHDRAW.

Labor Men Do Not Think As Much of William Kelley As They Did.

It is probable that William Kelley, who was nominated by the Democrats as candidate for Representative, will resign. Mr. Kelley was the labor man's candidate, and the united support of the labor organizations was expected to elect him.

Mr. Kelley, however, does not stand in so well with the labor organizations as he did a week ago, and their support withdrawn he has signified his intention of withdrawing his name.

Until last Monday Mr. Kelley was probably the best known labor agitator in the city. He was president of the Street Railway union, president of the Central Labor union, and vice president of the Amalgamated Street Railway union of the United States.

He was then employed as a conductor on the Old Colony street railway. Last week he was tendered the position of Inspector, which members of the union say is simply another name for "spotter."

The offer was accepted and at the meeting last Monday of the local street railway union Kelley resigned as president and from the union, and William Walsh was elected as president. He also stated at that meeting that he should resign as president of the Central Labor Union.

Mr. Kelley entered upon the duties of his new position Wednesday. One day at it, however, was enough, and that night he threw up the job.

Whether he will go back upon a car as conductor is not known. Friends have advised him to withdraw his name as a candidate for Representative and he has said that he intended to do so.

City Clerk Keith, when seen this morning said that he understood that both Mr. Kelley and Mr. Richards the Socialist candidate for Representative were to withdraw, but neither had done so as yet.

Taken by Surprise.

A surprise party was held Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Arthur B. Innis of Gay street.

While spending his quiet moments, a knock was heard at his door. Mr. Innis answering the knock was thunderstruck to see about twenty faces to take him by surprise and could not speak for many minutes.

A jollier crowd could not be found. There were readings by Mrs. James Milne, Mrs. Arthur B. Innis, Mrs. Charles E. Hutt and Mr. James A. Richardson.

Miss Isabella Milne then presented Mr. Innis with a solid gold watch charm.

There were more songs sung by Mrs. Innis, Miss Violet Nelson, William A. Milne and William J. Beach, and a duet by Masters Alvah and Phillyss Innis.

Games were played and refreshments served.

Officers Elected.

The following gentlemen have been elected officers of the Central Labor Union for six months. The meetings are held in Hancock Chambers, corner of Washington and Hancock streets:

President,—E. C. Bowers.
Vice President,—James Edwards.
Recording Secretary,—George Smith.
Financial Secretary,—Frank Jones.
Sergeant at Arms,—James McFadden.

FIFTY CENTS A MONTH
A small bottle of Scott's Emulsion costing fifty cents will last a baby a month—a few drops in its bottle each time it is fed. That's a small outlay for so large a return of health and comfort.
Babies that are given Scott's Emulsion quickly respond to its helpful action. It seems to contain just the elements of nourishment a baby needs most.
Ordinary food frequently lacks this nourishment; Scott's Emulsion always supplies it.
Imitations always cost less than the original, hence the substitutes for Scott's Emulsion can be sold for a few cents less. But you're not saving anything when you buy them. Cod liver oil has a market value and you get the pure oil in Scott's Emulsion. That's the difference.
We'll send you a sample free upon request.

FOOT BALL SEASON.

Merrymounts to Play Their First Game with Boylstons.

The Merrymount foot ball team will play its first game of the season Saturday afternoon at Merrymount park at 3 o'clock. They will have the Boylstons for their opponents.

The Merrymounts have been in active practice under the guidance of Coach Jennings of Dartmouth, and will put up a very strong team this year.

The probable line up will be:—

L. E.,—Ferguson.
L. T.,—D. Schultz.
L. G.,—A. Schultz.
C.,—Linnell or Ago.
R. G.,—Holmes.
R. T.,—Barry or Tabb.
R. E.,—Gearwar or Otis.
Q. B.,—Taylor.
R. H.,—Ripley or Jones.
F. B.,—Fowler.
L. H.,—Mitchell or Kolson.

Auxiliary Conference.

The fifteenth annual conference of the Women's Auxiliaries to the Young Men's Christian Association of Massachusetts and Rhode Island will be held at North Adams, October 6-8. The new State Secretary for boys' work, Mr. H. W. Gibson, will be present and address the conference. John R. Boardman, State Secretary for the county work will also be present. The New England Passenger Association offers special rates for the conference. It is expected that 300 delegates will be present at this most important auxiliary conference of the year.

Brockton Fair.

The 1901 record of attendance at the Brockton fair was beaten on Thursday, when there was an attendance of 63,000. The gate receipts were $25,609.10, including 14,370 railroad coupons.

The horse show was the great feature of the day. There were races in five classes, requiring sixteen heats. The best time was 2.14 3-4 by Brookdale Girl in the 2.18 pacing class. Two balloon ascensions were made, and the vaudeville attractions were of interest.

Today is Firemen's day with a long list of entries.

A Gala Scene in the Harbor.

Imposing Military Pageant in Boston Streets.

Boston harbor took on a gala appearance this morning when the International Mercantile Marine Company's great Dominion liner Mayflower, soon to be rechristened the Crectic of the White Star line, entered the port with the Honourable Artillery Company of London on board. Arrangements had been made for such a reception as has perhaps never before been given to a merchantman.

The United States government was represented by the cruiser Chicago, the French government by the cruiser Troude. A third great power was represented by the second class cruiser Retribution of the British navy, a vessel of 3,600 tons, placed midway between the Chicago and the Troude.

Beside these ships of war, two United States training ships witnessed the Mayflower's mooring; the Enterprise just returned from a foreign cruise, with Massachusetts boys on board, and the Reliance, a sister ship with apprentices for the United States navy. These two vessels were anchored further down the harbor, making the naval display extend over two miles of water.

An imposing military pageant followed when the Honourable Artillery Company of London disembarked from the docks of the Dominion Line in Charlestown. When the English military men marched out from the Mayflower, they were greeted by their escorts: the 1st Corps of Cadets, the 1st Heavy Artillery, the 6th Infantry, the 8th Infantry, the 9th Infantry, the National Lancers, and the British Army and Navy Veterans, with representations of the 66th Regiment of Halifax. The column of about 2,000 men then marched through the streets of Boston, and were reviewed by Mayor P. A. Collins and Governor John L. Bates, to Young's Hotel, where the visitors are to be quartered during their stay.

This evening there will be a smoker at the Ancients armory, Faneuil Hall.

Saturday at 9 A. M. the companies will parade to the South station leaving at 10 for Providence. A clambake will be served at Crescent park. Reach Boston on return at 5.30. Big reception Saturday evening at armory of Cadets, followed at 9 P. M. by a Masonic reception.

Good Afternoon

The Boston Americans found on Thursday that there is another first class ball team, and that the Pittsburgs "were it." Perhaps the championship series will not be wholly one-sided however.

Drift of Opinion.

A modern invention that would add largely to the comfort and happiness of the world would be a system for rendering tongues talkless whenever the brains back of them are idealess.—Baltimore American.

The Boston Advertiser comes to the front with an explanation of the advance in coal rates, which no one has before been able to figure out satisfactorily. We are now told that the increased price is because it costs something to keep coal in storage, and people who are not ready to buy early and store it in their own cellars must pay the dealers the extra for storing it for them. Consequently it follows that a serious mistake has been made in supposing that the early price and its gradual elevation was arranged for the purpose of inducing early purchases and quick turns of money invested by the leaders and that the advances were made simply because it lay in the power of the dealers to make them. Light is being thrown on the coal problem, although there is a suspicion that some of it is colored.—New Bedford Standard.

Citizens who are interested in the erection of a new high school, at a reasonable cost, will find the figures relating to the Wadleigh high school at the corner of 114th street and Seventh avenue in New York city worthy of their attention. The Wadleigh school cost $621,784.58 in addition to the site, for which $188,436.23 was paid. The building is on a plat of ground 220 feet long by 200 feet wide. The style of the structure is the letter H plan, and allows every room to be lighted. There are sixteen class rooms on each floor, with a total of nearly one hundred rooms in the building. The immense window space includes 20,000 panes of glass. The blackboard space is a quarter of an acre in extent. There are five biological laboratories, four physical laboratories and one physical lecture room containing an amphitheatre. There are three gymnasiums with modern equipment. Two study halls, where the books of reference are to be found, will accommodate 250 pupils. Two elevators have a capacity of thirty persons each. The corridors are 200 feet long and are asphalted. There are two students' lavatories on each floor. Lunch rooms for both students and teachers are installed in the basement. The building is steam heated.—New Bedford Standard.

THE COLISEUM

Reopened for Dances and Entertainments.

Reception Given by Mr. Baker.

Dancing Classes to be Formed and Assemblies Held.

Elmer W. Baker, the well known teacher of dancing, who has leased the Coliseum, recently occupied by W. G. Shaw, for a dancing pavilion, held his opening reception and ball Thursday evening.

The party took the form of a reunion of his classes in dancing, both old and young, of years past as well as scores of young people who have been regular patrons of his assemblies, and prospective pupils.

The hall has undergone some changes within the past few weeks, so as to make it more suitable for a dance hall. A platform for the orchestra has been built at the west end of the hall, over which a sounding board has been put, so that the music and prompting can be heard distinctly in all parts of the hall.

Back of this are refreshment rooms, while at the east end of the building are toilet and cloak rooms.

Permanant seats have been built on either side of the dance floor, for the dancers, and outside the railing on either side are chairs for spectators.

The opening reception was entirely informal, and it must have been very gratifying to Mr. Baker to see so many present. Mr. Baker personally looked after the comfort of his party, assisted by Richard Mason and Thomas McTeer.

Mr. Baker's own orchestra, of seven pieces, under the leadership of William Wilson, furnished music, and the dance order of eighteen numbers was with three exceptions made up of the more modern dances such as waltz, two step, schottische and galop.

The ball opened shortly before 9 o'clock with a grand march and circle, which was led by Mr. Baker and Miss Mabel Minard Wentworth. They were followed by fifty couples, while as many more enjoyed the sight from the spectators seats.

The dancing was continued without interruption until 1 o'clock in the morning. Ice cream and tonics were served in the rear room during the entire evening.

If there was any roughness of the floor before the dance the large party put it in good condition for the winter.

Hereafter Mr. Baker will hold weekly Saturday night assemblies, and on Thursday evenings, basket ball and dancing. The other evenings will be devoted to his private lessons and to parties who may desire to hire the hall for special occasions.

RECRUITS ORDERED OUT.

Bulgaria Gives Another Jolt to Peace Outlook In the Balkans

Sofia, Oct. 2.—The war ministry has ordered out the annual contingent of recruits for Oct. 14, instead of at the beginning of the year, as usual. This step, though quite constitutional, has occasioned some surprise, considering the reported improvement in the general situation.

While the conditions are undoubtedly more hopeful, there is a strong belief in many well informed quarters that the Macedonia question is still very threatening and can only be settled by war. The Bulgarian government, therefore, continues preparations for eventualities. In the meantime the Turkish diplomatic agent is conferring with the ministers here and the new Bulgarian diplomatic agent at Constantinople goes to that city today.

Heavy Fighting Continues

London, Oct. 2.—News from Macedonia gives reports of severe fighting from both Turkish and insurgent sources. After an encounter near Nevrokop, lasting 34 hours, the Turkish troops burned two villages. The insurgents were scattered. The Turks claim that 130 insurgents were killed at Razlog, while the insurgents report that 150 Turks were killed in a fight at Belavoditza.

Best Monument to Herbert

London, Oct. 2.—A long eulogistic appreciation of the late Sir Michael Herbert is contributed to The Times today by its American correspondent who, in conclusion, says: "He deserved a monument, and the best monument, I venture to say, and the one he would himself value most, would be such an agreement by the Alaska arbitration tribunal as should remove that difficult and dangerous question from the field of controversy. It would be the fitting crown to a noble life."

Buchanan Sure of Re-election

Kansas City, Oct. 2.—Frank Buchanan's re-election as president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers is assured, according to his friends, who lay claim to 48 out of the 83 votes in the annual convention. President Buchanan made known his determination to run for re-election only after he felt that the convention had endorsed his actions. Parks refuses to give any figures, but asserts that H. F. Donnelly will be named for president.

China Adheres to Her Rights

Washington, Oct. 2.—The state department has been informed that Prince Ching has determined not to consent to any terms proposed by Russia for a postponement of the evacuation of Manchuria which might be injurious to Chinese sovereignty rights or the rights of other nations. China insists that Russia, having given a pledge to move out of Manchuria on or before Oct. 8, should keep her agreement without the imposition of any further demands.

Real Estate Concern Insolvent

Buffalo, Oct. 2.—Attorney Bartholomew of this city has been appointed permanent receiver of the Manhattan Real Estate and Loan company of New York city. By the same order the corporation was declared insolvent. The assets of the company at the time of its last report to the state banking department amounted to $323,747.90. It owns upwards of half a million dollars' worth of real estate, scattered throughout the state.

Examiner In Charge of Bank

Washington, Oct. 2.—The comptroller of the currency has appointed National Bank Examiner Frank L. Fish receiver of the Packard National bank of Greenfield, Mass. This bank was closed by its officers. The acting comptroller states that the cause of failure, as stated by the examiner, was lack of funds.

Many Thousands In Camp

West Point, Ky., Oct. 2.—The organized militia of six states have poured into Camp Young by the thousands and the greater portion of the 9000 or more troops have arrived, although only about half of them have established permanent camps. The infantry put in a hard stretch of work at digging intrenchments.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Local news on all pages.

The Daily Ledger has been published on over 4,400 days.

A few flags are flying in Quincy in honor of the Honourables from London.

Some fine etchings of old English houses are on exhibition at the Thomas Crane public library.

The attendance of 63,000 at the Brockton Fair on Thursday was a record breaker, but one expects these things at Brockton.

Miss Carrie Louise Holly of Boston will sing at the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday morning. Quartette singing under the direction of Samuel M. King will be resumed.

The fine large double house built for Mr. George Saville and fronting on Faxon avenue is nearing completion and will soon be occupied by two young couples. This estate is a tangible improvement in our city.

Officers Murray, Bradley and Broberg were on duty all day Thursday in City Square and vicinity, and in the evening Officer Goodhue was assisted by Officer Curtin and others, so that the Brockton Fair celebrators were kept within bounds.

The Quincy members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery who will help entertain the London visitors today are Capt. Henry L. Kincaide, Sergt. Fred W. Tirrell, Sergt. George H. Wilson, Frank C. Packard, Herman F. McIntyre and John D. Williams.

HOSTILE TARIFF WALLS

Built Up Against England For Half a Century

NOW TIME FOR A CHANGE

Balfour Says It Is Too Late For a Cure For Great Britain's Present Predicament, but He Knows of a Palliation Therefor

London, Oct. 2.—Addressing a mass meeting at Sheffield last night in connection with the conference of the National union of Conservative associations, Premier Balfour delivered the speech which has been long heralded as the first heavy gun to be fired in the fiscal reform campaign, which is absorbing the attention of the united kingdom, her colonies and, indeed, the whole world, and which has caused the present British cabinet crisis, the result of which it is impossible to foretell.

Mr. Balfour in the course of his speech did not even hint at the successors in the cabinet to Messrs. Chamberlain, Hamilton and Ritchie. In fact, he did not mention the ministerial resignations, but confined himself strictly to the tariff question, and his speech was to a large extent a repetition of the arguments contained in his recent pamphlet.

Last night's meeting was held in the artillery drill hall, which was the largest auditorium available. Fully 5000 persons gathered in the hall long before 8 o'clock, the hour at which Balfour was announced to speak, and perhaps many more who were unable to get in attended an overflow meeting in Albert hall. In addition, thousands who could not be accommodated at either meeting stood outside in the rain.

Mr. Balfour received an enthusiastic reception. He announced at the outstart that he intended to confine his speech to tariff reform, which, he said, had come prominently to the front owing to the growing uneasiness among men of varied opinions. Mr. Chamberlain's speech in May, he added, would not have produced the effect it did if it had not fallen on ground already prepared, and the threats against Canada for granting preference to Great Britain brought home the helplessness of this country to deal with such a situation.

Continuing, Balfour said that for 50 years England had watched in silence the building up of a wall of hostile tariffs against her. Even her colonies were building up a system of protection, which, when it reached its natural conclusion, would make it as hard for the united kingdom to export goods to her colonies as to export goods to the United States and other protected countries.

The premier said free trade was an empty name and a vain force. Cobden never dreamed of the modern trust system, built up under protection, which inflicted injury upon the capital and the workmen of the united kingdom. For the present state of affairs, Balfour remarked, he did not know of a cure. The evil had gone too far, but he knew of a palliation.

"You will not get the great commercial nations of the world to abandon protection," he said. "I fear that you will not get the great self-governing colonies to retrace the steps which we without remonstrance permitted them to take. I am here, therefore, to recommend a palliation which I believe to be still possible. Cobden hoped and believed in free trade throughout the world. What in fact we have got to deal with is a world where international commercial relations are regulated entirely by treaty."

Concerning the question as to whether it was intended to reverse the verdict of the great case of free trade vs. protection of 1846, his answer was that the controversy of 1846 was of no interest to the present generation and was utterly inappropriate to 1903. He said:

"Our grandfathers fought the battle in view of the actual situation. I ask the nation today to follow their example and not be misled by musty debates. The second question is: 'Do you desire to reverse and alter the fundamental fiscal tradition which has prevailed for two generations?' My answer is 'Yes, I do.'"

A nation depriving itself of the power of bargaining, Balfour pointed out, could never make a good bargain. He asked that the government, from which ever party it was drawn, be given freedom to negotiate. Mr. Balfour did not think the country was ripe for the taxation of food, but the evils of food taxation had been exaggerated beyond what reason and logic justified. He advised the Unionist party, as the best result of his reflections, that to tax food would be against public opinion and not within the limits of practical politics. He had given the topic his best thoughts and he was firmly convinced that his policy harmonized with the best traditions of the party, and, as leader of the party, he meant to lead it.

Speech Sheds No Light

London, Oct. 2.—It is evident that Balfour's speech has failed to satisfy the press of either party. The burden of all the editorial comment today is that in spite of the enthusiasm evoked at Sheffield, the speech leaves the question exactly where it was left by the premier's recent pamphlet. The greatest disappointment is expressed on all sides at his failure to touch on the cabinet crisis or explain the outlines of his proposed policy.

THE POSTAL FRAUDS

Beavers Among Those Concerned In New Indictments

Washington, Oct. 2.—The grand jury of the supreme court of the District of Columbia brought in three more indictments in connection with the postoffice department investigation. One was a joint indictment against George W. Beavers, formerly chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, and state Senator Green of Binghamton, N. Y.

This indictment is on the general ground that they entered into a conspiracy to defraud the government in the sale of time clocks, from which sale they were enabled to reap a reward because of Beavers' connection with the department by which the clocks were purchased.

The other two indictments were against Scott Towers, who has charge of one of the principal sub-postoffice stations in this city. He is accused of having received a commission on the sale of book typewriting machine to the government in contravention of the revised statutes.

Immediately after receiving information of the indictment of Towers the postmaster general issued an order to Postmaster Merritt of Washington dismissing Towers from office.

Sensational Rescue From Mob

Oxford, O., Oct. 2.—A mob last night broke open the jail and took Joseph Spivey to an elm tree one square away, where he was strung up and let down to pray. A second time he was strung up and let down, and while he was pleading for time to write to his wife Deputy Sheriff Brennan and a few assistants rushed forward, cut the rope and dashed down the street with the prisoner. He was rushed to the jail and has been spirited out of town.

Tobacco Men to Borrow $10,000,000

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 2.—The Security Warehouse company of New York has arranged to lend $10,000,000 to the Kentucky Burley Tobacco Growers' association with which to buy this first year's crop from the growers. If accepted the money will be placed to the credit of the growers' association to be checked on as crops are bought. The association is fighting the Tobacco trust.

All Danger Has Passed

Springfield, Ills., Oct. 2.—Governor Yates has revoked his proclamation of Dec. 1, prohibiting the importation of cattle, sheep and swine from certain eastern states. The Illinois state board of livestock commissioners reported yesterday that the disease in question had been eradicated from states in which it existed and the revocation followed.

Mob Got Ahead of Militia

Marshall, Tex., Oct. 2.—A mob of several hundred men last night battered its way into the jail, took out Walter Davis, a negro, and hanged him to a tree. The lynching was the result of the killing of Constable Hayes. The local militia was ordered out and arrived at the jail after the mob had secured the negro.

Immigrant Held For Murder

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 2.—Joseph Kennedy, recently from Belfast, Ire., was arrested here on suspicion of having had something to do with the murder of little Irene Cole. He came to Brantford from Ireland about two months ago. He claims to have served in an Irish cavalry regiment in the South African war.

Supposed Wreck of Large Vessel

Westport, N. S., Oct. 2.—It is feared that some large vessel has been wrecked in the vicinity of Brier island, as there is a large quantity of wreckage coming ashore there. It is supposed that some vessel struck on the ledges and foundered in Tuesday night's gale.

Chicago-New York Record Broken

New York, Oct. 2.—Bert Holcomb and Hanry Sendall finished a record-breaking automobile trip from Chicago to New York, the machine making the trip in 76 hours. The car covered an average of 15½ miles an hour. It was driven by relays of chauffeurs.

Pittsburg Plumbers Quit Work

Pittsburg, Oct. 2.—A general strike of the union plumbers in the Pittsburg district has gone into effect and 700 journeymen and about 400 apprentices are idle. The new wage scale calls for an advance of 50 cents and an eight-hour day.

Highwayman to Be Extradited

Albany, Oct. 2.—Governor Odell has signed a warrant for the extradition of Guiseppe Mannino, who is wanted at Woonsocket, R. I., on a charge of highway robbery.

ARGUMENT ON FINANCE

Will Be Avoided by Extra Session of Congress

PRESIDENT'S NEXT MESSAGE

Will Confine Itself to Cuban Reciprocity Question—Proposed Investigation of Postal Scandals—President Confers With Delaware Men

Washington, Oct. 2.—September's figures as compiled at the treasury department, while showing a large surplus, indicate a direction in federal finances which will strengthen the purpose of the Republican leaders who plan to emphasize economy at the coming session of congress. The president is likely to make a strong recommendation of this sort in his December message.

The total receipts for September have been $44,969,818, against $48,580,381 for the same month last year. Expenditures are $1,000,000 more this year than last. All but $500,000 of this decline in receipts falls in customs revenue, the internal taxes maintaining a nearly even pace. Returns for the quarter ending with September show the same tendency. Receipts were $3,000,000 less than last year, and expenditures $2,000,000 more. While the surplus is still larger than it ought to be, many Republicans fear the results of allowing the tendency to continue to operate, and on financial as well as campaign reasons, will try to make this winter's appropriations considerably smaller than last year. They may also urge this revenue tendency as an argument against tariff revision.

It is authoritatively announced that the president's special session message will confine itself, unless some unforeseen exigency arises, to the Cuban reciprocity question. Nothing will be said of currency reform, while in the December message the president's discussion of this subject will be chiefly a summary of the difficulties of the present situation, with recommendations general in character. The special session will be for Cuban reciprocity. Arriving Republican congressmen express themselves as greatly puzzled over the outlook for this legislation, and unable to estimate probabilities until the pulse of the new congress has been felt.

Representative Hemenway, who succeeds Mr. Cannon as chairman of the appropriations committee, says that there will be a congressional investigation of the postal scandals, undertaken by the Republicans and, if necessary, set on foot, as a Republican measure. A resolution calling for the appointment of a special committee for this purpose will be introduced on the first day of the special session. The president, with whom Hemenway discussed the project, regards the proposal favorably.

The Delaware senators were in conference with the president yesterday over the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of William M. Byrne, the discussion involving the whole Delaware patronage controversy. The president told them frankly of the discredit which the Addicks factionalism, with its new representation in the senate, was bringing his administration and implied that a change of administration policy need not surprise them. Allee, Addicks' man, asked for the appointment of Walter Hayes to the vacant district attorneyship, while Senator Ball urged John P. Nields, the well equipped lawyer who is now holding the office on appointment of the United States judge, and was filling a similar gap when Byrne was originally appointed.

M'CLELLAN FOR MAYOR

Choice of New York City Democratic Convention

NO HOPE FOR DEMOCRATS

To Carry United States Unless They Win In City and State of New York, According to Chirman Delaney—Grout and Fornes Nominated

New York, Oct. 2.—Scenes without parallel in the history of city conventions were enacted last night in and around Carnegie hall, where the Democratic convention for the naming of a city ticket was held. Both within the building and outside, people were jammed to gether in a great unwieldly mass; many were crushed and women fainted on all sides. Extra police forces were called out, but as the crowd continued to grow in density, it was found just as impossible as before to keep the people under control.

T. C. T. Crain was elected chairman of the convention and T. F. Smith acted as secretary. Mr. Crain, in a lengthy speech, characterized the Citizens' union as "A coterie of faddists," the greater New York Democracy as "a small officeseeking clique," and other opposing forces as "vest pocket organizations created to advertise public individuals." "This is a political campaign," he said, "because the result will have a bearing upon the state and national campaign."

The platform was read and received with comparative indifference; only three or four times was there any pronounced applause and references reflecting on President Roosevelt passed without cheers.

The platform set forth that Democrats and Republicans everywhere will await the results of the coming election with an interest only second to that taken in a national political contest.

Among other things the platform says: "We believe in such municipal ownership of public utilities as the financial condition of the city shall permit it to assume."

John J. Delaney then was escorted to the rostrum to nominate George B. McClellan for mayor.

"There is no hope for the Democrats to carry the United States," said Mr. Delaney, "unless we carry the state of New York, and we cannot carry the state of New York unless we carry the city of New York. We must nominate here a man of patriotic blood, a man who has never boasted of his ancestors, but has stood upon the ground, a man himself. I present to you for your consideration as your candidate for mayor, George B. McClellan."

The delegates from all the boroughs, with the exception of Brooklyn, stood up and cheered enthusiastically. The Brooklyn men remained in their seats.

Mr. Delaney continued his praise of the candidate, to whom he attributed all the virtues of his gallant father and a number of others. The nomination was seconded by Franklin Bartlett and Congressman Goulden.

Martin W. Littleton then nominated W. J. Gaynor. The Brooklyn delegates rose en-masse and cheered and waved their hats. Senator McCarren seconded the nomination. Littleton referred to Gaynor as "A great lawyer, a great judge, and, beyond all, a great man."

On the rollcall by assembly districts, Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and Richmond were unanimous for McClellan. The only break in the solidity of the vote of Brooklyn for Gaynor was in the 11th district, the leader announcing "Nine votes for Gaynor, one vote for McClellan."

Mr. McClellan therefore received the nomination.

Prior to the nomination for comptroller James J. Martin, regular chairman of the Democratic city convention, made the announcement that he differed from his colleagues in Manhattan and could not vote for the nomination of either Grout or Fornes.

Luke R. Stapleton then placed the name of Edward M. Grout in nomination for that office. There was much hissing from the galleries, and one voice inquired "Will Grout vote for McClellan?" Senator Guy seconded the nomination and declared that Grout certainly would vote for McClellan.

On the rollcall Grout was nominated by a vote of 425 to 225 for Fairchild.

Charles V. Fornes and Herman A. Metz were placed in nomination for president of the board of aldermen, Fornes receiving the nomination. Fornes received the same number of votes for president of the board of aldermen as did Grout for comptroller.

An effort was made to have Grout's nomination declared unanimous, but John L. Shea led the formal protest of Kings county and the protest was honored. When the convention broke up Leader Charles F. Murphy declared himself well satisfied.

How Republicans Feel

New York, Oct. 2.—Chairman Bruce of the Republican county committee, Timothy L. Woodruff and Edward Lauterbach had a long conference last night, at which the present political situation as it affects the fusion ticket was thoroughly canvassed. It was decided that if the Citizens' Union city committee decided to remove Grout and Fornes from their ticket, then Woodruff, as chairman of the Republican city convention, will issue a call for the reconvening of the Republican city convention on Tuesday night next.

MILK "STRIKE" IS OFF

Controversy Ends With Prices In Boston the Same as Last Year

Boston, Oct. 2.—The milk controversy has been settled in a way which insures Boston plenty of milk at the same price that was paid last winter. The following agreement is now in force:

"Pending arbitration, 39½ cents Boston price, with 2 cents carrying charge, or 37½ cents flat price, on this summer's basis and conditions. If 2 cents carrying charge is insufficient to take care of the loss, then we limit excess production pro rata to bring it down to established carrying charge of 2 cents. We cannot in any event limit producer below last winter's production. If a producer, after notification, continues to send his excess milk, then it will be paid for at butter price. The excess milk, if any, not to be pooled. No extension of territory."

Arbitration was mentioned prominently in the discussion at the last series of conferences, and it is referred to in the agreement, but there is no written agreement to arbitrate anything.

Philippi Did Fine Work

Boston, Oct. 2.—The masterly pitching of Philippi brought about the downfall of the Boston Americans in the first game of the world's championship series with Pittsburg, the national pennant winners. The score was 7 to 3 and 16,000 people witnessed the battle. So completely were the American league champions under the spell of Philippi that until the 7th inning only one Boston runner reached third and he on an error. Young was hit hard all the way.

Freely Used Others' Money

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 2.—Two New York boys, Egbert Heath, aged 14, and Edward Dordan, aged 16, are held here for the New York police. The boys have been here for a week spending money for theatre tickets and suppers and living in barns on the outside of the city. Dordan states that on Sept. 22 Heath stole about $200 from a firm by whom he was employed as a clerk. With this money they came here and proceeded to have a good time.

Attached For Quarter of a Million

Providence, Oct. 2.—An attachment of $250,000 was placed on the Household Sewing Machine company of this city by the trustees of the estate of W. J. King. Representatives of the trustees state that the attachment was to cover a series of promissory notes aggregating $233,000. The King heirs controlled the stock of the company previous to the change of management three months ago.

Firemen's Pension Favored

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 2.—The State Firemen's association, in convention in this city, voted to empower its legislative committee to get a petition to the legislature asking that body to adopt a pension system of the entire state similar to the one in Boston. It was also voted to send resolutions of thanks to Governor Bates for his attitude on the pension question.

Revenue Collector Sued

Hartford, Oct. 2.—A writ was served in the United States circuit court here against W. F. Kinney, internal revenue collector, for the return of sums aggregating $32,231.61 alleged to have been paid in excess of legal requirements as an inheritance tax on the estate of the late John N. Brown of Newport, R. I. The value of the estate was $2,074,083.79.

Paper Mills to Reopen

Madison, Me., Oct. 2.—The Great Northern Paper company's resident agent announces that the mills here will start next Monday after a shutdown of three weeks. The men will return on the same terms as before the suspension of work. It is expected the question of hours will be settled in the near future without recourse to a strike.

Fruitless Struggle For Life

Augusta, Me., Oct. 2.—Charles Thomas of this city aged 60, while leaving his work on the Kennebec river dam here, slipped and was carried over. He swam nearly to a sand bar, 50 or 60 yards, but his heavy clothing carried him down. He had worked on the river all his life.

Record Attendance at Brockton Fair

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 2.—There was an attendance of 63,000 persons at the Brockton fair yesterday, which broke all records. The day was featureful and the best of weather prevailed. There were three balloon ascensions.

Skinner Calls For Pointers

Washington, Oct. 2.—President Roosevelt received a call from R. P. Skinner, United States consul at Marseilles, who will start Oct 8 for Abyssinia, where he will confer with King Menelik in an effort to establish favorable trade relations between the United States and that rich country.

Warm Welcome For Hunt

San Juan, P. R., Oct. 2.—Governor Hunt arrived here last evening from the United States and was warmly welcomed. The socialistic efforts to cause a demonstration against the governor proved useless.

Herbert's Successor Not Considered

London, Oct. 2.—The foreign office has not yet considered the question of a successor to Sir Michael Herbert as British ambassador at Washington and will not consider it for some time to come.

Many Canadian Mills Closed

Montreal, Oct. 2.—The Montreal Star announces that 26 Canadian woolen mills, each with 111 cards, are at present shut down. The annual output of these mills is $2,220,000.

Press Feeders to Be Locked Out

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Chicago Typothetae has decided to declare a lockout of press feeders in 400 book and job printing offices Monday. Twenty-five hundred men will be locked out, the employers declaring that the union violated an agreement in presenting demands for wage increase without extending a notice six months in advance that a change was desired.

Extraordinary Police Precaution

Vienna, Oct. 2.—Emperor Francis Joseph and the czar reached the imperial hunting lodge near Muerzsteg last evening after a day's sport. Gendarmes, detectives and other police practically line the roads leading to Muerzsteg. They are posted so close that they are able to see each other and exchange calls.

Editorials In Tillman Trial

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 2.—The fourth day of the trial of James H. Tillman, charged with the murder of Editor Gonzales, was taken up almost wholly with the reading of editorials from The State newspaper, files of which, covering 1902, were placed in evidence by counsel for the state.

Evident Want of Wisdom

St. Johns, Oct. 2.—It appears that the failure of the Labrador exploring expedition, which has just returned here, was due to the lack of necessary equipment. The expedition, which comprised only six men, started without boats, canoes, tents or adequate provisions.

Uneasiness at Beirut

Beirut, Oct. 2.—Ignoring the unanimous request of the consuls, the porte has appointed Khalil Pasha as vali of Beirut. It is feared that disorders will ensue on the departure of Nazim Bey, the acting vali.

Anarchist Plot Unearthed

Berlin, Oct. 2.—The police investigations made as a result of the receipt by a member of the queen's suite of anonymous letters threatening the life of Queen Charlotte of Wurtemberg have resulted in tracing an anarchist plot. Queen Charlotte is stopping at the castle of Nachod, in Bohemia.

German Exports to United States

Berlin, Oct. 2.—The exports from the Berlin consular districts to the United States for the quarter just ended amounted to $2,931,010, an increase of $558,814 over those of the third quarter of 1902. A corresponding increase is shown in the other consular districts of Germany.

Run Caused Bank to Close

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 2.—The Bolivar National bank has closed its doors, following a run on the institution, which began three weeks ago with the circulation of a rumor that it was unsafe. President Hammond states that the bank will be able to meet its obligations.

MILTON.

Miss Maude E. Graham, one of East Miltons popular young ladies, celebrated her seventeenth birthday on Thursday evening by entertaining a number of her friends at her home on State street.

Many Japanese lanterns were used in decorating the grounds about the house, so that they presented an inviting scene. The evening was given up to the usual party pasttimes, such as games and music. Refreshments were served, and Miss Maude who proved a charming hostess was showered with congratulations, and was the recipient of a number of birthday remembrances.

As at the close of clear autumnal days
We look across the long, brown fields away,
And watch the setting sun illuminate,
In glistening glory, the transparent walls
Of some far mansion, distantly described,
Whose splendor in the stronger light of noon
We saw not; so in life's declining days
We look across the vista of the years;
So stand the pictures of our infancy
Clear cut against the tranquil sky of age;
So blaze our childhood's lighted treasure vaults—
Those far-off castles on the lofty heights—
When on them falls the setting sun of life.

UNPAID BILLS.

The City Said to Owe Large Sum on Account of 1902.

Henry H. Faxon forwarded the following open letter today to the Overseer of the Poor:

James H. Cunningham, Overseer of Poor, Quincy, Mass.,

Dear Sir:—It is currently reported that the Poor Department of Quincy is indebted to the Taunton Insane Asylum, and other institutions, for the board of patients last year, to an amount upwards of $2000, and that they are pressing the city for payment. Will you kindly inform me if these reports are true, and to what institutions your department is indebted, and the amount due each.

Respectfully yours,
Henry H. Faxon.

Quincy, Oct. 3, 1903.

It was rumored some weeks ago that the Overseer of the Poor would send a communication to the City Council asking for a large additional appropriation, but evidently it has been held up.

The City Auditor's statement for the year 1902, issued under date of Dec. 31, 1902, reports a balance of $1,131.28 to the credit for the Poor department, including Almshouse and poor out of Almshouse. The Aug. 31 statement reports that $1,105.49 had been paid under these items on account of 1902, leaving practically nothing to cancel the large bills now due on account of 1902.

Alvin Rogers.

The news reached us on Friday of the death of Mr. Alvin Rogers, a gentleman well known to many citizens in Norfolk and Plymouth counties.

He was born in Marshfield in 1818, and when a lad came to Quincy with his brother Clift Rogers, and went into the currying business. They were young, smart men, and by close and careful attention to business were very successful. Their large shop was on Hancock street nearly opposite Joseph Johnson's market. There was another large establishment within a few feet of them carried on by Francis Williams, who lived in the residence now occupied by Dr. Welch, on the corner of Elm and Hancock streets.

In 1837, the Quincy Patriot was issued, and Rogers brothers subscribed for it at the start, and continued to be patrons as long as they lived. They were prompt business men, and one of the pleasant remembrances of the publishers of the Patriot, is, that they were never obliged to ask for the subscription. The last time Mr. Rogers called at our office he paid for the Patriot to March 1, 1904, and he appeared very smart for an old gentleman over four score years.

His funeral takes place today at Marshfield Hills at 2.30 o'clock.

Mr. Rogers is survived by two sons, Mr. William A. Rogers and Mr. Frank E. Rogers of Marshfield, both of whom with their families have been residents of Quincy. Mr. Osborn Rogers, Mr. Howard Rogers, Mrs. Henry M. Wright, Jr., Mr. Henry Rogers and others are closely related to Mr. Rogers.

Bishop Lawrence Anniversary.

The tenth anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Lawrence will be commemorated next Monday. There will be two services in Trinity church, Boston, during the day; one at 10 A. M. and the other at 8 P. M. The morning service is for all; the evening service is for those whom the Bishop has confirmed during the ten years. Cards of admission can be obtained from the rectors of the Quincy parishes.

Cramps Resigns.

The resignationof Charles H. Cramps, as president of the William Cramps & Sons Ship & Engine Building Co., was accepted yesterday and Henry S. Grove elected president, with Edwin S. Cramp as vice president, and R. W. Davenport as general manager. C. H. Cramps will head the board of directors.

THE LIE DEFENSIVE

By JOSEPH BLETHEN

Copyright, 1903, by Joseph Blethen

FEW men would voluntarily hasten their endings even with the knowledge that their dead bodies would create a most momentous stir in the world. On the contrary, what man would not prefer to remain alive even at the cost of humble comfort now and absolute postmortem obscurity? Moreover, I think that Clyde French, had he foreseen the stir his mortal remains were to create in this world, would not only have clung madly to life, but would have prearranged for something like a decent cremation to follow his final departure.

When he left Seattle for Kotzebue sound I had known him a week. He had left the employ of a newspaper on the Atlantic coast and must by nature while waiting to take the ship fraternize with us of his trade on the Pacific coast. We in this tollgate of Alaska meet many such good fellows, and of this one I remembered one thing distinctly—he was frank in saying that he left neither kith nor kin behind him and should not return to the States until prepared to make a stir.

Both statements proved to be true, for when I searched for relatives to take his remains off my hands I found none, and the return of his mortal dust to Seattle kicked up more of a fuss than did the advent of the original Klondike nugget.

In the first place that dead thing didn't have the common decency to arrive by daylight, but chose to make its entry into my affairs on the shady side of midnight.

The Dolphin from Skaguay put in at 1 o'clock in the morning, and the longshoremen rushed the "dead box" across the dock with prompt respect to sailor superstition. Then, seeing that it was directed to the editor of a newspaper, the wharfinger called me by phone and told me to send an undertaker for it forthwith.

An evening paper man detests midnight sensations. Not only do morning papers get them first, but they disturb his sleep. So I called up Mr. Slabb's parlors and directed that my departed friend's remains be made comfortable till I could call at a seasonable hour. In the morning I received a letter by express from the mysterious regions of the wonderful north. It came from French himself, and, although it had many weeks' start, it had been overtaken by his dead body on the long journey out. It was curiously abrupt, but sensational enough to suit even a day editor:

Sir—This was a bad assignment for me. I got the lay, but some other chap will get the story. I am alone. My dogs have run away. They will starve. I've food, but no fuel. I shall freeze in a few hours. It's a cold deal, and I'm scooped.

If any one discovers me, I want my body shipped to you. Bury it where it's warmer than it is here. I'd like it to thaw out. I detest a fellow who is too stiff to unbend on proper occasions.

I haven't any convenient sack of dust with which to defray expenses. Charge it to the news department and let the story of my death offset it. Don't let anybody step in with a distant relative gag. I am going to my people now. They were in a warmer climate when they started over, but they are just as dead as I'll ever be. Goodby.

Put this on the first page and don't let the foreman make over and kill me off. Top head and double leaded, you know. Make it lively to make up for my present lonesomeness. I'm giving it to you because I always preferred the evening paper. Put it on the A. P. wire early. Yours in the flesh, CLYDE FRENCH.

Then followed a statement, undated and unsigned, to the effect that a party of prospectors had discovered French's body and had delivered it to a Greek priest, who, in turn, had embalmed it and sent it out to me C. O. D.

I gave the documents to my city editor and directed that the man on the Alaska desk write a glowing introduction. Then I went down the hill to Slabb's for a look at my property.

I had never before seen a body which had died of freezing. The shock at sight of French's remains was distinct. There lay the body in its rough prospector's dress, bearded and ruddy of color! I stared at it a moment and then became convinced that it was a hoax; that the man was alive and lying there to complete a ghoulish, practical joke on me. But after Slabb had made me touch the firm, cold flesh and had explained that frostbitten bodies often showed ruddy tints upon thawing I went into the office to think it over.

I directed Slabb to dress the body properly and care for it for a few days while I should endeavor to locate friends of the departed.

After the story had gone over the Associated Press day wire I followed it with a query for information and asked all Associated Press papers to make a search for relatives. French's story created the sensation the poor fellow had foreseen, but the relatives I had hoped for did not materialize. I began to have a great respect for the dead reporter.

I went to Slabb's after the body had rested there just one week and told him to send it to the city receiving vault in a respectable coffin, to remain there while I made further search.

"No need of sending him away," said Slabb. "Let him lie here. He's the finest bit of embalming I've seen in my life."

Then he led me into a back room, insisting that I look at his guest. Uncovering a plain coffin, he looked in. Instantly the satisfied look of the expert undertaker changed to one of horror, and I saw Slabb spring back with a startled exclamation. Then I looked and felt my own blood chill, for that thing in the coffin had shrunk six inches in a week, and its graveclothes collapsed all about it!

We called in a physician, and after a long consultation the body was stripped, accurately measured and dressed in a new outfit of clothing. Then we established a watch over it, noting the daily appearance. At the end of a week there had developed a decided shrinkage—something over five inches—in the length of the body. A close examination disclosed the fact that it was shrinking symmetrically. My 200 pound friend would not know his own body now. It had dwindled to 160 pounds.

The excitement really commenced with my publication that night of this second sensation in the peculiar actions of Clyde French's remains. The Associated Press authorities questioned my account, and I invited them to send a special agent to verify it. He came, and forthwith a daily account of our lively dead went over the A. P. wire. French's remains from a transient guest at Slabb's became the center of an excited nation's attention. It would have done the poor fellow good had he foreknown that his story was now to move up to first page, first column, No. 1 head, and remain there indefinitely.

First the city physicians examined him and noted the daily shrinkage. Then began the pilgrimages from curious suburbs and skeptical county seats. Then Slabb established visiting hours, and only professional men were allowed a view. The executive body of the National Association of Undertakers crossed the continent and passed an opinion on the phenomenon, and the governor of the state issued a proclamation, an act which gave my property official recognition.

The undertakers said in their wisdom that the Greek priest of the far north had embalmed the body after some old and to them unknown formula; that he had evidently used poor materials or had mixed his fluids carelessly; that a well embalmed body might dry out, dry up and turn to powder, but for a body to shrink systematically and preserve its smooth exterior was not according to rule. Wise men, those!

At the end of two months it had shrunk to four feet in length and to 100 pounds in weight. Perfectly symmetrical, perplexingly ruddy, plentifully bearded and plumply smooth of skin, it was a wonder. The tailor asked me how soon he might put knee pants on it.

Then the experts came from the great medical colleges of the country and decided to treat the body with sundry fluids to arrest its shrinking. But their treatment failed of results, and on their report being published abroad the rulers of many lands appointed medical representatives to cross the seas and view my property. At the cabled request of the czar of all the Russias we placed the body in a glass case, which was hermetically sealed. Thus protected from the air, the shrinkage ceased, and we waited for the royal experts to assemble.

The hotels were running over with scientists, who burrowed through mazes of books on chemical subjects and ancient burial rites. All Seattle caught the fever, and men talked excitedly of the secrets of embalming on street corners and even in cafes.

When the international scientific aggregation was complete we moved the glass case containing my property to the stage of the state university assembly room, where it remained a month, guarded by a committee at night and lectured over by foreign notables during the day. At the end of the month they were ready for more shrinking, and the glass case was opened.

The shrinking commenced promptly, and for another month the world read daily bulletins on the progress of diminution. When it had shrunk to a perfectly formed man's body three feet in length, I asked for a hearing, but the scientists had forgotten me. So I went to Slabb and did some plain talking, with the result that we went to the university with an escort of police, sealed the thing into a new glass case and locked it in a big box in the safety deposit vaults. Then, with the key in my pocket, I retired to my private office and waited for international science to come to me.

It came and argued and bothered till I was ready to destroy the thing. Finally, after international science had organized and appointed a committee with power to act, I gave the body into its keeping for thirty days on two conditions: First, Slabb was to be guardian of it and return it to me at the end of the time; second, Slabb was to be handsomely paid for his services.

The conditions were fulfilled, and when I received my property it was a bit over two feet in length. Then we sealed it in a heavy glass tube made expressly for our purpose and locked it away in my safety deposit vault under an agreement with international science to leave it there for a year. Then they should assemble and reopen the subject.

Tomorrow the year will be gone. Today Slabb and I went to the vault to take my property out and prepare it for tomorrow's inspection. Already international science is here in droves, and we had to work secretly to avoid them. Luckily we did, for unwrapping the glass tube we found that international science had either tricked us or itself or made a signal error, for the sealing of the glass tube had crumpled, and my property had indulged in a year's undisputed shrinking.

It now measures one and three-fourths inches in length. Inspected through a magnifying glass, it is seen to be symmetrical, ruddy and smooth. We have it sealed in a small bottle, and I have it in my pocket as I write.

I am puzzled as to what to do with it. Tempting offers have been made to me by great museums to sell it outright. One big medical institute wants it in the interest of science, and a check for $1,000,000 awaits me if I will deliver it to the trustees. A noted theatrical manager has offered to form a syndicate to exhibit it and pay me a princely rental.

On the other hand, the churches are clamoring to have this human thing buried out of sight where nature may do with it according to her laws.

I would welcome some good advice on the subject at this very moment. For myself, I confess to a keen desire to smash my bottle, lay my shrinking wonder on a table and dare it to do its last and final turn in this catalogue of sensations; to shrink out of my sight, out of physical existence, into nothing and into eternal oblivion.

"You surely do not expect me to print such an abominable lie as that," said the city editor with decision.

"Not as news," replied the marine reporter complacently, "but as a lie pure and simple I think it has merit. I have often heard you say," continued the reporter, "that any one could write a good story if he wasn't too much hampered by facts. Now, it does not follow that any one can write a lie and make it appear to meet the requirements of fact. I happened to be a guest at the noonday breakfast on board the battle ship Oregon yesterday, and the whole table turned in to see who could turn out the best set up lie. I must say that they shoot straight in the navy. Some of those lies were cheerful efforts that went to my head like champagne. Well, finally it got around to me. All I could say was that they had me abjectly on the defensive. They stormed me with complimentary remarks about my ability as a scribe and frankly observed that a newspaper man ought to be able to unwind the champion fabrication in any collection. So I told them I would make my attempt in the Saturday night issue."

"And this is the 'attempt?'" observed the city editor, pointing to the manuscript with his blue pencil.

"That is the shell that is to blow the Oregon out of the water," said the marine man.

"In that case," said the city editor, "it's the honor of the profession that's concerned. I don't see any way but to go after the navy."

When the officers of the Oregon opened their evening papers that night they looked at once for the promised effort and read the foregoing tale.

Clever Comparison.

"There isn't much difference between me and Eve," said the little girl who was forced to wear her big sister's cast off skirts.

"How is that?" asked her chum.

"Why, Eve had to wear leaves and I have to wear leavings."—Philadelphia Record.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 4—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Great men of the Bible—What Abraham teaches us.—Gen. xii, 1-8; Heb. vii, 1-10; Rom. iv, 1-9.

With this topic we begin the study of the lives of a number of Old Testament worthies—Abraham, Joseph, Moses, David and Elijah. Biography is one of the most interesting and profitable of studies.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

This is particularly true of sacred biography. The lives of the men of the Bible have had a tremendous influence in uplifting the lives of others. They were given to us for examples, and we should take advantage of this course in sacred biography and learn the lessons that their lives teach us.

Abraham was the son of Terah and was born in Ur of the Chaldees. The first great event in his life was a call from God to leave the land of his nativity and to go to Canaan, which land God promised to give to him and his descendants. Abraham obeyed, taking with him his wife Sarah and Lot, his nephew, and his servants. Living a nomadic life, they went down through Canaan, stopping at various places, and finally were compelled by famine to go to Egypt. After returning to Canaan the herdsmen of Abraham and Lot quarreled about the pasture and the uncle and nephew separated, "Lot pitching his tent toward Sodom" and the cities of the plain, while Abraham pastured his flocks in the lands to the west. These events afterward resulted in the capture of Lot by the enemies of Sodom and his rescue by Abraham. God frequently made covenants with Abraham, promising him a son and seed as the stars of the heaven in multitude. At last Isaac was born, and when he was grown God put Abraham to the severest test of his life when he called upon him to offer up Isaac as a sacrifice unto Himself. But Abraham stood the test and God saved Isaac and pronounced His blessing upon Abraham. Sarah died before Abraham and was buried in the cave of Machpelah, which Abraham bought for that purpose. Machpelah was near Mamre oaks, where Abraham once sojourned for a time. Here Abraham himself was buried, when he "died in a good old age, an old man and full of years." His age at death was 175.

Abraham from time immemorial has been taken to teach especially faith and works; not faith without works, or works without faith, but faith and works.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xvii, 1-8; xviii, 23-33; xxi, 1-8; xxii, 1-19; xxv, 5-10; Isa. li, 1, 2; Matt. iii, 7-9; John viii, 31-40; Heb. xi, 8-10; James ix, 20-26.

Christian Endeavor Progress.

The increase campaign is a concerted movement for the formation of new Christian Endeavor societies and the addition of new members to the old societies. It was set on foot last November, and its success already marks a new era in the Christian Endeavor movement. A roll of honor exhibited at the Denver convention contains the names of many hundreds of societies that have increased their membership since November from 10 to 1,000 per cent, an aggregate of hundreds of thousands of new members. The following table shows the number of new societies formed since November in the various state unions, together with the percentage of gain over the number of societies in those states last November:

Karo

CORN SYRUP

The New Table Delicacy.

A new syrup with a new flavor—pure, wholesome and good. Karo Corn Syrup is made from that portion of the corn kernel which contains the greatest strength-giving, energy-producing and flesh-forming elements. Karo Corn Syrup is a pre-digested food—ready for use by the blood—which the weakest stomach of infant or invalid will readily assimilate. Best for every home use from griddle cakes to candy.

The Great Spread for Daily Bread.

Sold in airtight, friction-top tins which protect its purity, guarantee its goodness, and insure its cleanliness, something so uncommon in common syrups. 10c, 25c and 50c sizes, at all grocers.

LONDON HONOURABLES

Guests of Boston Ancient and Honorable Artillery

A PARADE BY BOTH BODIES

Inaugurates a Memorable Visit of the Englishmen—Visit to Governor and Mayor, Sight Seeing and a Smoker Provided by Their Hosts

Boston, Oct. 3.—Leaden skies greeted the 165 members of the Honourable Artillery company when they swarmed on the decks of the Dominion line steamship Mayflower, but it took more than adverse weather conditions to dampen their spirits, for they had passed eight days of their trans-Atlantic voyage indulging in cheerful and joyous anticipation of the welcome to be accorded them by their hosts to be, the Ancient, and Honorable Artillery company of Boston, and in a more general and public way by the officials and citizens of Massachusetts, Boston, Providence, New York, Washington and Montreal.

There was a welcome down the harbor by Daniel S. Knowlton, secretary to Collector Lyman of the port of Boston, and an official welcome on the Mayflower as she lay at her dock by Adjutant General Samuel Dalton on behalf of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, and Colonel Hedges for the Ancients and the city of Boston.

When the parade started the sun was breaking through the clouds, but as the line turned into School street to pass in review of Mayor Collins, the rain began to come down quite heavily, but it proved to be only a shower. Throughout the line of march the visiting soldiers were given a royal welcome, but the men, women and children, who lined the streets and sidewalks and the windows of the buildings on the route over which the procession passed, did not forget the Boston Ancients or the members of the state militia.

All the way they marched through lanes of waving decorations, the flag of England greeting them at every turn.

Lord Denbigh never was more proud of his command than he was to see them so honored by Boston. And Boston looked enthusiastically curious at the men of England.

One detachment wore the dark blue artillery uniform, with its brilliant gold cord facings and the natty Eton jacket.

The other detachment wore the old and time honored British scarlet, topped with huge bearskins. This was the picturesque uniform, the one the crowd was longing to see, and they cheered its wearers with a will.

And what a contrast was presented between the appearance of the English and the American soldiers. The Englishmen, in their natty, showy, brilliant uniforms, gold lace showing everywhere, looked strange and foreign beside the quiet, unembellished uniform of the Massachusetts militia.

The Englishmen walked as if on dress parade; the Americans as if on business bent. The cocky, trippy, snappy, jerky step of the English tactics showed in striking contrast to the easy, long, graceful swing of the American soldiers. Each man in the English ranks appeared like a moving statue. His step was machinely automatic, and his eyes were always straight to the front. His gun rested in just a precise, exact position, his fingers were bent in a perfect right angle where they held his weapon.

The American soldier, bound by no such niceties, seemed a little overshadowed by the precision of the Britons.

They could march, these men of Lord Denbigh's. Every alignment along the way was perfect, every wheel accurately made, and there was no sign of a break in the company fronts.

Lord Denbigh, big, tall, muscular of frame, and powerful of figure, looked the part of the commanding officer. He is swarthy, a bit stern in manner, with a bristling black mustache. Beside him walked his adjutant, Major Budworth, a massive figure, 6 feet 4 inches in height.

At the conclusion of the parade the visitors changed their heavy uniforms and bearskin hats for fatigue dress, and after lunch had been served, the Earl of Denbigh, with several of his staff, accompanied by Colonel Hedges and some of the leading officers of the Boston Ancients, paid their respects to Governor Bates at the state house and Mayor Collins at city hall.

The balance of the afternoon was spent in sight-seeing and after a dinner at the hotel the two organizations met again in Faneuil hall, where the entire assembly enjoyed a smoker, which included a variety entertainment by members of nearly all the theatrical companies now playing engagements in this city.

Today the two companies will go to Providence, where they will be entertained at a Rhode Island clambake as guests of the First Light Infantry company of that city.

Agreed on Fiscal Problem

London, Oct. 3.—Asked to elucidate certain points in his speech of yesterday, Mr. Balfour told a reporter that the statement that Mr. Chamberlain's opinions did not differ from his own did not refer to the fiscal problem, but merely to the reasons which induced Chamberlain to resign. He admitted that he and Chamberlain were agreed in principle on the fiscal problem.

JUDGE HADLEY'S FINDING

As to Responsibility For the Powder Explosion at Tewskbury

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 3.—Judge Hadley last evening announced his finding in the inquest on the Riverside explosion of July 29, when 19 persons were killed by the blowing up of the powder magazines of the United States Cartridge company and the American Powder company in South Lowell. The inquest was held on the body of one of the victims, William Galloway.

He finds Galloway came to his death as the result of injuries caused by the explosion of two magazines stored with powder and dynamite, and of about 750 pounds of gunpowder upon three wagons, and that his death was caused by the unlawful acts of Clarendon Goodwin, the American Powder mills. E. I. Dupont, DeNemours & Co., doing business under the name of the Dupont Powder company, and Paul Butler and Blanche B. Ames, a partnership doing business under the firm name of the United States Cartridge company. He further finds that the authorities of the town of Tewksbury were remiss in the performance of their duties, in neglecting and failing to cause and procure the removal of the magazines when they became dangerous to the lives and property and citizens residing and passing near them.

Paper Makers to Return

Rumford Falls, Me., Oct. 3.—The management of the International Paper company announces that the differences between the company and 700 employes has been settled and the mill will reopen as soon as possible. The men must make personal application for work. The management would not state on what terms the settlement was effected, but the understanding is that the company failed to concede to the demand for employment of none but union workmen. The strike threatened to involve 1200 men.

Garfield Will Sustained

Boston, Oct. 3.—In the supreme court, before Judge Lathrop, a jury returned a verdict sustaining the will of Mrs. Eliza Garfield, who died in December, leaving an estate worth about $90,000. She ignored three relatives in her will—Fannie Johnson, a grand neice; Fannie Hook, a niece, and W. E. Davenport, a nephew. They contested the will on the ground that the testatrix was incapable of making a will because of the malady which caused her death.

Demand Increase of Wages

Hardwick, Vt, Oct. 3.—No agreement has been reached between the employers and the Hardwick Lumber and Drillers' union, 500 of whose members went out on strike after the manufacturers had refused to adopt a new bill of prices presented by the men, according to which the firemen, lumpers and derrick men would receive wages varying from 22 to 28 1-8 cents an hour and the polishers 32 cents an hour.

Almost Whirled to Death

Milford, Mass., Oct. 3.—The prompt action of fellow-employes saved the life of Eugene White, a workman in the Milford Shoe company's factory. White's clothing was caught in a rapidly moving belt and the man carried over the shafting, striking the woodwork with terrible force. Workmen nearby seized the man and by sheer strength tore him from his perilous position.

Brought to Scene of Crime

Woonsocket, R. I., Oct. 3.—Guiseppe Manniuo, who has confessed to participation in the holdup of Paymaster Sherman of the Saranac mills on Sept. 19, was brought here last night by Chief of Police Dodge and Sergeant Munroe. Mannino was released by Brooklyn authorities upon the presentation to the court of extradition papers received from Governor Odell.

Dineen Too Much For Pittsburgs

Boston, Oct. 3.—The Boston Americans evened up their initial defeat by shutting out Pittsburg, 3 to 0, in the second of the games for the world's championship. Dineen pitched one of the best games of his career. The Pittsburgs could not hit his terrific speed and sharp curves, and only five men reached first base out of the 27 who faced Dineen.

Captain's Body Not Recovered

Damariscotta, Me., Oct. 3.—With the finding at Pemaquid Point of the body of William Clark, all but two of the bodies of the 14 men who lost their lives when the Gloucester fishing schooner George F. Edmunds was wrecked on the night of Sept. 16, have been recovered. One of the bodies still missing is that of Captain Poole.

Resumption of Cattle Shipments

Boston, Oct. 3.—The first cargo of cattle sent from this port to Great Britain since the embargo was placed last November went out last evening in the steamship Anglian, bound for Liverpool. It consisted of 465 head, and was followed by 638 head per steamship Georgian, for Liverpool and Manchester, which sailed today.

Shipyard In New Hands

Bath, Me., Oct. 3.—The William Rogers shipyard has been sold to W. A. Deane, purchasing agent of the Staples Coal company of Taunton, Mass. It is said that the yard will be immediately improved and possibly a stock company organized to build large merchant vessels.

Probably Fatally Burned

Malden, Mass., Oct. 3.—Hazel Hiltz, aged 12, is suffering from burns from which it is believed she cannot recover. She filled a lamp with oil last evening and in doing so spilled the kerosene upon her clothing. She afterwards attempted to light the lamp, and set herself on fire.

ALL ARE RENOMINATED

Present State Officers Satisfy Bay State Republicans

PLEDGED TO ROOSEVELT

Protective System Endorsed, Mob Rule Denounced, and Just Laws Governing Capital and Labor Called For—Reception to Senator Hoar

Boston, Oct. 3.—Enthused by the oratory of such party leaders of national reputation as Senator Hoar, Secretary of the Navy Moody and Congressman Powers, the Republicans of Massachusetts nominated a ticket for the campaign of 1903 and adopted a platform, notable for its brevity, in which the administration of President Roosevelt was endorsed, and the support of the party for the campaign of 1904 was pledged.

While all the officers of the convention, the candidates nominated and the speakers were given most flattering receptions, that extended to Senator Hoar surpassed all others. When he arose to speak every man in the vast audience rose in his place and cheered loud and long, while the women spectators waved their handkerchiefs and clapped their hands with fervor. Former Governor Crane also was warmly greeted and Secretary of the Navy Moody's statement that he had been instructed by President Roosevelt to bring his greeting prompted a great demonstration.

The following ticket was unanimously nominated: For governor, John L. Bates of Boston; lieutenant governor, Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston; secretary of state, William M. Olin of Boston; treasurer and receiver general, Edward S. Bradford of Springfield; auditor, Henry E. Turner of Malden; attorney general, Herbert Parker, Lancaster.

Ex-Governor Crane read the platform, and he was obliged to wait for the cheers and hand-clapping to subside before he could be heard. The platform was unanimously adopted, its text being as follows:

The Republicans of Massachusetts in convention assembled give their cordial endorsement to the administration of President Roosevelt. An able, honest, fearless chief executive, we pledge to him our loyal support for the campaign of 1904.

We reaffirm our belief in the policy of protection to American industries. While admitting that tariff schedules should be revised from time to time, to meet changing industrial conditions or to secure the benefits which may be obtained by reciprocity, we declare that the present tariff law should not be revised or changed until the need of such action and the benefits to be obtained from it are clearly shown. Whenever industrial conditions shall require a readjustment of the tariff, the work will be undertaken by the Republican party, the friend and defender of protection, without unnecessary disturbance to business or commerce, and with fairness and justice to all American interests.

To uphold law and order should be the first duty of every American citizen. In many sections of the country there is a disregard of law, which is bringing discredit to the nation. All parties should insist that public officials should be firm and resolute in the enforcement of law, regardless of personal or political consequences. In this land, dedicated to liberty and freedom, the rule of the mob should be suppressed.

The Republican party favors legislation that is just and fair to all interests; that encourages and protects the enterprises of capital and promotes and safeguards the welfare of labor.

We heartily endorse the administration of Governor Bates, as able, safe and successful, and confidently submit it to the voters for their approval at the election in November.

Must Do Duty by Cuba

Washington, Oct. 3.—A good deal of pressure has been brought to bear on the president to induce him not to call congress into extraordinary session in November, but to all those who have spoken to him in that vein he has said that this government is committed to the proposition that the Cuban reciprocity treaty be made effective at the earliest possible date and he regards it as a matter of good faith that this country should keep its word.

Emperors Talk on Macedonia

Vienna, Oct. 3.—Emperor Francis Joseph and the czar held an important conference at Muerzsteg, at which, it is said, it was decided to amplify the Macedonian reform scheme. The two powers still entertain the belief that Turkey will carry out the scheme which will result in the pacification of Macedonia.

Won't Go to Austrian School

Vienna, Oct. 3.—Efforts have been made to put the late King Milan's illegitimate son, Milan, into an Austrian military school, but the government refused the request for political reason. The boy will therefore be sent to a German school.

Four of a Family Perished

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Velborders and her three daughters were driving home last evening and in attempting to ford a narrow arm of Long lake, their vehicle was overturned and all four were drowned.

WHAT IS WORN.

Sporting Costumes—Walking Skirts of Kilted Plaid.

Sporting costumes, above all others, must be made by smart tailors, and for every particular sport one must have a particular gown. Let a first class bootmaker fit the well dressed woman with the proper kind of foot wear for each costume and let the head gear be equally suitable. Even a pretty woman has no chance against a well dressed one, so much is there in appropriate dressing.

In these days of the abbreviated skirt women are feeling far more comfortable and more disposed to take long walks. The walking skirt can be most chic in tweeds and fine kilted plaids, especially in company with the short Norfolk coat. Some of these Norfolk coats have only two plaits back and front and no waistbands, but they are beautifully cut and are quite short on the hips. The old style, however, is more universally becoming, with its leather band and general appearance of workmanlike neatness.

Smart people are wearing a good deal of brown serge as well as heather mixtures. Blue serge, of course, still holds its own.

The cut shows a lace and crepe de chine gown worn with a marabou stole. JUDIC CHOLLET.

They Saved the Dummy.

Two Viennese watchmen, seeing what appeared to be a body floating in the Danube, gallantly went to the rescue, at the risk of their own lives, but when they got ashore they found they had saved a tailor's dummy.

Shanghai.

Shanghai, which means "upper sea," or "near the sea," is mentioned by Chinese writers as existing in 249 B. C. It has at present a population of about 250,000.

Heating Stoves.

When rooms are heated by stoves economy lies in never letting the fire go down in cold weather, as it takes more heat to warm the rooms when the walls are chilled than it does to keep them so for days.

Another Hard Jolt.

Cholly—Don't you often wish that you were a man?

Millie—Don't you?

Good Afternoon

The American and British flags were flying yesterday at the top of Bunker Hill monument, the one on one side, and the other on the other side. Things have changed since 128 years ago.

William Kelley, the candidate for Representative, takes exceptions to some of the comments on his candidacy, but will not say wherein they are wrong. The Ledger would be pleased to publish his side of the story.

The judge who held the inquest on the magazine explosion at Lowell, finds the officials of the town of Tewksbury as well as the companies and their foremen to blame, and therefore there is need of activity in Quincy. He says "the authorities were remiss in the performance of their duties, in neglecting and failing to cause and procure the removal of these magazines when they became dangerous to the lives and property of the citizens of the commonwealth residing, inhabiting and passing near them."

As to the responsibility of the officers of the town of Tewksbury, Judge Hadley says in discussing the responsibility: "While it is true that when these magazines were constructed and first occupied they were properly situated and comparatively not dangerous to the public, the settlement of the territory in their immediate neighborhood, the erection of human habitations to a considerable extent in close proximity to them, the opening up of streets, which invited public travel, changed them from being comparatively harmless to dangerous and offensive structures. These magazines with their stores of dangerous explosives should long ago have been moved from the spot where they were found on the 29th of July last. Upon those who kept and maintained these magazines at the time of the explosion, and at the time of the death of the deceased, a measure of responsibility must rest."

Gov. Bates hit from the shoulder in his speech of acceptance at the Republican State convention. In fact all the speakers were aggressive, and made up in arguments what the platform lacked in length. The platform endorsed President Roosevelt and Governor Bates, and reaffirmed its belief in Protection. Congressman Powers, the chairman, made light of the Democratic charges, and Secretary of the Navy Moody riddled the Democratic platform.

Senator Hoar said in renominating Gov. Bates that he had arisen to the demands of the high office and delighted the people.

Gov. Bates in accepting said in part: "The people of the commonwealth of Massachusetts are happy, successful, law-abiding. They have convictions and stand for them. They don't care to hold office but do care for the honor of the commonwealth. They know that Massachusetts has grown great under Republican protective policies, and they will not abandon those policies for the free trade doctrines that have always proved disastrous to them. They can remember as far back as 1894, although they find no pleasure in it. • • •

They have an idea that if cheap European labor makes the goods sold in our market American workmen will lose their jobs. They recognize that Massachusetts has the best schools, the best railroad service, the best highways, the best courts, the best insurance laws, the best labor laws, the best savings banks, the best public institutions of any state in the Union, and that these things have come with the Republicans in control of the Legislature for nearly half a century, and also in control of the executive department in all but five years of that period, nor are they ignorant that the states having the poorest schools, poorest railroad service, poorest courts, poorest labor laws and poorest public institutions are those that have been entirely under Democratic control during the same period."

Drift of Opinion.

☞The business of the pension office in Boston is no small affair. Since the quarterly payment commenced Sept. 4 last, 55,204 pensioners have been paid $1,575,812.24. There are 57,865 pensioners on the roll, and 766 Spanish War veterans. The amount of disbursements at the Boston Agency shows:—1892, $7,993,193.57; 1898, $7,503,756.16; 1901, $7,290,052.32; 1902, $7,289,969.75; 1903, $7,317,910.67. Capt. A. J. Hoitt, of Lynn, is the agent, and to handle such an amount of money, disbursing it to such an army of pensioners, means an immense amount of work, but it is done promptly and to the satisfaction of the pensioners.—Lynn Item.

☞The glory of the autumn woods is now apparent in all its October loveliness. It is indeed an inspiration to walk or drive in the woods and witness the coloring of the leaves which form a feast for the eyes to gaze upon. These colors are blended in such a manner as to defy the handiwork of the artist in reproducing them—there they are, specimens of nature's masterpieces, gorgeous in their rugged loveliness, swaying in the autumn breezes, conjuring up pictures of rare beauty which will long remain in the halls of memory to be summoned at will, when the cold storms of winter have stripped the trees and all this loveliness which now proves so attractive, has departed and lies underfoot. Now then is the time to enjoy the glory of the autumn woods. It will well repay you to visit them and gaze upon the wondrous spectacle, and the lesson that "we all do fade as a leaf" will carry with it many suggestions which will be appropriate to the season as well as helpful to the daily life.—Gloucester Times.

☞It cannot be denied that of late the soberest minded men among us have been filled with a solicitude amounting to anxiety in noting the momentum of certain dangerous tendencies in American life. The trend toward mob law in various sections of the country; the increased violence of the aggressions upon the right of workingmen to labor unmolested; the revelations of public and private corruption, and especially of the buying and selling of legislation and franchises; the growth of the gambling mania among women as well as men; the vulgar rush for social prominence; the widespread system of "graft" and blackmail which has grown up in all classes in the haste to be rich—these familiar phenomena are crowding upon our attention, straining our optimism and shaming our national pride at the very time when we are called upon to exult in the commercial greatness of the country and its peculiar qualifications for redeeming the benighted regions of the world.—The Century.

BROCKTON FAIR.

The Firemens Muster Also a Big Success—Prize Winners.

The attendance at the Brockton fair yesterday dropped to 18,000 but the total for the four days was 110,000, the largest of any year.

The Brockton engines stood high in list at the firemen's muster, taking the first, second and fifth prizes. The winners were:

First, $350, Protector 3 of Brockton.
Second, $250, Hancock of Brockton.
Third, $175, Gardner 4, of Gardner.
Fourth, $100, Columbia of Winchendon.
Fifth, $75, Enterprise 2 of Brockton.
Sixth, $50, Defender, of East Weymouth.

Distance prize, $25, Columbia of Winchendon.

Company in parade having largest number of uniformed men, $25, Alabama Coon of Stoughton.

Atheletic sports were also held in the afternoon, and there were trots in four classes.

Prizes were awarded at the horse show, Eben D. Jordan being the largest winner for the week.

Frank H. Mason.

Frank H. Mason, one of Weymouth's most prominent and widely-known citizens passed away at his home, 55 Front street at 2.30 o'clock Thursday morning after an illness of but a week's duration. Mr. Mason had not been in the best of health for some time past, but few, if any of his friends, realized that his condition was serious. He attended the Republican caucus at East Weymouth on the evening of Wednesday, September 24th, and was elected chairman of the meeting. During the caucus, he signed the credentials of the delegates to several of the conventions, but was unable to finish the task, on account of trouble with his eyes.

He was a Past Commander and the Recorder of South Shore Commandery, Knight Templars, and a Past Master of Delta Lodge, F. and A. M., of Braintree. He was also prominent in Pythian circles, being a Past Chancellor of Delphi Lodge, No. 15 and a member of the finance committee of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. Safety Lodge, No. 96, N. E. O. P. included him in its membership, and he was a popular member of the Weymouth club. The funeral services will be held at his late home at 1.45 o'clock Sunday afternoon.—Weymouth Gazette.

October Magazines.

The rapid stride which the New England Magazine has made is well illustrated by the October number just out. New ideas have been put into the famous old magazine so that today it is right up-to-date in its articles. The leading article, for example is, a profusely illustrated sketch of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston and its guests, the Honourables of London, who arrived this week to cement the friendship of London and America by a gala celebration on this side of the water.

Masonic Visitations.

The following are the dates of the visitations of Deputy Grand Worshipful Master and suite of the Masons in the 25th Masonic district: Corner Stone Lodge, Oct. 12; Orphans Hope Lodge, East Weymouth, Oct. 21; Delta Lodge, Braintree, Oct. 27; Konohasset Lodge, Cohasset, Oct. 30; Old Colony Lodge, Hingham, Nov. 3.

County Convention.

The Norfolk county Republican convention was held in Wesleyan hall today at 11 o'clock. All the old war horses were renominated, as they deserve the recognition for faithful services rendered.

—Women in France can obtain the right to wear trowsers by paying to the government a tax of ten dollars. The right can be obtained in the United States, in several instances, merely by marriage, with the tax paid to the minister, in fee simple.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Fair Sunday.

Five Saturdays this month.

Dr. C. S. Lennox of Stanford, Conn., is at The Greenleaf.

Auctioneer Crane will sell horses and carriages at Nantasket, Oct. 12.

The district court is doing quite a business just at present naturalizing aliens.

The Adams Academy and Quincy High teams will meet on the gridiron next Tuesday.

The Republican Councillor convention for this district will be held in Boston this afternoon.

The sidewalk at the corner of Hancock and Granite streets is again in good condition and open for travel.

Registration for the State election will close a week from Wednesday. But four dates are left for registration.

The offices at City Hall which have been closing at noon on Saturdays during the summer, will be open until 5 o'clock hereafter.

The estate of Thomas Pierce at 33 Elm street, which was advertised to be sold at auction by Auctioneer Dinegan, was sold at private sale before the auction to Mrs. Eliza J. Davis. The property was assessed for $2,800.

It is about time that sign near the Quincy Point bridge which reads, "Persons using this bridge do so at their own risk," was removed. It was put up by the contractors while the bridge was under construction.

Miss Elizabeth Corlew will resume her class in dancing at Brasee hall, on Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 4 to 6 o'clock. The matrons will be: Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Herbert Y. Follett and Miss Clara E. G. Thayer.

The Norfolk Unitarian Conference is to meet in First church, this city the last of October. About a hundred dollars will be needed to defray the cost of entertaining the visitors, for which a collection will be taken at tomorrow morning's service.

The laying of the sewer pipe across the canal is about completed. It was not so difficult a job as many anticipated. At Quincy Point the line on Washington street has reached a point near the bridge and it will not be long before that is completed.

A few days ago while the carpenters were tearing away for repairs on the Congregational church at East Milton, a bundle of papers was found under the flooring to the right of the outside door. They were all of the date of 1846 and were probably placed there at the time the church was built. Among them was the Quincy Patriot which contained the notice of the marriage of the late George L. Gill and Miss Lucretia Burrell.

It is expected that provisions will soon be made to put the new fire station at Houghs Neck in commission. A meeting of the Council committee was held this week. It is in the winter season when there are few people at the shore that permanent firemen are needed.

The Fragment society of First church is to resume meetings, the first one of the season is to be held in the ladies' parlor on Wednesday afternoon of next week.

Last Sunday the Universalist Sunday school observed rally day. The attendance was large. Besides addresses from the pastor and superintendent, Mr. Charles A. Hobart, there was bright instructive reading by Miss Guigon. A large number of stories were given the children to take home. In competition for the handsome new banner two classes were even, those of Miss Eliza Crane and Miss Mattie Holton. Both were therefore judged to be banner classes. The competition will continue.

Too Big.

"My, my! What a fine big fish!"

"Yes, sir, but it's so much bigger'n any pap kin brag about that I'm skeered to take it home."—Chicago American.

Coeducation.

The education of women and coeducation are not such new things as most persons believe. In Helene Lange's "Handbuch der Frauenbewegung" attention is called to the fact that some of the monastery schools for girls in the tenth and eleventh centuries were as good as the schools for boys, and boys were sent to them.

SOCIAL REALM.

After the summer vacation the Mothers' meetings are to be resumed, the first one being held next Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, at Bethany chapel, when Mrs. Louise O. Tead, president of the Maternal association, of Somerville, will be present and address the meeting. The meeting will take the form of a reception to mothers and children.

Rev. William Hyde of Weymouth returned today from Digby, N. S., where he has been spending his vacation.

The appointment of Miss Helen Claflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert F. Claflin, of Greenleaf street, to the position of teacher of modern languages at Woodward Institute, is most pleasing to her friends. Miss Claflin has studied abroad the past two years and is in every way qualified for the position. She is a graduate of the school in the Class of '99 and has the interests of the school very much at heart.

* * *

Mr. and Miss Graves of Bridge street, North Weymouth, entertained with a musicale Monday evening.

The Junior Friday club resumes its meetings for 1903-4 on Monday afternoon, when the club will be entertained at the home of its president, Mrs. Harry E. Russell, of Greenleaf street. The literary program will be in charge of Miss Sara Whicher.

* * *

At Dorchester on Monday Miss Marion Phinney of Boston and Mr. B. Harold Hamblin of Hyde Park, will be united in marriage.

The entertainment committee of the Century club of North Weymouth for the meeting last evening were Frank A. Benson, A. J. Sidelinger and Mrs. W. E. Beane. There was a go in the discussion of the resolve, "That automobiles ought to go."

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Willets who during their short stay in Quincy have made many warm friends, are to leave in a few days for Philadelphia, their former home, Mr. Willets having been assigned by the government to the Medvale Steel Works at Philadelphia. The appointment is pleasing to Mr. Willets although he regrets exceedingly leaving the friends he has made during his connection with the Fore River Ship and Engine Company.

Mrs. W. L. Lansing and little daughter are at The Greenleaf after a pleasant summer spent in Maine.

Miss Elizabeth Loring Potter who spent a year or more at The Greenleaf, a few years ago, is now at Point Allerton for an indefinite stay.

* * *

Mr. Henry E. Hardwick and family returned this week from Kenberma, Nantasket, where they have passed the summer at their pretty cottage.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman of Intervale street, returned yesterday, on the Mayflower, after spending the past three months visiting in Scotland and England.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Boyd, nee Phillips, are spending their honeymoon in Canada. On their return they are to reside at the Ilkley hotel, Boston.

Miss Laura Darling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Darling of Hyde Park, leaves for Freemont, Neb., today, to spend the winter with her uncle.

The Old Colony club of Weymouth will open the season next Thursday, when Mrs. Margaret Deland will read a paper on "The value of the novel."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Bates of Scituate observed their golden wedding on Tuesday.

Wednesday evening, Sept. 30th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. Mr. Butler, East Weymouth, when Miss Eva Marstin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Glover of Commercial street was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Vernon Farrer of East Weymouth. Mr. Harry C. Glover, a brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Grace Farrer, sister of the groom, attended the bride. The bride was tastily gowned in white lawn with the customary veil and orange blossoms. The groom wore the conventional suit of black. The happy couple were the recipients of numerous beautiful and useful gifts from their many friends and are to reside on High street, East Weymouth, where a cozy little home has been prepared for their reception.

Mr. H. T. Drake of Quincy was host in box 21 at the Brockton fair Thursday, and entertained Mrs. E. A. Drake and Miss R. E. Drake of Quincy, Miss Lillian Hoffman and Mr. George Leonard of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Drake of Quincy.

On Sunday there will be a notable gathering in Trinity church, Boston, when the Honourable Artillery Company will attend service. They will march from Faneuil hall for the church at 2.15 P. M., services being held at 3 o'clock.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Garey entertained a few friends at whist last evening, in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burrowes of Portsmouth, N. H.

The fall weddings have commenced, several being solemnized this week, and the announcement of several to take place this month have been received.

Miss Helen Claflin is a new member this fall of the Junior Friday club.

Mrs. J. O. Holden was entertained in Box C at the Brockton fair on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Washburn.

* * *

The Monday club of East Weymouth will give a reception next Monday to its president, Mrs. Susanne F. Tyndale, and members of the club will relate reminiscences.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Count Tolstoi is obliged to devote half of his time to answering letters and receiving visitors.

Darius and Cyrus Cobb, the twin brother artists of Boston, celebrated their sixty-ninth birthday recently.

William Watson, the English poet, is having trouble with his eyes. He is now at Bristol under the care of a celebrated oculist.

M. Jean Richepin, French writer and poet and author of "Du Barry," will visit the United States in October. He will deliver a series of lectures.

John W. Alexander's portrait of the famous French sculptor Rodin has been purchased by the Cincinnati Museum of Fine Arts. It is deemed one of his best works, and it won a gold medal at the Paris exposition of 1900.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Overcrowding is responsible for many diseases and always results in impaired vitality and stunted birds.

Next to improperly constructed brooders and lice, sloppy corn meal kills more chicks than the average grower has any idea of.

The poultry business is all right when we use common sense and confine our operations within the limit of our capacity. When we exceed those limits we get into trouble.

Scatter small grain (such as wheat, buckwheat, oats and cracked corn) so the fowls will have to exercise to procure it, and you will perhaps ward off much disease and help fill the egg basket.

LAW POINTS.

The negligence of a fire boss whom the owner of a mine is required by statute to employ is held, in Schmalsteig versus Leavenworth Coal company (Kansas), 59 L. R. A. 707, to render the master liable for an injury to an employee caused thereby.

The United States court of appeals for the ninth circuit held, in the recent case of Gibbs versus McNeeley, that a combination of the manufacturers of the product of a state, the market for four-fifths of which is found in other states, to limit production and raise the price is a violation of the antitrust law of July 2, 1890.

DOLLAR WHEAT.

Dollar wheat is making western farmers happy. Probably the same high market will make the breakfast food contingent almost delirious.—Los Angeles Express.

With wheat at a dollar a bushel the Kansas and Dakota farmers will soon be eligible for membership in the Appendicitis club, filling the vacancies made by the demillionaireization of the Wall street crowd.—Washington Post.

AMERICANIZING MEXICO

Influence of Our Methods In the Southern Republic.

PEACEFUL EXPANSION AT WORK.

Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., Tells How the Power of Money, Example and Energy Are Lifting a Nation From the Tenth Century Into the Twentieth. Our Ways Eagerly Adopted.

Under the influence of American capital and ideas the Mexican people, says Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., in the September World's Work, are "leaping from the tenth century into the twentieth." Mexico's 13,500,000 inhabitants are "growing a thousand years in as many weeks."

Seven thousand land barons own nearly the whole territory of the republic, and the peons have been their serfs. By the side of this system of feudalism is an investment of 500,000,000 American dollars, with life and progress in its train. The peon earns 15 cents a day and is always in debt to his patron, who holds him permanently by this obligation and transfers him along with it when he sells his estate. But the Americans have come in with their railroads, farms, smelters and vast farming operations and have been bidding up the price of labor. They pay 75 cents, $1 and more. The peon pays off his debts and becomes a man. The government offers free education to his children, from the alphabet to the highest degree, and expects soon to make schooling compulsory.

Trade with the United States increases even when general commerce declines. In 1901-2 we sold to the Mexicans about a third more than all the rest of the world combined and bought from them four times as much as they sold to all other nations.

In spite of many drawbacks American capital is pouring in. Kansas City alone has sent $50,000,000 within the past five years. Seventy per cent of all the American money invested in the country has gone into railroads. The Mexican Central alone has absorbed $150,000,000, the National $107,500,000. Eighty per cent of all the railroad capital of Mexico is American. There are now over 11,000 miles of rails in the country, and the amount is steadily increasing.

Americans own all the important systems but three and are heavy stockholders in these. They have recently bought the National from the British and the Gulf line from the Belgians. They furnish the operating officers, the conductors and engineers and sometimes the rest of the train crews.

The old Mexican mines are being rejuvenated by American methods. Americans are improving the great ranches and developing the manufacture of cotton faster than it can be grown at home, so that some of the material has to be imported from the Unied States.

Americans have started factories of all kinds. They have built great irrigation dams and canals.

The Mexicans are eagerly adopting American ways. They have the American circus; they use typewriters more generally than the Parisians; they have a wireless telegraph system across the gulf of California, and they hope that when Diaz is gone they will be able to show us that they are able, like ourselves, to elect a new president without a revolution.

CADETS MAY SMOKE PIPES.

West Pointers Can Indulge In the Weed From Now On.

The cadets of the United States Military academy are no longer prohibited from smoking, says the New York Times. As the parade the other evening was about to end and just as the adjutant was preparing to read the "skin list" the officer in charge handed him an order to read. It said that pipes and tobacco would be procurable in future at the cadet store and that smoking would be allowed in quarters during recreation hours as well as in the outdoor court included by the quadrangular barracks. Superintendent Mills made the change after obtaining the consent of Secretary of War Root several weeks ago. The "supe," as the cadets call Colonel Mills, has always been popular with the corps, but now all hands are singing his praises.

While it has been noticed that the sudden freedom has caused an undue amount of smoking at first, the army officers at the post are confident the final result will be good. Colonel Mills hopes to lessen cigarette smoking by allowing pipes, for with the latter easy to get and the former only to be obtained with great difficulty it is argued that the smokers of the corps will grow fond of pipes. Neither cigarettes nor cigars are to be sold at the store.

Seeking Russian Treasure.

A Russian merchant named Zimmiakoff is causing the bed of the Volga in Russia to be examined near Katow in an endeavor to find a treasure which is said to be valued at upward of $15,000,000, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. The fantastic story is circulated that this treasure was cast into the river by the once famous brigand, Stenkoy Razynin. The story goes that, pursued by Cossacks, the brigand threw away this immense hoard of gold and jewels accumulated during a life of crime. The spot was only known to five leaders of the band. The last, who has just died, revealed, it is said, the secret to the merchant.

Military Watchdogs.

The military posts at the German naval port of Wilhelmshaven are fitted out with watchdogs. Each sentry has one dog by the leash and lets it loose when suspicious people refuse to stop.

BRAINTREE.

Joseph T. Scollay and Thomas Wallace both connected with the Shoe Retailer Co. of which I. Wendell Gammons is secretary, have removed from New York City to this town, and have taken lodgings with Mrs. A. O. Clark, Pond street. Mr. Scollay is employed in the editorial department of the publication, being in charge of the make-up, while Mr. Wallace, who is an accomplished bookkeeper, will act as bookkeeper for the firm.

Mrs. Emma Madden and son Frank have taken up their abode in Plymouth, where Frank is attending school.

The 77th fall meeting of the Norfolk Conference of Congregational churches was held in the Congregational church at Quincy Point Tuesday. Those present from South Braintree were: Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern, Mrs. R. F. Randall and Miss Elizabeth Thompson, delegates; Mrs. Jacob Dyer aged 82, was also present with Miss Adelia Dyer, Mrs. S. Amanda Woodman, Mrs. Samuel Dyer, Mrs. Eugene Dyer, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Clara Penniman, Mrs. Leonard P. Hunt, and Mrs. G. R. M. Bestick.

The service at the Methodist church Sunday evening promises to be of special interest as some good musical features have been prepared. Mr. G. E. Crafts, supervisor of singing in the public schools, will direct the chorus and congregational singing and will be assisted by Mrs. Crafts, contralto, and by Miss Crafts with the violin.

Rev. Joseph Kyte has accepted a call to Abington, Conn., accompanied by Mrs. Kyte, he will leave for his new field of labor in about two weeks.

Master Roland, son of R. E. Whitman, had a narrow escape from serious injury, Monday. He was crossing the street with his wheel-barrow when it was struck by a horse attached to a wagon occupied by two men. The boy was thrown down and the team passed over him but he has only a few bumps and bruises to show for his wonderful escape.

Hon. Francis A. Hobart who has been critically ill the past week, receiving the constant attention of a trained nurse, is much better. Drs. Brett and Faxon have attended him twice a day the past week. Mr. Hobart's mind is clear, his appetite improving and we expect to hear of his sitting up in a few days.

The Clark and East Norfolk Christian Endeavor unions will hold a grand rally at the Union church on Friday evening Oct. 9th at 7.30. Von Ogden Vogt, general secretary of the Uuited Society of Christian Endeavor, will deliver the address.

The Jenkins Manufacturing Co. are to extend their hours of labor until 6 P. M. every day expect Saturday when the mill shuts down at 12.30 thus giving the operatives Saturday afternoons during the year.

The first meeting of the season of the J. P. S. A. will be held next Monday evening with Mrs. B. J. Loring. Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3d, the association are to have an outing at the Loring cottage, Fort Point, North Weymouth.

Class 27 of the First church Sunday school will begin to hold regular sessions tomorrow after an adjournment for the summer months. The teacher is very anxious that every member should be present, also a cordial invitation is extended to all men who are not regularly connected with any Sunday school class to join class 27.

The monthly social given by the Ladies' Aid of All Souls' church last evening in Cochato hall was very well attended. Mr. Blunt, violinist, was accompanied at the piano by Miss Pray. The attraction of the evening was a cob-web party.

The First church resume their 4.30 vesper services tomorrow. The Young Ladies' choir under the direction of Mrs. Frank Dearing will lead the singing.

Mr. Henry Thayer and Elisha Thayer of Washington street have gone to Maine for the winter.

Mr. Johnson and family have moved to Braintree from Springfield, Ohio, and now reside upon President street.

Thursday afternoon as Callahan's fish wagon was crossing the electric car track in front of the old Iron Works school yard, it collided with a B. and W. electric, nearly demolishing the wagon. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt but it was a very narrow escape. A child on the wagon had her wrist slightly sprained and it was almost a miracle that she escaped a more severe injury.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Murphy was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Oct. 8.

William Darling and Peter Donaher were arraigned for disturbing the peace at Braintree. Darling was also arraigned for assault on Charles E. Beale. They were fined $5 each for disturbing the peace and Darling was fined $5 for assault.

The continued case of Michael J. Galvin for assault on his wife at Quincy was heard and the case was placed on file.

A POLITICAL FEUD

May Be at Bottom of Murder of a Chinaman at Boston

Boston, Oct. 3.—As a result of a Chinese shooting affray, Wong Chung, 31, was arrested last night five minutes after the affair, charged with the murder of Wong Lung, who died at a hospital without regaining consciousness. He was literally shot to pieces. Yee Shoong Tang and N. G. Mum are at a hospital, suffering from minor wounds, also inflicted by Chung.

The affair was carefully planned, the police believe, as the murdered man was prominent in the recently organized Chinese Progressive league. The alleged murderer was armed with an expensive six-shot revolver of 44 calibre, and wore a coat of mail.

The coat was taken from him and carefully examined. It is much like the armless life preserver. There are several sheaths of pliable steel, carefully woven together, and covered with a fine silken texture, and is fitted with shoulder straps. Captain Dugan expressed the opinion that it would deflect a bullet from a pistol fired at close range. It weighs about six pounds, and is so lightly constructed as to not materially retard escape by its wearer.

The Chinese detained as witnesses refused to talk, but through an interpreter it was learned that Lung was walking along peaceably, and was about to salute the other men who were shot, when, it is alleged, Chung suddenly appeared, and discharged every chamber of the self-cocking weapon, in rapid succession. The usual crowd in Chinatown quickly gathered, and Chung was captured before he could move 10 feet.

The police declare that there has been more or less trouble in Chinatown since the revolutionary movement was begun, but whether that, or, as stated by a Chinaman who acted as interpreter, the man had quarreled over fantan, is a matter of conjecture.

Kinderhook Citizens Displeased

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The bodies of Frederick, Willis and Burton Van Wormer, who were electrocuted at Dannemora prison, arrived at their old home in Kinderhook last night. A crowd of several hundred was present at the station, but there was no demonstration. The funeral will be private. The coffins will not be opened. The feeling in Kinderhook is strong against the cemetery commission for selling Mrs. Van Wormer a lot for the interment there.

Boom For Newfoundlanders

St. Johns, Oct. 3.—Owing to the shortage in the Canadian and American catches on the Grand Banks, agents of the large dealers in codfish in Nova Scotia and Massachusetts are now here seeking to purchase 100,000 quintals of codfish for disposal in their markets. The outlook for speedy and profitable sales is assured. Cod liver oil, which last year sold for 70 cents a gallon, now brings $3, the medicinal dealers fearing an oil famine.

Canada Raises Cattle Embargo

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—An order-in-council has been passed rescinding an order prohibiting the importation of cattle, sheep and swine or their skins, hides, or horns or hoofs from New England states. The government is satisfied that the foot and mouth disease has been successfully stamped out.

Robber Band Fares Badly

Annadale, Minn., Oct. 3.—In a fight between a posse of citizens and a gang of six supposed robbers, one of the latter was killed, one mortally wounded and the four others seriously wounded. A quantity of dynamite and railroad torpedoes were found in the railroad car in which they had been living.

Jewish Massacre Rumored

Vienna, Oct. 3.—The Chernowitz, the newspaper which first announced the Kishineff riots, reports that another massacre of the Jews occurred at the town of Mohilev-Podolsky, near Kishineff, yesterday, in which 300 Jews and 100 Christians were killed. This report is not confirmed.

Levi Morton Laid Up

New York, Oct. 3.—Former Vice President Levi P. Morton is confined to his residence here by a severe cold. In view of Mr. Morton's advanced age some anxiety is felt by his friends, although he is said to be in excellent physical condition.

Gloucester Boat Loses a Man

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 3.—The Gloucester schooner Valkyrie arrived here from the Grand Banks and reported the loss of Mathias Muise, who fell from the mainboom and was drowned.

NEWS IN BRIEF

ROMOC

IT MAKES YOU SHUDDER.

"No matter how dainty food may be or how carefully prepared, it looks simply repugnant to you, does it not?" says the Romoc man. "That dull pain in your stomach caused you to simply loathe the sight of food—you cannot eat and yet you want something and don't know what. When you do eat, you suffer tortures afterwards. Do you realize what will happen to you if you continue in this way. Your body will become depleted and any sickness is apt to take hold of you. If you escape such evils, you will do as lots of other dyspeptics have done—die of exhaustion. Or perhaps the irritation of your stomach will become so bad that gastric ulcers will form and hemorrhages from the stomach will ensue. You positively can avoid all these troubles by taking Romoc. It is Nature's own remedy. It contains no injurious drugs nor a particle of alcohol. Romoc builds up your entire system. It will make your stomach strong and will help it to digest the food eaten and what is best of all create a healthy, natural appetite. My word for it, Mr. Man, with indigestion, a single bottle of Romoc will prove to you that there is more in Nature than you have ever dreamed of."

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by means health in later years. As the child builds the adult shall be. Weakly, neglected children do not grow to vigorous man and womanhood. Childhood complaints yield easily to proper treatment—but they do not correct themselves. The weak stomach, pallid complexion, listless bearing, irritable temper, disturbed sleep, speak plainly of the ailments common to children, most of which have their origin in disordered stomach and bowels.

The greatest safeguard to children's health is

Dr. True's Elixir

For indigestion, irritability, constipation, poor appetite, peevishness, fevers, stomach and liver troubles, and worms it is unequaled. Parents of two generations have relied upon it. It restores sound, vigorous health when nothing else will. First it removes the cause, then aids nature to repair the damage; builds anew the waste, enriches the blood and sends a glow of health and vigor to every organ and tissue of the body. At all druggists, 35c. Write for free booklet: "Children and Their Diseases."

GOTHAM POLITICAL FOG

Thickened by Split of Greater New York Democracy

BRONX DELEGATES SECEDE

Intend to Form Another Organization —Republicans to Displace Grout and Fornes—Tammany May Follow Suit and Drop Fusion Candidates

New York, Oct. 3.—The greater New York Democracy was split in two last night by the secession of all the members of the Bronx, headed by S. S. Menken, at the meeting of the executive committee over which borough President Cantor presided. John C. Sheehan, as a member of the committee appointed to confer with the other fusion elements on the choice of city candidates on Sept. 24, reported that he had vainly attempted to secure the nomination of Cantor and denounced the whole fusion program as an attempt to Republicanize the city of New York.

John T. Cronin of the Twenty-Second assembly district, who was also on the committee with Sheehan, made a similar report, in the course of which he accused R. F. Cutting of insulting the Irish voters of the city. This statement precipitated a general tumult, which only ended when Menken left the hall, followed by all the Bronx delegates after he had vainly tried to read a statement, which was eventually laid on the table with the reports of Sheehan and Cronin. The statement offered by Menken was signed by fusion delegates to the conference, who denied that Cutting had made the remarks attributed to him and denounced the report as a brazen attempt to discredit the fusion cause.

After the meeting Menken said that he and his colleagues would form another organization.

Secretary Manchester of the Republican county committee announces that the Republican city convention will be reconvened on the night of Oct. 7, and that at that convention candidates will be named for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen to take the place of Grout and Fornes. Secretary Manchester will not say if any candidate for the two places to be made vacant on the ticket when Grout and Fornes are pushed off have been discussed.

The city committee of the Citizens' union met last night and discussed at length the complex situation that confronted the union as a result of the endorsement by Tammany hall of Grout and Fornes. The session was a very protracted one and the position of Grout and Fornes met with strong condemnation on the part of the members of the committee, it being the consensus of opinion that they should be dropped from the ticket and that other Democrats of the independent type should be selected to fill their places. That this could be done legally there seems to be no doubt. It was finally decided that the Citizens' union convention should be reconvened on next Wednesday night and that a new ticket should be placed in nomination, with Mayor Low at the head, but Grout and Fornes eliminated, and in their places two new men selected.

Rumor is busy asserting that Tammany will drop both Grout and Fornes after the fusionists have done so. Murphy's friends vigorously deny the story. A prominent Democrat, who has figured as the nominee of his party for high official honors, said: "Grout's nomination by Tammany hall means 30,000 Democratic votes for fusion in Brooklyn alone. Brooklyn Democrats will never stand for such a candidate."

Woman An Alleged Defaulter

New York, Oct. 3.—Marie L. Johnson, 29, the wife of a dentist of Larchmont, with an office in this city, was arrested last night on a warrant charging her with grand larceny. The total amount of her defalcations may, it is said, amount to $50,000. The complainants are officers of the United States Playing Card company. Mrs. Johnson was bookkeeper in the New York office, and in addition acted as private secretary to R. H. McCutcheon, secretary and treasurer.

Anarchists Closely Watched

Paris, Oct. 3.—In anticipation of the approaching visit of the King of Italy to Paris the French police have instituted a strict surveillance over the anarchists in this country. Two Italian anarchists were arrested at Nice upon information furnished by the Italian government. The police at Marseilles seized some compromising anarchist correspondence and made four arrests on clues given by the Italian government.

Miners Have No Grievances

Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers has returned to headquarters. "The coal mining situation in this country is the most peaceful in its history," he says. "Not in many years have three months passed with fewer disagreements and strikes. There are no strikes in any field that is organized."

Convention of Juvenile Soldiers

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—The national convention of the United Boys' Brigade begun here with military divisions present from Washington, Pittsburg, Altoona and Lancaster, Pa., Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey. About 500 juvenile visitors are here.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Complicated Situation Relieved by Favorable Weather Conditions

New York, Oct. 3.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: A week of favorable weather for the maturity and harvesting of crops has done much to relieve a somewhat complicated situation and it is also encouraging to find that another collapse in the stock market produced no disturbance in financial or commercial circles. The short interest in the cotton market and the slow movement of a late crop made it possible for the controlling interest to advance prices $10 a bale until the close of September, when a return to the normal prices occurred.

It is practically certain that a reduction of pig iron output will be made, averaging about 20 percent, and this concerted action to prevent accumulation of stocks has already had a sentimental effect on the market inquiries increasing in number and extent of tonnage.

Dry goods markets present no new features. Both buyers and manufacturers of cottons exhibit the same conservative indisposition to undertake contracts for distant delivery, the limited new business being restricted to immediate needs. A firm tone is reported, although there was no response to the sensational fluctuations in the raw material. Woolens are steady, but quiet, and worsteds are dull with more idle machinery. Buying of wool is limited to immediate needs.

No diminution is reported in the activity of shoe factories, especially as to heavy footwear, which is delivered about a month late. All classes of shoes are in good position, with prices steady and retailers constantly seeking consignments.

Evans Made a Good Bargain

Washington, Oct. 3.—Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic station, has accepted the bid of a Japanese merchant for the purchase of the Monocacy. The purchase price was $11,325. The Monocacy is now at Taku, China. She has had a somewhat checkered career. She is a schooner rigged side-wheel steamer, and was built in 1863. She outlived her usefulness many years ago, and for several years past has been lying in a mud dock in the Pei Ho. Admiral Evans was instructed to sell her without regard to the appraisement, which was only $8000.

Rushing the Tillman Trial

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 3.—A vast amount of testimony was taken yesterday in the trial of J. H. Tillman, nearly 26 witnesses having been on the stand. In addition to this the reading of the editorials in The State was concluded. Among the witnesses were those who were in the office of The State when Gonzales was carried there after the shooting. L. G. Wood, Jr., of this number, testified that he found no weapons in the overcoat Gonzales was wearing. Dr. Murray stated that he opened Gonzales' clothes and saw no weapons, but said he did not examine the pockets.

Stealing of Water Alleged

New York, Oct. 3.—Following a long investigation by engineers of the water department, the American Sugar Refining company is charged with taking from the city mains, without the knowledge of the authorities, a vast quantity of water during a period of six years. Commissioner Van Iderstine has sent to the company a claim for $525,000 for the water alleged to have been thus taken and never paid for. The water department officials say that it may be found that the company really owes something like $1,000,000.

Summing Up Maneuvers

West Point, Ky., Oct. 3.—The chief business of Friday at Camp Young was the discussion of the results of the maneuvers of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, presented a detailed report covering every phase of the three movements, but no decision was announced as to the points scored.

"Lord" Indicted For Murder

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—Frederick S. Barrington, alias "Lord Barrington," was indicted by the St. Louis county grand jury on a charge of having murdered James P. McCann at Bonfils, a suburb of St. Louis. The indictment charged that he shot McCann, robbed him and then threw the body into a pond.

Stern to Be Delivered Up

Toronto, Oct. 3.—In the extradition case of Leopold J. Stern, wanted in Washington in connection with the postal frauds, Justice Winchester has directed that Stern be delivered over to the United States authorities for trial on the charge laid on the information.

To Get Pointers on Schools

London, Oct. 3.—Steamer Philadelphia, which sailed from Southampton today for New York, had among her passengers a number of the members of the educational commission sent to study the school system in the United States.

Cane Rush Killed Student

New Orleans, Oct. 3.—Loeber Landau, 16 years old, of the freshmen class at Tulane university, was fatally injured during the cane rush between the freshmen and sophomores and died last night. His skull was fractured.

DOWIE'S BIG MISSION.

Zionist Leader's Plans to Evangelize New York.

EVERY HOUSE IS TO BE VISITED.

Ruler of Zion City Intends That None Shall Escape—Tracts Will Be Distributed—Madison Square Garden to Be Headquarters of Invading Army, Which Will Be Transported From Chicago In Ten Special Trains.

It is not a mere dalliance with superlatives to say that "Dr." John Alexander Dowie, ruler of Zion City, near Chicago, and head of the Christian Catholic Church In Zion, is the busiest and most optimistic man in Illinois today, says the New York Herald. With all his other manifold tasks he is concerning himself night and day with the coming mission of his "restoration host" to New York, when the evangelization of the metropolis will begin.

Plans for the invasion and the campaign to redeem New York from the imps of darkness have been formulated to the smallest detail. Ten trains have been engaged to transport the host eastward. These will leave Chicago by various trunk lines, and all are scheduled to arrive in New York on Friday, Oct. 16. Dowie's own train will be the last to leave Zion City and the first to reach New York.

In Dowie's private car, which will be magnificently appointed and donated for the purpose by the Nickel Plate road, will ride "Elijah II.," Mrs. Dowie, Gladstone Dowie, their attendants and the immediate staff of the general overseer This train is to reach New York at a quarter past 7 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 16.

A complete telegraph system will be installed in this train in charge of a competent operator. By this means Dowie will receive hourly reports from each of the other nine trains, giving its exact location, progress and such other information as may be deemed desirable to the leader of the conquering host. Dowie will be the flying king, giving his orders en route to his followers. Nine of the trains will consist of ten day cars, with sleeping cars attached.

Specific orders have been given by Dowie to the entire host that each member must eat in Madison Square Garden, where extensive preparations are being made to take care of the restorationists. There will be no lavish meals and no putting on of frills in the eating of them, but the food is to be wholesome, and two meals a day will be served for 25 cents.

Deacon Frank W. Cotton will be commissary of the host, and under his charge will be the entire kitchen staff of Elijah Hospice—Zion City's name for a hotel—Edina Hospice and Zion Home No. 1. This force will attend to the cooking of the meals, the cooks to work in relays, so that the work devolving upon each may be as light as possible. Madison Square Garden will present the spectacle of from 3,000 to 5,000 Zionists eating at once. Dishes are to be taken along. These are already provided for in Zion City. Breakfast will be served at 8 o'clock and dinner at 5 o'clock in the evening. Every restorationist must be on hand at the garden for these two meals. If his appetite becomes too strong to wait for the 5 o'clock meal he may buy a lunch at an eating house in the territory to which he will be assigned for missionary work. The Zion band of forty pieces will wake the echoes, and the adult choir of 350 members and the junior choir of 200 voices will unite in the battle hymns of the church.

While in New York the host will take part in the early morning meetings of praise and prayer, at which Dr. Dowie will deliver addresses on the eleven commandments, taking one each morning, and four other subjects, which he will select for the fifteen days. As soon as possible after breakfast the companies will form their seventies and leave Madison Square Garden for the districts allotted to them for the day's work. At 10 o'clock every morning the general overseer will hold a meeting in Madison Square Garden, at which the host will not be present. At these meetings Dowie hopes to give divine healing teaching and to spend much time with the ill and suffering. The members of the host will be expected to return to Madison Square Garden for their labors at 4 p. m. A hot dinner of three or four courses will be served at 5 p. m. This will give ample time to get ready for the evening meeting. There are to be no afternoon meetings.

There will be street meetings in various parts of the city. These meetings will not be so demonstrative as those held by the Salvation Army, but will be similar to them in that there will be speaking, praying and singing of hymns.

The bulk of the work mapped out, however, will consist of visitations, members of the host going to business and private houses and leaving tracts issued under the direction of "Dr." Dowie. These tracts relate to the tenets of the church, to the principles of divine healing promulgated by the head of the church and the cures said to have been effected thereby. It is contemplated that not a house in all New York shall escape, and Dowie has figured out that every one can be reached, with plenty of time to spare for the big meetings. He calculates that each visiting delegate can ring the bells and leave documents at 300 houses each day.

The purpose of the New York invasion is to establish the eastern branch of his church more firmly.

IN TOMATO TIME.

Preserves, Pickles, Catchup and Other Tempting Concoctions.

Preserved Yellow Tomatoes.—For each pound of firm, even sized tomatoes allow one-half of a pound of sugar and one-half of a pint of water. Boil sugar and water for a moment, then put in a few tomatoes at a time and simmer very gently until tender. When all are done add to the sirup the juice and yellow rind of one lemon and boil for fifteen minutes or until quite heavy. Return to the fire with the fruit, bring again to the boiling point and can at once.

Sweet Spiced Tomatoes.—Into a large agate kettle put seven pounds of peeled and sliced tomatoes, three pounds and a half of granulated sugar, one pint of vinegar, one tablespoonful each of whole cloves, allspice and peppercorns, one-half of an ounce of stick cinnamon, one-half of an ounce of green ginger and one scant teaspoonful of salt. Cook slowly for two hours, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking at the bottom. Can and seal.

Sliced Green Tomato Pickle.—Cut firm, medium sized green tomatoes in half inch slices. Have ready a cold brine sufficiently strong to bear an egg. Pour over the tomatoes and set aside for twenty-four hours. Dissolve a bit of alum the size of a hickory nut in three quarts of boiling water, cook in it a portion of the tomatoes at a time until tender. Mix well together one teaspoonful of ground cloves, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one dessertspoonful of dry mustard, one-half of a teaspoonful of black pepper and one tablespoonful of sugar. Skim the tomatoes from the boiling liquid and put in layers in a stone pot or jar, sprinkling evenly with the mixed spices. When the jar is filled cover with cold vinegar and put away in a cool place.

Tomato Catchup.—Wash and wipe a bushel of ripe tomatoes, slice and cook until tender, then press through a sieve. Return to the fire and cook until thick. Add two quarts of good cider vinegar and boil for half an hour, then add half a pound of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of salt, an ounce of ground black pepper, an ounce of allspice, two ounces of ginger, half an ounce of cloves, half an ounce of mace, an ounce of cinnamon, two grated nutmegs and a small red pepper pod. Boil for ten minutes and bottle.—Table Talk.

With Fresh Peaches.

Peach dumplings are possible at any season (with canned fruit), but just now they are delicious with the fresh fruit. Housekeepers differ as to the paste, some preferring a rich pie crust, while others think a biscuit dough made with a double allowance of shortening is best. In either case the paste should be rolled out one-third of an inch thick and be cut into six inch squares or circles. On each piece place a peeled peach and draw up the paste smoothly round it, pinching the edges securely together. Place some distance apart on a flat pan and bake for forty minutes in a quick oven. They may, if preferred, be steamed for half an hour, then placed in the oven until dried and lightly colored. The hard sauce which is served with them is made by creaming two tablespoonfuls of butter and gradually beating into it one cupful of powdered sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla. This is piled on a fancy dish and set on ice until chilled.—Table Talk.

PEACH DUMPLINGS.

Cucumber Sweet Pickles.

To make cucumber sweet pickles place the cucumbers in a dish with half a cup of salt to two quarts of cucumbers. Cover with boiling water and let stand overnight. In the morning remove them from the brine, place in a granite kettle, cover with vinegar to which have been added half a cup of whole mustard seed, whole cloves and cinnamon mixed and one cup of sugar. Let come to the boiling point, but not boil. Put in cans or bottles and seal while hot.—Exchange.

The New Grape Glasses.

Grape glasses, tall, slightly cone shaped affairs, set in silver standards, are among the most recently introduced table pieces. These are for the rinsing and refreshing of grapes at the table, and each glass provides for the immersion of one bunch, says an exchange.

Items of Health and Beauty.

It is said that men lose their hair early on account of excessive washing of the scalp.

Brittle nails can be cured by rubbing warm almond oil into the finger tips every night.

The face should be washed as seldom as possible during the day, but it must always be washed at night.

The foot is a sensitive member, and multitudes every year doubtless go to death because, in the first place, cold, damp or wet feet have been neglected.

Gymnastics and athletics develop mind as well as body. They bring the motor nerves into play and thus accelerate the brain's activity.

CITY BREVITIES.

All of the new electric arc lights on Hancock street are now in position and were burning last night.

Some of the fixtures for the new stores in the business block on Hancock street have arrived.

The big numbers on the beach end of Sea street show that it is a long street. It is not the longest, however, in Quincy.

Auctioneer Johnson will have a sale of machinery, leather and furniture at the estate of the late John Page on Saturday next.

The Old Colony Street Railway and the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. conveyed the multitude to and from the fair better than in former years.

The selectmen of Weymouth have asked the owner to remove the ruins of the Pine Point House near New Downer Landing. There are ruins of a fire at Houghs Neck that people would like removed.

A pair of horses attached to one of the Meadow Brook ice wagons became frightened in City Square this morning and ran through Temple street. The wagon brought up against a telephone pole between the church and fountain, and was more or less damaged.

Commissioner Knowlton, Councilman George E. Adams, chairman of the Committee on Water Supply, left this morning with a party of the Metropolitan Water Commissioners and invited guests on a tour of inspection of the Metropolitan Water Supply system. The party took a special train from Boston for Clinton where the large dam and basin and located and there take barges for the trip along the Weston Aquedect. The party expects to return to Boston late in the afternoon

BIG POWER PLANT.

Progress on Old Colony Work at Quincy Point.

Things at the new street railway power station at Quincy Point are beginning to assume shape, and the framework of the building will soon be raised. It has been a long and tedious job, owing to the ever present volume of water while excavating and getting the foundations for the heavy machinery in place. These foundations are of solid concrete and are over twenty feet in depth. They are now about completed.

The steel structural work has begun to arrive, and much of it is already upon the ground. Work placing it in position will soon be commenced.

It was a great undertaking, but when completed the Old Colony street railway will have one of the best power plants ever built.

The electrical generators and engines are to be of the very latest type, and the current generated will operate all the lines between Boston and Brockton. Work running the feed wires to different points has been commenced. From the power plant to South street, the wires will go under ground, and from there on poles which have been erected on private land on a reserved space, fifty feet wide. This space has been cleared of all trees so that there will be nothing near the wires to ground them.

It will however be some time before the plant will be in operation, and in the mean time it has been found necessary to set up some temporary engines and generators. These are the massive pieces that have been arriving at South Quincy of late.

They will be set up in a temporary structure that is now being constructed near the present power station.

—A story is told of an Arkansas man who was out hunting one day last spring and was caught out in a rain. He looked around for shelter, but could find none except a hollow log. He found the opening rather small, but managed to get in and found a good retreat. When the rain was over and he attempted to "crawfish" out he found that the rain had swollen the timber until it was impossible for him to get out of the log. Finally he began to think of all the little things he had ever done, but all to no purpose. He thought of cheating a poor widow out of her only milch cow, and thought of turning his hogs into his neighbor's corn field, but none of these made him feel small enough to affect his release. At last he thought of having refused to pay the four years' subscription he owed for his home paper, on the grounds that he "didn't subscribe but for one year," and he came out with ease.—Rockland Standard.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The return next week of Howell Hansel to his former position as leading man of the Castle Square Theatre Company, will be a most interesting event to the patrons of this popular playhouse and he will undoubtedly receive a hearty greeting. During his tours through the country in former years Mr. Hansel has met with unusual success in the character of Jones in the farce comedy "What Happened to Jones," and it is announced that he will renew his relations with the Castle Square Company in this laughable play. "What happened to Jones" needs no words of commendation to Boston play-goers and its earlier performances at the Castle Square Theatre have added not a little to the favor the play enjoys in this city. The usual distribution of boxes of chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

GLOBE THEATRE.

An interesting dramatic event will be the production in Boston for three weeks, beginning October 12, at the Globe Theatre, of a new play, launched by a new star. On those days Charles Richman and his company will present a romantic drama by Victor Mapes, called "Captain Barrington," which after its presentation in Springfield, will go to the Globe Theatre, Boston, for a three weeks' engagement. Mr. Richman was for several years leading man at Daly's Theatre, and later played in the same capacity at the Empire Theatre, New York. He is the first dramatic star to appear under the management of Weber and Fields, managers who are rapidly branching out in the theatrical world. A somewhat remarkable fact in connection with Mr. Richman's company is that it contains no less than three leading women, and three leading men beside the star, so long himself a leading man. Of the women Miss Suzanne Sheldon was Mr. Southern's chief support in "If I were King;" Miss Florence Wickliffe, who succeeded Julia Marlowe in "Barbara Freitchie," and Maxine Elliott in "When We Were Twenty-One;" and Miss Francis Ring, a sister of Blanche Ring, and who was leading woman for Andrew Mack last year; and of the men George W. Wilson and William Redmund, both leading men of the old Boston Museum Stock Company, George Osborne, leading man of the Empire Theatre, and Mr. Kilgour.

BOSTON THEATRE.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," the great New England play which has charmed hundreds of thousands of theatre-goers throughout the country in the past three seasons and is always popularly welcomed by New England theatre-goers began its fourth engagment at the Boston Theatre last Monday evening with the house literally packed to the doors and hundreds of people standing. To a great many patrons on the opening night it must have seemed that "Quincy Adams Sawyer" started in just where it left off a year ago, for late comers were greeted by the "Standing Room Only" sign, even though the seating capacity has been extended by placing the orchestra under the stage. Seats are now on sale for the next two weeks and they should be secured well in advance. Matinees will be given as usual on Wednesday and Saturday.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

Julia Marlowe's annual engagement at the Hollis street Theatre, Boston, is always one of of the most noteworthy and brilliant events of the theatrical season. Her engagement this season which opened last Monday night is proving one of the most fashionable and successful engagements which she has ever played in Boston. Large audiences of an ultra fashionable quality have crowded the theatre at every performance, and expressed their pleasure in a a most enthusiastic manner. Miss Marlowe's presence here this season is particularly noteworthy for her production of N. V. Esmond's new play "Fools of Nature" marks her first appearance in a modern society comedy as a woman of fashion. This is the first time in her distinguished career that she has ever played a role of this kind. In entering into this new field of endeavor she has not sacrificed any of her ideals, for the role she plays is that of a beautiful young widow of title and of the most charming and impressive personal characteristics. She is a splendid womanly type—sincere, buoyant, highly bred and proud. She is a woman of high ideals and strong convictions. In the play she is the centre of a love episode of strong human interest. The comedy is in four acts and occurs at the country home of an English baronet at Henley-on the-Thames during regatta week. Miss Marlowe's rich and beautiful gowns will give the ladies something to talk about for many a day. The production is one of the most beautiful and artistic that has ever been given a modern society play. The last two weeks of the engagement begin Monday.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

The leading attraction at Keith's Boston theatre for the week commencing Oct. 5 will be the English band that is coming to escort the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company of London, the Fifth Royals, which is said to be one of the best organizations in the British Army. Special permission had to be obtained from the War Office in London for the appearance of the band at Keith's Petite concerts will be rendered afternoons and evenings, at about 2 and 8 o'clock approximately. In the surrounding show will appear the well known farce-comedian, Wilfred Clarke, supported by an excellent company, in the laughable sketch, "In a Biograph;" Press Eldridge, blackface humorist and parody singer; Edward Bixley, who is claimed to be as clever and funny as Nat Wills; Cooper and Bailey, "real coons" of the Williams and Walker type; Doherty's poodles, a troupe of intelligent and "cute" little dogs, and Lucille Joscelyn, a well known and talented prima donna

Foot Ball.

HIGHBINDER WAR.

"Hatchet Men" Employed to Commit Murder.

Inside Information Obtained.

Beginning of Contest Between Rival Gambling Societies.

Boston, Oct. 5.—By the arrest of Guey Tong, 18 years old, in Chinatown, the police believe that their theory that the murder of Wong Yak Chong and the wounding of two other Chinamen on Harrison avenue last Friday night was the work of highbinders has been materially strengthened. The boy was skulking along the street with a large bundle under his arm and acting in such a manner as to attract the attention of Patrolman Hughes. When questioned as to the contents of the package the boy replied that it was "only candy" and added that he was in a hurry to get home.

The officer made an investigation and took the young fellow to the station. There the package was found to contain 300 cartridges of 38 calibre. After he had reached the station the boy refused to make any answer to questions directed to him and persistently refused to inform the officers for whom the cartridges were intended. He was locked up pending further investigation.

Wong Shoong, one of the witnesses to Friday night's murder, has identified Guey Tung as one of the men who fired a shot at that time. He could not say whether or not the shot hit any one. Guey Tung is said to be a member of the society of Ong Leungo, and conducts a laundry in West Somerville.

The police fear that a feud has begun, and many representative Chinese business men entertain the same belief. Several of the latter say that numbers of Chinese are wearing coats of mail as a partial protection against assassination. It is even asserted that a gang of murderers from San Francisco is in Boston, where its members are plying their trade at a regular scale of prices ranging from $1000 to $500 for serious injury.

Sergeant Allen and Patrolmen Brooks and Hanlon promptly locked up and now have in the city prison, charged with the murder, Wong Chung and Charlie Ching, and they are in search of still another Chinaman who will be similarly charged if they can find him, but the police fear that the arrest of this third man will not avail to prevent a further and a more disastrous clash between the members of the two tongs which are at enmity.

The police received certain important information which has convinced them that only the most rigorous measures can prevent a general battle in Chinatown, and they are doubtful if even the extraordinary precautions they have taken will prevent bloodshed.

An English-speaking Chinaman recently told an officer of the state police that a gang of highbinders, or professional assassins, commonly called "hatchet men" in the west, had been engaged to come on here and murder certain members of the Hep Sen Tong, who have fallen under the ban of a rival tong by giving information to the police about the numerous gambling houses which have been operated in the district.

The Hep Sen Tongs and the Sang Yee Hongs (Chinese merchants' association) are deadly rivals and have been for a long time, the members of each accusing the members of the other of informing the police whenever a successful gambling raid, and such raids have been common in the district, was pulled off.

The state officer's informant went considerably into details about the way in which the proposed murders would be attempted, and the shooting of Friday night confirmed his story in most of its details. He said, for one thing, that the highbinders wore garments of knit steel under their blouses, and that they were designed to ward off bullets fired at them or knives and hatchets.

When Wong Chung was searched he was incased in a coat of mail which reminded the investigators of medieval times, for the garment was one which would ward off a knife thrust and be likely to deflect a bullet fired at its wearer's body.

The coat of mail was a garment which covered the whole of the body from the neck to the hips, and looked something like the regulation blouse worn by Chinamen. It was built of pieces of steel, about two inches long and an inch and a half in width, fastened together with links of wire, so that the garment was flexible and would bend with the body in whichever way it might be turned.

On Charley Ching the police found an ax that folded up. The handle of it was about a foot long and the blade of the ax was four inches in length and sharpened to a razor edge. The ax was made to close up like a pocket knife, and there was a clasp to hold it open when it was in use. A more effective edged weapon the police have never seen.

Accidental Electrocution

Montreal, Oct. 5.—Two men were instantly killed at Point St. Charles and another badly shocked by the boom of a derrick they were operating coming in contact with an electric light wire.

Evening Trade School.

The trade school conducted by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association at the Mechanics' building, Huntington avenue, for the past three years is to reopen its doors for the fourth term on Monday evening, Oct, 12, with every prospect of a successful season. The branches taught—carpentry, masonry and plumbing—are designed not only to produce thoroughly trained young workmen, but also to assist older men to perfect themselves in the more difficult processes of their trades.

Instruction in the school is carried on under conditions as nearly as possible like those of practical work. A competent workman is employed as instructor to carry on the class three evenings each week from 7.30 to 9.30. Both the instructor and the student also benefit by suggestions from members of the executive committee of the school.

The school is supported by the above named association and is practically free to anyone who cares to attend. Last year the students attended from the various cities and towns of eastern Massachusetts, and it is expected that the capacity of the school will be taxed to the utmost this year, for the opportunity afforded to become proficient in a trade is rarely offered in this vicinity.

Correspondence regarding admission to the school should be adressed to the director of the M. C. M. A. Trade School, Mechanics' building, Boston, Mass.

$5,000 SHORT.

Harold B. Faxon, Bank Teller, Under Cloud.

Surety Company Make Good Amount.

Now Looking for Friends to Reimburse Them.

For several days it has been known to the Ledger that Harold B. Faxon, for several years connected with the People's National Bank of Boston, was in trouble, and for two weeks he has not been seen at the Granite City club, and other places which he frequented.

As far as known no proceedings have yet been commenced against Faxon, but his resignation as paying teller at the People's bank has been accepted, and a New York Surety company which furnished the bond given to the bank by Faxon, has been called upon to reimburse the bank for a shortage of $5000 in Faxon's accounts.

The Surety company promptly complied with the request of the bank, and is now looking to Faxon and his relatives to make themselves whole, rather than proceed against the young man.

Harold B. Faxon is the son of Dr. William L. Faxon, formerly superintendent of the National Sailors' Home, and Mrs. Annie E. Faxon, and lives with his mother and sister on Faxon avenue in this city.

Faxon is a member of the Granite City club, was secretary for three or four years recently of the Quincy Yacht club, and a few years ago was secretary of the Democratic City committee, and a candidate for the City Council.

Speculation in stocks is said to have been the cause of Faxon's loss.

A LONG CRUISE

Planned for Five of the Torpedo Boat Destroyers.

Fore river men as well as naval officers are interested in the approaching trip of the little torpedo boat destroyers, the Decanter, Barry, Bainbridge Chauncey and Dale, to the Philippines. Never before have such vessels been sent on such a long cruise. On account of their light construction and small coal capacity it has been the policy of all nations to keep them close to port, so that they could run to harbor before a severe gale.

The idea of sending the flyers of the sea to the Philippines, says a Washington dispatch, originated with the general board of the navy, of which Admiral Dewey is the head, and it is intended as a supreme test of their endurance and their seaworthiness in all kinds of weather.

No other nation has had the nerve or confidence to make such a test, and it probably will be the American navy which will prove that torpedo boats have real value out of sight of shor and can be sent to foreign waters with powerful squadrons.

The boats are now being overhauled and put in shape at Norfolk for their long cruise. They will start as soon as they are in perfect order. They will go by the Suez canal, in order that they can coal frequently, and will be convoyed by the cruiser Baltimore.

The fact that Lieut. Lloyd H. Chandler, who will command the flotilla, is a son of a former secretary of the navy, has led to the report that Sec. Moody will be in personal command of the torpedo boats. This report has traveled around the world, and Mr. Moody has been kept busy denying the story to his friends who are writing him and advising him not to take the risk of such a trip.

It is expected the flotilla will be ready to sail by November.

Open Golf At Wollaston.

The Wollaston Golf Club announces the details of the two open tournaments to be held on its links at Montclair on Friday and Saturday of next week, Oct. 16 and 17. The first will be a team match against bogey, open to teams of four, each contestant playing from scratch; prizes will be awarded members of the winning team and the player returning the best score.

The second competition will be a medal play handicap in two classes, the handicap of class A limited to 10 strokes and that of class B to 18. Prizes are offered for best gross and net score in each class. Entries close with R. R. Freeman, Wollaston, on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 6 P. M., for the team match, and on Friday, 16th, at the same hour, for the handicap. Post entries are allowed members of the Wollaston club.

$300 DAMAGE

To the Valuable Launch of Frank L. Bates.

Electrical Machinery is Torn Out.

Yachts Taken During Night and Abandoned.

It seems that the arrest and sentence of Thormingson, the hermit at Adams shore, has not put a stop to the yacht thieving, but that the depredations have been transferred to the Weymouth Fore river, and are more extensive than ever. Frank L. Bates of Braintree reports loss and damage to his steam yacht Shore Acres of about $300, and several other yachts have been stolen or stripped.

Sometime between midnight and 4 A. M. Saturday the Shore Acres was taken from her moorings in Hayward's creek at Quincy Neck, and during Saturday was found abandoned outside the bridge on the North Weymouth shore.

Mr. Bates had an expensive electrical outfit on board for generating, lighting, etc. The storage batteries were ripped out and also the engine and other machinery; sheets and awnings were cut, holes punctured in the boat, and lots of damage done.

The yacht of W. A. Cook of Holbrook was also taken and stripped of everything and was found abandoned near by.

The cover was taken from the engine of Mr. Smith's launch.

Parker Hayward and Lemuel Hayward of Braintree and Mr. Cassidy also report thefts from their yachts.

Who Is It?

A telephone was received at police headquarters at 6 o'clock this morning stating that the body of a man, thought to belong in Quincy had been found at Swampscott. He was a man about 60 years of age, grey mustache, black derby hat, mixed Scotch suit, lace shoes black stockings. Thought to be a gas fitter. In his pocket was a twenty-five ride book between Quincy and Boston, numbered 3,236, purchased at the South terminal Sept. 23, 1903.

Twenty-seven years ago today the Quinceticikality-flacfonorous went to the firemen's muster at Waltham. They were otherwise known as the hayseeds. They wore old linen dusters, tall hats, and were got up regardless.

Good Afternoon.

Will the people of Philadelphia feel flattered that Mr. Charles M. Schwab comes to their city when ordered by his doctor to take a rest?

If young Corbett were given an appointment to Annapolis, hazing of freshmen might become unpopular at the Naval Academy.

Fred M. French of Randolph was on Saturday renominated by the Republicans of the Seventh Norfolk district as their candidate for the Legislature. Such men as Mr. French should always be returned.

Ten million stray pieces reached the dead letter office during the past fiscal year. Fifty thousand dollars cash and money orders and checks to the value of $1,493,563 were found in the letters. Evidently Americans are careless.

Drift of Opinion.

☞There is no other nation in the world that would have borne the insults heaped upon the United States by the half-savage bandits of Colombia. According to the rules of international intercourse of a country would be justified in declaring war, and demanding the concessions that have been politely requested and impudently refused. A mistake is made in trying to treat the riff-raff of the isthmus as equals.—Beverly Times.

☞Apparently "living" may be somewhat expensive the coming winter. Last year there was a strike of anthracite miners and as a result the coal barons pushed the price of fuel to an outrageous figure. Now 53,000 packers employed in the big packing houses of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Sioux City, New York, St. Paul and Fort Worth threaten to go out to enforce a demand for the unionizing the packing houses and for an average wage increase of about 10 per cent. Suppose such a strike happens. Will the beef kings follow the example of the coal barons?—Exchange.

☞Is Greek a dead language? When I went into the libray the other day and picked up a Greek newspaper I decided that at least it wasn't dead easy. We were taught in our college days to consider Greek as something essentially connected with the past, and necessary only as an element of education and culture; but one has only to walk along the streets of the city today to discover that our ideas on the subject need to be adjusted to a new condition of affairs. You must have your Greek lexicon in order to read the signs over the shop doors, and half the conversation we hear on the streets would be more intelligible to Demosthenes than to the educated citizen of today. It is time for the colleges to revise their catalogues.—Lowell Citizen.

Q. H. S. LINE-UP.

Will Meet Adams Academy Tomorrow for First Game.

The Quincy High school foot ball team will open its season Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at Merrymount park, when Adams Academy will be the opposing eleven. Although the High school team's chances of winning the game are good, a close contest is expected. The second game of the High school eleven will be played on Friday afternoon of this week, when the eleven from the Volkmann school will come to Quincy for a game.

The candidates for the High school eleven have been in active practice for the past three weeks and from the start the prospects have been excellent for a fast team. Several former members of the eleven have helped in the coaching, and with the aid of others familiar with the game, the players have rapidly developed into fine form. Several vacancies were caused by the graduation of good players, but new material has appeared for all the positions.

No new plays have been attempted as yet, and it is expected that only straight foot ball will be indulged in during the first, few games.

Manager Howlett has nearly completed an excellent schedule of games, which will be announced within a few days. Quincy, together with Dedham, Wellesley, and Waltham High schools have formed a league and one game will be played with each team. The game with Dedham will occur at Quincy, Nov. 3, while those with Waltham and Wellesley will be played away from home on Oct. 13 and 20, respectively. Other games will include Roxbury, Milton, Everett, and a second game with Adams Academy, which will occur on Oct. 27.

Met With Horrible Death

Pawtucket, R. I., Oct. 5.—Fred Mansfield, 34 years old, was hurled around a shafting in the Lorraine mill and his right arm was torn from the socket and he sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and injuries to his head. He was putting on a belt and his clothing caught in a loop, drawing his body to the ceiling.

Secret Inquest In Kirby Case

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 5.—The inquest on the death of Tillinghast Kirby, who it is thought was murdered in his boat and on which charge Angle Snell is now under arrest, was held behind closed doors, and none of the testimony was given out. Judge Milliken will report his findings later.

Hatters' New Scale In Effect

Boston, Oct. 5.—Beginning today the hatters of Boston will work only 50 hours a week instead of 55 as heretofore, and the minimum wage for men who work by the day will be $20 a week instead of $18. The new wage scale has been accepted by all the local manufacturers.

Warships Are Great Attractions

Boston, Oct. 5.—The three warships in this harbor, the British cruiser Retribution, the French ship La Troude and the U. S. S. Chicago, which are in attendance upon the Honourable Artillery company of London, were visited by nearly 10,000 persons yesterday.

TWELVE LIVES LOST

By Sudden Sinking of a Lake Steamer Caught In a Squall

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 5.—During a squall Saturday night on Lake Michigan the steamer J. H. Hackley capsized and 12 persons were drowned. Steamer Shegoygan rescued the other seven persons on board the Hackley after they had drifted all night in Green bay, clinging to wreckage, and brought them to Fish Creek.

The Hackley was struck by the squall when seven miles from this port.

Those saved by the Sheboygan say that with the crashing away of the upper works, everybody aboard the Hackley ran on deck. Hasty preparations for a plunge into the water were begun, but before any plans could be carried out the boat listed, turned over and went down like a stone.

As the Hackley went to the bottom those who could seized floating pieces of wreckage, while a number of women and men, failing to find any object to which to cling, sank immediately.

The waves were rolling high and several of those who at first saved themselves from immediate death lost strength and sank. It was not until 7 o'clock Sunday morning that the Sheboygan sighted the helpless survivors and effected their rescue.

Grout Won't Be Forced Out

New York, Oct. 5.—The feature of the political stuation is Grout's formal declaration that he will resist all efforts to force him off the fusion ticket. What legal steps will be taken by him to maintain his position, or by the fusionists to compel his retirement, are yet undertermined. The situation is practically unchanged, the fusionists waiting for their convention on Wednesday and the Democrats waiting for their opponents to make the first move before proceeding to take steps to keep Grout and Fornes on the ticket.

Hot Politics In Ireland

London, Oct. 5.—The candidature of John H. Parnell, brother of the late Charles S. Parnell, at the parliamentary election for South Meath, led to a riot when John Redmond and other Nationalists went to speak in support of their candidate, David Sheehy. The rival factions came to blows at Dunshaughlin. Bludgeons and stones were used and many persons were injured. Redmond denounced J. H. Parnell as a traitor to Irish unity.

Labored For Love

Plattsburg, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Rev. Francis B. Hall, 39 years pastor of the Perstreme Presbyterian church in this city, died here of bronchitis, aged 76. He was the son of Major Hall, who distinguished himself in the war of 1812. In the Civil war Mr. Hall was a chaplain and he received a medal of honor from congress for gallantry. He was wealthy and never accepted salary as pastor, nor any fees for marriages or other ceremonies.

Isolated For the Winter

St. Johns, Oct. 5.—The Newfoundland sealing steamer Neptune, conveying the Canadian government expedition to Hudson bay, whither it is going with the object of expelling any American whalers found fishing in those waters, has entered Hudson strait. The expedition will not be heard from again until next summer.

Convent Must Pay Miss Archer $8000

London, Oct. 5.—Miss Mary Archer, formerly of Milwaukee, who sued the Sacred Heart convent for damages for dismissal from the order and incarceration in an asylum on the ground of insanity and also for remuneration for 27 years' services, has been awarded $3000 for wages and $5000 for wrongful dismissal.

Probable Case of Arson

East Hampton, Conn., Oct. 5.—A fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed a new frame factory building owned by M. House. The building had never been occupied and, so far as can be learned, there was nothing of an inflammable character in the building. The loss is about $5000.

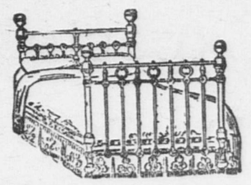
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The dark of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Edmund J. Shattuck, a representative citizen and well known in the business world as a member of the firm of George H. Merrill, printing ink manufacturers, died at his home at Norwood, Mass. He was born at Northfield, Vt., in 1852.

At Calvary cemetery, Portland, Me., a beautiful monument was dedicated to the late Bishop Healy, who died after a service of 25 years as the head of the Catholic church in Maine.

While playing with matches at the home of his parents at Boston, Joseph Racino, aged 4, set fire to his clothing and was so badly burned that he died.

Levi P. Morton is recovering rapidly from the severe cold which has confined him to his home for a few days.

The war department has received a cablegram from General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, stating that the cable between Sitka and Juneau, Alaska, is open for business.

Wedding of Bryan's Daugter

TROOPS ARE FIGHTING

Opening of Hostilities on Bulgarian Frontier

EXECUTION OF REFORMS

Insisted Upon In Their Entirety In a Sharp Warning to Turkey as a Result of Conference Between Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph

Sofia, Oct. 5.—News has been received here from the frontier of fighting between Turkish and Bulgarian troops at Demir-Kapia, both sides sustaining losses.

In official quarters all knowledge of the affair is denied, but the circumstantial details given seem to indicate that there is some foundation for the accounts of the conflict. According to one report the Turks attacked the Bulgarian frontier post. Another version says the Turks pursued a number of refugees across the frontier.

It is asserted that the Turks have frequently attempted to provoke hostilities, firing into Bulgarian territory and crossing the frontier to steal horses and sheep. The war office here is working at high pressure, and 24,000 recruits will be called out three months before the usual time. Prince Ferdinand has sanctioned numerous other measures of a warlike nature.

All the cavalry, with the exception of a single regiment which is stationed at Sofia, will be sent into the frontier districts, where are also strong forces of artillery. Vigorous efforts are being made to prevent bands from crossing into Turkish territory. Two bands which were sent back have reached Sofia since Saturday.

Dispatches from the frontier received at the revolutionary headquarters report that the refugees in the mountains are in a terrible condition through their pursuit by the Turks and cold and hunger. Many are dying.

Vienna, Oct. 5.—As an outcome of the conference between the czar and Emperor Francis Joseph at Muerzsteg, the governments of Austria and Russia have sent the following identical telegram to the ambassador of those countries in Constantinople. The telegrams were couched in the following terms:

"You were recently instructed to declare that Austria-Hungary and Russia adhere to the task of pacification which they have undertaken and are resolved to persevere with the program drawn up at the beginning of the year, notwithstanding the difficulties hitherto opposed to its execution. For, indeed, while on the one hand the revolutionary committees have provoked disturbances and deterred the Christian population of the three vilayets from co-operating in the execution of the reforms, on the other hand, the representatives of the sublime porte entrusted with their application have been generally wanting in the necessary zeal and have not been imbued with the idea which inspired these measures.

"Both powers are united in the determination to show that it is their firm resolve to insist on the execution in their entirety of those reforms which were accepted by the porte and which are calculated to guarantee general security. In this connection you will receive detailed instructions without delay.

"While both powers recognized to the full the porte's right to suppress the disorders fostered by the insurrectionary agitation of the Macedonian committee, they at the same time deplore the fact that this suppression was accompanied by excesses and cruelties from which the peaceful inhabitants suffered. It, therefore, appears to them to be their urgent duty to come to the assistance of the victims of these regrettable occurrences and the above mentioned instructions will acquaint you with the details of the humanitarian action which they deem necessary with the object of supporting the inhabitants who have been deprived of all means of existence, facilitating their repatriation and restoring the villages, churches and schools destroyed by fire.

"The Austro-Hungarian and Russian governments entertain the firm hope that their continued endeavors to establish a lasting peace in the sorely-tried provinces will attain their object and they are convinced that their impartial advice will be heeded by all to whom it is addressed in their own interests.

"By command of his majesty, my august master, I request you to communicate the foregoing to the Ottoman government, after you have arrived at an understanding with your Russian (or Austrian) colleague, who has received identical instructions."

Further Slaughter Planned

Salonica, Oct. 5.—The Bulgarian notables here went to the governor's palace and informed the authorities that a series of fresh outrages in Salonica is being planned. All the guards have consequently been doubled.

From insurgent sources it is reported that the Bulgarian villages of Obiditt and Kromon have been pillaged and burned. Many of their inhabitants were slaughtered. The Bulgarian quarter of Belitza is in flames. Seven hundred refugees from Belitza are reported to have been killed in a Turkish ambuscade near Samakoff, province of Kirk-Kilisse.

OVATION FOR BRITONS

Boston, Oct. 5.—The quietness of Boston's Sabbath was stirred by the sound of martial music as the Honourable Artillery company of London and their hosts, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of this city, marched to Trinity church. The services in that edifice had been arranged by the British residents of this city, and the parade included, besides the two military bodies, those army and navy veterans of the British service whose homes are in this city. The novelty of a military parade on Sunday proved very attractive and the line of march was well lined with spectators.

Every inch of space in Copley square was crowded when the procession reached the church at 4:15. The services lasted until almost 6 o'clock, and during the time the great crowd of 30,000 people waited. On the outskirts of the throng the people pressed frantically to get a glimpse of the entrance to the church, and at times the crush was something awful. When the Honourables emerged from the church and took up the march again, with the applause of the multitude breaking the stillness of the Sabbath evening, it made such a scene as has probably never been rivalled in Boston's history.

Modest Priest's Secret Revealed

St. Louis, Oct. 5.—Dressed in the simple costume of a Catholic priest, Rev. Father Caesar Spigardi, has for eight years labored among the Italians of St. Louis, keeping as his own secret the fact that he is a member of the official household of the pope, a monsignor and entitled to wear the garb of a chamberlain of honor. The fact became known yesterday through the issuance of the official roster of the Roman Catholic church.

Disaster In a Distillery

Peoria, Ills., Oct. 4.—With a terrific crash Corning's distillery rocked and swayed and one large section of the five-story building rose in the air. Out of the flying debris shot a huge copper cylinder, the explosion of which caused the death of seven men and the serious injury of five more. Every man who was in the building at the time of the explosion was instantly killed, the injured being men who were on the outside.

No Herreshoffs In England

New York, Oct. 5.—Sir Thomas Lipton has arrived here from Chicago and will remain until Friday, when he sails for home. He says that Shamrock III will serve perhaps as a trial horse should the fortunate day ever come when he should feel justified in bringing over another challenger. There would be no use, he said, in doing so unless he could find another Herreshoff on the other side.

Friends Decided to Die Together

Indianapolis, Oct. 5.—George E. Williamson of Chicago and Marvin Welch of Janesville, Wis., clerks in the auditor's department of the Central Union Telephone company, committed suicide by shooting through the head. The two were close friends. They killed themselves at separate boarding houses. Officials believe that the two friends planned the double suicide.

Killed Himself In Woods

Malden, Mass., Oct. 5.—The body of a man about 60 years of age was found with his throat cut in the woods at the rear of Salem street. A razor was found nearby and the medical examiner decided that it was a case of suicide. The body was so badly decomposed as to make identification impossible.

Pirates Take Another Game

Boston, Oct. 5.—Pittsburg won the third game of the world's championship series here by defeating the Boston Americans, 4 to 2. Almost 10,000 people circled the field. Phillippi pitched another superb game for Pittsburg, holding the Bostons to four hits, and forcing them to bat grounders.

Many Quincy people went to Boston Sunday to see the Ancients and Honourables with their escorts parade to and from church.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil made almost as palatable as milk. It is easy and soothing to the weak stomach; it checks the tendencies of children toward thinness.

Scott's Emulsion gives strength to weak mothers because it creates healthy flesh and new blood.

Nursing mothers will find a special value in Scott's Emulsion because it insures a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby. More and better than a medicine; Scott's Emulsion is a food.

Scott's Emulsion is not a mere extract, containing imaginary "active principles" which do not exist, but is full of actual nourishment which sustains vital force and builds up the body tissues more rapidly than any other known remedy.

PRECIPITATED A RIOT

Anarchists Attacked Socialists at Barre, Vt

ONE MAN FATALLY SHOT

Socialist Lecturer Was to Make an Address, but Anarchists Threatened to Clean Out the Hall, Which They Proceeded to Do

Barre, Vt., Oct. 5.—One man is dying, another has a serious, but not necessarily fatal bullet wound, a third is under arrest, charged with firing the shot, while a fourth is held as a witness, as the result of the latest clash between the anarchists and socialists of this city. The feeling between the two parties has been intense for many months and conflicts of a more or less serious nature have been almost of daily occurrence.

The climax, however, was delayed until a number of anarchists attempted to break up a meeting of socialists, precipitated the fight, in which Alexander Garretto fired three shots from a revolver, wounding Eli Corti and Emilio Vechini. Corsi will die.

Dr. Sereati, editor of the socialist newspaper published in New York, had been invited to address local socialists, some 50 of whom had congregated in socialist hall. While the audience was awaiting the arrival of the speaker 15 anarchists, headed by Corti, made their appearance at the hall and declared that they would not permit Sereati to address the gathering. An angry discussion followed, during which the anarchists announced their determination to clean out the hall and immediately precipitated a small sized riot. During the melee it is alleged that Garretto drew a revolver and fired point blank at Corti, the ball lodging in the latter's stomach. The second shot went wild and the third struck Vochini in the arm. When the anarchists saw their leader fall they sprang upon Garretto, who still held the smoking revolver in his hand, and hurled him down stairs to the street. Then the fight was resumed with increased fierceness and ended only when a large detail of police had reached the hall.

When the officers reached the hall they had little trouble in restoring order. Corti was removed to the hospital. In the meantime Garretto had been pointed out as the man who had done the shooting and was taken before Corti for identification.

The wounded man positively identified his assailant and the ambulance was about to move away when Samuel Novelli, Corti's business partner, sprang from the crowd and, with an oath, hurled a lantern at Garretto. The missile went wide of its mark, however, and struck Chief of Police Brown in the head. The prisoner then was hurried away to the station before any further violence was attempted. He was held without bail to await the outcome of Corti's injuries.

The only other arrest thus far made in connection with the trouble is that of Dr. Sereati, who is held on a charge of breach of the peace and as a witness.

To Investigate Crusen's Doings

Washington, Oct. 5.—The treasury department is about to conduct a further investigation into charges that A. R. Crusen, collector of customs at San Juan, P. R., had accepted presents from certain large importers and ship agents and an inspector will be sent to the island for that purpose. The collector has not denied that he received certain presents, but does deny that he made any request or demand for them.

Auto Scorcher Comes to Grief

New York, Oct. 5.—Dashing over an embankment in their automobile, H. E. Bowen, a publisher, his wife and his 5-year-old son were seriously hurt while descending a hill in East New York. The machine was wrecked. All were taken to a hospital, where Mrs. Bowen's condition is reported to be critical. At the time of the accident the machine was going at terrific speed.

Went In Wrong Direction

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 5.—George T. Tomlinson and W. H. Shackford of Syracuse, who started from Binghamton for New York in a balloon, have landed at Constableville. Instead of going toward New York the men drifted towards Utica. The wind was stiff and the balloon covered the 100 miles in seven hours.

Planned to Attack Train

Annadale, Minn., Oct. 5.—The alleged tramp killed near here in a battle with the sheriff's posse has been identified as Gerald Shannon, a middle-aged man of Rochester, N. Y. Dynamite and a chart of the country were found on the men and it is believed they were preparing to hold up a "Soo" line train.

New Advisors For Servian King

Belgrade, Oct. 5.—A new cabinet has been formed. The precise reasons for the king asking for the resignation of his late cabinet were not given, but it was apparently due to differences of opinion regarding the policy which should be adopted toward the regicides.

Tillman Trial Delayed

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 5.—Martin Sharp, one of the jurors in the case of J. H. Tillman, is indisposed and is being treated for jaundice. His case is not regarded as serious and another day will intervene before the trial is continued.

D. R. MEETING.

Private Secretary of Gov. Bates Speaks on Gov. Shirley.

Adams chapter, Daughters of the Revolution opened its season of 1903-4 by a meeting on Saturday at the birthplace of President John Adams, and were fortunate in having among their guests Francis Hurtubis, Jr., private secretary of Gov. Bates, and his wife. The guests visited both of the historic old houses and were much pleased with the many evidences of antiquity.

Mr. Hurtubis is much interested in historical research and addressed the chapter upon the character and career of William Shirley, governor of Massachusetts in 1741. He dwelt upon the excellent work being done by patriotic societies throughout the country in preserving the homesteads of illustrious Americans.

He then traced the career of Gov. Shirley in England to his arrival in America about 1731, his conspicuous legal career as advocate general of the court of vice admiralty, his efforts in raising troops, and the public spirit he displayed in advancing the condition of the colony.

Mr. Hurtubis referred to the career of Shirley as governor from 1741 to 1756, showing his great interest in the famous expedition against Louisburg, that against the French at Lake George and the march to Niagara, closing with an interesting picture of the personality of Gov. Shirley.

It was a finished and scholarly address and evidently very carefully prepared.

Mrs. N. V. Titus, the regent, told of reminiscenses of visits to the Gov. Eustis house at Mt. Pleasant once the home of Gov. Shirley.

Among the guests of the day were Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Gardner of this city and Mrs. Henry Morgan of Milford

Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Chair—Mrs. George Hitchcock.

There will be a meeting of the association Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Council room, City hall.

Socialist Rally.

Although the Socialist candidate for governor was announced to address an open air rally in City Square Saturday evening, probably at no time were there 100 present. A few stayed throughout, but others who dropped round out of curiosity soon got disgusted and left, as the harangue of the speakers was largely abuse of those who have prospered a little in life. Levi H. Turner was the first speaker, and was followed by Candidate John C. Chase and Daniel C. Mahoney of South Boston.

Wollastons 0—Boylstons 0.

The Wollaston foot ball team played their first game of the season at Merrymount Park on Saturday with Boylston neither side scoring.

Although Wollaston did not score, the team is big and heavy and shows signs of coming up or even surpassing last season's fine team.

For Wollaston, Fergerson and Gearwar played well on the ends and Linnell was up to his last year's form. Miller and Jones made good games and Fowler tackled strongly.

Boylstons whole team played snappy foot ball, especially their back field.

Taylor ran 70 yards for a touch down but the Boylston umpire claimed a foul had been committed and ordered the ball back.

Cornelius Moynihan.

Cornelius Moynihan, a well known resident of South Quincy, died at his home on Water street early Saturday morning aged about 76 years.

Mr. Moynihan was born in Ireland and came to this country about 50 years ago. Since then he has resided for the greater part of his life in Quincy. He was a shoe maker by trade which he followed for many years.

For several years he was superintendent of the Sunday school at St. John's church during which time he was presented with a gold watch by the teachers and pupils.

He was a life long Democrat, and for several years served on the board of Registrars of Voters. He leaves two sons and two daughters.

TO JAIL FOR DEBT.

A Man Who Defied Orders of Court Now at Dedham.

Maurice Gurney, driver of L. M. Pratt & Sons Boston team, was brought before the district court Saturday on a capias and sentenced to seven days' imprisonment at Dedham jail for contempt of court.

Gurney was summoned before the court about a year ago under the Debuque law, and ordered to pay a certain sum each week until the debt which he had contracted for rent was paid up.

Counsel for the plaintiff claimed that not only had Gurney failed to make the weekly payments ordered by the court, but had also ignored the summons issued against him to appear in court and show cause why he had not made the payments as ordered.

The court then adjudged him guilty of contempt, and sentenced him to seven days' imprisonment.

This case should serve as a warning to others that if they do not pay their just debts and do not take heed of the court's orders that they can be committed to jail.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

Vol. 15. No. 233. QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Grand Electrical Effects at Banquet.

HONOURABLES.

Lavishly Entertained by Boston Company.

Hearty Cheers for Earl of Denbigh.

Who Was Full of Gratitude for Warm Reception to Corps.

Boston, Oct. .—In a spacious hall bowered in green, illuminated by myriads of electric lights, and with a golden crown shining over all, were banqueted last night eight score members of the Honourable Artillery company of London by their hosts, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston.

Sumptuous in every detail, and with nearly a dozen of Massachusetts representative men as after-dinner speakers, the entire affair proved a magnificent climax to the stay of the Londoners in this city.

Over the main floor of Symphony hall, which was carpeted in red, were more than 50 round tables, at which the larger portion of the two commands were seated. The stage, however, was the feature of the scene. Above the long tables, one of which stretched the entire width of the stage, while others ranged back of it, there streamed to the high proscenium arch long wreaths of alternate English laurel and the electric globes, coming to an apex where blazed a golden crown, huge in size, but perfect in proportion, the shining gem of the entire decoration.

At the rear of the stage was the shield of the Honourable company of London, and facing it on the balcony on the opposite side of the hall was that of the Ancient company of Boston, both surrounded by electric jewels, while on either side of the crown above hung in bright figures "1537"—"1638," the dates of the charters of the two organizations.

The tables were profusely strewn with smilax, roses and orchids, and, in addition, each had in its centre a massive laurel wreath in which glittered small electric globes of pink and yellow.

The balconies were also festooned with laurel wreaths, streamers of electric lights, and crossed silver cannon.

Into such a scene of almost regal beauty marched the two companies, not, however, as separate organizations, but side by side, each Ancient escorting an Honourable. The rank and file soon found their seats at the numerous tables, scattered over the floor.

It was but a few minutes after 7 o'clock when Colonel Hedges motioned for silence, and grace was said by Rev. E. E. Hale. Two hours were consumed in the discussion of the substantial part of the evening program, the menu of which was very elaborate.

The speeches which followed all had as a motive the firmer welding of the bonds of friendship between the two countries. None of them was long enough to be tedious, and all were sufficiently short to be interesting. That of Senator Hoar was the most scholarly, and that of ex-Governor Long the most entertaining. Colonel Hedges' introductory remarks were well chosen and when he called for a toast to the President of the United States, the band played "The Star Spangled Banner," and Collector of the Port George H. Lyman responded in his official capacity.

The next toast was that to King Edward, but the recent death of Ambassador Herbert left the response of "God Save the King," which was played by the band, seem more like a dirge than a hymn of praise. There was no other response to this toast.

Governor Bates, who spoke for the commonwealth, was eloquent as well as witty, as was Mayor Collins, who responded for the city. The Earl of Denbigh was hailed with cheers and his remarks, which were full of gratitude for the warm reception with which the corps had been received, were loudly applauded, especially by his own men, who followed it with their unique cheer.

Senator Hoar then responded for "Old Mother England," and the venerable senator unbent to such a degree, his speech being full of anecdotes, that the entire audience was greatly amused throughout. Intense quiet, however, prevailed when he referred to the great loss, as he said: "to both countries in the death a few days ago of Sir Michael Herbert."

Continuing, Senator Hoar said: "We hope you will feel at home while you are here. When you go back to Old Mother England tell her her boys are contented and happy and growing. Give her our best love. Tell her we think of her with nothing but friendliness and goodwill."

The response of ex-Governor John D. Long to "Our Honorary Member" was in his usual vein, full of anecdote and vastly entertaining.

General Bancroft responded for the Massachusetts Volunteer militia, Professor Sumichrast of Harvard for "Harvard University" and Rev. W. H. Ryder for "The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston."

Before each guest left the hall he was presented with a souvenir plate of elaborate design, on which was the arms of England and America, London and Boston, and the two companies.

One could well imagine that such an affair, conceived five years ago, took a year of hard labor to work its consummation.

Castro Inviting Further Trouble

Port of Spain, Oct. 6.—Emissaries of President Castro of Venezuela have arrived at Ciudad Bolivar with orders to collect forcibly not only the taxes but the custom house duties already paid by importers from May, 1902, to August, 1903, the period during which the revolutionists occupied that city as a government defacto. The amount is about $1,500,000. The foreigners have refused to pay, claiming that the duties had already legally been paid. Menaces and vexatious tactics are employed against the foreigners.

Regular Meeting of the City Council.

ORDER ADVANCED.

For New School Lot at Atlantic.

Sum of $1,400 for a Drain.

Order for Washington School Sidewalk Amended.

Evidently the petition very largely signed by taxpayers and parents of Atlantic in favor of the Blackwell lot for a new schoolhouse is not to be heeded by the City Council. At the regular meeting Monday evening the order in favor of the Faxon road lot was advanced another stage without a dissenting voice.

Councilmen Adams, Diack, Hughes, Meyer and Thompson were absent.

NEW CONSTABLE.

A communication was received from the Mayor, appointing Edward J. Lennon a constable. Confirmed.

OLD BILLS.

A communication was received from the City Auditor, stating that a bill from the Taunton asylum for $128.65 for board of Lydia J. Copeland and asked if it was the pleasure of the Council that it should be charged to the appropriation for state and military aid. Laid on the table until later when an order was offered.

The City Auditor forwarded a communication stating bills for telephone for miscellaneous fire department for the years 1900 and 1901 had been received. Laid on the table until later when order was offered providing for payment.

POLLING PLACES.

A communication was received from the Republican City Committee asking for polling places for caucuses Nov. 4. Later an order was adopted.

PETITIONS.

Several petitions for minor licenses were received and referred.

A petition was received asking that Edwin street, Wollaston Park, be accepted as a public way. To Committee on Streets.

The New England Telephone Co. petitioned for a relocation of one pole on Howard street. To Committee on Streets.

THE $1,400 DRAIN.

The Finance Committee reported favorable on order for $1400 for draining Squantum and Webster streets. Rules suspended.

Councilman Nichols said he had been informed that the depression of the car tracks were responsible for the water there, and asked if the tracks were raised if it would not remedy the trouble without the appropriation.

Commissioner Knowlton. The water from Billings and Atlantic streets flows to this point. Formerly there was a wooden box which carried the water to a vacant lot. Recently notice had been received from the owner of the lot that it must be stopped and the drain was taken up. If the tracks were raised it would force the water to Billings and Squantum streets, making two ponds instead of one. It would be impossible to raise the tracks so as to take care of the surface water.

Councilman Bass asked if it would not be possible, for a consideration, to obtain permission of the owner of the property to let the water drain there for awhile.

Commissioner Knowlton thought not. The trouble was that the water after flowing to the field backed up into the back yards on Webster street and into the cellars there.

Councilman Nickerson — The only practical thing was to take care of the water permanently.

Councilman Nichols favored the order under the circumstances.

Order passed unanimously.

SCHOOL LOT ORDER.

The joint Committee on Finance and Public Buildings reported a substitute order for $7,600 for the purchase of 50,220 feet of land of the Billings heirs at the corner of Squantum and Faxon road for school purposes. Order took second reading.

LOAN ORDER.

The Committee on Finance reported a loan order of $9,000 to cover the last two orders. Read once.

SEA AVENUE.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for a public hearing, Oct. 19, on laying out Sea avenue, Hough Neck.

EDWIN STREET.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $500 for draining and grading Edwin street. To Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL SIDEWALK.

The Committee on Streets reported a substitute order for a sidewalk on Washington court and Curtis street, making it a gravel sidewalk and $700 instead of $1,200.

Councilman Bass asked of it was absolutely necessary. He understood that the appropriation for the school was more than enough. Was it not possible to do the work out of this appropriation.

Commissioner Knowlton could not tell what the balance would be, possibly $600. This will be required to grade about the building.

Councilman Bass hoped report would not be accepted. With so many streets and sidewalks that demand something be done, other orders were more worthy than this. Much money had already been expended in Ward Two. They are rubbing it in.

Councilman Nichols—The committee went into this matter thoroughly. While the policy has been retrenchment, it was desirable this work be done, and that an exception should be made. The grading of the school yard and the building of the sidewalk if done at the same time would be cheaper.

Councilman Bass — Have you considered what use will be put to the amount received from the sale of the old building?

Councilman Nichols—That is for the City Council to decide.

President Alden explained money received would become a receipt of the city.

The report was then accepted and the order referred to the Finance Committee.

JOHNSON AVENUE.

The Committee on Streets reported leave to withdraw on acceptance of Johnson avenue as a public way.

Upon motion of Councilman Bass the report was laid on the table.

AGAINST SPRINKLING.

The Committee on Streets reported ought not to pass on the order for $295 for watering Sea street. Accepted.

PENN STREET EXTENSION.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $200 for laying out and extending Penn street. To Finance Committee.

MOTIONS, ORDERS, ETC.

Robert T. Johnson was granted a license for four bowling alleys and a shooting gallery at 554 Washington street.

Councilman Langelier offered an order instructing the City Treasurer to place the sum of $50, the amount received from pasturage at Merrymount Park, to the credit of Parks. To Finance Committee.

ILLEGALLY ASSESSED.

Councilman Nickerson offered an order for $60.04 to refund tax bill of Edith Clinton. To Finance Committee.

Councilman Nickerson offered an order for $10.75 to refund tax bill of Ann M. Kelley. To Finance Committee.

APPROPRIATION OVERRUN

Councilman Nickerson offered an order that the City Auditor approve bills to the amount of $75 for printing and advertising for the Tax Collector, in excess of appropriation. To Finance Committee.

REPORTS WANTED.

Councilman Bass moved the Committee on Streets report at next meeting on order relative to city being reimbursed by Metropolitan Sewerage Commission for repairs on Sea street, and on cost of repairs of South Walnut street.

Councilman Nichols—The matter has never been before the Street Committee.

President Alden stated that through an oversight the matter had not been referred.

Commissioner Knowlton said that as far as repairs of South Walnut street were concerned the instructions were not definite enough for him to work upon. As to Sea street. He had been in consultation with the Metropolitan Commissioners and while they were not obliged to do anything they will help us out to the extent of about $2000, but do not care to do anything until the sewer is completed which will be next summer.

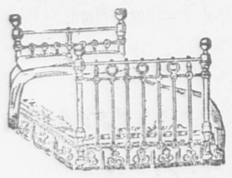
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ We would have thought a few years ago that Cubans would buy nothing of another country which could be bought in the United States, but it has not turned out that way. Sentiment does not enter into their business any more than it does in our own. Perhaps then, there is a lack of business sense on our side, or why, when Cuba buys only 40 per cent of its foreign goods in this country instead of the 80 per cent that it bought when the Spanish governed it. Here is something for the department of commerce to consider.—Exchange.

☞ A Waltham gentleman recently made the statement that the people of that city were more in the habit of trading at home than those of any other city with which he is familiar. As he happens to have a wide acquaintance throughout the State his opinion is entitled to weight. The tradesmen of Waltham are fortunate in having such a patronage to draw from, and probably they meet their customers in the spirit of live and let live. Waltham is unique in this respect.—Lynn Item.

Bold Highway Robbery

New York, Oct. 6.—Miss Lizzie Hunter, cashier of a Brooklyn grocery, was on the way to a bank to deposit $241 which she was carrying in an envelope, when a young man wrenched her hand behind her back, snatched the envelope, threw her to the sidewalk and escaped before several pedestrians who assisted Miss Hunter discovered what had happened.

Striking Miners Return to Work

Springfield, Ills., Oct. 6.—The miners in the eight mines in the Springfield sub-districts who went on strike because the operators had failed to comply with the law relating to the building of wash houses for the use of the miners have returned to work by direction of the Illinois executive board of the United Mine Workers.

Something New In Transportation

Trenton, Oct. 6.—The Universal Pneumatic Transmission company, capitalized at $5,000,000, was incorporated here. The company is authorized to convey merchandise, grain and other commodities through tubes and conduits either above or under ground and to acquire letters patent upon such machinery.

Ran Into Hands of Police

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—While lodging complaint against a woman whom he charged with robbing him of $2000, J. W. Reed, formerly cashier of the Los Angeles branch of the California Fruit Canners' association, was himself arrested, charged with embezzling $5000 from his former employers. He is said to have confessed.

Concessions on Both Sides

Baltimore, Oct. 6.—The conference between the employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company and the officials of that company ended in an amicable settlement. There were a number of points of disagreement, but these were narrowed down by mutual concessions.

AGAINST SKATING.

Therefore opposed to Purchase of Butler's Pond by City.

Editors of the Quincy Ledger:—

I noticed in your paper, an article in regard to Butler pond. Its the same old story, Money! Money! Money! High taxes and no prospect of any reduction.

Has not the time come when we, as a city, ought to halt, and stop spending money for things we can do without?

What do we care for a skating pond? Skating is not a proper amusement for young men and women. They ought to indulge in more gentle amusements. They do not need a skating pond, and if the city were to buy Butler pond and the land joining, at five thousand dollars, it would be a tax of nearly a cent and a half for every person in the city.

Too much money for us to spare! Young people of today have enough to take up their time without skating. We old folks did not have automobiles and electric cars and we needed skating.

Its all foolishness talking of spending money for future generations. Let them take care of themselves. We have all we can do to take care of ourselves.

Perhaps, the city may never be able to buy Butler pond at as low a price as at present. The question is, does it need it at all? Do the children need a place for skating or can they do without? They would be better at home working evenings, and at church on Sundays. Economy.

Elections In Connecticut

New Haven, Oct. 6.—All the towns of Connecticut, with the exception of six, held elections for the choice of town officers. Of these 162 towns returns thus far show that 110 went Republican, while 34 are Democratic. Returns received show that 73 towns will have license this year and there will be 86 "no license" towns.

Denial of Responsibility

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 6.—A general denial was entered by the United States Cartridge company of Lowell in court here as an answer to the declarations in the suits brought against the company on account of the Tewksbury explosion two months ago.

Man and Wife Drowned

Eastport, Me., Oct. 6.—Eugene Johnson and his wife were coming across the bay in a sailboat when their craft was struck and overturned by a sudden squall and both were drowned. They had no children.

Desperado Turned on Posse

Madisonville, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Surrounded by a posse, "Hick" Rose shot and killed one man and seriously wounded another, after which he made his escape. The two men were members of a posse that had surrounded Rose, who broke jail here. The posse has continued the pursuit.

Four Killed In Collision

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—Four railroad laborers were killed and 13 injured, two of them probably fatally, in a collision in a tunnel of the Southern Pacific railroad. The victims belonged to a crew of 100 men being taken to work.

Smouldering Feud Revived

Nolan, W. Va., Oct. 6.—William McCoy, a member of the McCoy family, yesterday shot and fatally wounded Everett Thompson, a son-in-law of the Hatfields. The tragedy is the outgrowth of a feud which has existed for 20 years.

WEEDING OUT CHINESE

Boston Police Taking Precautions to Prevent Highbinders' Acts

Boston, Oct. 6.—As a precaution against further murders an attempt will be made by the police to drive all suspicious Chinamen out of Boston within the next few days. Guey Tong, on whose person a box of cartridges was found, has been released, as an investigation failed to implicate him in the recent murder. He promised to leave Boston at once. Three other Chinamen who were arrested yesterday were escorted to the south station, and put on board a train for New York. All strange Chinamen, it is stated, will be placed under arrest and sent out of the city, if it is found impossible to prosecute them under the laws.

A considerable delegation from Boston's Chinese colony thronged the corridors of the court house to be present at the arraignment of Wong Cheng and Charlie Chinn, the two Chinamen held for the murder of Wong Yak Chong last Friday night and for the assaults with revolvers made upon two others of their race at the same time. The government was not ready to go on with the cases, so a continuance was taken and they are now booked for hearing on Oct. 19.

Mistook Boy For Wild Animal

South Framingham, Mass., Oct. 6.—While gathering walnuts in a tree near Hopkinton Henry A. Carey, 17 years old, was mistaken for a wild animal and shot by an Italian named Rianni. The charge of birdshot entered Carey's left hip, but he is not seriously injured. Rianni surrendered himself, offered to pay all expenses for medical treatment of the boy, and after a hearing was released. He was told to go to his home, as he was not held responsible for the shooting, but he became frightened and fled into the woods, where he is still hiding.

Labor Delegates In Session

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 6.—The largest convention in the history of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor has opened here. Secretary Driscoll's report criticizes the state police on the matter of factory inspection, calls for the enforcement of the child labor law and for better conditions of employment. It also wants something done to help get better conditions for street railway men and says there should be more public baths.

Jail and Poorhouse Robbed

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 6.—Edward P. Riley pleaded guilty in court of larceny of a pair of shoes from the city poor house and was sentenced to 25 days in jail in default of a fine. Following the arraignment of Riley came the announcement that thieves had broken into a barn at the county jail and stole a valuable harness. The unknown thief left the harness on the street and it was recovered by officers.

An Agreement Reached

Hardwick, Vt., Oct. 6.—The 500 members of the lumpers and drillers' unions who went on strike because of the refusal of the manufacturers to adopt the new wage schedule presented by the men have returned to work. Concessions were made on both sides. Eight hours will constitute a day's work and at about the same pay as was previously received for nine hours' work.

Result of Barre Riot

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 6.—As the result of a bullet wound, said to have been inflicted by Alexander Garetto, the Socialist leader at Barre, in the course of a riot between anarchists and Socialists at that place Saturday night, Eli Corti is dead and the crime, the police say, has become a murder. Garetto is held without bonds in the county jail here.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

"I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." MRS. WILLIAM G. BARRETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

CONSIDERED STOP-GAP

Make-Up of Balfour's New Cabinet Is Announced

LANSDOWNE TO THE FRONT

Because of Retirement of Duke of Devonshire, Which Is Considered a Heavy Blow to the Government—Lyttelton Succeeds Chamberlain

London, Oct. 6.—The three weeks' cabinet crisis has ended in a manner more remarkable and dramatic than that of its inception. Mr. Balfour's new ministry affords a measure of the enormous difficuty he has had to contend with in the task of reconstruction and its composition seems to indicate that the premier himself can have little belief of its durability.

The new cabinet is composed as follows: Mr. Brodrick, formerly secretary for war, succeeds Lord George Hamilton as secretary for India; Austen Chamberlain, postmaster general, succeeds Ritchie as chancellor of the exchequer; Alfred Lyttleton, recorder of Oxford, succeeds Chamberlain as secretary for the colonies; H. O. Arnold-Forster, secretary to the admiralty, succeeds Brodrick as secretary for war; Graham Murray, lord advocate of Scotland, succeeds Lord Balfour of Burleigh as secretary for Scotland; Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the war office, succeeds Austen Chamberlain as postmaster general.

The most sanguine supporters of the government express the smallest hopes of such an administration living many months and the prevalent idea is that there will be a general election before parliament reassembles.

The withdrawal of the Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council, is a heavy blow. Had he remained the government might possibly have survived another parliamentary session by avoiding legislation dealing with the fiscal problem, but with him goes the support of the strong party of Liberal-Unionists in the country. Balfour's letter reproaching the Duke of Devonshire with breach of faith is the theme of universal surprise and comment. Though it is generally admitted that it is difficult to understand why the duke did not resign when Mr. Ritchie and the others seceded, it is recalled that he publicly announced long ago that he considered it his duty to hold office as long as possible in the interest of free trade.

One consequence of the Duke of Devonshire's retirement is extremely unfortunate for the government. It will bring the leadership of the house of lords to the unpopular Lord Lansdowne. No successor has yet been appointed to the Duke of Devonshire and several minor government offices still remain vacant.

Of the new appointments announced last night the most surprising is that of Alfred Lyttleton as secretary for the colonies. Lyttleton has had no ministerial experience whatever. He is better known to the colonies as a cricketer than as a politician. While the late colonial secretary prides himself on having never taken any exercise, his successor is one of the greatest all-round athletes in England. Lyttleton is related to Balfour by marriage.

Although his appointment is likely to be keenly criticised, the new colonial secretary is almost sure of a hearty reception in the ministerial ranks. He is credited with being in full sympathy with Chamberlain's colonial policy and Milner's South African ideas and he is personally popular.

Austen Chamberlain's appointment to the chancellorship of the exchequer has been fully discounted.

Mr. Brodrick's transfer to the India office will probably evoke the fiercest storm and much resentment in India, where the feeling will be that he has been sent to the India office because he was a failure at the war office.

Arnold Forster has always been a student of the question of defenses and a strong critic of war office methods. If allowed a free hand he should introduce drastic reforms.

In Austen Chamberlain's case doubts are expressed as to the appropriateness of sending him to such an important office, although his ability is not called in question. In view of the general belief, however, that the present combination constitutes merely a stop-gap ministry, there may be less inclination to seriously criticize the appointments.

Thinks Mormonism the Real Thing

Salt Lake, Oct. 6.—The feature of the session of the seventh semi-annual conference of the Mormon church was the stirring exhortation of Apostle J. W. Taylor, in which he denounced Christian science, hypnotism, evolution, spiritualism and other "isms" as the work of the devil.

Advance of Civilization

Manila, Oct. 6.—The legislative council of the Moro provinces has passed an anti-slavery law which prohibits slave hunting in all territories under its jurisdiction. It also provides for the confiscation of all vessels engaged in the trade.

Each Was a Dead Shot

Devon, W. Va., Oct. 6.—Jacob Lawson and Andy Farrell, both highly respected men of this community, who have been enemies for months, met last evening on the street and opened fire at the same instant. Lawson fell dead and Farrell died in a half hour. Each of the duellists has several sons and the end of the feud is not yet.

Double Murder and Suicide

Lumberton, N. M., Oct. 6.—Albert P. F. Coape, his wife and his sister-in-law are dead from shots fired by Coape. Coape up to a short time ago was known as Sir Albert P. F. Coape. He was in the saloon business and received regularly a large allowance from relatives in England. No cause can be assigned for the crime.

Doctor Kills an Actor

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 6.—Charles Tolson, an actor, was shot and killed at VanBuren by Dr. Parchman, who declines to make any statement. His daughter, about whom, it is alleged, the shooting occurred, is kept closely guarded.

Fire In Cotton Cargo

Norfolk, Oct. 6.—Steamer Erica, from Wilmington, N. C., to Liverpool, with 4900 bales of cotton, was towed into port last night with her cargo burning. The fire has done $3000 damage and is still burning.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday; Oct. 7.
Sun rises—5:47; sets—5:17.
Moon rises—6 p. m.
High water—11:30 a. m.; 12 p. m.

The barometer has fallen rapidly in the west and northwest and an area of high barometer extends from the lake region over the middle Atlantic coast states. Fair weather is indicated for New England.

Turkey's Accusation

Vienna, Oct. 6.—In reply to the Austro-Russian note on the subject of the application of the Macedonian reforms the porte says in effect that Turkey is ready to execute the reforms, but that it is impossible while Bulgaria is secretly supporting the insurrection and mobilizing and preparing for war. The porte says that Bulgaria must prevent the bands from crossing the frontier and cease her military preparations and further that the powers should insist upon Bulgaria's duty to her suzerain.

Judge's Pointer to Jury

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Judge Audenreid, in his address to the new grand jury, called attention to the condition of affairs in the eastern state penitentiary, which recently resulted in the removal of Warden Bussinger. Judge Audenreid said to the jury that their visit to the eastern penitentiary will be superfluous unless they delve deeply into the affairs there. "Above all," he said, "do not be blinded by the refreshments furnished you."

Bissell Cannot Recover

Buffalo, Oct. 6.—Three doctors were called into consultation by Dr. Sherman last evening and all agreed that the case of ex-Postmaster General Bissell was hopeless. Mr. Bissell has regained full control of his mental faculties and converses with members of the family. A relapse is almost certain to come within a few days at the longest.

Chicago Trolley Strike Threatened

Chicago, Oct. 6.—A crisis in the relations of the Chicago City railway and its union employes which may result in a strike was reached when Manager McCullough refused the demands for an increase of pay for men in the electric train departments, a reduction in hours for the barn and repair men and the employment of none but union men.

POSTOFFICE PROBING

Culminates In Fifteen Indictments by the Grand Jury

HIGH OFFICIALS IVOLVED

Including Late Assistant Attorney General Tyner and Assistant Barrett, Who, It Is Alleged, Resigned to Profit by His Own Decision

Washington, Oct. 6.—Fifteen new indictments were brought in by the supreme court for the District of Columbia as the final result of the investigation in the postoffice department. Several of these findings were against persons who have already been indicted. The new indictments involve J. N. Tyner, the late assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, and his assistant, Harrison J. Barrett; J. T. Metcalf, superintendent of the money order system of the postoffice department; Norman Metcalf, son of J. T.; H. C. Hallenback, president and general manager of the Wynkoop, Hallenback & Crawford Co. of New York, the firm which for several years supplied the department with its money order blanks, and W. D. Doremus, who is connected with a house which has been supplying a stamp cancelling machine.

There were additional indictments against A. W. Machen, former superintendent of free delivery; G. W. Beavers, former chief of the salary and allowance division; W. S. Towers, who was in charge of a sub-station of the Washington city postoffice, and State Senator G. A. Green of New York. In some cases there were several indictments against one person.

Postmaster General Payne expresses great satisfaction at the conclusion of the postoffice department investigation culminating in yesterday's indictments. He says that he expects to have the report of Mr. Bristow in his hands within 10 days and that it undoubtedly will shortly thereafter be given to the press.

Mr. Payne says that all the evidence secured in the investigation has been placed before the grand jury and passed upon and approximately 30 different persons indicted as the result of the probing that has been in progress since last spring. He says it has not been determined whether there are any administrative reforms needing legislation by congress, but that many reforms have been made from time to time as the investigation proceeded.

Tyner has been connected with the postal service in many important capacities for years. He is from Indiana. He was postmaster general from July 12, 1876, to March 12, 1877, and subsequently he held the offices of first assistant postmaster general and assistant attorney general, from which latter office he was dismissed by Postmaster General Payne last spring, following Mrs. Tyner's abstraction of papers from the department safe. Tyner is nearly 80 years old and in grave physical condition, suffering from a severe case of paralysis.

Barrett is a nephew of Tyner and was appointed from North Carolina. He was assistant attorney until Dec. 31, 1900, when he resigned to take up his law practice.

Metcalf has been in the postal service since February, 1882, and was superintendent of the money order system from Sept. 18, 1897, until his recent summary dismissal. He was appointed from Iowa.

The gathering of evidence in Barrett's case proved more difficult than in any other of the postal cases. This is attributed by the postoffice authorities to Barrett's legal knowledge, his familiarity with departmental matters and more especially to the plea of administrative discretion which he set up in defense of his acts.

Attention was called yesterday by the authorities to an opinion which Barrett rendered as acting assistant attorney general on Dec. 5, 1900, regarding the use of the mails in so-called bond investment schemes. In that decision Barrett said that while certain of the plans of operation then before him were in some features inimical to the postal laws, he was thoroughly convinced that the basic principle underlying the bond investment proposition is sound and suggested the elimination of several features of the schemes in order to remove objections. This decision was issued in circular form on Dec. 5, 1900, and at the close of that month Barrett entered upon his private practice in which he is alleged to have represented bond investment companies.

To Fight Extradition

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Leopold J. Stern, through his counsel, has served a notice of appeal against his extradition, and the motion will be taken to the divisional court unless the United States authorities agree not to call Stern as a witness against the others accused in the postoffice scandals at Washington.

Extortion by School Directors

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The state superior court has affirmed the conviction of School Directors Seixas, Brown, Travis and Johnston, who were convicted of extortion in connection with the appointment of school teachers.

Newfoundland Is Prospering

St. Johns, Oct. 6.—The colonial revenue for the quarter ending Sept. 30 was $545,000, being the largest in the history of the colony. The prosperity of the colony is unprecedented.

FOUGHT WITH POLICE

Armed Crank at White House Is Found to Be Insane

Washington, Oct. 6.—An exciting scene occurred at the White House when Peter Elliott, in whose possession were found a pistol, a dirk and a pair of scissors, struggled with two officers who accompanied him in the van so as to break a glass window, cutting Officer Ciscle of the White House police force, as well as inflicting some damage to his own forehead.

Elliott is small of stature, with closely cropped whiskers. He has written from the St. James hotel insisting on an interview with the president. This had been denied, as he had no apparent business to warrant it. Sunday he went to the president's church, and sought a conference with him there, which was prevented by the secret service men. Yesterday he called at the White House offices, and when turned away because of inability to justify his claim for an interview, went over to the main entrance of the residential part and there became troublesome. It is said that he flourished a pistol, but at all events he resisted arrest, and struggled desperately when taken in hand.

Late in the afternoon the police surgeons, after a careful examination of Elliott, certified that he was insane. He was removed to St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane.

Is a Strong Socialist

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—Peter Olsen Elliott, also known as Peter Olsen, who was taken into custody at the White House, is a well known South Minneapolis character. He is of Danish birth and speaks the Swedish language. His name was formerly Olsen, which he changed about a year ago for personal reasons. He is a strong Socialist, an anarchistic talker and was a well known sight on street corners in his part of the town. He was very reticent as to his former history and would never answer any questions about himself.

HEBREW FEAST.

"Succoth" Being Observed by the Orthodox Hebrews.

The Orthodox Hebrews of Quincy, in common with their race all over the country, are today observing "Succoth," the feast of tabernacles, which commemorates the coming of the Hebrews from the desert of Fgypt.

On this day the Hebrews are expected to eat out of doors in booths, especially constructed for that purpose.

The observance commenced this morning in Quincy, when all attended services at their synagogue on School street. They will as a rule refrain from all work and will again attend services this evening.

At the morning service, which was brief, the citron and palm leaves brought from Palestine will be blessed by the Rabbi.

There will be no general tent or booth in which they all will eat today. Nearly every Hebrew in Quincy, however, of the orthodox faith, has erected a booth for that purpose in his back yard.

These booths are constructed of boards covered with tree branches. In the centre is a table around which the family will gather tonight and eat supper.

After Succoth come four working days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday, and Monday night at sundown begins the feast of Hoshonna rabbah, or the great hosanna, a day observed with great solemnity. On this day prayers are said for the crops, prayers that rain shall come at the proper time, and that there shall be an abundance of everything for the year to come.

The last day of feasting will be Oct. 14, the feast of Simchas Torah, or the rejoicing of the law. On this day the Hebrew celebrates to his heart's content, and it is the one day in the year when the Hebrew feels at liberty to drink all he pleases. In the synagogues special services take place from morning until night.

The most interesting is a march of the congregation, bearing the sacred scrolls or Torah, around the synagogue. The congregation, led by the cantor, and by cohanem, or those of the priestly sect, bearing scrolls of Torah, walk around the synagogues seven times, and those on the sides kiss the parchment, in reverence for the laws the Torah contains.

Not Identified.

The body of the suicide found in the Swampscott woods Sunday morning, and thought to be a Quincy man, has not been identified. On the inside of the hat band Chief Dunlap found the initials "P. G. B." marked in ink, and over these letters appeared what seemed to be the word "Mike," also written in ink. A railroad book containing a number of coupons was also found, and on it this inscription: "Good, punched by mistake," with the conductor's signature. The book was on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, for use between Boston and Quincy.

Plans for Battleships.

Rear Admiral O'Neill, chief of ordnance, has called a meeting of the board of construction for today to resume consideration of the plans for the 13,000-ton battleships Idaho and Mississippi, which it is expected will result in the board reversing its decision in favor of an 18-knot vessel.

Dressmakers Victimized.

Again it is evident that people should not pay strangers in advance for anything. On Sept. 25 most of the dressmakers of the city were visited by a slick fellow, who offered them subscriptions to the Pictorial Review, a magazine much patronized by dressmakers, for one dollar. Several became his victims. One of the women not receving the magazine Oct. 1, as promised, wrote to the publishers. She received an answer that the company had no such authorized agent. He signed his name as W. J. Thompson, and is described as a prepossessing man.

Pear Tree in Blossom.

M. F. Griffin has an example of the freaks that nature sometimes makes, at his home at 20 Summer street. In his orchard is a Bartlett pear tree. Some weeks ago Mr. Griffin picked half a bushel of pears from this tree. The tree is now in blossom again and is attracting considerable attention.

PARADED IN NIGHTIES

Bowdoin Students Fell Into a Serious Clash With Town Boys

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 6.—The freshman night robe parade, an annual feature at Bowdoin college, last night resulted in a series of fierce fights between 250 students and an equal number of town boys, in which several of the former were more or less seriously injured. As is the usual custom, members of the freshman class, arrayed in night garments, after starting a big bonfire began a march through the streets of the town. At the Maine Central crossing they found their progress checked by a rope which had been stretched across the street, and a large crowd of boys and young men on the opposite side of the track dared them to cross.

A large number of upper class men who had gathered to witness the sport urged the freshmen to continue the march, pro nising them needed support. The students made a rush, only to meet an opposing force fully as strong and a free fight followed, in which the students were victorious. During the melee Kenneth Damren was struck by a stone and sustained a severe scalp wound. He was cared for by his fraternity mates and the march to the town hall was resumed. There a large display of fireworks arranged by the townspeople was witnessed and the students started on the return to the campus.

Hardly had they left the square when the town boys, who had been strongly reinforced, resumed the attack and the fiercest struggle of the night ensued. Stones and clubs were freely used and four of the students and a number of their opponents were badly hurt. It is said that the leaders of the opposing forces are known to some of the college boys and it is probable that the trouble may be taken into court for final settlement.

Postoffice Blown Up

Halifax, Oct. 6.—As the result of an explosion in the new postoffice building at Spring Hill two men were killed and three other men and a boy seriously injured and the building wrecked. The heating apparatus was not working properly and the workmen entered the basement to ascertain the cause of the trouble. A few minutes later a terrific explosion occurred. It is not known what caused the explosion.

Chamberlain Says English Workingmen Want Protection.

ABLY PRESENTS

Facts and Figures in Support of Plan.

How He Would Revise the Tariff.

Views of the English Papers on His Campaign.

Glasgow, Oct. 7.—Whatever may be the opinion held regarding the great question which Mr. Chamberlain has raised or the probable issue of his campaign, it is generally admitted that he has opened it in a masterly manner and that he can no longer be accused to nebulosity in presenting his case. For nearly two hours, only referring occasionally to fairly full notes for figures and statistics, he held a vast and enthusiastic audience absorbed by one of his finest oratorical efforts.

As though inspired by the knowledge that the practical collapse and break-up of the Unionist party left him in sole possession of the field he spoke with more than his customary energy and persuasiveness, lacking nothing in lucidity, either of phrase or argument.

He proposed to put a low duty, not exceeding two shillings (48 cents) a quarter on foreign corn, but none on corn from the British possessions. He proposed no tax on maize, partly because it formed the food of some of the very poorest among the population and partly because it was raw material as feeding stuff. He proposed a corresponding tax on flour, and he would give special preference to the miller, with the object of re-establishing one of our ancient industries and of preventing a rush from the country to the town, and also of placing corn, offal and feeding stuffs more cheaply within the possession of the farmer.

A small tax of about 5 percent on foreign meal and dairy products would be imposed, excluding bacon, which was the food of so many of the poorest population. Lastly, he proposed to give a substantial preference to the colonies on wines and fruits.

Against these increases he proposed to take off three-quarters of the duty on tea, half the duty on sugar, with corresponding reductions upon cocoa and coffee. The net result of these impositions and remissions would be that the town artisan's food would, according to the most elaborate calculation, cost him 5 cents less a week than it did at present, while that of the agricultural laborer would cost him 4 cents less, but if, as he believed, a great part of the tax on food would be paid by the foreigner there would be a reduction in the cost of food both for the artisan and the agricultural laborer.

The points of his speech attracting remarkable attention were his eulogy of Mr. Balfour and his repudiation of the idea of superseding him; his representation of the coming struggle as one greater in its consequences than the Boer war; his declaration that all workingmen in the colonies were protectionists and that any labor leader visiting the colonies would inevitably be converted to protection; his description of the American tariff as an abomination and his curious presentation of the case as affecting the workmen's exchequer. Thus, according to him, the increased cost of the new duties to the laborer would be 9¼ farthings (4 3-4 cents) to the artisan 10 farthings, while the saving by the proposed reductions to the laborer would be 18 farthings (9 cents) and to the artisan 19 farthings.

London, Oct. 7.—The morning papers devote ample space to the reports of and comment on Mr. Chamberlains effort at Glasgow, but it cannot be said that the public will gain much enlightenment except from the late colonial secretary's own words. Conversion to his views appears as distant as ever from the columns which have hitherto been opposed to him. All recognize the ability of his presentation of his scheme and his most rabid opponent, the Radical Daily News, admits that Chamberlain sincerely believes that the colonies will secede unless a preferential schme is adopted and adds that this extraordinary belief implies a melancholy confession of the failure of his boasted drawing of the colonies closer to the mother country during his colonial secretaryship. For the rest The Daily News regards his campaign as a peril to the empire.

Those newspapers favorable to Chamberlain regard his plan with considerable approval as being more moderate and involving a smaller measure of danger than might have been expected and are inclined to think that if acceptable to the colonies it has a great chance of winning public favor.

It is pointed out that a duty of 2 shillings a quarter on wheat will be sufficient to stimulate its production in Canada, while being unlikely to greatly restrict its importation from the United States and other wheat producing countries, and also that his proposed duties on manufactures are in no way dangerous. On this point, however, The Daily Chronicle, which represents the great body of moderate Radicals and the working classes, calls attention to the vital difference between the views of Chamberlain and Balfour. The premier only asked for power to retaliate intermittently, while Chamberlain insists on a general tariff. Thus, The Daily Chronicle contends, the murder is out and protection pure and simple is aimed at.

The Pond Home.

The Norfolk County King's Daughters held their annual Corporation business meeting in the interests of the Pond Home for the aged in connection with the Norfolk County King's Daughters' Convention at South Braintree on Thursday, Oct. 1. Trustees were elected as follows:—To serve for 3 years; Miss Elinor E. Fales of Pondville, Mrs. A. A. Brackett of East Milton, Miss Mary E. Clark of Foxboro, Mrs. J. A. Cushing of East Weymouth, and Mrs. Helen M. Dean of Readville. To serve for 2 years, Mrs. Harriet M. Guy of Quincy, and Mrs. Alice P. Saxe of Wollaston. Mrs. Virginia Whiton of East Weymouth was chosen auditor.

The Pond Home was opened June 3, 1902, and is proving a success in providing comfort and security for some of Norfolk County's worthy aged people in their declining years. As this is distinctively a county work, the trustees appeal to every town for help in carrying it on. Will not those who read this article, please clip it out, and in the coming holiday season, send a gift to help increase the endowment fund of this home for the homeless, that the work may be placed upon a permanent foundation. Mrs. A. A. Brackett of East Milton is treasurer.

A COUNTY FIGHT.

Don Gleason Hill Nominated by the Democrats

For Office of County Commissioner.

No Contests for the Other County Officers.

The Norfolk County Democratic convention was held on Tuesday at Dedham, and there was an unexpected contest for nomination for county commissioner for three years.

Arthur Clark of Dedham, recently representative to the General court, moved the nomination of Hon. James Hewins of Medfield, the present commissioner who has been renominated by the Republicans.

But the Democrats have one member of the board in Marshall P. Wright of Quincy, and saw a possible chance of getting control of the board, and Charles H. Shriver of Dedham placed in nomination Don Gleason Hill of Dedham.

But 45 delegates were present and a ballot resulted in 23 votes for Mr. Hill to 20 for Mr. Hewins and the former was declared the nominee of the convention.

John H. Burdakin of Dedham was renominated for register of deeds for three years. John D. Cobb for register of probate for five years, and Charles H. Smith for county treasurer for three years.

The chairmen of the town and city committees were made the county committee.

CHARM PRESENTED.

To James F. Burke by Members of Quincy Council, K. C.

James F. Burke, the retiring Past Grand Knight of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, was presented with a Past Grand Knight's charm, at the meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening.

The charm, a very handsome affair studded with diamonds, was presented in behalf of the members by Past Grand Knight William T. Shea.

There was a large attendance of members and also many brothers from East Weymouth Council, several of whom were formerly members of Quincy Council.

The business of the evening was the first degree, which was worked on several candidates.

After the business meeting a banquet was served, and there was an entertainment consisting of readings by Bartlett T. McLane, vocals selection by Brothers White and Heffernan of Quincy Council and Brothers Hughes and Healey of Weymouth Council.

There were also violin solos by Peter McConarty, Jr., with piano accompaniment by William McDonnell. The evening was one long to be remembered by Quincy council.

EMERGENCY RATION

A man has lived forty days without other food than his own fat.

Fat is man's emergency ration. The fat is stored in convenient hollows all over the body against the day of necessity.

Consumption makes heavy demand on the storage of fat. Nature uses fat to fight the disease. The crying need of the consumptive is fat.

Scott's Emulsion contains the best fat to be had, next to human fat itself. Scott's Emulsion is a natural substitute for human fat. It prevents waste. It furnishes the consumptive with nature's own weapon for fighting the disease.

The Quincy High Has a Snappy Foot Ball Team.

DEFEATS ADAMS

In a One-Side Game at Merrymount Park.

Touchdown Made from a Kick-Off.

The Score Was: Quincy High, 42; Adams Academy, 0.

The Quincy High school foot ball team had no difficulty in defeating the eleven from Adams academy at Merrymount park Tuesday afternoon. The score was 42 to 0. This was Quincy High's first game of the season and the result was a source of gratification both to students and to other supporters of the team. The victor's goal was not in danger at any time during the game, the ball being kept in Adams Academy's territory for nearly all of the 35 minutes of play.

Quincy High started the scoring early in the game, the first touchdown being made in less than three minutes of play. During the remainder of the first half three more touchdowns were scored, from which one goal was knocked.

In the second half, Quincy High players crossed their opponent's goal line for four more touchdowns, and one goal was kicked, making the final score 42 to 0.

A feature of the second half was a run of more than 80 yards by H. Sanders who succeeded in scoring a touchdown from the kickoff after the liveliest sort of running and dodging.

The line-up follows:

QUINCY HIGH.	ADAMS ACADEMY.
Comins, r. e.	l. e., G. Sullivan
Bennett, r. t.	l. t., Reinhalter
Cassidy, r. g.	l. g., Kay
Morrison, c.	c, Moran

Work of Federation.

William Walsh of this city is one of the three candidates for fifth vice president of the Massachusetts State branch of the American Federation of Labor at Worcester today.

Resolutions presented Tuesday by the legislative committee favoring the barbers' license bill were adopted. Other resolutions adopted favor a 54-hour law to apply to the women and minors of all merchantile and textile establishments; requests all unions throughout the state to see that all advertising by bills, posters or placards be done by members of the Bill Posters' and Billers' National Alliance; insist that the union label should be on all printing done for fraternal and benefit orders, and on all clothing worn by members of all labor unions; pledge the delegates to smoke no cigars taken from a box not bearing the blue label.

The Volkmann foot ball eleven, which will pay Quincy High on Friday, will play the Middlesex school at Concord today.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Every firm and corporation which makes or sells goods today, has some sort of delivery service. The factory owns and operates its heavy trucks, the retail stores have countless light delivery wagons, the corner grocer has his wagon, as has the baker, the butcher, milk dealers and all others. Everybody realizes the necessity of delivering the goods after they are sold. But as a nation we are rather lax in this respect, and while we are making frantic efforts for the commerce of the world, we are not establishing any delivery system. We sell goods to foreign nations and have no way to deliver them except in foreign ships. While the United States has progressed marvelously in all branches of manufacture it has stood still—or rather retrograded—in the matter of commerce.—Gloucester Times.

☞Do the men who gather about the Socialist speakers from night to night on Washington square accept as gospel all that they hear? One of the recent speakers attempted to contrast the present industrial conditions with those of a hundred years ago, and after telling the men in front of him that they were bound to capital as mere slaves who were being robbed of their rightful production, told them that the workingman a hundred years ago was getting along pretty well, was making a good living and was comfortable. And neither the speaker nor the man in front of him would change his lot today for that of the most prosperous of the workingmen of that time.—Haverhill Gazette.

Of course they wouldn't. These people are simply deluded. They talk stuff contrary to facts and common sense. And by the way, did you ever take notice that the most blatant Socialists are seldom caught working at all.—Foster's Democrat.

☞The sight of the American flag floating from the window of Bunker Hill monument, and the British flag from another, was an impressive sight. The British flag has not been seen in Charlestown since 1775. The Ancients would not march the H. A. C.'s around Bunker Hill, but the Englishmen could see their flag flying from the granite shaft as an indication that no bard feelings exist between the representatives of two great nations, at least during the present visit. The visitors have no reason to find fault with the cordiality of their reception, and the only thing to fear is that the Bostonians will kill some of them with kindness. A $60,000 banquet with 1600 quarts of rare wines will test the capacity of the entertained as well as the entertainers. The visit of the H. A. C. is altogether the most notable military occasion that Boston has ever known and possibly the experience of the visitors has not before gone beyond it. —Lynn Item.

☞An example has been set by the Holyoke Central Labor union in abolishing the office of business agent that might advantageously be followed by other similar organizations. Questions that confront the business agent in his work are of too great importance to be left to the discretion of one individual. The safer way is to put all such matters in the hands of a committee, as the Holyoke Central Labor union has done. There is always to be found in any committee some one who shows a disposition to go slow, to be an obstructionist. By his opposition he brings about a thorough consideration of the questions under discussion. A convenient example of this is found in the work of the grievance committee of Eagle lodge of Paper Makers. The average business agent or walking delegate usually sees in the office a chance to magnify his own importance. He is very apt to abuse the power and authority with which he finds himself possessed. What other organization vests in one man control so great? For the salary he is paid he must make a showing, and too often he believes this is best done by bringing on trouble between members of the unions and their employers. The perservation of harmonious relations is too tame to attract attention.—Springfield Union.

WHOLESALE GRAFTING

In Connection With Recent Cripple Creek Campaign

GOVERNOR TO INVESTIGATE

Rumors of Padded Payrolls, Rebates From Contractors, "Embalmed" Beef and Appalling Recklessness In Handling of Finances

Denver, Oct. 7.—In connection with rumors that a scandal of wide proportions had developed in the management of the Cripple Creek campaign of the Colorado National Guard, Governor Peabody has given out the following statement:

"Charges and specifications against certain men and officers in the Colorado National Guard have been filed with me, which will be immediately inquired into. They are charges of a most serious nature and I shall order a court martial to investigate them thoroughly. The charges filed with me will be probed to the very bottom and any one found guilty of the charges made, no matter who he is, will not be permitted to escape punishment, whether he is an officer of the highest rank or a private without rank.

"General Chase has not been removed, but he will remain in Denver for the present. The court martial that has been ordered will convene in Denver as soon as it can conveniently do so."

The governor declined to give the names of any of those against whom charges have been made, but several officers have been ordered to go to Denver at once, though whether to stand trial or to appear as witnesses is not positively known.

Among the charges to be investigated are said to be: Padded payrolls; the employment of superfluous generals and colonels, who draw the salary of their rank, but who performed sergeants' duties; general extravagance in the purchase of supplies for the commissary department; the charge that certain officers have been securing a rebate from contractors; the issuance by wholesale of transportation between Cripple Creek and Denver to officers and enlisted men, their families and friends, and charging the same to the state; the charge that the bookkeeping of the camp is kept in such a way as to admit of "grafting," the surreptitious raising of certain men from noncommissioned officers to captains, majors and colonels; the purchase of spoiled beef for the enlisted men at exorbitant prices, and carelessness and recklessness in the handling of finances that is said to be appalling.

The charges are said to have been filed by General Chase against subordinate officers, while charges of exceeding his authority and disregarding the direct orders of the commander-in chief, Governor Peabody, are said to lie against the commanding general himself.

Smuggled Chinaman and Liquor

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 7.—Through the efforts of the United States custom officers here Conductor Mullin, in charge of a palace car on a Grand Trunk train, N. W. Crawford, a porter, and C. Thompson of Boston, a tourist agent for the Pullman Palace Car company, were arrested, charged with smuggling not only merchandise but a Chinaman. It is said that it was not until a tip was given the officers to thoroughly search the train that a quantity of liquor was found and a Chinaman discovered secreted in one of the berths.

Why Strike Was Postponed

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 7.—At the convention of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor Secretary Driscoll announced that he discovered in Boston last week an attempt to secure 330 strike-breakers to work on street cars in New York. He said he had frustrated the attempt and notified the New York street car men. The latter then decided to postpone the contemplated strike.

Mormons' Twelfth Apostle

Salt Lake, Oct. 7.—At the semi-annual conference of the Mormon church Elder George A. Smith was chosen to fill the vacancy in the council of the 12 apostles caused by the death of Apostle Brigham Young. The new apostle is the present receiver of the United States land office in Utah. He is a native of Salt Lake and about 40 years of age.

Not Entitled to Free Pass

Albany, Oct. 7.—The court of appeals has affirmed the judgment of the lower court against Frederick Wadhams, a notary public, who used a Pullman company pass, declaring him a public officer within the meaning of the law preventing such officers using or accepting free transportation.

Suspicious Sickness on Steamer

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—Steamer Nippon Maru has arrived here from Oriental ports, via Honolulu. Owing to a suspicious case of sickness the passengers will have to undergo detention at quarantine station for seven days. The steamer's mails were released last night.

Bank Thief Admits Guilt

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 7.—Thomas F. Ward, formerly vice president of the Lemars National bank, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $14,000 of the bank's funds. Ward's embezzlement of funds resulted in the failure of the failure of the bank in 1901.

BISSELL IS DEAD

Served as Postmaster General in the Cabinet of President Cleveland

Buffalo, Oct. 7.—Wilson S. Bissell, former postmaster general, died last night. At about noon he sank into a comatose condition and it was with difficulty that he was aroused at various times during the afternoon for nourishment and medicine. The end came peacefully. Dr. Sherman, who has been attending him during his recent illness, and members of the family were at his bedside.

Mr. Bissell suffered from complications thought to be akin to Bright's disease, but not well understood. On June 1 his trouble became very serious and it was realized that his case was hopeless. Some important legal matters in which he was interested were disposed of and Mr. Bissell was again forced to bed. He suffered no pain, sleeping most of the time.

When awake his mind was always clear and he conversed with members of the family and the physicians. During the latter part of his illness numerous messages of inquiry were received from former President Cleveland and members of the cabinet in which Mr. Bissell served as postmaster general.

Great Strike Predicted

Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—The Dispatch says: An international strike affecting 60,000 bridge and structural iron workers in the United States and Canada is scheduled to be called in a few weeks in sympathy with the fight of the New York members against the Cornell construction company of the big combine. Members of the union in large cities have been opposed to the strike because of Sam Parks' connection with the New York strike. Parks will have nothing to do with the coming strike, whereupon it is predicted the men will go out.

Boodling In School Board

Kansas City, Oct. 7.—An investigation of alleged boodling on the board of education of Kansas City, Kas., promises to end in sensational disclosures. A grand jury may be asked to probe the matter. Clerk Jones admits that he received rebates from insurance agents on premiums paid by the board for insurance on school buildings. A member of the committee asserts that he has positive proof that several teachers in the publis schools have been forced to pay from $15 to $50 before being guaranteed appointments.

To Weed Out Fraudulent Concerns

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—Sweeping instructions to investigate naturalization frauds, "get-rich-quick" schemes, fraudulent concerns operating under the guise of a legitimate brokerage business and all games of chance, which trick the ignorant and the unwary, were delivered to the newly impanelled federal grand jury by Judge Adams of the United States district court. Judge Adams dwelt with particular vigor on the subject of naturalization frauds, telling the jury to get at the men in high places.

Travelling Records Surpassed

Berlin, Oct. 7.—An electric car on the experimental line reached a speed of 125 4-5 miles an hour yesterday, or a kilometre more than the highest previous record. The current was between 13,000 and 14,000 volts, capable of driving the car over 200 miles. This power is reduced by transformers to about 450 volts. The lives of all on board the experimental car were heavily insured. The engineers will now try for a speed of 140 miles an hour.

Suicide by Decapitation

London, Ont., Oct. 7.—James Haldane, an inmate of the insane asylum here, was permitted to have charge of a team. He drove to the reservoir, where he fastened a logging chain to a four-inch pipe and placed the other end of the chain around his neck. He attached another chain to the doubletrees and fastened the end of it also around his neck. He then whipped up the horses and they sprang forward. He was decapitated.

Must Have Artist's Consent

New York, Oct. 7.—It has been decreed by the supreme court that an artist's work cannot be altered without his consent and at the same time have his name attached to it. W. De L. Dodge brought an action to prevent making proposed changes in four mural paintings executed by him, now in the lobby of the King Edward hotel, Toronto. Judge McCall granted his application for an injunction, with costs.

Prepared to Chase Dynamiters

Helena, Mont., Oct. 7.—There have been no developments in the dynamite outrages on the Northern Pacific. There is an engine with steam up ready to go out on an instant's notice in case the dynamiters should make another attempt. That the train escaped being wrecked Monday night was remarkable, as after the explosion six cars passed over a rail out of which 18 inches had been torn.

Pittsburgs Win Another

Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—The first game on the home grounds of the world's championship series between Pittsburg and Boston resulted in a victory for the local team, 5 to 4. The weather conditions kept the attendance down. Phillippi again pitched for Pittsburg and again was his great work mainly responsible for the downfall of the American league champions.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Frank A. Tirrell goes to Maine this week on a business trip.

The house of George H. Brown on Elm street is being painted.

Edward McKenna has retired from the employ of Tomas Gurney.

F. J. Pierson is making changes and improvements in his store at Brewer's corner.

Quincy Point will have a bowling alley with four alleys in the old stable of Wilson Tisdale.

Riverside Lawn will be the name of the new tract of land sub-divided into houselots at Quincy Point.

Cyril F. Randall has been elected treasurer of his school class organization at Bridgewater Normal.

Dr. Henry C. Hallowell whose term expires this year on the School Committee will be a candidate at large for re-election.

The stores in the new block at the corner of Hancock and Granite streets will be ready for occupancy in about ten days.

City caucuses of the Republicans four weeks from tomorrow. Nominations for the caucuses will be wanted in about two weeks.

J. H. Gillis has moved his store to Franklin street, and the clothing store in Music hall block will have twice as much floor space.

John C. Smith of Whitwell street has gone to Maine where he will have charge of a large granite plant. His family will remain in Quincy.

It is rumored that the house on Atlantic street owned by Fred Pope has been sold. The house has been so long vacant that it will be good news for those who live nearby.

Mrs. Cephas Drew and and Miss Mabel Drew of Walker street have returned from East Andover, N. H., where they have been enjoying the delightful scenery for a few days.

Among those who have signified their intention to participate in the Boston & Maine $5 trip to Albany and New York which leave Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hearn, Master Charles Hearn, Chief of Police and Mrs. Joseph W. Hayden, Mrs. E. B. Marsh, Miss Annie H. Leonard, Miss Alice E. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Merrill.

It is still difficult to get tickets in a hurry or have baggage promptly attended to at the Atlantic station. It has been suggested by many who have to pay their fares on the train after waiting for ten minutes for the absent ticket agent to be on hand, that a youthful helper might attend to the baggage at small cost and so allow the busy agent to devote all his time to the inside demands of the office.

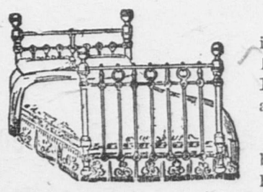
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

ALL ARE BUSY.

Some of the Matters Now Engrossing Much Attention.

This is the season of the year when the vacations being over everybody gets busy.

The family man is busy just now getting his heating apparatus ready for use in the winter.

The housewife is busy with her fall house cleaning.

The young ladies are busy with their fall millinery, and laying plans for the coming winter's entertainments.

The young man is busy earning money that he may take his best girl to the theatre.

The matrimonial young man is busy trying to get up courage to ask the only girl the important question.

The only girl is busy wondering if the matrimonial young man means business, and if so why he does not hurry up.

The married man is busy planning excuses to make to his wife when he comes home from a late session.

The married woman is busy trying to help George make both ends meet on a small salary.

The engaged young lady is busy preparing her wedding trousseau.

The engaged young man is busy trying to scrape money enough together to pay the minister.

The coal men are busy filling your bins with coal which last winter was as scarce as gold.

The plumber is busy thinking whose water pipe will be the first to freeze up.

The stable man is busy getting his sleighs ready to let to some one for a day when snow flies.

The politician is busy pulling the wires that he thinks will land him in office.

Other would-be politicians are busy thinking up some scheme that will put them in the swim.

Office holders are busy making friends with possible office holders that they may retain their positions.

Henry H. Faxon is busy trying to think up some plan by which he can defeat Mayor Bryant for reelection next December.

For that matter one might go on for an indefinite period, for as it was said at the beginning, "all are busy."

Hypnotism.

Hypnotism is without a doubt the oldest and grandest science known to man. Oldest because it has existed since the creation of man, and grandest because it has to deal with the human mind in which all great achievements originate. Hypnotism is used at the present time for a number of useful purposes. As a fun maker nothing can equal this science. The queer and marvelous things a hypnotized person will do can not be appreciated until witnessed.

Prof. Charles Franklin, the noted hypnotist will give two exhibitions of this wonder working power in Hancock hall, Oct. 8 and 9. (See adv. on first page). As a hypnotist Prof. Franklin is a wonder. He began his career as a public operator when a lad of sixteen and has given over a thousand exhibitions of his marvelous power. Citizens of Quincy will remember the three successful exhibitions given by him in this city two years ago. His exhibitions are scientific, clean and moral, nothing ever being seen, or heard at them to offend the most fastidious person. Unlike other hypnotic operators, Prof. Franklin does not carry trained subjects with him. He relies on his audience. The public will see from this that he is not a charlatan, on the other hand they will agree with us after witnessing the exhibitions that Prof. Franklin is a wonderful and interesting man.

The coloring of the woods and meadows on the Houghs Neck road is very beautiful this fall.

ON A VISITING TOUR

Boston Ancients and Their Guests Are Heading For Washington

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 7.—Thousands of people lined along the streets gay with British and American flags accorded a hearty welcome to the Honourable Artillery company of London and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston when they arrived in this city enroute to New York, Washington and Moutreal. The stop here was a brief one, covering hardly more than four hours, but in that time the reception given the visitors was enthusiastic. When the special train bearing the two companies drew into the station four batteries of the First Heavy artillery, M. V. M., and companies of the naval brigade from Boston, Lynn, Springfield, Taunton, Fall River and Brockton were in waiting to escort the visitors to the Omequechan club, where a reception and lunch took place.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 7.—When the Fall River line steamer Puritan reached here last night, having on board the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston and their London guests, the pier was crowded with people, who cheered wildly during the brief stop. The Puritan was boarded here by the Newport Artillery company of 100 men, accompanied by the United States Artillery band. The company has been assigned to escort duty during the stay of the Honourables in New York.

Minnesota's New Title

Minneapolis, Oct. 7.—At the seventh annual convention of the Grain Dealers' National association an address was delivered by Governor VanSant, in which he said: "Minnesota farmers in their wisdom have diversified their farming and have given a great deal of their attention to butter making. We made last year 76,000,000 pounds of butter. One milling company in this city annually makes flour enough, when baked into bread, if the loaves were placed end to end, to encircle the globe, and as we make butter enough now to spread all that bread, we call ourselves no longer the 'gopher' but the 'bread and butter' state of the union."

Hinrichs For Grout's Place

New York, Oct. 7.—Frederick W. Hinrichs of Brooklyn was selected by the fusion conference committee last night for the fusion candidate for comptroller to succeed Edward M. Grout. No candidate for president of the board of aldermen was selected, adjournment being taken until this afternoon. The motion to select was made by Timothy L. Woodruff and was adopted unanimously.

Drop in Steel Dividend

New York, Oct. 7.—The dividend on common stock of the United States Steel corporation for the last quarter was reduced from 1 percent to ½ of 1 percent, thus setting at rest a matter that has agitated financial circles generally for many weeks. A very high authority in the affairs of the corporation states that the action of the board was caused by the falling off of business.

Bulgaria Holds Out Olive Branch

Sofia, Oct. 7.—Premier Petroff, with a view to avoiding the dangers of a rupture, has proposed to the Ottoman commissioners here that the troops on both sides of the frontier should be withdrawn to a certain distance agreed upon by both governments and he has further offered to disband one battalion of Bulgarian troops for every two demobilized smultaneously by Turkey.

Automobile Smashup and Death

Detroit, Oct. 7.—An automobile driven by State Senator Glazier became unmanageable last night and crashed into a curb. Five occupants were thrown into the street and one, Mrs. Lucy T. Mudge, was so severely injured that she died. The accident is believed to have resulted from Glazier's attempting to make too sharp a turn in the road.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The body of a man found in the woods at Swampscott, Mass., has been identified as that of Cyrus Hosmer, a bookkeeper, employed at Boston. The cause of death has not been determined.

Thomas Curtis, a Swampscott, Mass., fisherman, who went out in his dory nearly a week ago, has not returned and it is believed he was drowned. A buoy, known to have been in his boat, has floated into Swampscott.

Joseph Morrisseppe, aged 24, was drowned near East Tilton, N. H., while attempting to cross a narrow bridge.

Dr. Clark, president of the World's Christian Endeavor union, has accepted invitations to visit New Zealand, Australia and Tasmania, and he will sail in a few weeks.

The royal edict granting the University of Chicago the right to excavate at Bismya in Babylonia has just been issued by the Sultan of Turkey.

Considerable damage was done to the public bridge connecting Portland and South Portland, Me., by the barge Fred Pendleton, which collided with the structure. The barge was but slightly damaged.

The Emperor of Austria has accepted the resignation of Count Hedervary as Hungarian premier.

Charles G. Kendrick of Franklin, N. H., a well known horseman and the owner of much real estate, is dead, aged 59 years. He had served in the state senate and legislature.

General Robert N. Pearson, assistant city paymaster of Chicago, dropped dead of heart disease in his office in the city hall. He entered the Civil war as a private and came home with a brevet title of brigadier general. He was 63 years old.

IRRITATED POPULACE

May Force Japan Into Serious Trouble With Russia

PUBLIC OPINION INFLAMED

By Rumors of Fresh Russian Agressions and the Fact That Manchuria Will Not Be Evacuated on Date Agreed Upon

Yokohama, Oct. 7.—With the approach of Oct. 8, the nominal date for Russia's evacuation of Manchuria, great tension is observable among the Japanese populace, but in diplomatic circles it is reaffirmed that hopefulness prevails of an amicable settlement of the imbroglio between Russia and Japan, on the basis of minority concessions by Russia in Corea and Manchuri, though officials do not profess to expect that the evacuation of Manchuria will be effected on the exact date named.

Baron Von Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, has returned here from a conference with Viceroy Alexieff at Port Arthur, and had a short conference with Baron Komura, the Japanese foreign minister. Baron Komura has since given out a hopeful interview, but the Japanese ministers for war and navy thereafter had long conferences with the emperor, Marquis Ito, president of the privy council, and Premier Katsu, indicating that preparations are going on to meet any eventuality. The fleet and the army are both in readiness and large supplies for both the army and navy have been accumulated. The arsenals have been quietly at work for a long time past and the defenses have been minutely inspected.

Popular feeling in Japan is exasperated at Russia's dilatory tactics and the excitement has been aggravated by the sensational press, which is constantly circulating rumors of fresh Russian aggressions. Many of these are of the most circumstantial character and are calculated to inflame public opinion. The officials deprecate these reports which, it is believed in some quarters, emanate from Russian sources with the object of forcing Japan's hand.

The Japanese statesmen remain calm. Japan apparently considers herself capable of dealing with Russia single-handed. It is true that England is supporting Japan strongly at Pekin and Seoul, Corea, but it is thought here that England and France desire peace at any price. Germany is ostensibly neutral. The United States is chiefly concerned in her commercial treaty with China, to be signed Oct. 8, but the Japanese press claims that America is ready to yield Japan her strong moral support against any unfair encroachments.

In spite of popular irritation it is believed that the Japanese officials will be able to control the jingo element and maintain the present peaceful defensive attitude unless some new and unforeseen event precipitates fresh issues.

Tokio, Oct. 7.—Rumors are afloat here that the Russians are erecting forts and mounting guns at Yongampho, on the Yalu river.

Considered Postal Scandals

Washington, Oct. 7.—Six members of the president's cabinet, all except Hay, Root and Hitchcock, were present at yesterday's meeting, which was devoted almost exclusively to the postal frauds. Secrecy was maintained by all present, beyond saying that there would be no shielding of the guilty through any sort of influence. Mr. Payne, who was originally sceptical of the postal frauds, showed himself fully alive to their real proportions.

Did Wrongful Banking Business

Freehold, N. J., Oct. 7.—John J. Newbury and Rudolph Neumann, respectively president and secretary-treasurer of the Mercantile Building and Loan association of this place and Red Bank, who were convicted of having illegally conducted a banking business under a charter of a building and loan association, were sentenced, Newbury to pay a fine of $1000 and serve 3½ years in state prison and Neumann to pay a fine of $500.

Bought by Standard Oil

Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—The Standard Oil company has closed a deal with the Devonian Oil company whereby the former company comes into possession of all the latter's producing property in Allegheny and Butler counties, on which there are a large number of wells. The consideration was $300,000.

Arkansas Negro Lynched

Sheridan, Ark., Oct. 7.—Ed McCollum a negro, was taken from the county jail in this city by a masked mob, tied to a tree in the courthouse yard and put to death. The negro shot and dangerously wounded Marshal Crutchfield while the officer was attempting to arrest him.

Many Victims of Lightning

Kansas City, Kas., Oct. 7.—Lightning struck a tent in the Rock Island railroad camp here last night and killed two men, injured five others and shocked all the other occupants of the tent, about 15 in number.

Yellow Fever Decreasing

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 7.—The number of new cases of yellow fever here shows a slight decrease, but 19 new cases having developed.

COLT HEADS THE TICKET

Rhode Island Republicans Renominate Other Present State Officers

Providence, Oct. 7.—The Republicans of Rhode Island met here in annual convention, formed a permanent organization and selected a ticket which is headed by Samuel P. Colt of Bristol. G. W. Utter of Westerly was nominated for lieutenant governor; C. P. Bennett, Providence, secretary of state; C. F. Stearns, Providence, attorney general, and W. A. Reed, Gloucester, general treasurer.

The platform adopted supports President Roosevelt's administration and the principles of the party as adopted at the last Republican convention. Governor Garvin was severely arraigned on the ground that throughout his executive career he has impeached the name of the state by his speeches and public writings.

Alphonse Gaulin, Jr., who was chosen permanent chairman, in his address said that the campaign which is about to commence "is but the first skirmish preceding that other campaign which will decide whether we shall return to the United States senate the leader of that body, Nelson W. Aldrich, and whether Rhode Island will remain faithful to that most brilliant and most courageous of living statesmen—Theodore Roosevelt."

Last year the Democrats elected the head of their ticket, L. F. C. Garvin, but the remainder of the nominees of that party were defeated, the Republicans, who are now renominated, going in by comfortable majorities.

There is a prospect that the Revere road apartment house may some day be completed. Boards now enclose the back entrance to keep out the boys.

The Ladies' Social Union of the West Quincy Methodist church will hold a supper and entertainment at the church next week Wednesday evening.

One of the souvenir plates and the menu given to each guest at the Ancient's banquet Monday evening are on exhibition at C. F. Pettengill's store.

Walter Pratt of Edwards street sprained his ankle by being thrown from a ladder that slipped while painting Mr. Chisholm's house on Thompson street, last Saturday morning.

The Ward One slate for Republican candidates for the City Council is said to be Warren W. Adams, Lewis Bass, Jr., and Andrew Stewart from ward, and George E. Adams at large.

The funeral of George F. Tucker was held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence on Weston avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. Edmund D. Webber. Burial at Mt. Wollaston.

Otis Thayer, deputy fish and game commissioner, was out Sunday in the Commissioner's steam yacht Scooter and scooped in Daniel E. Hallett of Cohasset and Gustave Holburt of Quincy for shooting birds.

The funeral of Mrs. Emily E. Garbarino of Newcomb street was held this morning from St. John's church. The services were very largely attended. Solem mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Julian E. Johnstone. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery.

The Study Club of Christ church met with Rev. W. E. Gardner at the rectory on Tuesday evening, and gives promise of being a success. Miss Mary Jones read a paper on the "Cause of the French Revolution," and Merton B. Turner spoke of the "Leading Events of the French Revolution." Meetings will be held twice a month.

VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVES.

Last Year There Were Numerous Candidates and the Vote Especially of Republicans Was Split Up.

There is said to be a plan on hand to elect Levi H. Turner, the Socialist caudidate to the Legislature. His friends count on opposition among Republicans to both R. R. Freeman and Edward J. Sandberg, and among Democrats to both Peter T. Fallon and William Kelley, and hope to unite it.

Last year Mr. Turner received 949 votes, only 73 behind Mr. Sandberg, 321 behind Mr. Freeman, and 331 less than Mr. Fallon.

But it should be remembered that there were four Republicans in the field last year for two places which divided the vote. Republicans last year gave 870 votes to John McKnight and 784 votes to E. F. DeNormandie. These votes will be divided this year between Messrs. Freeman and Sandberg and both should therefore be handsomely elected.

Last year Gov. Bates received 1926 votes in Quincy, which was the party strength. Mr. Freeman and Mr. Sandberg because of the split received but 1270 and 949 respectively.

The full vote of the city by precincts for Representatives last year is given below:

Murdered Anarchist's Funeral

Barre, Vt., Oct. 7.—In the presence of an immense throng, but without the band of music which usually accompanies an Italian funeral or the formality of priestly rites, the body of Eli Corti, who met his death in a clash between Socialists and anarchists, was consigned to a grave in Hope Protestant cemetery. From a cell window overlooking the cemetery Alexander Garretto, the alleged murderer of Corti, watched the funeral procession as the anarchist leader was borne to his last resting place. There was no disturbance. The only ceremony at the grave consisted of brief speeches by friends of the dead man.

Christian Scientists Upheld

Concord, N. H., Oct. 7.—By deciding in favor of the defendant in the suit brought against Rev. I. C. Tomlinson, first reader in the Christian Science church here, by Mrs. Jennie Speed, the right to practice Christian Science healing in this state is established by the supreme court. Tomlinson was charged with malpractice, and it is on this point that the court decided in his favor; but on a charge of fraud, also preferred against him, the court sustains the plaintiff, and a retrial of this phase of the case may follow.

Supposed Burglar Winged

Rockland, Me., Oct. 7.—Detected while in the act of breaking into the residence of Fred A. Packard at Camden, just before midnight, W. P. Kelley was shot in the back by Packard and is now at a hospital here with a possibly fatal wound. Packard has not been arrested, but the police are making a thorough investigation of the affair. Packard, who is 32 years old, has been employed in a shipyard at Rockport. He has a wife and several children.

Eleven Hundred at Smith College

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 7.—The completion of the examination of the applicants for membership in the freshman class of Smith college shows that 305 passed the final test out of about 400 who had applied for admission to the class. Thirty-two students from other women's colleges in the country have been admitted to the upper classes, making a total of 337 new students admitted to the college. The total enrollment is 1100.

—The Amazon and its tributaries hold the record among rivers of possessing 25,000 miles of water suitable for steam navigation. The area the river drains is two-thirds that of Europe.

TODAY'S COURT.

Daniel E. Hallett of Cohasset and Gustave Holburt were arraigned for gunning on the Lord's day. Hallett was fined $10, and Holburt $5.

Patrick Haggerty was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Oct. 17.

John and Mary George were arraigned for disturbing the peace at Quincy. They were fined $3 each.

The continued case of E. E. Leonard, for assault on George Ames at Weymouth, was heard and continued for sentence.

PROF. LANGLEY'S

Flying Maphine Drops in the Potomac River.

Promised Well When Launched

But Sailed Downward and Is a Total Wreck.

Widewater, W. Va., Oct. 8.—The launch of the 60-foot steel-built flying machine, the climax of years of exhaustive study in the effort of Professor Samuel A. Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian institute, to solve the problem of mechanical flight in mid air, showed the experiment to be a complete failure. The immense airship sped rapidly along its 70-foot track, was carried by its own momentum for 100 yards and then fell gradually into the Potomac river, whence it emerged a total wreck. Professor Manley, who has been Professor Langley's chief assistant, made the ascent in the aerodrome and escaped with a ducking.

At no time was there any resemblance of flight, the initial momentum, the lightness of the machine and the sustained surface of the wings furnishing the conditions which account for the 100-yard transit of the air bird from its 60-foot elevation to the water. An official statement made after the test admitted that the experiment was unsuccessful, but asserted confidence in the ultimate success of the invention.

The launching took place from the superstructure of the houseboat in the Potomac river. Secretary Langley remained in Washington. When all was ready Professor Manley took his place in the navigator's car, which was situated close to the gasolene motor. This motor was of the explosive type, weighed 200 pounds and was designed to generate approximately 27 horsepower. Long rods connected it with the propellers, whose blades were about three feet long.

Professor Manley started the motor, which worked well, the revolutions making 100 a minute. The big machine moved easily along the 70-foot track in the launching apparatus and took the air fairly well. A five-mile breeze was blowing and for a moment the machine stood up well, but its failure was immediately apparent. It turned gradually downward.

Just before the machine struck the water Professor Manley shut off his motor, which had worked admirably at the outset. The machine disappeared beneath the waves momentarily. The five conical-shaped floats which had been distributed about the machine to avert its sinking performed their functions well, and the bridges of the machine almost immediately reappeared above the water. The navigator had sustained no injury and climbed into a rowboat and was taken to a tug.

An hour later Professor Manley gave out the following statement: "It must be understood that the test was entirely an experiment and the first of its kind ever made. The experiment was unsuccessful. The balancing upon which depended the success of the flight was based upon the tests of the models and proved to be incorrect, but only an actual trial of the full sized machine itself could determine this. My confidence in future success of the work is unchanged."

With the assistance of tugs the disabled machine was put away in the interior of the houseboat. As it was lifted on the derricks out of the water the complete disaster was evident. The big broad wings, which had extended 12 by 22 feet, were hanging limp beside the frame, the rudder was a wreck, the wire frame a tangled mass and the main body of the 1200 pound machine was badly damaged, though not beyond repair.

Hammond—Lewis.

A dispatch from Baltimore announces the marriage in that city on Wednesday of Dr. William J. Hammond of Dorchester, formerly of Quincy, and Miss Edith Lewis of Baltimore, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Lindsay Lewis, at the home of the bride's mother, 1300 Myrtle avenue, by the Rev. Robert S. Coupland rector of the church of the Ascension. The bride was given away by her brother, A. Leslie Lewis, and wore a gown of white panne crepe. Charles L. Hammond, postmaster of Quincy, brother of the groom, was best man. Dr. Hammond is a graduate of Harvard '99. After a brief wedding tour, Dr. and Mrs. Hammond will reside at 441 Washington street, Dorchester.

Kemp—Hebard.

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Hebard on Central avenue, Wollaston, Milton, Wednesday evening when their daughter Miss E. Frances, became the bride of Mr. G. Frank Kemp. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Mulnix of Foxboro, in the presence of the immediate family friends.

A reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Hebard, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kemp, parents of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp will reside on Central avenue and will be at home after Nov. 15.

—Ribbon makers on the continent say that their industry has suffered greatly because of the popularity of the bicycle. Women who ride the machine wear hats which have no other trimming than the single band, generally of black, and the picture hat is adorned with feathers to the exclusion of ribbons.

Another Ex-Selectman Passes Away Today.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Elias A. Perkins Found Dead in Bed.

Principal Assessor for Two Years.

Was Prominent in Affairs of Quincy Savings Bank.

Elias A. Perkins, one of Quincy's well known residents, was found dead in bed this morning at his home on the corner of Washington and Elm streets.

As far as known Mr. Perkins has complained of no illness and his death came as a shock to a large circle of personal and business friends. Since the death of his wife some months ago, Mr. Perkins has employed a housekeeper.

Mr. Perkins was born in Alexander, N. H., in 1822. He came to Quincy in 1866 and has since resided here. He was a carpenter and builder and during his active business life built many houses in and about Quincy.

Since his residence in Quincy he had filled many public offices. He was a member of the board of Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor in 1882, 83, 84 and 85, occupying the position as paymaster. He was also surveyor of highway for two years.

In 1889 he was appointed an assistant assessor by Mayor Porter and served one year. He was principal assessor under Mayor Fairbanks in 1893, and under Mayor Sears in 1898.

In 1883 he was elected one of the board of investment of the Quincy Savings bank and has served in that capacity ever since. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Quincy Cooperative bank, and the Dorchester Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

He leaves no sons or daughters, but a nephew, Mr. Frank A. Perkins, of Cherry avenue, who has been as a son.

The Republicans of the Second Norfolk senatorial district renominated Albron F. Bemis on Wednesday for the Senate, and elected William L. Baker of Brookline on the State Committee.

Automobile Party.

Preston B. Keith of Campello entertained twenty of his young friends in a most delightful way on Wednesday evening when a moonlight automobile ride was taken to Quincy. The party reached hotel Greenleaf about half-past eight where a hot turkey supper was awaiting their arrival.

The dining room was beautifully trimmed with autumn leaves and woodbine and the following especially prepared menu was served:

Consomme Royale
Iced Olives Lettuce Radishe
Celery Pickles
Escalloped Oysters Salmon Salad
Hot Roast Turkey Giblet Gravy
French Dressing Cranberry Sauce
Cold Sliced Ham
Mashed Potatoes Candied Sweet Potatoes
Parker House Rolls Home Made Bread
Vanilla Ice Cream Assorted Cake
Grapes Apples Bananas
Coffee Cheese Crackers

After a jolly time of feasting, followed by music in the parlor, the party started merrily homeward after giving three cheers for The Greenleaf.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Preston B. Keith, Misses Anna Brooks, Arline L. Kingman, Grace Hall, Flora Woodward, Bessie F. Brooks, Beatrice E. Parker, Alice Baker, Dora Weymouth, Charlotte Newhall, Messrs. Harold Eldridge, Ziba C. Keith, Jr., Claude Blackey, Forest N. Vincent, H. B. Dunham Willard Horton, Clyde B. Marston, Everett Collins and Chester E. Sampson.

Good Afternoon.

Thirty-two years ago Wednesday Chicago had its great fire. The growth of the city has been wonderful in the generation since that date.

It seems to make a difference whether the Harvard boys get their noses broken at foot ball or at the hands of Cambridge toughs.

The products of Alaska in the last thirty years have amounted to $162,000,000. As we paid Russia but $7,200,000 for the territory we may be proud of our bargain.

It was on Oct. 8, 1793, about a year after Quincy became a town, that John Hancock, one of the most illustrious men ever born in Quincy, died. The Adams Academy was erected on the site of his birthplace.

England is still studying the problem of army reform. Like most other countries she reforms the army after the war is over. A long peace stales form and perpetual war is the only remedy for military retrogression.

Not a word was heard from the High school enlargement at the meeting of the City Council this week, but money will soon be needed to replenish the city treasury, and an appropriation is sure to pass this year. The bonds will be floated but precious little will be expended this year for the work of enlargement.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The Bridgeport Post says editorially that the mayorality record of Mayor Mulvihill is a "record of broken promises." Better that he had never been mayor and retained his old name of "Rugged Honesty."—Ansonia Sentinel.

☞People do not realize how quickly the American idea takes hold of the child who is born here of foreign parentage, but when it is considered the ease with which our emigrants are assimilated it is understood. An Englishman residing in a neighboring town took his little son to Charlestown, and to quiz the boy asked him what the monument was for. "That" said the boy, "is where we licked the British, and we can do it again." A little off in his history, to be sure, but that boy is an American all right.—Lynn Item.

☞It would be well for the community at large if more of the strictness of the Catholic church in regard to divorce prevailed. The first effect undoubtedly would be to prevent too hasty marriages—the after effect would be to prevent a severance of the marriage covenant for frivolous reasons. Undoubtedly there are rascally and brutal husbands and faithless and abusive wives, but the proper place to curb such excesses is in the courts, and not turn the criminals loose to depredate further on society.—Waltham Tribune.

☞The bartender's procession is a sad one, and you who think yourself safe are the saddest atom in the line, for you are there without sufficient excuse.

There is no such thing as moderate drinking at a bar.

You think you can take your occasional drink safely and philosopnize about the procession that passes the bartender.

But the bartender knows that you are no different from the others. They all began as you are beginning. They all, in the early stages, despised their own forerunners.

They were once as you are, and the bartender knows that the chances are in favor of your being eventually like one of them.

It is a long procession, and its end is far off.

Meanwhile, keep out of it if you can. And be glad if it can be suspended, temporarily at least, on Sundays.—New York Journal, —The second man to receive the Victoria cross died at Brentwood, Eng., recently at the age of 74. He obtained the decoration by saving an officer under fire in the Crimean war in 1854. His regiment was the 49th Royal Berkshire.

HAPPY MOTHERS.

Have Their Babies Photographed on Church Lawn.

The Mothers' reception Wednesday afternoon at the Bethany church was a most successful affair.

Fully one hundred were present. Many of these brought their babies with them. The little tots were grouped on the church lawn before the reception and were photographed by Skinner.

Mrs. Eben W. Shepard, president of the association, presided, and the meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy.

Mrs. Louise O. Tead of Somerville, president of the Maternal Association, was then introduced. She gave a very helpful and interesting talk on "Mothers' Responsibility."

During the afternoon Mrs. Frank Moore sang two solos. Tea was served and each infant was presented with a little gift of remembrance.

MILTON.

The Thursday Evening club has elected the following officers: President, Rev. Theodore I. Reese; vice president, John Graham; treasurer, Melvin D. Richardson; secretary, Christopher Graham.

A rummage sale was held this week in a store on Adams street.

The Thursday Evening club will hold a ladies' night one evening a month during the winter. The first will be next Wednesday.

Rev. A. H. Mulnix, formerly pastor of the East Milton Congregational church, was in town this week.

John F. Keegan, superintendent of the East Milton post office, is having a vacation.

The stores of East Milton which have been closing at noon on Thursdays during the summer months, will be open all day hereafter.

The East Milton Congregational church which is undergoing remodeling is being plastered.

Adj. George A. Fletcher has returned from San Francisco, where he had been attending the Grand Army encampment and visiting his sisters.

The schools of Milton will be closed one day this month that the pupils may attend the Mechanics fair.

O. H. Flanders is building a double house on Milton hillside.

Fore River Superintendents.

The Superintendents and Foremen's Association at the Fore River Ship & Engine Co., held their annual meeting and dinner Tuesday evening in the annex building at the plant. These officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James Sherman; Secretary, Herbert Sargent; Treasurer, Richard Tappenden; Entertainment Committee, James H. Lalley, James T. Cogan and James Hallowell.

THE BARRE RIOT

Anarchists Do Not Agree as to Slain Man's Connection With It

Barre, Vt., Oct. 8.—Word received here last night that Judge Hazleton at Montpelier had summoned a grand jury to investigate the death of Eli Corti caused much excitement among both the Socialists and anarchists. The outcome of the grand jury's investigation is awaited with the keenest interest and considerable anxiety.

O. Granai, one of the best known of the anarchist faction, has issued a letter in which he says that the report that Corti was an anarchist or that he led any body of men to the Socialist hall Saturday night is incorrect.

A statement made by Angell Trupa, another prominent anarchist, admits that Corti was a member of the party and added that "in the death of Eli Corti the society has lost a dear, loyal and never-to-be-forgotten friend."

The Socialist paper of which Dr. Serrati of New York, now in jail on a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with Saturday night's trouble, is editor, arrived in Barre last night. In a lengthy report of the happenings of last Saturday the paper states that 15 anarchists under the leadership of Corti went to the hall and succeeded in breaking up the meeting which had been arranged. The article charges the anarchists with being the aggressors.

A Most Generous Performance

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 8.—Some 50 neighbors of Peter Vorren, the quarryman who on Sept. 8 was fired upon from ambush and for whose murder Bartholomew Croteau has been indicted, gathered at the home and without formality presented the widow with a mortgage of $1000 on her home which had been taken up by them. Vorren was an industrious man and a short time previous to his murder had bought the property where he lived. As his children are too small to earn a livelihood for themselves Mrs. Vorren had been trying to reconcile herself to the loss of their little home when the generosity of her friends saved it for her.

Knights of Labor Gain

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 8.—The second firm in Lynn this week to discard the stamp of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union is that of Corcoran & Sons, who employ about 400 hands. The action on the part of the concern is due to the campaign conducted by the Knights of Labor against the union. Only three shoe manufacturers in Lynn are now using the union stamp, against a total of 10 before the labor war.

May Be Deported

Rumford Falls, Me., Oct. 8.—A United States marshal and inspector came here from Portland and arrested Soo Quong, employed in a local laundry, who is alleged to have obtained entrance to this country by the presentation of fictitious papers. His arrest is made in connection with a series of frauds perpetrated against the government in the interests of Chinamen.

Crozier Heads State Federation

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 8.—The state branch of the American Federation of Labor elected as president James R. Crozier of Boston. It was voted to hold the next convention at Lynn. By a unanimous vote the convention declared for a reorganization of the state police force "so that that body may be practical and efficient in the enforcement of certain labor laws."

Musical Immigrants Detained

Boston, Oct. 8.—A picturesque group of 25 Italians, members of La Marianna band, who came here on the steamer Vancouver with the intention of touring the United States, have been refused permission to land by the immigration commissioners, because they have no American manager and no definite plans for their stay in this country.

Robber of Poor Boxes

Bangor, Me., Oct. 8.—William Dewitt, colored, aged 40, was arrested here last night, charged with robbing the poor boxes in three Catholic churches here. He was betrayed by his companion, Charles Redmond, aged 15, who admitted his guilt. The boy says that Dewitt robbed churches in Massachusetts and in six Maine cities.

Thieves $4000 Richer

Boston, Oct. 8.—Housebreakers got valuables worth $4000 at the house of Lewis Fay while Fay and the members of his family were absent. The burglars obtained an entrance by using false keys. Their booty includes gold and silverware, jewelry and bric-a-brac.

Wrestling Match Killed Boy

Middlebury, Vt., Oct. 8.—Harold Spaulding, 14 years old, is dead as the result of injuries sustained in a wrestling match. The boy was thrown violently to the floor and suffered a severe injury to his head, which was followed by a stroke of paralysis.

Cause of Death Unknown

Jackman, Me., Oct. 8.—The body of Joseph Pare was found beside the railroad tracks about four miles from Long Pond station. The cause of death is not known. Coroner Additon of Skowhegan has been sent for and an inquest will be held.

Strike of Glovemakers

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Five hundred glovemakers, employed in four factories, are on strike because the employers refused to grant demands for increased wages and to renew an agreement that expired Sept. 21. The firms affected have made arrangements to close their plants until such time as the employes are ready to return to work under previous conditions.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Hypnotist tonight.

The grounds at the new residence of John H. Dinegan on School street are being graded.

Great preparations were made at Newport to entertain the Boston Presbytery which held its fall meeting there this week.

An Italian employed at Swingle & Falconer's granite yard at South Quincy, had his leg broken on Wedneday afternoon by a stone falling on him.

Henry Everett Hayden, son of Charles H. Hayden, 142 1-2 Granite street, has gone to Harvard college. A fine scholar and a graduate of the Adams Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert M. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Saunders left on Tuesday for Norfolk, Virginia, and will visit Washington, Philadelphia and New York.

Arnold Lowery, of the freight department at the West Quincy depot, has accepted a position with the Boston & Albany railroad, and will be stationed at North Grafton.

Vesper services will be held at the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The choir will be assisted by Miss Carrie Louise Hawly of Boston, soprano.

The Meadow Brook Creamery Co. to open in the new block on Saturday is one of a chain of stores controlled by a Boston wholesale house. F. J. Leonard, for four years buyer of the Brockton public market, will be the manager.

Lawyer George E. Adams, who has been associated with the firm of Noble & Davis for several years, has formed a law partnership with Fred L. Hewitt of Boston, under the firm name of Hewitt & Adams with offices in the Pemberton Building, Boston. Mr. Hewitt was formerly of Wollaston and has been for some time connected with the office of Bangs & Wells, lawyers managing large trust estates and building interests in Boston. Both Mr. Adams and Mr. Hewitt are graduates of Adams Academy and are well known in Quincy.

—James A. Halloran of Norwood has been nominated by the Democrats of the Second Norfolk district for senator.

W. C. T. U. Appeal.

During this month the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Massachusetts will celebrate its thirtieth annual convention in the city of Springfield. The event will be noteworthy as rounding up the work of the society for three decades. From the time of its organization, in October, 1874, the W. T. C. U., under the able leadership of its four past presidents—Mrs. Susan S. Gifford, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Miss Elizabeth S. Tobey, and Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden—has increasingly made itself felt as a moral and social peer in the State.

There are beneficent laws upon our statute books which would not have been there but for our work, and there are forces working for righteousness throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth which may be traced directly to the ten thousand women "who are banded together for the protection of the home, the abolishion of the liquor traffic and the triumph of Christ's Golden Rule in custom and in law."

Temperance work was never more needed in Massachusetts than it is today nor was the State W. C. T. U. ever better equipped for carrying forward work along educational and constructive lines.

At the recent meeting of the executive committee it was voted that an appeal be made to the general public for increased financial aid in the prosecution of our work. In making this appeal we feel that we are coming to our friends and to those to whom we have proven ourselves friends. Read our annual reports to be convinced that Massachusetts cannot afford to let the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union languish. Our very existence works for happier homes, for safe streets, for a higher, nobler concept of citizenship.

Please make all checks payable for the next three months, during the treasurer's absence in Europe, to the assistant treasurer, Miss Sara A. Coffin, 14 Beacon street, Boston.

Signed on behalf of the Executive Committee,

Katharine Lente Stevenson, President.

Harriot T. Todd, Corresponding Secretary.

CHARGES FRAUD.

Against Schwab and Others in Forming U. S. Shipbuilding Co.

James Smith, Jr., receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Co., has filed his answer to the two actions recently instituted in the United States circuit court at New York against the company and himself as receiver, by the Mercantile Trust Co. and the New York Security & Trust Co., the former to foreclose its mortgage as trustee for a 5-per cent. mortgage bond issue of $16,000,000, and the latter to foreclose its mortgage, also as trustee, upon a bond issue of $10,000,000.

In his answer Mr. Smith accuses Chas. H. Schwab, D. Leroy Dresser, Louis Nixon, John C. Hyde and others of fraudulent practices in the formation of the company.

Specifically, Mr. Smith alleges that the Bethlehem Steel Co.'s works, worth not more than $7,200,000 to $10,000,000 were brought into the United States Shipbuilding Co. on the basis of $30,000,000.

The answer of Receiver Smith also contends that Mr. Schwab and his associates conspired with the directors of the company to insert certain provisions in the charter of the company to enable them to control its affairs and to acquire its property at less than its true value.

RAMMED TORPEDO BOAT

Unexpected Result of Sub-Marine Experiment of the Shark

New York, Oct. 8.—The sub-marine torpedo boat Shark, during a trial at Greenport, L. I., rammed the torpedo boat Dahlgren, which barely escaped sinking with her crew of seven men. Lieutenant C. Nelson took the Shark out for a trial and steamed out into the middle of the bay, making several quick dives. When she reached the opposite shore she headed back for a long spin under water. The boat poked her nose under the surface and dived down 58 feet. It was planned to run 3½ miles at the rate of 6½ miles an hour. Those on shore who figured when she would rise were becoming alarmed when she did not appear, when suddenly she rose less than 20 feet from the Dahlgren, which was lying at the dock.

Lieutenant Nelson signalled to reverse her engines, but her headway was too strong and she crashed into the port side of the Dahlgren, lying at the pier. Water immediately rushed into the Dahlgren and she settled alarmingly. The sailors rushed for a collision mat, which was placed over the gap where the water was rushing in. The steam pump was set working, and after half an hour's hard work the water was under control.

An examination showed that a hole four feet long had been torn through the plates just aft of the engine room. The only mark on the Shark was the tearing of the paint from her ram-like bow.

Lieutenant Nelson says that the strong ebb tide made the Shark momentarily uncontrollable. He had figured to run to the surface a short distance from the Dahlgren and prove the Shark's ability to run close to an enemy and then back quickly away.

Prince and Princess Wedded

Darmstadt, Oct. 8.—In the presence of a notable gathering the marriage of Princess Alice of Battenberg and Prince Andreas of Greece was celebrated here according to the rites of the Lutheran and Greek churches. The wedding party assembled in the old castle and then crossed the castle yard to the castle church. Prince George of Greece, with Princess Victoria, led the procession, and they were followed by the Grand Duke of Hesse with the czarina; the czar with Queen Alexandra; the members of the Greek royal family and finally Prince Louis of Battenberg with the Princesses Alice and Louise. The church was filled with diplomats, the local authorities and the royal suites.

Cabinet Officers on the Stump

Washington, Oct. 8.—Several members of the cabinet will participate in the campaign progressing in the several states. Secretary Shaw will leave tonight for Ohio, where he expects to spend 10 days. He then will go to Kentucky. From Sept. 24 until election day Mr. Shaw will be in Iowa. Secretary Wilson will also take part in the Iowa campaign, while Secretary Moody will be busy in Massachusetts.

Nordica Seriously Shaken Up

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Mme. Nordica was thrown from her berth and badly shaken up in this city in the transfer of her special car from one railroad yard to another. The trainmen, not being aware that the train had an occupant, allowed it to crash into a bumper. Except for the shock Mme Nordica was not injured.

Servian Parliament Opened

Belgrade, Oct. 8.—King Peter opened the skupshtina yesterday. In the speech from the throne he urged the skupshtina to legislate for the financial and commercial advancement of Servia.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The American ship Helen Brewer, Captain Mahany, from Sourabaya, March 6, for Delaware breakwater, has been posted as missing.

A distinguished company witnessed the marriage at Washington of Miss Elizabeth Young, daughter of Lieutenant General Young, chief of staff of the army, and Captain J. R. R. Hannay of the Twenty-Second infantry.

Stockholders of the Chicago, Rockland and Pacific Railroad company will hold a special meeting with a view of authorizing a new bond issue amounting to $250,000,000.

James Burrill, 10 years old, was drowned at Brewer, Me. He was alone at the time and it is supposed that he fell from a wharf or from a boat.

The centennary of Methodist church at Gill, Mass., was celebrated with appropriate exercises, the anniversary attracting people for miles around.

The annual convention of the national council of the Daughters of America, an auxiliary to the junior order of United American Mechanics, is in session at Philadelphia. The order has a membership of 30,000, of which 25,000 are females.

After a search of more than four weeks, Boston police inspectors have arrested John F. Clark, who claims to live in Bangor, Me., on a charge of larceny of $300 from Edward R. Nichols.

Several boys who were having an outing at Wentworth beach, Me., were thrown into the water by the overturning of their boat. Phillip Bragdon, 12, one of their number, was drowned.

HER PLEDGE IS BROKEN

Russia Declines To Evacuate Manchuria at Present

PLACES CHINA IN A DILEMMA

Insists Upon Granting of Latest Demands, Though They Had Been Disavowed—No Protest by United States So Long as Commercial Treaty Recently Negotiated Is Observed

Yokohama, Oct. 8.—According to information received here the Russian minister at Pekin, M. Lessar, has informed the Chinese foreign office that Russia will never evacuate Manchuria unless her latest demands are granted. China, it is added, has appealed to the Japanese minister, M. Uchida, for Japanese assistance.

The Russian minister had another conference with the Japanese foreign minister yesterday. The Japanese premier had an audience with the emperor the same day. It is now feared that the promised Russian concessions are insufficient to offset her continuous menace to Korea, nor is the Chino-Japanese commercial treaty to be signed today thought adequate to compensate for a permanent Russian occupation.

A rumor current says that definite Russian demands concerning Manchuria and Korea have been presented to Japan by the Russian minister.

The Japanese residents of Jef-Wie-Ju have filed a petition with the foreign office at Tokio asking that a Japanese warship and troops be sent to protect their interests, in view of the menacing attitude of Russia. The reply of Japan is not yet known.

The press, which reported the fortification by Russia of Yongampho on the Korean bank of the Yalu river, considers this action as a possible casus belli as being an infringement of Korean integrity. The report, however, is not confirmed officially.

Proposed Partition of Korea

London, Oct. 8.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Kobe, Japan, telegraphs that Baron Von Rosen, the Russian minister, on Oct. 4 presented a note to the Japanese government contending that Japan had no right to interfere in the question of the evacuation of Manchuria, which solely concerned Russia and China. The note further proposed the partition of Korea and suggested that Japan should take the southern half and Russia the northern provinces.

The note was discussed by a council of ministers Oct. 5, and Marquis Yamagata, commander-in-chief of the army, had consultations with the ministers of war and marine. The Japanese government, adds the correspondent, then sent a reply to Baron Von Rosen, rejecting the Russian proposals. A crisis is possible at any moment.

Demands Had Been Disavowed

Washington, Oct. 8.—The state department has not received direct confirmation of the information from Yokohama, but officials say they would not be surprised to receive such confirmation at any time from Minister Conger. They say they are fully prepared to believe the news that Russia has served notice on China that she will not evacuate Manchuria until her latest demands are granted.

Exactly what these demands are no official of the state department is prepared to say, but the belief is strong that they are practically the same as those reported from Pekin last spring and disavowed by the Russian foreign office.

It is said on the highest authority that this government has reason to believe that Russia is insisting on the very demands which Count Lamsdorff assured Ambassador McCormick had never been presented and which Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, told Secretary Hay were merely presented as a basis of negotiations.

It is stated by the same authority that this government will not feel called upon to enter protest against Russia's action so long as our commercial treaty, which is to be signed today, is observed, and the two ports in Manchuria promised by Russia remain open to the world's commerce.

Another Crank at White House

Washington, Oct. 8.—John Decker of Norwich, Conn., a mechanic, 44 years old, entered the White House and the officials thought from his actions that he was a crank and arrested him. He was not armed and made no resistance when placed under arrest. Decker was examined later in the day, pronounced insane and was removed to the government insane asylum.

A Cornell Benefactor

Irvington, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The will of Frederick W. Guiteau bequeaths $100,000 outright to Cornell university. After disposing of amounts ranging from $500 to $40,000 to relatives the residue, in addition to the $100,000 gift, is left to Cornell. The value of the estate is estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Express Train Struck Freight

St. John, Oct. 8.—A turned switch, left by a freight train, swung a fast express into a siding at Petitcodiac. The express plunged into four box cars, demolished them, and the engine finally toppled over. The engineer and fireman escaped serious injury. None of the passengers was hurt.

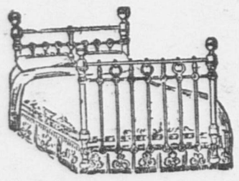
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

PEACE OVERTURES

It Now Looks as Though Balkan Troubles Would Be Smoothed Over

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—Since the arrival of M. Natchevics, the Bulgarian diplomatic agent, here, there is evidence of a relaxation of the strained relations with Bulgaria. The opinion prevails here that all imminent danger of a Turko-Bulgarian conflict has been averted.

Berlin, Oct. 8.—Acording to a dispatch from Sofia to The Lokal Anzeiger a letter has been received from Boris Sarafoff, communicating his decision to discontinue the Macedonian uprising in order not to interfere with the pacifying efforts of the powers.

Windy Weather In West

Emporia, Kas., Oct. 8.—Three persons killed outright, two fatally injured and 14 others more or less seriously hurt, with enormous property damage, is the net result of the tornadoes that prevailed near Hamilton and near Aliceville. The town of Aliceville, which has 200 inhabitants, was practically demolished.

Omaha, Oct. 8.—A severe windstorm which struck the eastern portion of Omaha blew down a brick wall at the north end of the new Union Pacific shops, burying four workmen, one of whom was killed. Several buildings in the east end were shaken considerably.

Woman Under $10,000 Bonds

New York, Oct. 8.—The complaint of grand larceny made against Mrs. Marie L. Johnston, who was charged with the embezzlement of $2000 from the United States Playing Card company, was dismissed in police court, the grand jury having found five indictments against the prisoner and their action taking the case out of the police court's jurisdiction. Of the five indictments two charge grand larceny and three forgery. Mrs. Johnston was arraigned on these indictments and committed to the tombs in $10,000 bail.

Entertained by Old Guard

New York, Oct. 8.—On their return from West Point the Honourable Artillery company of London and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston attended a reception held by the Old Guard of New York. Last night a banquet was given in honor of the visiting artillery companies by the Old Guard. The principal toast was to President Roosevelt and King Edward, representatives of two nations "united and invincible in influencing the world."

Hill's Financial Suggestion

Washington, Oct. 8.—Representative Hill of Connecticut had a conference with the president regarding financial legislation and suggested that the president advocate legislation looking to the creation by congress of a commission to investigate the subject and report upon the need, if any existed, of financial legislation. The suggestion was entirely new to the president, but he said that he would take it under consideration.

Surrenders In Postal Scandal

New York, Oct. 8.—H. C. Hallenbeck of the firm of Wynkoop, Hallenbeck, Crawford & Co., job printers, and Norman R. Metcalf, assistant manager of the firm, surrendered themselves in answer to indictments alleging conspiracy in connection with a contract made with the postoffice department to furnish money order blanks. The men were held in $10,000 each, which was furnished, for their appearance in Washington.

Tillman Trial Moves Along

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 8.—The defense in the case of J. W. Tillman has entered upon the presentation of its testimony. The defense first renewed the motion to have the jury instructed to disregard all testimony relative to the possession of a weapon by the defendant a day or two prior to the shooting, but the court ruled that the testimony was competent.

Amendment of Corbin Orders

Washington, Oct. 8.—The recent orders issued at the war department relieving Major General Corbin from duty in this city as assistant to the chief of staff and assigning him to the command of the department of the east at New York have been amended so as to provide that the orders shall take effect on or before Nov. 1.

Unpleasant Day For Troops

West Point, Ky., Oct. 8.—The review of all the troops planned for yesterday afternoon was called off at 2:30. Wind which accompanied rain blew away the quartermaster's big tent of the Second Kentucky. The enlisted men were forced to hold on to their tents in the pouring rain to prevent them being blown away.

Senator Tillman's Wife Hurt

Trenton, S. C., Oct. 8.—While driving from Trenton to her home the wife of Senator B. R. Tillman and her son were thrown from the buggy by the horse running away. Both sustained severe gashes on their faces, but the physicians state that their injuries are not serious.

Dynamite Used on Track

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Oct. 8.—Several feet of the Algoma Central railroad track near the Consolidated Lake Superior company's brick plant was blown up with dynamite last night.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Friday, Oct. 9.
Sun rises—5:49; sets—5:14.
Moon rises—7:17 p. m.
High water—12:45 a. m.; 1 p. m.

The rain area has extended over the eastern half of the country. Storm warnings are displayed on the coast from Cape May to Eastport. Fair weather is indicated for Friday.

Reunion of Campers.

The boys who were in camp, last month, at Camp New Point Comfort, Lake Winnepesaukee, held a reunion Wednesday evening, when they were entertained by Stephen A. Pierce, at his cottage at Houghs Neck. Steve proved his ability as a cook, by serving an appetizing menu, consisting of steamed clams, clam chowder, cold meats, hot vegetables and coffee.

A glance about the table, while the boys were getting busy, showed that their appetites had lost none of their ferociousness since their return from camp. The wonder is where space was found, by some of the party, for all the eatables that disappeared in a steady stream in their direction. It is also wonderful how much can be stowed away in a small space.

Supper over and cigars lighted a social hour followed, during which, incidents of camp life were recalled and camp songs were sung over once more.

So successful and enjoyable was the evening that others will follow in the near future.

Montania Wanted His Wife

Corona, L. I., Oct. 8.—Dr. R. C. Coombes of Coombes' sanitarium was shot and seriously wounded by Nicholas Montania, whose wife had been an inmate of the institution until a few days ago, when she escaped from that place. Her present whereabouts are unknown to her husband. Montania blamed Coombes for allowing his wife to get away from the sanitarium. Montania was held to await the result of Dr. Coombes' injuries.

Nobody Aboard Schooner

St. John, Oct. 8.—Three men in a dingy picked up the small schooner Transvaal, adrift and on her beam ends in the Bay of Fundy, and towed her into Gardner's creek. It is feared the schooner was battered about in the heavy windstorm of a few days ago and that life has been lost.

Mr. Richards Withdraws.

J. F. Foy, chairman of the Socialist City committee, informs the Ledger that the resignation of William T. Richards as a candidate to the General Court has been filed with the proper authorities. He says Mr. Richards' business will compel him to be absent from the state a large portion of this year, a thing not previously known, so he would be unable to attend the full session of the Legislature, should he be elected. Believing that it is the duty of a representative to be present at all times, and be recorded on all important questions, and realizing his position would be such as would prevent him from so doing, he, in justice to the voters whom he would be chosen to represent, declines to be a candidate for that reason, despite the fact that others occupying the same place are doing the very things which he as a conscientious socialist believes to be wrong.

Atlantic School House.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

The prophesy, made by individuals in relation to the attitude of the Quincy city council respecting the petition of the citizens of Atlantic for the location of its schoolhouse, has proved true, viz: "The city council will do just as it pleases without regard to the petition."

The question now arises: What is the city council for? Is it to do as it pleases, or as the people desire? Has Quincy come to the point of finding that its citizens are powerless to secure a just arrangement for pupils attending its schools? Is the will of its people, ignored in school matters, to be still further ignored in other matters pertaining to the best interests of the city? Is the example of some other objectionable city councils to become the pattern of our present board?

NEEDS OF CANADA

They Say Have Been Met in New Schedule.

South Ontario Fruit Growers Pleased.

An Appeal to Canadian Loyalty That Counted.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Cabled reports of Mr. Chamberlain's Glasgow speech indicate that he has at last presented a preferential trade scheme with details satisfactory to every important element of Canadian opinion. It looks as though he had been well informed by Clifford Sifton, and by Sir Charles Tupper of snags which his project formerly seemed likely to encounter here. Apparently he has given up the notion that Canada will compromise her fiscal independence for a British preference or maintain any sort of armament at imperial disposal in exchange for it, or surrender in any way an iota of political autonomy to obtain the commercial boon. Thus he may justly reckon on conciliating all the French and Canadian purely political opinion that has hitherto regarded his movements with some suspicion and alarm.

He appears to have done much to conciliate Canadian manufacturers by these words: "We recognize your right to develope your industries, so as not to be dependant on foreign supplies, but there are many things you do not know how to make for which we have a great capacity of production: leave them to us; do not increase the tariff wall against us: let us exchange with you for your productions."

This surely signifies that he does not intend to seek for British manufactures a lower Canadian tariff than they now enjoy under the 33 1-3 per cent Canadian preference, but only requests that the duties established by that preference be not heightened, and that British goods of sorts not now made in Canada shall be newly favored or perhaps admitted free. He proposes a 5 per cent British tax on eggs and dairy products, which, it is to be presumed, would not apply against the colonies. His proposal of "a substantial preference to colonial fruits and wines" appeals to the great grape-bearing districts of southern Ontario and to the growers of peaches, apples, plums, etc., all the way between Sarnia and Halifax.

It may be presumed that he means to relieve the colonies from the level 10 percent duty he proposes to lay against foreign manufactures. If so, he would stimulate the natural woodenware industries of Canada. To obtain all these boons both Canadian parties would, no doubt, cheerfully agree to maintain the present 33 1-3 preference in favor of British goods, or, if the general tariff were raised, to increase the rate of preference enough to keep the duties against British goods where those duties are now. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Borden appear all alike satisfied by the defined program.

Moreover, Mr. Chamberlain seems to have suddenly learned how to speak tactfully to colonists. This time he has not scolded them, nor told them their duty, nor talked with any patronizing air. He asks England to say: "Exchange with us because we are kinsmen, because it is good for the empire as a whole, because we have taken the first step and set you an example; we offer you a preference, we rely on your patriotism and your affection that we shall not be losers thereby." That is the way to win Canadians of all sorts. It is precisely how Laurier and Fielding talked to England when they gave the 33 1-3 percent preference for nothing. They were then accused of casting Canadian bread upon the waters, but they could see through the dark, and the present attitude of Balfour and Chamberlain indicates that the scattered bread will return to them after many days—buttered.

—According to builders' estimates, it requires as much money today to build fifteen schoolhouses as would have been needed to build thirty-six in 1863.

Basket Ball.

Prof. Baker opened the basket ball season at the Coliseum Thursday by a game between the Quincys and East Miltons. It was the first time that the Quincys had ever played together, and they put up a fairly good game, although defeated.

Two 15-minute periods were played. The score at the end of the game was East Milton, 8; Quincy, 2. There was a fairly good crowd present and the good plays were applauded.

After the game there was dancing.

The summary of the game was as follows:

EAST MILTON.	QUINCY.
Martin rf.,	lb., Dunn
Donovan lf.,	rb., Jones
Baker c.,	c., Garey
T. Bannin rb.,	lf., Hussey
M. Bannin lb.,	rf., Eaton

TILLMAN TESTIFIES

Says Gonzales Had Been Bitter Toward Him For Many Years

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 9.—James H. Tillman went on the stand as a witness in his own behalf in his trial for the murder of N. G. Gonzales. He was on the stand an hour. He was asked with regard to the South Carolina club in regard to messages he may have sent to Gonzales. He replied that he had sent a verbal message to him by George S. Legare asking him (Gonzales) to meet him in Georgia. He said also that he did not want to violate any of the dueling laws of his state. Asked as to Gonzales' attitude toward his military career, he said: "It has always been bitter toward me since I was 21 years old."

The question of his military career and the comments of The State were then taken up, Tillman stating, among other things, that Gonzales wanted to have him court martialled because of an incident which he related.

Asked how he was treated by Gonzales in his campaign for governor, the defendant replied: "I think those editorials are fair samples of it."

He denied that he had ever been a traitor to his uncle and said he had not intentionally been discourteous to the senate. He was asked next what had been the attitude of Gonzales toward him prior to 1902, to which he replied: "I think the paper has been pretty well devoted to me since 1890," and in answer to a further question, said the editorials in The State had been extremely abusive of him.

Report of Turkish Defeat

Salonica, Oct. 9.—A serious engagement occurred Oct. 6 between Turks and insurgents near Gumenje, 35 miles from Salonica. About 300 Turks are reported to have been killed or wounded. Fighting near Gumenje is still proceeding. It is reported that 10,000 Albanians, irritated by the raids of Servian bands, threaten to cross the frontier.

Daigh's Mind Dethroned

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Charles A. Daigh, at one time consulting engineer for the United States government in the Clyde shipyards, has been declared insane and committed to the Jefferson asylum. Daigh had a national reputation as an engineer and inventor. He was a consulting engineer on the battleships Indiana, Kearsarge and Kentucky.

NEW WASHINGTON

Dedicatory Exercises Two Weeks from Today.

Decorations Have Been Purchased.

They Include Pictures and Casts of Merit.

There will be some informal exercises in celebration of the opening of the new Washington school, Friday afternoon, the 23d, at 2.30. They will be of a simple character, consisting of compositions, recitations, dialogues, etc., by the children, with possibly a little speech-making in the upper grades.

No special invitations will be sent out, but all parents and friends of the school are cordially invited to be present to listen to the exercises and afterwards inspect the building.

In addition to the $77 raised by the lecture last spring about $60 more have been given for the purchase of pictures and casts. Considerable more has been promised and will be forthcoming. Nearly all the pictures purchased with this fund will be in place on the opening day.

The new building will be occupied a few days before the 23d, but the principal and teachers desire to get the children a little used to their new surroundings before they receive visitors.

McLean & Wright were the architects of the new building which has been built at a cost of $55,000. The new structure, which is of a pleasing style of architecture, is of brick with slated roof, two stories in height and 134x69 feet in length. The building has two fronts.

There are three entrances, two being on the south side, which faces Washington street, and one on the north side, facing Curtis avenue. The entrance at both ends leads into two rooms in the basement, each being 68x37 feet in length, the room on the east side being for boys and that on the west for girls. The sanitary arrangements are of the most modern character. In the basement there is a large boiler and coal room.

The building is heated by the gravity system, two large 48 tubular boilers being used, one of which is of small size, for summer use in heating vent flues. In addition to indirect heating, there are coils around the walls of each class room and under the windows, to use at night to keep the windows warm.

On the first floor there are five class rooms, each being 27x33 feet. There is a master's room, containing a book cabinet, book closet and toilet room. On the right of the Curtis avenue entrance there is a janitor's closet and coat room. Each class room has a separate coat room, fitted with umbrella stands and all modern conveniences.

On the second floor there is a teachers' reception room 22x15 feet. Opening off of this there is another room containing 16 lockers and leading from this there is a toilet room. Each class room is connected with the master's room by bells and speaking tubes. They are equipped with automatic clocks. These rooms have two book closets, one cabinet and four-feet slate blackboards. The building is lighted by gas and is wired for electric lights. The entire finish is of hard pine. The ceiling and walls are tinted in light colors.

Dr. Pease a Candidate.

A gathering of the friends of Dr. Lewis Waite Pease was held in Ward Two on Thursday evening. Such hearty support was manifested that the doctor consented to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for the City Council from the ward. Dr. Pease is head surgeon at the Fore River Ship & Engine Company plant. Dr. Pease is a young man, a graduate of Tufts, and was assistant surgeon on the Floating Hospital before coming to Quincy.

WHAT INFLUENCE?

Has Caused City Council to Ignore a Large Petition.

Editors of the Ledger:

It is with consternation that the signers of the petition for the location of the Atlantic schoolhouse on the Blackwell lot view the action of the City Council in ignoring entirely the voice of the people expressed in the 317 signatures.

In the Ledger of Oct. 6 it is stated "The order in favor of the Faxon road lot was advanced another stage without a dissenting voice." Such being the case it is well to inquire what has been the influence brought to bear upon our legislative body to make it a unit in denying the publicly declared desire of a majority of the residents, voters and property holders in the district from Neponset bridge to Squantum street and from Quincy bay to the marshes of the Neponset.

One has said that they have been told that the signers are not representative people. If such is the case it is an absolutely false statement unless "representative" stands for some other term than law-abiding, patriotic citizens with rights which the City Council is bound to respect.

It would be interesting to the aforesaid signers to know what has been the cause of the unanimity of the Council in the present instance. The influence must have been a pretty powerful one to outweigh the expressed wishes of three hundred and seventeen people living within the limits of the district already mentioned, where also resides three of our Councilmen.

One can not help contemplating the manner in which the Council business is carried on and whether the people have any chance for consideration by it.

The location of the schoolhouse seems to be in the hands of the Council. In former years the School Committee was expected to decide the matter. Why is the change? Is it because the superiority of wisdom regarding school sites lies in the City Council? Is the School Committee less able than formerly to conduct the business of the school in the interest of the people?

A Protestor.

Quarry Accident.

Donald Reed, a quarryman employed at the quarry of Swingle & Falconer, received a compound fracture of the right leg on Thursday, by a stone falling upon him. He was removed to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael Galvin was arraigned for threatening to assault his wife at Quincy and was put under $100 bonds to keep the peace for one month.

COURT BUSINESS.

For September Compared With Other Months.

Less Cases Than September Last Year.

Only 81 Search Warrants Against 108 Last Year.

Probation officer Francis A. Spear reports the whole number of criminal cases before the district court of East Norfolk for September to have been 128, or thirty cases less than in the corresponding month last year. It is also thirty less than in the month of August, 1903.

The total number of cases this year to Oct. 1, is 1504, an increase of 50 over the corresponding period last year.

Of the cases this year, 701 were for drunkenness, an increase of 102 over last year.

The September cases were divided as follows: drunk, 76; assault, 10; larceny, 8; neglected children, 8; disturbing the peace, 3; liquor nuisance, 3; breaking and entering, 2; non support, 2; vagrant, 2; search for liquor, 2; and one each for adultery, assault on officer, assault with attempt to murder, idle and disorderly, indecent exposure, manslaughter, riding bicycle on the sidewalk, stubborn child, threat, search for stolen goods, sale of liquor, keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

During the month nine of the warrants issued were not served; one was continued for trial, one for sentence, and five for disposition.

Four cases were held for grand jury, two were appealed and one defaulted.

During the year increases in the number of cases occurred in October, November, January, February, April, June, and August, and decreases in December, March, May, July and September.

The greatest increase in any one month over the same month last year, was in April, when the increase was 38, and the largest decrease was in May, 35.

Other common crimes to show an increase during the year, aside from that of drunkenness, were assault 8; disturbing the peace 5; disturbance in public conveyance 8; larceny 33; threat 13; violation of park rules, 11.

The number of liquor search warrants was 81, a decrease of 27 over last year.

It is coming to light how the organizers of the United States Ship Building Co. and other big trusts expect to get rich, and how Carnegie, Schwab and others got their millions fraudulently.

The Boston B. B. C. have braced up and pulled out of a hole. This morning the series was a tie, the Pittsburgs and Bostons each having won three. It will now be a question of best two in three.

With the death of Elias A. Perkins this week every board of Selectmen of the old town of Quincy has been broken. Either Mr. Perkins or William N. Eaton who died some months ago was a member of the last eleven boards of the town. Only seven former selectmen are now living, the order of service having been: Charles N. Ditson, William A. Hodges, John Q. A. Field, Charles H. Porter, George H. Field, Christopher A. Spear and Walter H. Ripley.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Around the State the cry of the party leaders is "Get out the vote!" That ought not to be such a very difficult thing in a republic composed in the main of sane and sensible people with ideas. Everybody ought to vote. Everybody ought to record his theories or his dislikes of other's theories at the ballot box. There should be no allowing election day to go by default. Every citizen who can get to the polls should go and vote in both the State and municipal elections. There is no good reason why the full vote should not be gotten out without the assistance of the ward workers and the town politicians. Still, there are always those in the world who require to be prodded along in order to get them to perform the most simple and yet essential acts; and so the warning to get busy and get the voters interested is timely and useful. Get out your own vote and that of the other fellow, too! Be a "sovereign," and record your wishes and your beliefs on paper, and perhaps swing an election in some close fight!—Brockton Enterprise.

New Dry Dock Damaged

Washington, Oct. 9.—The navy department received the following dispatch from Captain Goodrich, commandant of the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard: "About 50 feet of the east end of the cofferdam of the new dry-dock washed out. Dock filled with water. No one injured or killed. Beyond filling of the dock and destruction of the constructor's plant no damage is known as yet."

A Wide-Awake Diplomat

San Domingo, Oct. 9.—United States Minister Powell, finding that some of his communications to the Dominican government had been made known to and used by agents of other governments and against his own government, demanded that certain officers of the foreign department of this government be changed. The minister's demand was immediately acceded to.

Mind Becoming Untangled

Pueblo, Col., Oct. 9.—Dr. C. O. Rice, who shot and killed Policeman Martz, who was trying to arrest him, drove the clerks from a drug store and defied a crowd of 3000 people for more than two hours, is slowly recovering his reason in the county jail. Policeman Slater is improving and will probably recover.

Doremus Out on Ball

Washington, Oct. 9.—Willard D. Doremus, who was recently indicted here as the result of the investigation of the supply by him of the stamp cancelling machines sold to the post-office department, appeared in court and gave $10,000 bail, furnished by a guaranty company.

TEN SPUR TRACKS

In the New Freight Yard on Granite Street.

Will Accommodate One Hundred Cars.

New Freight House That Will Be Appreciated.

Work on the new freight yard, entrance to which is from Granite street, is progressing and it will not be long now before it is put into use. Although at present there is but one switch to the yard from the main line, spur tracks have been built from it, so that there are now ten spur tracks running parallel with the main line. These should furnish accommodation for at least one hundred cars. The spur to the yard leaves the main line from the outward track just south of the School street bridge.

The new freight house will be located near Granite street at a point about half way between Goffe and Whitwell streets. The frame work of this building has been raised and a large gang of carpenters are at work upon it.

As the building will be of sheathing, it will not be many days before it will be ready for use. It is something like 75 or 80 feet in length, and a number of cars can be accommodated at the house at one time.

Teamsters fear at first it will be hard pulling through the new gravel and it doubtless will be. It will not be long, however, before there will be a good broad road in the yard.

Rioters Clash With Soldiers

Paris, Oct. 9.—A number of strikes in the spinning trade are proceeding in the northeast of France and severe rioting has occurred. A body of 1500 strikers crossed the frontier with the object of stopping the work proceeding at the new convent of Bizet-Ploegsteert, at Courtrai, Belgium. The gendarmes who interfered were stoned by the strikers, whom they charged with drawn swords, killing a number of them. Their comrades conveyed the injured back across the frontier into France.

Many Callers at White House

Washington, Oct. 9.—President Roosevelt had an unusually large number of callers yesterday. At noon he greeted the 150 members of the New England Grocers' association and 300 members of the National Association of Retail Druggists. He shook hands with each. Scores of them stood for more than half an hour in a drenching rain awaiting their turn to enter the executive offices.

—We notice that Toledo is to place an anti-flirting ordinance on its books in order to protect women from the "masher" nuisance. It provides that any person who shall unlawfully follow, pursue or otherwise molest or insult any female shall be fined not to exceed fifty dollars and costs. This law would be a good thing for the legislature of Massachusetts to adopt for all the cities and towns of Commonwealth.—Newton Journal makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

Why do substitutes for Scott's Emulsion cost less? Because they're worth less. With one you wait in vain for the benefits you had looked for. In Scott's Emulsion you get them. It never disappoints. That's worth the few cents difference in cost.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

JUDGE'S STERN REBUKE

Accompanies Sentence of Negroes Who Disturbed a Public Meeting

Boston, Oct. 9.—Granville Martin and William H. Trotter, the two negroes found guilty of disturbing a meeting in the Columbus avenue church (negro) when Booker T. Washington was present, were sentenced by Judge Sherman in the superior criminal court to serve 30 days in jail. In passing sentence Judge Sherman said:

"Here is a race that in certain parts of the country have prejudice enough against them. But here in the city of Boston we try to give them their rights, and that at a meeting called for a lawful purpose, and to hear one of their own distinguished men, there should have been this disturbance by such men as these is a disgrace. I think this is one of the worst things that has happened for a long time, because they were men of education and not low down people."

Silver Workers' Demands Refused

New Haven, Oct. 9.—Employes in the silverware factories throughout Connecticut are affected by the refusal of the employers to grand the demands made last week for a nine-hour day, with pay for 10 hours, and "time and a half" for overtime. The demands were presented at all the silver factories throughout the state simultaneously and an answer thereto was requested on Oct. 8. When the union committees went to their respective employers they found in every instance that the manufacturers would not make a single concession. It is doubtful if the silver workers will strike at this time, the factories being well stocked, and the manufacturers could stand a strike much better than could their workmen.

No Evidence of Insanity

Boston, Oct. 9.—After an examination of Mary Simmons, whom the local police have found several times in unusual positions, and whom they recently pulled out of the Charles river, she has been declared to be perfectly sane. The fire marshal has been interested in the case in connection with an investigation of the causes of a fire on Myrtle street, but will not say whether the woman will be summoned to appear before him on suspicion of knowing something about the fire.

Political Resolution Cut Out

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 9.—At attempt to place the organization on record as sponsor of a resolution asking that all union men should vote only for union political candidates met defeat at the final session of the Massachusetts branch, American Federation of Labor, convention, when the committee on resolutions reported it inexpedient to consider such a measure at this time. The committee report was endorsed by the convention by a vote of 55 to 22.

Narrow Escapes From Death

Providence, Oct. 9.—James Klausch returned to his home for lunch a half hour earlier than is his custom and found his wife and John Mahoney, aged 12, a nephew, unconscious from gas which had escaped from a defective jet. They were revived with difficulty. Joseph Grafton is in a serious condition as a result of inhaling gas. The gas jet in his room was found wide open and it is supposed that the man blew out the flame.

Old-Timer Laid Cornerstone

Rumford Falls, Me., Oct. 9.—The cornerstone of the First Congregational church built either in Mexico or this town was laid late yesterday afternoon at Mexico by Captain J. T. Hall, a native of Rumford, aged 98. This church organized last October with a membership of 22, which has been increased to 71. Captain Hall remembers when the inhabitants of the town were Indians and wild animals, with an occasional settler.

Identified After Long Delay

Winooski, Vt., Oct. 9.—A body which for eight days has been lying unclaimed and unrecognized in the rooms of a local undertaker has been identified as that of Patrick Cuff of Providence. The identification was made by the man's sister, Miss Mary Cuff, who came here to visit her brother, not having heard of his death.

Robbed Telegraph Company

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 9.—Franklin Glennon, 14, and G. H. Buckley, 17 were arrested here on charge of larceny of $275 from the office of the Western Union Telegraph company in Bridgeport, Conn., where they were employed as messenger boys. Both have made confessions, the police say.

Embezzlement Charged

Boston, Oct. 9.—Charles W. Ivers, 22 years of age, employed as a clerk at the office of the Old Colony Street Railway company at Taunton, was arrested here on the charge of embzzling $785 from the company.

English to Supersede Boers

London, Oct. 9.—The Duke of Westminster has acquired 160,000 acres of land in the most fertile section of the Orange river colony and will leave England for South Africa this week to inspect the property. He purposes to colonize the territory with English farmers. Tobacco culture will be one of the principal features of the cultivation.

Color Line In Football

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 9.—Manager Eller of the Wabash football team received a letter from H. L. Watson, manager of the Rose Polytechnic team, stating that they consider football a social game, and as a matter of principle would not play if Gordon, a colored player, was allowed to participate. The game has been cancelled.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

Quincy High vs. Volkmann school this afternoon.

A special session of the district court for naturalization will be held next Tuesday evening.

Miss Annie M. Denison of Stonington, Conn., is in town, the guest of Miss Margaret Davidson.

Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany church and Rev. J. H. Whittaker of the Atlantic Memorial church will exchange pulpits on Sunday.

The street railway has abolished several of its white post stops and has relocated others, and expects thereby to make scheduled time.

Fifty three years ago today Quincy dedicated a schoolhouse at the corner of Hancock and Squantum streets. It was abandoned in 1873 when the present Quincy schoolhouse was erected.

The system of having two registers on the street cars, one for cash fares and one for checks, as in use on the Boston Elevated cars, is to be put in use on the cars of the Old Colony street railway. The new registers have been put into the cars but the new system has not gone into effect as yet.

Thomas & Miller are making some extensive improvements to their plant at South Quincy. Their old office building has been moved to a point east of its old location, and turned so that the main entrance of the office now faces on Liberty street. Near the old site of the building there is a concrete foundation for a large building. Just what this building is to be used for, the firm has not given out as yet.

May Steam Away Sunday.

It is understood that the dry dock at the Charlestown Navy yard is not ready for the cruiser Des Moines, and that she will not leave the Fore River works today as expected. It is now said that she will go to Charlestown on Sunday.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." MRS. J. H. JONES, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

BACK NEXT WEEK.

The Honourables to Sail from Boston October 15.

All arrangements for the return of the Honourable Artillery Company of London have been carefully made. After their tour, which will include visits to Providence, New York, West Point, Buffalo, Washington, Niagara Falls Toronto and Montreal, the Honourables and their hosts will be back in Boston on October 13.

The visitors will embark for home on the new Dominion liner Columbus which sails on the 15th on her first voyage out of Boston harbor. The Londoners will then have come to America and gone away in ships bearing historic names that are very shortly to disappear from the register of the North Atlantic fleet.

When the White Star line takes over the Boston business of the Dominion Line, December 1, the Mayflower will become the Cresic, and the Columbus the Republic, to accord with the White Star's manner of distinguishing its vessels' names, the formative "ic."

Unfriendly Act Toward France

Paris, Oct. 9.—The Matin says that the French military authorities have proof that the Moorish marauders were commanded on two occasions by a cousin of the Sultan of Morocco and the son of the commander-in-chief of the Moorish army. The Matin adds that it believes that the French government has decided to ask the sultan to explain his unfriendly act.

Lehigh Valley's Big Mortgage

Easton, Pa., Oct. 9.—A mortgage for $150,000,000, given by the Lehigh Valley railroad to the Girard Trust company of Philadelphia, has been filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of Northampton county. This document is for the issue of general consolidated bonds which was lately authorized by the directors.

Long-Sought Heir Arrives

London, Oct. 9.—An heir was born to the Marquis of Donegal, who is 80 years of age and who married Miss Twining of Halifax, N. S., who is 22 years old, at the beginning of the year. The marquis had thrice previously been married without having issue.

Yellow Fever Takes Fresh Start

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 9.—The number of new cases of yellow fever show a slight increase as compared with the past three days. There are 25 new cases reported.

NEWS IN BRIEF

CHAMBERLAIN'S IDEAS

Not at All to the Liking of the British Liberal Party

London, Oct. 9.—The discussion of Mr. Chamberlain's proposals continues keen, but so far the Liberals have made no organized attempt at a counter-campaign. Mr. Asquith, the Liberal leader, spoke at Conderford, an iron and steel centre, yesterday, and in the course of his speech contended that it was impossible to retaliate upon the protected countries without taxing food or raw material and experience proved that retaliation did more harm to the retaliators than the retaliated.

James Bryce, M. P., speaking at Lancaster, expressed similar opinions and characterized Chamberlain's statements as "grotesquely untrue and worthless."

Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade, addressing a meeting at Leeds, intimated the possibility that after Chamberlain had concluded his mission it might be found that the taxation of food was within the range of practical politics.

Sir Charles Tupper, presiding at a meeting in London, expressed his complete approval of Chamberlain's policy.

The newspapers are industriously collecting prominent colonial opinion on the fiscal question, which, so far, is not unduly enthusiastic, although largely favorable to Chamberlain's proposals.

Military Honors About Even

West Point, Ky., Oct. 9.—Spectacular and hotly contested was the engagement participated in by practically the entire number of regular soldiers and national guardsmen in camp. When recall was sounded after the two hours of hot fighting the blue army had inflicted the heavier loss as tallied by three umpires, but the browns largely made up for this by a greater readiness to seize tatical advantages of position. The hospital corps gave a fine exhibition of quick work in finding, attending and hurrying into camp 150 men scattered over the field to whom "wounded" tags had been given.

More Dynamite For Trains

Butte, Mont., Oct. 9.—Dan Gilmore, an inmate of the county poor farm, found a stick of dynamite on the Northern Pacific tracks near Butte, with fuse and caps attached. He removed the explosive in time to prevent the wreck of a fast passenger train which was about due.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 9.—Northern Pacific officials in Helena and authorities of Broadway county have been notified by Nicholas Rovice, a farmer, that he found two large sacks of dynamite under the hay in his barn.

Remarkable Work of Firemen

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 9.—Number 5 hose company of the Fort Worth fire department lowered the world's speed record for going into action. The contest was to run 280 feet, lay 100 feet of hose, a total run of 380 feet, make plug connection and get water. The time was 22 4-5 seconds. Up to last year Kansas City held the world's championship, its time being 26 seconds, making a run of 200 feet and laying 100 feet of hose.

Robbed Netherlands Government

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—J. F. Arondez was arrested by a United States secret service agent on the Japanese ship Nippon Maru as she came in. It is understood that Arondez is charged with the embezzlement of $150,000 from The Netherlands government, the officials of which have been pursuing him around the world. Arondez boarded the Nippon Maru at Yokohama and the authorities here were at once notified.

Canadian Army to Be Increased

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia and defense, in the house, on a vote of $1,300,000 for arms and equipment, said that it was intended to have a force of 100,000 to be called on in case of emergency. Of these 40 percent will be enlisted at once. The other 60 percent will be supplied with arms and ammunition and will be ready in case of trouble.

President Consults Cabinet

Washington, Oct. 9.—President Roosevelt summoned to the White House Secretaries Hay, Moody and Cortelyou and Attorney General Knox, who remained with him for about three quarters of an hour. While no statement of the nature of the conference was made public, it is known that it was of personal concern.

New Steamer Struck Ledge

Halifax, Oct. 9.—The Canadian government's new cable steamer Lady Laurier arrived in port with considerable water in her forward compartment, having struck on a ledge of rocks off Lockport, N. S. The steamer will be drydocked to ascertain the damage sustained.

Awarded to Canadian Northern

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 9.—The disputed territory lying south and east of Lake Dauphin has been awarded to the Canadian Northern railroad. The Saskatchewan company owns 51 town sites which will be at once opened for settlement.

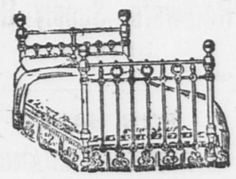
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

WAR IN THE FAR EAST

May Result From Russia's Failure to Keep Pledge

JAPAN'S BLUFF IS CALLED

Told Russia That She Would Fight Unless Manchuria Was Evacuated on Date Agreed Upon—China Was Ignorant of Significance of New Russian Conditions

London, Oct. 9.—The important commercial treaty between the United States and China was signed yesterday. Under its terms the rich province of Manchuria is opened to foreign trade. Yesterday was the day set by Russia for evacuating this province of Manchuria. Today in the harbor of Ma-San-Pho the fleets of Japan and Russia face each other, the czar having ordered 90 ships from Port Arthur to that place. They steamed thither and in the words of an "official" dispatch anchored alongside the Japanese vessels. Meanwhile the soldiers of the czar wait on the frontier of Korea.

If any conclusion is to be drawn from the confusion of the situation it is that Russia is not likely to leave Manchuria at present; that she has called the bluff made by Japan when she ordered troops to Korea with the implied threat to use them if Russia did not get out of China; that Japan must acquiesce or fight; that the signing of the commercial treaty with the United States by China yesterday morning and the signing of the Chinese-Japanese treaty yesterday afternoon furnishes the United States and Japan with the diplomatic wedge to compel Russia to at least open up Manchuria to trade.

In the past nothing but force has made Russia leave the prey she has pounced upon. The United States is not likely to use force. England, which has an alliance with Japan, has not been inclined in the past to risk anything in the far east. So it is "up to" Japan. She has the pluck but it is questioned whether she has the strength.

Dispatches sent from Pekin on Sept. 8 announced that Russia had promised to restore Niu-Chwang and evacuate Mukden province on Oct. 8, provided that China agreed to certain conditions. These conditions were that China should undertake that no portion of the territory be ceded to any other power; that no concession be granted to Great Britain unless granted equally to Russia; that there should be no increase of the present import tariff on goods entering Manchuria by railway; that in the event of an epidemic at Niu-Chwang a Russian health officer should be appointed to superintend the necessary measures for dealing with it; that Russia should maintain her own military telegraph line along the railway, and that the Russo-Chinese bank agencies in Manchuria should be guarded by Chinese soldiers.

These stipulations were generally regarded as comparatively unobjectionable, but on the following day it was discovered that Russia had made two other demands, which were quite the reverse. They were:

First—That Russia should be allowed landing stages on the Sungari river, with the right to guard them with Russian troops.

Second—That Russia should have the right to maintain Russian post stations along the main route from Tsitsihar, the capital of Hei-lung-kiang, and Blagovestchensk, the scene of the massacre by the Russians at the Amur river.

It afterward appeared that the satisfaction with which China received the new Russian conditions was due to ignorance of their real significance. The Chinese considered the demands about landing places on the Sungari and post stations to Tsitsihar so unimportant that they did not at first communicate them to the foreign ministers at Pekin. Afterward they made inquiries, and, the true meaning of the demand having been shown to them with the aid of maps, they realized that they had been befooled.

The negotiations between China and the United States, which culminated in the treaty signed yesterday at Shanghai, were initiated under the provisions of article 11 of the final protocol, signed by the powers at Pekin on Sept. 7, 1901, terminating the anti-foreign outbreak of the preceding year. The present treaty is to extend the commercial relations between the contracting powers.

Liabilities of Over $2,500,000

Amsterdam, Oct. 9.—The Handelsblad reports the holding of a meeting of creditors of the banker, de Goeyen, well known in connection with South American issues. The liabilities are said to exceed $2,500,000. The banker's family is trying to provide the money to arrange matters.

Disaster to Uruguayan Gunboat

Montevideo, Oct. 9.—The Uruguayan gunboat General Rivera (of 300 tons) was sunk at Santa Barbara as the result of an explosion. Her commander was burned to death and many of her crew were killed. The explosion occurred in the powder magazine.

Worked by Non-Union Miners

Colorado Springs, Col., Oct. 9.—The coal mines north of this city are being successfully operated with non-union miners, about 900 men reporting for work, which is about one-third the usual number.

Readville Shops.

The power plant for the extensive repair shops of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at Readville was started up on Wednesday. The shops have been completed for more than a year, and to a considerable extent supplied with working apparatus, but, owing to the lack of motive power, have remained idle.

The massive machinery with which the power plant is equipped worked to the entire satisfaction of the officials of the road who were present. Two generating direct-connecting units have been installed, one capable of developing 13,200 volts and the other 6600, while the engines are 2400 and 750 horse power, respectively. This energy will be abundant in running and lighting all the shops.

With these works in operation it is said that it will be the purpose of the company to close the repair shops at Roxbury, Braintree and Taunton, and eventually to concentrate labor on the restoration of equipment, so far as this territory is concerned, at Readville. Immediate steps will be taken with this end in view.

RULE 1. No person shall enter or leave the Reservation except at the regularly designated entrances.

RULE 2. No person shall dig up, cut, break, remove, deface, defile, or ill-use any building, structure, fence, sign, bush, plant, turf, rock or other thing herein, belonging to the Commonwealth, or have possession of any part thereof.

RULE 3. No person shall throw any stone or other missile; or have possession of or discharge any destructive weapon, firearm, firecracker, torpedo or firework; or make a fire; or throw or place upon the ground a lighted match, cigar or other burning substance; or post, paint, affix or display any sign, notice, placard or advertising device; or, except with written authority from said Metropolitan Park Commission, engage in business, sell, or expose for sale, or give away any goods, wares, or circulars; or set a trap or snare; or injure or have possession of any wild animal or bird; or injure or disturb any bird's nest or eggs.

RULE 4. No person shall solicit the acquaintance of or annoy another person; or utter any profane, threatening, abusive or indecent language or loud outcry; or solicit any subscription or contribution; or have possession of or drink any intoxicating liquor; or play any game of chance; or have possession of any instrument of gambling; or do any obscene or indecent act; or preach; or pray aloud; or make an oration or harangue, or any political or other canvass; or display a flag or banner; or move in a military or civic parade, drill or procession; or lie down upon a bench or go to sleep thereon; or play any musical instrument except by written authority from said Metropolitan Park Commission.

RULE 5. No person shall bathe except in a proper costume and at places designated therefor, or loiter or run about or lie upon the beach or shore in bathing costume.

RULE 6. No person shall ride or drive an animal or vehicle except upon the driveways, or on portions of the beach where such travel is not prohibited, or upon other than the right hand side of the road except when passing another animal or vehicle, or past an animal or vehicle except to the left thereof, or across a road unless the right of way is given to all other animals or vehicles, or by the side of more than one vehicle; or ride a cycle past an animal or vehicle going in the same direction without sounding a bell; or hitch a horse or other animal to a fence, tree, bush or shrub.

RULE 7. No person shall ride or drive an animal not well broken and under proper control; or ride or drive animal or vehicle faster than ten miles an hour or coast with a cycle or sled down any hill

RULE 8. No person in charge of any animal, other than a dog, shall allow it to go upon the Reservation unless such animal be used for pleasure travel on a way or place provided therefor.

RULE 9. No person shall have or allow a vehicle for carrying merchandise, or a vehicle in use for carrying merchandise or articles other than the equipments proper for a pleasure vehicle, or a hearse, or any vehicle in a funeral procession, except upon a traffic road, or to gain access by the shortest way from the nearest street to the front entrance of a house facing on the Reservation.

RULE 10. No person shall stop an animal or vehicle so as to obstruct a parkway, boundary road or driveway, or a sidewalk or crossing thereof, or so as to prevent the passing of other vehicles, or otherwise than lengthwise with a parkway, boundary road or driveway and close to the sidewalk thereof.

RULE 11. No person having charge of an animal or vehicle shall neglect or refuse to stop, place, change the position of or move said animal or vehicle as directed by a police officer.

RULE 12. No person having charge of an animal shall allow the same to stand without some proper person to take charge of the same, except that an animal hitched to a place provided therefor, or to a weight of not less than twenty pounds, may be allowed to stand unattended for not more than five minutes.

RULE 13. No person shall refuse or neglect to obey any reasonable direction of a police officer.

Any person violating any one of the above rules is liable to a fine of twenty dollars for each offence.

The reservations, parkways and roads under the control of the Metropolitan Park Commission are public property and it is the duty of every person to see that the above rules are observed, and to call the attention of the police to any violation thereof.

ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY

Concluded With the Exception of Minor Details

THE HAY-PAUNCEFOTE PLAN

Served as a Model For Agreement Which Makes Two Nations Friendly After Centuries of Warfare—Likely to Rearrange Political Alliances

Paris, Oct. 9.—The terms of the general treaty of arbitration between France and Great Britain have been concluded between Foreign Minister Delcasse and the authorities in London. There only remain minor questions of detail and the signing of the treaty. These formalities are so far advanced that the treaty is considered to be an accomplished fact. The advanced stage of the negotiations has not yet been communicated to the public.

The treaty follows the general lines of the Hay-Pauncefote arbitration treaty, which to a considerable extent served as a model. It is pointed out that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, although rejected by the United States senate, now serves the useful purpose of giving a basis for this important Anglo-French treaty. The officials also view the negotiations as evidence of the sympathetic attitude of the United States, France and Great Britain on the practical adoption of the theory of arbitration.

The treaty is mainly significant in being the culmination of the rapproachement between France and Great Britain after centuries of warfare, the maintenance of defensive armaments and the recent animosities growing out of the Fashoda incident and the South African war. It is also significant of the tendency towards a rearrangement of the European political alliances.

The treaty is mainly the outcome of the exchange of visits between King Edward and President Loubet and the visit of Baron de'Estournelles de Constant and the French parliamentarians to London. Official pour-parlers followed.

French feeling heretofore has been rather sceptical over the practical realization of the treaty and when its advanced stage is known it will occasion widespread attention and discussion in France and throughout the rest of Europe.

No Grout-Fornes Protest

New York, Oct. 9.—Although professing his determination to contest the right of the Republican and Citizens' Union city conventions to displace him as their nominee for comptroller, Edward M. Grout has made no appeal to the courts thus far. The filing of the amended ticket of the Republican organization with the board of elections was made without protest from either Grout or Fornes, and thus one step in the process of substitution has been accomplished.

Rush Order For Eight-Inch Shells

McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 9.—The Firth-Stirling steel plant at McKeesport will be placed on double turn this week to get out a rush order for the United States government, which is badly in need of a large number of eight-inch shells. The order was received some time ago and a portion of it has been completed, but an accident befell the shell hammer a few days ago and two turns will be necessary to complete the job in time.

The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, has recently purchased two paintings by Rembrandt and placed them in the first picture gallery. One represents an old man painted on an oak panel. The color is a most characteristic example of Rembrandt's golden glow and is thought to have been painted about 1630. The other painting is the Danae, formerly owned and loaned to the Museum by Francis Brooks. It bears Rembrandt's signature and the date 1652. Both paintings are worthy a special visit to the Museum.

The Unity Club will begin the season of 1903-1904 with its usual reception on Friday evening, Oct. 16, at Wollaston Unitarian vestry. As Japan is the subject for the year, the reception will take the form of a "Japanese Tea," and music will be one of the features. A cordial invitation is extended to members and their friends.

The Wollaston Unity club is to take up this season the study of Japan. The officers for 1903-4 are: Dr. William G. Curtis, president; Rev. Frank Wright Pratt and Mrs. Wellington Record, vice presidents; Miss Elizabeth H. Thayer, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Mr. John A. Barbour, executive committee; Mrs. Frank A. Page and Mr. J. Q. A. Litchfield, music committee. The first meeting will be next Friday evening at the Wollaston Unitarian vestry and will be a reception to the new officers and members.

A charming reception was held last Wednesday evening from eight until ten o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fred Stocker, 51 Rawson road, it being the occasion of their first "at home" after their marriage, which took place in August. Mr. and Mrs. Stocker were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Elmer Ingersoll Gay, Mr. and Mrs. George Martin Stocker of Fitchburg and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Ballou of Providence, R. I. Friends were received amid a group of beautiful green plants of the large varieties. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers running vines and burning candles, the color scheme being pink and green. The ushers were Mr. Carl Dana Hopkins, of this city, Mr. Karl Squire of Boston, and Mr. Carl Warren Chapin of Somerville. Ices and light refreshments were served. Some four hundred guests were invited to be present, but, on account of the inclemency of the weather and many living in other cities, some were kept away, nevertheless a goodly number were present. Mr. and Mrs. Stocker were the recipients of a large number of beautiful wedding gifts, many of which were displayed.

NEW TIME CARD

On the N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad.

Will Add Several New Trains.

Quincy and West Quincy are both to have new Sunday evening trains both inward and outward, and Quincy will also have three week day express trains to Boston, and two new outward trains, one express to Quincy, and one express to Wollaston.

The following extract from a letter of A. W. Martin, assistant general superintendent of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., to Mayor Bryant, is self explanatory, and tells of the new trains:

"With reference to the petition presented by yourself and Mr. Badger asking for a Sunday train via West Quincy, I beg to advise that on our new time card taking effect Oct 18 next, we put in a Sunday train to leave Braintree at 9.10 P. M., running via West Quincy, due Boston 9.44 P. M. Returning leave Boston at 10.15 P. M., running to Braintree via West Quincy thus giving you exactly what you asked for.

"It may be of interest for you to know that on Sunday, Oct. 18, we give a new train, Boston to Braintree via Quincy, leaving Boston at 9.28 P. M. Returning, this train will leave Braintree at 10.15, Quincy at 10.22 P. M., making all the stops, following the Brockton train leaving Quincy at 10.18 P. M., which is to be continued on the new time card, but running express to Boston so that the result to your city is an express run Quincy to Boston and an additional train Sundays making the stops.

"You will also be pleased to know that on the North-bound trains we have split trains due in Boston at 7.47 A. M., at 5.17 P. M., and at 7.17 P. M., which do not now stop at Quincy, and we are to run the South Shore section independently, stopping at Quincy, and thence express to Boston as follows:

"At 7.29 A. M., due in Boston at 7.45 A. M.

"At 4.59 P. M., due in Boston at 5.15 P. M.

"At 6.59 P. M., due in Boston at 7.15 P. M.

"Southbound, we are going to split the 12.43 P. M. train which does not now stop at Quincy, and run an additional train.

"At 12.45 P. M. express to Quincy and due there at 1.02 P. M.

"We also put in a new train for Randoph leaving Boston

"At 5.26 P. M. and stopping at Wollaston and Quincy.

"Some of these trains are experimental, but we trust the results will sustain the experiment, and I give you the information that you may know we are taking Quincy into consideration whenever we consistently can."

DENIAL OF HOSTILITY

Russia Claims to Be Peacefully Disposed Toward Japan

MOVEMENTS OF BIG FLEET

Declared to Be of No Particular Significance—Japanese Newspapers Show Unusually Intense Feeling at Failure of Russia to Keep Pledge

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—The statement published in the United States by a news agency that an anti-Japanese war sentiment prevails here is false. Russian society is not given to "jingoism," the government remains peacefully disposed and the foreign office disclaims the slightest sentiment of hostility. The newspapers here publish extracts from the Japanese press, indicating hostility to Russia, but the Russian editorials preserve studied calmness. Diplomatic circles are aware that the situation inspires some uneasiness, but they believe that the government anticipates a peaceful solution.

Regarding the reported movements of the Russian fleet the foreign office announces that a fleet is expected shortly at Port Arthur and it is possible that the fleet is in the vicinity of the Japanese fleet, since it is necessary to pass through the straits of Corea, but no importance can be attached to the momentary whereabouts of the Russian fleet.

Touching on the general situation the foreign office declares that the present moment is not regarded as critical. Negotiations are proceeding and have been proceeding intermittently for three years.

The Japanese minister here, M. Kurino, says there is no reason why the two governments should not reach a peaceful settlement. He says he finds no warlike tendencies in any of the influential papers and claims that the Russian papers cite comments from unimportant Japanese sheets.

While the foregoing reflects the sentiments of St. Petersburg it is not denied that there may be a different feeling in the Russian orient. The Japanese papers quoted here regard Admiral Alexieff's promotion to the rank of viceroy of the far east as being a victory for the Russian war party.

Japanese Are Excited

Yokohama, Oct. 10.—The leading papers in voicing Japanese opinion show unusually intense feeling on the far eastern situation. The Jiji of Tokio says: "The patience of the people has reached the extreme limit. Though Japan only asks Russian fulfillment of treaty pledges, yet Russia is apparently challenging her to a contest."

The Asahi, also of Tokio, arguing on the same lines, points to the moderate Japanese attitude and the "long and serious provocation," but indicates Japan's desire to maintain peace, "while Russia's attitude has been uniformally arbitrary and aggressive."

Both the papers quoted consider that time makes the situation grow worse for Japan and they say Russia "must modify her attitude considerably if an amicable settlement is to be reached."

The chief officers of the naval stations and those of the permanent squadrons are holding conferences. Individual Japanese have been applying for permission to subscribe to a war fund, but the Japanese authorities have provisionally refused to accept subscriptions.

France and England Interested

London, Oct. 10.—It is learned that in addition to the settlement of an Anglo-French arbitration treaty an important understanding exists between the governments of the two countries in connection with far east. When the French foreign minister, M. Delcasse, accompanied President Loubet to London recently he discussed with Lord Lansdowne the possibility of a Russo-Japanese war, with the result that both foreign ministers agreed to exert the utmost possible pressure to prevent their respective far eastern allies, Russia and Japan, from coming to hostilities.

It was frankly recognized that any such war would seriously endanger the entente, which is now having practical results in an Anglo-French arbitration treaty, as reckless action by either Russia or Japan might involve France and England in hostilities.

To avert this a private understanding was arrived at that Minister Delcasse should urge pacific measures at St. Petersburg, while Lord Lansdowne should use every endeavor to keep Japan in check. This understanding is the most important factor looking to peace in the far east and it goes far to explain the feeling of security exhibited in London and several other European capitals in connection with the alarming reports emanating from China and elsewhere.

Concerned Only In Open Ports

Washington, Oct. 10.—The Chinese minister here naturally feels keenly the conditions which exist in Manchuria, as it is everywhere known that China is in no position to enforce the treaty and compel Russia to evacuate. He had a long conference with Secretary Hay yesterday in regard to the situation. At present the concern of the United States is to see that the agreements made with China for the open ports in Manchuria are carried out regardless of what Russia may do either in evacuation or permanent control of the province.

A VERITABLE DELUGE

Paterson Alone Suffers About $1,000,000 Damage From Rainstorm

New York, Oct. 10.—Torrential rain, commencing early Thursday and continuing with scarcely any intermission until late yesterday, during which time the unprecedented precipitation of 10.04 inches was recorded at the local weather bureau, laid New York city and all the surrounding country under a flood, causing damage that will amount to many hundred thousand dollars.

Suburban steam and trolley lines were crippled by floods and washouts and during rush hours thousands of suburban residents were unable to reach their offices in the city.

Reports of extensive floods and serious damage to property and interruption of New Jersey and Long Island sections of New Jersey and Long Island. A dam on the Ramapho river broke, flooding the valley for 10 miles, but causing no loss of life.

Paterson was one of the worst sufferers and for a time there was grave danger of a repetition of the terrible disaster of last February. The flood is subsiding and all danger is believed to be over. A great part of the city was laid under water and scores of great plants were flooded and shut down, involving a loss estimated at fully $1,000,000. Only one life was reported lost, that of a girl drowned by the carrying away of a bridge over a creek.

Except as regards the actual running of the ferry boats the Erie railroad was practically tied up, no trains running west of Passaic. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western was also badly crippled.

Escaped Worst of It

Boston, Oct. 10.—Although comparatively little moisture fell throughout the greater part of New England from effect of the storm which had so thoroughly drenched the middle Atlantic states, the disturbance nevertheless gave the southeastern portion of New England a lively thrashing from an easterly gale. High velocities were reported from exposed places, Block Island having 50 miles and Nantucket 40 miles an hour, while Cape Cod at sunset was experiencing one of the heaviest gales of the season. No wrecks have been reported north of Newport.

To Fight Each Others' Products

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 10.—For the time being the two opposing labor organizations in Lynn—the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and the Knights of Labor—have adopted a new method of warfare. Finding it impossible to prevent each other from working they now propose to close the market against each other's products. This is to be done by means of petitions by the Knights of Labor requesting the public not to buy shoes bearing the Boot and Shoe Workers' union label. On the other hand the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor intend to start an active campaign in behalf of the label.

Gunboats After Defaulters

Manila, Oct. 10.—At the request of Governor Taft, Admiral Stirling has dispatched two gunboats to Albay and Samar to search the neighboring waters for the little steamer Victoria, with Johnson and Herman, the defaulting constabulary officials, on board. A coast guard vessel also has been sent out to overtake the fugitives, if possible.

Clothing Workers to Strike

Rochester, Oct. 10.—Owing to the fact that the leading clothing manufacturers of this city have refused to grant a reduction in hours from nine to eight a day there will, it is asserted, be declared in the clothing industry of Rochester a strike that will affect 30,000 wage earners. Those directly concerned are the clothing cutters.

Bates Defends Administration

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 10.—The Republican state campaign was officially opened here last night. Governor Bates spoke entirely on state issues and confined his attention almost entirely to a defense of the present administration. Lieutenant Governor Guild spoke on national issues.

Not Ready For Trial

Camden, Me., Oct. 10.—The case of Wells Kelley, who was seriously shot while apparently trying to break into the residence of F. A. Packard, has been continued until next Friday and Kelley held in $500 bonds, which he furnished. Kelley is improving rapidly.

Complaint Against Military

Cripple Creek, Col., Oct. 10.—In the district court information was filed against Brigadier General Chase, Adjutant General Bell and Judge Advocate McClelland in behalf of five striking miners, charging unlawful arrest and detention in the military guardhouse.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Louis Diette, aged 87, a victim of senile dementia, fell through a fourth-story window at Lowell, Mass., and was killed. He mistook the window for a door.

August Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball commission, has called a meeting of that body at Cincinnati on Oct. 21.

The big railroad repair shops at South Braintree, Mass., are to be moved to Readville, where they will be consolidated with the extensive plant which has been erected there. The South Braintree shops employed about 300 men, and the loss to the town will be a severe one.

David C. Shepard of Farmingdale, Me., aged 63, who had long been connected with the ice industry of Maine, died suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy.

DENUDING OUR FORESTS

Its Dangers Pointed Out by Secretary Wilson.

TIME LIMIT FOR DESTRUCTION SET

Chief of Agricultural Department Says In Forty Years, Unless Extensive Action Is Quickly Taken, the American Timber Supply Will Be Exhausted and a Wood Famine Will Surely Follow.

It will not be many years until the monarchs of the forests which have stood for 200 to 300 years will have been reduced to dressed lumber, says James Wilson, the secretary of agriculture, in the Chicago Record-Herald. It was not until a comparatively few years ago that the people realized that in time the supply of timber would be entirely consumed and that something must be done to renew the denuded timber lands. Consequently it is only recently that the subject of reforestation has been brought up for consideration.

Until a few years ago education had neglected to teach forestry and scientific research necessary for the reproduction of trees and many agricultural products. Realizing this, congress has increased the agricultural appropriation each year during the last decade, until now $400,000 a year is allowed for forestry alone.

There are today about 500 young men studying the subject and what can be done by the farmer to help the reforestation of the country.

We have reached the point where we may well be alarmed at the forestry conditions. Few know where to begin or what to do. In twenty years the scarcity will be felt strongly, and in forty years, at the most, unless immediate and extensive action is taken, the entire country will be pinched. Our timber supply will be exhausted, and we shall suffer a wood famine far worse than the coal famine which England is now fronting.

What we must do is to study the soil. A few years ago all our fine cigars were coming from Cuba and other West Indian points. I sent men to these various places and had them collect samples of the soil on which the finer grades of tobacco were raised. This was brought to Washington and analyzed. Having found the properties of the soil, I sent out over the United States to find the same kind, and as a result we are now growing the finest cigar tobacco right here in our own country. My men found the exact soil wanted in Texas, Ohio and Connecticut, and in these states we raise better tobacco than is grown in any of the southern islands.

So it is with forestry. The ground that has produced the big trees and the hardwood trees must be analyzed and seed must be planted immediately. If the necessary elements are lacking in the soil it must be manipulated until it will grow timber.

Every agricultural college in the country should have a forestry department. Yale is the only institution that has a regular course, Cornell having abolished hers. I recently attended the graduation exercises of a western agricultural school that received an annual endowment from congress of $70,000 a year, and out of the 450 graduates not one knew anything about forestry. This is robbery.

A few figures will give a fair idea of about how long the timber of the country may be expected to last at the present rate of consumption. There are now 700,000,000 acres of productive forest land in the United States. The annual cutting of lumber amounts to 35,000,000,000 feet a year, of timber 3,000,000,000 feet, for railroad ties 22,000,000 and for fence posts 3,000,000.

The lumber industry amounts to $676,000,000 a year, and of this the farmers receive $109,000,000 for timber cut from their personal property. If this industry is to be exhausted the result can only be surmised.

Science is learning how to treat soft woods, which grow rapidly, so that they can be made to last as long as hard wood. This will assist in reducing the annual consumption of ties and fence posts, which are no small factor. We can only hope for greater development in scientific research.

The fuel question must also be considered. Every farmer should grow his own fuel. Those woods which are suitable for the purpose are soft and grow quickly, and every farmer should therefore have his fuel patch as well as his produce garden.

Every child should be taught the seeding time of trees and know when to go to them to find the seed, and then they should plant them. The seriousness of the situation must be impressed upon the coming generation, for they are the ones who will suffer in event of a famine.

Therefore I say let every agricultural college have a forestry department, and in the department study the soil. Teach your children from infancy the value of every tree and the need of planting trees, and you who are older enter in with the enthusiasts of the association, advocate a state forest reserve and plant a tree whenever you have a spare moment.

Chair of Common Sense For a School.

In addressing a northwest Indiana Methodist conference class the other forenoon on its being given deacons' orders, Bishop Joyce, in speaking of theological schools, declared that if he were rich enough or had enough rich friends he would establish a new theological chair, the chair of common sense, says a South Bend (Ind.) special to the Chicago News. His remarks startled the assembled ministers.

PHIL MAY'S BARGAIN.

An Experience the Artist Had With a Roving Conjurer.

An amusing story is told of the artist Phil May and an English conjurer at a fair at Stratford-on-Avon. Phil was in the crowd which had gathered to watch a very clever gentleman who was wrapping up sovereigns and half crowns in pieces of paper and selling them for 2 shillings. The "sharp" had a beautiful face—such a face as Phil May loved to draw. So he sketched him furtively. But the gentleman saw him and made a speech forthwith.

"If that there celebrited portrit painter with the tight breeches on will 'and up the picter, the equally celebrited benefactor to 'oomanity wot is givin' away quids for coppers will reward 'im accordingly," he shouted.

Phil, with a twinkle in his eye, handed up the drawing. The conjurer was delighted with the sketch and pinned it to the tailboard of his cart. With another preliminary speech, he threw three sovereigns, three half sovereigns and several half crowns into a piece of paper, screwed it up and handed it to the artist. "You'll be president of the bloomin' R'yal academy some dye, young man," said he. "Here, catch!"

"A bargain's a bargain," said Phil, walking off with the packet of gold and silver.

He confessed afterward when he opened the packet and found two pennies and a halfpenny in it that it was the most entertaining commission he had ever been paid for.

Men Who "Were Literature."

Balzac and Hugo were the last of the great men whose inspiration was unceasing and who did not make literature, but who were literature. Balzac wrote a great story at a sitting—a sitting that lasted for eighteen hours. All that while he wrote, for no secretary could keep pace with him, and all that while he lived on black coffee. Then he slept for thirty hours. Hugo wrote "Hernani" in a month, and we can think of Balzac and Hugo as we think of the great Venetian living in the glory and exultation of constant creation. Veronese must have improvised "The Marriage Feast at Cana" with extraordinary ease, and I like to think he painted the immortal fiddler in a morning and went out in his gondola in the afternoon thinking he had done a fair day's work. That was how men wrote and painted in the great times before science beckoned them away from the beautiful.—George Moore in Lippincott's.

Brignoli and His Age.

On one occasion Bianchi, the noted teacher, went on the stage to see Brignoli, the famous singer, whom he found pacing up and down like a madman, humming over his part.

"Why, Brig, what is the matter with you? Are you nervous?" he asked.

"Yes, I am nervous," was the reply as he walked harder and faster than ever.

"But, Brig, you ought not to be nervous. I've heard you sing the part 200 times. I heard you sing it thirty years ago."

"Thirty years ago! Who are you that should know so much?"

"Who am I? You know who I am, and I know who you are."

"Very well; you know what I am, but I am sure you do not know what you are, and if you wish I will tell you. You are a fool!"

A Bogus Bear's Ham.

Sir Richard Owen, the eminent anatomist, often had his skill in identifying bones tested. On one occasion his friend and neighbor, Lord John Russell, sent him a specimen for this purpose, and the professor quickly pronounced it the thigh bone of a pig. This explanation of the query was subsequently offered by Lord John: "President Buchanan had sent from America to the English statesman the present of 'a choice bear's ham,' and the family had breakfasted off it several times with much enjoyment. Somehow or other, however, suspicion was aroused, and the bone was sent to their scientific neighbor, with the result stated."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Peebles.

In the "Memoir" of Robert Chambers by his brother William is a delightful allusion to Peebles, their birthplace and a spot ever warm in the loving memory of Scotch residents.

One of these, a man who had lived there all his life, was enabled by some uplift of fortune to visit Paris. When he came back his townsmen gravely gathered about him.

"Noo," said one, while the others listened, "tell us aboot it."

"Paris," he began, "a' things considered, is a wonderfu' place; but, still, Peebles for pleasure."

Got Along Without It.

"Did you ever have mal de mer on your way over to Europe?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle.

"No. Josiah took a bottle or two of it along, but when I'm seasick none of them kind of things ever does me a bit of good."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Useless Telling.

"You can always tell an Englishman," said the Briton proudly.

"Of course you can," replied the Yankee, "but it doesn't do any good, because he thinks he knows it all."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Becoming Discouraged.

He—Your father did not object to our marriage as much as I had expected.

She—Oh, poor papa has given up the idea of being too particular.—Brooklyn Life.

Good and Strong.

Butcher—Wasn't that a good steak I sent you yesterday?

RULES AND REGULATIONS

For the Government and use of the

QUINCY SHORE RESERVATION.

RULE 1. No person shall enter or leave the Reservation except at the regularly designated entrances.

RULE 2. No person shall dig up, cut, break, remove, deface, defile, or ill-use any building, structure, fence, sign, bush, plant, turf, rock or other thing herein, belonging to the Commonwealth, or have possession of any part thereof.

RULE 3. No person shall throw any stone or other missile; or have possession of or discharge any destructive weapon, firearm, firecracker, torpedo or firework; or make a fire; or throw or place upon the ground a lighted match, cigar or other burning substance; or post, paint, affix or display any sign, notice, placard or advertising device; or, except with written authority from said Metropolitan Park Commission, engage in business, sell, or expose for sale, or give away any goods, wares, or circulars; or set a trap or snare; or injure or have possession of any wild animal or bird; or injure or disturb any bird's nest or eggs.

RULE 4. No person shall solicit the acquaintance of or annoy another person; or utter any profane, threatening, abusive or indecent language or loud outcry; or solicit any subscription or contribution; or have possession of or drink any intoxicating liquor; or play any game of chance; or have possession of any instrument of gambling; or do any obscene or indecent act; or preach; or pray aloud; or make an oration or harangue, or any political or other canvass; or display a flag or banner; or move in a military or civic parade, drill or procession; or lie down upon a bench or go to sleep thereon; or play any musical instrument except by written authority from said Metropolitan Park Commission.

RULE 5. No person shall bathe except in a proper costume and at places designated therefor, or loiter or run about or lie upon the beach or shore in bathing costume.

RULE 6. No person shall ride or drive an animal or vehicle except upon the driveways, or on portions of the beach where such travel is not prohibited, or upon other than the right hand side of the road except when passing another animal or vehicle, or past an animal or vehicle except to the left thereof, or across a road unless the right of way is given to all other animals or vehicles, or by the side of more than one vehicle; or ride a cycle past an animal or vehicle going in the same direction without sounding a bell; or hitch a horse or other animal to a fence, tree, bush or shrub.

RULE 7. No person shall ride or drive an animal not well broken and under proper control; or ride or drive animal or vehicle faster than ten miles an hour or coast with a cycle or sled down any hill

RULE 8. No person in charge of any animal, other than a dog, shall allow it to go upon the Reservation unless such animal be used for pleasure travel on a way or place provided therefor.

RULE 9. No person shall have or allow a vehicle for carrying merchandise, or a vehicle in use for carrying merchandise or articles other than the equipments proper for a pleasure vehicle, or a hearse, or any vehicle in a funeral procession, except upon a traffic road, or to gain access by the shortest way from the nearest street to the front entrance of a house facing on the Reservation.

RULE 10. No person shall stop an animal or vehicle so as to obstruct a parkway, boundary road or driveway, or a sidewalk or crossing thereof, or so as to prevent the passing of other vehicles, or otherwise than lengthwise with a parkway, boundary road or driveway and close to the sidewalk thereof.

RULE 11. No person having charge of an animal or vehicle shall neglect or refuse to stop, place, change the position of or move said animal or vehicle as directed by a police officer.

RULE 12. No person having charge of an animal shall allow the same to stand without some proper person to take charge of the same, except that an animal hitched to a place provided therefor, or to a weight of not less than twenty pounds, may be allowed to stand unattended for not more than five minutes.

RULE 13. No person shall refuse or neglect to obey any reasonable direction of a police officer.

Any person violating any one of the above rules is liable to a fine of twenty dollars for each offence.

The reservations, parkways and roads under the control of the Metropolitan Park Commission are public property and it is the duty of every person to see that the above rules are observed, and to call the attention of the police to any violation thereof.

STOCKHOLDERS' STRIFE

May Be Responsible For Rumors of Heavy Forgery

RAILWAY COMPANY NOTES

To the Amount of a Million Dollars Said to Have Been Fraudulently Endorsed In Connection With Worcester and Southbridge Road

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 10.—Disagreement among the stockholders of the Worcester and Southbridge Railway company, now in the hands of a receiver, which has resulted in two factions, one in favor of and one opposed to the formulated plan for reorganization of the road, is credited in some quarters with the story made public that a handwriting expert employed to examine the company's paper has discovered forged endorsements on the company's notes representing $1,000,000.

It is asserted by these stockholders that an attempt was made by some of the smaller stockholders to frighten the creditors of the road into approving the reorganization plan, and that this effort crystalized in their causing to be made public on the day before the reorganization plan was submitted the story that an expert had found forgeries in the endorsements of the company's notes.

It is claimed that the business methods of the road have been such that the forgery talk was started to cover up unbusinesslike transactions of some of the stockholders, but it is declared that if the plan of reorganization fails, some endorsers of notes will contest their signatures. It is asserted that if the road is reorganized all its paper will be called in and past transactions wiped out.

Creditors representing $120,000 of the total liability of $330,000 approved the reorganization plan yesterday. Those who favor reorganization say that if the creditors all approve of reorganization that they will receive dollar for dollar on their claims, and that if reorganization cannot be brought about the property will be sold under the hammer and the creditors be able to realize not more than 30 or 40 cents on a dollar.

Regarding the alleged forgeries it cannot be learned that any action has been taken to place the responsibility, if such forgeries really exist. C. M. Thayer, receiver of the road, says that the matter of forged endorsements is something for those whose names were alleged to be forged have to do with, and does not concern the receiver. George W. Wells, one of the largest stockholders and whose name is alleged to have illegally affixed to notes of the company, refuses to discuss the matter beyond saying that he has retained counsel in Boston, who will act for him. Inquiry by telephone at the Boston office of Wells' counsel failed to elicit any comment on the matter.

There have been occasional rumors of wrongdoing in connection with the management of the road ever since it went into the hands of the receiver two months ago. Until now, however, there has been made no positive declaration of fraud.

The Worcester, Rochdale and Charlton Depot street railway, an allied line, as well as two pleasure resorts, are involved in the receivership of the Worcester and Southbridge road.

Tried to "Work" Providence People

Providence, Oct. 10.—A young man who gave his name as George B. Woods of Worcester, advertising agent, has called upon several business men, including two steamship ticket agents, and has made arrangements with them for tickets and staterooms for a trip across the water, offering in payment checks on the Citizens' National bank of Worcester. The checks proved to be worthless. The police of Worcester know nothing of Woods.

Boodle Prosecutor's Advice Heeded

Washington, Oct. 10.—District Attorney Folk of St. Louis, who has been in conference here regarding the extension of the provisions of extradition treaties between the United States and foreign countries, has left for St. Louis. It has been agreed that the negotiations for the supplemental treaties shall be begun at once with all nations with which this country has treaty relations.

Caspian Takes Big Stake

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 10.—Caspian, an Ohio horse and second favorite in the betting, won the 15th Transylvania, with a purse of $6000. The best time was 2:09½. Kent, who took second money, was purchased from Dick Donley by E. E. Smathers for $4300 just before the second heat, and made a strong bid for first place in this heat.

Germans May Rout Oil Monopoly

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Herr Moeller, the Prussian minister of commerce, in a speech delivered in a newly discovered oil district, said he was convinced that the American petroleum monopoly would soon be at an end and then capitalists should proceed to unite with the oil land owners and erect refineries.

Christiancy's Resignation Accepted

Washington, Oct. 10.—The postmaster general has accepted the resignation of G. A. C. Christiancy as assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department. Christiancy gives poor health as the cause of resignation.

BEYOND HIS POWER

Governor of Rhode Island Has No Authority to Close Poolrooms

Boston, Oct. 10.—"In this state, unfortunately, the governor has no more power to enforce law by means of civil officers than has any other citizen." In this statement, Governor Garvin of Rhode Island explained to Governor Bates why it would be impossible for him to make a personal investigation of the alleged gambling scandal at North Smithfield, R. I.

The correspondence in the somewhat famous case which passed between the governors of the two states has just been given to the public and for the first time Governor Garvin's reason for apparently dropping the investigation has become known. It appears that the matter first was called to the attention of the Massachusetts officials by a letter from G. J. Lynch to District Attorney Hoar of Worcester, who in turn referred the letter to Governor Bates, with the recommendation that Governor Garvin be asked to suppress the nuisance.

In his reply to Governor Bates, Governor Garvin stated that the matter had been referred to President White of the town council of North Smithfield. He explained that the town council had full power to close the poolroom at any moment, while he had "no more power in the case than any other citizen."

Nineteen Narrowly Escaped Death

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 10.—Several lives were endangered last night in a fire which broke out in a grocery store on Chestnut street and communicated with two floors above, which were occupied as tenements. Eighteen children and one man were taken from the building with the greatest difficulty, the place being filled with smoke while the rescued ones were asleep. The rescued children included a little blind girl, who was borne to the foot of the stairs leading to the street by her mother, where the latter fell in a swoon. Seven children and five adults were brought out in a semi-conscious condition. The fire was subdued with a material loss of only $2000.

Packard to Leave Savings Bank

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 10.—Yielding to the pressure of public opinion the trustees of the Greenfield savings bank have received and accepted the resignation of Treasurer Packard, to take effect from the date of the annual meeting in December. Packard was president of the Packard National bank, which recently suspended. A state savings bank examiner has declared the accounts and assets of the savings bank to be correct to a penny.

Held on Murder Charge

New London, Conn., Oct. 10.—Captain May and Paul Brown, a deckhand of the barge Charles E. Meyers, were arraigned in the police court here on a charge of murdering Captain Parleman of the barge John Wilson, Sr. They pleaded not guilty and were held without bail for examination on Oct. 21. Brown, according to the police, has offered to turn state's evidence. His story of the murder itself the police have not given out.

Ivers Confesses Theft

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 10.—When Charles W. Ivers, who was arrested at Boston on the charge of stealing $780 from the Old Colony railway here, was arraigned in the district court a lawyer representing the company stated that the defendant had made a confession that he had taken the money as alleged. He added that all the money with the exception of $24 had been returned. Ivers was held for the grand jury in $1200.

Caught Children at Work

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 10.—Several local labor men last night began an investigation which resulted in the discovery that four boys were employed in a shoe lace factory in this city contrary to the child labor laws, and as a result of a raid at 11 o'clock upon the place, under the direction of Factory Inspector Tierney, the factory was closed and Matthew Hanson, one of the proprietors, will be summoned into court.

Charged With Murder

Winchester, N. H., Oct. 10.—Oliver Patnode was arraigned before Justice Davis and held on a charge of murder in causing the death of Frank Kelliher, who died from injuries received, it is alleged, at the hands of Patnode during a quarrel at the Winchester house. Kelliher was a bartender at the hotel, and it is alleged that he was assaulted by Patnode while attempting to eject the latter from the house.

Robbers Worked Unmolested

Fall River, Mass. ,Oct. 10.—During the absence of the family thieves broke into the home of Enoch J. French and carried off jewelry and other property to the value of more than $2000. The break was discovered late last evening when a member of the family returned home and found the house in a state of great disorder. The police have no clue to the robbers.

Came Across a Skeleton

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 10.—Henry Akey, a farmer, reports that while hunting in swamp woods near the Connecticut line he discovered the skeleton of a man, about six feet tall, dressed only in trousers and a heavy outing shirt. The medical examiner will investigate.

Colt Accepts Nomination

Providence, Oct. 10.—S. P. Colt has accepted the nomination recently tendered unanimously to him at the Republican state convention to head the ticket. The contest for supremacy in the coming election promises to be highly interesting.

The Fountain of Youth.

Like pretty much everything else, this matter of having children has two sides to it. As a great many children are failures and as children are the joint product of heredity and environment, both elements preponderantly under parental control, it would seem more sensible to say that there were too many people undertaking parental responsibility instead of too few. And, further, parenthood has many cares and sorrows and exasperations. Still, when all is said, how many persons who have found themselves childless at forty-five have been able honestly to congratulate themselves?

Children have a use as an assurance against destitution and loneliness in old age. They are satisfactory to the vanity for family immortality. But more than these and all other advantages is the advantage of prolonging one's life. Growing children will keep any proper man or woman young in spirit and in mind, will retard the development of that sour yet complacent cynicism which curses old age both for oneself and for those about one.

The man or the woman—again, the right sort of man or woman—who has children drinks every day a deep draft at the fountain of eternal youth.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Dammaras of Africa.

In Galton's "Tropical South Africa" it is stated that the Dammaras use no term beyond three and that when they wish to express four they take to their fingers. Beyond five they cannot count at all. It is seldom, however, that they lose in a bargain through their inability to count. When bartering, each sheep or ox or whatever they may be selling must be paid for separately. If this rate of exchange were at the rate of two sticks of tobacco for one sheep it would greatly puzzle a Dammara to accept four sticks for two sheep. Galton says that he several times paid them in that way and that the Dammara forthwith set aside two sticks for one of the sheep, and even when he found that he had two sticks left for the other sheep he still had his doubts as to the genuineness of the transaction and was not satisfied until two sticks were put into his hand and one sheep driven away and then another two sticks given to him for the other sheep.

The Flight of the Locust.

Writing in the Empire Review on the locust in South Africa, S. B. Kitchen says: Locusts are very tiny creatures, at most two or three inches long, yet giant jawed and shelled in a grim brown mail so hard that as they strike it causes a sharp smart. They travel in such numbers that it takes them four or five days to pass over. The scouts alone, hovering in patches like red dust clouds, are numerous enough to destroy the vegetation of a district, while the main body, high up in the air, a host of little black specks, stretches out into an interminable screen between heaven and earth. The fanning of their wings brings a fresh coolness over the hot earth even in the depth of summer. There seems to be a fresh breath of ozone as of the sea.

The Laughing Hyena.

Although the hysterical laughter of the laughing hyena is not, as was once supposed, the outcome of a deliberate attempt to decoy unwary travelers to their doom, this strange animal is, nevertheless, one of the most cunning of dumb animals. He is so suspicious of everything he does not understand that the sight of even a bit of string at once puts him on his guard. Trappers are aware of this fact and generally use the stems of creeping plants instead of string of any kind in setting their spring traps.

Preserving the Traditions.

"Yes, I have launched my new yacht," said Muchpop.

"What do you call her?" asked the friend.

"Named her for my native city—Brooklyn."

"And did you smash a bottle of wine across her bow when she was christened?"

"No, indeed! We broke a nursing bottle full of milk."—Judge.

Father and Son.

Little Bobby—I can't find my hat and coat.

Father (rushing about)—I can't find mine either. I don't see what your mother does with things. She's gone out, and there's nothing for us to do but hunt till we find 'em or else stay in.

Little Bobby (after long thought)—Let's look on the hall rack.

Imposing.

She (at the review grounds)—What an imposing figure Captain Borrows has!

He—Yes; naturally so.

She—And why naturally, pray?

He—Oh, he's always imposing on his friends.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Called Him Brother.

Harlow—I noticed you called Fred "brother." Does he belong to some secret society that you do?

Shallop—I don't belong to any secret society. I call him brother because my wife once promised to be a sister to him.—Boston Transcript.

Like a Charm.

Customer (angrily)—You said that hair restorer you sold me a couple of weeks ago would work like a charm, and it didn't do any good at all.

Druggist—But, my dear sir, no one in this enlightened age believes in the efficacy of charms.

Ambiguities of Parrot Talk.

Ida—That parrot is always saying, "Sit close."

May—Yes. It's hard to say whether his former owner was a street car conductor or a young lady keeping regular company.—St. Louis Star.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 11—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Great men of the Bible—What Joseph teaches us.—Gen. xli, 14-16, 42, 46.

The life of Joseph reads almost like romance, and yet it is true, and one of the lives that illustrate that truth is stranger than fiction. The favorite son of his father, he was treated with unusual consideration. The jealousy and envy of his eleven brethren were aroused, and after a determination to take his life they did sell him as a servant to merchants traveling to Egypt. Here he started in a lowly position, and was even subjected to a false charge and to a false imprisonment. But, wonderful to tell, he was, in the marvelous providence of God, raised from the prison to the palace. He became second only to the king, and saved both Egypt and his people, the Israelites, from starvation during a famine of seven years' duration.

1. Joseph teaches us trust in God. Undoubtedly, in all his years of adversity, Joseph must have kept his trust in God firm and secure. His life must have seemed a hard one at times, his future must have looked dark and foreboding, yet God watched over him, and when he trusted Him he was not put to shame. All have their adversities. No pathway in life is strewn alone with flowers. Let us learn from Joseph to trust God along the rough ways.

2. Joseph teaches a lesson in purity. His act in resisting the advances of the wife of Potiphar, even at the risk of his life, demonstrates the great purity of his heart and life. This lesson needs to be impressed upon us today. Impurity in thought, word and deed abounds all about us in life, and many, many people make no effort to restrain their passions and appetites. Let us follow the example of Joseph, remembering the words of the Master, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

3. Joseph teaches a lesson in forgiveness. His forgiveness of his brethren stands as one of the most conspicuous illustrations of Old Testament forgiveness. It bears a likeness to the spirit of the Master when He prayed, "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do." It is hard to forgive sometimes, but we should forgive one another, "even as God for Christ's sake has forgiven us."

4. Joseph teaches a lesson in God's providence. "It was not you, but God, who sent me to Egypt," said Joseph to his repentant brethren. God was working out his plans in the life of Joseph. So he is in all our lives. Our God is a sovereign God. He moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, but He moves and performs His will. Our lives are in His hands. Let us rejoice over that fact and then strive more and more to come into complete harmony with His will.

A Director of the Training School.

Christian Endeavor has always had in President George B. Stewart, D. D., of Auburn Theological seminary a warm friend, a loving admirer and an untiring supporter. Before his call to Auburn seminary and while he was pastor of a large and influential Presbyterian church he met the exacting demands of the office of president of the Pennsylvania state union, filling the position with marked distinction. He is much in demand as a convention speaker and never fails to interest and instruct an audience. He recently formed the Christian Endeavor Correspondence School For Training Christian Workers.

Good Afternoon

Over nine inches of rain fell in New York in thirty hours Thursday and Friday. Did you ever hear of such a rainfall?

Ex-Councilman Arthur W. Newcomb, the candidate for Mayor, is one of the most prominent workers at Quincy Point for law and order. Not an undesirable qualification for public office.

Quincy Point is fortunate at this time to have at the head of the Washington school a principal who is deeply interested in Ward Two and its pupils. Mr. T. B. Pollard has been principal of the Washington school since February, 1887, over sixteen years, and with the school children of the ward deserves just such a building as the city has constructed. The old Washington school was built in 1858, and enlarged in 1874, and has outgrown its usefulness. Mr. Pollard has been very successful in raising a fund and otherwise securing by gift valuable works of art which will beautify the new building and be an inspiration to the pupils.

Some years ago Quincy had express trains to and from Boston, but for a few years we have not had a single express on week days either way. One inward train has made two stops, most of them three and a few all the stops. The new express trains to be added Oct. 18 will therefore be a decided advance. They will reduce the running time to sixteen minutes, and at the same time allow South Shore people to come to Quincy without change of cars. As the 7.12 P. M. to Boston is sometimes late, theatre goers often arrive late. The new express at 6.59 P. M. will therefore be appreciated. West Quincy which has not had a Sunday evening train to Boston after 7.16, or leaving Boston later than 6.46, will be elated with the new Sunday evening train to Boston at 9.16, and the new outward train leaving Boston at 10.15. Quincy also has a new Sunday evening train each way. The West Quincy Improvement Society and Mayor Bryant are to be complimented for their part in bringing about the new service.

Gale at Houghs Neck.

Reports from Houghs Neck are that there was a heavy rain and wind storm off the beach last night but no damage was done to the yachts at anchor in the bay. The janitor is still on duty at the Quincy Yacht club house, which is being kept open for smelters, and the protection of yachts.

Fallon Vs. Shea.

The first Norfolk Democratic Senatorial convention will be held Monday evening at Wesleyan hall, Boston. There is quite a spirited contest on between William T. Shea and Peter T. Fallon for member of the State Central Committee with chances that Mr. Shea will be reelected.

The lawn in front of Charles H. Johnson, which has been covered with a growth of wild shrubbery, has been regraded, and adds greatly to the appearance of the estate.

The Quincy High Pleased With Stand Against Volkman.

LICHTER TEAM.

But they Allowed Only One Touchdown.

The Score Was Five to Nothing.

Good Plays by Several Quincy High Boys.

The Volkmann school eleven of Boston had no easy time in defeating the sturdy boys from Quincy High school bat Merrymount Park Friday afternoon. Although outclassing their opponents in weight nearly 15 pounds to a man, the Volkmann team succeeded in crossing the goal line but once, and from the touch-down a try at goal failed, making the final score 5 to 0.

When the two teams lined up for preliminary practice, the chances of Quincy High to prevent a large score by their opponents looked rather dubious, but when once the game commenced, the home team quickly proved that it was nearly its opponents equal, making up for light weight by snappy playing.

Last year Quincy High scored six points to Volkmann's seventeen, but those who saw both games are almost unanimous in declaring that this year's High school eleven is superior to last year's team.

Owing to the injuries of Fenno, Desmond played at right half back, and considering the fact that it was his first day in the game, he acquitted himself very creditably. He made at least one long end run and besides, he played well when his team was on the defense.

Bennett at right tackle was easily one of the stars of the Quincy team. Several times he broke through the Volkmann line and tackled his man for a loss.

Capt. Sanders played his customary strong game at quarter back, although he was suffering from a strained arm as a result of last Tuesday's game. Percival and R. Sanders each made some long gains through Volkmann's heavy line and just outside of tackle.

At the beginning of the first half, Quincy kicked off, and after a few plays held Volkmann for downs. Quincy tried several plays but was unable to gain and the ball went to the visitors.

A long end run by Clark and several short rushes carried the ball well down into Quincy's territory, when Volkmann was given five yards for holding in the line. They decided not not to accept the penalty, however, having made at least ten yards on the play when the foul occurred. After several more short rushes, Cutter carried the ball over for a touch-down. Time was called soon after the next kick off.

Volkmann kicked off at the beginning of the second half and Bennett made at least 20 yards before he was downed. Steady gains by Quincy carried the ball to Volkmann's ten-yard line. Here Quincy made all but four inches on the fourth down, and the ball went to Volkmann. Volkmann worked the ball up the field to Quincys 25-yard line, where time for the second half was called.

The line-up:

VOLKMANN.	QUINCY HIGH.
Howes, r.e.	l.e., Prario
Wood, r.t.	l.t., Lewis
Davenport, r.g.	l.g., Mathaurs
Eaton, c.	c., Morrison
Mabbett, l g.,	r. g., Cassidy
Maloon, l t.	r.t., Bennett
Bebe, l.t.

Briggs, r.h.b.	l.h.b., Percival
Hull, r.h.b.
Clark, l.h.b.	r.h.b., Desmond
Cutter, f b.	f.b., R. Sanders

Score: Volkmann, 5; Quincy High, 0. Touchdown made by Cutter. Umpire and referee, Hapgood. Referee and umpire, Thompson. Timekeepers, Campbell and Whitney. Linesmen, Pinkham and Dewey. Time of halves, 15 and 12 minutes.

Foot Ball Notes.

Manager Howlett of the High School foot ball team has arranged a game with the Weymouth High school eleven to be played at Merrymount park Friday, Oct. 30.

Fenno, right half back of the High school eleven, who received a muscle bruise in the game against Adams Academy last Tuesday, is rapidly recovering, and will be in the game next week.

A second game between the High school and Adams Academy elevens which was to have been played Oct. 27, has been cancelled owing to the disbanding of the latter team.

It is quite probable that there will be several changes in the line-up of the High School team before the game with Roxbury High school at Merrymount park next Tuesday.

The game beween the High School eleven and the Everett High school team which was to have occurred at Everett next Friday has been cancelled at the request of the Everett management.

W. G. Shaw's New Store.

Next week will be opening week at the new furniture emporium of W. G. Shaw in the new Hancock building at the junction of Hancock and Washington streets. The large new store makes an attractive appearance in City Square and Mr. Shaw has added to his old stock an unusually fine assortment of house furnishings—including furniture, carpets, stores, draperies, lamps, etc. The building has a 40-foot front and extends back 258 feet, being 60 wide at the rear, giving Mr. Shaw 25,000 square feet of floor space. He offers several inducements for opening week, Oct. 12-17.

☞Miss Spear's classes provide instruction in the industrial as well as fine arts. Basketry is already well started and Mr. Nowland will soon open the sloyd classes on Saturday mornings. As before only the pupils in the Home Science summer classes receive instruction at ten cents per lesson. Others interested, please read advertisement.

The Old Colony Association of Universalists will meet at New Bedford Universalist church next Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 11 A. M. Several of the most prominent speakers of the denomnation will be present.

The General Convention of the Universalist Denomination will meet Oct. 21 to 28 at Washington, D. C.

Does Quincy Want Caucus Reform?

THE LUCE LAW.

Calls for Enrollment of the Voters.

And Joint Caucuses of All Parties.

City to Provide Ballots, Polling Places and Officers.

The voters of Quincy will be called upon to cast their ballots at the coming state election on the referendum, the Luce election law coming before the people at that time.

There has been a diversity of opinion as to whether the law if accepted by the city would go into effect at the coming municipal election in December, but that would be impossible, as the Republican caucus will be held the day following the State election, before the result of the balloting is officially announced.

The law provides that it shall be put into operation as soon as practicable after its adoption, and the city clerk can determine that its practicability ensues the following year after its adoption. Many of the city clerks are of this opinion. Some have written regarding the matter to Secretary of State Olin, but the latter declines to give an opinion.

Some of the important sections of the Luce act read as follows:

Section 2.—All caucuses of political and municipal parties in cities and in towns using official ballots, which towns at an annual meeting vote that primaries shall be held therein, except caucuses to elect delegates to conventions held for the election of delegates to national conventions, and for the choice of ward committees after the change of ward lines, shall be held at the same time and place as primaries, and shall be conducted in general accordance with the provisions of law concerning the conduct of elections and the manner of voting thereat, except as otherwise provided herein.

Section 5. — Nominations shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 107 to 116, inclusive of the election law, except that in the case of an election district not wholly within one ward or town the signers of nomination papers for that district may reside anywhere within the district.

Section 6.—Ballots for each political and municipal party, ballot boxes, voting lists, speciman ballots, blank forms, shall be provided and treated in accordance with the provisions of sections 117 to 120, inclusive, of the election law, except that the number of ballots shall be determined by the election commissioners in Boston, by the city clerk in any other city, and by the town clerks in towns, and shall not for any ward or town exceed one ballot of each party for each voter therein; and the ballots for each party shall be printed on paper of a different color from that on which the ballots for any other party are printed.

Section 7—The provisions of the election law relating to election officers, voting places for elections, election apparatus and blanks, calling and conduct of elections, manner of voting at elections, corrupt practices and penalties, shall apply to primaries, except as otherwise provided herein.

Section 10—The polls at every primary shall be open during such hours, not less than nine in cities and four in towns, as may be designated by the board of election commissioners in Boston, the aldermen of other cities, and the selectmen of towns.

Section 11.—When in a primary the voter seeks to pass the guard rail, he shall be asked by one of the ballot clerks which party ballot he desires, and the ballot clerk upon reply, shall distinctly announce the same and give him such party ballot. The voter's selection shall be checked upon the voting list used by the ballot clerks, and said list shall be returned to the election commissioners in Boston, or to the town clerk in towns, for preservation during the succeeding calendar year, A copy of the party entries on such list shall be used at subsequent primaries for determining with what party the voter has been enrolled.

No voter enrolled under the provision of this act shall be allowed to receive the ballot of any political party except that with which he is so enrolled, but he may change his enrollment by appearing in person before the election commissioners in Boston, the city clerk in cities or the town clerk in towns, and requesting in writing to have his enrollment changed to another party; but such changes shall not take effect until the expiration of 90 days after the voter so appears; but the political party enrollment of a voter shall not preclude him from receiving at a primary the ballot of any municipal party, though in no one primary shall he receive more than one party ballot.

Any voter who denies the accuracy of his enrollment as found upon the voting list, may deposit his ballot with the endorsement required by section 235 of the election law; but said ballot shall not be counted on a recount if it appears that the party enrollment of such voter was correct.

Section 12.—In the counting of votes when the ballots are removed from the ballot box, they shall first be sorted into piles, one for each party, and each pile shall be counted and sealed only for nomination of the party on whose ballot they appear.

The act shall take effect in Quincy if adopted by a majority vote at the State election on Nov. 3.

Law and Order.

The sixth service under the auspices of the Law and Order Committee of the Washington street church, at Quincy Point, will be held Suuday evening at 7.30. The speaker will be Dr. Emrich of the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society, whose subject will be "Congregationalism." There will be special music and other features, and everybody is invited and urged to attend.

The officers for 1903-4 of the Quincy branch of the National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women are: Mrs. George G. Saville, president; Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. Frank S. Davis, vice presidents; Mrs. John W. Sanborn, secretary; Miss Dora A. French, treasurer, and Mrs. Emery L. Crane, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Arthur H. Doble, Mrs. John O. Holden, Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. C. F. Pettengill, Mrs. A. E. Sproul, Mrs. Frederick H. Smith and Miss Flora Underwood, directors. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Monday afternoons of each month at three o'clock in the ladies' parlor of First church.

The Winchester Profession of Belief which is the creed of the Universalist church was adopted at Winchester, N. H., Sept. 22, 1903. This year on Oct. 1 a large number of Universalists from all over the country met in the historic church at Winchester and listened to inspiring addresses by James M. Pullmen, D. D., John Coleman Adams, D. D., and Rev. Dr. Cantwell. Next Sunday there will be an account of this at the local Universalist church.

It is up to the Old Colony Street Railway Company to double track each year a portion of their main line, Brockton to Boston. Now is the time to get a double track from Capens bridge in Braintree to the Adams houses in Quincy. We believe the same can be had by asking for the right.

Last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Elisha Thayer, Mrs. C. H. Sprague, and Mrs. F. Eugene Dyer attended a meeting of the State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution at the Vendome, Boston.

Mrs. Lilian T. Crane, of Oshkosh Wis., the genealogist, called on F. A. Bates, of Union street this week. She is a descent of the Bass, Blanchard, Webb, Bates and other Braintree families, and is an enthusiastic worker along these lines.

Mrs. Frank A. Bates of Union street was called to Dover, N. H., on Monday by the sudden death of her father, Mr. James W. Foss.

Rev. Mr. Alexander of Roslindale preached in the South Congregational chapel, Sunday evening taking for his subject "The Cross"

Mrs. Brightman and son returned to New Bedford Tuesday after a visit of several days with Mrs. Clarence M. Allen of Crescent avenue, and Mrs. Willie J. Loring of Pearl street.

The field class in zoology went to Stony Brook Reservation last Saturday, three from this place attending. Protective and aggressive devices of fresh water insects was the subject of the lesson, which was made very interesting by the study of living animals in their natural environment.

Mr. William Brooks of East Braintree has the contract to paint the town house. He will be assisted by Charles A. Hobart.

The King's Daughters met with Mrs. F. Eugene Dyer, Thursday afternoon to make arrangements for a sale to be held in late October.

Mr. and Mrs Joseph Kyte of Pond street leave to-day, Saturday, for a new field of labor in Abington, Connecticut.

Master Carlton Beals will be at home Saturday to celebrate his fourteenth birthday.

The Braintree Fife and Drum Corps held their first invitation party of the season in the Town hall last evening. Cuff's orchestra furnished the music and the attendance was large considering the weather.

At the regular meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. H., No. 13, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. For president, Mrs. Buchanan; vice president, Mrs. Edward Shea; rec. sec., Miss Josephine B. Colbert; fin. sec., Miss Annie Gannon; Treas., Mrs. J. T. Hennesey; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Condon; sentinel, Miss Mary Reagan. The division meets the first Wednesday of each month in Odd Fellows' hall at 8 P. M.

The firemen were proud indeed, when escorting the new hook and ladder from the station to the engine house, on Tuesday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of All Souls' church will meet next Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 14th, at 2.30 with Mrs. Porter, Elm street.

Rev. F. R. Griffin has been appointed by the trustees of the Thayer will, a trustee for life of the Thayer Public library to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Asa French.

The Jonas Perkins School association enjoyed a delightful afternoon at Fort Point Saturday as guests at the Loring cottage. About twent-five responded to the invitation and partook of a clam chowder supper which had been prepared. A couple of hours of social enjoyment followed and the company tendered their thanks of appreciation to the host and hostesses for the pleasant afternoon and evening.

Link Bros., captured eight prizes for pigs which were on exhibition at Brockton fair.

THE MAN FROM THE EAST

By HOWARD FIELDING

Copyright, 1903, by Charles W. Hooke

THE Rev. William Brown laid down his pen and brushed the thoughts out of his brain with a dash of his hand across his forehead as he looked up at the servant standing before him.

"Who are they?" he asked.

"The young lady is Miss Henderson," replied the maid. "The man is a stranger."

"Miss Henderson," repeated the clergyman. "The florist?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you don't know the man?"

"No, sir, though it seems to me that I've seen him."

"Ask them to come in," said the clergyman.

He hastily set in order the papers with which his desk was strewn, thinking pleasantly meanwhile of Mabel Henderson, a plucky girl who upon her father's death had taken his business in hand and had made a living out of it for herself and her young sister.

As Miss Henderson entered his study the minister stepped forward with extended hand and for a second's space was occupied with greeting her before he turned his glance to her companion. He saw a robust man of thirty years, with strong, clear cut face and bright blue eyes, the more vivid because of his sun browned skin.

Mr. Brown saw all this in a flash; he was a rapid, sharp observer of his fellows. Then, to his great surprise, while Miss Henderson was uttering the first words of introduction, he saw her friend grow pale and stagger back, striking the door, which closed behind him with a loud sound.

"You!" he cried. "You!"

The minister was nonplused; he could make no guess at the meaning of this scene. While he stood staring the girl stepped back hastily and laid a hand upon the man's arm.

"Morton," she exclaimed, "what is the matter?"

"The chaplain of the prison," he replied, speaking with a desperate composure.

"I do not comprehend," said Brown. And his left hand was pressed against his forehead in a way that was characteristic of him. "Chaplain? Yes, I was once chaplain of a prison many miles from here—almost the whole width of the continent. Were you—did I know you there?"

"You will remember me presently," said the visitor in an even tone.

Brown's pose had been tense. He relaxed it, drawing back his weight from the left foot, which had been thrown forward. He shook his head.

"I have no memory of you," Brown said.

"I was known in the prison as John Stone," said the other.

The image of a pale, narrow shouldered youth prematurely wrinkled upon the forehead and beginning to be bald flashed up into the minister's mind.

"It is not possible," said he.

"I have lived a healthful life since those days," responded Stone, "first as a cattle herder for a friend of mine who did not drive me too hard and later as a fruit grower upon my own ranch on the outskirts of this little city. I have gained forty pounds of weight and have changed likewise"—he touched the thick, wavy hair above his forehead—"but I am the same man for all that."

"Not to my eye," said the Rev. Mr. Brown, with decision; very far from

HE SAW ALL THIS IN A FLASH.

it. I have a good memory for faces, and yet I should never know you; never in the world. But, supposing that you are John Stone," he continued, "you are truly welcome and the more particularly because you have told the truth not only to me, but, as I perceive, to this young lady also."

"Have I told the truth to her?" said Stone, looking down into her eyes, while an expression of great tenderness ennobled his face. "I would put my heart into her hands. She may search it through and through."

"Come, now; that's good," said the clergyman cheerily. "What do you say, Miss Henderson?"

"I say that I love him," replied the girl. "I love and trust him. We came here to ask you to marry us; not right away, but we wanted to talk it over with you."

It seemed to be the man's turn to speak, and Brown waited for his words. Stone stood with bowed head, his eyes upon the floor. Becoming conscious of the silence, he looked up.

"I am glad that you are here," he said. "Of course you will understand that I had no thought of it. Your name is not uncommon."

"Well, I should think it wasn't," responded the minister, with a laugh.

"You, better than any other man, can tell me whether I have the right to do this," said Stone. "I have told her the truth, and still she would come to me and live in the home that I have built. But I cannot give her my name. I am known here as Morton Brook and must continue to be so known."

"Now, let's consider how the matter stands," said Brown briskly. "Your case comes back to me, but not your face, by the way. I really cannot see the most casual resemblance. However, let us proceed. The warden told me all about you. He said that you had struck a man in the heat of a quarrel with your hand and not with a weapon. The man went home and died two hours later from the effects of his own excitement and many years of hard drinking. That's the fact in the matter, as the warden said and as I came to believe after a brief investigation. You may remember that I was there for only a few weeks after you came. As I said, you struck this man. You were blamable, no doubt. You may have owed some reparation under the laws. But to convict you of any form of homicide was monstrous in view of the medical testimony given at the trial, and it never could have been done except that the man in question was a politician of the party then all powerful in that city. I think that the true story told in this community and backed by me could hurt you but little. Why not make a firm stand? Resume your own name; bestow it upon this sweet and exemplary young woman who has honored you with her love. Tell the plain truth"—

Stone raised his hand to check the minister's utterance. His pallor showed beneath the bronze.

"I am a fugitive," said he. "I forgot that you might not know. I escaped from that prison."

"Is he the more to blame for that?" exclaimed the young woman. "You have said yourself that his conviction was unjust, and they condemned him to seven years, to death indeed, for he has told me that he could not have lived so long."

"I have said what I believed," added Stone in a firm voice. "My health was slipping away as water runs through one's fingers. You remember how I looked? So when the chance came—and it was chance—I took it and stepped out to freedom."

"You escaped, then, without violence?" said the clergyman.

"Absolutely."

The minister sat down upon a corner of his desk and beat his hands nervously together, the knuckles of one into the palm of the other.

"I would not send you back," he said. "I cannot see that any good would come of it. But I wish you hadn't told me."

"For whose sake?" asked Miss Henderson quickly.

The clergyman's face flushed.

"For my own, I suppose," said he, "because this secret might embarrass me."

"How?"

"If he should be traced, if I should be asked directly."

"You would tell the truth, of course," said Stone. "We should expect nothing else."

"I dread the way of mortal affairs as experience has shown it to me," said the clergyman. "There is nothing in this world more baffling to the mind, yet nothing more conspicuous to the observation, than the workings of the law whereby this very time, when he would most dearly wish to hide his secret, becomes the time when it is most likely to be revealed."

"You would dissuade her, then?" said Stone.

"I do not say so," was the rejoinder, "and yet"—

"What is the worst that could happen?" said Mabel. "Let us think of that. Suppose the officers who were to take him back were standing in this room waiting for him. Do you think that I would not keep my word to him? Do you think I should not wish to be his wife?"

Stone threw his arm impulsively across her shoulders and crushed her close to him.

"If you are sure of that," said the minister, "I have no more to say. Marry him, and may God bless you both. When do you desire the ceremony?"

"We had planned it for a week from today," responded Stone. "This dear child and a few of her nearest friends will come out to my home, where some simple preparations will be made for the entertainment of the party. We hoped that you might come with them."

"It will give me great pleasure," said Mr. Brown, extending a hand to each.

The extraordinary case of John Stone was often in Mr. Brown's mind during the next few days. He was reminded of it, indeed, every morning by a bouquet of the prettiest posies from the florist's shop. These offerings adorned his desk, and he would often find himself staring at them while a question slowly framed itself in his thoughts. Suppose it should ever rest with him to decide the fate of this man and this woman. What should he do?

The wedding was set for Saturday and upon the day before Mr. Brown was busy with various duties which took him here and there in the city. He returned to his home about noon and was informed that a stranger had called during his absence, had waited a few minutes very impatiently and had said that he would come back again. The descriptions of this visitor from various members of the household revealed him as a somewhat mysterious person, dark, shifty eyed, suspiciously smooth in his manner of address. The maid thought that he must be from the east, but she always expressed that opinion of every one whom she did not like, even when there was strong evidence to the contrary.

Mr. Brown felt a considerable uneasiness, the stronger because certain points in the description of this man seemed to suggest some one whom he had known. After a hasty luncheon he went out to make inquiries, condemning his own folly meanwhile, since there was really no cause for alarm. He came back to his home no wiser than when he had left it, but rather more anxious. In his study he found Mabel Henderson waiting. The blood rushed back upon his heart at the first glimpse of her.

"Some one is here—for him!" she gasped. "Morton was in my store and saw the man pass, a detective from the east."

The clergyman sat down in the chair by his desk, as if something could be done there, as if the familiar papers and books could give him some advice.

"YOU MUST BE SURPRISED TO SEE ME WAY OUT HERE."

"He has been here," he said. "He is coming back. I know him."

The girl was pale as death. She bent toward him. Her glance seemed to burn him with its intensity.

"I thought that I could bear this," she said, "but I can't. I—I would kill this man if it would save Morton."

"You must not speak like that," responded the clergyman. "Have courage, strength. Seek it where it may always be found."

"And you?"

"It is not selfishness in me," he cried as if repelling an accusation. "It would be necessary that we should all unite in this falsehood. The sin would not rest upon my soul alone. Surely you cannot advise"—

Her impatience could not bear this questioning. She leaned upon his desk, panting, ghastly pale, staring into his eyes.

"You know what I want you to say," she whispered.

"I cannot do this!" he cried. "If it be God's will that you should be spared, some other way will open, a right way"—

"Hush!" she breathed, raising a warning hand.

There was a rap upon the door, and the maid opened it.

"He's here again," she said.

Mr. Brown's lips moved, but no sound came out of them. He heard a step in the hall. He seemed to recognize it.

"Sergeant Clifford," he said before the man was fairly in sight, "how do you do?"

The conventional words and tone were ridiculous, and he knew it. He had spoken like an automaton.

"Ah, Mr. Brown," said the visitor, "I'm pleased to be remembered. You must be surprised to see me way out here."

The clergyman was nodding mechanically. He had taken the flowers from the vase upon the desk and was crushing them in his left hand. He had a dreamlike fancy that they were the heart of Mabel Henderson.

"I haven't a minute to stay," said Clifford, "yet I couldn't get away without seeing you. A little matter of business—thought I should need you, but settled it without having to trouble you. We got word that a fellow named Morton Brook living here was really John Stone, who broke jail eight or nine years ago. I was sent to get him."

"Well?"

"I've seen Brook this morning," said Clifford, "and it's all off. He doesn't look any more like John Stone than you do."

"I have seen the man several times," said the clergyman, speaking slowly and with great difficulty, "and I agree with you perfectly."

Two minutes later the man from the east had gone, and a weeping woman, her heart bursting with happiness, knelt at the minister's feet, clasping his hand.

"It was the truth!" she sobbed. "It was the truth! I am so glad!"

"Let us be honest with ourselves," said the Rev. Mr. Brown as he lifted her up. "I took the first lie that the devil served me with, but it was a good one," he added earnestly. "It certainly was a good one."

WHAT IS WEALTH?

Health and Ability to Work Better Than Money and Worry.

Does wealth consist in money, houses, lands, bank stocks, railroad bonds, etc., alone? We think not. The young man starting in life with no money, but with good digestion, good sleep, good health and ability to work in some profitable employment, has what the aged capitalist would be glad to exchange all his millions for.

What compensation is money for sleepless nights and painful days or the misconduct of dissipated children? Which brings the greater happiness, the glitter, show, jealousies and falsity of fashionable life or the heartfelt friendships which prevail so largely in the homes of the industrious poor? In how many of the palaces of our millionaires will you find greater happiness in the parlor than in the kitchen? How many millionaires will tell you that they are happier now than when starting in life without a dollar?

On the top of mountains we find rocks and ice and snow. It is down in the valleys that we find the vineyards. Let no man envy those richer than himself until taking all things into account—age, health, wife, children, friends—he is sure he would be willing to exchange.—George J. Angell in Our Dumb Animals.

The Erudite Prisoner.

"The charge ag'in ye," the police justice said, "is burglary. What have ye got to say?"

"As to that," replied the prisoner, a seedy looking man who appeared to have seen better days, "if by the term of 'burglary' you mean the offense which, according to English law and practice for centuries, has been clearly defined as 'house breaking by night,' the charge is palpably ridiculous. The policeman alleges that he detected me in the act of breaking into a house yesterday afternoon in broad daylight. If, on the other hand, the term is made to cover the same offense when committed by day, which, I believe, is your absurd American understanding of the word, in a legal sense, I shall have to concede the correctness of the charge, your honor, reserving, however, the right to regard with a species of contempt the crude jurisprudence of this country."

"Take 'im back to 'is cell," gasped the police justice, "an' let 'im sober up."—Chicago Tribune.

To Be Healthy Be Practical.

Theoretically, every adult person of any intelligence wishes to be strong and healthy. Practically, a majority of them wish nothing of the sort. They would like to be well enough, but are not willing to pay the price, though it really costs nothing. When a man gets out of health he usually wants to get something to "patch him up" so that he can continue the foolish things which have caused his bad condition; hence the almost universal resort to drug treatment instead of the natural means of restoring and maintaining health and strength. If a man is really desirous of being naturally sound and healthy he will try to study out the means of becoming so. These means are all included in the seven foundation principles of practical hygiene—namely, exercise, rest, air, light, food, drink and bathing.—Cooking Club.

When You Buy Cheese.

When you buy cheese bear in mind that all good cheese will be mellow to the touch, yet firm. The rind will be of an even tint, elastic and free from puffs, and a sample will reveal a firm, close, buttery grain of a nutty flavor. Cheese which feels so hard that you cannot dent it with your finger tips on the rind is either sour, salted too heavily, skimmed or cooked too much. On the other hand, if the rind breaks upon pressure or does not spring back readily when the finger is withdrawn this indicates an oversoft article, caused by the slack cooling of the curd or a want of acid. At best it will have an insipid flavor and will "go off" as it ages.

An Unappreciative Listener.

A well known lawyer whose first name is James has a brother whom he visited lately. His brother has a daughter, aged four years, whose mother had lectured her a few days before for telling "stories." The lawyer, thinking to entertain the little one, took her on his knee and told her two of his best folklore tales. Instead of being charmed, as he expected, "she never smiled, but when he had finished slid from his knee, with a solemn face, and, going to her mother, said: 'Mamma, Uncle Jim will go to the bad place sure. He has just told me two big stories.'"—Kansas City Journal.

Purely Conventional.

"Agatha," said her mother, "I don't like to hear a daughter of mine tell even a conventional lie. You know you can't bear Aunt Becky, and yet when she came the other day you said, 'Auntie, how glad I am to see you!'"

"That wasn't a lie, mamma," answered Agatha. "That was an exclamation."—Chicago Tribune.

Marrying For Money.

"I married for lub de fust time," said Ebenezer Snow, "but dis time I marries for money, an' don't you forget it."

"Your bride elect has money, has she?"

"Yes, suh. Dat girl has no less dan $34.78 in de savin's bank, for she showed me de book."—Detroit Free Press.

Bad Attack of Paralysis.

Gentleman—You can't work on account of paralysis! Nonsense! You look as strong as I do.

Tramp—Well, ye see, boss, it's paralysis of de will dat I'm troubled wit.—Exchange.

There is no place quite as dry as that where a river used to be.

ROMOC

Could Kick a Dog.

You are mad at everything, says the Romoc man to the over-worked, nerve-broken-down business man. I have seen people just like you before; almost willing to break up your home on account of those irritating nerves of yours. Now, take my advice and get over this nervousness. There is no need of it. Just take Romoc and it will not be very many days before you will find that your nerves are quieter and stronger. Your digestion will immediately improve and your appetite increase. Little things will cease to irritate you. Romoc, you know, is Nature's own remedy. It tones up the entire system and is just one hundred per cent better for you than drugs that break down, rather than build up, or remedies which contain alcohol. Such medicines may lift you up for a while, but they drop you back to earth with a sickening thud.

All I ask you to do is to give Romoc a fair trial, and you will realize that your best friend is Nature, and that Romoc, her remedy, is the greatest medicine in the world.

Won't you please buy a bottle of Romoc on my assurance that it will do you good, and you will become one of the many in this city advocating Romoc.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc men pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by

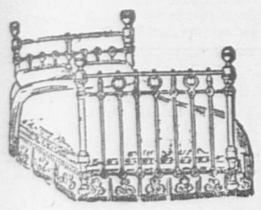
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

Full Sized Iron Beds, $2.98,

Bad Dreams

Too often seemingly trifling complaints of children are put off as things of no consequence. Every unnatural action is a symptom of disorder and deserving of careful investigation. Worms more than anything else are the cause of childhood sickness. Attacking, as they do, the stomach and bowels, the effect of their presence is felt throughout the whole system and made known by nervousness, peevishness, disturbed sleep, erratic appetite, weak stomach and general lassitude.

Dr. True's Elixir

is the surest and safest worm remedy ever compounded—but it is more than that. As a tonic and general corrective it is unexcelled. It tones stomach and bowels, cleanses and enriches the blood and sends renewed health tingling through the veins. For over 50 years the most popular home remedy. Sold at all druggists, 35c. Write for free booklet on "Children and Their Diseases."

Rage For Old Embroideries—Spangles For Evening Wear.

The rage for lace and old embroideries is getting more and more pronounced every day.

Spangles for evening wear are coming into fashion with silver embroideries of all kinds. A wonderful gown for a debutante was made entirely of pale gray tulle spangled all over with silver. There was a wonderful cloak to go with it of gray oriental satin lined with lace and chiffon, with a high collar faced in with mechlin lace and a fichu of the same coming down almost as far as the knees, caught up at either side with old paste clasps.

There is no more acceptable wedding gift than lace, especially if it be real. Even the plainest blouse can very well support little lapets of real lace on the collar and down the front.

Some of the new hats have very high crowns trimmed with sash ribbons caught with quaint buckles, while lace is used to drape the brims. A smart model from Paris recently displayed was of old rose velvet draped with a bit of alencon lace, with a twist of shaded satin ribbon around the crown caught with a quaint buckle.

The cut shows a gown of white wool goods trimmed with scarlet and cream embroidered bands. The skirt is kilted.

RITCHIE ON THE STUMP

Talks on Free Trade and Reasons For Resignation

AUDIENCE UNSYMPATHETIC

With His Attack on the Chamberlain Policy and Assertion That United States Would Punish Canada Should It Be Adopted

London Oct. 10.—The mixed reception given by 4000 persons to Mr. Ritchie, until recently chancellor of the exchequer, at Croydon last night, is regarded as an indication that Mr. Chamberlain's scheme is taking hold of the country and is fiercely dividing the Unionist party. Incidentally Mr. Ritchie revealed that he was solely responsible for the abolition of the shilling duty on wheat. He said that Chamberlain proposed to retain the duty and give the colonies preference, but the speaker, believing that it was only the beginning of a larger scheme of protection, threatened to resign if the duty was not forthwith abolished.

Confirming the published accounts of Balfour's concealment of Chamberlain's resignation, Ritchie said the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Lord Hamilton and himself met after both cabinet councils and decided to send in their resignations, without having heard a word to the effect that Chamberlain would resign. That, however, did not affect Ritchie's position because he could not have continued a member of the government after the publication of the correspondence between Chamberlain and Balfour.

Mr. Ritchie strongly attacked the Chamberlain policy and declared that it would raise the cost of everything. He aroused the greatest opposition from his audience and also from the pro-Chamberlain journals this morning by his reference to the United States, in which he said:

"The country must guard against giving the United States any cause for resentment against this country, which would be the case if their neighbors, the Canadians, were allowed to send their wheat into England at two or three shillings a quarter less than America could. America would certainly punish Canada."

This statement was met with cries of "No," "They exclude us now," and shouts of "The McKinley tariff," "Rubbish" and "Nonsense." The general disturbance was such that Mr. Ritchie was unable to continue until the chairman had appealed for order.

Mr. Ritchie said that if any persons expected to hear a denunciation on his part of his late cabinet colleagues, he was happy to disappoint them. He believed Balfour and Chamberlain were actuated by the highest motives. Chamberlain's administration of the colonial office had been the most successful of the present generation.

The speaker, later, precipitated a scene of disorder by declaring that Chamberlain had been inconsistent because he upheld free trade while president of the board of trade and protection while colonial secretary.

Mr. Ritchie said that as chancellor of the exchequer he could not consent to a fiscal revolution and the overturning of the policy of his conservative predecessors on the strength of the arguments of Chamberlain, "whose strong point always was his ability to present any scheme he championed in the most favorable light." He felt convinced that the present preferential proposals were merely an entering wedge "which would ultimately land the country in the same position as Germany, where food taxes had driven the workingmen to socialism."

Mr. Ritchie concluded with a statement that he opposed with all his strength the "new, mysterious policy which was ravaging the country like an epidemic."

The speaker resumed his seat amid a scene of disorder and a vote of thanks was ultimately carried amid great shouts and hooting, with counter-cheers for Joseph Chamberlain.

Sentence None Too Heavy

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Andreas Dippold, a tutor who tied Heinz Koch, 14 years old, to a bed and whipped him to death, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment. While the dead boy's younger brother testified to unnameable tortures inflicted on himself and his brother, the persons in court were aroused to such a pitch of fury that the prisoner was hastily removed, as lynching was feared.

Servian Assassin's Reward

Belgrade, Oct. 10.—Colonel Machin, former minister of public works, who is said to have taken a prominent part in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, has been appointed to the command of the Belgrade and Danube division of the army.

Probable Case of Drowning

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 10.—The police have been asked to investigate the disappearance of Frank L. Curtis of Boston, last seen in a canoe at Martin's Ferry last Saturday. On Monday evening a number of Curtis' belongings were picked up in the river.

Western Miners Threaten Strike

Indianapolis, Oct. 10.—A strike of coal miners in Colorado, New Mexico and Utah will follow a failure to adjust differences within a week, according to a statement issued by President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Manufacturers Are Exercising Caution In Making Contracts

New York, Oct. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade says: There have been no developments of importance in the commercial world. As a rule there is more caution in making contracts, especially among manufacturers. Uneasiness regarding the financial situation recedes as the season advances without producing any monetary pressure in connection with crop moving. The proposed reduction in pig iron output has been endorsed by all leading producers. All other manufacturing news is favorable, except where the raw material markets are unsettled or labor struggles cause trouble. Weather retards the sale of fall and winter clothing at Boston.

Textile manufacturers report no increase in business and jobbing trade is less active than in the busy weeks immediately preceding. Another sharp fall in raw cotton has not stimulated makers of goods, nor are buyers disposed to be any less conservative.

Vigorous activity continues at footwear factories all over the country, the exceptionally brisk trade in this industry provoking no little comment. Deliveries are barely made on time. Jobbers are expected next week in the leading markets, but thus far New England salesmen at the west have only secured sample orders on fall styles.

A Long Way From Peace

Salonica, Oct. 10.—In a fight near Kotchana yesterday 100 Bulgarians were killed. The Turks lost 12 killed and 80 wounded. Another insurgent band retreating into Bulgaria fought a severe action in which it lost 80 killed. A party of Turkish muleteers near Kratiova wiped out a band of 17 Servians who had attacked them. A detachment of Turkish troops arriving on the scene mistook the muleteers for Bulgarians and fired on them. Several were killed on both sides before the mistake was discovered.

Story of Highway Robbery

New Ipswich, N. H., Oct. 10.—Andrew Jyrivoki reported to the police that he was held up while returning to his home here from Fitchburg, Mass. He says that two men, at the point of revolvers, made him get out of his carriage and surrender whatever of value he had in his pockets. He attempted to use a revolver, but was overpowered, knocked down and severely beaten. The men then drove away with the team, which he found later just outside of the town, where it had been turned loose.

Wreck of the Benjamin Sewall

London, Oct. 10.—A dispatch from Forsomsa says that the American ship Benjamin Sewall and her cargo have been totally lost at the Pescadores. Only 12 of the persons on board the vessel were saved. The Benjamin Sewall hailed from Boston. She was built at Brunswick, Me., in 1874. The Pescadores are a group of 21 islands, besides uninhabited rocks, in Formosa channel. They are notoriously dangerous to navigators.

Helped Stranded Steamer

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 10.—Captain Morgan of the Robert Adamson reports that on Sept. 29 he found the steamer Coya ashore in Strait of Magellan. A hawser was sent from the Adamson to the stranded vessel and on the following day the efforts to tow the Coya afloat were successful. The Coya sustained no damage from the mishap and proceeded on her voyage.

Low Whacks at Tammany

New York, Oct. 10.—There is no change in the aspect of the political campaign. Mayor Low gave out his promised letter of acceptance, in which he lauds Grout's administration as comptroller, but remarks that "Tammany hall permits no man the opportunity for such untrammeled service as Mr. Grout has been heretofore able to give."

Russia Going Out of Rum Business

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Dispatches from St. Petersburg reaffirm the statement that Russia will abandon the spirit monopoly in 1904, because of the increase of drunkenness among the peasantry. The German spirit ring would suffer through the unrestricted production of spirits in Russia, as the surplus would be placed on the German market.

Loafed Four Months For Nothing

Pittsburg, Oct. 10.—The Pattern Makers' league has formally declared the strike off against the Manufacturers' association of Pittsburg. All of the shops in the district have been declared open and the men are working for the wages the manufacturers offered before the strike was declared. The men were out four months.

Landslide Kills Two Men

Newburgh, N. Y., Oct. 10.—While a section gang was cleaning the West Shore railroad tracks near here a mass of earth slid from the mountain and killed two men. Floods and landslides along the Erie have done much damage and traffic is at a standstill.

Afraid of Anarchists

Rome, Oct. 10.—A Russian police official is conferring with the police for the protection of the czar during his visit to King Victor Emmanuel, which is expected to begin Oct. 26. It is expected that a number of suspects in Rome will be arrested.

The congregation of the United Presbyterian church, at its meeting Thursday evening unanimously decided to elect a board of elders on Thursday evening, Oct. 22. At the same meeting $158 was subscribed to meet a deficit. An excellent spirit prevailed.

Miss Floretta Vining has some prize cattle at her farm at Groton, Mass., and last week at the Groton fair she received firat prize on Holstein cows; first on Jerseys; one on calf; first on Durham heifer; first on ducks, besides prizes for vegetables.

Quincy lodge, N. E. O. P., has accepted the invitation of Safety lodge, No. 96, of Weymouth, to visit that lodge on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 13. It is hoped that all who can will be present on that occasion, as a pleasant time is assured.

The first meeting of the Quincy Branch Alliance will be held Monday, October twelfth at 3 P. M. in the chapel of the First Church, City Square. Mrs. Abby A. Peterson of Jamaica Plain will speak on "Alliance Work." Members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Charles Ewell of Hampden circle, Norfolk Downs, who is foreman in the building of a large church at Williamstown, was last week presented with a gold-headed cane, suitably inscribed, he having received 2,700 votes at a fair held in that place, as being the most popular man.

Col. Oliver W. Peabody, Camp No. 74, Sons of Veterans, will hold a public meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 13, at Milton Town Hall. All eligible sons and G. A. R. men cordially invited. Speakers, Comrade A. A. Carleton G. A. R., of State Board of Charity, and Rev. E. H. Brewster of Whitman. Meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock.

The first social of the season at the Wollaston Congregational church was a successful affair. A large number were present and all the tables were filled. Mrs. John Cornish, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Charles F. Bates, Mrs. Bridges and others. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Sallie Litch and Mr. Henry of Quincy Mansion school presented piano selections. Miss Eaton gave several recitations. The young people found enjoyment in games.

The Royal Month and the Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its bunches, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative,—consumption.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The Castle Square theatre attraction for next week will be Clyde Fitch's comedy "Lovers' Lane," which enjoyed the favor of audiences throughout the country only two seasons ago and is now to have its first production, at popular prices in this city. The author has turned his attention to certain peculiarities of New England life in the play and gives some strong pictures showing the contrast between the broader ideas of the city and the narrow conceit of the average village residents. In the first two acts the play is of the farce comedy type, but later on its story takes a sentimental character which adds much to the effect of the closing scenes. The plot turns upon the experiences of a young clergyman, who has given the best of his life to ministering to an unappreciative country parish, but who finally wins the good-will of his flock and the girl he loves for a wife. The usual distribution of boxes of choice chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The most flattering complaint heard for "Quincy Adams Sawyer" the big New England play which enters on its third week at the Boston Theatre next Monday evening, came from an English lady who has been visiting Boston and other places of interests in this country while awaiting the arrival of her husband who is one of the visiting honourables of London. She confided to Boston friends that she was to attend a performance of a musical production in town, and explained that her time was so limited for sight seeing that she could only visit one theatre. Her Boston friend advised her to go and see "Quincy Adams Sawyer," arguing that the play which the visitor had selected was of the sort which she could see in London at any time while "Quincy Adams Sawyer" was a rare product of New England soil. The English lady went to see the rural drama and was to enthusiastic over what she had seen that as soon as the matinee was over she rushed to the nearest telephone, called up the Boston woman who had advised her to go there and said: "I know I am to see you at the hotel this evening but I can't wait to tell you that there are only two great things I have seen in America. One is Niagara Falls and the other "Quincy Adams Sawyer."

Over a thousand people were turned away from the performance last Saturday night, after the orchestra had been put under the stage every seat in the house had been sold and all the standing room filled.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

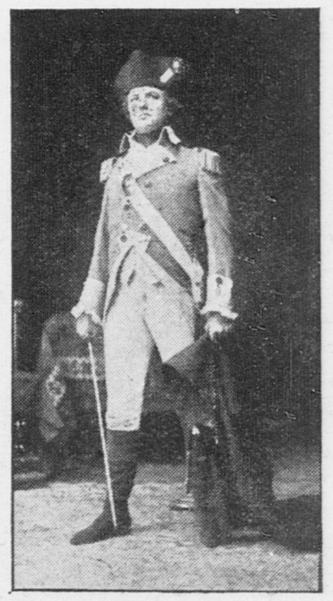
Half of the acts on the Keith program for the week of Oct. 13 will be making their first Boston appearance, and everyone of them are in the class. Two of the stellar turns are bookings made by young Mr. Keith during his recent European tour, and each have scored hits with theatregoers of New York and Philadelphia during the past month. The Amoors-Wermer troup of pantomimists and comedy jugglers are claimed to be exceptionally clever, and the living pictures by Mlle. Nivana and her trained horse, Loki, are said to be simply wonderful. Some of the other entertainers on the bill are George Thatcher, blackface humorist; Quigley Brothers, monologue comedians; Mon. Semecal skilful foot juggler; Musical Bentley, a talanted xylophone soloist; Smith and Bowman, "real coon" singers and dancers, and famous Willis family, instrumentalists. There will be the customary changes of motion pictures in the bioscope.

COLUMBIA THEATRE.

It is doubtful if there is on record a more remarkable instance of the complete establishment in popular favo a of a playhouse in the brief space of one week, than has been demonstrated by the wonderful success of the Columbia Theatre, Boston, under the management of Sam S. and Lee Shubert. The current attraction is Francis Wilson, and Nixon & Zimmerman's company of star players in a sumptuous revival of 'Erminie." Among the players of special prominence are Marguerita Sylva, Jessie Bartlett Davis, Madge Lessing, Jennie weathersby, Francis Wilson, William Broderick, Albert Parr, and Signor Perugini. The eight "Gainsborough' girls, an ensemble of 100 and an orchestra of 24 complete what is unquestionably the most notable and expensive comic opera company ever organized. The only matinees are those of Saturday.

The engagement of this company will terminate at the Columbia on Saturday, October 17, and on Monday, the 19th, "The Runaways."

GLOBE THEATRE.



CHARLES RICHMAN.

The friends of Mr. Chas. Richman, who are legion, are waiting with pleasurable anticipation his stellar debut in Boston, which will be made at the Globe theatre on Monday night, Oct. 12th, in Mr. Victor Mape's new American play "Captain Barrington." Mr. Richman needs no introduction to Boston playgoers. He has scored several triumphs in this city, but it is confidentially expected that he will eclipse his former successes in this new production. In "Captain Barrington" he will play a dual role, two strongly contrasted parts, one a serious, staid young continental officer, the other, a gay and rollicking Captain of the British army.

Funeral of Elias A. Perkins.

The Banks and Insurance Companies Also Represented.

The funeral of Mr. Elias A. Perkins was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence at 160 Elm street. The services were conducted by Rev. Ellery Channing Butler of the First church.

Music was furnished by the Apollo male quartette, who sang "Eternal Goodness," "Looking this way," and "It won't be long.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes, including set pieces from the Savings Bank and Dorchester Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of which deceased was a director.

Many of Mr. Perkins business friends were present, as well representatives of the past and present city governments. Among those present were ex-Mayor Charles H. Porter, ex-Mayor John O. Hall, under whose administrations Mr. Perkins served as an assessor; Christopher A. Spear with whom he served on the board of selectmen under the town form of government, ex-Senator Eugene H. Sprague, and Assessor William G. Glover, and representatives from the board of investment of the Quincy Savings Bank, the board of directors of the Quincy Cooperative Bank, and the Dorchester Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

The bearers were: Rupert S. Claffin and John Q. A. Field of the Quincy Savings Bank, Richard D. Chase of the Cooperative bank, Christopher A. Spear of the old Board of Selectmen, Thomas F. Temple and W. D. C. Curtis of the Dorchester Fire Insurance Co. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

Congregationalism.

Those who braved the storm Sunday evening and attended the Quincy Point church, enjoyed an interesting service under the auspices of the Law and Order Committee. Dr. F. E. Emrich of Boston, the speaker, admitted that there was good in all denominations, but spoke particularly with reference to the good in "Congregationalism," and referred to the work of Jonathan Edwards. Miss Angeline M. Gutterson was organist, and vocal solos were contributed by Mr. George B. McGowan. Master Daniel A. MacQueen, a Washington school boy, told of the "Landing of the Pilgrims," and Mr. Fred E. Barlow gave two violin solos.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A son was born to Princess Elizabeth, wife of Prince Albert of Belgium, in whose favor his father, the Count of Flanders, some months ago was reported to have abdicated his claim to the Belgian throne.

Pope Pius X will not appoint a secretary of state until after the coming consistory is held. It is predicted that Mgr. Merry del Val, who is now performing the duties of that office, will receive a permanent appointment.

Henry De Forge, aged 80, while attempting to steal a ride on a railroad train at Providence, fell under the wheels and was instantly killed.

The new Catholic church, erected at Richford, Vt., at a cost of $30,000, was dedicated by Rt. Rev. J. S. Kicbaud, D. D., bishop of Burlington.

Edward Grady, 43 years old, was found drowned in a pond at Norton, Mass. There is no reason to suspect suicide.

While trying to save his hat, which was blown into Narragansett bay off Providence, Michael Dwyer, 37, was drowned.

Rev. Dudley P. Leavitt, one of the most widely known clergymen of the Methodist Episcopal church in New England, died at his home at Melrose, Mass., of old age. He was a native of Tilton, N. H., and entered the ministry in 1850.

Mrs. Dwight L. Moody, widow of the famous evangelist, died at her home at East Northfield, Mass. Mrs. Moody was born in England 60 years ago. She married Mr. Moody 40 years ago, and they had three children, all of whom survive.

The body of John J. O'Neil, aged 65, was found on the beach at South Portland, Me. It is supposed he fell from a trestle bridge.

William M. Packard has been nominated as the candidate of the Socialists senator in this district.

Political Scripture.

The politician is my shepherd,
I shall not want for anything;
During the campaign,—
He filleth my pockets with cigars,
And my glass runneth over;
He enquireth concerning
The health of my family,
Even unto the fourth generation.
Yea, though I walk through mud
And mud to vote for him,
And shout myself hoarse
When he is elected,
He straightway forgeteth me.
Yea, though I meet him
In his own office,
He knoweth me not.
Surely the wool hath been Pulled over my eyes
All the days of my life.

MORAL—"What a fool I am!"

Petitioners to Meet.

The feelings of the Atlantic people are still seething at the pigeon-holing of their petition to the City Council respecting the purchase of the Blackwell lot for the Atlantic schoolhouse. A meeting of the signers of the petition is projected for Wednesday evening to take such measures as they think advisable in relation to the affair.

Sunday School Workers.

The annual convention of the Massachusetts State Sunday School Association is to be held in Brockton, Oct. 20-22, with Plymouth day on Friday, the 23d. Each of the 1900 Sunday schools in Massachusetts is entitled to three delegates besides pastor and superintendent. A unique feature on the morning of the 22d will be a visit to the largest shoe factory in the world.

The celebrated Shamokin, egg and stove sizes, is recommended by J. F. Sheppard & Sons.

MANY YACHTS ADRIFT.

Considerable Damage to Wires but on the Whole Quincy was Fortunate.

The storm did considerable damage along the shore at Houghs Neck. A number of the yachts riding at anchor were blown from their moorings and came ashore. Two yachts came ashore at Rock island and another went ashore on Raccoon island.

A small launch owned by Dr. Smith of Quincy broke loose from her moorings and floated up the river. When opposite Rock island she filled and sank. No attempt has as yet been made to raise her.

Several of Harveys boats broke adrift but he went out and got them all. The float in front of Harveys broke loose and floated up the stream, but soon came ashore near Pierce's.

Considering the severeness of the weather the yachting fleet along Quincy escaped luckily.

The storm of Saturday and Sunday did considerable damage to the wires of the Telephone and Electric Light companies. Both companies had a number of wires blown down and grounded. The street railway company had some poles blown down.

There was no serious damage done to the streets. No washouts have been reported, what damage there was being the settling of sewer, water and gas trenches in various parts of the city.

Many trees were damaged and in some places the streets are strewn with broken branches. Large quantities of apples and winter pears were blown from trees.

On the whole, Quincy escaped very luckily.

TODAY'S COURT.

Edward Gleason was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Oct. 19.

Santi Sullivan was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. He was found guilty and the case was placed on file.

David Davis was arraigned for assault on Charles F. Sonia at Quincy. The complainant acknowledged satisfaction and the case was placed on file.

Harry Brown was arraigned for larceny from Robert T. Johnson at Quincy. Case continued until Oct. 19.

Alex. Audrea was arraigned for assault on Officer Goodhue at Quincy. Case continued until Tuesday morning.

The continued cases of Charles White and Louis Rinn for assault at Milton were placed on file.

—The Republican candidates for Representatives in the Weymouth-Braintree district are George L. Barnes and Gustavus M. Pratt, both of Weymouth. The Socialists have nominated Edward W. Gerry of Braintree.

BRIDGE ACCEPTED.

Commission Will Soon be Appointed to Apportion Cost.

The new bridge at Quincy Point, which was completed some months ago, has at last been accepted by the County Commissioners. The delay in accepting the bridge from the Fore River Co., the original contractors, has been owing to a dispute between a sub contractor and the Fore River Co.

The County Commissioners would not accept the bridge until the dispute was settled. While settlement has been pending the expense of maintaining the bridge, opening the draw, etc., has been borne by the Fore River Co.

The questions in dispute between the two contractors having been settled the County Commissioner at a meeting last week accepted the bridge.

The bridge will now be turned over to the trustees composed of the Mayor of Quincy and the chairmen of the boards of Selectmen of Weymouth and Hingham.

The County Commissioners will also refer the matter to the Superior Court who will appoint a commission to apportion the cost upon the places directly benefited.

Fall River was far more ably represented at the golf links in the west than it will be in a legislature in the east.—Fall River Herald.

Despite the fact that the state federation of labor elected a Socialist as its representative to the national federation, it is to be noted that the attempt of the Socialists to secure a discussion of political questions to the convention, with a view to the introduction of a resolution endorsing Socialism, was determinedly rejected by the committee on resolutions and the action of the committee was upheld by the entire convention. Massachusetts trade unionists are not quite ready to submerge themselves.—Haverhill Gazette.

Home from Abroad.

Judge E. C. Bumpus of Quincy returned from abroad on the new Dominion line steamship Columbus, which arrived in Boston on her maiden voyage Saturday. This steamship with others of the Boston fleet of the Dominion line will be included in the White Star line fleet running between Boston and Mediterranean ports the coming winter. She will be renamed "Republic" and will sail in connection with the Commonwealth (to be the "Canopic") and the New England (to be the "Romanic") giving a fortnightly service.

Teach your boy self-reliance. Don't encourage him in the idea that he is ruined if he cuts his finger, or let him become demoralized at the sight of blood, or the twinge of pain. Let him understand that he is going to encounter hard knocks, and he must hit hard in return. Boys who have guns and go hunting with their fellows or go swimming with other boys, are not oftener shot or drowned then those about whom the greatest safe-guards are thrown, while the latter are apt to lack self-reliance when they come to be men, and no longer have the protecting arms of doting parents guarding them against every menace of danger. Get nto your boy's head the fact that he is going to be a man and the sooner he starts the more certain will be the achievements.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

To Partake of Poisonous Grub

Washington, Oct. 12.—The food tests, conducted under the direction of Professor Wiley of the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department, were resumed this morning, when 12 young government clerks who have pledged themselves to partake of a poison diet for nine months in the interest of science went to breakfast in the laboratory dining room. Salicylic acid probably will be the first preservative used in the experiments.

Raid on New York Sports

New York, Oct. 12.—The police raided Clarendon hall yesterday and arrested 65 men who are charged with an attempt to pull off a prize fight. The police confiscated boxing gloves and ring paraphernalia. Forty-two of the prisoners gave the name of Smith and the others the names of Brown and Jones, but it is said that among those arrested were several pugilists with national reputations.

Trollyemen Cause Disaster

McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 12.—Sixteen people were injured in the runaway of an electric car at McKeesport last night. The accident was caused by Motorman Tarr leaving the front platform. Conductor Householder did not know of his absence and released the rear brake. The car started down a hill, crashed into a curb and was completely demolished.

Buffalo, Oct. 12.—The Honourable Artillery company of London and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston arrived at Niagara Falls 2½ hours behind scheduled time. BOSTON CHINESE RAID

Nearly Three Hundred Celestials Taken Into Custody

EXCITEMENT HEIGHTENED

By Upsetting of Barge Load of Chinamen and Guards on Way to Detention Station—Number of Those In Custody Likely to Be Sent to Orient

Boston, Oct. 12.—The murder of Wong Yak Chung in Chinatown two weeks ago, the result, it is alleged, of a highbinders' plot, was followed last night by a general raid on the section under the direction of the Immigration commissioners. Every resort in the section was visited by the officers and as a result nearly 300 Celestials who were unable to produce certificates of registration were taken to the detention room at the Federal building. All those who are unable to prove their right to be in the country will be deported to China.

The only accident which resulted during the raid was when an overloaded barge, which was being used to transport the prisoners to the Federal building, was overturned, and the occupants and officers were thrown into a tangled, struggling mass on the street. Two policemen and a number of the Chinamen were badly bruised, but it is not believed any of them were fatally hurt.

The raid was one of the most thorough ever made in this city, and with the single exception of California it is said nothing of the kind was ever done in this country. At the house appointed for the movement the entire district was surrounded by policemen and officers from the office of the commissioner of immigration, and every resort was visited.

When the murder of Wong Yak Chung was followed by talk of a highbinders' plot and the air was filled with rumors of more bloodshed, the immigration authorities decided to make a determined effort to clean up the Chinese section for good. In selecting Sunday night they had a double purpose. In the first place, scores of Chinamen who through the week are scattered through the different suburbs and in various sections of the city, congregate in Chinatown, and therefore a larger number could be reached than on any other day. Again, the rumors of plots to kill nearly all named yesterday, when the funeral of the murdered Wong Yak Chung was held, as the time they were to be carried into execution. During the day large details of extra and special officers had been scattered through Chinatown and along the streets through which the funeral passed to prevent any possible trouble, and as a result the line was drawn around Chinatown last night without attracting any particular attention.

The first note of warning went out about 7 o'clock and a general rush to escape was made. The fleeing Chinamen, however, found every means of exit from the district blocked and they were gathered up by the score and taken to the central place which had been selected as a temporary place of detention.

Five patrol wagons had been detailed by the police department to remove the prisoners to the Federal building, but it developed early in the evening that they would be unable to handle even half of the Chinamen. Milk wagons, a barge and finally an electric car were pressed into service. The barge, an antiquated affair, with seats running along the sides and which normally would seat 20 or 25 persons, was backed up to the door and more than half a hundred frightened Chinamen were bundled inside. The two horses were unable to start the heavy load and 15 of the prisoners were transferred to patrol wagons, after which a start was successfully made.

The barge had moved hardly more than a dozen feet when it turned over with a crash and the occupants, driver and guards were mixed up in a confused mass on the street. The prisoners, momentarily freed from restraint, made a frantic dash for liberty and for five minutes the street was the scene of wild disorder. In the end nearly all the Chinamen were hustled back to the detention hall to be removed by the patrol wagons and other vehicles.

The funeral of Wong Yak Chung was carried out without any untoward incident. To prevent any possible trouble more than half the full strength of the police force was distributed through Chinatown and along the route of the procession, but not in a single instance were they called upon. In Chinatown the elaborate Chinese funeral ceremony was performed and then the hearse bearing the body moved slowly through the city streets to Mount Hope cemetery, followed by a score of carriages.

Y. M. C. A. Evening Schools.

Reports of the reopening of evening educational classes in the Young Men's Christian Associations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island are being received by the State Executive Committee and indicate by far the largest work of this kind yet undertaken by these associations. Six associations begin evening classes for the first time, and the scope of what was done in 28 associations last year is almost without exception, much enlarged and the character of their work strengthened.

Two thousand five hundred and ninety-two men and boys of these two states were in such study last year but the figures already received add several hundred to this number. By the close of this month all the classes will be well under way and it is expected that the total enrollment will exceed 5000, in what is really employed men's university.

The variety of educational opportunities the Y. M. C. A. gives young men is shown by such facts as these: The Boston & Maine Railroad Association conducts courses in railroading adapted to every class in the service from telegraph operator to brakeman; at Lynn and Pittsfield men receive thorough instruction in electrical engineering; Holyoke has a three-year mechanical engineering course; North Adams, a textile school.

The Boston Y. M. C. A. has a four-year course in law, of such high standing that thirty-eight of its forty graduates have been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar; and 29 other Associations are helping young men in a practical way, through 120 different courses of study to help themselves.

THE GLAD HAND.

Extended to Stephen Williams on His Return from Abroad.

Browned and in good health after a sojourn of ten weeks in his native England, Stephen Williams of 58 Rodman street returned to his home last Saturday just as the noon dinner bells were calling the workmen to their well-earned meal.

Mr. Williams was not only glad to be back at his Quincy home, but a rather rough passage across the Atlantic on the good ship Columbus had sickened him, and made him feel as if a life on the ocean wave was not up to his ideal.

The sight of Quincy again soon brightened his eye and quickened his saddened feelings, and the comforts and cheer which only a waiting and thoughtful wife can give, soon made him feel himself again.

It was not, however, until seven o'clock in the evening that Mr. Williams found that there are times when a man may be made to feel that the sudden sight of well known faces will dumbfound one almost to the loss of their five senses. At that hour, just as the wearied traveler was about to unlock the big steel bound trunk that had been over the wild waves with him and display to his wondering happy wife the wonderful things he had brought to her from a foreign land, the door bell announced that some one sought entrance.

One! no, nor two, would not have upset Mr. Williams even at that critical moment, but when behind the first was a whole sea of faces, each more radiant, and expressive "of we-have-done-it," than another, fairly blurred his eyesight, for a moment he was not sure whether he was sinking in the green phosphorescent depths of the ocean, or caught up in a galaxy of ethereal beings where all seemed beauty and confusion. After a talking to by those who were nearest to him, he realized what had happened and in his usual jovial manner welcomed all inside. Mrs. Williams was as happy as her consort and did all possible to make the visitors at home.

The chief object of the visit was soon explained, when Mr. Williams was formally welcomed back, and presented with a beautiful 56 keyed concertina, an instrument upon which he is a fine performer.

In reply to the presentation, Mr. Williams humorously referred to the subtile manner in which people have in evading the truth when unwilling to give a secret away. During the afternoon he had paid a visit to a neighbor's house, and judging from the stack of fine ham sandwiches on the table he suggested that some kind of a good time was at hand. Of course the the lady of the house had not been sworn in to tell whole truth, etc., and Mr. Williams suspicions were not any further aroused. He feelingly thanked his friends for the handsome gift and hoped that he would have many occasions to entertain them.

After refreshments, some dancing to music from the new instrument by Mr. Williams was enjoyed. Many songs were also rendered in fine style by Messrs. Bert Williams, Thomas Amily, William Warmington, T. Collins, R. Findlay, C. Martin, John Craik and W. Deacon. Mrs. Williams also gave a fine rendition of "Annie on the Banks o' the Dee."

Annie Grant and Miss Alice gave selections on the piano.

The evening until half-past eleven was most enjoyably spent. The parting song "Auld Lang Syne," was sung by the company in a manner which betokened the spirit of the entire visit.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Deacon, Miss Alice Deacon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warmington, Mr. and Mrs. William Summers, Mr. and Mrs. John Garmorie, Master John Garmorie, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Spargo, Mr. and Mrs. James Opie, Mr. and Mrs. William Warmington, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. THE PATERSON FLOOD

Renders Thousands of Persons Temporarily Homeless

LOSS WILL EXCEED $2,000,000

Three Lives Lost and Rescues Accomplished at Great Peril—Many Buildings Have Collapsed—Loss Outside Paterson Will Equal That In City

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 12.—With the waters of the Passaic river falling at the rate of an inch an hour above the falls and at double that rate below them, apprehension of further great disaster to the city from the flood has almost disappeared, the sole question being whether Spruce street hill, the narrow embankment which holds the waters above the falls, can continue to withstand the strain until the river recedes to its normal proportions.

At the height of the flood this hill, standing between the river basin above the falls and the lower valley, was rapidly caving away into the gorge below the falls, Horace Riley losing his life in one such cave-in, and it was feared that the flood would wash away the dyke and precipitate itself in a huge wall upon that portion of the city lying below. A dyke but little wider than the Spruce street roadway stands between the city and this disaster, but it is holding firm and the police feel reasonably sure of its permanency, though prohibiting access to it for fear that it might be undermined.

Below the falls a large part of the city, situated in the valley on either side of the river, is still inundated, but the waters are receding rapidly, though still several inches above the maximum height of the flood of 1902.

Thousands of persons are temporarily homeless, most of them being received at the houses of friends in the unflooded districts, while 1500 were sheltered last night at the armory, fed and cared for by the organized charity of the city. No assistance has been asked for from outside and the city will look after its destitute. Many persons who had remained in their homes in the flooded district were removed yesterday and food was conveyed to those who remained, the fire department rigging up emergency lines from roof to roof, with cars suspended thereon, for this purpose.

It will be impossible to closely estimate the loss until the flood subsides, but it will exceed $2,000,000. But three bridges and part of a fourth of the seven below the falls remain, and the cost to the county to replace those destroyed will be at least $500,000. The three bridges standing are on substantial concrete. They are completely covered by water.

Only three fatalities have been reported. Seven men who had been imprisoned in Kearns Bros.' dye house on the river margin since Friday without food were rescued by Charles and Leopold Mutter in a small boat. The Mutter brothers also saved Captain William Clark and John Breen of the fire department, who had been unset in an earlier attempt at rescue.

Venturesome boatmen assisted the firemen and police in removing the inmates of the flooded houses, a gun used in shooting life lines to the roofs of burning buildings, which was borowed from Newark, being employed as well.

Many buildings have collapsed and the foundations of many have been weakened by the flood and some of these may fall. The total loss will also be largely augmented by the loss throughout Passaic county, reports of bridges washed away, roads destroyed and property and crops ruined coming from all points. The loss in the county outside of Paterson will equal that inside the city.

On account of the exposure of many of the sufferers to the downpour of cold rain an epidemic of pneumonia is feared.

Passaic is a greater sufferer from the flood than even Paterson. Twenty mills in Passaic alone are under water, and 8000 workers are out of employment. Ten thousand persons have left their homes. Eight hundred houses are flooded to the eaves, and in all 1000 acres are covered with water from a depth of a few inches to 20 feet. Several million feet of lumber have been carried down to Newark bay. In Weasel brook the Erie tracks are suspended in the air, the 20-foot embankment having been washed away. Twenty three-story frame houses have gone floating down the Passaic river, and as far as can be estimated the loss of city property, real estate and buildings is $2,000,000.

Damage Along Virginian Coast

Norfolk, Oct. 12.—The northeast gale that has raged over this region since Thursday has practically spent its power, but for miles and miles along the Virginia coast the beach is littered with wreckage and throughout this entire section of the country devastation lies in the wake of the storm. Thousands of people crowded trains to the coast and saw the wrecks of the big barges Ocean Belle and Georgia near Virginia beach. There is nothing left but an indiscriminate tangle of debris along the shore at Dam Neck to mark the end of the three-masted schooner Nellie W. Howlett. The body of Captain Evans of the Georgia was washed ashore.

While nothing new is reported in the way of wrecks on the coast there is absolutely no method of securing information from points more than six miles south of Virginia beach. The entire coast telegraph system is prostrated and it will be some days before communication can be restored.

Anchored off Virginia beach, with no sign of life aboard, are two large seagoing barges. Both are slowly but surely dragging toward the beach and unless there is a further break in the force of the gale, both may be wrecked before morning. What fate has befallen their crews is yet to be developed.

At Ocean View, the immense pleasure pier is a total wreck and the damage to the clubhouse, cottages and extensive bulkheads will run far into the thousands.

Four-Fifths of Town Under Water

Burlington, N. J., Oct. 12.—This town is suffering from the worst flood in its history, approximately four-fifths of the place being under water, caused by the tremendous flood in the Delaware river. In East Burlington it is estimated that 90 percent of the houses are inundated. Many families are in want for food. The town is entirely cut off from communication except by telegraph and telephone.

Floods In Pennsylvania

Easton, Pa., Oct. 12.—The Delaware river has begun to recede. The Lehigh and the Bushkell are still backed up for miles and everything along their banks is flooded. It is impossible to estimate the loss or even approximate it, but in Easton and towns up and down the Delaware it will take millions of dollars to replace bridges and repair the damage.

Retirement of Admiral Kempff

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Admiral Louis K. Kempff has gone on the retired list of the United States navy. He was in command of the American Asiatic squadron during the Chinese Boxer trouble. He was the only one of the commanders of the fleets of the different nations who stood out against the bombardment of the Chinese forts at Taku and he persistently held aloof until a shot struck the Monocacy. Deeming this an insult to the flag, he considered it necessary to join in the hostilities.

Probably Glad to Get Caught

Salt Lake City, Oct. 12.—Famished with hunger, his limbs torn and bleeding from contact with the underbrush through which he plunged in his mad flight for freedom, Nick Haworth, one of the two convicts who escaped from the state prison near here Friday night, was recaptured in a cabin, 10 miles from the penitentiary. He made no resistance.

Mistaken For a Burglar

Trenton, Oct. 12.—Henry Brown, a retired hotel keeper and a man of considerable means, was mistaken for a burglar and was probably fatally shot by Peter Kotz, into whose house Brown had forced an entrance through a window. Brown's act in breaking into Kotz's house is unexplainable, except on the ground of insanity.

Murdered by a Mob

Starke, Fla., Oct. 12.—Samuel Williams, a young white man, was lynched at Lawtry by a mob of citizens who were searching for Alta Williams, an older brother, who is accused of maltreating two girls. Samuel refused to divulge the whereabouts of his brother and was strung up by the mob.

National Guards Go Home

West Point, Ky., Oct. 12.—After 10 days of vigorous work on the firing line, the National Guardsmen who have been engaged in the combined maneuvers, receiving instruction with regulars in battle formations, have started for home. The regulars will remain until Oct. 16.

The Weather Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, Oct. 13.
Sun rises—5:53; sets—5:07.
Moon rises—10:57 p. m.
High water—4 a. m.; 4:15 p. m.

Sunday's reports indicated a northward movement of the western Atlantic storm and it will probably continue with considerable force on the New England and possibly the New York and New Jersey coasts, where rain will continue.

Baseball Pitcher Doheny Has a Violent Attack of Insanity

Andover, Mass., Oct. 12.—After felling his nurse with a terrific blow over the head with a stove poker, Edward Doheny, the Pittsburg National league baseball pitcher, for more than an hour, armed with the same weapon, held a score of neighbors and several policemen at bay and defied them to lay hands upon him. Finally he was overpowered and after an examination by two physicians was adjudged insane and committed to the asylum at Danvers. The nurse, Oberlin Howarth, is seriously hurt, but it is believed he will recover.

Doheny first showed signs of insanity several weeks ago, when he suddenly deserted the Pittsburg club in an Ohio city while laboring under the delusion that he was being pursued by detectives. After a few weeks' rest at his home here he rejoined the team but did not regain his old form. When he returned home at the end of the season Doheny was a nervous wreck and since that time has been constantly under the care of a physician.

Doheny is one of the most widely known baseball pitchers in the country, having played on major league teams several years. He is 35 years old and has a wife and one small child.

A Democratic Ratification

Boston, Oct. 12.—Faneuil hall was crowded to the doors on the occasion of the ratification of the Democratic state ticket. The speakers were Mayor Collins, Charles S. Hamlin and W. B. Cockran. The Republican platform and its policy of protection furnished the basis for a long discourse by the last-named speaker, who said that protection was responsible for the rapid growth of the trusts, and he accused the Republican party of fostering the growth of these organizations.

Mrs Clary Again on Ticket

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 12.—The Prohibitionists of the First New Hampshire representative district have placed in nomination for the second time Mrs. Fanny J. Clary. Mrs. Clary was nominated last year, being the first woman candidate in Massachusetts for membership in the state legislature, and although she was defeated by the Republican nominee she polled more than 500 votes.

"GREEN SICKNESS"

The unhealthy complexion of green sickness is changed to the rosy blush of good health by Scott's Emulsion.

Green sickness is one of the forms of blood disease found in young women. The change from girlhood to womanhood often upsets the nervous system, weakens digestion and throws the blood-making organs out of gear.

Scott's Emulsion puts new heart into pale girls. It tones up the nervous and digestive system, and feeds the blood. It is a natural tonic.

Remember that 30 per cent. of these cases go on into consumption unless prevented. Scott's Emulsion prevents consumption.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

OVER HALF AN ACRE

W. G. Shaw's New Store Mammoth and Up-to-date.

Although the attractive furniture store of W. G. Shaw, has been open for business, in the new Hancock building, on Washington street, at the junction of Hancock street, for some days, the opening did not take place until this morning.

The location of the store is a most desirable one, and the arrangement of the salesroom is one that will be thoroughly appreciated by his thousands of patrons. The main street floor store is 258 feet long, 40 feet wide at the front and 60 feet wide at the rear.

On either side of the entrance are large show windows, at the top of which are rows of American lucific prism glass which throw light the entire length of the salesroom. This room is finished in hard pine, natural finish, with blue tinted walls.

In the front, north side, of the main sales room there is shown a general line of dining room furniture. such as tables, chairs, sideboards, etc. Back of these are brass and iron beds, chiffoniers, odd bed room pieces, carpets and rugs.

On the south side of the main salesroom are parlor and hanging lamps, jardenieres, china ware, desks, couches and rockers.

In order to display the different styles of chairs to a better advantage, long rows of racks have been erected upon which the chairs rest.

The arrangement for showing the different patterns of carpets is unique, especially that for showing oil cloths and linoleums. Rolls of these are suspended on racks so that when pulled down a large section of the carpet can be seen at one time.

The woolen carpets are in large rolls, arranged around the sides of the room.

At the right of the carpet department is the drapery and rug department. The lace curtains, portieres, etc., are hung upon racks so that they can be seen their full length. The large rugs are also suspended, the frames being made so that they can be turned at any angle and thus get any light desired upon them.

Half way down the main salesroom, on the south side, is the main office, with a small private office for Mr. Shaw adjoining.

Near here is a room 50 x 30 feet with glass windows on all sides. This room is devoted exclusively to stoves and ranges, oil stoves and heaters.

Off this room is a large room for the shipper, 40 x 30 feet. This has a large elevator connecting with the basement and upper floor.

An the end toward the street is a large door, which leads to the driveway between the main building and the building known as Hancock chambers. It is at this door that the delivery wagons will be loaded with goods to be sent away as well as a receiving point for new goods.

Leading from the stove room is a stairway to the floor above. Here in a room 100 by 30 feet is displayed a large line of parlor furniture, pictures, etc.

Off this room is another 50 by 30 feet, devoted to chamber furniture, mantel beds, costumers, etc. Also an overflow sales room, 30 by 60 feet, where there is displayed a large line of baby carriages, refrigerators, office furniture, trunks, etc.

There are also on this floor two large repair rooms and a stock room.

There is a large basement under the main store which will be used for spring beds, bedding, mattresses, etc. This is also amply lighted by the American lucific prism glass, set in the main street entrance.

The entrance to this basement will be by a broad stairway back of the main entrance. There is also another stairway to the basement at the rear of the main room, where is located the apparatus by which the whole building will be heated.

In the main office is a large vault for the firms books and papers.

A convenience which lady patrons will thoroughly appreciate, is a well appointed retiring room on the main floor near the office.

The store is piped for gas, and wired for electric lights, and both of these illuminators will be used at night to make the store as light as day. It is also intended to install a system of telephones connecting every part of the store with the main office.

The business of Guy's Coliseum as it is familiarly known, was established in Quincy by Mr. C. W. Guy, nearly fifteen years ago in the old skating rink near the Quincy depot. In 1898 Mr. Shaw was taken into the firm, and two years later Mr. Shaw bought out Mr. Guy and has since carried on the business. His present force consists of three salesmen, two bookkeepers, a shipper and assistant shipper, an upholsterer and carpet layer, and two teamsters.

The location of the new store is a most desirable one as any one approaching from either direction has their attention attracted to the large show windows and the display made therein.

Mr. Shaw has named the present week for his grand opening, and to make the event a memorial one will distribute among the lady callers one thousand potted foliage plants, and five hundred pretty cups and saucers.

The foliage plants are what is known as Crotons. They are a southern plants and grow very tall like a rubber plant and are very beautiful.

THE BALKAN SITUATION

Indications That Turkey Is Making Efforts to Secure Peace

Sofia, Oct. 12.—Negotiations are proceeding between the Bulgarian and Turkish governments for the repatriation of the 20,000 fugitives from Macedonia now in Bulgarian territory. The porte offers to take all the refugees back under the joint supervision of the Bulgarian and Turkish functionaries, but there are many difficulties in the way, owing to the destruction of their homes and means of subsistence and the doubt whether they will be willing to return.

Regarding the frontier incidents the porte has informed the Bulgarian government that the sultan has ordered a commission to make the strictest investigation and punish the guilty officers.

More Tangled Than Ever

New York, Oct. 12.—Comptroller Grout, in reference to his formal notification of nomination by Tammany hall, announced that he would oppose the election of Mayor Low and give his undivided support to McClellan. The majority of the Kings county Democratic delegation absented themselves from the notification ceremonies and sent a letter of protest, giving adhesion to the nomination of McClellan, and bitterly denouncing the nominations of Grout and Fornes.

Author-Soldier Dead

New York, Oct. 12.—Richard Henry Savage, the author and soldier, died last night as the result of injuries received on Oct. 3, when he was run over by a wagon in this city. He was born at Utica in 1846. He served in the Egyptian army in 1871 and later served through the war with Spain, being senior major of the Second United States volunteer engineers. He personally hoisted the first American flag in Havana.

Detectives Looking For Treasurer

Rochester, Oct. 12.—A shortage of $8000 in the accounts of Jules Stein, treasurer of the National Casket company, it is alleged, has been discovered by expert accountants here. It is feared by officials of the company that the amount may be greater, as the defaulting official had charge of the New Jersey business of the company, and the accounts in that state have yet to be gone over. New York detectives are seeking the treasurer.

No Commission to Vatican

Washington, Oct. 12.—Relative to the report cabled from Rome that an American bearing the family name of President Roosevelt and claiming relationship with him has arrived there, charged by the president with a confidential mission to the Vatican, Assistant Secretary of State Loomis says that no commission of any description has been sent from this government to Rome.

Attempt at Train Wrecking

Danville, Va., Oct. 12.—A bold attempt was made to wreck a passenger train on the Southern railway, about three miles east of this city. The track had been piled with crossties and a fish plate. The train was running at a very slow rate of speed and but for this a disastrous wreck undoubtedly would have occurred. The obstruction was placed at the end of a high trestle.

Stoddard Matter Coming Up

Washington, Oct. 12.—The expectation is that Secretary Hitchcock will this week take up with the president the case of Judge Stoddard, secretary of the territory of Arizona, against whom charges have been preferred. Stoddard has arrived in the city. He says the charges can be easily refuted. The judge was appointed secretary of the territory from New York.

RULE 7. No person shall ride or drive an animal not well broken and under proper control; or ride or drive animal or vehicle faster than ten miles an hour or coast with a cycle or sled down any hill

RULE 8. No person in charge of any animal, other than a dog, shall allow it to go upon the Reservation unless such animal be used for pleasure travel on a way or place provided therefor.

RULE 9. No person shall have or allow a vehicle for carrying merchandise, or a vehicle in use for carrying merchandise or articles other than the equipments proper for a pleasure vehicle, or a hearse, or any vehicle in a funeral procession, except upon a traffic road, or to gain access by the shortest way from the nearest street to the front entrance of a house facing on the Reservation.

RULE 10. No person shall stop an animal or vehicle so as to obstruct a parkway, boundary road or driveway, or a sidewalk or crossing thereof, or so as to prevent the passing of other vehicles, or otherwise than lengthwise with a parkway, boundary road or driveway and close to the sidewalk thereof.

RULE 11. No person having charge of an animal or vehicle shall neglect or refuse to stop, place, change the position of or move said animal or vehicle as directed by a police officer.

RULE 12. No person having charge of an animal shall allow the same to stand without some proper person to take charge of the same, except that an animal hitched to a place provided therefor, or to a weight of not less than twenty pounds, may be allowed to stand unattended for not more than five minutes.

RULE 13. No person shall refuse or neglect to obey any reasonable direction of a police officer.

Any person violating any one of the above rules is liable to a fine of twenty dollars for each offence.

The reservations, parkways and roads under the control of the Metropolitan Park Commission are public property and it is the duty of every person to see that the above rules are observed, and to call the attention of the police to any violation thereof.

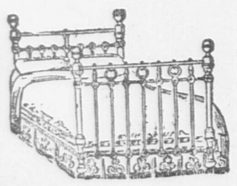
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

SOUTHERN LYNCHINGS

Charged to the Chain Prison System

REGULAR SCHOOLS OF CRIME

Maintained by Nearly Every Southern State Since Close of Civil War—inhumanity, Barbarity and Shameless Immorality as Result

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—Rev. Dr. W. P. Thirkield, corresponding secretary of the Methodist Freedmans' Aid and Southern Educational society, in delivering the opening address of the Evangelical Alliance here, charged that the outrages of negroes in the south was due to the chain gang prison system. He said in part:

"Far be it from me to utter one word in extenuation of the unspeakable crime of which some black men are guilty. Let us keep in mind, however, that only about 20 percent of the black men who are lynched have ever been charged with the unspeakable crime against the sacredness of womanhood. Let the black man bring in every influence to bear to make such crimes impossible. Let there be prompt execution of the law against this and all crimes of all men. Lynch law, however, is anarchy. It brings in the reign of barbarism. It brutalizes members of the mobs; it undermines government; it does not stop crime.

"In estimating criminality among the black people we should keep in mind that since Appommatox nearly every southern state has maintained schools of crime—an organized institution for the training of criminals. This charge is against the convict lease system of the south. This system, with its thousands of victims, has been the cause of much of the outbreak in crime among black people, through its brutalizing and dehumanizing influence on thousands of negroes.

"Under this system both prison and prisoners are farmed out under the control of private corporations—sold to the highest bidders.

"To the lessee the body and soul of convicts are assigned. The motive of both state and lessee is not morals, but money; not reformation, but exploitation of criminals for gain. It is crime turned into a source of revenue, the brawn and blood of criminals bartered for gain.

"Criminals are generally scattered in branch prisons—quartered in rude stockades without proper sanitation, food or clothing. The average life of these convicts is less than 10 years. Old and young are promiscuously chained and herded together. Even men and women are, in some camps, not separated.

"The outcome of the careful investigation of the convict lease system on the part of the governor of Georgia was a revelation of inhumanity, barbarity and shameless immorality. Much of it was unfit for the public press.

"In a period of two years over 1100 of these convicts escaped from southern prisons. Think of 1100 thieves, murderers, thugs, at large—lawless men roaming about in defiance of all law and order. Think of a system that has no reformatory element; no system to cure men of crime, but that educates young criminals in crime by its barbarity, brutalizes and dehumanizes men, and sends out those that do not die under the horrors of the system to debauch and degrade society. From such criminals what wonder if there have come forth hundreds of moral monsters.

"Even at the late session of the prison congress in Atlanta, visitors went to the city stockade where conditions are under the oversight of enlightened officials under the employ of the city. The element of gain is here eliminated, yet these humane people entered a public protest against the inhumanity and immorality of the present system, even under these favorable conditions. The south should reform its present system and thus stop the education of criminals. The present system is a sowing of the wind and it is bound to reap the whirlwind.

"Over against the outcome of these schools of crime is the fact that of all the thousands of graduates from the Christian schools maintained by the benevolence of the north and south but one graduate has ever been even accused of the crime against the sacredness of womanhood."

Dr. Thirkield made a strong plea for the philanthropic and Christian people to join hands in educational and missionary efforts for the solution of this, the gravest problem of the races ever given any nation to solve.

SUNSHINE CLUB.

Cheer the Home of Officer Goodhue a Recent Benedict.

The Sunshine club, whose meetings are held at no stated period, but semi-occasionally, held a special session Monday evening. The object of the session was to call upon Officer Alfred W. Goodhue, who some months ago, took unto himself a helpmate.

The weather outside was beastly, but inside the portals at 119 Upland road all was bright. The club made their descent upon Officer Goodhue a little after 8 o'clock. Their visit was not unexpected and Fred was fully prepared for them.

Shortly after their arrival Officer Murray who looks after things in City Square during the daytime, made a little speech. It was such a speech as only one of Jim's calibre could make. He concluded by presenting Fred with a very handsome parlor lamp. The only Galen also deposited a handsome bouquet for Mrs. Goodhue.

The recipient of the gift responded, thanking one and all, and promising the business men to be unduly diligent in looking after their property at night.

From this time on until midnight pleasure held sway. There was vocal and instrumental music. Several of our local business men contributing vocal solos in a manner that would have done credit to professionals. There was also some speech making.

An affair of this kind would not be complete without a supper, and during the evening a sumptuous repast was served.

THE LAMB AND THE LION

Lie Down Together at the Democratic Senatorial Convention.

Representative Fallon Moves the Reelection of William T. Shea on the Democratic State Committee.

The expected did not happen at the Democratic Senatorial convention of the first Norfolk district on Monday evening. That is, there was no contest, as announced, between Representative Peter T. Fallon and ex-Councilman William T. Shea, two old neighbors. The convention was held in Wesleyan hall, Boston.

It was expected that there would be a lively contest for member of the State Central Committee, between the two gentlemen.

At the last minute, however, Mr. Fallon pulled out of the contest and moved the renomination of Mr. Shea.

Previous to this printed slips bearing the names of Mr. Shea and Mr. Fallon had been distributed among the delegates. From a canvass that had been made it was evident that Mr. Shea had all but about seven of the 62 delegates present.

Mr. Fallon therefore did the proper thing when in one of his characteristic speeches he referred to the long personal friendship that had existed between himself and Mr. Shea, as neighbors. He then moved that the secretary cast one ballot for Mr. Shea.

Fred Whitcomb of Holbrook was chairman of the convention, and Edward Healey of Canton was secretary.

A committee consisting of one from each city and town in the district was appointed to retire and bring in the name of a candidate for senator.

This committee was made up of the following: Timothy J. Carey of Quincy, Frank Jackson of Braintree, John Reardon of Weymouth, James Foley of Randolph, John Tucker of Milton, E. C. Jenney of Hyde Park, Edward Healey of Canton, and Fred Whitcomb of Holbrook.

After being out some time the committee reported that they had two names before them but it was not certain if either would accept.

The committee was then empowered to see the two gentlemen and to cast a ballot placing the one selected in nomination.

Then came the nomination of Mr. Shea as a member of the Democratic State Committee.

Mr. Shea spoke briefly thanking the delegates for again electing him a member of the committee.

Remarks were also made by Col. A. C. Drinkwater of Braintree, E. C. Jenney of Hyde Park and James Foley of Randolph.

WILL PROTEST.

Meeting of Petitioners for Blackwell Lot Called.

A meeting of the petitioners for the Blackwell lot for a new schoolhouse at Atlantic has been called for Wednesday evening, Oct. 14, at Music hall. As the notice states, the meeting is, "to see what action, if any, shall be taken to impress upon the Honorable Council the sincerity of our desire and earnestness of our purpose to have the new schoolhouse located near the center of the school district, and not in the southeast corner of same."

The call states that the petition forwarded to the Council in favor of the Blackwell lot was signed by 193 voters of the ward and also by 123 ladies.

No hearing has been given the petitioners, but the petition seems to have been pigeon-holed. Meanwhile an order in favor of another lot was advanced at the last meeting of the City Council without a dissenting vote.

It is evidently the intention of the City Council to pass at its meeting next week the appropriation order for the purchase of the lot on Faxon road at the corner of Squantum street.

Much depends on the meeting tomorrow evening, for the City Council cannot ignore the wishes of the majority of the people of Atlantic.

The call for the meeting is signed by: W. F. Blake, B. F. Thomas, H. K. Young, E. R. Wade, G. H. Bean, W. F. Cummings, T. D. Borst, W. T. Bonner, E. J. Waterhouse, Alfred Jelenick and J. S. Vogler.

Hypnotic Entertainment.

Prof. Franklin, the hypnotist, had another good sized audience at Hancock hall Monday evening. About a dozen good subjects were obtained from the audience, and they afforded great amusement for nearly two hours. He made them think and act as though they were at one time in a strawberry patch, and at another on a hornets nest. He fixed them so that they could not clap hands, so that when their hands were together they could not separate them. The professor also made one fellow think he was an organ grinder and another a monkey, and they went among the audience as such. These are only a few of the amusing things.

The surprise parties and good times which some of the South Quincy people enjoy nearly every week, make one almost wish that he were a resident of Ward Three and in the swim.

The Atlantic petition in favor of the Blackwell lot for new schoolhouse was signed by more voters than usually attend the caucuses of both parties. It remains to be seen whether their wishes are to be pigeon-holed.

The Luce Act, if adopted, would mean an additional expense for the city for caucus officers, ballots, etc., which makes some people hesitate as to the adoption of the law, but a fair ballot and nominations within the party are imperative under our government, and outweigh the expense.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The kindergarten is endorsed by a kindergartener, not for what it does for the child in mental and moral training, but because it saves the children of the modern small families from the danger and unhappiness of isolation and the only child from the over-solicitude of the mother—reasons enough to justify the existence of the kindergarten.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Where there is one Rockefeller with an unsavory reputation, financial, greedy and avaricious, one Morgan dominating for awhile his rivals and friends alike, one system, blood sucking, nerve wearing and community undermining, there are millions of honest men, earning, thank God, their daily bread. For whom is this bread? It is the nourishment of wife and children; it's hospitality to friends and neighbors; it's a solid and substantial satisfaction to the man who earns it, as he sees those, who, to be sure, are dependent upon him, but who also love him, partake of and enjoy it. Of the right kind of prosperity the nation has full measure, Of the watered, nearly worthless, pretentious prosperity we have had more than enough. Thank heaven those whose cunning induced it and whose avarice bloated it—and floated it, for that matter—are finding out, at a late date, to be sure, that while wind is useful in its sphere, no gas bag has ever yet been invented strong enough to prevent its bursting when pushed beyond its power of endurance. The great majority are content with moderate profits. They laugh, ha, ha, at the monkey antics of men who "make"—that may not be the right word, this week—millions in a day's deal and don't care a rap when $5,000,000 "worth" of stock is sold for $75,000, for even if the matter is brought to their notice, they fully understand that the five was a grand bluff for the public swindle—as indeed the 75 may be also.—Howard in Sunday Globe.

CHINESE DEPORTATION

Likely to Result From the Big Raid at Boston

OVER A HUNDRED ARE HELD

Laws That They Are Alleged to Have Violated and Claims They Make In Defense—Dickering In Certificates, Which Were Once Counterfeited

Boston, Oct. 13.—Although Sunday evening's raid in the Chinese district was as thorough as could be made in the limited time in which the officers had to work, the authorities do not intend to let matters rest here, but will continue their investigation of the Chinamen until they are satisfied that all who are without papers have been corralled, and it is believed that in the end between 200 and 300 men will be deported.

Of the 298 gathered in by the immigration authorities all but 75 had secured at least temporary liberty by last night. All through Sunday night and yesterday the machinery at the Federal building was kept in motion and one by one friends of the prisoners appeared with the necessary registration papers until only 113 prisoners remained in the detention pen.

Of the 113 arraigned, 38 were bailed in $50 each and 75 were committed to the Charles street jail. These will in turn appear before Commissioner Fiske for final disposition. Twenty will have a hearing tomorrow and on each successive day 10 will be heard. The commissioner will decide whether they shall be deported to China.

Under the provisions of the laws and treaties in relation to the exclusion of Chinese persons from the United States, only such persons as are registered Chinese laborers, officials of the Chinese government, teachers, students, travelers for curiosity or pleasure, merchants and their lawful wives and minor children, laborers seeking in good faith to pass through the country to foreign territory, seamen under bond, and persons whose physical condition necessitates immediate hospital treatment, shall be permitted to land at any port in the United States. If the Chinese person is born in the United States neither the immigration acts nor the Chinese exclusion acts can apply to him.

This is the law, in brief. Its operation resulted in the adoption of provisions, 10 years ago, for the registration of all Chinese laborers in the country. At first the Chinamen objected to such process on the ground that it seemed to be unconstitutional, and pending a decision by the United States supreme court did not register. The constitutionality of the exclusion laws having been settled, the Chinese laborers then in the country had no alternative but to register. Most of them did, and some did not. Some have made the claim since in their own defense that they were sick at the time, and therefore physically unable to appear at the place of registration, or that they let it go by default in the hope that like some other laws it would never be enforced.

There are two kinds of laborers' certificates—one issued to the few who registered under the first term of the law, and the other executed during the six months of the extension—and the ever-growing Chinese population in America is shielding itself behind these certificates, which no doubt pass from hand to hand, as valuable merchandise, under the presumption that to the American eye all Chinamen look alike.

The provision that the photograph of the applicant shall be attached to the registration certificate was not contained in the original law, which makes the certificates of that period more valuable on the Chinese market. A Chinaman who secures one of those certificates simply claims that the name on it is his name, and supports his claim by a number of "cousins" and "uncles" and "brothers," of whom there are great quantities in whatever district he happens to be apprehended, and the government has to disprove his claims in order to deport him.

There are among those now under arrest a number who, having no certificates of any kind, will claim that they were merchants at the time of registration 10 years ago, to prove which they may produce written statements signed by two white witnesses. The Chinese inspectors have had experience with that kind of statements also, and say that it never was very difficult for Chinamen to obtain them. There are also a number who will claim that they were born in San Francisco—seemingly the birthplace of most of the Chinamen who have nothing more tangible for their hopes for release; and it is not a very difficult contention for a Mongolian to maintain, inasmuch as no registration of births was made in the San Francisco Chinatown some years ago, and unfamiliarity with the English language will be explained by the assertion that the prisoner lived exclusively among his countrymen, where he had no opportunity to learn the language.

It is well known among the immigration officials that the certificates were at one time counterfeited, together with the seal which is imprinted in the document and the photograph, and it is believed that some of the papers which have been presented by friends for the extrication of the imprisoned ones have not been genuine. In these instances the captured Chinamen have not obtained the desired freedom.

The regrading of the yard at the Quincy depot by the railroad is a decided improvement. A coating of fine crushed stone and the use of a steam roller would make the job complete.

Tomorrow will be the last opportunity to get your name on the voting lists, before the State election. The Registrars of Voters will be in session in the Council chamber at City Hall from 12 o'clock noon until 10 o'clock at night.

Craft Along New England Coast Suffered None From the Storm

Boston, Oct. 13.—Jogging along at a gait of not more than 10 or 12 miles an hour, but at the same time whirling about at the rate of more than 50 miles an hour, the great storm which last week swept the Virginia coast, deluged the middle Atlantic states, and cleared the New England waters of coastwise shipping, is off the southeastern New England coast with a centre some where between Nantucket and the gulf stream.

Sailing vessels from New England ports had ample time to reach places of refuge before the disturbance became severe. The result has been that places like Vineyard Haven, Boston, Gloucester and Portland are crowded with shipping and no wrecks have been reported along this portion of the coast. In fact there has not been a sailing vessel reported off Cape Cod for nearly four days, and only the staunchest of the steamships have been able to double that stormbeaten cape in the face of the terrific seas. For more than 36 hours the wind at Highland light has averaged over 50 miles an hour, and other exposed points like Nantucket and Block Island have had even greater velocity.

The rain in New England has been light as compared with the deluge which fell about New York city, and has been more in the nature of showers,

Danger Has Passed

New York, Oct. 13.—With the receding of the floods reported from all quarters, Paterson and other water-swept New Jersey towns are relieved of further peril and are beginning now to get a clear idea of the extent of the devastation. In Paterson alone the damage to property is estimated at $2,000,000, without taking account of the loss in wages to the thousands who have been temporarily deprived of livelihood by the shutting down of factories.

Erie Canal Suffers

Albany, Oct. 13.—Traffic on the Erie canal is suspended on account of the unprecedented floods in this part of the state and probably will not be resumed this week. The tow path has slipped into the canal at three places, the flooded Mohawk river is over the canal at some points, while at others there is six feet of water over the tow path itself.

CONFLICT IN FAR EAST

Appears to Be a Possibility of the Near Future

HAYASHI IS LOSING HOPE

That Peace Can Be Preserved Between Russia and Japan—Former Nation Sending Out Troops and Intends to Remain In Manchuria

London, Oct. 13.—The peculiar explanation of the postponement of the czar's visit to Rome, "owing to circumstances over which he has no control," is interpreted in some quarters to mean that the threatening outlook in far eastern affairs calls for the emperor's presence in Russia.

There is no confirmation of the alarmist rumors. At the Japanese legation last night no news had been received of the reported ultimatum.

A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Kobe, Oct. 12, reports that the situation is somewhat easier, but that the tone of the press is distinctly bellicose, while the same paper's correspondent at Geneva says that several Russian officers there have been suddenly recalled to join their regiments.

Other special dispatches describe Russian war preparations, etc., and the newspapers, which are intensely interested in the developments owing to the Anglo-Japanese alliance, are already publishing maps and estimates of the naval and military forces of the prospective belligerents and editorializing on the possibilities of the situation.

The greatest attention is paid to the changed tone of Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister in London, who is much less confident that peace will be preserved than he was a week ago. Inquiries at Japanese banking, shipping and commercial houses in London, however, elicited expressions of disbelief in the outbreak of war.

It is noteworthy that the king has just approved the appointment of Vice Admiral Noel as commander-in-chief of the China station. Noel is an officer of great energy and decision. It was he who cleaned the Turkish troops out of Crete because of an insult to the British flag.

The Tokio correspondent of The Times telegraphs that the appointment of General Kodama as chief assistant to the military staff is regarded with universal satisfaction at this critical period.

A dispatch from Moscow to The Times states that a large force of Russian troops under orders for the far east are now on their way thither by rail from Kharkoff.

The Russian correspondents of the same paper send quotations from newspaper articles pointing to Russia's intention to remain in occupation of Manchuria and add that it is reported from Vladivostock that as a result of famine in China roving bands of Chinese have crossed into Manchuria, where their presence constitutes a danger to the Manchurian railway, and that this necessitates keeping Russian troops in southern Manchuria for an indefinite period.

"Relations Continue Cordial"

Yokohama, Oct. 13.—The announcement by M. Lessar, Russian minister to China, that the Manchurian convention between Russia and China has lapsed, is received here with ridicule.

Dispatches from Che Foo report that a Russian warship and a transport with 500 troops has left Port Arthur for Corea. Sixty Japanese civilians have left Port Arthur for Nagasaki. The Russian forces at New Chwang are reported to have been increased.

General Kodama, the Japanese home minister, has been appointed chief assistant to the military staff. The premier will assume General Kodama's portfolio.

The premier and the ministers for war, navy and foreign affairs had a simultaneous audience of the emperor yesterday.

Baron Von Rosen, the Russian minister, and Baron Komura, the Japanese foreign minister, have not yet had a conference.

No Alarm at Washington

Washington, Oct. 13.—At the Russian embassy the officials are not alarmed over the situation in the far east. The view held there is that neither Russia nor Japan desires war, though both may be making preparations to that end, and that there is really no question at issue which cannot be settled without recourse to arms, provided the negotiating parties are disposed to use diplomacy rather than the sword. The embassy has received no advices from St. Petersburg for more than two weeks.

Long String of Aliases

Chicago, Oct. 13.—H. R. Kendall, a clairvoyant and palmist, was arrested last night at the Auditorium hotel on advices from the Boston police authorities. He is charged with swindling several persons in Boston. It is said that in Boston he was known as "Professor" Harry Baker, also Johnson, Rockwell, Kilbourne, Vaughn, Kendall, Marshall and Mantell.

Clothing Strike May Fail

Rochester, Oct. 13.—The clothing cutters' strike has failed to develop the strength expected. Fully 100 men are at work and imported cutters are arriving on every train. Fifty-nine of those who went out on Saturday have reported for work and others are returning.

THE KILLING OF CORTI

Cases of Men Concerned In Barre Riot Go Over For a Week

Barre, Vt., Oct. 13.—As the special grand jury which has been summoned to investigate the killing of Eli Corti in a clash betwen anarchists and Socialists at Socialist hall a week ago had not come together at Montpelier, the cases of all the men under arrest in connection with the affair were continued one week when they came up in the police court here. Martino Rizzi, who is charged with assault with intent to kill, was held in $4000 bail, while Luigi Cassi and Frank Fruzetti, who are charged with simple assault, were ordered to recognize in the sum of $500.

All efforts to secure the release of G. M. Serratti, the New York Socialist editor who is held as a witness against Corti's alleged assailant, thus far have been futile. Friends of the editor have several times offered to furnish bail in any desired amount, but the officers refused to receive the sureties. Serratti is still confined in the county jail at Montpelier, but he has been provided with special apartments.

General Tieup Averted

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 13.—By a vote to submit the differences betwen themselves and the Master Builders' association to arbitration the local Carpenters' union last night prevented a threatened tieup of all building operations in this city. Some time ago the master builders notified the Carpenters' union that unless the latter agreed to submit the question to arbitration every union carpenter in Brockton would be locked out on Oct. 14. The lumber mill owners and all the larger lumber dealers of the city agreed to close their mills and yards in event of a lockout, and the expected opposition to the arbitration plan did not develop at the union meeting.

Mistook Cousin For a Deer

Skowhegan, Me., Oct. 13.—Sheriff Lang and Coroner Addition have been summoned to Eustis to investigate the death of Sherman Wentworth, who was fatally shot by his cousin, Wallace Moody, while hunting. Moody caught sight of what he believed to be a deer in a clump of bushes and fired. The bullet struck Wentworth, killing him instantly. Moody immediately notified the county authorities of Wentworth's death.

Labor Laws Not Violated

Boston, Oct. 13.—Chief Wade of the state police has returned from a week's tour of inspection through the western counties to ascertain, he says, if there were any violations of the child labor and other laws. The chief says that he visited the mills and factories in Berkshire, Franklin, Hampshire and Hampden counties, and did not find a single violation of the labor laws.

Veteran Fireman Under Suspension

Boston, Oct. 13.—Because he violated a rule of the department, forbidding the giving of information to the press, Fire Commissioner Russell has indefinitely suspended District Chief Abbott, who, after 33 years of service in the department, filed his application a few days ago to be retired on half pay. The exact nature of the charge against Abbott is not made public.

Think Government Was Too Hasty

Newport, R. I., Oct. 13.—Owners of the five-masted schooner Jennie R. Dubois, which was sunk in a collision with an unknown steamer off Block Island five weeks ago, announce that they intend to bring suit against the United States government for blowing up the wreck before an opportunity was given the owners to remove her cargo.

Democrats Out In Force

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 13.—Two political rallies were held in this city last night, William A. Gaston, candidate for governor, addressing the Democrats to the number of 1500, while there were very few at the Republican rally at which Representative Luce was the principal speaker

DON'T BOLT YOUR FOOD.

ROMOC

Take time for your lunch—try and enjoy what you eat. This is the advice that the Romoc man gives to his hurried friends. No wonder you have dyspepsia. You might as well expect a watch to run smoothly after greasing it with butter, instead of lubricating it with some fine oil. You cannot throw everything into your stomach and expect that organ to work well and do its duty; but never mind all that, learn first to treat your stomach with half-way respect. Learn next how, if you have broken it down, to make it well.

The way to do that is to take Romoc. It is Nature's own remedy. There is nothing like Romoc for Indigestion. It not only strengthens the stomach but acts favorably upon the bowels, and, in fact, on all the vital organs of the body. You will find that by the use of Romoc in a very short time you will have a hearty appetite and you will enjoy everything you eat.

Just try my Romoc and see how much more good it will do for you than remedies containing injurious drugs and a large percentage of alcohol, which at the best can only serve to give temporary relief.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by Mrs. Kincaide of South Quincy is retiring from business. Her store is advertised to let.

The old First church on the "Training Field" in City Square was sold at auction Oct. 13, 1828, seventy-five years ago today.

The first meeting of the Young People's Religious Union of Wollaston for the season, is to be held Sunday evening, Oct. 18.

On Wednesday the ladies of the Baptist church Wollaston, will meet to plan and see what can be done to prosecute Christian work.

The Christian Endeavor meets this week at Mrs. Burgess', 78 Lincoln avenue, for social intercourse and to discuss work for winter.

There will be a supper and entertainment in the vestry of the West Quincy M. E. church on Wednesday evening, given by the Ladies' Social union.

The main sewer to Quincy Point is all completed, except building the connecting link on Canal street. This link will probably be completed this week.

The weather has not been favorable for the opening of the Day Nursery this week, and no children have yet been placed in the care of Mrs. Talbot, the matron.

William A. Bradford of this city is instructor of plumbing at the trade school of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association which reopened Monday evening.

John A. Foote of Augusta, Me., who has been the guest of Hiram W. Campbell, at 90 Copeland street, passed away this morning after a brief illness. He was 50 years of age and unmarried.

The Democrats of the Braintree-Weymouth district have renominated Horace R. Drinkwater for Representative. He was one of the most prominent members of the House of 1903, and worthy of a third term.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius A. Bassett of Atlantic have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Bassett, to Mr. Charles Robert Hendrie. The ceremony is to take place on Wednesday evening, October twenty-first at St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston.

The Ladies' Aid Alliance will hold its first meeting of the season in the Unitarian vestry at Wollaston on Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 2.30 P. M. Plans for the winter's work are to be decided upon and every member is urged to be present. Women who do not belong to the alliance are urged to come and join.

A sign has been placed on the new court at Quincy Point, between the residences of T. H. Newcomb and Henry Bushnell, reading "Hersey place." For a great many years Mrs. Eliza Hersey lived in the Bushnell house, and later in the family of Mr Newcomb, and it is probably in her honor. Houses are being built on the place.

Sewer Connections.

The following estates were connected with the public sewer last week:
Peter Hines, Broadway.
Herbert Pratt, Newcomb.
Faxon hall, Revere road.
Peter McConarty, Pearl.
Ira Litchfield, Pearl.
John N. Fox, Franklin.
J. W. Pratt, Federal avenue.

—A Biddeford, Me., calf has performed the distinguished feat of swimming across the Saco river at a section where the width is more than half a mile.

DES MOINES OFF.

Cruiser Left the Dock at Fore River This Afternoon.

At one o'clock this afternoon the cruiser Des Moines built for the government by the Fore River Ship & Engine Co., of Quincy, left her dock for the navy yard at Charlestown.

The cruiser was accompanied by two tugs and went out through the Quincy Point drawbridge without a hitch.

The Des Moines will return to the Fore River dock after receiving a copper bottom.

TODAY'S COURT.

Matthew Haley was fined $3 for drunkenness at Braintree.

Manuel Johnson and Constantine Hermanson were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Cases continued until Oct. 19.

Building and Contents Destroyed

Portland, Me., Oct. 13.—A building known as Seaside hall, South Portland, was burned to the ground early this morning. The building had been used as a clubhouse for Fort Preble soldiers and dance hall, but lately a quantity of furniture has been stored in it and this was destroyed.

Left to Grand Jury

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 13.—Coroner Doten has found that Charles Tucker came to his death from a pistol shot fired by Joseph Stout and held Stout without bonds on the charge of felonious homicide. This verdict means that the degree of crime is left for the grand jury to decide.

Report of Suicide Held Back

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 13.—Michael J. Morgan, 36 years old, whose home was in Cambridge, committed suicide by hanging from an iron window grating at Worcester insane hospital on Oct. 5. The hospital authorities did not report it until compelled by law to do so yesterday.

Despondency and Suicide

Boston, Oct. 13.—Despondent over ill health and because he was unable to obtain employment, Joseph Bince, 60 years of age, ended his life by shooting. Bince came here from New York about a year ago and it is said he had a wife and several children in that city.

Rebels' Plans Anticipated

Panama, Oct. 12.—No news has been received here confirming the reports of a revolutionary plot. It is believed that the fact that the government knew of the plan long before the date fixed for its execution doomed it to failure. The country seems to be against further warfare.

Badly Mangled by High Jump

Boston, Oct. 12.—Believing that he was being pursued by men who were going to kill him, Annibale Delininno, 22 years old, jumped from a fourth-story window at 247 Hanover street. He is believed to be insane. Delininno has a badly fractured skull and both arms are broken. He also has severe internal injuries.

Union Stamp Surrendered

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 12.—The firm of Fair, Maguire & Field surrendered the stamp of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union, being the fifth shoe firm to break away from the union during the past few months. There are now seven firms left in the city using the stamp of the B. and S. W. U.

Young Hunter Loses a Hand

Orford, N. H., Oct. 12.—Alfred Beal of Boston, aged 15, was climbing a wall while hunting when his foot slipped and his gun tumbled to the ground. The weapon was discharged and the shot blew his right hand to tatters. He was taken to a hospital at Hanover.

Boston Socialists' Ticket

Boston, Oct. 12.—At a crowded meeting of the Boston Socialist club George W. Galvin was elected as the head of the Socialist ticket on the approaching mayoralty contest. Candidates for street commissioner and for the board of aldermen were also selected.

Killed Chum Aboard Ship

New York, Oct. 12.—Midshipman Ferreira was shot and killed by Midshipman Hecksher on board the Brazilian man-o-war Benjamin Constant, lying in the North river. The middies were in their quarters when in examing his pistol Hacksher accidentally discharged it. The ball struck Ferreira in the left temple, killing him instantly. The youths were chums and Hecksher was frantic with grief at the tragedy.

Bell Confesses Robberies

Denver, Oct. 13.—Albert E. Bell, the alleged mailpouch robber and forger, had a hearing before Commissioner Hinsdale. Bell confessed to robberies at Germantown, Pa., and Springfield, Ills., and his bond was placed at $10,000.

NEED CHASTISEMENT

Porto Rican Anarchists Clash With Police and Insult Our Flag

San Juan, P. R., Oct 13.—Governor Hunt returned here last evening from Ponce. During the governor's absence the anti-American Socialists and anarchists had a clash with the police on the plaza of this city. Forty arrests were made and many of the prisoners were yesterday convicted and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, including Conde, the anarchist, who was recently convicted of insulting the American flag. The clash was due to the Socialists, who attacked the police. The latter ordered the mob to disperse and on meeting with a refusal they used their clubs freely.

Americans here are particularly incensed at the carrying of black and red flags and a creped American flag by a mob Sunday as an incitement to disorder. Conde delivered a very offensive harangue, in which he approved of the mob resorting to bloodshed if necessary.

The Americans demand the punishment of all the dangerous Socialists and are overwhelming Governor Hunt with assurances of support in a vigorous campaign to uphold law and order. They urge that an immediate death-blow be given to anarchy here. The city is now quiet.

District Attorney Furnished Bail

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—John Dowd, the sentry who shot and killed William H. Crowley near the United States arsenal and was tried by court martial and exonerated, was turned over to the civil authorities. The coroner's jury recommended that Private Dowd and Lieutenant Drury be held for the shooting of Crowley. They were taken before Judge Shafer and released on $5000 bail each, which was furnished by United States Assistant District Attorney Miller.

Warrant Out For Minister

Newport News, Va., Oct. 13.—A warrant has been issued here for Rev. Harry McKnight, charging him with grand larceny. McKnight rented a building and collected funds for the establishment of a local branch of the National Newsboys' home. McKnight, according to the charge sworn out against him, sold all the furniture in the building he had leased and fled with the proceeds of the sale.

Breathing Spell For Chamberlain

London, Oct. 13.—Mr. Chamberlain is now resting at Highbury, his residence in Birmingham, and is not engaged to speak for another fortnight. He will utilize the interval to elaborate his scheme and prepare a reply to the objections raised by his opponents. Meanwhile, the fiscal campaign is being vigorously pursued in the country.

Missing Barge Heard From

New York, Oct. 13.—The coal-laden barge Langhorne, from Philadelphia for Salem, Mass., which broke adrift from the tug Lykens off Montauk Point, is at anchor two miles southwest of Montauk light, with all on board well. The Langhorne had been lost from the tow and was thought to have gone ashore on Montauk Point.

Gain In Postoffice Receipts

Washington, Oct. 13.—The statement of the postoffice department giving the receipts of 50 of the largest postoffices in the country for September shows the total to be $5,509,422, a gain of nearly 9 percent over the receipts for the same month last year. Boston's receipts were $330,588, a gain of 2 percent.

Great Northern's New Harbor

St. Paul, Oct. 13.—The Great Northern will spend $1,000,000 in preparing Smith's Cove, Wash., as its Pacific steamship port for the trans-Pacific lines, which will go into service within 18 months. The improvements will make Smith's Cove harbor one of the finest on the Pacific.

Laying Off Lake Shore Help

Cleveland, Oct. 13.—At the headquarters of the Lake Shore here it is stated that probably that not to exceed 400 men will be dismissed by that company as the result of the order sent out from New York to reduce the force of help in all shops on the Vanderbilt system wherever possible.

Car Got Beyond Control

Knoxville, Oct. 13.—An electric motor car and trailer, heavily loaded with passengers, ran away and rapidly descended one of the steepest hills in the city. A number of passengers were injured, including many women. The motor car struck another car at the foot of the hill.

Yielded to Powell's Protest

San Domingo, Oct. 13.—The Dominican government has informed United States Minister Powell that in view of his protest it will recall the bill now before congress providing for the neutrality of Dominican waters and declaring certain harbors to be free ports.

Minnesota Bank Closes

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 13.—The Bank of Foxhome, a private institution conducted by Standring Bros., has closed its doors. The proprietors state that they will be able to pay all claims if given time to realize on real estate.

GOOD GOVERNMENT

Discussed at Banquet of Wollaston Club.

Too Much Indifference of Voters.

Another Paper on Housing Problem of Big Cities.

The Wollaston Unitarian club composed of representative men of Wollaston and Quincy held its first dinner of the season last evening, and listened with close attention to what is being done for tenement house reform and also for good government in cities.

Walter M. Hatch, the genial president, was at the head of the table. The committee served a hot roast beef dinner with mashed potato, squash, celery, fruit, rolls and coffee.

President Hatch had a story to introduce each speaker, and made a vigorous five minute speech himself against corrupt government.

The first gentleman introduced was Mr. E. L. Chandler, secretary of the Tenement House Commission recently appointed by Mayor Collins of Boston, who spoke of "The Housing Problem of Boston."

He said at the outset that there were no fearful horrors in Boston, and that the conditions were not as bad on a slumming trip as people might expect. It was only very recently that Health departments had been established. The Boston Health act was passed in 1885.

For awhile boards of health had authority to condemn and order vacated houses unfit for habitation, and recently it had been given authority to tear down such buildings. Some 100 had been pulled down in Boston; also many sheds and Ls in back yards. The question is can Boston prevent in the future a tenement house nuisance.

New York city has had for nearly two years a very desirable tenement house act.

The speaker discussed the sunlight problem in back yards; the necessity of some vacant land; the private alley of Boston, many of them blind alleys; the difficulties in the collection of garbage, ashes, etc.; dark rooms in houses, and the overcrowding of sleeping rooms; and want of police for inspection work.

Mr. Chandler thought the fire proof construction laws of Boston were too stringent, as no one could afford to erect buildings for tenement to rent for less than $16. Tenement house people will not go into the suburbs, but they cannot afford $16 or $20.

Edmund Billings, secretary of the Boston Good Government Association, followed, speaking of the objects and aims of the association. He said the introductory speech of President Hatch was the best five minute speech on good government he ever heard.

The speaker spoke of the corruption that had existed in Chicago and St. Louis, and of the successful efforts of the Municipal League in the former, and of District Attorney Falk in the latter.

In every city he said there was a large class of boodlers and machine politicians. Because of party affiliation of voters it was often difficult to overthrow them. There should be no party politics, he claimed in city elections.

The speaker believed in publicity of the records of aldermen and councilmen; efforts to have all parties nominate good men, and then to elect the best regardless of politics. The game should be played as politicians play it. Don't attempt to do the impossible, but this year elect the most available man, and each year increase the ideal until the boodlers are weeded out. No pulls should be recognized.

The people of foreign birth are more apt to exercise their franchise than long residents. There was too much indifference on the part of many of our best citizens, and they do not vote on election day or attend the caucuses.

Too many establish an entirely different standard in politics than in business. The virtuous man is often most corrupt in politics. The mass of the people however want honest government, and they should relegate to the rear the politicians who live in some mysterious way.

The Boston association would this year devote its efforts to securing some better men on the board of aldermen, now composed of six liquor dealers, four with no business, and three others. Success was not expected at the start, but it was hoped to make a beginning.

The speaker told of effort in Boston to break civil service rules; of the granting of licenses to notorious dance hall; of bribery, etc. He told in particular of the crooked work in connection with the Benjamin Franklin fund of $300,000 in Boston. How the aldermen had voted to buy in the outskirts, of a politician, a lot assessed for $56,400, at $146,000. Then they planned a building which would have absorbed all the balance for an institute, leaving nothing to run it. Only an injunction by the mayor checked the scheme which is now in the courts.

How is it such men as Crooker, Quay, Butler and Platt get such a grip? It is because of the indifference of just men as are here assembled. They have too little to do with the shaping of affairs before the caucuses.

The problems raised were discussed by Messrs. H. H. Faxon, R. F. Claflin, President Hatch, J. D. McKay, Frank Page, Eugene H. Sprague, W. J. Wellington and Rev. F. W. Pratt.

A vote of thanks was extended to the speakers of the evening.

Etonia Artists.

The first entertainment in the Brotherhood course will be given by the "Etonia Artists" in the Bethany chapel this evening at 8 o'clock. The entertainers come highly recommended. Miss Weidhorn, the violinist, is an Austrian; her playing is remarkable both in technique and purity of tone. During the past summer she has been soloist for the Fadette Ladies' Orchestra. Miss Berry's playing is of such a marked order as to place her at once on the list of brilliant pianists. The press of neighboring cities speak enthusiastically of Miss Trecartin's voice and singing. Quincy people have heard the impersonator, Mr. David, before, and they are looking forward to his appearance this evening. The entertainment is sure to draw a crowded house.

—The oldest known weapon was the club. The clubs of the lake dwellers of Switzerland, studded with stones in default of nails, and thus making formidable weapons, have been recovered from their habitations.

—The average age of man has been increased 7 1-2 years in the last century, and at that rate the average length of human life will be about 110 years in 10 centuries.

FIRE AT BEEF PLANT

The Most Serious in Quincy for Some Years.

Secured a Good Start and Caused a Brilliant Illumination.

The shrill and prolonged whistling of a locomotive at the Quincy depot about 7.20 o'clock last evening followed shortly by an alarm from Box 26 caused many to think that there had been a railroad accident and sent a large crowd hurrying toward the Quincy depot.

A bright illumination in the sky, however, told them that it was not an accident but a fire. It proved to be the most serious fire that Quincy has had for a long time.

The fire proved to be in the Quincy Beef Co.'s building on Dimmock street.

What started the fire is not known. It may have been from spontaneous combustion in a bundle of hay or some evil minded person may have applied a match to it.

When discovered the fire was coming out of the roof of the stable, which is in an L on the Dimmock street side of the building.

When the firemen arrived the whole top of the stable was a roaring mass of flames, and like a flash it communicated with the main building and soon the roof of that building was all ablaze.

It made an illumination that was seen for miles and those at a distance believed it to be the old Coliseum.

On the first floor of the stable were six horses besides some wagons. Early arrivals succeeded in getting these out safely so that the firemen could give their entire attention to extinguishing the flames. The hay in front of the horses was on fire, however, when some were rescued.

The steamer was located on Hancock street opposite the residence of Dr. Gordon, and streams from this and from all the hydrants in the vicinity were soon pouring water upon the building.

The large ice box in the building is located on the rear of the first floor and it was full of beef, two carloads having been put into it on Tuesday. The efforts of the firemen were directed to prevent the fire from reaching the meat.

The ice box is surrounded by a thick packing of sawdust and this probably aided materially in saving it, as employes believe that neither smoke nor water penetrated the room.

The fight with the flames was a severe one, and it was late before the firemen had conquered them, and the last spark had been extinguished. The shavings in the walls made it a difficult fire to extinguish. The building is a wreck above the street floor.

The roof of the main building is all gone as is also the roof of the stable, but the lower floors are nearly intact.

In the office the only evidence of fire is the wet walls and the hole through the ceiling.

The sides of the ice box at the top have been started off some, but the fire did not get below the floor. Had it done so the loss would have been much heavier than it is.

The stable where the fire started was badly gutted and but little remains of it but the shell.

The rescue of the six horses in the stable was due to the efforts of Officer Goodhue, Lemuel Green, John Grady, William J. Parker, James Deady, Howard Rogers and Henry J. Matthews.

Officer Goodhue was obliged to take off his uniform coat and throw it over one of the horses head before he could get him out.

During the fire the railroad sent a locomotive out from Boston to haul the freight cars out of the way in case they were in danger of taking fire.

The beef chest had not been opened this morning and will not be until experts arrive from Boston, and until that is done it can not be said whether the beef is damaged or not.

Chief Williams estimates the loss on the building and contents exclusive of the beef to be $4,000 which is covered by insurance. The stock is also fully insured.

The Quincy Beef Company is a branch of the Hammond Beef Co. of Chicago, and L. B. Greene, the manager, says arrangements have already been made for meat to supply all demands.

Rah! for the Q. H. S. foot ball team.

Chamberlain is a strong unionist, but not of the kind the labor men want.

When Alaska becomes a state there is little danger of her joining the silver party; if it will be still in existence.

A school of Journalism has been started in Columbia University and a school of "friction writing" in the North Western University.

The Boston American base ball club pull out of a big cavity, and they win the title of champions of the world. No series of base ball games ever attracted greater interest.

It is still uncertain whether General Miles is to be the Massachusetts candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, or ex-Governor Hogg's candidate for senator from Texas.

The speakers who discussed the good government question at Wollaston Tuesday evening thought there was a good field for work in Quincy. There is in most cities. It is not enough that the voters should go to the poles on election and attend the caucuses, but those interested in government must look out for the details before the caucuses and give the voters good material from which to make a choice. There is too much indifference.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The crusade which the railroads of the country are carrying on against the use of intoxicating liquors and tobacco by employes engaged in operating trains is partly due to the fact, not generally known, that the poisons contained in the proscribed articles produce color blindness, which is a fatal defect in enginemen, firemen and trainmen. For more than 20 years the disease of tobacco endlyopia and alcohol endlyopia, as they are called, have been recognized by the oculists as the most insidious and difficult with which they have to deal. Through the employment of official oculists the existence, growing prevalency and terrible results of these diseases have become familiar to the managements of many large railway systems.—Chicago Record.

☞ The old-fashioned "captain of industry" knew how to do something of value, and charged a high price for his gift. He was not above financial thimblerigging, and he made his blunders, but he did plan to stay by his company and run railroads or build ships if that was what it had set out to do. The new-fashioned "captain of finance" in this illuminative instance "unloads" a crushing burden upon his company, and leaves it to sink or swim. He prefers that it shall swim, but he arranges to leave the ship first, not last. And while raking in the pennies of small "investors" at home, he sends agents to report upon foreign capitalists and their mode of living, as indicating whether they are worthy of the honor of being shorn or capable of assisting in the shearing.

A blunt comment upon all this would be, "Worse than highway robbery," but it might not be wholly just. Probably a good many "promoters" two years ago were self-deluded with their dupes, and believed that two and two in a trust make 12, that competition killing could be capitalized, and that any old business once "floated" would run by itself without working capital or personal attention or repairs.

They are wiser now. But as their wisdom has been gained at the cost of impoverishment to many poor people here, of the temporary clouding of American credit abroad, and of an indiscriminate slaughter of the shares of solvent companies, their experience has indeed been costly.—New York World.

Among the West Quincy people who participated in the Boston & Albany railroad trip to New York last week were: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Teasdale, Mrs. Mary Hart, Mr. and Mrs. William Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. William Reardon, James A. White, Miss Nellie Morrissey, Miss Zitta Barry, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Merrill.

Q. H. S. WINS.

Defeats Roxbury High by Seventeen to Nothing.

A Rough Game by the Visitors.

They Were Clearly Out-classed by Quincy Boys.

Quincy High defeated Roxbury High in a rough game of foot ball at Merrymount park Tuesday afternoon. The score was 17 to 0, Quincy doing all the scoring during the first half of the game.

Owing to the late arrival of the visitors, the second half of the game was cut to eight minutes. The Roxbury players were clearly outclassed by their apponents during the first half, but in the latter part of the game Capt. Packard by brilliant playing worked the ball well up the field before time was called. At no time in the game was Quincy's goal in danger.

In the first half, Quincy made the three touchdowns on straight foot ball. Fenno and Percival made yard after yard through the tackles and around the ends, while R. Sanders found some weak places near the centre. Bennett gained considerable ground through Roxbury's right tackle. From the three touchdowns R. Sanders kicked two of the goals, making the score 17 to 0. Roxbury had the ball but once during the first half.

Quincy kicked off at the beginning of the second half. Packard made a gain in return. A number of plays directed at Quincy's guards netted more than 35 yards for Roxbury. The ball went to Quincy on downs just before time was called.

BOTTLED SUNSHINE

Scott's Emulsion brings sunshine to the entire system of the consumptive.

All life is sunshine. The sun pouring its rays into the plant combines earth, water and air into new plant tissue. Sunshine stored up in the plant is its life.

The animal changes plant tissue into animal tissue, changes the stored up sunshine of plant life into animal life.

Fat contains more stored up sunshine than any other form of animal tissue. This is why Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil is literally bottled sunshine, full of rich nourishment and new life for the consumptive.

LYNN'S LABOR WAR

Efforts to Have Federation of Labor Boycott Knights of Labor Product

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 14.—A determined effort to counteract the recent move of the local Knights of Labor Cutters' assembly in circulating a petition urging discrimination against shoes bearing the union stamp has been begun by the officials of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

The plan includes the presentation of a resolution at the national convention of the American Federation of Labor, which meets in Boston Nov. 9, declaring unfair all shoes manufactured in Lynn upon which Knights of Labor workmen are employed.

In event of the plan being successfully carried out, all the shoe shops in this city, with the exception of five which have the union stamp, will be practically boycotted by the 3,000,000 members of the American Federation of Labor, and the manufacturers fear they will suffer severe loss as a result.

The petitions which are being circulated by the Knights of Labor already bear the signatures of 8000 persons who have thus pledged themselves to purchase no shoes bearing the Boot and Shoe Workers' union stamp.

Dowie Host Starts Out

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Zion City slept on its arms last night, a town of religious frenzy and military preparation. When it awoke today half the population became crusaders and moved on New York and the other half dropped on their knees to pray for the success of the "restoration host." When the Zion City fire whistles blew this morning at 9 o'clock every resident of Dowie's town dropped to his knees and prayed for the success of the expedition. As soon as the prayer was finished the first of the nine trains pulled out of Chicago on what is claimed by Dowie to be the greatest and most important crusade the world ever has known.

Petrel Makes a Catch

Erie, Pa., Oct. 14.—While several Erie fishing tugs were engaged in setting or drawing nets on the Canadian side of Lake Erie, they were pounced upon by the patrol boat Petrel. The Petrel succeeded in capturing The Star, owned by Tabb & Constable of this city, both of whom were on board, as were also Engineer Stewart and two deckhands. The Star was at least nine miles over the line. She gave the Petrel a three-mile chase before the latter got her grappling chains over her side.

Londoners Again In Boston

Boston, Oct. 14.—The members of the Honourable Artillery company of London, with their hosts, the Ancients of Boston, concluded last evening their tour throughout the eastern part of the country and Canada. The week's trip was thoroughly enjoyed by the members of both companies. The visitors will practically close their stay by giving their hosts a banquet this evening and will sail for Liverpool tomorrow afternoon.

Gompers Recommends Arbitration

New York, Oct. 14.—In a letter to the buiding trades unions of this city and vicinity, President Gompers and Secretary Duncan of the American Federation of Labor have recommended that the unions agree to the plan of arbitration of the Employers' association. This action is considered a defeat for the building trades unions, which have refused to sign the plan of arbitration.

Woman Knocked Down and Robbed

Pittsfield, Mass, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Francis Drake, while returning home about 8:30 last evening, was knocked down by a man and robbed of a chatelaine bag, which, however, contained only 75 cents. The man suddenly stepped from behind a tree and dealt her three blows on the head, at the same time snatching her chatelaine bag. He made off before Mrs. Drake could give the alarm.

Want Market For Their Coffee

San Juan, P. R., Oct. 14.—Messrs. Hartzell and Lindsay have sailed for New York to present to President Roosevelt resolutions adopted by the coffee growers here asking for all possible aid from the federal government to assist in obtaining a market for Porto Rican coffee by effecting commercial treaties with France, Spain, Italy, Germany and Austria.

Macedonia Settling Down

Monastir, Oct. 14.—This district is settling down. The insurgents have been routed and practically annihilated in the Peristeri mountains. Inspector General Hilmi Pasha, in concert with the mixed commission, is arranging to rebuild the homes which were destroyed, out of government funds. The reconstruction is proceeding, however, under numerous difficulties.

Lord Londonderry Promoted

London, Oct. 14.—Lord Londonderry has been appointed lord president of the council, in succession to the Duke of Devonshire. It is understood that Londonderry will retain the portfolio of education and his new appointment will thus make little practical difference to his position in the cabinet.

Central American War Expected

Panama, Oct. 14.—There are reasons for believing that Nicaragua and Guatemala are on the eve of declaring war on Salvador and Honduras.

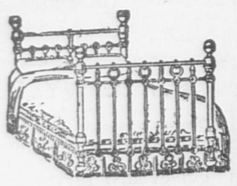
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

SERVICE STRIPES.

Two of the Street Railway Men in Employ Over 15 Years.

A new order went into effect on the Old Colony street railway this week which in effect is that hereafter employes will wear service stripes on their coat sleeves. These stripes are furnished by the company. Each stripe denotes five years' service.

The largest number of stripes worn by any of the men is three, denoting fifteen years' service. There are, however, but two men entitled to wear these stripes. Francis W. Perry, a motorman, and George Dunham, a conductor. Both of these men are now running on the West Quincy line.

Mr. Perry is the oldest employe and there is no one on the road who entered the employ at the time he did. He commenced as driver on the Quincy street railway, then ran as a conductor and broke in Mr. Dunham who with him now wears three stripes. Mr. Perry of late years has run as a motorman, and is looked upon by the company as one of its most reliable men.

He says of all the improvements in street railroading during his time, the vestibule cars are the best of all.

Shot Doctor to Get Money

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 14.—Dr. J. R. Mehaffey, a veterinary surgeon, was lured from his office to a country road about three miles from this city and then shot by Charles Jack, a young drug clerk. One bullet entered the doctor's head and another the neck, but neither, it is believed, will be fatal. Jack was arrested. He admitted the shooting and said he thought the surgeon carried a large sum of money and he wanted to get it.

Boss Printers Under Bonds

Washington, Oct. 14.—Another step in the reorganization in the methods of the government printing office is effected by an order requiring a $10,000 bond to be furnished by several officials. This action is designed to have the property of the government in the hands of responsible parties and is in line with the maintenance of a more vigilant management of the affairs of the printing office.

Riot Investigation Begun

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 14.—The special grand jury convened to investigate the riot between the anarchists and Socialists at Barre, Oct. 3, in which Eli Corti was fatally wounded, Alexander Garretto being held by the police charged with the crime, organized with R. S. Drenan as foreman, after which adjournment was taken until today.

Tillman Trial Closes Today

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 14.—The jury in the trial of James H. Tillman listened to arguments by counsel throughout Tuesday. Contrary to the program agreed upon, the arguments to the jury were not concluded. The case will not go to the jury before this afternoon.

COAT OF WHITEWASH

For Pittsburgs In Game Which Made Boston Americans Champions

Boston, Oct. 14.—The Boston Americans shut out the Pittsburg Nationals and won the world's baseball championship to the almost frenzied delight of 7000 enthusiasts. The demonstration which followed Dineen's striking out of Hans Wagner in the ninth inning equalled any college football game. The world's champions were borne to their dressing rooms on the shoulders of thousands and the cheering lasted many minutes.

Philippi, who proved such an enigma to the Bostons in the first few games, essayed to pitch for the visitors for the sixth time, but he was not only batted hard but he saw his rival, Dineen, carry off the honors by holding the Nationals down to four scattered hits, which, backed by perfect fielding, prevented a single Pittsburg man getting farther than third base. Dineen struck out seven men and his support by Criger contributed materially to the success of the game. The Bostons made three runs.

In Interest of Good Roads

Boston, Oct. 14.—With a tour of more than 500 miles before them, the members of the Massachusetts highway commission have started on their annual inspection of the state highways. The commission also will examine connecting pieces of town road which are desired by the respective towns shall be converted into state roads, and will hold a series of hearings for additional state roads. The start was made in automobiles.

Arbitrators Uphold Union

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 14.—The state board of arbitration has reported its decision on the price lists introduced in the Winchell factory by the Boot and Shoe Workers' union, and Agent Ham states that on at least 5 percent of the items the union is upheld. The lists were presented in July and the firm refused to accept them. Then the matter went to the state board, under the agreement between the firm and the union.

Deacon Was a Poor Shot

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 14.—Deacon Dexter A. Brigham of Sutton, while trying to put a horse that had broken its leg out of misery, shot Eugene Redlon, 22 years old. Redlon's condition is critical. Deacon Brigham drove to the police station and told of the circumstances of the case. Chief Stone was convinced that the shooting was accidental and allowed Deacon Brigham to go home.

Morelock Changes His Mind

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 14.—At a meeting of the board of aldermen last night it was voted to postpone the hearing on charges recently preferred against Chief of Police Dunbar by Albert F. Morelock until Friday night. In spite of the fact that Morelock has requested that the charges be withdrawn, it is said a thorough investigation will be conducted.

Won Against Handicap

Salem, Mass., Oct. 14.—The first of three heats of a five-mile walking match between Michael Donovan, the world's champion walker, and Ernest M. Campbell, champion negro walker of the world, was won last night by Donovan in 40m. 30⅛s. Donovan allowed his opponent an eighth of a mile handicap and finished two feet in the lead.

Bought by Suburban Trolley

Westboro, Mass., Oct. 14.—The Boston Suburban trolley line swallowed up the Westboro and Hopkinton line at a meeting of the stockholders here. The majority of the directors are also Suburban directors. It is said the new management must hire power and cars and that the line will be run independent of the Marlboro and Westboro line.

To Settle by Arbitration

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 14.—The threatened tieup in the building trades of this city and vicinity was averted last night, when the Master Builders' association voted to accept an agreement with the Carpenters' union to submit the controversy between the organizations to arbitration. A lockout was to have been decared this morning.

Awarded to Barbadoes Puncher

Boston, Oct. 14.—Joe Walcott, in a 15-round fight last night with Kid Carter, was given the decision, although the spectators hooted the referee and demanded a draw. Carter was knocked down twice in the first round and, although after that he put up a stiff fight, Walcott was given the decision on points.

Bad Season For Fishermen

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 14.—The Grand Banks fleet has begun to arrive and with few exceptions they report a discouraging season, fish being very scarce and the weather bad. There are still left on the banks many English, French and American vessels with poor catches after months of hard work.

Valuable Property Burned

Bristol, R. I., Oct. 14.—The burning of the home of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Canfield at Hopeworth caused a total loss of $26,000. The greatest loss, aside from the destroyed dwelling, were diamonds which had a value of about $10,000, and India shawls, pearls and laces valued at over $3000.

Boy Whirled to Death

Bangor, Me., Oct. 14.—Ralph Dinsmore, aged 14, fell upon a rapidly moving belt in a sawmill and whirled a number of times around a pulley before the engine could be stopped. His body was terribly mangled, death occurring instantly.

RAID ON HUB CHINESE

May Develop Into an International Affair

OPINION OF VICE CONSUL

Says China Will Not Permit Boston Episode to Pass Unheeded—Defends Celestials and Suggests Weekly Raids In North End of the City

Boston, Oct. 14.—If the Chinese government acts as Stephen W. Nickerson, the vice consul, anticipates, the raid in Chinatown last Sunday night will develop international complications. He telegraphed to the representatives of the Chinese government at Washington the facts of the raid and later sent to them a more detailed account of the incident. Just what China will do in the matter he does not know; that it will not allow the raid to pass unheeded he is certain. As evidence that the officers acted outside their rights Sunday night he quotes a part of article 4 of the Chinese exclusion laws of 194, which reads: "It is hereby understood and agreed that Chinese laborers or Chinese of any other class either permanently or temporarily residing in the United States shall have for the protection of their persons and property all rights that are given by laws of the United States to citizens of the most favored nation, except the right to become naturalized citizens."

Mr Nickerson said: "The Chinese have been here in Boston for 25 or 30 years. In all that time there had been only one murder of a Chinaman by a Chinaman until last week. There have been one or two other murders of Chinamen, but the deeds have not been committed by Chinamen. The serious assaults, of which there have been a few, have not been committed, save in one instance, by Chinamen. Remembering the very considerable number of Chinese in New England their record for quiet, peaceful, industrious habits and for law abiding conduct is remarkably good.

"While it is true that a few opium smokers can be found, still the vast majority of Chinamen are temperate in every way and are far more cleanly in their mode of life than is generally understood. I ask why such raids have not been made upon members of other races? About one raid a week ought to have been made at the North End upon members of one race if such police methods are justifiable. How long would the British government acquiesce in such methods as the officers of the law pursued last Sunday evening in Chinatown, if British subjects were treated as the Chinese were then?

"If the law authorizing the deportation of the Chinese who are illegally here is enforced by legal methods and in a proper manner, no objection would be made by me or by any other representative of the Chinese government, but illegal methods will not be passed unnoticed and will probably meet their answer upon the other side of the world."

Others have also expressed their disapproval of the action, among them Winslow Warren, who says: "In my opinion the same authorities would not have dared to treat in that summary manner a like number of any other foreigners, or American citizens."

One of the Chinamen who was in the barge which capsized Sunday night received injuries which made the authorities at the time willing to permit him to return to his home. Later it was found that two ribs were broken and he was removed to the city hospital. Meantime the man's friends produced his certificate of registration.

It is said at the hospital that the man is resting comfortably, that he is not on the dangerous list and that complete recovery is anticipated.

Services for the late John A. Foote, of Augusta, Me., which will be conducted by Rev. W. A. Mayo, of the West Quincy M. E. church, will be held at 7 o'clock this evening at the home of Hiram W. Campbell, Copeland street. The body will then be taken to Maine for burial.

The alarm from Box 443 at 5.03 P M., Tuesday, called the department to a house on West street occupied by a German family. It seems that the family built a wood fire in the stove and closed all the drafts. The result was that the house was filled with smoke leading to the belief that the house was on fire.

Woman Killed on Crossing.

At the crossing near Weymouth Heights Tuesday evening, Mrs. Mary Andrews of North Weymouth was struck by a locomotive and instantly killed. The body was thrown about 75 feet and terribly injured. Mrs. Andrews was the wife of David Andrews of Green street, aged 56 years, and leaves three sons and two daughters. Medical Examiner Fraser viewed the body.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turn out right in front of the Hall.

The floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts.

The Hall is lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The heating is direct—indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are nine (9) doors opening from the Hall and five (5) separate exits.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish a large and really first class Hall.

The Management will be glad to book dates now for the season of 1903-1904.

ON THE PACIFIC OCEAN

Will Be Settled Strife For Commercial Supremacy

SAXON AND SLAV RIVALRY

Will Result In Appropriation of China by Russia—United States a Factor In the Problem, With More at Stake Than Any Other Nation

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—At the first session of the Methodist Episcopal convention, held last night, addresses were made by Bishop Foss, the presiding officer, and Bishop Fowler of Buffalo. The latter's address was the feature of the evening. He took for his subject: "The place of missions in the world's movements." He said that the trend of the age is Godward and that the storm centre of the world was the Pacific.

"Asia cradles three-quarters of mankind," he said, "and with new blood monopolizing her highways with rival leaders, the Saxon and Slav, fighting with their backs to the North sea and the Arctic ocean, it is impossible for the imagination to measure her importance. China is the supreme hypocrite of all the races and of all the ages. This moral mummy is embalmed and wrapped in superstitions four thousand years old and more than ten thousand layers deep. The problem with China is this:

"Which way is she going? She may change dynasties, she may come under the control of some foreign power, but she will not cease to be. The yellow race will remain the menace of the world and is the world's problem for the twentieth century."

Speaking of the missionary work to be done in the east Bishop Fowler touched upon events in the Orient. He said: "Russia is the coming power. We are up against an inexorable proposition. If Russia appropriates and assimilates China we are face to face with the most powerful empire ever known among men. If such a power rises in Europe and Asia nothing is impossible to it.

"Establish the czar's authority in Pekin, then the absorption of India will only be a matter of waiting. The Russian empire then, extending from the Polar sea to the Indian ocean and from Germany to the Yellow sea, and controlling half of the human race, will put Europe in greater peril than it ever was in the days of the mogul empire."

Bishop Fowler said that England in the impending struggle stands as the bulwark of liberty and the defender of Christianity. He said the United States is another factor in this problem.

"We have more at stake than any other nation," said he. "Today we face Europe, tomorrow we shall face Asia. Today San Francisco's harbor is our back door. Tomorrow the Golden Gate will be our front door and Europe will be behind us. Sooner or later we shall confront Russia. The strife of all time will be to decide whether the commerce of the Pacific, which will be the bulk of the world's commerce, which will mean the dominating power of the world, shall be Russian or American; whether the Pacific, with its interests, shall be for absolutism or liberty."

News From European Sources

London, Oct. 14.—The Che Foo correspondent of The Daily Mail reports the continued noticeable exodus of Chinese and Japanese residents from Mancharia, where the Russians are displaying marked military activity.

A dispatch from Pekin to the same paper says in well informed Japanese quarters it is asserted that Japan will not calmly accept the present situation. Russia has suggested that the maintenance of the legation guards in Pekin is no longer necessary.

The Times correspondent at Tokio telegraphs that the Japanese residents of Wiju, Korea, alarmed at the movements of the Russian soldiers, have sent away their wives and children.

Italian Sympathy With Japan

Rome, Oct. 14.—Instructions have been cabled to the commander of the protected cruiser Puglia, now on her way from Callao to San Francisco, to join the Italian far eastern squadron, which now consists of one armored cruiser and two protected cruisers. The commander of the squadron has received instructions to protect Italian interests in China in the event of a Russo-Japanese war. The sympathy of the majority of Italians appears to be on the side of Japan.

American Ships as Spectators

Washington, Oct. 14.—Because of necessary repairs the cruiser New Orleans has arrived at Yokohama for overhauling. Care will be taken by Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic fleet, in the movements of his vessels, that the United States may not have even the appearance of a desire to become involved in the Russo Japanese quarrel. The American fleet, however, in the event of a war between these two nations will be a close observer of the conflict.

Has Settled $12,000,000 In Debt

Cleveland, Oct. 14.—At a meeting of the creditors of the Everett-Moore syndicate, which became financially embarrassed in January of last year, it was decided to grant an extension of 18 months on all outstanding obligations. Debts amounting to $12,000,000 have been liquidated. The outstanding debts of the syndicate now aggregate less than $3,000,000.

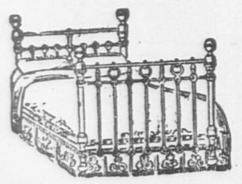
UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

WOULD BE A FRAUD

To Pay 15 Cents for Faxon Road Lot.

Say the Atlantic Petitioners.

Who Favor the Blackwell Lot for New Schoolhouse.

The signers of the petition recently sent to the City Council, praying that the lot of land at the corner of Sagamore and Prospect streets be purchased for a school lot, held an indignation meeting at Music hall, Atlantic, Wednesday evening to protest against the purchase of the lot on Faxon road and to express their indignation at the way in which their petition had been turned down by the City Council.

About seventy-five citizens were present, and the City Council, especially the members of that body from Ward Six, were severely scored for their shortcomings.

None of the Ward Councilmen were present, but Ward One was represented by Councilman Bass, Ward Three by Councilmen Piper and Johnson, and Ward Four by Councilman Hughes.

Ex-Senator Sprague was present and got in a rap at the present administration.

Thomas D. Borst called the meeting to order and, after reading the call sent to the signers of the petition, said that the petition was signed by 317 persons of whom 194 were voters. The meeting was then organized with W. F. Cummings as chairman and H. K. Young secretary.

Mr. Cummings, in opening the meeting, said all were interested in school questions. The public hearing held to talk over sites was known to but few until after it was held. He felt indignant that notice of that hearing had not been widely spread that all might be heard. He also felt indignant that no opportunity had been given the petitioners to be heard, and that so largely a signed petition had been turned down. Our duty is to see if we can not do something. Let us show the Council that we are not negligent in these matters.

W. F. Blake said he was present, first, because he believed the Sagamore street lot the best; and second, because he did not like the way the petition was turned down.

He saw no reason for doing so. We had been told we could have what we wanted. We supposed we would be given a hearing, but had heard nothing until he saw in the Ledger that the order for the purchase of the Faxon road lot had passed its second reading without an opposing vote.

It is simply a question whether we have any rights, and will stand by them. There should be something done to show we want the Sagamore street lot. Our representatives have not done as they should. They should take some action, and if they will not, then send some one to represent us better than those now in office.

E. L. Wade felt petitioners were not being treated just fairly. It seemed to him that the Council could not have understood the question. When we are to have a building we ought to have a right to say where it should be located. When we consider that we are compelled to pay fifteen cents a foot for a lot that is taxed for two cents a foot, we ought to insist upon being heard. When public servants sit still and vote with the majority, we ought to insist that they defer action in the purchase of this lot.

W. T. Bonner said it appeared to him that there must be something radically wrong somewhere. He had been told by a councilman if we did not take this we would not get any. He thought if the matter was brought to the City Council in the way we propose to, he did not see how they can ignore us. He did not think Council understood it. We must put it before the City Council in such shape that they would be compelled to go into the matter.

Ex-Senator Sprague said, if only the selection of a lot was to be considered, he would have no right to speak. All good citizens are interested if the Council are to buy a lot the people do not want and pay seven times its value. As far as he was able to learn there was no property in Quincy taxed for less than its value. There must be some "wooling" if the city is to pay six or seven times what land is taxed for. The question of public schools in Quincy is a serious one. It was a disgrace to Quincy. It was not the intention of the authorities to build many schoolhouses. Very likely the appropriation will be made and money used to pay our bills. He believed public sentiment should be aroused all over the city. If it is the intention of the authorities to keep down the tax rate and raise salaries then we will not get any schoolhouses.

Mr. Kolseth asked if the Councilmen from Ward Six had been invited to be present. He was informed that they had not.

Mr. Kolseth then said that the Sagamore lot would improve the approaches to Atlantic and would mean considerable to the city. He would like to know what we elect members to the City Council for, if not to represent the ward. He did not realize what taxation was until he came to Quincy.

John S. Vogler thought all points had been touched upon. As a business proposition the city should get the value for their money.

Mr. Bonner moved a committee of three be appointed to draw up resolutions. The chair appointed W. T. Bonner, George H. Bean and John S. Vogler.

Horatio Nelson said it would cost 25 cents a foot to grade the Faxon road lot. We signed a petition and it was put to sleep. He also spoke of what a good lot the Duggan lot would be.

Dr. F. J. Peirce had not been for either lot, but he did not approve the Faxon road lot.

W. C. Cherrington thought if school was built on Duggan lot it would be most desirable.

B. F. Thomas—The city wants 50,000 feet for a lot and the Duggan lot was not large enough.

Arthur Priest thought it funny the city should buy another lot when they already have a lot large enough for two buildings.

Councilman Bass when called upon, said he came for information and did not think that he should express himself as he would be called upon to vote on the question.

The committee on resolutions then read its report which was adopted with only three dissenting votes, as follows:

Whereas, the Honorable Council has seen fit to utterly ignore or lay on the shelf the petition signed by three hundred and seventeen (317) residents of Ward Six, and representing a large majority of the voters' strength of the first precinct of said ward; that the lot of land at the corner of Sagamore and Prospect streets be purchased for the location of the new school house. It is resolved:

First: That we do hereby protest against the neglect of the Council in not according our petition a hearing:

Second: That we protest against the Council's taking any further action tending towards the purchase of the Faxon road and Squantum street property, and request that such action be indefinitely postponed for the following reasons:

1st: The location of Faxon road and Squantum street is not as accessible to he majority of school children of precinct one as the Sagamore street location.

2d: That it is a matter of record that the estate and property at the corner of Faxon road and Squantum street was and is assessed for less than two cents per foot; and the payment of more than seven times that amount for the property will be a fraud on the residents and taxpayers of the whole city.

That it is a well known fact that property adjoining, with same street frontage can be purchased for about one-half the amount voted for the purchase of the contemplated location.

3d: That the Faxon road and Squantum street location will require extensive grading and filling thereby rendering it less desirable and more expensive.

4th: That the Sagamore street property is more valuable, but can be purchased for the same amount; i- assessed for fourteen and one-half (14 1-2) cents per foot, and can be purchased for fifteen (15) cents; that the adjoining property is assessed and is worth twenty-five cents per foot; that the grading material is already on the premises, thereby rendering it a more valuable, cheaper and accessible location than the Faxon road and Squantum street property.

Therefore, be it resolved: That it is the sense of this meeting:

First: That the Honorable Council has been misinformed, deceived and mislead by certain of its members as to the value of and desirability of the Squantum street and Faxon road property.

Second: That reasons of economy and accessibility suggest the purchase of the Sagamore street property.

Further be it resolved: That we here assembled do individually and collectively pledge ourselves to oppose the reelection of such of our representatives as may neglect to inform themselves of the true state of affairs, and who connive or permit the unloading of the Faxon road and Squantum street property upon the citizens of Quincy at the contemplated price.

We further urge and suggest the purchase of the Sagamore street property.

Walter Hill suggested that it be sent to the City Council by some member outside this ward so it would not be pigeonholed.

It was then voted that Councilman Piper be requested to present the resolutions to the Council.

The meeting then adjourned.

THREE WEDDINGS.

Miss Pauline Louise Jones Becomes Wife of Walter Preston Ela.

After a week of rain and bad weather came a most perfect fall day. One would not ask for a clearer, warmer or more pleasant day than Wednesday; a day to make a bride happy in the thoughts of the future days to come. A fine evening followed a perfect day and the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jones on Saville avenue, was brilliant with light and flowers for the wedding of their daughter, Pauline Louise and Mr. Walter Preston Ela, son of Mr. Levi C. Ela, of Wollaston.

Only the immediate family were present at the ceremony which was solemnized at half after seven, by Rev. William E. Gardner, of Christ church. The bridal party stood in a bay window which was banked with potted plants and vines. The bride was attended by two bridesmaids; Miss Bertha H. Packard of Quincy and Miss Clara Louise Ela, of Wollaston. Mr. Louis B. Ela, brother of the groom was best man and the ushers were Mr. Henry P. Miller of Quincy and Mr. Warren Nelson of Atlantic. Mrs. Charles H. Brooks played the wedding march, the familiar strains of Lohengren's wedding march announcing the coming of the bride.

The color effect of the bridal party was charming. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine over cream taffetta silk and trimmed with lace. The veil was caught with bride roses and she carried a large bouquet of the same. Miss Packard's gown was a green silk muslin over white taffeta, and Miss Ella's a white organdie with pink ribbon trimmings. Both carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The color scheme of the bridal party, green, white and pink was carried out in the floral decorations of the house, palms, asparagus vine and pink and white chrysanthemums being used profusely.

The dining room was in green, with white roses, the hall in asparagus vine and pink chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held from eight until ten, with nearly two hundred attending. The young people were assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Jones, the bride's parents, and the groom's father, Mr. Ela.

A wedding supper was served, and there was a beautiful display of wedding gifts.

As the bride passed up the stairs to prepare for going away she threw her bouquet down to her friends grouped at the foot, so that many now have a rose; a sweet remembrance of a sweet, lovable bride.

The going away of Mr. and Mrs. Ela, was made lively with rice, old shoes and a handsomely trimmed carriage, all showing the thoughtfulness of their young friends.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Ela are to reside on Faxon avenue, where they will receive their friend after December first.

McBeth—Matheson.

Mr. John William McBeth of Quincy and Miss Mary Matheson of Boston were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. W. Barr.

The bride was prettily attired in a dress of white brocade. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie McBeth, sister of the groom. Mr. R. McPherson was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. McBeth will reside in Quincy and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Parsons—MacLennan.

Miss Margaret MacLennan, daughter of Mr. Alexander McLennan, and Mr. Archibald Parsons, were united in marriage Wednesday evening by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy.

Miss Effie Ann McLennan of Melrose was bridesmaid and Mr. George H. Davey was best man. The ushers were Mr. Thomas H. Parsons and Mr. James H. Davey.

The bride was gowned in white muslin trimmed with white satin ribbon, insertion and lace and pearls. She wore a bridal veil, and carried white carnations.

TWO OF A NAME.

But One Is a Fraud and Missing.

While the Other Needs Money.

The Missing Craig Was Employed at Shipyard.

By a letter containing a check for $450, payable to David Craig, a Quincy plumber, being delivered to a man by the same name who is a ship fitter employed at the Fore River works, someone is out that amount.

The check which was signed by Delcevare King, treasurer of the Quincy Real Estate Trust, was mailed Monday from the Boston office, and was in payment for plumbing work done on the new Hancock block in City Square.

The letter went to David Craig at the Fore River Works, who presented it at the National Granite Bank on Wednesday for payment.

The bank officials refused to honor the check until Craig was identified.

Craig then went out and found Officer Bradley, who does duty at the Fore River section, who knew him, and the officer accompanied Craig to the bank.

The money was handed over and Craig has since been among the missing.

In the meantime the Mr. Craig for whom the check was intended was anxiously waiting for his money, which had been promised him Monday. He notified the Trust Co. by letter, and they promptly rang up the bank by telephone, and informed them that the check had gone astray and to stop payment.

The answer came back that the check had been presented and cashed a short time before.

The police are now looking for the Craig who cashed the check.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Edward Atkinson has discovered that swamp mud, properly prepared, is a satisfactory substitute for coal. Mr. Atkinson is at his best when letting politics alone and occupying his mind wiih these harmless experiments.—Kansas City Journal.

☞Harry Baker who calls himself the "king of clairvoyants," has been arrested in Chicago and will be brought to Boston. Curious, isn't it, how these chaps, who can tell everybody else how to find things and dodge things, never seem to get valuable personal information much sooner than the general run of humanity.—Evening News.

☞Lucille Eaton Hill, the physical instructor at Wellesley, thinks that basket ball is injurious to girls under the college age, and that then it should be played only under the most careful professional supervision. Wonder if she would bar ping-pong, which also possesses some possibilities of strenuosity.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞Why not retire the word "strenuous" for a time? Surely the country is getting tired of it. It has been bandied about with a disregard for sensitive eyes and ears that has rendered it hateful. Let its synonyms do their duty for a while. Do not make their vacation perpetual. Just because we have a president who is, or likes to be thought, "strenuous," is no reason why we should make that naturally unoffending word an eyesore and an earsore. Printed or spoken, it has grown to be quite as great a bore as "Hiawatha."—Savannah News.

☞That a state which has increased in population as Rhode Island should have many adopted citizens, was, of course, to be expected, but it was hardly to be assumed that the candidates of both the leading parties in the same year would all be outsiders by birth. It happens, however, that the candidates for Governor and lieutenant governor, nominated by the Republicans are natives of New Jersey, while the candidates at the head of the Democratic ticket were born in Tennessee and Canada, respectively, a circumstance which leads the Providence Journal to remark, pleasantly, that New England is being "invaded" from every corner of the universe.—Manchester (N. H.) Union.

☞All around through this State and Rhode Island are prevailing the sneak thieves and the burglars, and the work they are doing shows that the business is profitable, and fairly safe in some cases. The sneak thief especially is infesting the district, and in spite of the fact that many of them have been arrested and that they are being sentenced to long terms in some cases, other men and boys continue to spring up to take the places of the men found guilty. The habit of getting along without work has fastened itself on a good many young fellows in this State, and they will take any chance and go to any length in the way of danger rather than take a job and earn an honest living. It would seem as though the laws against the idle and disorderly could be brought to bear to get some of these people out of the way and bring about a reform among others.—Brockton Enterprise.

Despair Drove Her Insane

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth Brady had a comfortable little house on Main street from which she had to flee when the waters began to rise. She returned to her home last evening for the first time since the flood and found it a ruin. The sight of her desolated home drove her violently insane. It took the combined strength of five men to restrain her and take her to a hospital.

Porte to Fulfill Promises

Sofia, Oct. 15.—After correspondence with the Macedonian refugees through the Bulgarian government the sultan has promised a general amnesty, and funds in aid of rebuilding their homesteads if the fugitives return to Macedonia. The refugees have consented on condition of their repatriation being under foreign control.

BURIED ALIVE.

Fatal Accident to Italian Employed on the Sewer.

There was a serious accident at Edison Park Wednesday afternoon which resulted in the death of one man and the injury of three others. The man killed was Peter Scaio, an employe of Contractor O'Connell, who is building the Quincy Point section of the sewer.

On Edison park there was a large pile of clay and dirt that had been taken from the sewer trench. The pile is at least fifteen feet high.

Wednesday a gang of men were engaged in carting this away. They were at work on the Washington street side of the pile and it is reported that the contractor's son sent some men to the top to level it off. It was while they were at work that several tons of it slipped and went crashing down onto four men who were at work below.

Scaio was completely buried under the slide and the other men were buried above the knees.

Scaio's voice could be heard beneath the pile of dirt and willing hands were soon hard at work shovelling him out. This was soon accomplished, but when he was taken out he was dead.

The other men received more or less bruises but none were so seriously injured but what they will recover.

Medical Examiner Jones who viewed the remains, which were removed to Hall's undertaking rooms, found that both arms had been broken and that his chest and body was badly crushed.

But little is known of the Italian, other than he belonged in Boston.

SLUGGER'S "SECRET"

Did Not Save Him From Sentence of at Least Five Years In Prison

Boston, Oct. 15.—Disregarding the prisoner's plea for clemency on the ground that he was in possession of a secret which, if he was allowed to develop it and apply for a patent, would net him a large fortune, the court sentenced William Epps, a negro, to a term of from five to nine years in state prison for assault and robbery on women. He admitted that he had served time before for a similar offense. The crimes of which Epps was accused were quite common prior to his first conviction, ceased while he was in jail, and became common again once he was freed, only to cease when he was again arrested.

Bride Shot Wedding Guest

Providence, Oct. 15.—Accidentally shot by a bride upon her wedding day, C. M. Bassett, aged 22, is dangerously wounded. Mrs. Nell Donahue pointed a revolver at Bassett and playfully pulled the trigger. The bullet struck the man in the forehead. Mrs. Donahue is prostrated as a result of the incident. No arrest has been made. Bassett and his wife came here from Newton, Mass., to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Donahue. Mrs. Donahue did not know the weapon was loaded.

The Warring Shoemakers

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 15.—It is announced that the Boot and Shoe Workers' union of this city will inaugurate a campaign along the same lines as that now being conducted in Lynn against the Shoe Workers' Protective union, an independent organization. The campaign, it is said, will be a retaliatory measure against the latter, which has opposed the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and union stamp manufacturers since last spring.

Attempt to Wreck Train

Coldbrook Springs, Mass., Oct. 15.—A mail train on the Boston and Maine railroad struck a boulder weighing 400 pounds on the track one mile east of Coldbrook station at 6:52 last night. The boulder was placed on the track at the end of a curve at a place where there is a 10-foot embankment. The engine split the boulder, hurling the larger part down the embankment and passing over the other part. The pilot was broken.

Wants of Union Veterans

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 15.—Resolutions were passed by the Massachusetts department, Union Veterans' Union, favoring the enactment by congress of a service pension bill for all soldiers and sailors who served in the union army and to secure the passage by the legislature of a bill to place markers on the graves of all soldiers and sailors of this state. Colonel James Dammers of Haverhill was elected department commander.

Thrifty Green Mountaineers

Poultney, Vt., Oct. 15.—According to the report of the state superintendent of finance for the past year Vermont savings banks not only show a gain of more than $2,500,000 in deposit, but the banks have nearly 6000 more depositors than for the previous year. The report covers the year ending June 30 from the 22 savings banks and trust companies in the state and show total deposits amounting to $44,628,148.77.

Bullet In Groom-to-Be

Boston, Oct. 15.—Ambrose Grant, 24 years old, who was to have been married last night to Miss Nellie Sullivan, was found in a room at the South station last night with a bullet wound in his side. According to Grant's bride-to-be Grant purchased the revolver on Tuesday to protect their wedding presents against raids by burglars. The manner in which the wound was inflicted has not been explained.

Boston Boy In Bad Company

Boston, Oct. 15.—Charles Wescott, 15 years old, who is under arrest at Bangor, Me., charged with being implicated with a negro named DeCosta in rifling offering boxes in Catholic churches, disappeared from his home in this city early in August. On Aug. 16 he was reported to the police as missing. The present case is not the first experience young Wescott has had in running away from home.

Wandered Into Swamp and Died

Maynard, Mass., Oct. 15.—The body of Charles Usher, aged 41, was found in a swamp near this place by three boys who were duck shooting. Several weeks ago Usher was severely injured by an electric car and since that time has suffered from a nervous trouble. It is supposed that he wandered into the swamp and was drowned.

Sentenced to Death

Hartford, Oct. 15.—In the superior court Paul Missik was found guilty of murder in the first degree and was sentenced by Judge Wheeler to be hanged on Feb. 11. Missik quarreled with and shot a fellow-workman, Charles O'Brien. The dispute arose over 36 cents which Missik claimed O'Brien owed to him.

Missionary Workers Gather

Boston, Oct. 15.—Stories of work in foreign missionary fields were told by men and women who have labored there at the annual meeting of the New England branch of the Womans' Foreign Missionary society. It was voted to appropriate $30,000 to continue the work now under way.

Seventeen Were Lost

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 15.—A cablegram has been received from Fayal in confirmation of the loss of the whaling schooner Joseph Manta and 17 men and in addition giving the names of the crew, all of whom were lost. The crew were all natives of the Azores.

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

This kind of weather is appreciated.

Thomas Sheahan is building a house on Crescent street.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Dion leave tomorrow upon their annual gunning trip to Canada.

St. Francis court of Foresters will hold a grand ball at St. Mary's hall Thanksgiving eve.

Granite Conclave, I. O. H., held a dance at Hancock hall Tuesday evening. Robinson's orchestra furnished music.

Miss Carrie Louise Holly, who has sung very acceptably for two Sundays at the Wollaston Congregational church, will sing again on Sunday.

W. G. Shaw has had so many customers this week that he has given away all the pretty cups and saucers he offered for coupons published in the Quincy Daily Ledger.

A new way of smuggling was recently unearthed in Bristol, Conn. A clerk employed in a wholesale house there had a bail of hay consigned to him, sent from Nova Scotia. On examining the bail a roll of expensive broadcloth was found in the center of it.

MILTON.

Milton has not had an alarm of fire since August 13.

The storekeepers at East Milton have decided to close their stores on Thursdays at noon during the month of October.

The Young Men's club of the Baptist church of East Milton held an entertainment and social Wednesday evening.

Charles Copeland received a large consignment of apples from Maine this week to be manufactured into cider.

Once more Adams street is being dug up; this time it is for the town sewer.

The interior of the new Mission of Our Saviour church is being plastered this week. The church will be ready for dedication next month.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turn out right in front of the Hall.

The floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts.

The Hall is lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The heating is direct—indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are nine (9) doors opening from the Hall and five (5) separate exits.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish a large and really first class Hall.

The Management will be glad to book dates now for the season of 1903-1904.

ETONIA ARTISTS

Open the Bethany Brotherhood Course Very Auspiciously.

The first entertainment in the Brotherhood course was given at the Bethany chapel Wednesday evening. It was a most decided success from an artistic and a financial point of view. The Etonia artists,—Miss Jenny Trecartin, soprano, Miss Rosa Weidhorn, violinist, Miss Annie Louise Berry, pianist and Mr. David, impersonator, gave a fine program. Every number was enthusiastically applauded and the artists were most generous in responding to encores. Some of their most attractive selections were thus rendered.

Miss Trecartin has a very pleasing voice and an attractive presence. Her higher notes were unusually full and sweet. Miss Berry appeared to best advantage in the odd and dainty Elfen Tanz, and the new Russian march, by Rebikoff, which she played with much power. In response to a well-earned encore she played a brilliant selection with her left hand. This interesting performance won renewed applause and gave decided proof of her ability and versatility. Miss Rosa Weidhorn commanded instant appreciation of her fine powers as a violinist. Her selections were well calculated to interest both the classic and the popular taste. Her technique and fineness of tone were especially notable.

A lighter touch was added to the evening's entertainment by the readings of Mr. David, although some of his selections made his hearers doubtful, whether his pathos is not indeed equal to his humor. His rendering of a selection in musical recitative, with accompaniment by Miss Berry was very funny, and a Good-night after the same fashion was delightfully given. On the whole, however, we think "The Hero of Waterloo" was his best number.

The concert closed with a spirited rendering of Arditi's "Se Saran Rosa" by Miss Trecartin, with violin obligato by Miss Weidhorn.

A RETURN BANQUET

Tendered by British Honourables to Their American Hosts

Boston, Oct. 15.—Guests for almost a fortnight of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Massachusetts, the Honourable Artillery company of London last night transformed themselves into hosts, and on the eve of their departure for England they tendered to those who have welcomed them to America a brilliant banquet.

In the ballroom of Hotel Somerset 500 or more persons sat down to dinner. The ballroom itself was most appropriately decorated for the occasion. A reception was held first, and then the company, which included many of the most prominent citizens of the commonwealth, marched to the banquet hall.

The post-prandial exercises were opened by the Earl of Denbigh, commander of the Honourable Artillery company, who proposed a toast to King Edward VII. He then read a cablegram from King Edward, conveying his best thanks to Colonel Hedges and the members of the Ancient and Honorable company for their kindness and hospitality. The toastmaster also read a letter from President Roosevelt giving utterance to the universal feeling of our people in welcoming the visitors to American soil.

In his various speeches, Colonel Denbigh paid a notable tribute to the American press and he emphasized his belief that the visit of his command to the United States meant the promotion and preservation of a great and lasting friendship between England and America. The dinner closed a day of sightseeing in Boston and vicinity, which included a visit to the Country club at Brookline, and this afternoon the visitors will sail for home on the steamship Columbus.

Jockey Killed on Race Track

New York, Oct. 15.—During the running of the sixth race at Brighton beach the start of the 18 horses was fair, but before the field had gone half a mile Sonomo Bell, ridden by Furman, made an attempt to go up on the rail and in doing so was shut off and stumbled and fell. Clytie, with Frank Miller in the saddle, stumbled over Sonomo Bell. Miller was thrown heavily and died in a few moments. An examination showed the print of a horse's hoof on his chest.

A Single-Handed Murder

Randolph, Vt., Oct. 15.—The investigation into the circumstances surrounding the murder of Ephraim Root has convinced the officers that the assailant had no accomplice and they will now direct all their attention toward strengthening the evidence against Joseph Bean, who is under arrest charged with the crime. The autopsy showed that Root had been dealt three heavy blows on the head, any one of which probably would have caused death.

Movement of Coastwise Fleet

Boston, Oct. 15.—The congestion in the coastwise shipping by reason of the long drawn out storm of last week and the first of this has been relieved by clearing weather and the wind shifting to the westward. No less than 56 schooners sailed from this port alone yesterday, while 51 left Vineyard Haven and 19 sailed from Salem.

Well Contested Trotting Match

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 15.—The six fastest heats ever trotted in one race failed to produce a winner in the rich McDowell stake. The race is for the 2:10 class trotting purse of $5000. Two heats have been won by Monte Carlo, Hawthorne and Dr. Strong each. The deciding heat was postponed on account of darkness.

Boundary Decision Not Ready

London, Oct. 15.—No decision on the Alaskan boundary is expected to be given before Monday, but it is understood that each side will occupy the adjournment for private conferences with the object of determining what their ultimate position will be and how far it is possible to go towards a compromise.

No Bids to Raise Maine Wreck

Havana, Oct. 15.—The bids for undertaking the removal of the wreck of the Maine are due, but none has been presented. George Richardson of Chicago sent an offer by mail to remove the wreck at his own cost, but as he did not send the required quarantee of $2500 his proposition was not considered.

Great Improvement In Speed

Newport, R. I., Oct. 15.—During a test of a new turbine speeding machine in a Whitehead torpedo a maximum speed equal to 35 knots an hour was developed in a 800-yard run. By the machine now in use a speed of 29 knots has been reached, 6 knots slower than the turbine.

Tillman Verdict Not Rendered

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 15.—Early this morning the members of the Tillman jury were reported asleep in the court room, which had been cleared of spectators for their use. A verdict is expected some time today.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A soldiers' monument was dedicated at Plainville, Mass., with appropriate exercises. There was a parade of the Grand Army and Sons of Veterans organizations from several surrounding towns.

A resolution to boycott the state militia was defeated in the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

A gain in membership of 410 members and 10 lodges is shown by the report of the grand secretary of the Vermont lodge of Good Templars.

JAPAN PREDICTS PEACE

Meanwhile Russian Troops Are Being Rapidly Mobilized

London, Oct. 15.—A Tokio dispatch to The Times says that the Russo-Japanese negotiations are proceeding there and there is no reason at present to apprehend any but a peaceful issue.

The Times correspondents in Russia send elaborate accounts of military preparations and the hurrying of troops to the far east. They state that two army corps with an aggregate of 100,000 men are being mobilized and dispatched through Siberia in all haste. It is stated that the war ministry has already demanded an extra credit of 25,000,000 roubles for these preparations.

Reserve officers are being refused passports abroad and there seems no doubt, says The Times, that the postponement of the czar's visit to Italy is as much due to the far eastern crisis as to the Socialists.

A Struggle For Supremacy

New York, Oct. 15.—All other features of the political campaign are overshadowed in interest by the almost positive assurance that the factional Democratic fight in Brooklyn will be continued and that peace between the McLaughlin faction and Tammany Hall is as far distant as ever. This was made apparent when McClellan declined an invitation to attend the Brooklyn ratification meeting unless the full Democratic ticket was endorsed and when Senator McCarren called at Tammany headquarters to express his approval of McClellan's course.

Novel Method of Swindling

Boston, Oct. 15.—William F. Vorkey, convicted recently of the larceny of about $1400 from Italian customers of the American Express company, was ordered committed to the Massachusetts reformatory. It was found that when ever an Italian came to the office to send money home to Italy he was given a receipt for the money handed in, but usually a cipher was dropped from the amount, so that the Italian in the mother country got but one-tenth of that which was forwarded.

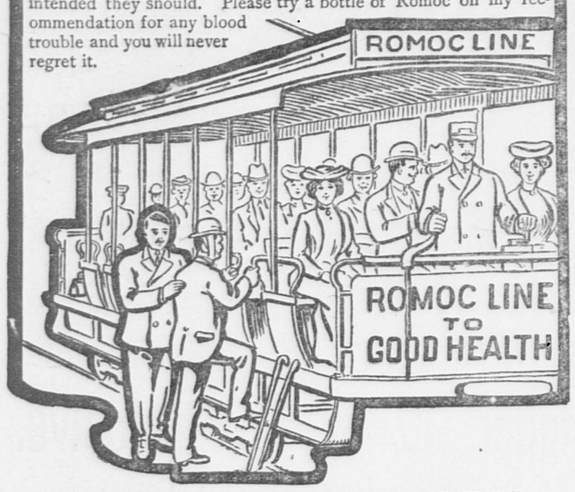
ROMOC

GET RIGHT ABOARD.

There is plenty of room for everybody to reach the land of good health via the Romoc line. The Romoc man says, "There is no need of glandular swellings, facial eruptions, abscesses, tumorous, or cancerous growths, and if you suffer from such it is your own fault." Just start right in and do what thousands have done. Take Romoc. Man never invented anything that could equal it as a blood purifier. Romoc is Nature's own remedy, uncontaminated by poisonous drugs or alcohol. When it cures, it cures permanently. It does not irritate; it does not break down flesh tissue. The mission of Romoc is to build up, give strength and make rich, red blood, and to enable all the organs of the body to act as Nature intended they should. Please try a bottle of Romoc on my recommendation for any blood trouble and you will never regret it.



Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.

We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by

CITY BREVITIES.

It is reported at Atlantic that President Alden of the City Council will not be a candidate for reelection.

Councilman-at-large Thomas W. Smith of Ward three will not be a candidate for relection this year.

Richard Graham of Johnson & Brooks, stable took an active part in rescuing the horses at the fire Tuesday night.

The new houses being erected by J. W. Pratt on Washington street opposite Mill street are well along toward completion.

Registration for the State election has closed. Under the new law names which have been dropped cannot be restored.

The Quincy Beef Co. report that the large quantity of beef in their ice house was in no way damaged by the fire Tuesday night.

The ladies of the Washington Street church are noted for their good suppers and a "square meal" is assured at their harvest supper this evening.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Harold B. Faxon and his picture and description have been sent broadcast. The young man is among the missing.

There was a large attendance of ladies on Wednesday at the annual meeting of Bethany circle at the residence of Mrs. John F. Welch on Hancock street. Mrs. Welch was reelected president, and the following officers were unanimously elected: Vice president, Mrs. W. E. Blanchard; secretary, Mrs. George E. Hatch; treasurer, Mrs. Charles W. Guy.

Miss Esther Beckford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Beckford of Washington street, celebrated her ninth birthday Wednesday afternoon. She received many beautiful presents. Among those attending were: Mary Frances Tracy, Helen Maria Damon, Dorothy Parker Lowe, Esther Helen Dasha, Mildred Hinckley Williams, Edwin William Beal, John James D. Tracy, Wesley Page Beckford. At 6 o'clock supper was served and after that the children enjoyed a lovely hour until 8 o'clock when the little ones departed wishing Miss Esther many happy birthdays.

More School Children.

Charles H. Johnson, who has just completed the census of school children, reports a total of 5884, an increase of 263 over September last year. The gain was wholly in Wards Two, Six, One and Three, in the order named, as Wards Four and Five show loses. Some interesting comparisons will soon be made in the Ledger.

AGAIN A CANDIDATE.

Mayor Bryant Will Make a Personal Sacrifice Because of Urgent Call.

The Ledger has succeeded in what many have failed, in learning the position of Mayor Bryant relative to a renomination for the office of Mayor of the city of Quincy. In an interview with His Honor he authorizes the following statement:

"A very large number of citizens, who do not ordinarily take an interest in city affairs, have been to me and urged me to be a candidate for mayor for the coming year. For some time I hesitated because of the personal sacrifice which I must necessarily make in order to give sufficient of my time to the city to properly conduct its affairs.

"These gentlemen have been good enough to say that they believed my administration of the affairs of the city for the past two years was conducted on strict business principles and that in their opinion the city was getting more for its money than ever before. Whether or not they represent the consensus of opinion I am unable to say.

"However, I have agreed to become a candidate for the nomination, and if elected, I shall be interested in pushing through certain public improvements with which I am familiar and which I should like to see completed, or at least substantially begun upon, before I go out of office."

ODD FELLOWS.

Celebrate Tenth Anniversary of John Hancock Lodge.

That Wollaston has a bright and enthusiastic lodge of Odd Fellows was once more demonstrated Wednesday evening when John Hancock lodge, No. 224, celebrated its tenth anniversary.

Although but ten years old it is a lusty child, and gives great promise for the future. Instituted Oct. 12, 1893, with 17 charter members and 35 new enthusiasts, it has steadily grown until now it numbers 112. During its ten years of existence, the lodge has been extremely fortunate, having lost but four members by death, and of the original charter members twelve still hold their membership.

Following a short session of the lodge, the evening's program was entered upon. Songs were contributed by Messrs. John Ward, Cahill and E. E. Bullock, the last named one of the original members of the lodge. Mr. Taber of Quincy, with the stereopticon's aid, gave an excellent exhibition of local and foreign views. Mr. Cahill was assisted by his three boys "strummed" the banjo to everybody's enjoyment.

Past Grand West made an interesting address on the financial doings of lodge, while Bro. W. J. Battison gave a short resume of the lodge from a historical standpoint.

Following the literary and musical part of the evening's entertainment a collation was enjoyed, after which Past Grand Master Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth, made an address on the work of the order at large. Bro. Cook installed the first officers of the lodge ten years ago, and it seemed eminently fitting that he should once more meet with them and note the prosperity.

Much credit is due the entertainment committee, of which Past Grand G. A. Wardwell is chairman, for the successful carrying out of the work of the evening.

F. A. Hobart Dead.

Hon. Francis A. Hobart for many years one of Braintree's foremost citizens died about 4 P. M. Wednesday, after an illness of a few weeks. He has been moderator of most of the town meetings held in recent years, and was for a great many years prominent in State politics.

THREE WEDDINGS.

The bridesmaid wore a white muslin trimmed with insertion and lace and baby ribbon and carried pink carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony at 16 Franklin street, the bridal party being assisted in receiving by Mr. Charles Munroe and Mr. Thomas Parsons.

The house was decorated with a large wedding bell with a background of fernery, and was arranged by Mrs. John Pierce.

Miss Ethel Haven presided at the piano, and selections were rendered by the Quincy City quartette.

A wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons received many costly gifts. They will be at home after Nov. 15.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turn out right in front of the Hall.

The floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts.

The Hall is lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The heating is direct—indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are nine (9) doors opening from the Hall and five (5) separate exits.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish a large and really first class Hall.

The Management will be glad to book dates now for the season of 1903-1904.

FATHERS' HONOR ROLL

In the Days of Civil War Must Be Kept Unstained

THE SPIRIT OF PATRIOTISM

Should Be Shown In Times of Peace For the Prevention of Corruption In Public Office—President Says Government Rests Upon People

Washington, Oct. 16.—With impressive ceremonies, an equestrian statue of William Tecumseh Sherman was unveiled here in the presence of official Washington, the president at its head, and thousands of veterans, members of the societies of the armies of the Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Potomac. As the two large flags enveloping the statue were drawn aside by W. T. S. Thorndyke, the 9-year-old grandson of the dead chieftain, the cannon of the Fourth artillery boomed a salute and the Marine band struck up the Star Spangled Banner.

Before the unveiling of the statue the president and Lieutenant General Young reviewed the troops participating in the dedication parade from the stand opposite the statue. The president delivered the address of the day, which was frequently interrupted with applause. The president said:

Today we meet together to do honor to the memory to one of the great men whom, in honor of her agony, our nation brought forth for her preservation. The civil war was not only in the importance of the issues at stake and of the outcome the greatest of modern times, but it was also, taking into account its duration, the severity of the fighting, and the size of the armies engaged, the greatest since the close of

There is a peculiar fitness in commemorating the great deeds of the soldiers who preserved this nation, by suitable monuments at the national capital. I trust we shall soon have a proper statue of Abraham Lincoln, to whom more than to any other one man this nation owes its salvation. The living can best show their respect for the memory of the great dead by the way in which they take to heart and act upon the lessons taught by the lives which made these dead men great. Our homage today to the memory of Sherman comes from the depths of our being. We would be unworthy citizens did we not feel profound gratitude toward him, and those like him and under him, who, when the country called in her dire need, sprang forward with such gallant eagerness to answer that call. Their blood and their toil, their endurance and patriotism, have made us and all who come after us forever their debtors. They left us not merely a reunited country, but a country incalculably greater because of its rich heritage in the deeds which thus left it reunited. As a nation we are the greater, not only for the valor and devotion to duty displayed by the men in blue, who won in the great struggle for the Union, but also for the valor and the loyalty toward what they regarded as right of the men in grey; for this war, thrice fortunate above all other recent wars in its outcome, left to all of us the right of brotherhood alike with valiant victor and valiant vanquished.

Moreover, our homage must not only find expression on our lips; it must also show itself forth in our deeds. We of the present, if we are true to the past, must show by our lives that we have learned aright the lessons taught by the men who did the mighty deeds of the past. We must have in us the spirit which made the men of the civil war what they were; which produced leaders such as Sherman; the spirit which gave to the average soldier the grim tenacity and resourcefulness that made the armies of Grant and Sherman as formidable fighting machines as this world has ever seen.

We cannot afford to lose the virtues which made the men of '61 to '65 great in war. No man is warranted in feeling pride in the deeds of the army and navy of the past if he does not back up the army and the navy of the present. If we are farsighted in our patriotism, there will be no letup in the work of building, and of keeping at the highest point of efficiency, a navy suited to the part the United States must hereafter play in the world, and of making and keeping our small regular army, which in the event of a great war can never be anything but the nucleus around which our volunteer armies must form themselves, the best army of its size to be found among the nations.

So much for our duties in keeping unstained the honor roll our fathers made in war. It is of even more instant need that we should show their spirit of patriotism in the affairs of peace. Home duties are the vital duties. The nation is nothing but the aggregate of the families within its border; and if the average man is not hardworking, just, and fearless in his dealings with those about him, then our average of public life will in the end be low. But in addition we need to remember that a peculiar responsibility rests upon the man in public life. We meet in the capital of the nation, in the city which owes its existence to the fact that it is the seat of the National Government. It is well for us in this place, and at this time, to remember that exactly as there are certain homely qualities the lack of which will prevent the most brilliant man alive from being a useful soldier to his country, so there are certain homely qualities for the lack of which in the public servant no shrewdness or ability can atone.

The most successful governments are those in which the average public servant possesses that variant of loyalty which we call patriotism, together with common sense and honesty. We can as little afford to tolerate a dishonest man in the public service as a coward in the army. The murderer takes a single life; the corruptionist in public life, whether he be bribe giver or bribe taker, strikes at the heart of the commonwealth. In every public service, as in every army, there will be wrongdoers, there will occur misdeeds. This can not be avoided; but vigilant watch must be kept, and as soon as discovered the wrongdoing must be stopped and the wrongdoers punished. Remember that in popular government we must rely on the people themselves, alike for the punishment and the reformation. Those upon whom our institutions cast the initial duty of bringing malefactors to the bar of justice must be diligent in its discharge; yet in the last resort the success of their efforts to purge the public service of corruption must depend upon the attitude of the courts and of the juries drawn from the people. Leadership is of avail only so far as there is wise and resolute public sentiment behind it.

In the long run, then, it depends upon us ourselves, upon us the people as a whole, whether this government is or is not to stand in the future as it has stood in the past; and my faith that it will show no falling off is based upon my faith in the character of our average citizenship. The one supreme duty is to try to keep this average high. To this end it is well to keep alive the memory of those men who are fit to serve as examples of what is loftiest and best in American citizenship. Such a man was General Sherman. To very few in any generation is it given to render such services as he rendered; but each of us in his degree can try to show something of those qualities of character upon which, in their sum, the high worth of Sherman rested—his courage, his kindliness, his clean and simple living, his sturdy good sense, his manliness and tenderness in the intimate relations of life, and finally, his inflexible rectitude of soul and his loyalty to all that in this free republic is hallowed and symbolized by the tional flag.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.

A Quincy Man Reported to be Seriously Injured.

Boston papers report that Martin Tainter of Quincy, aged 30 years, is at Worcester hospital suffering from a broken pelvis and three broken ribs. He was struck by a train, on the Boston & Albany railroad, near Jamesville and knocked into a ditch. He was unable to attract attention and remained where he fell 24 hours. He then managed to crawl to a farm house from whence he was taken to the Worcester hospital.

Tainter was walking upon the tracks when struck. He stepped off one track directly in front of a freight train.

A search of the directory and voting lists gives no one in Quincy by that name.

West Quincy vs. Quincy.

The West Quincys opened their basket ball season Thursday evening at St Mary's hall by a game with Quincys, whom they defeated in a fast game by a score of 22 to 2. The Quincys were kept on the defensive during the entire game.

Fell into Good Hands.

Through the honesty of Harry Bates a salesman at Shaw's furniture store, Mrs. James W. Murray recovered $15 that she lost on Thursday. She visited a number of stores in City Square that afternoon, among them Shaw's furniture store. When she arrived home she found that she had lost $15 somewhere. She reported her loss to her husband. Officer Murray, upon visiting Mr. Shaw's store, found that the clerk had found the money and turned it into the office.

Grand Concert.

Canada's crack military band is coming to Quincy on Tuesday next, and will give one of their excellent concerts at Music Hall, under the auspices of Quincy City Band. The fame of the Gordon Highlanders is thoroughly established, as they have visited five hundred cities, and are the greatest and most popular of all the big bands which have toured America. Do not fail to hear them.

Missouri's Trial Trip.

The trial trips of the new battleship Missouri and the protected cruiser Denver will take place on Oct. 20 and 21, respectively. The trials will be held over the Cape Ann course, and the cruisers Buffalo and Chicago, as well as the converted yacht Hist, will be the station ships.

There was a good attendance at the Ladies' Aid Alliance at Wollaston on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Frank Pratt welcomed the members on the new work of the year and dwelt particularly on the three points of Woman's Alliance work: The maintaining of a beautiful and appropriate church home; the keeping up of the social side of the church; and crowning all, the quickening of religious interest.

The fair which is to be held under the auspices of the national organization of the Young People's Religious Union, opens at Copley hall, Boston, Oct. 28, and continues three days. The Wollaston Union is represented by Miss Almira Simmons, who has charge of one of the tables.

HARVEST FESTIVAL.

A Boiled Dinner and All the Fixings Served at Quincy Point.

The women of the Quincy Point church gave their annual harvest festival in the church vestry on Thursday evening. Over one hundred enjoyed a grand good harvest supper at which the boiled dish was prominent. It included well cooked cabbage, potatoes, beats, parsnips, carrots, squash, etc., also baked beans, pies in great variety, some delicious baked Indian pudding, rolls, coffee, etc.

The committee on supper were Mrs. George E. Bailey, Mrs. Rollin H. Newcomb, Mrs. H. D. Adams, Mrs. Bushnell and Miss Etta Lapham.

Following the dinner there was a pleasing entertainment. Mr. Archibald Reddie of the Emerson school contributed several readings which kept the audience in good humor. Mrs. Frank J. Moore, a favorite at Quincy Point gave two solos and responded to encores. She was accompanied by Mr. Herbert Hayden.

In one corner of the vestry was a large display of vegetables and fruit which during the evening were offered at private sale, and later were sold at auction.

The committee who secured this attractive harvest assortment were Mrs. C. W. Newcomb, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. L. A. Turner, Mrs. M. E. Wight and Miss Kate Starbuck.

All vegetables and fruit unsold will be offered by the ladies at private sale.

SWEDISH FAIR.

The Lutherans Have a Large Attendance at Faxon Hall.

The annual fair of the ladies' society of the Swedish Lutheran church opened Thursday evening at Faxon hall with a large attendance. No fair nowadays would be complete without the presence of Henry H. Faxon. He was present at the opening. In his pockets were sundry dollars that got so hot they were burning holes through the cloth. The only relief was to spend them. There were plenty of children and pretty girls present who were willing to aid him in this respect, and for a time trade was lively at the several tables.

Gaily decorated tables were arranged on both sides of the hall. Behind these tables were women anxious to dispose of their goods and so good salesmen were they that many articles were sold.

The women in charge were as follows:

Fancy table—Mrs. B. L. Wallin, Mrs. N. Luddengard, Mrs. Andrew Anderson, Mrs. A. J. Sandberg, Mrs. W. F. Lofgren and Mrs. Herman Hultin.

Candy table—Miss Alice Luddengard, Miss Ellen Nordquist and Miss Esther Vinden.

Flower table—Miss Hanna Johnson, Miss Anna F. Johnson, Miss Nellie Holberg.

Tonics—John A. Nelson, Carl Anderson, Albert Jacobson, Regnar Wallin, Theodore Lumnerberg and Nils Nelson.

Fish pond—Albert Hultin, Robert Johnson, Charles Nelson, Hilding Carlson, J. A. Anderson, Carl Carlson, George Hultin, Nils Luddengard, Anton Nordin, Arthur Nordin and Daniel Wallin.

Ice cream table,—Mrs. Alida Laggergren, Mrs. Alex Norden, Mrs. Ingerberg Nelson, Miss Victoria Nelson, Miss Anna Ducan and Miss Anna Ryden.

The entertainment included selections by the Lutheran orchestra, songs by the church choir and an address by Rev. Elif Peterson of Norwood.

Drift of Opinion.

☞"Socialism is controlled by several fanatics who make their headquarters in New York. Instead of standing for the workingman's interest, it is an exponent of atheism and an enemy of moral and social laws. The rank and file of the party, labor under a misunderstanding. They believe the organization will bring them better living conditions. This is not so. The only difference between Anarchists and Socialists is the superiority of the latter as politicians. They are not as stupid in their workings. Both aim at destruction. Only through the American Federation of Labor can the laboring people receive benefit."—Martha Moore Avery.

Sewer Apportionment.

It is so long since a section of the main sewer was built that people have forgotten what proportion of the cost is assessed upon abutters. Quincy Point people especially are interested. The assessment as fixed by the City Council when the sewer ordinance was accepted was 12 cents per running foot frontage, and six mills per square foot area to a depth of 100 feet.

☞Drinking glasses called tumblers owe their name to the fact that they are the successors of little round silver bowls, so perfectly balanced that whichever way they were tipped about on the table they tumbled into position again, and there remained with the rim upward as if asking to be refilled.

Drugged to Death

Boton, Oct. 16.—Louis Brandt, 38, was robbed and murdered by three men in the vicinity of Faneuil Hall square last night. Found unconscious and being carried along Faneuil Hall square by three men by Patrolman Duncan, Brandt was taken in charge. He died in a patrol wagon while on the way to the relief hospital. No marks of violence were observed on his person there, but Brandt's appearance indicated that death was due to some powerful drug. The police are now endeavoring to learn the identity of the men who were with Brandt.

Armenian Murdered at Providence

Providence, Oct. 16.—A deliberately planned murder, in which the victim was felled by a blow from a bludgeon and then choked to death for the $600 which he possessed, was perpetrated in a stable in this city yesterday by two Armenians. Peter Ouloosian, 35 years old, an Armenian, was the victim. Sarkis Nargashian, also an Armenian, is under arrest, and has confessed his share in the crime.

Chinamen Ordered Deported

Boston, Oct. 16.—Four Chinamen were yesterday ordered deorted, and a fifth, after the order for his deportation had been decreed, was allowed out on bail until Nov. 5, when his case will be heard, the order of deportation meanwhile being revoked. The four who are to be deported were removed to the Charles street jail, where they will remain until they are taken back to China.

JAPAN STANDS FIRM

Will Insist on Russia's Fulfilling Promise to Get Out of Manchuria

London, Oct. 16.—A dispatch from Tokio says: Important cabinet meetings were held Wednesday and yesterday and the impression in well informed circles is that Japan will insist on Russia's fulfillment of her promises. The newspaper comment is quiet, but insistent. The Nichi-Nichi, the most powerful paper, believes that the St. Petersburg government is innocent of the bellicose actions of the Russian agents in the Orient. The Jiji, also an influential paper, maintains that the only hope of peace lies in Russia's fulfilment of her promises.

The Kobe correspondent of The Daily Mail telegraphs that it is reported that Russia has offered to relinquish her claims in Corea, but insists upon retaining Manchuria. It is stated that Japan has refused to accede to this proposition.

Negro Politician Murdered

New York, Oct. 16.—During a quarrel last night Caleb A. Simms, leader of the United Colored Democracy of Greater New York, was shot and instantly killed in the clubhouse of the colored Democracy by Alma Padro, a negro, who is chairman of the house committee of the club. Another colored politician was shot in the right shoulder. The cause of the shooting is said to have been over a matter of $60 that Padro claimed the club owed him. Simms was formerly a staunch Republican, but surprised politicians in 1897 by going over to Tammany Hall, taking the Caleb Simms' association with him.

Murder and Suicide on Street

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Josephine Meade, a student of the University of California, was shot and killed on a street here by Paul Schmidt, aged 25, who afterward committed suicide. Schmidt and Miss Meade were once engaged to be married. His attentions became distasteful to her, however, and she, becoming alarmed at his threats against her life, gave up her position as a schoolteacher in Los Angeles and went to Boston to escape him, afterward returning to this city, where Schmidt followed.

"Dead" Boy Reappears

Chicago, Oct. 16.—After having been mourned as dead since early in September, Guy Jones, 11 years old, has turned up alive and well. After a scolding by his father the boy left home. A search by the police revealed a body resembling his floating in the river. The features were distorted, but the parents believed they had identified their son and in a grave at Graceland cemetery is the body of a boy which was buried as that of the missing lad.

Canada With Chamberlain

London, Oct. 16.—Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian ex-premier, in the course of an interview declared that Canada was perfectly united in supporting Mr. Chamberlain. He thought that a grain duty of 2 shillings a quarter was small, but said it would encourage emigration and help the Canadian farmers to some extent. He thought it an excellent thing that Americans were flocking into the northwest in large numbers.

Dramatic Scene In Court

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Frank Pavlik, while on the witness stand in court, pointed an accusing finger at his father and said: "The murder of my mother is not the first one committed by my father. In Bohemia he killed his own mother. He was never punished for that crime." Attorneys for the defendant will make no denials of the charge that the defendant killed his wife, but will seek to prove him insane.

L Employes Threaten Strike

New York, Oct. 16.—By an almost unanimous vote last night the motormen on the elevated road decided in favor of strike action if their demands are not complied with. At the same time 263 ex-firemen, now employed in various capacities on the road, but who retain their membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, also decided in favor of a strike.

STARVE THEM OUT!

Why not starve the germs to death? Scott's Emulsion will do it.

The germs of consumption are an invading army numbering millions upon millions; they must all be fed or they will soon die of starvation. A lung a little below "par" in vitality is just to their liking.

Why not put new life into it? Scott's Emulsion feeds the lungs. It fills the blood with nourishing food for all the weak parts. Good food means life. Life means resistive force.

Germs cannot live on healthy tissue. Scott's Emulsion and good fresh air drive out the germs of consumption.

A COMBINE "DIRECTOR"

Who Did Not Know Character or Location of Its Plants

EXERCISED VOTING POWER

With Other "Temporary Directors" to the Extent of Increasing Shipbuilding Capital Stock to $45,000,000 and Issuance of Securities

New York, Oct. 16.—The entire time at Thursday's hearing of the United States Shipbuilding company investigation before Referee Oliphant was given up to the taking of testimony covering the incorporation and organization of the company in New Jersey. Frederick Seward, Horace Gould and Kenneth McLaren, young men connected with the Corporation Trust company of New Jersey, who acted either as incorporators or directors of the Shipbuilding combination, were called to the stand and examined at length as to the circumstances under which they served the promoters of the enterprise.

Frederick Seward, who had served as a director, was questioned for three hours, the inquiry covering his connection with the company from the time Alexander and Green asked him to serve as a director until he resigned, when the permanent officers were elected.

His stay on the stand was prolonged because he woud not admit that he was a mere "dummy," acting under the orders of the counsel of the company. He held that he had used his independent judgment in voting on the many important questions determined by the directorate when he, Louis Dalley and Harold Newman of the Corporation Trust company were the three members of it.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the bondholders, questioned him at length with the object of showing that he had not paid for the share of stock that he held; that he knew nothing of the value of the properties acquired by the votes of himself and his associates, and that everything done by the directorate was at the instance of counsel and the mere formal carrying out of orders.

Seward admitted that he did not know the location of the plant nor the character of the business of the Harlan Hollingsworth company, Moore & Sons, and the Canda company, and said that he was under the impression that the Bethlehem plant was located at Homestead. Seward and the other temporary directors acted upon the increase in the capital stock of the company from $3000 to $45,000,000, voted for the issuance of securities to the amount of $71,000,000, and decided other matters of importance, and the testimony indicates an intention to attack the validity of all those transactions.

It is claimed that the original directors were simply "dummies," and that, while the forms of the law were closely followed at all of the meetings, none of the directors was properly a holder of stock and that none of their acts was of legal value.

The hearing went over until next Wednesday, when Lewis Nixon will take the stand.

Labor and Capital Meet

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Discussion of the question of the "open" shop by representatives of labor and of capital took up the greater part of the first session of the National Civic Federation conference. During the talk on the "open" shop President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers strongly denounced the non-unionist and the strike breaker, whom he likened to a criminal.

Non-Suit Motions Overruled

Cincinnati, Oct. 16.—In the trial of Miller and Johns for alleged conspiracy and bribery under the recent postoffice indictments, the government has rested and the defense has begun to introduce evidence. After the government rested counsel for both Johns and Miller filed motions for a non-suit. Both motions were promptly overruled by Judge Thompson.

Whale Put Up Great Battle

St. Johns, Oct. 16.—The steam whaler Humber has put in here for repairs after a 20-hour battle with a finback whale near Cape Spear. The whale was over 100 feet long and made a desperate fight, towing the steamer rails under and with the engines reversed for miles. The whale was captured, but the steamer was badly damaged.

Advancing on Wicked Gotham

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The Zion restoration host spent Thursday here. It was the intention of Dowie to address the host and the visitors in Prospect park but Superintendent Perry refused him permission. In all seven trainloads reached Niagara Falls. The Zionists left here last evening for New York.

Paterson Relief Fund Grows

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 16.—The relief fund for the sufferers from the recent flood in this city now amounts to about $10,000. It will be used in supplying clothing and household effects for the persons who are most in need. About 250 of the sufferers are still in armory hall.

End of Cattle Quarantine

Washington, Oct. 16.—An official order, revoking the quarantine against cattle, sheep and swine in Massachusetts and New Hampshire on account of the foot and mouth disease has been issued by the secretary of agriculture.

Ward Three Has a Slight Lead.

Ward Four But 5 Behind and Ward One 13 Behind.

Registration for the State election closed in Quincy on Wednesday evening with 4,907 on the voting lists. The gain was very equally divided among the wards, but was largest in Wards Two and Five, and smallest in Ward Three.

The rank of the wards is unchanged by the new registration, but they are so close that they did change places several times during registration. Ward Three has a lead of only 5 over Ward Four and 13 over Ward One, while Ward Five is only 67 behind Ward One. Ward Six continues the smallest but made a larger gain than the biggest ward.

The following summary shows the work of registration to date and the number of voters in each ward:

	On Lists Sept. 12.	Added Since.	Total to date.
Ward One,	852	56	908
Ward Two,	597	89	686
Ward Three,	878	43	921
Ward Four,	853	63	916
Ward Five,	756	85	841
Ward Six,	580	55	635

No Trace of Burglars

Skowhegan, Me., Oct. 16.—Although every bridge and ferry crossing the Carrabassett river has been constantly watched, an every highway in the vicinity of North Anson has been patrolled by an armed guard, no trace has been found of the two robbers who escaped an armed posse of 200 citizens after a wild flight through the woods from Norridgewock.

Hard Times For Fishermen

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 16.—Another Grand Banker, the Ada K. Damon, has arrived, with less than half a fare, after a long, hard season, all the fish being caught with hand-lines. The Damon reports that when she left the Virgin Rocks on Sept. 30 there was a great fleet of trawlers and hand-liners with not more than half their salt wet.

Year of Many Murders

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 16.—All records for the puperior criminal court of this county have been broken by the number of murder cases tried during the year ending Sept. 30, 1903, eight murder and attempted murder cases having been begun and there being seven sentences for murder and attempt.

Carelessly Handled Rifle

Norwood, Mass., Oct. 16.—Minot Webber, 12 years old, was shot by Joseph Sullivan, about the same age, while the two were playing with a 22-calibre rifle in a sandpit. The bullet entered the boy's right shoulder, and, although it has not been located, his injury is not thought to be serious.

College and Hospital Will Benefit

Boston, Oct. 16.—By the will of the late Dr. George Haven Harvard university and the Boston lying-in hospital eventually will divide nearly $200,000. The estate, whose total valuation approximates $300,000, is held in trust for the legatee's sister, Miss Haliburton, until her death.

Burglars $1000 Richer

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 16.—Burglars who entered the residence of Goodwin Stoddard got away with about $1000 worth of plunder. The principal loser by the operations of the thieves was Mrs. Sanford Stoddard, a bride of only a few months. She lost a large part of her wedding presents.

Stafford Mills to Start

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 16.—After an idleness of two months, the Stafford mills will resume operations on Monday. The shutdown was due to the installation of a new boiler plant and the shortage in cotton. The mills employ 800 hands and operate 100,000 spindles.

Donovan Takes the Purse

Salem, Mass., Oct. 16.—Michael H. Donovan won the last and deciding walking match of a series of three with Ernest M. Campbell. The race was for a purse of $50.

Catarrh

Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice.

Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Radically and permanently cures catarrh of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, and more delicate organs.

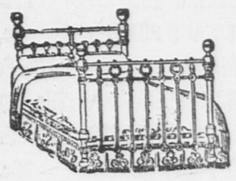
Read the testimonials.

No substitute for Hood's acts like Hood's. Be sure to get Hood's.

"I was troubled with catarrh 20 years. Seeing statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla resolved to try it. Four bottles entirely cured me." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1030 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

UP-To-Date Bedsteads.



There is a world of comfort in owning an all Iron or Brass Bedstead. Not because it's English, but from a cleanly and sanitary point of view.

The days of the wooden bedstead are numbered, the hidden corners where disease germs can lurk, the dust collecting bed slats, the unventilated, unhealthy head and foot board are rapidly giving way to the cleanly metal bed, so light, airy and easy to care for.

Our low prices on metal beds have done much to help all this along.

Full Sized Iron Beds, $2.98,

and from this price up to $15.00

CITY BREVITIES.

A Thomas Crane number of the Daily Ledger tomorrow.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co. inaugurate their anniversary sale on Saturday.

The friends of Mrs. Delano of Arlington street are glad to hear that she is recovering her eyesight.

Elder William Perrin of Boston is to speak at the Wollaston Methodist church on Sunday morning.

The first vespers of the season at the Wollaston Baptist church will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The young men of the Wollaston Methodist church are to give a supper in the vestry on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27.

It is intimated that ex-Councilman Frederick L. Jones may again enter the contest for the Republican mayoralty nomination.

Miss Eva Dickey, a former kindergarten teacher of Wollaston, has an excellent position in a private school in Lakewood, New Jersey.

The real estate of the late George L. Miller near the Willard school at West Quincy will be sold by Auctioneer Johnson on Saturday, Oct. 24.

The commander of the cruiser Des Moines built at Quincy will be A. McCrackin, who has been ordered from the Naval War College at Narragansett bay.

"Hancock Building" is the way the sign reads that was erected on the new block in City Square this morning. It will probably conflict with the Hancock House block.

Grade III of the Wollaston school beat the record of attendance for the building during the first five weeks of school and has reason to be proud of its eleven star days.

Nominations for the Republican caucuses in connection with the City election can be filed next Monday, and next Thursday will be the last date. Why are such early dates fixed?

A new timetable on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. on Sunday, with new express trains for Quincy which will make the run to Boston in sixteen minutes.

There will be a meeting of the executive commitee of the Choral Union of Wollaston at the residence of of Mr. John Cornish on Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

J. A. Duggan secured a verdict of $312 on Thursday in the Suffolk Superior court in his case against J. P. Kelley to recover a commission of $266 on a sale of land in Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crane of Stamford, Conn., have been invited to spend Sunday in Quincy. Mr. Crane is the son of the late Thomas Crane, who gave Quincy her beautiful public library building.

John Hancock lodge of Odd Fellows have in ten years dispensed over $4,000 in sick and death benefits; some as agents of distant lodges it is true, but all among the families of Odd Fellows at Wollaston.

Mrs. Sarah A., wife of Joseph W. Dennen, died at her home on Sea street this morning aged 56 years. Mrs. Dennen has not been well for some time but has been able to be about. She leaves a husband, and one daughter, Mrs. Frederick W. Tirrell.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY

American Contention Said to Have Been Conceded

PILGRIMS' SOCIETY BANQUET

Attended by Notable Men, Who Predict Eternal Friendship Between the United States and Great Britain and Her North American Colony

London, Oct. 16.—The Morning Advertiser announces that it regrets to learn from a source which it regards as beyond question that the decision of the Alaska boundary tribunal virtually concedes the American case.

The Morning Advertiser, which appears to be thoroughly satisfied with the reliability of its statement, says the news will be received in Canada with consternation. It gives a map and a detailed explanation showing how the decision will affect Canada, and adds that those who have followed the arguments have been thoroughly satisfied with Clifford Sifton's preparation and presentation of the case.

The dinner given by the Pilgrims' society to the Alaskan boundary commission last night proved the most notable assemblage of Englishmen, Americans and Canadians ever brought together in London. In addition to the members of the commission, the British cabinet ministers, the American ambassador and the most prominent representatives of English public life were present.

Lord Roberts presided. He proposed the health of King Edward and President Roosevelt in a united toast which met with a cordial reception. He then proposed "The Alaskan boundary commission," to which Lord Alverstone replied, saying that the meeting of the commissioners would stand as a monument of the feeling evinced in America and Great Britain to settle their differences by a common sense method.

Ex-United States Senator Turner and Clifford Sifton, Canadian interior minister, answered for their respective countries, the latter saying that no greater crime could be conceived against human nature than trouble between Great Britain and the United States.

Proposing the health of the Anglo-Saxon race, Lord Lansdowne claimed that it had done more than any other nationality to promote the arts and literature and just and equal government. He said: "Our contribution towards the happiness and the good government of the world will not be less in the future than it has been in the past. The two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race will be found working shoulder to shoulder, giving an example to the world of the mode of settling differences. Human natures are fallible and we must have our little differences from time to time, but an appeal to force is unthinkable."

Mr. Dickinson of the American counsel, in responding, referred to the Afro-American and other elements composing the American population.

Mr. Aylesworth, answering in the name of Canada, asked if Lord Lansdowne had not lost sight of the fact that several thousands of the best Anglo-Saxons lived in Canada, which, by the whole trend of his speech, Aylesworth indicated had been rather overlooked. Aylesworth passionately declared that none was more loyal to King Edward than the Canadian, yet there were none who from a business and sentimental point of view more appreciated their association with America.

Secretary Root closed the dinner with a notable speech, proposing the health of Lord Roberts as the commander-in-chief of the British army and declaring that none who speak the English language would fail to wish health and prosperity to the leader of the marches to Kandahar, Lucknow and Pretoria. Mr. Root referred to the endeavor to promote army reform on both sides of the Atlantic.

The American people, he said, had inherited from Great Britain the ingrained distrust of a standing army which had led the English to limit their army appropriation to annual votes and similarly, in the American constitution, the appropriation was limited to two years. The people of America had inherited the spirit of civil control of the military arm.

Mr. Root said that by the creation of a general staff he hoped that the United States had solved the problem and he trusted that Great Britain would be similarly fortunate. "By this expression," he added, "you may gather that I hope that the American and British armies may never be brought into contact. There cannot be a more genuine and hearty feeling of good will than exists among the people of the United States for Canada."

Lord Roberts briefly thanked Mr. Root and the proceedings then ended.

Newspaper Men In Contempt

San Juan, P. R., Oct. 16.—Hobart S. Bird, editor of the San Juan News, and J. Medina, the Mayaguez correspondent of that paper, were convicted in the Mayaguez district court of contempt. Bird was sentenced to 15 days' imprisonment and $100 fine. Medina was condemned to 30 days' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200.

Submarine Torpedo Practice

Newport, R. I., Oct. 16.—The tests with the submarine torpedo boats were resumed at the torpedo station and the tug Peoria successfully defended herself and technically struck and injured the submarine boat Moccasin.

QUESTION OF TIME

When the David Craig Who Cashed Check Is Arrested.

The police have not been successful as yet in finding any trace of David Craig, the man who cashed the check for $450 made payable to another man by the same name. It is believed, however, that he is in Canada.

When Craig met Officer Bradley, on the day the check was cashed, he told him that he had been summoned to Canada by the illness of his mother, and that he was anxious to get the check cashed as soon as possible as he wanted to start immediately.

At Craig's boarding house at Quincy Point nothing could be learned of him, other than that he had left there and taken his trunk with him.

The police have a good description of him and it will only be a question of time before he is arrested.

Star Tackle Has Broken Rib

New Haven, Oct. 16.—An examination disclosed the fact that James H. Hogan, Yale's star tackle, sustained a broken rib during the football game with Holy Cross. It will probably keep him out of the game for several days. The other tackle, Ralph Kinney, suffered a sprained ankle.

Platt's Quiet Wedding

Lakewood, N. J., Oct. 16.—Senator and Mrs. Platt arrived here from New York last evening. The senator announced that their marriage took place at the Holland house, New York, last Sunday and that he chose a private ceremony to avoid the crush and annoyance of a public wedding.

Tillman Declared Not Guilty

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 16.—The trial of James H. Tillman, who was charged with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of The State, at Columbia on Jan. 15 last, ended in an acquittal. Tillman had been on trial since Sept. 18. The jury was out for 20 hours before arriving at a verdict.

Quincy Has Another Generous Benefactor.

ELIAS A. PERKINS

Remembers Worthy Poor, Widows and Spinsters.

Leaves a Bequest of $10,000.

Also Adds $1,000 to Hospital Endowment Fund.

The will of the late Elias A. Perkins has been filed for probate, and makes many generous public bequests, in addition to kind remembrances to relatives and friends.

Mr. Perkins leaves to the Quincy Charitable society $10,000.

To the Quincy City Hospital, $1,000.

To the Haynes public library at Alexandria, N. H., $1,000.

To the Town of Alexandria, N. H., $4,000.

The gift to the Quincy Charitable Society is surprisingly large, but when it is remembered that the late Mrs. Perkins was for many years an active worker in the society, and knew of the needs, it may not be so surprising.

Article 4 of the will relating to this bequest reads as follows:

"I give and bequeath to the Quincy Charitable Society, to be paid them after the death of my said wife, the sum of $10,000, to be safely invested, the income to be used at their descretion, to help the worthy poor, worthy widows and unmarried women, residents of Quincy, without distinction of sect or nationality, to be paid as soon as may be, without detriment to estate.

The income of $10,000 should be from $400 to $500 annually, and in the hands of the Quincy Charitable society as proposed should do lots of good.

The gift of $1,000 to the Quincy City Hospital is without restrictions and will probably be added to the endowment fund of the institution.

Alexandria, N. H., was the birthplace of Mr. Perkins, and the other bequests show his attachment for his native place. The $1,000 is for the benefit of the pubtic library, and the income of the $4,000 bequest will be used for the benefit of the public schools of the town.

Schnecker Day.

The music at the morning service at the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday will be in memory of P. A. Schnecker, lately deceased. The choir will render three of his compositions, viz: "Te Deum in A Major," "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

The young people of the Junior society of the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, had such a successful Hallowe'en supper at the John Adams birthplace, last year, they are going to have another this year, which will occur on Saturday evening October 31. They hope every one interested in their work will attend and enjoy the supper, as they wish to replenish their treasury and to continue their patriotic work.

The Social Realm.

What we have done
And would we had not
Looms dark beyond our fears.
What we would do
And know we cannot,
Bears down our tottering years.
—Edward Carpenter.

"CALL OF THE RED GODS"

By ELSIE CARMICHAEL

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

The editor leaned back in his chair and sighed. The roar of the crowded street down below rose eternally, wearily. He got up and closed the window. Then he read the story again.

It brought great breaths of fragrant air into the stuffy room. He could see the open meadows and woodlands; the dashing, overflowing brooks, where the trout were rising; the throbbing new life bursting out into the sunshine. He felt it all keenly, for he had spent most of that happy boyhood of his up among the hills of Connecticut. Yes, the busiest editor in New York sat there dreaming, while below in the general office people with important business were being turned away by the dozen.

The story was signed simply M. B. Turner, with an address somewhere up in Connecticut. "I never saw any one catch the real spring feeling as that man does," the editor said to himself. "He must be a good angler and general sportsman."

Instead of sending the usual printed slip accepting the article, he picked up his pen and wrote the following note:

Mr. M. B. Turner:
Dear Sir—I have just read your manuscript, "The Call of the Red Gods," and I like it so much that I shall try to make room for it in the May number, which is already made up. I want to tell you personally how much I have enjoyed reading it and how it took me back to my boyhood home. I, too, am an angler by choice, though an editor by necessity. If you have other stories I should be glad to read them. Very truly yours,
JOHN MONTEITH.

The editor of the Twentieth Century was still young and genial, and his outer shell had not yet hardened.

Then he went back to his work and forgot the story. But sometimes in the midst of the rush and confusion of the great magazine office there came a faint, sweet scent of violets and damp, spring earth, and the roar of the city streets was confused with the rush and roar of the brooks overflowing with the spring floods. It was then that the story was uppermost in his mind.

One or two other manuscripts came from the same writer, but none was equal to the first.

"He ought to stick to nature," mused the editor one day in a leisure moment. "I wish I could see him and have a talk on the subject."

He wrote a little note to Mr. M. B. Turner and told him that when he was in town he should be glad to have him call at the office of the Twentieth Century. In reply came a little typewritten note thanking him for the invitation, but as M. B. Turner was setting out for a long summer trip through Canada he could not be in New York until the early fall. It made the office seem very hot and stuffy—the thought of that Canadian trip.

The last of August Monteith managed to get a two weeks' vacation. When he returned from the Maine woods the city looked dirtier and more dingy than ever. It was refreshing to find a note from Mr. Turner stating that he would call at the office on Wednesday morning at half past 10 if that would be convenient to the editor. That was Monteith's busiest day, but without hesitation he sent a cordial invitation to the young author to come at the specified time.

When he went to the office on Wednesday he had a strange feeling of expectation which he could not explain until he remembered that this was the day that the disciple of Isaak Walton was to call. Even while dictating letters to his typewriter his mind was wandering off to the woods and fields he loved so well. His thoughts were called back by Miss Jones and the cessation of the click of the typewriter. "I did not catch that last sentence, Mr. Monteith," she said, looking up; "something about pines and a brook."

Monteith sat up, and a flush deepened on his face even through his tan. "Oh, no!" he said politely. "You must have misunderstood me. But that will do for this morning, Miss Jones, thank you." He had left word downstairs that, although he was busy, he would see Mr. Turner if he called.

It was a quarter before 11 when the office boy, with a most perplexed and worried expression, threw open the door and announced, "Miss Turner."

Monteith rose to his feet. There on the threshold, hesitating, flushed, stood a slight girl in a trim tailor gown. The faint perfume of violets floated into the room.

"I am Miss Turner," she said. "I—I really should have told you before. I only realized it was quite wrong when they almost refused to let me see you and would not believe that I was the expected person."

She looked so much embarrassed that Monteith recovered himself sooner than he could have done otherwise in order to put her at ease. But he, too, flushed.

"I am very glad to see you, Miss Turner," he said, shaking hands with her in his cordial way. "So you are the author of 'The Call of the Red Gods?' You really must forgive me for being so surprised; but, you see, I had always pictured a man—a regular sportsman—and I cannot quite get adjusted to this change. Really, how could you have done it?" he finished abruptly.

"I am rather fond of fishing," she confessed rather apologetically. "I go out constantly with my brother, and so I thought I would try to write up one of my experiences. I was more surprised than any one else when you accepted it. I used my initials hoping that you would think I was a man. I was afraid you would not accept anything about fishing if you thought it was written by a girl."

Monteith laughed. "It does not matter who wrote it," he said. "It was delightful."

The girl's eyes sparkled. "I am so glad!" she said. "I have so wanted to write things that would bring all the freshness of outdoors into other people's lives."

"I did not know that girls ever cared much for that sort of thing, or if they did I fancied they were different from you—more masculine, I mean." He flushed and hesitated.

"Lots of girls care," she said, "only you don't know them. Now, I am never so happy as when fishing or tramping through the woods."

"That is true happiness," said Monteith thoughtfully, looking down into the crowded street. "There is nothing so much to be desired in our complex life of today as simplicity. The craving for excitement is killing the best that is in us, the childlike love of simple things. That is why I liked your story," he finished abruptly, turning back to her. He liked the way the hair curled about her face and the flush under the tanned cheek. She was the picture of health and strength and the joy of life.

He had forgotten that this was a business interview and that he had an important engagement at 11, but the girl remembered.

"I am afraid I am keeping you," she said anxiously. "I know how busy editors are."

"Oh, I quite forgot," he said, smiling, "that I had a business proposition for you. It's all mixed up now, however, because you are not a man. I was going to make you an offer to go through the fishing grounds of Canada and write them up. I'm sorry."

The girl leaned forward eagerly, and the color crept up into her face. "Oh!" she breathed softly. "Could I?"

"I am afraid you couldn't very well," he said doubtfully. "It would be a hard trip, and you couldn't go alone."

"I shouldn't mind the hardness. Perhaps I could persuade my brother to go with me. That reminds me," she said, smiling back at him. "You know my brother. He was in your class at Yale."

"What, Martin Turner?" he cried. "Why, we used to be great pals at college, but I haven't seen him for five years; lost track of him completely. So you are Mart's sister. I am glad."

He looked very boyish as he held out his hand. "We must be very good friends indeed," he cried enthusiastically. "In fact, we are very old friends already, because I remember you very well as a little girl when I visited Mart once years before."

"How very, very funny and delightful!" cried the girl, laughing a delicious, rippling laugh. "I must make Martin ask you to visit us again. We will take you fishing and tramping, and you need not even bring a dress coat. Will you come?"

"Will I come?" he said in a tone that sent the warm blood up into her cheeks. "Just try it and see!"

"Perhaps," he said as he held her hand a moment longer than necessary as she left him—"perhaps you will let me join you and Martin on your Canadian trip. Will you?"

"Perhaps," she said, turning away. Then she looked back with a smile as she entered the elevator. "If the red gods call you, you must go, you know."

* * * * * * *

The next summer there was a series of articles on Canadian fishing in the Twentieth Century Magazine signed "Mabel Turner Monteith."

His Hobby.

A tourist passing through an English village churchyard was much astonished to see graven on a tombstone a list of feminine names as follows:

Mary I., Elizabeth, Mary II., Anne, Katharine I., Katharine II.

"Goodness gracious!" exclaimed he to an old sexton who was digging a grave not far off. "I wasn't aware there were any queens buried in this part of the country, least of all in such an outlying place as this."

"No more there ain't as I knows on," replied the old fellow, scarcely looking up from his work.

"Well, then, in that case," queried the still surprised tourist, "how comes it that the names of several well known British queens are to be read on that stone yonder?"

"Ah, I see now!" quoth the old gravedigger as he raised himself up and glanced for a moment in the direction referred to. "Lots of your sort make that mistake; but, bless your soul, they bain't no queens of England! They be only the names o' old Billy Green's six wives, and that wor just a hobby o' his'n a-writin' on 'em out like that."

Two Little Stories of Corot.

We have any number of anecdotes about Corot. There is one which explains the artistic mind. He had reported to his employer how successfully he had sold a quantity of beautiful Lyons silks, and he expected some acknowledgment. On the contrary, the draper explained to him that there was no merit in disposing of excellent goods, as the real merit was to sell what was bad, whereupon Corot perceived that this was exactly what an artist cannot do, and he decided to quit commerce. He obtained his father's consent for his career as a painter on what was to him a large annuity of $300.

He was over thirty years old when he first began to paint, on the very day that his father freed him. He used to show that first picture of his to his friends, saying: "It is as young as ever. It marks the hour and the time of day when I did it, but Mlle. Rose, who worked at my mother's and who looked at me at my work, and I—where are we?"—John La Farge in McClure's

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Consuelo, duchess of Marlborough, is extremely deaf. The young duchess is very sensitive on this subject.

Miss Safford, who recently resigned the pastorate of a Unitarian church in Sioux City, had held it fourteen years, her congregation being the largest of that denomination in Iowa.

Mrs. Florilla Swetland Pierce, granddaughter of a brother of John Hancock, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, recently celebrated her one hundredth birthday at Honeoye Falls, N. Y.

The mother of President Loubet of France still manages the farm at La Terrasse, Marsanne, where the president was born. The old lady, to whom the president is devoted, is over ninety, but is still hale and hearty.

Mrs. Nancy Rose, who for forty-seven years has had charge of the lighthouse at Stony Point, on the Hudson river, has just received a handsome medal from the Scenic and Historic society in recognition of her faithfulness.

"It is the women of the country who make tramps by giving meals to them." This was one of the statements made by Mrs. G. Francis Curtis at the convention of the National Association of Charities and Corrections recently held at Atlanta, Ga.

In a recent letter to friends in America Lady Curzon declares that she is coming to this country some time during the next winter to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, in Washington. Lady Curzon will bring her two young daughters with her.

Miss Grace Phillips of Wolcott, Wayne county, N. Y., has the distinction of being the only woman mail carrier in the state. She is nineteen years old. Twenty-five miles every weekday she rides through a route that includes the townships of Wolcott and Butler.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Lace gowns are as appropriate for winter as for summer wear.

Velvet, in all its forms and modifications, is seen in costumes and decorations.

Taffeta has come into its ancient fame once more. It is undoubtedly the most fashionable silk now being worn.

English embroidery, of which so many dainty summer gowns were made, will also appear in blouses this fall.

The possibilities of ribbon seem to be unlimited. Ribbon hats covered with ribbon flowers and garlands are shown in the millinery shops.

Batiste waists, lace trimmed, will be worn all winter with coat and skirt gowns. A new and pleasing idea is to have the batiste waist match the color of the wool material.

Chiffon velour is being made up into exquisite gowns for dress occasions. It is an expensive material, costing from $4.50 to $5 a yard, but it is thirty-three inches wide and every scrap of it counts, as it is necessarily made up simply.—New York Post.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

The number of ordinations in the Presbyterian church fell from 290 in 1898 to 184 this year, while the total membership increased from 975,877 to 1,067,477.

Rev. Samuel Murray of Irvington, Ind., is the oldest minister in the Dunkard church, both in years and term of service. He has just passed his ninety-seventh birthday and has preached fifty-five years, retiring from the pulpit two years ago.

Pope Pius X. is a moderate smoker. Italian priests, even of the humble ranks, do not consider that it consorts with clerical decorum to smoke in public, and Cardinal Sarto has always observed this rule, but in private he enjoys a good cigar.

THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Ah, but wait till Emperor William takes a notion to lift the cup!—Chicago Record-Herald.

Sir Thomas Lipton is all right; it is the British yacht builders who want to hide their heads.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

There still is that old lingering wonder whether a defender's crew on the challenger might not win.—New York World.

Sir Thomas should understand that we might let him have that cup if we did not like his visits so well that we cannot consent to have them stopped.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

OUR LAWS.

We make laws and then laugh at them.—Galveston News.

The law is neither better nor worse than the people in whom its powers inhere.—Atlanta Constitution.

Laws that lie directly across the natural rights of men are quite sure to be walked over by men. The worst of it is that the habit of ignoring laws of this kind is apt to create a custom of disregarding other laws, even those based upon justice and necessity.—Galveston News.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Electric railways kill 100 persons a month.

There are in use in the United States 1,640,220 railway cars and 41,228 locomotives.

The British kingdom has now 22,000 miles of railway—just double the mileage of 1861.

The Canadian railways are obliged by the terms of the new railway company bill to carry members of the Canadian senate and house of commons free.

Hairs Upon Horses' Lips.

The fine hairs about the mouth of the horse are organs of touch of extreme delicacy. They serve, to a certain extent, the same purpose as our finger ends, the whiskers of the cat or the trunk of the elephant. Sensitiveness is due to specially developed endings of nerves in the skin, which are continually sending messages to the brain.

The lip hairs of the horse first receive the stimulus, which is communicated to the end organs and so passes on to the brain. They come into play when the horse samples a new article of food. He first smells it and, having so far satisfied himself, touches it delicately with those sensitive hairs. The upper lip moves softly in quick sympathy and confirms the opinion suggested by the hairs. The tongue judges finally as to the fitness of the food.

When the horse wishes to drink, these hairs assure him that the water is free from foreign matter on the surface, for he drinks from the surface only. They detect the smallest particle of dirt and guide him to the purest place.

"Dog's Body" and "Dandy Funk."

"Biscuits, or, as they are familiarly called at sea, 'pantiles,' are served out with a liberal hand," says Charles Protheroe in "Life In the Mercantile Marine." "To make a satisfying meal of them would occupy all the watch below, for, being as hard as nails, mastication is necessarily a slow operation. To obviate this difficulty they are placed in a small canvas bag and by dint of much pounding reduced to a powder. Sufficient liquid, sometimes pea soup that is left over from dinner, is mixed with this until it becomes a paste. A few pieces of fat pork stuck here and there over the surface to give flavor, this by the indulgence of the cook, is allowed in the oven, and when browned is known as 'dog's body.'

"'Dandy funk' is another dish of the same kind, the substitution of a little molasses furnishing the excuse for another name."

Onions and Garlic.

The onion is a vegetable of great antiquity, being found among the earliest of cultivated species. A kind of onion grown in Egypt 2,000 years and more ago was considered so excellent that it received divine honors, being worshiped as a god. This was considered a good joke by the Romans of those days, who, as well as the Greeks, were acquainted with several varieties of onions. It is likely that the plant first grew in Persia or Afghanistan. Garlic has been raised in China for thousands of years, and the ancient Egyptians made great use of it. No picture of it has ever been found on the monuments, but this may be because the plant was considered unclean by the priests.

Telling Time by the Porch.

The oldest system by which men have told the time of day is sundials. There are sundials still in existence since long before the Christian era. In fact, they have been found in Egypt dating before the pharaohs. The Indians and wild nations told the time by the position of the shadows of trees or mountains. The Chinese have carried the art of sundials to perfection and even today use pocket sundials instead of watches. One Chinese watchmaker has arranged his front porch in such a way the shadow of the posts tells the time by which to regulate the watches.—Ada Paterson in Pilgrim.

What a Journalist Is.

The editor's only son was seemingly struggling with a perplexing problem. He moved uneasily on his hobbyhorse and finally twisted all the mane off his steed. Then he crawled up on his father's knee and, looking inquiringly in his face, said:

"Pa, what is a journalist?"

"My son," said the editor as he meditatively stroked the golden head of his offspring—"my son, a journalist is a man who wears a plug hat and no shoes and borrows money from newspaper men."—Memphis Scimitar.

Best Kind of Proof.

"Here!" exclaimed the irate customer to the trunk dealer. "I thought you said that chest I bought of you was moth proof?"

"Well," said the dealer. "Wasn't it?"

"No! When I opened it my things were full of moths!"

Great Scott, man! What better proof of 'em do you want?"—Browning's Magazine.

Money and Brains.

A newly arrived westerner was confronted in a street of New York late at night by a ruffian with leveled revolver, who made the stereotyped demand, "Give me your money or I'll blow your brains out."

"Blow away," said the westerner. "You can live in New York without brains, but you can't without money."

Unerring Childhood.

The child is so often right. It has not the miscellaneous knowledge of the grownup person who reads newspapers and keeps a tame Encyclopædia Britannica in a carefully devised cage. But the childish mind has an unerring logical faculty not in any way confused by superfluity of information.—London Academy.

Anger and Digestion.

A well known physician has written: "Anger is a passion which especially unfits the stomach for doing much work. If it occurs often or be protracted, but little food should be taken. Those who indulge in it have a double cause for abstinence. Both their folly and their stomachs call for a fast."

A woman knows more about dress than a man knows about everything else combined.—Philadelphia Record.

Fame is the perfume of heroic deeds.—Socrates.

ROMOC

MORE INDIGESTION.

"Ninety-five times out of a hundred," said the Romoc man, "you can attribute fainting fits, vertigo, heart palpitation, and all such disagreeable feeling to indigestion." "Ninety-nine times out of a hundred you may be sure that these same disagreeable symptoms and the trouble that causes them can be rectified by the use of Romoc." "Romoc is the greatest of Nature's remedies. It strengthens the stomach and enables it to digest the food that is eaten. It produces a healthy, natural appetite.

"Romoc dispels all poisonous secretions from the body by strengthening those organs whose duty it is to get rid of such injurious substances. If you are subject to any of the distressing symptoms which I have mentioned above, I wish you would try Romoc. It will do you more good than any drug you ever heard of. When it comes to using medicines containing alcohol there is no comparison. Romoc does not contain a drop of those poisons. The way in which Romoc is sold, on a guaranty, proves the very high regard in which it is held.

"ELIJAH" AND HIS HOST

Ready to Attack the Army of Sin In New York

THIEF ON HIS SPECIAL TRAIN

Makes Off With $1500 Diamond and Pearl Brooch Belonging to Mrs Dowie—"Prophet" Says Restoration Is Not a Money-Making Scheme

New York, Oct. 17.—The "restoration host," under the leadership of John A. Dowie, has garrisoned Madison Square Garden and completed preparations to sally on the works of the enemy. The first detachment, numbering about 400, arrived early yesterday morning, the remaining trains following during the day and evening. Leaving the ferryboats the crusaders boarded special cars which were in waiting and proceeded direct to the garden, to the music of their bands and the singing of hymns.

The general overseer himself, accompanied by his family and staff, arrived in a special train at the Grand Central station, where, owing to a misunderstanding, his private carriage failed to meet him and he was compelled to go to the Plaza hotel in a hack. During the confusion of leaving the train a thief slipped into Mrs. Dowie's reception room on the car and made off with a $1500 diamond and pearl brooch. From the Plaza Dowie went to the Garden, where he restored order out of the general confusion that prevailed and outlined his plans in an interview with the newspaper men.

Dr. Dowie denied that he intended to raise a fund of $50,000,000 while here and declined to say whether he was going to found another Zion City here. He said he comes to New York in the capacity of the Prophet Elijah and in accordance with the revelation he made in 1901 to an audience of 7000 people in the Auditorium, Chicago, and promises to explain more fully what the revelation means. He asks for fair play for himself and his people; that his coming to New York is not a money-making scheme, and he does not care if the people here do not pay his gas bills. He declared:

"We are believers in the Bible from cover to cover. I do not copy the Bible in every way, because it is a record of the sayings of both good and bad men. I have got to be exceedingly careful in reading the Bible, for God has denounced some of the things mentioned in it. I have not come to New York as the representative of a powerful ecclesiastical body, but in my prophetic capacity. I care not for your smiles. I am indifferent to ridicule as to any other wrong. I am not going to dodge anything. I am a very open man, and have no concealments. I am opposed to every form of secret societies. The service of God is a reasonable faith. Faith is the most reasonable thing in the universe. Created being should trust their creator. Your children love and trust you. We love God because he is a father, and love Christ because he is the brother. He is not a dead, but a living Christ, who is with us always, and is with us now."

French Strikers Fight With Troops

Paris, Oct. 17.—Forty-one persons have been arrested at Armentieres for being implicated in the riots, pillage and incendiarism in that town. At Dunkirk 200 workmen of the spinning factories paraded in company with other strikers. The rioters threw up barricades in the streets, which were destroyed by the soldiers. A lieutenant was struck with a brick and thereupon cut down his assailant. Several troopers were hurt.

No Vote on Alaska Case

London, Oct. 17.—There is the highest authority for saying that the announcement made by the London Morning Advertiser that the decision of the Alaskan boundary commission virtually concedes the American case, is entirely untrue. The commission thus far has reached no decision and no vote has been taken even in the private sessions which would indicate Chief Justice Alverstone's position.

Dan Patch Breaks Wagon Record

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17.—Dan Patch lowered the world's wagon record in a trial against time, going the mile in 1:59 1-4. The time is within 1-4 second of Dan Patch's record to sulky. The former wagon record, 2:01½, was held by Little Boy. There were no wind shields or any other speed accelerators used for Dan Patch in his record-breaking trial.

Belgian Statesman Stabbed

Brussels, Oct. 17.—M. Pepper, a Socialist member of the chamber of deputies, was stabbed last night at Mons while walking upon the street with some friends. There are slight hopes of his recovery. The assassin struck Pepper from behind and succeeded in making his escape.

Devonshire Heads Free Fooders

London, Oct. 17.—The Duke of Devonshire, late lord president of the council, has conditionally accepted the presidency of the Free Food league, which is organizing a campaign against the fiscal policy of Chamberlain and Balfour.

Loss of Four Lives and $1,000,000

Aberdeen, Wash., Oct. 17.—Fire in this town caused four deaths and destroyed property valued at approximately $1,000,000. It practically wiped out the main business street of the town, which is built mostly of wood.

A Fishmongering Railroad.

While looking through a pile of old papers a correspondent came across the following article in a New York paper of the date of Feb. 6, 1859, under the caption of "The Smelt Railroad:"

"It is well known that the Portsmouth railroad has to turn everything to account to pay running expenses, and many are the jokes they perpetrate upon the conductors in reference to their shifts to get a living. It is said that one of them last year was accustomed to bring fish from Portsmouth and peddle them out on the way to Concord.

"One day he brought along smelts, dealing out to customers at every station, till he got to Suncook, where he blew his horn and an old woman came out and wanted six, 'just a pattern—all I've got left, you're in the nick of time,' said he, and he began to count them and found only five. 'How's this? I should have six.' And he began to count his fingers and reckon over how he had disposed of the four dozen he had started with. After awhile: 'I have it! Hold on a little while and I'll be back,' said he, and he ran the train back seven miles to a place where he had let a woman have one more than she had paid for, got it, came back to Suncook and let the old woman have the six she wanted, and then the 'smelt' train went to Concord."—Manchester (N. H.) Union.

Sentinel and Hussar.

Two well known military terms, "sentinel" and "hussar," afford capital instances of the remarkable manner in which a nation does its word twisting. At first sight there seems little connection between the Latin word sentina, signifying the hold of a ship, and a soldier keeping watch over his sleeping comrades. The connecting link is afforded by the word sentinator, the Roman who pumped the hold of Cæsar's galleys free of bilge water. Upon his constant vigilance depended the lives of the entire ship's company.

Similarly the word "hussar" is merely a Hungarian term signifying "twentieth." It arose in this manner: When Matthias Corvinus became king of Hungary in 1458 he was extremely afraid of foreign invasion. He consequently raised an army by the simple expedient of commandeering every twentieth individual in the land; hence the hussar.

Mistake, Mistaken.

The use of these words seems to be so anomalous as to need some inquiry and explanation.

I may be mistaken, for I continually make mistakes. But when shown to have been mistaken I own myself in error. Yet, if I am mistaken, it is not the error of him who mistakes me? But it may be that I am right and that he is mistaken, though I suppose that I ought to take him aright and not mistake him. Nevertheless I often have to say in argument: "You were quite right. I was mistaken."

In a word, though he who mistakes must be in error, our common use of language considers him who is mistaken to be so.—Notes and Queries.

Fanatical Morocco.

Morocco, in spite of its close proximity to Europe, is the most fanatical of the Mohammedan countries. Christians are hated by the natives throughout the country, and it is often very dangerous to go outside the town of Tangier. The business of Morocco is entirely in the hands of the Moorish Jews, who amass considerable wealth in the coast ports. It is not prudent for a Christian to stay anywhere but in the Jewish quarter. At the capital, Morocco City, and Fez the natives expectorate and hurl stones at the "foreign infidels," as they call them, and no Christian is safe in the streets unless escorted by soldiers.

The Good Red Grouse.

Besides his many other claims to distinction the "good-red grouse" has one which is often forgotten. He is the one vertebrate creature peculiar to the British isles. All the rest of our fauna is duplicated elsewhere, and even his cousin, the black cock, has foreign relations, but the true grouse exists nowhere in the world except within the United Kingdom, and considering what a noble game bird he is, how hardy and plucky and how magnificent in his flight, the fact is really something to be proud of.—London Globe.

Strong Coolies.

The power of endurance of the Chinese cooly is marvelous. Many will travel over forty miles, carrying a heavy load on their backs and think nothing of it. A writer mentions the case of certain coolies who, after going twenty-seven hours without food and having carried a heavy burden in the meantime, still had strength enough left to offer to carry a man fifteen miles farther.

Signed Against Signing.

Man With Petition—I'd like to have your name on this, Ruggles. It's a mere formality, you know, but—

Business Man—I'd like to oblige you, Rackshaw, but a fellow came round last week with a pledge binding the signer not to put his name on a petition of any kind for one year, and I signed it.

Chance For Heroism.

Adorer (anxiously)—What did your father say?

Sweet Girl—Oh, he got so angry I was afraid to stay and listen. He's in a perfectly terrible rage. Go in and appease him.

The Wicked Parrots.

Miss Nancy—I wonder why it is that sailors are such terrible swearers?

Cousin Tom—Why, don't you know? They learn profanity of the parrots. I thought everybody knew that.—Boston Transcript.

CRUSADE ON MORMONS.

John Alexander Dowie's Plans to Invade Utah Next Year.

Mormonism is threatened with extinction more absolute than could be attained by any mere legislation, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The innermost fortress of the Mormons at Salt Lake City is to be attacked next year by the legions of John Alexander Dowie. "Conversion to Zion City tenets" will be the slogan of the Dowie battle array.

"The restoration hosts will assuredly crusade to Utah in 1904," said one of Dr. Dowie's deacons the other day. "From Chicago and the neighboring states we will move 3,000 or 4,000 strong. In the west Zion has many followers, and they will be expected to join the army."

The founder of Zion City anticipates a decidedly lively campaign against the serried ranks of Mormonism. He thinks that the trend of affairs will be anything but dull. No secret has been made by Dr. Dowie of his longing to contrive a conversion of the Mormons, and the deeds that they hope to do in the Utah stronghold are constantly being discussed by the citizens of Zion.

After the iniquity of Chicago and New York, Dr. Dowie, it is understood, believes Salt Lake City to be the worst of remaining wicked American cities. Salt Lake's superlative badness, according to Dr. Dowie, is based not so much on the actual vice there holding sway or on the number of crimes committed, but rather on the practice of Mormonism, which is particularly abhorrent to Zionists.

But the expedition to Salt Lake is only a beginning. It is nothing more than a first battle in a campaign. San Francisco has been charted as the scene of warfare in 1905, and on it the crusaders will move at that time. It is said that all the cities on the continent which Dr. Dowie thinks in need of moral reform and regeneration have been listed, and they will be attacked one by one and year by year in due order of their immorality. It is possible that a foreign expedition to China will be arranged, Dr. Dowie taking intense interest in the Chinese. When the San Francisco warfare is waged particular attention will be given to Chinamen.

BORIS SARAFOFF DEAD

Young Macedonian Leader Who Has Proved a Terror to Turks

Salonica, Oct. 17.—The report of the death of Boris Sarafoff, the famous Macedonian leader, is confirmed.

It had been reported that Sarafoff was killed Oct. 12 in a skirmish at Pruva. Sarafoff was the life and soul of the insurgent operations in Macedonia. All his life he had been an active enemy of the Turks. When he was 14 years old he saw his father and grandfather tortured and dragged in chains to a dungeon. He has been described as the most romantic figure in the Balkans. He was popularly believed and stated to be the real instigator of the abduction of Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, in September, 1901, in order to procure through her ransom funds to enable the Macedonian revolutionary committee to organize the insurrection.

In 1895 Sarafoff, after serving as an officer in the Bulgarian army, formed a band of desperadoes to raid Turkish territory. Since then he headed nearly 400 daring raids into Turkey. Once he captured the Turkish town of Melnik with 40 men, putting the garrison to flight. He was 30 years old.

Sultan Will Punish Excesses

Salonica, Oct. 17.—An imperial iade has been received here ordering severe punishment to be meted out to soldiers guilty of brutality, theft or drunkenness.

Woman's Plucky Fight With Thief

Boston, Oct. 17.—While attempting singlehanded to capture a burglar who had broken into her home last night, Mrs. Patrick Gray was severely assaulted by the intruder, who had entered through an open pantry window during the family's absence. When Mrs. Gray entered the house, the man rushed at her and struck her a blow which knocked a lighted lamp from her hand, leaving the room in darkness. Mrs. Gray attempted to defend herself and also endeavored to seize and hold the desperado, who, in the struggle that ensued, dropped a box containing $50 which he had taken from a trunk and, pushing the woman violently aside, ran out of a rear door and escaped.

Car Smashup In Crowded Street

New York, Oct. 17.—Three persons were seriously injured, a score of others were cut by flying glass and badly shaken up and a panic was precipitated when an electric car crashed into a street horse car at Eighth avenue and Fourteenth street last night. Both cars were crowded with passengers at the time of the collision. There was an open air political meeting at the corner at the time and the streets were crowded with people. There was wild confusion when the cars crashed together and police reserves were called out to quell the excitement.

Female Strikers Stabbed

New York, Oct. 17.—In a riot last night, the result of a strike at a rag factory, several girls were stabbed, one of them seriously. The employes recently organized and made demands which were refused and a strike was declared. The firm then engaged a number of Italians. When the Italians came out of the factory last night a free fight occurred and the Italians, it is said, used knives to defend themselves. Two Italians were arrested.

Willing to Wait

New York, Oct. 17.—The banking firm of Speyer & Co. has informed the men connected with the reorganization committee in Consolidated Lake Superior company affairs that they will agree to a reasonable postponement of the sale of the assets of the company provided the properties are turned over to the charge of Receiver Brackenthal, who was appointed receiver at their instance.

Big Four Engineers Get Increase

Indianapolis, Oct 17.—The board of adjustment of the Big Four engineers adjourned after reaching a settlement with the company. Wages are increased from 5 to 8 percent. The company is considering the demands of the firemen, brakemen and conductors. The firemen are asking an increase of from 15 to 18 percent.

Servia's Queer Statesmen

Belgrade, Oct. 17.—The skupschtina, in an address to the throne, has expressed its approbation of the murders of King Alexander and Queen Draga. The address said: "By this act the army has shown its oneness with the people and its love of country."

Closing the Postal Trials

Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—The evidence in the postal trials has concluded and arguments have begun in the trial of Miller and Johns for alleged conspiracy to extort a bribe. The case will not go to the jury until this evening.

Dinner Without Speeches

London, Oct. 17.—Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, last night entertained the counsel engaged in the Alaska boundary case and their wives at dinner at his house. No speeches were made.

Postoffice Auditorship Declined

St. Paul, Oct. 17.—The Despatch says that William H. Eustis of Minneapolis has declined the position of auditor for the postoffice department at Washington, recently vacated by H. A. Castle.

Good Afternoon

As Quincy is about to observe the centennial birthday anniversary of one of her benefactors there comes the news that the city has another benefactor in the late Elias A. Perkins who has left the generous sum of $10,000 for the benefit of worthy people of Quincy, and also $1,000 to the Quincy City Hospital.

Such a large gift for the poor is unexpected and some may say unnecessary, but both Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were better judges of the needs than most people, Mr. Perkins from years of service as Selectman, Overseer of the Poor, and Assessor, and Mrs. Perkins for noble work covering many years in the Quincy Charitable Society. The gift is a most generous one.

The list of Quincy benefactors is really quite a long one. We recall the following who should be inscribed on the roll of honor:

JOHN ADAMS,
WILLIAM CODDINGTON,
DR. EBENEZER WOODWARD,
GEN. SYLVANUS THAYER,
THOMAS CRANE,
WILLIAM B. RICE,
CHARLES F. ADAMS,
HENRY H. FAXON,
COTTON CENTER JOHNSON,
ELIAS A. PERKINS.

Regardless of the merits of the two lots prominently mentioned for the new Atlantic schoolhouse, the City Council, and particularly the members from Ward Six, have not shown the numerous petitioners in favor of the Blackwell lot proper respect, and are reported to have said some very unkind things about the petitioners. The Councilmen forget that they are servants of the people, sent to the legislative branch of the city government to represent the voters of the ward. It is a good indication when the voters are aroused in the interests of the taxpayers. They openly say it would be a fraud upon the taxpayers for the city to pay fifteen cents a foot for the Faxon road lot, and insist that the Councilmen shall not permit the "unloading" of said lot upon the city. The petitioners in favor of the Blackwell lot probably would not favor the Faxon road lot if it could be bought for half the price, for they do not believe it is worth half as much, and object to the location.

The people are more or less in the dark as to the plans of the City Council with reference to school accommodations for Ward Six. Whether it is proposed to use the present building as well as the new building, or whether the new building will for several years accommodate all the children. If there is to be but one building, it should be located on the present school lot. If there are to be two buildings used, both should not be upon Squantum street.

There can be no question but what the Blackwell lot is worth all that is charged for it. Its location is also very desirable, and the area is sufficiently large.

It is a shock to many Quincy people, the insinuation that there is conniving on the part of Councilmen to unload the Faxon road lot. The selection of a lot should be upon its merits without any suspicion of influence or graft.

Quincy had a dry thunder shower last evening, and thunder accompained the rain this afternoon.

The West Quincys and Quincys will play basket ball at the Coliseum next Thursday evening.

SECRETARY CALLED.

Ernest G. Gay of Winchester Coming to Quincy Y. M. C. A.

The board of directors of the local Young Men's Christian Association have called Mr. Ernest G. Gay of Winchester to take up and push to completion the campaign for a new building which has been in operation for some months.

Mr. Gay is a graduate of the International Y. M. C. A. Training school of Springfield, of the class of '96. For two years after graduating he was general secretary of the Gardner association. With Oct. 1 of this year he completed his fifth year of service with the Winchester association, which he leaves in a high state of efficiency.

Mr. Gay's first duty on arriving in Quincy November first, will be to see that the balance of the money required is raised and the building erected. His whole time and energy being devoted to give Quincy the best and most up-to-date association plant in the shortest possible time. After this has been accomplished he will assume the duties of general secretary.

EXPRESS TRAINS.

The New Timetable Which Goes into Effect on Sunday.

As previously announced in the Ledger, a number of important changes in the train service between Quincy and Boston will go into effect at midnight Sunday. These changes in brief are as follows:

INWARD.

In the morning the train now leaving at 7.26 will leave at 7.23.

There are also three new inward trains running express between Quincy and Boston, which make the run in sixteen minutes. These trains leave Quincy at 7.29 A. M., 4.59 and 6.59 P. M., arriving in Boston at 7.45 A. M., 5.15 and 7.15 P. M.

On Sundays the train now leaving at 6.03 P. M. will leave at 6.16 making all the stops.

There is a new express train leaving Quincy at 9.00, making the run to Boston in 15 minutes. This is one of the fastest trains Quincy ever had.

The 10.18 which now makes all the stops will run express. This is also a 15-minute train. A new train has been added leaving at 10.22, making all the stops.

OUTWARD.

A new train will leave Boston at 12.49 P. M. running express to Quincy arriving at 1.02

In the afternoon there is a new train leaving Boston at 5.26, running express to Wollaston and arriving in Quincy at 5.45.

On Sunday there is a new train leaving Boston at 9.28 P. M. making all the stops, arriving in Quincy at 9.57.

The new timetable appears in full on the eighth page.

The 5.45 train which now makes all the stops between Popes Hill and Quincy will stop only at Neponset, Norfolk Downs and Wollaston and arrives in Quincy at 6.06. There is however a train at 5.46 which will make all the steps between Boston and Quincy, arriving at Quincy at 6.15.

WEST QUINCY TRAINS.

The stations on the Granite branch—West Quincy, East Milton and Montclair—and also Atlantic will have new trains on Sunday evenings as will be seen below, the last train each way being new:

CITY BREVITIES.

Observations in Daily Walks of Ledger Reporters.

An offering for the Diocesan missions will be taken at Christ church on Sunday.

Senator Brackett will please accept the thanks of the Ledger for a copy of the Blue Book of Legislative acts.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the Council chamber on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at three o'clock, P. M.

A meeting of the Hospital corporation, and any one interested in the welfare of the Hospital, is called for Monday evening at eight o'clock at Colonial hall.

A special meeting of the Granite Manufacturers Association has been called for next Monday evening for a discussion of Association matters looking toward making the association more effective.

On Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the Wollaston Unitarian vestry there is to be an adult sociable. All ladies and gentlemen of the parish are cordially invited to be present. Supper is to be served at 6.30 o'clock.

T. B. Pollard, the principal of the Washington school, roports a large number of additional gifts of art for the decoration of the new schoolhouse, many of them unsolicited. Quincy Point people are taking a pride in the new public building which is commendable.

Called to Brooklyn.

Rev. Sherard Billings formerly of Quincy but now of the faculty of the Groton school, received a call this week to become the rector of Holy Trinity church at Brooklyn. In an interview yesterday Mr. Billings intimated that he could not say what his answer would be; that it might be somewhat of a difficult matter to decide and that before he reached a decision he should give the matter serious consideration. Mr. Billings stated that he should go on to Brooklyn early next week and confer with the officers of the church.

Rev. Mr. Billings has been connected with the Groton school for 19 years. Although having been ordained to the ministry, he never has had a parish, but has preached very acceptably at Christ church in this city.

At the divinity school he was a classmate of headmaster Peabody, and came to the school as a tutor soon after he had completed his theological course. The call to the Brooklyn church was, he said, quite unexpected.

Children's Night.

Last night was children's day at the Swedish Lutheran fair and hundreds of children were present and had a grand good time. Henry H. Faxon was present and amused himself by distributing tickets among the children which he agreed to redeem for the amount printed on the face. They flocked about him all the evening and so long as his tickets held out things were humming. The entertainment consisted of selections by the orchestra and singing by the Sunday school.

Vespers at Wollaston.

A. D. Albee, the musical director at the Wollaston Baptist church announces the following music for vespers to be held Sunday at 4 o'clock:

Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High,	Martin
Still, still with Thee,	Sprague

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turn out right in front of the Hall.

The floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts.

The Hall is lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The heating is direct—indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are nine (9) doors opening from the Hall and five (5) separate exits.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish a large and really first class Hall.

THOMAS CRANE CENTENNIAL.

Tomorrow the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of Quincy's Benefactor ---Gave Us Our Beautiful Public Library Building.

Rock-Acre, Stamford, Conn.,
Oct. 15th, 1903.

MR. FRANK F. PRESCOTT:

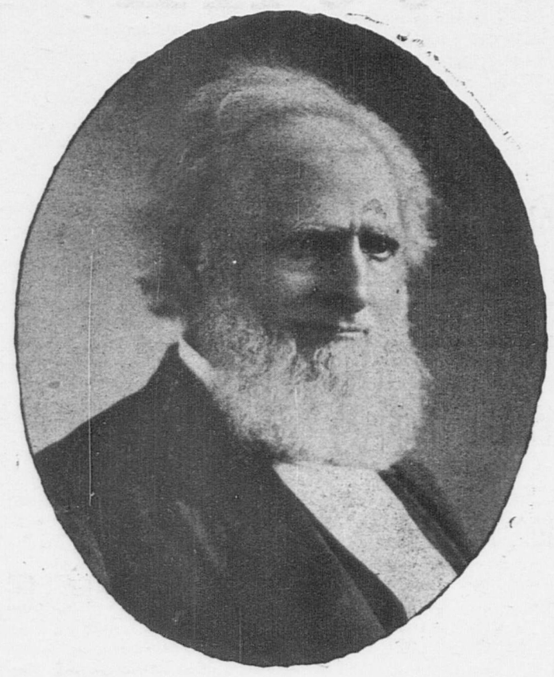
Dear Sir:—For my wife and myself I thank you for the kind invitation of Mrs. Prescott and yourself to be your guests at Quincy over Sunday, and attend some of the services, and regret we are unable to accept, having guests here and because I should be unable to stand the fatigue of travelling and the excitement of the occasion, though I am nearly well and gaining rapidly.

My trouble has been, as you may know, simply a case of nervous prostration.

The Library and the memory of my father and mother are very dear to me, and I am grateful to the City of Quincy for its kind interest, and take pleasure in adding to the attractions of the Library, and in enlarging its surroundings.

With thanks to you personally for your kind interest and efforts, and the assurance that my thoughts will be of Quincy on the 18th particularly,

I remain very truly yours,
ALBERT CRANE.



REV. MERRILL C. WARD
Will speak at the Universalist church at 2.30 P. M. on
"The Public Spirit of Thomas Crane."

REV. ELLERY C. BUTLER,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library, will devote part of his sermon at the First Church at 10.30 A. M. to Thomas Crane.

REV. EDWIN NOAH HARDY
Of Bethany Congregational Church will also make reference to the Centennial at the services at 10.30 A. M.

REV. W. E. GARDNER
Of Christ Church, says he found in the Life of Thomas Crane just the points needed to emphasize the subject announced for the 10.30 A. M. service,
"Courage in Citizenship."

REV. LEON H. AUSTIN,
Who preaches in the part of Quincy where Thomas Crane lived, will also make reference to the Centennial at the 10.30 A. M.
services at the Washington Street church.

Thomas Crane was a typical man, said his biographer Charles Francis Adams, at the dedication of Crane Memorial hall on May 30, 1882. His career was not in any sense dramatic. He was merely a self-educated, self-made son of New England, well-intentioned and clear-headed, who, a youth, went out from his home into the world and there amassed a fortune, preserving amid all temptations, his New England birthright traits of simplicity, thrift, straightforward honesty and deep religious feeling.

He did not infuse himself into great movements with which, becoming forever a part of them, he identified his career; on the contrary he was a quiet, domestic man, silent, strong and practical.

Satisfied with the position he had won, and doing his honest day's work in it, he had no ambition for office or worldly distinction.

Thomas Crane, therefore does not stand forward and arrest attention as an imposing individuality; and it is the very fact, being just what he was and doing what he did, he does not so stand forth,—it is this fact that makes him a typical, a representative man, a man whom it is well to commemorate. He represents almost ideally what was strongest and, upon the whole, best in that remarkable race of men to which he belonged.

It has been said very often, and with sufficient truth that the three great staples of New England are ice, rocks and men. New England since the year 1800, has indeed been for this continent what Asia once was for Europe, the nursery of nations.

In its case the biblical injunction to be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it, has been strictly complied with; and there has gone forth from it a column, almost countless in number, of men and women of the pure English blood and the rough New England breeding who have carried their native thrift and energy, and the social and political and religious teachings of their birthplace through all the broad belt of country lying west of them, until they found themselves stopped by the waters of the Pacific. They leavened the whole lump. The future is theirs.

Of the migrating column Thomas Crane was one. More than this, he was, and to the last remained, in his own person and character, representative of whatever was best and strongest and most individual in it. In commemorating here the individual, we also commemorate the mass.

BIRTH AND SCHOOLING.

Thomas Crane was the third of six children of Thomas Crane and Sarah Baxter, his mother being a daughter of Daniel and Prudence Baxter of Quincy. His father and grandfather were born in Quincy or "old Braintree." Thomas, however, was born on George's island, now fortified by Fort Warren, in Boston harbor, his parents moving there a few years after their marriage in 1796, returning to Quincy that he might attend school.

Quincy in those days was very much what it had been from the settlement in 1640—a sequestered New England country town, inhabitated by a race of one blood and language, whose fathers had lived here before them in just the way they were living there then. The population of Quincy in 1800 was 1,081, in 1810 it had increased to 1,281, and in 1820 to 1,623. There were two churches, the First church and the Episcopal church; but one schoolhouse.

Thomas Crane the father, moved from George's island to Quincy Point, near the creek. The Crane children had to walk at least four miles to school near the "Training Field" or City Square as it is now known. In 1804 but $400 was appropriated by Quincy for schools, and in 1828 the amount had increased to only $700. Up to 1817 the school was held in the Town House, but when that was destroyed by fire in 1817 a schoolhouse was erected near the old Hancock cemetery, probably the "Old Court Building" as it is now called.

In 1820 Quincy had 204 scholars, of whom 79—among them doubtless young Thomas Crane—belonged to the "ciphering school," so called. The children of all ages were gathered in one room. William Seaver was the master for many years about this time, at a salary of $500.

Thomas Crane's father died in 1818 when he was but 15 years of age. He must earn his bread at once. He tried shoe making, but soon became a stone cutter, and as a journey-man learned his trade.

Rev. Hosea Ballou was at this time preaching the Universalist doctrine on School street, Boston, and it so attracted young Crane that he walked to and from Boston nearly every Sunday, a distance of about 25 miles. There was no conveyance in those days.

A WIDER FIELD.

Years passed on. Having mastered his calling as a stone cutter, the young man began to look abroad for a wider field. He had no money, no connections, not much education; his capital was simply a strong, healthy body, a clear head, and his skill.

With these, backed by frugal, temperate, honest habits, he, in 1829 went out into the world. It was a good stock in trade. He went to work at once at stone cutting, and began to earn day wages hammering stone. In 1835 he was a master workman.

At an early day he began to buy out his associates in business, and worldly prosperity flowed in upon him. He bought land in the path of the city's development and it grew up to them and overran them. His wealth increased with the wealth of New York.

He became a bank director, an insurance company director, a street railway director, a man of note on 'change. Long before his death, April 1, 1875, his measure of success in a business walk was full, and beyond that his ambition did not go.

His tastes were domestic; his devotion was to his calling. He continued his interest in the Universalist church and was long a trustee of the old Orchard Street church, when Dr. Thomas J. Sawyer was minister, and Horace Greeley a prominent member.

He was a pillar of the Universalist cause, and treasurer and financial manager of its Relief Association. Later a subscriber to Tufts college.

In 1832, three years after going to New York, Mr. Crane married Sarah S. Munn, of Gill, Conn. The following summer he was a childless widower. In 1836 he married Clarissa Lawrence Starkey of Troy, N. H., and eight children blessed this union.

GIFT OF LIBRARY.

It was Mrs. Crane and two surviving sons who in 1880, five years after the death of Mr. Crane, forwarded a letter to the Selectmen of Quincy stating their desire of erecting some memorial to Mr. Crane in the town. Prior to his death he had made annual visits to Quincy for many years, and his affection for his native place never in any degree lessened.

In the letter it was suggested that the Dr. Woodward homestead be selected, and the town voted March 22, to accept "Crane Memorial Hall" when built, and appropriated $10,000 to purchase a site.

At the request of the Selectmen of the town an act was passed by the Legislature of 1880 incorporating the "Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library;" and in May the Dr. Woodward estate between Washington and Spear streets was purchased.

The family selected Mr. H. H. Richardson as the architect, and in September, 1880, ground was broken for the foundation.

Feb. 22, 1881, the corner stone was laid by Rural lodge of Masons, of which Thomas Crane was once a member.

On Memorial Day, May 30, 1882, the building was dedicated, the committee of arrangements being the Selectmen, Messrs. G. H. Field, C. A. Spear and E. A. Perkins, and the trustees, Messrs. C. F. Adams, Jr., Henry Barker, L. W. Anderson, C. A. Foster, H. A. Keith and F. A. Claflin. At the request of the Crane family an address was delivered by C. F. Adams, Jr., in the First church. This was preceded by a reception at Crane Memorial Hall by Mrs. Crane and her two sons; a parade in which the Masonic bodies, Co. D of Independent Fusileers, the Grand Army, the Fire Department, Clan McGregor, and the City and Union bands took part. The dedication ceremony was by Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts.

The Crane family have continued to take great interest in the library which is also the pride of the city. They have given money for walks and improvements, and recently purchased the Joseph T. French estate adjoining, and after improvements added it to the already extensive library grounds.

The writer of this sketch is indebted to the address of Hon. C. F. Adams, Jr., at the dedication of the library for the greater part of the facts relative to Thomas Crane, much of which is given in Mr. Adams' own words. The proceedings at the time of the dedication were published in book form and makes a pamphlet of about fifty pages which are illustrated.

Tomorrow, Oct. 18, 1903, is the centennial of the birth of Thomas Crane. The anniversary was observed in some of the public schools of the city yesterday, and may be observed in some of churches on Sunday.

CONFERENCES FUTILE

Revival of Russo-Japanese War Rumors

JAPS MOBILIZING TROOPS

Said to Have Already Landed Some at Corea Bay Outlet, With 100,000 Ready For Embarkation In Event of Hostilities

London, Oct. 17.—Special correspondents continue to send in alarmist reports of the Russo-Japanese situation. The correspondent at Chefoo of The Morning Post has gone to Wei Hai Wei, whence he cables:

I am informed in trustworthy quarters that Japan has landed troops at Ping Yang, at the outlet of Corea bay. It is currently reported that the conference of the Russian and Japanese authorities have been futile.

The correspondent at Hakodate, Japan, of The Daily Mail announces unusual military activity there, saying 100,000 men have been concentrated at Hakodate in readiness for embarkation in the event of hostilities. The correspondent adds that torpedoes are being laid in the ports of western Japan.

Other of The Daily Mail's correspondents report the recall by Japan of her military commission which has been examining the Swiss hospital system, and the uneasiness of Russian authorities as to the capability of Port Arthur to resist attack from its land approaches.

The Daily Mail points out that Hakodate is the port which would be used in the event of Japan sending an expedition against Vladivostock and says that such a large concentration of troops there shows that part of the Japanese army has been quietly mobilized.

It is rumored on the Cardiff coal exchange that both Russia and Japan are seeking large purchases of Welsh coal.

Cabling from TienTsin, a correspondent of The Standard says a visitor at Yongampho, Corea, reports one Russian fort already built there and another in course of erection. The Russians are said to be extending the boundary of their leased territory south of Taisan.

The Morning Post, discussing the rumors of the partition of Corea and of the erection of Russian forts at Yongampho, etc., declares that under no circumstances would Japan consent to the partition of Corea, because to permit Russia to absorb a portion would only be a prelude to the annexation of the whole of Corea. The paper adds that the Anglo-Japanese agreement provides expressly for the maintenance of Corean integrity and it is, therefore, unlikely that Russia has erected the forts referred to.

Suit Against Tailors' Union

Cleveland, Oct. 17.—A suit has been filed by E. A. Kammerer, a merchant tailor, against the Journeymen Tailors' union and also a number of individual members of the organization for $10,000 damages as a result of the strike of the journeymen tailors in this city. Kammerer avers he had many contracts when the tailors went on strike. By picketing his shop and intimidating and beating his employes the strikers caused him a loss of $5000. Kammerer said he will have a further loss of the same amount.

Big Fund to Fight Strikers

St. Paul, Oct. 17.—Provision was made last night at the concluding session of the master horseshoers' convention for a contingent fund to oppose strikes. At present there is $25,000 available for this purpose. A special assessment will be made on the members of the association during the next three months until the fund amounts to $75,000, and like assessments will be ordered until the fund reaches $250,000.

Robbers Still at Liberty

Farmington, Me., Oct. 17.—Deputy sheriffs from Somerset and Franklin counties, together with a large number of citizens, will continue the search for the two robbers who have succeeded in eluding the officers since they raided the business section of Norridgewock Wednesday morning. The men are now believed to be in the woods within two miles of Ellsworth Falls, where they were traced.

Great Addition to Hospital

Boston, Oct. 17.—The 57th anniversary of the administration of ether, which was made at the Massachusetts general hospital Oct. 16, 1846, was observed at that institution by the formal opening of a new out-patient building constructed and equipped at a cost of $400,000. The new building is made up of nine separate departments, accommodating 400 patients daily.

Heavy Sentence For Assault

Boston, Oct. 17.—Edward E. Burke, who was convicted of assault upon Eugene Sullivan while the latter was serving as a juror in the superior criminal court, was sentenced to serve not more than 10 nor less than seven years in state prison. The assault occurred in the South End and Sullivan was in a dangerous condition for several days.

Bryan to Cross the Pond

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 17.—W. J. Bryan announces that he will make his European trip, concerning which he had doubts a short time ago, and that he will leave within a few days for the east.

BIRDS OF FREEDOM

Put Up a Gallant Fight When One of Their Comrades Was Killed

Wakefield, Mass., Oct. 17.—An exciting battle with four immense eagles, which, it was believed, intended to attack two children, aroused the village of Lynnfield, a suburb of this town. One of the big birds was shot and the others driven away only after more than a dozen shots had been fired. When Carl Russell saw four of the big birds swoop down and alight in a tree under which two children were at play he expected an immediate attack upon the little ones and opened fire on the eagles with a rifle.

At the first shot one of the birds fell to the ground, but the others, instead of taking flight, went down to the protection of their fallen comrade. There the big birds put up a spirited battle to protect the dead eagle, and more than a dozen bullets were fired before they finally were driven away. The dead eagle measured seven feet from tip to tip and had claws four inches in length. The visitors were the first birds of this species seen in the vicinity of Wakefield in more than 30 years.

A Three-Thousand-Dollar Robbery

Boston, Oct. 17.—On the very heels of a number of daring Back Bay house breakings, daylight robberies and snatch thefts, comes the startling report that a $3000 "inside" job has been perpetrated within the limits of the most aristocratic section of the district. The victims are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Putnam of 32 Commonwealth avenue. The valuables stolen are jewelry and rare gems. Similar to the big theft at the Hotel Somerset Tuesday night, the robbery is believed to have been prearranged, and the butler of the Putnams, who is suspected of the theft, is thought to have obtained the position there for the sole purpose of committing the burglary. He was hired only 10 days ago, disappeared immediately after the loss was discovered, and has not been heard from since.

Mysterious Shooting Affray

Boston, Oct. 17.—A shooting affray surrounded by much mystery and which may result in the death of the victim, occurred at 81 Albany street last night and the police within a radius of 20 miles of Boston have been asked to be on the lookout for the assailant. The wounded man is Kalil David, a Syrian, aged 35, and the police are searching for George Bahouray, a fellow-countryman, aged 21, who occupied the apartments in which the shooting occurred. Just what time the crime was committed or what were the circumstances leading up to it the police have not learned.

Chinamen Got Away From Marshal

Rutland, Vt., Oct. 17.—Acting upon orders from Washington, Judge Wheeler has appointed Deputy Marshal Chapman as the successor of United States Marshal Field for the district of Vermont, who was removed from office by the president. The charge upon which Field was removed was dereliction of duty in permitting the escape at Providence of three Chinamen who had been entrusted to his care for deportation.

Lorimer's Probable Successor

Boston, Oct. 17.—The executive committee of Tremont temple, which includes the board of deacons, last night voted to recommend to the society that a call be extended to Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson of Brooklyn to fill the pulpit left vacant by Dr. Lorimer about two years ago. A meeting of the church society to vote upon the question will be held next Friday evening.

Left Auto on Car Track

Northboro, Mass., Oct. 17.—A collision occurred here between a trolley car and automobile owned by J. I. Bennett of Boston. Bennett, who was accompanied by his wife, left his machine on the rails a moment to read a sign when the car bowled along, striking the machine and throwing Mrs. Bennett to the ground. It is not believed she is seriously injured.

Three Attempts at Suicide

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 17.—James B. Jones, formerly a detective attached to the central office of the New York police department, attempted to hang himself thrice in an hour in a cell at Worcester police headquarters last night. He had wandered into police headquarters in a highly nervous condition and was locked up on charge of drunkenness.

Metal Workers Won't Strike

Meriden, Conn., Oct. 17.—By a representative vote of the Metal Workers' unions employed in the factories of the International Silver company in this state it has been decided not to strike to enforce the demand of the men for a nine-hour day with full pay, which was recently refused by the company.

Religious Census In November

Boston, Oct. 17.—The religious census committee announces that the date for taking the census of the city, originally set for Oct. 17, has been changed, owing to the magnitude of the work of organizing the territory and the great force of enumerators. The work will be done in November.

Serious Fire From Unknown Cause

Pascoag, R. I., Oct. 17.—Ninety men were thrown out of employment and property loss of $18,000 resulted last night from a fire which destroyed a building occupied by Hopkins' Machine works and the Bridgeton Knife company at Bridgeton. The cause of the fire is not known.

A Brakeman's Misfortune

Providence, Oct. 17.—John Doyle, a brakeman, fell from the top of a box car in the Auburn freight yard and a portion of his head as well as his left hand was cut off.

A LOYAL ACCEPTANCE

Will Follow Decision of Alaskan Boundary Tribunal

LASTING LESSON OF PEACE

By Method Adopted For Settling Dangerous Dispute Between Two Great Nations—Lord Alverstone Resents Advance Canadian Criticism

London, Oct. 14.—With what Secretary Root described as "all the ceremonies and regalia which from childhood have been more a fairyland than a real land to all Americans," the members, counsel and attaches of the Alaskan boundary tribunal were entertained by the lord mayor of London, Sir Marcus Samuel, at a banquet at the Mansion house last night.

It was a memorable occasion attended by all the ancient customs, loving cups, city liveries and gorgeously appareled footmen.

The lord mayor proposed the health of President Roosevelt, while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." Then he proposed the toast of "The Alaskan Boundary Tribunal." He declared that the present method of the submission to a tribunal of a dangerous dispute between two great nations would be a lasting lesson of peace to the world. "The verdict," he said, "will be loyally accepted and acted upon and what might lead to serious trouble will be averted."

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, in replying, after having feelingly referred to the death of Sir Michael Herbert, said that though the tribunal was not an illustration of arbitration it was "an honest and patriotic attempt to solve by mutual discussion subjects which might become serious. "I have no fault to find," he continued, "with all that has been said and done. We have proceeded with great unanimity, and I only wish that those who do not understand the motive of the tribunal would abstain from attributing motives to its members which do not exist."

This open reference to Canadian criticism of Lord Alverstone's supposed predisposition towards the American case caused no little sensation. It was followed by Lord Alverstone somewhat passionately declaring that in a long public career he had never objected to criticism after he had taken a certain course of action, but he did bitterly resent criticism beforehand.

Secretary Root followed with a brilliant speech. Amid intense silence he depicted Sir Michael Herbert's "sweet reasonableness" and the loss sustained by both nations by the ambassador's death. "His friendship with many public men in the United States and his wide experience," said Mr. Root, "these and many other qualities made him competent to exercise great usefulness in cementing the friendship between two nations on whom civilization and the hopes of all mankind depend."

The greatest object lesson of the whole proceedings, continued Mr. Root, was that the United States had such trust in Great Britain that she was willing to meet and discuss a question vital to her not in a neutral capital, but in a capital belonging to one party to the controversy. "Nothing," he said, "could more emphasize the absolute confidence of all parties in the good faith, generous hospitality and fair play of the English people. The admirably graceful, tactful and correct way in which the British government has fulfilled that trust has made us feel at home in the trust we have reposed in you."

In a humorous vein, Mr. Root said that they felt even more at home, and doubtless the fiscal controversy had been especially raised at this time for the benefit of the American members of the tribunal. Then, analyzing the arguments of both political parties in England, he added, amid laughter: "Nothing could be more delightful to us than to find our country simultaneously upheld as the best example of internal free trade and of too successful protection."

Reverting to the tribunal the speaker said that it was the best testimony to the good sense and excellent judgment of the Anglo-Saxon race. "I am quite sure," he continued, "that the utmost open-mindedness has prevailed, with a strong desire that a just and fair conclusion shall be reached."

Secretary Root concluded with a glowing tribute to the spirit of justice and righteousness shared in America and Great Britain, which it was his sincere desire should be evidenced by the verdict of the tribunal.
